Dear Brothers:

With pleasant memories of our thirtieth biennial convention in mind, it is a real pleasure to extend greetings to the many reading this issue of THE REPORTER.

That Des Moines was selected for the convention was an honor and those of us in this State who love the fraternity will carry fond memories of the convention throughout years to come. We appreciated the fact so many attended the convention and we were pleased over the number of wives and children who attended and contributed so much to its success. Those of us on the local scene can only extend our thanks and express the hope you will return.

Your newly elected officers are not novices where the business of the fraternity is concerned as each has served the fraternity in the past as an officer or district justice and you have their assurance they will continue to promote the best interests of the fraternity.

Ours is a growing and expanding fraternity and the opportunities for advancing the interests of our active and alumni members are as great as ever before. To assist our men in the law schools, to aid them as they enter our profession and contribute to their success as lawyers requires a program such as only a great organization can provide and history has demonstrated that our fraternity has ably and capably provided such a program. To continue that program and expand the facilities of the fraternity will be the aim of this administration.

One of the most beneficial services provided by the fraternity is the periodic publication of our law directory. The material for the next edition, to be released in 1955, is now being prepared. It is the desire of the fraternity to list every alumnus correctly and to that end your cooperation is requested. Notice of alumni dues has been mailed each member and if you will complete the form attached to your notice and mail it with your dues payment, you may be assured of a proper listing in the directory. Thousands of dollars will be spent in making the directory available for you and all that is asked of you in return is payment of your alumni dues. A little from many will do so much.

Fraternally yours,

Robert Jackson
Supreme Justice.

1954 CONVENTION • DES MOINES, IOWA

TALL CORN ALUMNI HOST CONVENTION

Three Day Meeting Acclaimed By Delegates

Charles Tom Henderson
Presiding Officer of the Convention

With the call to order by Supreme Vice Justice Charles Tom Henderson, Assistant Attorney General of Florida, the 30th Biennial Convention of Phi Alpha Delta convened on Thursday, September 2, 1954, at the Hotel Fort Des Moines, in Des Moines, Iowa. Our beloved Supreme Justice Hon. Anthony P. Savarese of New York was taken ill several days prior to the opening of the meeting and Brother Henderson very capably and ably took over as presiding officer.

Following the invocation by Dr. Ernest L. Lack, Pastor of the First Evangelical Lutheran Church of Des Moines, Brother Henderson introduced the Hon. Martin D. Van Oosterhout (Hammond), Judge of the 21st Judicial District of Iowa and member of the Tall Corn Alumni Chapter, who delivered a warm and hospitable address of welcome to Iowa. Brother Van Oosterhout pointed out some of the outstanding characteristics of Iowa as well as some of its more prominent PADs including John Randall (Hammond), the current president of the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association.

The Keynote Address of the convention was delivered by Judge Elwyn Thomas of the Florida Supreme Court, a former Chief Justice of that Court and a District Justice of the fraternity for the past several months. To say that his address was magnificent and inspirational would fall far short of giving it due credit, for delegates for several days continued to comment on the message he brought.

Business Committees

To expedite the business of the convention committees were appointed whose duty it was to discuss particular topics and render a report of their deliberations to the convention assembled for its action. Each delegate present was appointed to a committee and an alumni member served as chairman. Meeting for discussions on Thursday afternoon were: Publications Committee, John Griffin, Chairman; Awards and Scholarship Committee, William B. Robertson, Chairman; Ritual Committee, John L. Griffith, Chairman; Constitution and By-Laws Committee, Sandy Rae, Chairman; Resolutions Committee, Jimmy Broz, Chairman; Credentials Committee, Fred Weitkamp, Chairman; Audit and Finance Committee, Carl Dietz, Chairman; Directory Committee, Carl Dietz, Chairman; and Nominations Committee, John Stuart, Chairman.

The matter of the new Directory to be published in 1955 was discussed by the convention which made recommendations to the Supreme Executive Board regarding its content and distribution. It was determined not to include advertising in this issue and that the general format of the 1950 edition should be followed. Also under the heading of publications two important resolutions regarding The Reporter were passed by the convention. It was decided to continue mailing the official publication to our entire membership without charge or subscription fee and that additional copies should be sent the active chapters for their own uses.

Executive Secretary Fred Weitkamp gathered together a model initiation team composed of men from across the country and Thursday evening five pledges from Cole Chapter at Drake University were initiated into the fraternity. This was followed by a reception given by the Tall Corn Alumni Chapter which throughout the convention gained for itself the nickname "Hospitality Inc." One of the finest events of the three day meeting, the reception served as an excellent opportunity for officers, alumni, delegates and guests to become personally acquainted.

Workshops Added

Two program innovations for PAD conventions were tried and found extremely successful. On Friday afternoon the District Justices met under the chairmanship of Judge Douglas Edmonds in a District Justice Workshop to discuss conclaves, finances and other problems. At the same time Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray was conducting a Chapter Workshop for the active delegates. Various professional programs were presented by delegates from selected chapters. Included were: A Legal Aid Program (Eugene Heinrich, Fish Chapter); A Student Directory (George Martz, Hamill Chapter), How to Establish a Scholarship Fund, (Sandy Ehrman, McKenna Chapter); The Integrated Law Fraternity Program (Bob Doyle, More Chapter); and A More Effective Speaking Program (Bob Redding, Washington, D.C., Alumni, Don Campbell, Jay Chapter, Jim Gardner, Taft Chapter).

Friday evening the Tall Corn Alumni provided tickets to the Iowa State Fair and everyone went out to see the "granddaddy" of state fairs. The Brothers literally covered miles of territory without seeing even a minor portion of the exhibits and other attractions. All agreed that it was a most worthwhile production.

The tradition of holding district breakfasts during the convention was continued with six breakfasts on Friday and six more on Saturday. All delegates, active and alumni, as well as the district justice and interested alumni and officers were invited to attend their respective district breakfasts and many matters of district importance were discussed. Several districts laid the groundwork for their spring district conclave in 1955.

Awards Established

Saturday was a real work day as the convention moved into high gear in order to finish the tremendous amount of business before it. A new system of awards which is designed to increase interest and enthusiasm on all levels was approved by the fraternity. Four different awards have been established including (1) an award to the individual in each chapter who has made the most significant contribution to his chapter, (2) an award to an alumnus member of each chapter for his contribution to the chapter, (3) an award to outstanding law students in each law school regardless of fraternity affiliation, and (4) an award to the one chapter in the country with the greatest percentage increase in membership, the best social and professional program, the most outstanding achievement by members of the chapter, whether in extracurricular activities or scholarship, the best chapter school relationships, the highest percentage attendance at district conclaves, and the most nearly perfect record of required report submissions.

Hon. Anthony P. Savarese, retiring Supreme Justice, who was unable to attend the Convention because of illness.

Chapter Advisors

Another forward step in fraternity organization was taken when an amendment to the constitution was adopted establishing an alumni advisor for each active chapter to serve under the jurisdiction of the district justice. Several chapters have in the past had such an alumnus advisor with increased benefits to the chapter.

An amendment to increase the national initiation fee from $22.00 to $23.00 was defeated as was the proposal of one of the alumni chapters to levy an annual assessment on the active chapters to assist in financing the biennial convention.

Inasmuch as space in this issue will not permit a complete summary of the action taken by the convention the Executive Office has arranged to make a detailed condensation available to each active and alumni chapter in the near future.

Brother Jimmy Broz and his excellent resolutions committee brought forth a multitude of fine resolutions including one of tribute to our brother Leonard J. Curtis, professor emeritus of the University of Arizona and recently a visiting professor of law at Stetson College of Law. Professor Curtis is 92 years of age and has just retired from teaching. The Brothers were told of his inspirational guidance to the members of PAD during his many years of teaching and his devotion to the fraternity. As a small token of the fraternity's affection for Brother Curtis he was awarded a plaque of appreciation and a life membership.

Another professional program for PAD was commenced when the convention adopted a resolution approving a program designed to develop the effective speaking of the members. Brother Bob Redding, former justice of District XII together with District Justice Bill Robertson and several of the District XII chapters has done a tremendous amount of work on the program as was evidenced by the excellent demonstration which he put on at the Chapter Workshop.

Unanimous ballots were cast for the following Brothers who will guide the destinies of PAD for the forthcoming biennium: Robert D. Jackson, Supreme Justice; Judge Elwyn Thomas, Supreme Vice-Justice; John L. Griffith, Supreme Vice-Justice; Frank E. Gray, Supreme Secretary; Anthony A. DiGrazia, Supreme Treasurer; Henry C. Foss, Supreme Historian; John W. Shuart, Supreme Marshal.

Our ladies attending the convention were royally entertained by the charming and most gracious Des Moines PAD wives. Among a full schedule of activities was a visit to the testing kitchens of Better Homes & Gardens magazine, a tour of the Des Moines Art Gallery, luncheon at the Wakonda Club and a fashion show.

The Convention Dinner Dance was the highlight of the three day meeting. Our own Brother Martin Tollefson, Dean of Drake Law School was toastmaster and his keen sense of humor was well appreciated by the group. Scene of the banquet was the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Fort Des Moines, our convention hotel. The orchestra of Bob Hoy provided very danceable music for the two hundred and fifty in attendance as the 1954 convention drew to a close.

Convention Scratch Pad

The Thirtieth Biennial Convention has gone into the record books for posterity . . . and everybody there agreed that it was bigger and better than ever . . . Kudos to the Tall Corn Alumni Chapter for a superb job . . . the entertainment couldn't have been finer . . . Hope you didn't miss that State Fair . . . it was the greatest . . . and we've got the holes in our shoes to prove it.

Pre-convention blowout at the Bob Jacksons' lovely home in Des Moines . . . the early birds were really in luck . . . Justice Elwyn Thomas figured somebody should nominate Louise Jackson for a Congressional medal . . . the pre-convention party was just the topper to her planning all the ladies' entertainment for the gathering . . . a wonderful hostess all week . . . Louise planned the party for about 12 people . . . about 30 showed up . . . Finest young bartenders in the country, the Jackson's sons, Jim and Bill . . . didn't miss a trick, or an empty glass . . . Cutest young ladies there, Pam Thomas and Linda Lee Gray. . . Southerners Jim and Beryl McMullan enthralled by the Southern fried chicken . . . in Iowa, yet! . . . Bob Jackson assuring all that Iowa has the finest of all three varieties of corn . . . solid, liquid, and verbal.

Cole Chapter did an outstanding job of seeing to it that the convention ran smoothly . . . and that we outlanders received a true Mid-Western greeting. . . Bob Allbee calling every Delta Gamma in town for Saturday night blind dates for the delegates . . . but he wouldn't turn loose his own private black book . . . And who's the Cole Chapter genius who kept the libations flowing all week . . . in a semi-arid state, yet.

Hank Rohr making his nightly tour of the waterfront looking for . . . buttermilk (?) . . . first midnite, was hailed from out the shadows by some character . . . thought it was a panhandler, but it turned out to be Seattle's inimitable George Nickell . . . and what were you looking for, George?

Day before opening . . . breakfast . . . about noon . . . If you wondered about that dazed look before the convention started . . . well, some of the diehards almost forgot to come home from the Jacksons . . . As the gang started to arrive in force it looked like old home week . . . and the waitresses couldn't figure out who was sitting where . . . or why . . . John Griffin reversed normal procedure . . . went to bed after breakfast . . . next seen for dinner . . . A Pictorial Review — THE 1954 CONVENTION

Hon. Martin D. Van Oosterhout

We were fortunate in having these two distinguished brothers speak to us at our opening business session.

Hon. Elwyn Thomas

was extended by Judge Martin D. Van Oosterhout of the 21st Judicial District of Iowa at the opening session of the convention. A member of Hammond Chapter at the state university Brother Van Oosterhout told us of Iowa's agricultural, industrial and cultural progress over a period of years. We were surprised to learn that literacy in the state is over 99 per cent.

The Judge went back over his 32 years of membership in the fraternity tracing many of his friends and acquaintances including Congressman Charles B. Hoeven (Hammond) and John Randall (Hammond) president of the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association.

The words of greeting of Brother Van Oosterhout were indeed warm and hospitable ones which we later found out typified our friends and brothers from the great state of Iowa.

Keynote Speaker

was our good brother Judge Elwyn Thomas of the Supreme Court of Florida and a past Chief Justice of that court. Judge Thomas is presently the chairman of the Judicial Council of that state. Active in American Bar Association affairs he also served as Justice of District X of Phi Alpha Delta until his elevation to Supreme Vice-Justice of the National Chapter by the convention.

Possessing a keen wit and armed with a bundle of anecdotes Brother Thomas set the mood for the remainder of the convention in fine style. His basic theme was what we as members of the legal profession and as members of PAD could do to improve the administration of justice in our country.

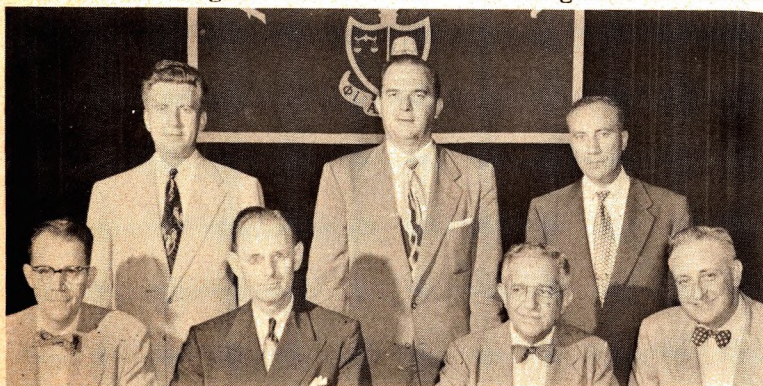

Urging a simplification of the administration of justice he illustrated how one of the most beautiful pieces of prose of all time, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, takes only two minutes to recite, but it is not at all uncommon for a judge to have to take two hours to charge a jury. And then, he stated, very often even the judge does not know precisely what he has told them.

One of the methods which we as advocates can utilize to simplify matters of justice is that of getting to the heart of a case and stating it simply and succinctly.

"You can bring distinction to this Fraternity and be a credit to your law school," stated Judge Thomas, "and you can help in the administration of justice immeasurably if you will get behind any movement that trains men to present cases concisely to courts so that the salient points will stand out against the background of concisely stated facts."

The inspirational message which Judge Thomas brought us was much appreciated for many of us knew that a few weeks before he had attended the American Bar Association meeting in Chicago where he very capably presided over a group of one thousand laymen who were interested in the improvement of the administration of justice, and after that meeting was over he had stayed over some ten days just so that he would be able to attend our convention. Not only that but a large family reunion of his relations had been planned for quite some time and another would not be held for probably many years and our Brother Elwyn Thomas thought so much of his fraternity that he took time away from his family relations to join us.

Those who attended the 1954 convention will never forget the genuine sincerity, the fraternal spirit and the humbleness of this brother, for he has truly won a large place in our hearts.

Many Attend Reception

Following the model initiation ceremony on the evening of the first day of the convention the Tall Corn Alumni Chapter staged a reception to enable the officers and delegates to become better acquainted. Also invited and very much in prominence were the very lovely ladies of PAD.

Among the many members of the judiciary attending and partaking of the hospitality of the Iowa Alumni were Judge and Mrs. Alfred P. Murrah, Judge and Mrs. Martin D. Van Oosterhout, Judge and Mrs. Elwyn Thomas, Judge and Mrs. Russell Jordan, and Judge Douglas L. Edmonds.

Convention Initiates Pledges

A selected model initiation team put on a fine demonstration of the ritual when they initiated five pledges from Cole Chapter at Drake University before a special session of the convention.

The initiates were Bob Drey, Harley Whitfield, Jerry Hetherington, Jim Logan, Tom Jenk.

OUR WORK WAS SERIOUS but we had our humorous moments too as this scene of a convention business session illustrates.

JUDGE RUSSELL JORDAN, Toastmaster, greets Judge Douglas Edmonds principal speaker at the Convention Luncheon.

Judge Edmonds Addresses Convention At Luncheon

The Hon. Douglas L. Edmonds, United States Representative to the International Law Commission of the United Nations, Past Supreme Justice of the fraternity and Associate Justice of the California Supreme Court was the principal speaker at the convention luncheon.

Judge Edmonds spoke on the work of the Commission and its importance in the world of law today. He spent most of the summer meeting with the Commission in Paris and told us of his experiences.

He was introduced by Judge Russell Jordan, Justice of the Tall Corn Alumni Chapter and Judge of the Ninth Judicial District of Iowa, who served as Toastmaster.

We enjoyed hearing Brother Edmonds and were proud to be members of the same legal fraternity as this outstanding American jurist. Although it was not generally told around Judge Edmonds recently became Chairman of the Section of Judicial Administration of the American Bar Association. This position is the highest post in the ABA which a jurist may attain.

out of everyplace but the exit . . . a cross between an automatic toaster with a nervous breakdown and an Iowa threshing machine with the hiccups.

President Eisenhower and Tom Henderson arrived at the airport within minutes of each other . . . The place was swarming with FBI agents . . . presumably armed to the teeth. . . . Bob Jackson, suffering from a very bad cold, had gone to meet Tom . . . didn't dare to blow his nose . . . so many Secret Service men around he was afraid to reach for his hip pocket handkerchief . . . And Tom felt equally disinclined to reach into his briefcase for the bottle of . . . cough syrup . . . he had foresightedly imported.

For those who arrived opening morning . . . bright eyed and bushy tailed . . . and those others who'd been around a day or so and showed up bleary eyed and floppy tailed . . . the registration desk presented a real morale booster . . . thanks to the lovely ladies of PAD who were pinning us up. . . . Orchids to Phyllis Andresen . . . Mrs. PAD herself . . . and her charming crew . . . Marny Weitkamp and Janet Rae . . . Hope you three finally got some breakfast.

Tony DiGrazia arriving with one pair of pants to deliver . . . this business of leaving items of apparel around the nation is one way our Past Supreme Justice Douglas L. of District IV by the home area delegates . . . and oh, so many other beauteous wives . . . or were some of them blind dates out on approval?

The stars of the convention were our "baby" Chapters . . . Wythe, Lincoln and Hardy . . . ably represented by Dave Williams, Bart Bartosic, Mitchell Stevens and Ed Tomlins . . . carrying on like veterans. . . . and a special cigar to Rutgers . . . a Chapter in escrow . . . attending in the person of Hank Knukowski . . . And, speaking of sound . . . hear Garland's Chuck Crockett and George Campbell were asking about the State Fair hog-calling contest . . . bacon, anyone? . . . Which reminds us that Iowa's peculiar beverage laws can confuse even the barristers . . . as Dick Hansen, Will Wright and other cohorts discovered at the Fair . . . remember, fellows, the law says a can of beer has to walk across the street by itself . . . you can't carry it . . . or you'll get a free ride in that nice big squad car . . . and next time Tony DiGrazia might not be around to do battle with the local gendarmes . . . he hopes . . . seems they thought he was in contempt of something or other . . . and he almost went along for the ride.

Some of these PAD's have the most remarkable talents . . . Dick Taylor keeping up the spirits of the gift-wrapping committed in the headquarters suite . . . giving forth with classical music on the piano . . . Bob Redding putting on a dramatic demonstration of his Toastmasters program . . . which deserves to catch on with the Chapters. . . . Frank Gray . . . proving the difficult way that the Supreme Secretary is just as hard-headed as some have suspected . . . we're all glad you're OK, Frank . . . next time try our formula for getting a headache . . . leaves you feeling just as bad the next day . . . but you have more fun in the process. . . . Hillie Vogel, Tony DiGrazia, Al Verrilli, and Bob Redding . . . barbershop . . . or is it bar-room . . . singing at its finest . . . specialties, serenading the PAD ladies . . . on the dance floor and in the rooms. . . . Dean Tollefson, a great MC . . . he knows stories which can be told with the ladies eavesdropping . . . George Nickell . . . the all-round bachelor . . . where there are surplus blind dates, he's all around . . . chairman of the "Surplus Committee" again this year . . . committee motto . . . "If I find any loose women, I'll try to tighten them up a little."

What's in a name? . . . Nearly as we could figure, the Sullivan Chapters . . . J. L. and Matt I. . . . didn't agree on a single vote . . . and Ray Simmons from the latter could hardly be heard on the roll calls . . . because Joe Sage of the former was grabbing off all the laughs. . . . Then there was John McCormick striving mightily to get the chair to learn to pronounce Willey Chapter correctly . . . and Temple Chapter's Joe just wished he could convince his friends that Fillippelli is really quite easy to say after the sixth drink.

Congratulations to all the Supreme Officers . . . to the outgoing Board for a superlative two years which have seen PAD rise to new heights . . . to the incoming Officers for being chosen to lead us to still greater glories . . . and a special word of thanks to Tom Henderson . . . filling in for Supreme Justice Savarese . . . whose illness saddened all present . . . you did a fine job, Tom. . . . The Convention expressed one sentiment better than could we . . . ending by singing "Goodbye, Irene" . . . to our real PAD girlfriend . . . Irene Bailie . . . convention reporter for the third time . . . but we hope you'll be back two years from now, Irene.

And before Irene finishes transcribing the records of one convention, we're looking forward to the next . . . that wasn't a holster in CIC man Jimmy Brox's coat . . . it was a brochure on the delights of Cleveland as a convention spot. . . . While Bill Hicks and Morton Preddy had plenty to say about Miami's sunshine and beaches. . . . Jim Gardiner, Don Campbell and Bill Driscoll meanwhile assured us that if we'd come to the District of Columbia there would still be tickets for some big TV extravaganza . . . who knows, the Senator from Wisconsin might still be playing to packed houses . . . and so it goes . . .

Apart from his excellent work on the Supreme Court of the United States, Justice Robert H. Jackson is probably best known for the prominent part he played in the Nurnberg trials in Germany. President Truman, recognizing his capabilities, on May 2, 1945, designated Mr. Justice Jackson to act as chief Counsel for the United States in the preparation of prosecution of charges of atrocities and war crimes against the leaders of the European Axis Powers. The leadership of the Nurnberg trial brought much recognition and many honors to Justice Jackson and he was twice received for lengthy audiences by Pope Pius XII on visits to Rome. He is the holder of numerous medals for his courageous work and the holder of an L.L.D. from the University of Brussels. On his return to the United States, President Truman awarded him the Medal of Merit "for extraordinary fidelity and exceptionally meritorious conduct." He also received an honorary L.L.D. from the University of Warsaw.

Advance Apology

The editor wishes to express his sincere apologies to anyone who was not included in this special feature section of The Reporter but should have been. With the ever changing appointments and current elections it is extremely difficult to keep the material for such a publication up to date.

Any omission was not intentional but was purely an oversight. The editor would appreciate your calling any such omissions to his attention.

United States Court of Appeals

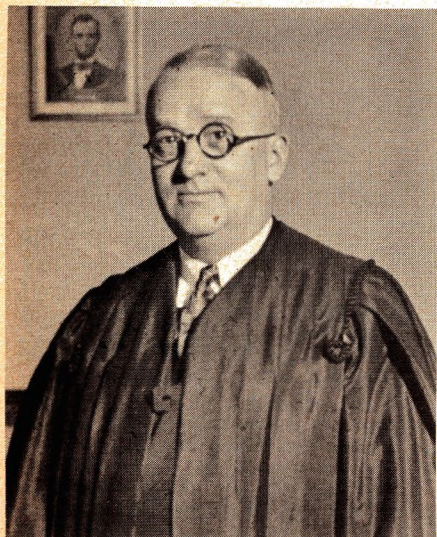

Hon. Herbert F. Goodrich
*United States Court of Appeals
Third Circuit*

Judge Goodrich has lived at least three careers, any one of which would have been sufficient for one man. From law professor, he moved to the position of Dean of the Law School at the University of Pennsylvania and subsequently became Vice President of the University. At the same time he was serving as advisor for the American Law Institute.

He is the author of the famous work on the conflict of laws entitled "Goodrich on Conflict of Laws." His appointment in 1940 to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit necessitated his resignation from the University of Pennsylvania but he continued those teaching duties which he could. He is noted for his liberalism, his scholarship, his influence on youth, his administrative ability, and his realistic approach to all problems.

Judge Douglas L. Edmonds

Judge Douglas L. Edmonds (Ross) is the United States Representative to the International Law Commission of the United Nations, the Chairman of the Section on Judicial Administration of the American Bar Association, a Past Supreme Justice of Phi Alpha Delta (1948-1952), and an Associate Justice of the California Supreme Court. He is recognized as one of the most distinguished jurists in the United States.

"I cherish more deeply than I can tell you the friendships and the associations that Phi Alpha Delta has brought to me during almost all of my professional career. When the opportunity came to me to serve the fraternity in the official family of the national organization, it brought rich rewards in many ways—in friendship, in broadening of contacts, in the opportunities to meet law students all over the country. I have never done anything which has brought me such professional inspiration as my visits to the law schools and the talks with the fine young members of our fraternity preparing for the profession of the law."

From an address delivered to the 1954 National Convention of Phi Alpha Delta by the Hon. Douglas L. Edmonds
