After the initiation the game room of the Williamsburg Lodge served as an excellent location for a reception for the new initiates, the Chapter members and their families, and for Justice Clark. Following this was the dinner banquet presided over by Toastmaster J. Westwood Smithers (Henry), Professor of Law at the University of Richmond School of Law. Among the honored guests were Dean Dudley W. Woodbridge (Wythe) of the College of William and Mary School of Law, Supreme Historian Henry C. Foss (Rutledge), Robert E. Redding (Taft), Supreme Tribune, Dwight McGraw Justice Jay Chapter, George Washington University, and a delegation from Henry Chapter of the University of Richmond School of Law.

Justice Clark discussed the responsibilities of a lawyer generally and of a Supreme Court member particularly. He named philosophy, psychology, and a thorough knowledge of one's case as essential aids to a lawyer in rendering his best service to the profession. The former United States Attorney General told the law students and other assembled "you have to know more than law to be a good lawyer."

Benson Chapter Celebrates Founders Day

The annual Founders Day Dinner of Benson Chapter at Washburn College of Law was held Friday evening, February 25, at the Hotel Jayhawk. Founded February 26, 1921, the chapter celebrated its thirty-fourth anniversary. It was named for Alfred W. Benson, an early Kansas jurist. Only two chapters throughout the country are now maintaining a chapter house and the Washburn chapter is one of these. It has owned its house located at 1612 College since 1929.

Actives, alumni and guests of the chapter were privileged to hear as the speaker of the evening, Justice Alfred P. Murrah of the United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit. Brother Murrah is a member of Harlan Chapter at the University of Oklahoma and is currently serving the fraternity as Justice of District VIII. All who have had the opportunity of hearing Justice Murrah will attest to his fine speaking ability, and the Benson Founders Day Banquet was no exception as he held the brothers' close attention with the message he brought.

Governor Introduces Murrah

Introducing the Judge was the Governor of Kansas, Brother Fred Hall. Governor Hall is a member of Ross Chapter at the University of Southern California.

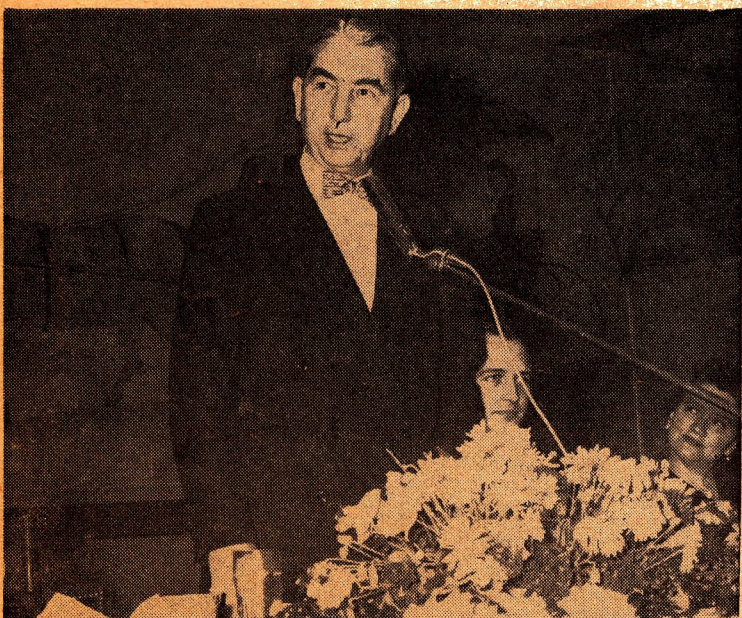

L. M. Cornish, Jr., Justice of the Topeka Alumni Chapter, performed his usual fine job as presiding officer. Others on the program were Kent Frizzell, Justice of the active chapter, and James E. Smither (Benson), alumni finance chairman.

John W. Stuart, Supreme Marshal of the national chapter, reported on the fraternity from a national viewpoint. Stuart is also the Executive Secretary of the Bar Association of the State of Kansas.

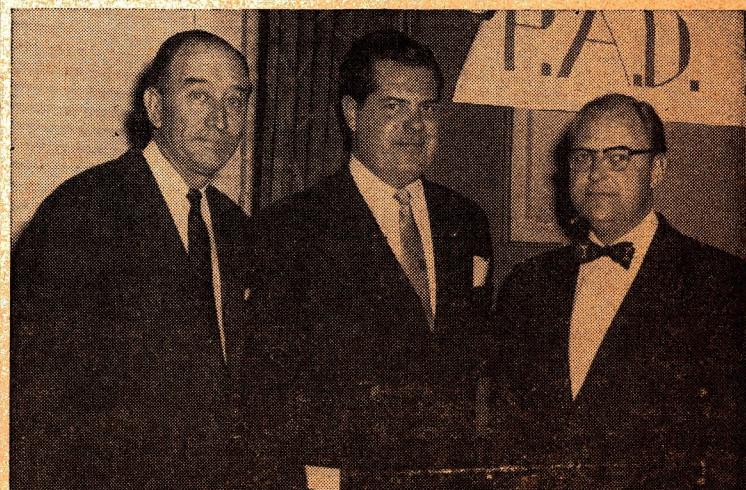

Founders present were Harold T. Stodard and Walter Reed Gage. Also in attendance was the President of Washburn University, Dr. Bryan Stoffer, and Schuyler Jackson, Dean of the School of Law.

MESSAGE FROM THE SUPREME JUSTICE

This message is devoted to a discussion of problems affecting the fraternity's finances as it is believed greater support will be forthcoming once our alumni are apprised of the need for their financial support.

Following the war it became necessary to give new life to the fraternity and the able men who formed the rescue squad accomplished the prodigious task of reactivating the fraternity's many chapters throughout the country and raised funds necessary to enable it to do business.

While our present problems do not approach those of the post-war period they do require our consideration and attention.

In 1955 we have the responsibility of publishing a new fraternity directory. While this is a worthwhile service, the costs involved are enormous and funds must be provided to pay the expense involved.

Without extra charge a copy of the directory will be furnished each member who shall have paid alumni dues for 1954-55 and 1955-56. Those members who do not become alumni until this year need only pay alumni dues for 1955-56. You will appreciate that we cannot order the directory in indiscriminate numbers and to enable us to anticipate our requirements it is essential that those desiring a copy mail their 1954-55 dues at once and be prepared to pay the 1955-56 dues when statements are mailed.

That portion of your dues not required to cover the cost of the directory is needed to meet current operating expense of the fraternity including salaries for executive office personnel (the only paid fraternity personnel) rent, telephone, telegraph, postage, chapter supplies, and costs incident to publishing and mailing quarterly issues of The Reporter. Among the other expenses which you will help pay are those incurred in connection with our biennial convention, furthering the work of the fraternity in each of the twelve districts and the actual expenses of your board members while actually engaged in fraternity work and travel.

The only other source of income of any consequence to the fraternity is initiation fees and while such income has been substantial it must be remembered that law school enrollments have decreased with resulting reduction in the number being initiated into the fraternity.

With reduced income from initiation fees it is obvious we must increase our income from alumni dues and to this end I ask your support.

While the fraternity is operating on an economical and realistic basis, and unjustified expenses are not being incurred, I am certain you will agree it is not to our best interests to seriously curtail those services which have proven so beneficial to all of us and that we should shoulder our responsibility and support our fraternity.

In raising funds for Phi Alpha Delta activities I have always found that support was forthcoming whenever the need became known. And, so, to those of you who have neglected paying your current dues I urge you to mail your check today. A little from many will accomplish a lot.

Fraternally yours,
ROBERT D. JACKSON

Rutgers Petition Wins Approval

The Supreme Executive Board takes great pleasure in announcing the unanimous approval of a petition for an active chapter charter at Rutgers University School of Law in Newark, New Jersey. The installation of PAD's 76th chapter is expected to take place sometime late in April. The group has chosen to name the chapter for our late brother Robert H. Jackson of the United States Supreme Court. The petition was submitted by a group of students known as Phi Alpha Law Fraternity which banded together in the Fall of 1953 for the express purpose of petitioning for a charter in Phi Alpha Delta. The University rules provide that such a group must be in existence for a period of at least one year prior to seeking university approval.

Judge John C. Powell, Harlan Chapter, University of Oklahoma present Presiding Judge of the Oklahoma Criminal Court of Appeals, has been elected for a new 6 year term commencing January 10, 1955. This court and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals are the only state courts in the United States with exclusive and final appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases. Appeal lies only to the Supreme Court of the United States where Federal questions may be involved.

Judge Powell was appointed by former Gov. Roy J. Turner on August 8, 1949 to serve out the unexpired term of Judge Bert B. Barefoot, deceased.

While attending the law school at the University of Oklahoma (LL.B., 1922) Judge Powell acted as C. J. of Harlan Chapter in 1921 and was a delegate to the National Convention at Kansas City that year. He received the B.Sc. degree from Miss. State College in 1917, and attended the University of Edinburgh, Scotland for one semester in 1919. He engaged in the general practice of law at Sulphur, Oklahoma for 27 years prior to his appointment on the court.

Columbia U. National Moot Court Champion

Two of Three Member Team Are PADS

The Moot Court team from Columbia University School of Law won the national championship of the Fifth Annual National Moot Court Competition December 17, 1954, by defeating the team from the University of Illinois.

Two of the three-man team are members of Livingston Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta. They are Brother Richard E. Leavitt and J. Daniel Mahoney. The Moot Supreme Court was presided over by U. S. Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter and included outstanding members of the bench and bar.

The title, "National Champions," became theirs only after a long and arduous series of competitions. In regional competition they first defeated the New York Law School and then topped Brooklyn Law School and New York University to cop the regional victory. In the national competition they defeated Boston University, Buffalo School of Law and Washington and Lee University prior to gaining the finals.

Eighty-five law schools throughout the country entered the tournament which involved a case concerning the peaceful picketing of a television store by a labor union in an attempt to organize the store's employees none of whom were members of any union. The employees refused to join the union, and the store obtained an injunction against the picketing in the courts of the imaginary state of Alabaster, United States. The Appellate Court of Alabaster upheld the injunction. The question raised was whether a state court could enjoin peaceful stranger picketing for organizational purposes and of the applicability of the National Labor Relations Act, as amended.

Each member of the winning team received a complete set of Supreme Court Digest as well as a cup and a $500 money prize for the law school.

Brother Mahoney is a 1952 graduate of St. Bonaventure University Magna Cum Laude. Upon graduation from law school he will enter the military service. However, upon completing his tour of duty he will be associated with the New York law firm of Simpson, Thatcher and Bartlett.

Leavitt formerly attended Rutgers and New York Universities where he was an honor student. He is an editor of the Law Review and has been a Stone Scholar for two years. He will be associated with the New York law firm of Cravath, Swaine and Moore.

Willd Legislative Assistant to Kuchel

Brother John A. Willd, Jr., of Torrance, California, was recently appointed legislative assistant to Senator Thomas H. Kuchel of California. Willd is a 1952 graduate of the University of Southern California School of Law where he was a member of Ross Chapter. He was a Republican candidate for the California Assembly last November.

PAD Serves As Chief Judge of American Samoa

The Government of American Samoa has as the presiding judge of its highest court one of our distinguished brothers, Arthur A. Morrow (Cole). He first went to Samoa in 1937 as Chief Justice of the court and served until 1942 when he returned to the States. Early in 1949 he again went to Samoa and resumed his judicial office which has continued to the present time.

The judicial branch of the government of American Samoa has district courts and the High Court which is the court of last resort in the islands. As Chief Judge, Brother Morrow has general administrative supervision over both the High Court and the district courts.

American Samoa became a possession of the United States as a result of a treaty entered into in 1899 between Great Britain, Germany, and the United States, followed by cessions of the islands by the Samoans, the islands of Tutuila and Aunu'u being ceded in 1900, and the Manua group in 1904. Swains Island which is 200 miles north of Tutuila was annexed by the United States in 1925 and made a part of American Samoa.

Drake University was fortunate in having Brother Morrow serve as Dean of the college of law from 1926 to 1937 and 1942 to 1946. Our Supreme Justice, Robert D. Jackson, graduated from the Drake University School of Law when it was under the administration of Brother Morrow.

A graduate of Bethany College in West Virginia (A.B., 1911), Judge Morrow received a J.D. degree in 1916 from the University of Michigan School of Law.

Judge Dan Stevens Dies Suddenly

The Fraternity lost one of its most loyal members on Sunday, January 16, 1955, when the Honorable Daniel N. Stevens of the Appellate Department of the Los Angeles Superior Court passed away. Judge Stevens' sudden death was a severe shock to his countless friends. He was only 39.

He was a graduate of the University of Southern California School of Law (LL.B., 1939) where he served as Assistant Editor in Chief of the Law Review. He also received his A.B. from the same university cum laude. During 1942 and 1943 he was Law Secretary to Judge Edmonds on the California Supreme Court. He is also a former Deputy Attorney General of the State and a former judge of the Los Angeles Municipal Court.

His civic activities were many. He was serving as Lecturing Knight of Elks Lodge 99, President of the USC Law Alumni Association, second vice-justice of the L.A. Alumni Chapter of PAD and was a Past President of the Civitans.

Funeral services for Brother Stevens were held Tuesday, January 18th at the Church of the Reconciliation in Forest Lawn. Among the pallbearers were Laughlin Waters (Ross), United States Attorney for Southern California, and Arthur D. Guy, Jr. (Ross) Justice of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter of PAD. Illustrative of the high regard in which he was held by his friends is the fact that though it was raining heavily on the day of the funeral the church was overflowing and many could not gain entrance. Justice Douglas L. Edmonds of the California Supreme Court delivered a memorable eulogy at the services which is set forth below.

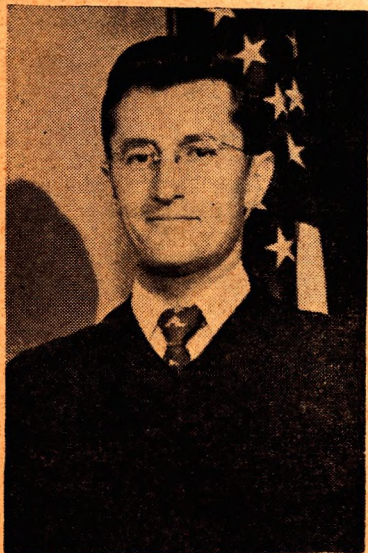

Eulogy by Justice Edmonds

"One purpose of our meeting here today is to express our gratitude for all the fine work of Daniel Stevens as a lawyer. A government of law must be administered by persons motivated by principles of right and justice rather than personal ambition and the desire for place and power. Our good friend was such a man in all of his professional career.

The influence of Daniel Stevens among those with whom he lived and worked cannot be overstated. His high concept of duty, unswerving loyalty and undeviating adherence to the rules of law as he saw them made everyone respect his analysis of problems and his conclusions. The honor and positions he attained as a lawyer and judge came to him in deserved recognition of work well done.

The influence he exerted was quiet and unconscious. He never elbowed his way among his fellowmen. They evaluated his worth by his fairness and good common sense as well as in his technical knowledge of the law. He exemplified selfless integrity.

A lawyer true to the principles of his profession is a leader in every endeavor which brings peace and good order to the community. The deep religious feeling of Daniel Stevens was manifested in his service to his church, particularly among

The Tom C. Clark Chapter celebrated its traditional Fall Dinner-Dance at the Austin Country Club, November 13th. Music was performed by Brother Al Ruebel and his orchestra.

Bill Gillespie, Justice, presided as Master of Ceremonies and introduced honored guests and initiates. Honored guests were Dean A. A. White, Dean of the Law School, University of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Woodward, Law Faculty; Mr. Jack Proctor, Faculty Sponsor and Assistant Dean; Mr. and Mrs. (Dorothy) Smith, Dean's Office; Mr. and Mrs. Jim O'Leary, Phi Delta Phi; Mr. Chuck Cabiness and guest, Delta Theta Phi; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Presnal, Praetors;

the young people. He gave generously of his time and talents to the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. This great organization recognized his willingness to serve others by placing him in a position of responsibility and leadership.

Our good friend also fulfilled in large measure the duty every lawyer owes to his profession. Only a few months ago, he took office as Vice-Chairman of the Section of Judicial Administration of the American Bar Association. The Alumni Association of the School of Law of the University of Southern California elected him as its President. For many years, he contributed greatly to the work of Phi Alpha Delta National Law Fraternity. Always ready to help law students and young lawyers, he counseled and inspired them to carry on with the highest purpose and in strict accordance with the noblest standards of ethics.

Each of us who have worked with Daniel Stevens is the better man for that experience. And everyone who shared his fellowship appreciated his keen sense of good humor and enjoyment of life. He was a gracious companion in a professional meeting or in an atmosphere of gaiety and fun. We loved him and were led to follow his example by those qualities of mind and heart so easily recognized yet so difficult to define.

"His life was gentle, and the elements

So mixed in him that Nature might stand up

And say to all the world 'This Was a Man'."

San Diego Entertains California PADs

An even 100 members of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, including a score of Judges, enjoyed the hospitality of the San Diego alumni of the fraternity at the only fraternal functions held in conjunction with the California State Bar Convention at Coronado last September.

PADs arriving at the convention were greeted by R. Sherman Platt (Holmes), San Diego attorney who was chairman of the fraternity's convention committee, and his two gracious assistants, Mrs. Alec Leon Cory, wife of a PAD practicing in San Diego, and Miss Mary Burbach, a local legal secretary, at the fraternity's registration desk. Each visiting brother was given the traditional purple and gold identification ribbons for his convention badge and a special convention edition of the fraternity publication listing PAD activities for the week.

Each morning during the week, members of the fraternity gathered at a special breakfast table reserved in the headquarters hotel to renew acquaintances with friends from throughout the state. Climax of the week's activities was the annual cocktail party which preceded the closing banquet of the convention. Held beside the pool at the Hotel Del Coronado, the cocktail party attracted many of the prominent members of the fraternity including, among others, Los Angeles Superior Judges Leon Thomas David (Holmes), Harold W. Schweitzer (Ross), and Clyde C. Triplett (Ross); Municipal Court Judges Arthur S. Guerin (Kent), of Los Angeles and James C. Toothaker (Holmes) of San Diego; William I. Sullivan, Clerk of the Supreme Court of California; Mark Mullin, Clerk of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter of the fraternity; and Matthew S. Rae, Jr. (Rutledge), former National Field Representative of the fraternity.

Attending other fraternity activities during the week but unable to remain for the closing party were two Past Supreme Justices of the fraternity, Hon. Douglas L. Edmonds (Ross), Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of California, and Rex Hardy (Story), a practicing attorney in Palm Springs and Los Angeles. Also in attendance at various fraternity functions were District Court of Appeal Justices Paul Vallee (Ross) of Los Angeles and Fred B. Wood (Field) of San Francisco; Los Angeles County Superior Court Judges Aubrey N. Irwin (Ross), Bayard Rhone (Gunter), John Shea (Ford), Dan Stevens (Ross), Beach Vasey (Ross), Joseph W. Vickers (Ross) and Herbert V. Walker (Ross); Presiding Judge Clarke E. Stephens of the Los Angeles Municipal Court and his colleagues on that bench, Vernon W. Hunt (Ross), and Earl O. WASHINGTON ADDS ANOTHER PAD SUPREME CT. JUSTICE

Brother Richard B. Ott (Kent), became the fourth P A D currently serving on the Washington Supreme Court when he was recently appointed to that high bench by the Governor of the State, Brother Arthur B. Langlie (Dunbar). Reporter readers will recall that last fall Brother Ott was opposing Brother Hugh J. Rosellini for the single vacancy on the Supreme Court. Brother Rosellini won out in that election but since that time another vacancy occurred and the Governor saw fit to recognize the many capabilities of Judge Ott by this appointment.

The new Supreme Court Justice is a graduate of the University of Idaho School of Law where he became affiliated with Kent Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta. He was engaged in the private practice of the law for twenty-eight years and in 1949 was appointed to the Superior Court. He served a term as prosecuting attorney of Adams County and also a term as City Attorney for the City of Ritzville.

The honors which have been accorded him as a result of his civic and professional efforts are many and include the following: Mayor of the City of Ritzville, Past President Ritzville Chamber of Commerce, Past President Ritzville Lions Club, Past Master Ritzville Lodge F.A.M., Past Department Commander of American Legion Department of Washington, and Past National Vice-Commander of the National American Legion.

Serving with Judge Ott on the Washington State Supreme Court are Brothers Hugh J. Rosellini, Matthew W. Hill, and Frederick G. Hamley, Chief Justice.

Arthur M. Sammis (Temple), Registrar of that school, whose students carried off all honors in the annual Moot Court competition held on the last day of the convention. Other prominent brothers present during the week included Aaron W. Reese (Ross), City Attorney of San Diego; Jack Levitt (Ross), Deputy District Attorney in San Diego; George C. Chatterton (Ford), Public Defender for the city of Los Angeles; and Henry C. Rohr (Ross), Los Angeles attorney who is the fraternity's District Justice in that area.

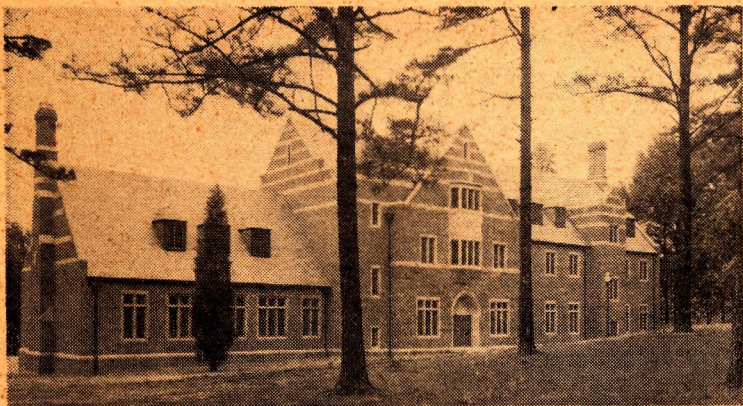

Field Chapter Visits Cal. Supreme Court

At the invitation of California Supreme Court Justice Douglas L. Edmonds (Ross), Past Supreme Justice of P A D, a large number of the members of Field Chapter at the University of California attended a session of the California Supreme Court on December 7, 1954. Included in the field trip for the Chapter was a stop for lunch at San Francisco's famous Fisherman's Wharf.

The experience was an interesting and educational one for all attending, and it is planned to make it an annual affair.

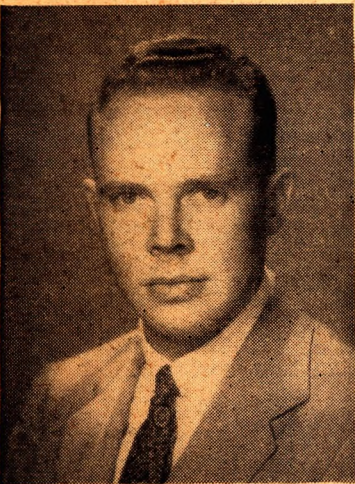

JUSTICE DOUGLAS L. EDMONDS of the California Supreme Court is shown flanked by some of the members of Field Chapter (University of California) as they met with him in his chambers after seeing California's highest court in action. Sec'y of Colorado Bar

Brother Donald S. Molen recently took over as Executive Secretary of the Colorado and Denver Bar Associations and as Treasurer for the Denver group. He received his L.L.B. from Denver University in June of 1953, and was admitted to the Colorado Bar in September of that year. In March of this year he was appointed to his present position.

Brother Molen was president of the student body at Denver U., is 28 years old, and is married with two sons.

The Bar Association office recently took its quarters in Denver's new Mile-Hi Center building which has just been completed.

Hull Who's Whoers Hustle

Cumberland University's contingent in the 1954-1955 Who's Who Among Students in American College and Universities were all PADs; Cordell Hull Chapter's justice, clerk, and treasurer, respectively.

Jay Beckley hails from Iowa, serves as student vice-justice of the Fifth District, is employed as the University's bursar, and leads the senior class scholastically as well as acting as Justice of Hull Chapter.

Between presiding over and leading the junior class, Missouri's William S. Brandom edits the School's annual and serves as clerk of the chapter.

Business manager for the "1955 Phoenix" is Joe Jacobson from Arizona. Joe is treasurer of Hull.

The Chapter began last fall with only three active members and since then the key word has been "hustle." The graduation in December of Ralph Pogue, past student bar association prexy, Who's Whoer, and Mississippi attorney, didn't stop the Chapter from surprising the campus with a 400% boastful increase.

PADs invited the campus to the first dance last fall. Plans for

New Facilities for Patrick Henry Chapter

Phi Alpha Delta Brothers of Patrick Henry Chapter, University of Richmond, returned to their law studies last fall in a new palace of learning. Palatial is a fit adjective to describe the facilities offered by the new building erected to house the T. C. Williams School of Law. From its spacious library to its ultra modern classrooms it epitomizes the ultimate in law school luxury.

In keeping with the University of Richmond Campus architecture the building is an adaptation of the Tudor Gothic style. Its over-all cost ranges in the neighborhood of $400,000. The facilities include a modern library with reading room capacity for 200 students. Its stacks shelve the 22,000 volumes now comprising the law library and will also house anticipated accessions for the next 25 years.

The four main lecture rooms range from twenty-five to sixty in seating capacity. Also provided are three seminar rooms seating twenty each. The dean, faculty and librarian are provided with spacious office accommodations as well as a large faculty conference room. Law students may doze or chat before an open fire in the elegant first floor lounge provided for them.

Student organizations, including PAD, make their headquarters in the up-to-date third floor conference room. Each organization is allotted storage space there. Space is also included for a legal aid clinic, an enlarged moot court competition and an intramural law review.

It is in the main court room, located on the second floor, that the state of architectural perfection seems to have been achieved. Here, surrounded by the dark paneled walls, standing before the dias-like bench an air of reverence prevails as if this were indeed a sanctuary of justice where the disciple may come to meditate as well as to test his mind and voice for service in the cause of truth.

It is not hard to see why Patrick Henry Chapter was happy to bid a fond adieu to the old Columbia Building which had been the law school's home for 30 years.

The new palace of learning will afford the student an air of physical luxury while his mind undergoes the highest in intellectual stimulation, the study of law.

Yates Speaks at Ryan Chapter Initiation

The chambers of Brother Alvin Reis, Dane County Circuit Judge, were the site of the semi-annual initiation ceremonies of Ryan Chapter on November 21, 1954. New brothers in Phi Alpha Delta are Robert Albright, Howard Blanding, James Bogart, Fred Cohn, Kenneth Connel, Thomas Hanlon, Gilbert Harvancik, Richard Nelson, Edward Shimon, and John Whaley.

Following the initiation ceremony, 17 new men were pledged to the Chapter.

Conducting the pledging and initiation ceremonies were the new officers of the Chapter who are: Bernard Kubale, Justice; Maurice Miller, Vice Justice; Lowell Sweet, Clerk; Jack Jacobs, Treasurer; and P. Ted Purcell, Marshal.

The initiation banquet, held at Black Hawk Country Club, was highlighted by the speech of Brother Thomas L. Yates (Ryan), a prominent personal injury attorney in Chicago. Brother Yates was introduced by Brother Tony DiGrazia, Supreme Treasurer of the fraternity.

Among the honored guests present were: Justice Currie of the Wisconsin Supreme Court; Judge Alvin Reis (Ryan); Dane County Circuit Court Judge; Brother Glen Bell (Ryan), Madison attorney; and Dean John Ritchie, Emeritus Dean Oliver Rundell, Professor Richard Campbell, Professor John Conway, Professor G. W. Foster, and Professor George Young, all from the law school faculty.

After a fine talk by Brother Yates in which he stressed the value of Phi Alpha Delta, the presentation of the Order of the Shovel was made.

Chicago Alumni Welcome Santa

The Chicago Alumni welcomed the past Christmas Season with their regular annual Christmas Party on December 10, 1954. More than fifty brothers appeared at the Morrison Hotel in Chicago in response to a summons from KRIS KRINGLE, Clerk of the Court of Christmas.

In addition to fine turkey and fish dinners, the brothers were surrounded by the "Spirits" of the Scots and the Bourbons. There were grab bag gifts and fun and frolic for all.

Sufficient funds were painlessly extracted from the brothers by raffling off 27 bottles of Christmas Cheer in the famous new packages. The monies collected went to pay for the cocktail party which was held for the PAD's who were admitted to the bar on January 20th. This activity has become a bi-annual feature of the Illinois Admission ceremonies, and the Chicago Alumni are the only fraternal group that so remembers their active brothers who are commencing their careers in the law.

The brothers also elected the

Knox Chapter Sponsors Law School Activities

Knox Chapter at the University of Arizona School of Law is conducting a most worthwhile professional program in holding functions which may be attended and participated in by the entire law school.

Last October the Chapter held a briefing session for the benefit of all new law students which met with great success. The meeting was organized and conducted by Brother Jarret S. Jarvis, President of the law school student body who had the assistance of Brothers John T. Brooks, Justice, and Emery E. Varga, Vice Justice.

The purpose of this orientation lecture was to acquaint the new students with the proper technique of briefing cases. For this purpose model briefs prepared and printed by Knox Chapter were distributed to those attending and formed the basis of the lecture. The lecture was followed by a discussion of helpful aids to the study of law and suggestions concerning classroom note-taking.

The Chapter also sponsored the 20th Annual Extemporaneous Speech Contest of the Law School which was organized and directed by Brother Mel J. Owens.

Topics for the extemporaneous speeches were selected from current Law Review articles. Each of the twenty entrants was given one hour in which to read his assigned Law Review article and to prepare a speech of three to five minutes duration.

Speeches were judged by a panel of three judges consisting of the Hon. Evo de Concini, a former Arizona Supreme Court Justice, the Hon. J. Mercer Johnson, Superior Court Judge of Pima County, and Dean John J. Lyons, Jr., of the Law School. The winners were chosen on the basis of the overall effectiveness of their speeches.

A P A D sponsored luncheon for the students of the University of Arizona Law School was held December 9, 1954, in the banquet room of the Student Union Building.

Guest speaker was Mr. Robert D. Stauffer, a practicing attorney of Tucson, Arizona, and a member of Knox Chapter. He spoke on the subject of "opening a law office."

His interesting and instructive lecture was followed by an informal discussion which was of special interest to the law students who contemplate practicing law in Arizona.

new officers who will carry on for 1955. They are Robert F. Monaghan, Justice; Robert G. Mackey, Vice Justice; Hilmond O. Vogel, Clerk; Bernard A. Snyder, Treasurer; and Donald M. Orstrom, Marshal. The Executive Secretary, D. Arthur Connelly, still has three years of his term left.

HON. HENRY J. WESTHUES

Westhues Succeeds PAD Missouri C/J Conkling

The December issue of The Reporter carried the sad news of the death of our beloved Brother, the Honorable Roscoe P. Conkling, who was serving as Chief Justice of the Missouri Supreme Court.

The Governor of the State recently appointed Brother Henry J. Westhues, a Supreme Court Commissioner, to succeed the late Judge Conkling on the highest court of the State.

Justice Westhues came to the United States in 1892 and received his law degree from St. Louis University in 1912. He was initiated into the John L. Sullivan Chapter at St. Louis University as an honorary member on March 31, 1951.

Westhues has served as City Attorney of Jefferson City, Missouri, and as County Prosecutor. He served many years as Judge of the Fourteenth Judicial District. He was first appointed a Supreme Court Commissioner in 1930 and has served in that high capacity since that date.

Magruder Initiates

Magruder Chapter at the University of Illinois held its pledge and initiation banquet at the Tilden Hall Hotel in Champaign, Illinois on November 16, 1954. Eight men were initiated and twelve more pledged into the chapter at the initiation which was held in the Champaign County Courtroom.

It has long been a tradition at Magruder Chapter to hold its initiation in the courtroom, where the solemnity of the ceremony is more fully manifested. Following the formal initiation and pledging there was a cocktail hour and the banquet. Seventy people were present, including many wives and sweethearts of the actives and pledges.

The guest speaker was Judge Evan Howell, a former U.S. Court of Claims Judge, a former Congressman, and at present Chairman of the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission.

Legal Aid

A Contribution to Democracy

(In accordance with the fraternity's policy of assisting the Legal Aid program wherever possible, the following address delivered by the Hon. William J. Brennan, Jr. to the Monmouth, New Jersey, County Legal Aid Society is reprinted. Justice Brennan is an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of New Jersey.)

The heart and core of the Legal Aid idea is simply stated. Its object is to make it impossible for any man, woman or child in the United States to be denied the equal protection of the laws simply because he or she is poor.

The very foundation upon which a democracy is founded and without which it must inevitably fail is that equal justice shall be available to all citizens. Nothing rankles more in the human heart than a brooding sense of injustice. Illness we can put up with. But injustice makes us want to pull things down.

When only the rich can enjoy the law, as a doubtful luxury, and the poor, who need it most, cannot have it because its expense puts it beyond their reach, the threat to the continued existence of a free democracy is not imaginary, it is very real, because democracy's very life depends upon making the machinery of justice so effective that every citizen shall believe in and benefit by its impartiality and fairness.

Many have asked, why is not the provision of legal service for the poor a responsibility of the Bar, or of government? Why is it that financial support comes so largely from private sources, —as from community chests and charitable minded citizens generally? And why are prominent and public spirited citizens who are not lawyers, called upon to give their time and energy to the work?

So far as the Bar is concerned, I think first of all it must be acknowledged that the primary responsibility for the establishment and maintenance of an adequate number of Legal Aid officers and committees in all parts of the nation is one of the cardinal obligations of the legal profession. It is of course true, as it has always been true, that every lawyer does some professional work without compensation, and most of it apart from the work he does upon assignment from the Legal Aid Bureau. Indeed until recent years, in the smaller communities at least, the service rendered by the local bar in this informal way was thought to be, and in many instances was, sufficient to meet the need. And of course presently in criminal cases lawyers accept assignments in the defense of indigent persons upon a rotation basis, according to a schedule administered by the judges of the criminal courts and not processed through the Legal Aid Bureaus. And, finally, lawyers are among the first in contributions for the financial support of organized Legal Aid work.

But experience has shown over the years that the need for organized Legal Aid is greater than the capacity of the profession to satisfy the demand. Equally important, Legal Aid operates most effectively when it has general community support and the sympathetic consideration and help of the leaders in the community and civic affairs who give their time to it. Financial support is very important, but by no means more important than community assistance in formulating the policies under which Legal Aid works. And yet laymen have been puzzled why lawyers as a group resist the creation of a government bureau of lawyers to do this work. I think the reason is clear and readily stated and, once stated and understood, widely accepted by Americans generally. The plain fact is that an independent bar is just as essential to the preservation of freedom as is an independent judiciary, or the bills of rights in our Federal and State Constitutions. The bar is the creation of a democratic people to intervene a champion between the individual and his government. Too often in history the citizens of other countries possessing constitutions and bills of rights similar to our own lost their liberties because they did not possess a bar with sufficient courage and independence to establish those rights by a brave assertion of the legal processes developed for their vindication. The fear is that a government agency of lawyers paid with tax money may be followed by governmental control of the profession. The fear is not so much on the part of the lawyers, but of thoughtful citizens concerned with the preservation and protection of our democratic form of government. If the government becomes the lawyer's paymaster, it may become his master. Alexander Hamilton put it—In the general course of human nature a power over a man's subsistence amounts to a power over his will. It is not mere coincidence that the masters of Hitler Germany and of modern Russia first destroyed the independence of the bar before they destroyed the democracies they replaced. If a citizen opposes his Government, and the lawyers for both parties are paid by the Government, will the citizens get that fearless and resolute representation by his counsel which history proves is essential to the proper administration of justice? If government paid attorneys do this work, receiving their salaries from the public treasury, will that, despite its innocence, be the first step, the entering wedge, leading to a subservient bar with all that such a bar foretells in the threat to individual liberties not alone of lawyers, but of everyone?

And so it is that private support of Legal Aid must not falter or fail; and your attendance here tonight is the evidence of your understanding why it must not, and of your determination that it shall not. A fact from which we must always start and to which we must always return is that in America the people are the masters and the lawyers, and the judges, are their agents, advocates and servants.

There is, of course, one phase of Legal service to the indigent poor which must be and is provided at public expense. I speak of the criminal indigent under indictment for the crime of murder. So jealous are we that every man, however actually guilty of that horrible offense he may be, must have every opportunity for a fair trial and the most capable legal talent society can afford him. Provision for him is made in the way of statutes which permit the assignment of counsel whose fees are paid from public funds, and if he is convicted and sentenced to death his appeal likewise is financed from the public treasury. These may be and often are expensive matters for the public. Only next Monday we will hear an appeal by a group of men convicted in another county of a robbery murder after a 30-day trial. The expense of printing the record alone for our review on the appeal is $12,000. But this expense for those on trial for murder is justified by the very nature of the crime. The public conscience can be content in such cases that if the accused forfeits his life it is only after every incident of a fair trial and appeal has been assured him.

Will the need for Legal Aid grow or decline? Every sign points to a greater need. The astronomical technological advanced and the accelerated expansion of mass production which we have known in our life times and the consequent rise in standard of living have made our relationships with one another inevitably more complex and multiplied the problems of all of us. All phases of this dynamic evolution have required proportional increased regulation by law, an overwhelming number of laws, federal, state and local, touching more and more areas in the lives of more and more citizens. It is an unavoidable process if we are to maintain a society which believes in using law rather than force to preserve individual freedom and opportunity. But laws create legal rights and legal obligations for the poor as well as the rich, and their increased number and complexity intensifies the need for legal services for all economic groups.

Indeed this evolution has brought with it a critical analysis of the adequacy of our present methods for training lawyers.

The practical application of his knowledge in the bear pit which is the court room or the hearing room before the administrative officer is something which cannot be taught from books. In this state we have tried to provide that training in a year's clerkship comparable to a medical internship which the law school graduate serves with a practicing lawyer before he may take the bar examination. We no longer feel assured that the clerkship can do the job.

The idea of being bruited about is the association of the law school graduates with Legal Aid offices which can and should be your for a job well do provide such valuable training in day to day legal practice. The notion is that a year or at most two years of such training will be invaluable adjunct to the lawyer himself and at the same time assist in the solution of legal aid personnel problems. Doubtless there are many valid objections to be weighed and considered. Presently the idea is only in the germinating stage, but I mention it merely to evidence the determination of the courts of this state that everything shall be done to maintain and strengthen the Legal Aid operation.

If I may be permitted a personal reference I convey to all of you who are giving of your time and interest in this work in Monmouth County—the Officers and the Board of Trustees, the fine professional staff—the sincere appreciation of the Supreme Court for the help you are giving, and express the hope that all of you have the satisfaction which should be yours for a job well done.

This Is Your Executive Office

Its Functions Are Many and Varied

Your National Executive Office is located at 202 South Hamilton Drive, Beverly Hills, California. Its quarters are directly adjacent to the law offices of Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray (Ford) and Executive Secretary Fredrick J. Weitkamp (Ross). Their close proximity provides a much more efficient operation. This location has been maintained since March of 1951 when they were moved from downtown Los Angeles. Prior to 1948 the offices were located in Washington, D. C.

The office is staffed by an Executive Secretary, a part-time stenographer and two full time clerks.

From 1948 to April of 1953, Frank E. Gray served as Executive Secretary and when he was elevated to the office of Supreme Secretary by the 1952 convention, it became necessary to employ a new Executive Secretary. Recent PAD graduates in the Los Angeles area were interviewed and the Supreme Executive Board selected Fredrick J. Weitkamp, a member of Ross Chapter at the University of Southern California. Brother Weitkamp assumed his new duties on April 1, and is at the present time still serving as Executive Secretary.

Phyllis Andresen has been chief clerk of the Executive Office since 1948 and has a working knowledge of all of the Fraternity affairs. She has always evidenced a personal interest in the Fraternity, its welfare and its members. A multitude of her ideas and suggestions are now in actual operation and are benefitting the entire Fraternity. We are indeed fortunate to have her in our Executive Office.

Mabel E. Fleischmann, part-time stenographer, has been with the Executive Office for approximately three years and is invaluable to the organization. Virginia L. Carey has only been with the Executive Office for the past five months but she is fast becoming an indispensable asset.

The operation of a National Fraternity which has 76 active chapters and 39 alumni chapters takes a great deal of time, effort and money. Few people have any concept of the number and variety of the tasks which are carried on in the Executive Office.

Each year the Executive Office undertakes the preparation and mailing of alumni dues statements to all of the alumni throughout the country. Two subsequent follow-up letters are sent to those who fail to pay on the first mailing. The collection of alumni dues has increased from $7,525 in 1948 steadily until in 1954 we collected $16,217. This year we have already topped this figure and the dues are still coming in.

Publishes Reporter

One of the principal functions of the Executive Office is the publication and mailing of The Reporter four times a year. This task includes acting as a reporter, editor, rewrite man, proof reader, layoutman, etc., for all issues. Each issue of The Reporter is mailed to over 22,000 alumni and active members throughout the United States.

During the fiscal year August 1, 1953, to July 31, 1954, the Executive Office processed 1,550 address changes for active and alumni members. This involves cutting a new addressograph plate for each change and making up three 3x5 cards. In addition, 1,447 new members were enrolled on the books and records of the Fraternity in the same period of time.

This enrollment of new members involves the same procedure as address changes except that in addition, initiation reports must be checked, initiation fees verified and membership certificates ordered.

Large Volume Correspondence

At the present time an average of 170 personal letters per month are written by the Executive Office. Copies of these letters go to the Supreme Justice, the District Justice and the Board member who has jurisdiction over the particular district concerned.

Each year the Executive Office assists active chapters and District Justices in preparing and planning for their annual conclaves. Each District Conclave budget must be checked and forwarded to the Board for its decision as to whether additional funds should be allocated to the district.

Chapter supplies are ordered through the Office which has the responsibility of seeing to it that the various materials used are up to date. Special mailings such as notices to alumni are made upon request of a chapter. Almost without exception the copy for such notices needs rewrite work and is submitted a day or so before the chapter desires it to be mailed. The Executive Office should have at least a week's notice because the volume is so terrific. However, in order to comply with the chapter's request the staff often works many hours overtime.

Another time consuming but necessary task is the processing of approximately 2000 pledge questionnaires per year. Each questionnaire must be completely read and then signed by the Executive Secretary. Thereafter a copy is placed in a special file and the original is returned to the pledge's chapter.

Convention Preparations

Every other year the Executive Staff must make preparations for the biennial convention. This means, among other things, mailing convention bulletins to all active and alumni chapters, preparing publicity, devising the convention program, arranging details with the convention hotel, printing programs and tickets, obtaining door prizes, arranging for dates for the delegates, taking care of registration, etc.

Annually, PAD sponsors receptions for its members at the American Bar Association Convention and the American Association of Law Schools Convention. This means that the Executive Office must select qualified persons to act as local chairmen for these functions and take care of the necessary publicity.

At the present time the Office is devoting a great deal of its time to the gigantic task of preparing a new PAD Professional Directory. It is hoped that the present staff will be sufficient to take care of the job without any added expense to the fraternity.

Mrs. Andresen also maintains the books of account for the fraternity thus saving many dollars.

The foregoing constitutes only a partial enumeration of the duties of your Executive Office. If all of the myriad of functions which the Office performs, such as mailing alumni membership cards, writing and publishing the rushing booklet, etc., were listed here it would take up most of this issue of The Reporter. Suffice it to say that in addition it takes care of the many varied and detailed functions which are a part of any organization consisting of 30,000 members.

In 1948, when the Executive Office was moved to Los Angeles from the East Coast there were fifty-seven active chapters and twenty-eight alumni chapters. They were serviced by a staff of an Executive Secretary, a part-time stenographer, and two full time clerks. Today there are seventy-six active chapters and thirty-nine alumni chapters, and there has been no increase in personnel on the staff. Thus there has been slightly more than a 25% growth in the number of chapters in the fraternity in the past seven years, and the Executive Office has been able to continue to operate efficiently without any additional cost to the fraternity.

ATTENTION... CHAPTER CLERKS

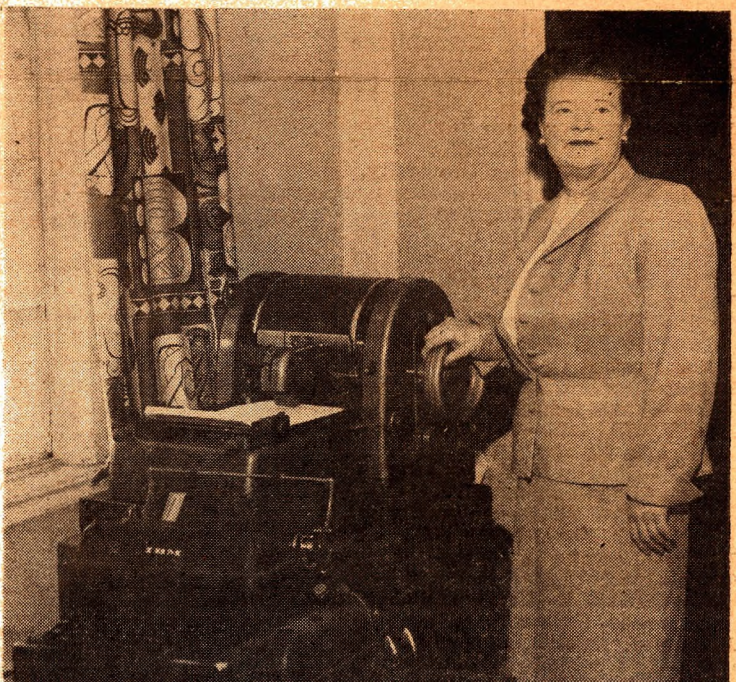

Form N will be due on April 15, 1955. Be sure to start getting the information together so that your report will be filed with the Executive Office on time. This form is essential to insure that the members and alumni of your chapter are accorded their proper status with the fraternity.
