31ST BIENNIAL CONVENTION JUNE 21-23

PADS Will Converge On Cleveland

The finest convention in PAD history has been promised all active and alumni members attending the 31st biennial convention in Cleveland, Ohio, June 21, 22 and 23. Delegates and alternates from 78 active Chapters, alumni chapter delegates, and other PADS are expected to begin arriving at the Hotel Statler, official convention headquarters, on the evening of Wednesday, June 20.

Justice Burton Will Speak

Extensive preparations have been made by the Cleveland Alumni Chapter and by the national fraternity to make this the most outstanding convention yet. Highlight of the three-day meeting will be the featured convention address by U.S. Supreme Court Justice Harold H. Burton. Justice Burton, a member of Hay Chapter at Western Reserve University, which is this year celebrating the 50th anniversary of its founding, has long been active in PAD affairs.

Burton is a former United States Senator from Ohio and a former mayor of the City of Cleveland.

Topnotch entertainment has been arranged by the Cleveland alumni, which will include a major league baseball game (Cleveland Indians vs. Washington Senators), a cocktail reception and a dinner-dance.

Ladies Invited

A special invitation is extended to wives of members to attend and enjoy the fellowship for which PAD is so well known. A special ladies' program will include a fashion and style show, two luncheons and a visit to General Electric's Nela Park.

For those desiring dates for the dinner-dance, Hay Chapter is making arrangements with the undergraduate school and with a nursing school.

The Statler Hotel, one of the finest in America, has established a most reasonable schedule of rates for our convention. Elsewhere on this page is a hotel reservation form which may be utilized. A special accommodation has been set up with the hotel, which will be known as a fraternity accommodation. This is the standard Statler bedroom, except that there will be a minimum of four persons to a room. The rate for this accommodation will be $3 per night per person.

Each active Chapter may send two delegates and two alternate delegates and as many guests as it desires. The National Chapter will pay the actual cost of first class railroad fare, upper berth rates, $4 subsistence for each day to travel to and from the convention, and also a hotel allowance for one delegate from each active Chapter.

Delegates' Credentials

Delegates' credentials and other information relative to the convention have already been sent each active Chapter. The credentials must be returned to the Executive Office as soon as possible so that they can be certified by the Supreme Secretary. In order to receive the certification, each Chapter must be current in its financial obligations to National and must have filed all forms and reports required by the Constitution and By-Laws, or by the Executive office.

All persons attending as official delegates or alternate delegates from active Chapters must have at least six months' law

PLI-Pioneer in Continuing Legal Education

One of the most encouraging recent developments in our profession has been lawyers' increasing attendance at post-admission education programs. Many are conducted under the auspices of bar associations and law schools; particularly effective work is being done in California, Texas, Pennsylvania, New York and Boston.

Still in the foreground of this brightened continuing education picture is the Practising Law Institute, which 23 years ago became the nation's pioneer in professional instruction for practicing lawyers. During 1955, approximately 10,000 lawyers attended PLI Saturday Forums, summer courses, evening lectures and special programs, spending a total of 190,000 man-hours on practical professional education.

The Institute's courses are largely held in New York City, where its programs are enthusiastically received. Over 2,000 lawyers attended PLI's evening courses last year. Its 1955 summer session was attended by some 1,500 attorneys from all parts of the nation, while the year's Saturday forums drew attendances totaling over 5,000, of whom about one-third came from 20 states outside New York. PLI monographs distributed in the United States and Canada now total 1,500,000 copies.

Alumni Chapters are entitled to one delegate each and one alternate delegate. In order to have their delegates' credentials certified, it is necessary that the annual alumni Chapter tax be paid.

The convention will have a great deal of business to transact and official convention committees which will discuss the various items before presentation to the general convention will be appointed on the morning of the opening session, Thursday, June 21. These committees will meet on the afternoon of the 21st and begin their reports to the convention the next morning.

Friday afternoon, a special feature of interest to all active Chapters will take place. It will be known as the Chapter Workshop and a few selected Chapters from across the country will present aspects of professional endeavor which have been deemed to be outstanding. Saturday will be taken up with the remainder of committee reports, new business and the election and installation of the new national officers.

Convention allowance checks will be distributed at noon on the last day of the convention.

Remember, for an experience you will long remember, be sure to attend the 1956 convention of Phi Alpha Delta, the world's foremost law fraternity.

Official PAD Song Recording Now Available

For many years after its historic evolution from Lambda Epsilon and its inception as Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity in 1902, PAD had no official fraternity song.

By 1910, when the roster of active Chapters had grown to 23, the demand for a song had become so insistent that it was decided to offer a silver cup in national fraternity competition for the best PAD song.

Calhoun Chapter had been installed in the Yale University Law School in 1909 and Brother Frank R. Hurlbutt was one of its charter members. During that year, Brother Hurlbutt, inspired by the principles and purposes to which Phi Alpha Delta is dedicated, composed words and music of a PAD song, primarily for the use and enjoyment of his active member associates at Calhoun.

The song was so well liked that the officials of the chapter caused Brother Hurlbutt's song to be entered in the national competition and kept the knowledge of the entry of the song from him.

So now, nearly 50 years later, a visitor at Brother Hurlbutt's home may see the great silver goblet which was the reward he received when he was a student member at Yale. This was the prize he received when his song was adopted as the official song of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity. It has been our official song ever since and though to some of us it seems only yesterday—in three short years it will celebrate its golden anniversary.

The beauty and appeal of the song, with its thrilling music and inspiring words, and the fact that it has continued to live throughout the years since first it stirred the emotions of our brothers at Yale, destined it to become one of the really great American fraternity songs, and it is now coming into its own in a most dramatic way.

Cities Service Quartette, which appeared each Monday evening for eight years on the air for the Cities Service Oil Company, has made a recording of our Phi Alpha Delta Fraternity Song. To accompany it the quartette has selected the following old-time favorites to complete the record:

SIDE ONE—I've Been Working On the Railroad, Honey, There Is a Tavern in the Town, PHI ALPHA FRATERNITY SONG.

SIDE TWO—Swing Low, Sweet Chariot, Down by the Old Mill Stream, Whiffenpoof Song, Battle Hymn of the Republic.

The outstanding talent of this nationally known male quartette has produced a superb rendition. It is hoped that arrangements can be made to have this quartette appear in person at the coming convention in Cleveland for a program of songs which would, of course, include our own.

The record, put out under the American Manuscripts, Inc., label, is an RCA LP (33 1/3 RPM) recording upon the finest known material. It will be available

In Years Gone By

(The following excerpts are taken from the Phi Alpha Delta Quarterly, predecessor to The Reporter)

40 YEARS AGO

MAY, 1916

"THAT OLD P. A. D. PIN"

(With Apologies to Mr. Pixley)

"I'm a plain old plodding lawyer who don't give a rap for frills, And I'm worried less by fashion than I am by pleas and bills; Though my wife insists that in me nature planned a perfect man, I'm afraid that I'm not building in accordance with that plan; I have never owned a watch or wore a chain, or fob or ring, And, in fact, I'm not in sympathy with all that sort of thing; I indulge no taste for baubles, yet what thoughts come thronging in When I see some college youngster "flash" my old P.O.D. pin.

"At the sight of that old emblem I forget that I am gray And my pulse beats just as strongly as upon that far-off day; When a band of student brothers taught me mystic grip and sign, And I rode the goat in triumph, and that shining pin was mine. Father Time has not been idle and those "boys" of long ago Now are scattered far and widely, and their heads are crowned with snow

But their hearts, I know, beat warmly, for they keep alive within All the principles embodied in that old "frat" pin.

"How my thought go flying backward to youth's iridescent day, When the world lay all before me and Hope beckoned on the way! Now another generation claims the center of the stage, While I'm ready to write "finis" at the bottom of my page I'll confess a strange emotion sets my very soul aglow As I greet by proxy those old "boys" of long ago. Now it sets my nerves a-tingling! Now it warms my heart within When I couple past and present with that old Phi Alpha Delta pin."

"The College of Law of the University of Cincinnati is now permanently located in its new building on the campus of the University. The building known as "The Alphonso Taft Hall," was dedicated on October 28, 1925. The dedicatory address was given by Brother William Howard Taft, Chief Justice of the United States."

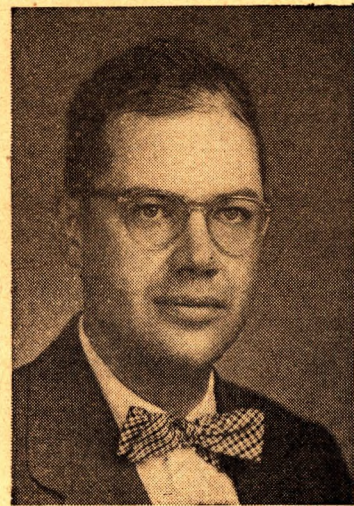

Plans for future conventions will not be complete, unless arrangements are made for a plumber to be in attendance. Noah's 90-day trip was a pink tea affair as compared with the deluge in Brother Keats' room. Keats had no ark. He used towels. As Brother Murray suggests, however, all towels are not operated upon or by "a roller."

Thoron New Cornell Dean

The appointment of Brother Gray Thoron as Dean of the Cornell Law School has recently been announced by Deane W. Malott, President of the University.

Thoron, 39, will go to Cornell from the University of Texas where he has been on the law faculty since 1948. He is currently on leave, serving as assistant to the U.S. Solicitor General in Washington. A member of Tom C. Clark Chapter at the University of Texas, Brother Thoron has actively participated in PAD activities.

He is a graduate of Harvard College (1938) and Harvard Law School (1941). Formerly, he was in private practice with the New York law firm of Sullivan and Cromwell.

GRAY THORON

Thoron's special fields of teaching include corporation law, civil procedure and the general area of "professional responsibility." His plans for the coming 1956-1957 school year include the teaching of one of the first year courses to enable him to become acquainted with the first class to enter under his deanship. He also plans to teach the senior class a course in professional practice, including the area of ethics and office management.

His memberships include the New York City and American Bar Associations, the American Judicature Society, and the American Law Institute.

George Washington U. Chapter Continues to Lead Activities

John Jay Chapter at George Washington University is continuing its successful programs under its new slate of officers. Installed January 6, 1956, by Brother Bill Robertson, retiring Justice of District XII, were Clyde William, Justice; Charles Menzemer, Vice-Justice; Jim Zegeer, Clerk; Paul Krizov, Treasurer; and Dick Mueller, Marshal.

The spring rush program of Jay Chapter got under way on February 17 at the Sheraton Park Hotel, when Dean John T. Fey of the George Washington University Law School was the principal speaker. Dean Fey gave a general idea of the problems of Law School administration, highlighting the need for well-staffed and well-equipped "Law Centers." He urged those present to aid in every way in the establishment of the Law Center at GWU, even though there was little likelihood that it could be built and in operation before they graduated. However, he pointed out that the benefits of such a center would accrue to them for their entire lives as attorneys.

Brother Bob Redding (Georgetown), member of the Maryland Bar and a Supreme Tribune was the featured speaker at a second rush function-professional meeting held March 9. Brother Redding pointed out the importance to young attorneys just starting into practice, or any new practitioner, of their joining in local professional and social groups, as well as taking part in community affairs.

At the third professional meeting for the spring term, Rosel Hyde, Commissioner of the FCC and Chairman for one term, told about the organization and workings of the FCC. Mr. Hyde, an uncle of Brother Laron Hyde of Jay Chapter, urged that the legal profession, especially when dealing with the administrative agencies of the government, make a true effort to "unclutter" its presentations. Mr. Hyde lamented the voluminous briefs in which the one or two basic issues on which there may be controversy are hidden, making the job of the agencies not only more difficult, but more time-consuming.

Initiation Held

Jay Chapter held its mid-year initiation in conjunction with Taft Chapter at Georgetown Law School on December 10, 1955 at the U. S. Court of Military Appeals. Those welcomed as new brothers in PAD were: William Beemer, Charles Bouton, Bernard Cochran, Noel Conway, Kenneth Coulter, Clyde Frame, Paul Gromley, Allen Harrison, William Hogle, Don Hutson, Dan Kahn, Walt Landry, Carl Love, Roy Mason, Julian Schamus, Stuart Smith, Myron Solter, Norman Taylor, Ted Tedesco and Dave Venable.

Jay Chapter is presently represented on the Law Review at GW by Tom Jones, assistant editor for patents, Bill Driscoll, business secretary, Fernando Acevedo, Clyde William and Walt Bernkopf. In addition, a number of brothers have entered the annual Law Review Competition, the winner of which will have his name inscribed on a plaque adjacent the Dean's office.

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This recording has the full approval of the Supreme Justice and the Executive Board of the National fraternity. Your editor, who has had the opportunity to hear a preliminary recording of our PAD song, is greatly impressed with its quality.

It is hoped that all members purchase one or more of the records, not only as a continuing source of pleasure for themselves and their friends, but because, if sufficient records are sold, the National organization will receive financial benefit.

Your editor believes that such a topnotch recording of our official fraternity song will be of invaluable assistance to active Chapters and the National in maintaining fraternal spirit and in reminding us of our purposes and ideals, even as we enjoy its oft-repeated hours of relaxation.)

Jackson, Gray Make Many Chapter Visitations

Southwest Chapters Visited by Gray

Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray (Loyola-Los Angeles) recently visited the active Chapters in the southwest while en route to the Professional Interfraternity Conference in Chicago where he and Supreme Treasurer Anthony A. DiGrazia (DePaul) represented PAD.

On Tuesday, April 3, Gray arrived at Baylor University (Baylor Chapter) and was taken to the law school where he had the opportunity of discussing the Chapter's condition with Dean Abner McCall and with the Chapter advisor, Angus McSwain (Baylor). He also met with the officers of the Chapter and went over the books and records. He was honored that evening at a banquet, where most of the members and wives and dates were present.

The Supreme Secretary was much impressed by the new Law School Building which was only recently occupied by the law school for the first time. He found PAD to be the outstanding law fraternity on campus, as it is not only the largest in number but its members hold all of the important law school offices.

SMU Next

From there, Gray went on to Dallas, Texas, where he visited Taney Chapter at Southern Methodist University and was the guest of honor at a luncheon attended by 53 of the Chapter members. Gray talked to the group on the national picture of PAD. Dean Robert Storey (SMU) also met with Gray to discuss the functions of the Chapter and of the law school in general.

Members of Harlan Chapter at the University of Oklahoma met Supreme Secretary Gray at the Oklahoma City Airport on April 5 and drove him over to the campus at Norman.

There he found the Chapter to be in excellent shape, controlling not only the law school politics but also the Oklahoma Law Review, as the editor, managing editor and alumni secretary are all PADs.

He had a very informative meeting with Dean Earl Sneed, who personally conducted him to a luncheon attended by a large number of PADs and guests. District VIII Justice Alfred P. Murrah, of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, came over from Oklahoma City to attend the luncheon. Gray spoke on the progress of PAD nationally and urged the Chapter to undertake various professional projects.

Medico-Legal Program

Judge Murrah and Supreme Secretary Gray held a meeting with the officers of the Chapter, and Judge Murrah offered his assistance to the Chapter in setting up a meeting on the medical aspects of the law. It is planned that leading doctors and lawyers from throughout the United States would participate, the event being thrown open to the whole law school and practicing attorneys in the Oklahoma City area. The active Chapter is presently working through committees to carry out this idea.

The last leg of his visitation trip found Gray in Tulsa, Okla., to visit Hardy Chapter, located at the University of Tulsa. Hardy Chapter is one of our newer Chapters, having been chartered in 1954.

Gray enjoyed a luncheon held at a downtown hotel, which was well attended by the active members. He found Hardy Chapter to be the leading law fraternity in the school, not only in point of leadership but also far outnumbering the others.

Supreme Justice Visits Northwest

Supreme Justice Robert D. Jackson, of Des Moines, Iowa, recently made extensive visitations to the active and alumni Chapters located in the northwest portion of the country.

Justice Jackson arrived in Missoula, Montana, on the evening of February 17 and spent that evening visiting with several of the active members of Brantly Chapter at the University of Montana, and Brother Tom Waterbury (Montana), a member of the faculty. On the following morning he visited the law school and enjoyed a visit with Dean Sullivan and other faculty members.

While visiting the Chapter, he had the opportunity of viewing the new Law House, which has recently been acquired by the school and is used for housing law students.

A banquet in honor of Supreme Justice Jackson was held in the evening at the Florence Hotel and was well attended by Chapter members.

Nickell Welcomes Supreme Justice

February 19 found Jackson arriving at the Seattle Airport and being met by District I Justice George T. Nickell. The next morning, Jackson and Nickell visited the University of Washington and discussed fraternity affairs with Dean George N. Stevens and faculty members Arval Morris (Colorado) and Harry Cross (Washington). The two Justices met with officers of the Chapter and found Dunbar to be well established in all phases of scholastic and fraternal endeavor.

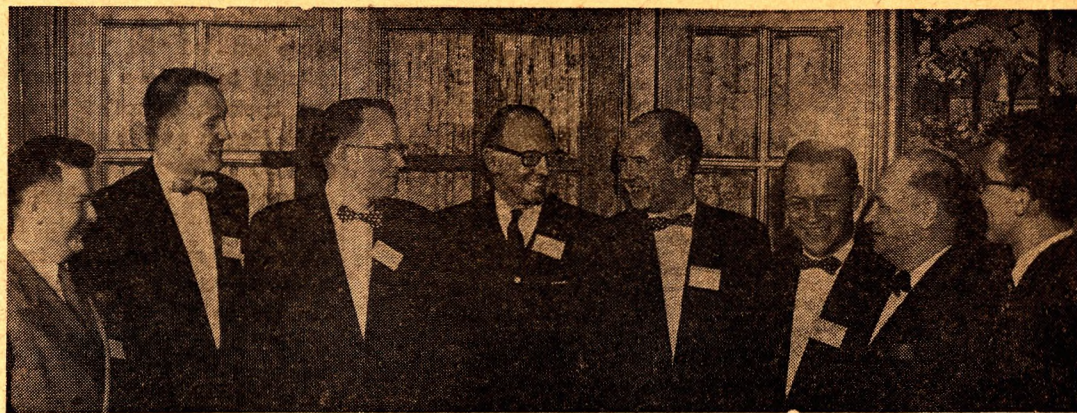

That evening, Nickell invited a large number of the Seattle alumni to a cocktail reception at the Washington Athletic Club. An excellent turnout was had and all were afforded a more informal opportunity to become better acquainted with our Supreme Justice. The Seattle Chapter is vitally interested in PAD and has continuously been of great service to Dunbar Chapter.

On the morning of the 21st, Jackson and Nickell traveled to Eugene, Ore., to visit Williams Chapter. They attended a luncheon meeting at the Student Union with what appeared to be a 100 per cent turnout of active members. Williams Chapter was found to be in excellent shape, having just recently completed pledging 25 out of 35 eligibles. Jackson and Nickell also enjoyed meeting with Dean Orland J. Hollis.

That evening, Judge Kenneth Poole (Oregon), a part-time instructor at the University and a very enthusiastic booster of Williams Chapter, had Jackson and Nickell as guests at his home. Also attending was Professor Charles G. Howard (Illinois). An interesting sidelight is the fact that Judge Poole and his wife were married last September by Past Supreme Justice Hon. Douglas L. Edmonds (So. Cal.) at San Francisco.

On to Salt Lake City

Jackson and Nickell then parted company, Nickell to return to Seattle and Jackson to journey on to Salt Lake City, where he found Sutherland Chapter at the University of Utah to be in good shape. Supreme Justice Jackson had the opportunity of visiting with Dean Daniel Dykstra and other members of the faculty.

Jackson enjoyed a banquet which was held in his honor at one of the clubs in Salt Lake City and was pleased to meet Judge Herbert Schiller (Utah), a part-time professor and formerly on the bench in Utah. Judge Schiller is a PAD beloved by all members of the active Chapter and was given a special award at the 1955 District Conclave which was held in Salt Lake City.

February 24 found Jackson in Denver meeting with Supreme Vice Justice John L. Griffith (Colorado) and District IV Justice Teller Ammons (Denver). Fraternity affairs in District IV were generally discussed and plans laid for the coming months. That evening, the three journeyed to Boulder, Colo., and had an excellent meeting with members of Gunter Chapter at the University of Colorado. Former Dean William R. Arthur (Colorado) was present, as was Austin Scott (Colorado), a faculty member.

Rounding out Jackson's tour of the Northwest and West was a banquet held Saturday evening for members of Hughes Chapter at Denver University and Denver alumni. Although the turnout was small, all present were vitally interested in the active Chapter and the fraternity in general.

IOWA U. HOST TO DISTRICT VII CONCLAVE

William G. Hammond Chapter, the official host for the District VII Conclave, held in Iowa City, Iowa, March 23 and 24, extended a warm hand of welcome to a large number of conclave delegates, national and district officers, guests, and friends. The official site for conclave activities was the Hotel Jefferson, with the general meetings being held in the law building on the University of Iowa campus.

The district was well represented with delegates in attendance from Cole Chapter, Drake University; Corliss Chapter, University of North Dakota; Green Chapter, University of Kansas; Benton Chapter, University of Kansas City; Lawson Chapter, University of Missouri; Benson Chapter, Washburn College; and the host chapter, Hammond of the University of Iowa.

Following registration activities, six pledges from Hammond Chapter were initiated into active PAD membership, and after the initiation, 13 men were formally pledged to Hammond Chapter. A social hour was then held at which time the hosts were given an opportunity to further the fellowship among those attending the conclave.

Featured Speaker

Mr. C. Ream Daugherty, Trust Officer, Iowa-Des Moines National Bank, Des Moines, Iowa, was the featured speaker at the banquet held Friday evening. Mr. Daugherty briefly outlined the services available and the work done by trust departments and outlined the opportunities available in the trust field.

The banquet was presided over by Carl B. Zimmerman, District VII Student Justice. Distinguished guests included Iowa Supreme Court Chief Justice and Mrs. Robert L. Larson, Supreme Justice Robert D. Jackson (Drake), and District VII Justice Leo M. Baker (Iowa). Following the banquet a dance was held and dates were provided by the host chapter for those delegates so desiring.

Saturday's Program

Saturday morning the delegates met in the law building at which time they were divided into two groups for discussion of various chapter activities and problems. Group I included chapter officers and discussions were held concerning the problems arising in the administration of local chapters. Discussions were also held concerning professional luncheon and speaking programs. Group II included social activities, intramural athletic programs, and freshman programs which included pledging and rushing activities and freshman reviews. The discussion sessions were under the direction of Carl H. Pesch, Hammond Chapter, with much able assistance by the discussion leaders.

The noon luncheon was held on the beautiful sun porch of the Iowa Memorial Union, and was presided over by Brother Zimmerman. At this time Mason Ladd, Dean of the College of Law, State University of Iowa, addressed the group. Guests included Iowa Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert L. Larson, Supreme Justice Robert D. Jackson, District VII Justice Leo M. Baker, C. Ream Daugherty, Frank R. Kennedy and Willard L. Boyd of the University of Iowa Law Faculty.

New Officers Elected

Saturday afternoon a general session was held at which time reports were heard from the morning discussion groups and from District VII Justice Leo M. Baker. By unanimous vote the site for the next conclave was chosen, this site being Kansas City, Mo., with Benton Chapter, University of Kansas City, as the host chapter. The next conclave is tentatively planned for early November.

Following the selection of the conclave site, District VII officers were elected for the coming year. Norman Sanders, Benton Chapter, was elected Justice; Carl H. Pesch, Hammond Chapter, Secretary; and Clancy King, Benson Chapter, Treasurer.

The conclave was climaxed by a banquet held Saturday evening. The address was given by Supreme Justice Robert D. Jackson. Guests included Dean Mason Ladd and Allan D. Vestal of the College of Law, State University of Iowa, and District VII Justice Leo M. Baker.

JUDGE JAMES R. BREakey, Jr. of Michigan's 22nd Judicial Circuit receives a framed certificate naming him Campbell Chapter's Outstanding PAD alumnus for 1956. Bill Anhut, right, Campbell Justice, makes the presentation as Ron Zollars, left, Campbell Vice-Justice, looks on. The award was made before some 100 PAD chapter members, faculty members, and spring rushees in the University of Michigan Union.

Michigan U. PADs Enjoy Rounded Activities

A full year of social and professional activity is being rounded out by Campbell Chapter of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Highlighting the year was the honoring of Circuit Judge James R. Breakey, Jr., of Michigan's 22nd Judicial Circuit, as Campbell Chapter's Outstanding PAD alumnus. The judge was a unanimous choice of the Campbell brothers because of his outstanding record on the bench and because of continued contributions to the chapter. He was honored at a March 22 luncheon, which climaxed the chapter's spring rushing program.

Chicago Alumni Honor Political Candidates

On February 21, 1956, the Chicago Alumni honored the brothers of the Chapter who are candidates for political office in the coming election. Among the honored guests were: Herbert C. Paschen (Northwestern), candidate for governor; Edgar A. Jonas (Loyola of Chicago), and Emmet Byrne (De Paul), candidates for the U. S. House of Representatives; Robert K. Corkhill (Washburn), candidate for States Attorneys of DuPage County; and brothers Bernard McDevitt, (Chicago-Kent), James Slager (Northwestern), Jay Schiller Jr. (DePaul), Edward Paluch (Loyola), and William Cunnea, (Chicago-Kent), candidates for the Illinois House and Senate.

Ex-governor and former Supreme Justice Dwight Green (Chicago-Stanford) was a guest speaker, along with Supreme Treasurer Anthony A. DiGrazia (DePaul). More than fifty brothers attended to honor their Political Lights.

One of the candidates for Congress is former Supreme Justice Edgar A. Jonas. Also in attendance was Mr. Chicago Alumni himself, former Supreme Justice George Fink (DePaul-Michigan).

Chapter Features Speakers

The professional phase of PAD life at Michigan has featured a series of luncheons after which outstanding members of the Michigan Bar or leaders of other professional fields have spoken. Included in the year's speakers were Albert Blashfield, President of the Michigan Bar; Lt. Frederick Davids of the Michigan State Police, who spoke on the Michigan narcotics problem; Dean of the Michigan Law School, E. Blythe Stason, who spoke on his experience at the Geneva Conference on Atomic Energy; Dr. Baum, surgeon at the University of Michigan Medical Center, who spoke on legal-medico aspects of sexual mutation; and Judge Breakey.

The rushing program initiated a new and highly effective feature to attract potential brothers. The active PAD Wives' Auxiliary was pressed into service to assist at rushing functions. The wives provided a delicious display of food for the functions, as well as acting as hostesses to the rushees. Officers of the PAD Wives' group are: Lynn Brittain, President; Sandy Sparber, Secretary; and Peggy Brown, Treasurer, the wives of brothers Jack Brittain, Byron Sparber and John Brown, respectively.

Rushing Booklet Published

Another feature of the Rushing Program was the preparation and distribution of a printed brochure entitled "So, You Are Interested in a Law Fraternity?" The booklet, compiled by clerk Hank Hogan and Rushing Chairman Al Haffner, details what a rushee should look for in a legal fraternity, what Phi Alpha Delta offers nationally and locally, achievements of local PADs, and the names of all faculty and student members, as well as the names of the officers. It proved an influential and impressive factor during rushing.

Directing the Campbell brothers during 1956 were Bill Anhut, Justice; Ron Zollars, Vice-Justice; Hank Hogan, Clerk; Byron Sparber, Treasurer; Bob Redmon, Marshal; and Al Haffner, Rushing Chairman.

Other innovations during the spring rushing program included having hash sessions immediately after rush parties, and the use of projected individual colored slides taken during an early rush party of each rushee to aid in identification for discussion and voting. Both procedures aided in efficient and intelligent selection as well as being great memory aids.

The spring semester social calendar has hummed with a social affair planned almost each weekend. Sparking this program was the annual Kiddie Party (with the brothers and wives or dates decked out in costumes of children's clothing), a spring dinner dance and a planned spring pre-final all-day picnic.

Enter Athletics

PAD athletes also have had a full year. Campbell PADs annually participate in the university intramural touch football, horse shoes, swimming, basketball, softball, tennis and ping-pong.

Campbell chapter athletic achievements during the past year include a second-place play-off title in professional league basketball and a runner-up spot in the first-place play-off in pingpong. Last year, Campbell placed seventh out of 22 in the Professional League standings (which includes all professional fraternities) in all sports. Thus far this year, Campbell's record is even better, with softball prospects looking great.

To retain a permanent record of the year's events, Campbell Chapter has initiated a program of pictorially recording all PAD events as well as retaining a written record of the year's activities. It is planned that the material will be compiled in a scrapbook for the purpose of showing during future rushing sessions, as well as bringing back a little nostalgia to alumni PAD meetings of the future.

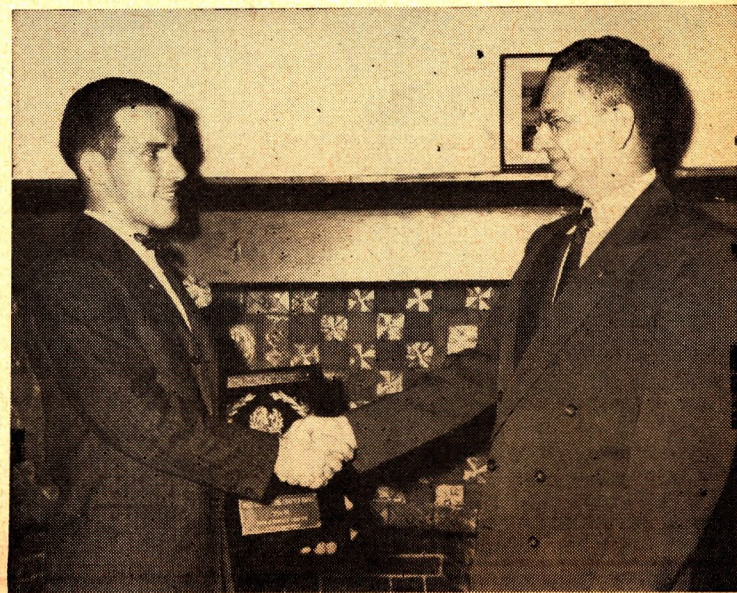

The year's achievements will be wrapped up with a revision of the chapter's by-laws, which have not been revised since 1947; and the establishment of a committee to organize a local "Toaster's" luncheon-meeting group as suggested and outlined at the PAD 1954 National Convention.

Most Outstanding Chapter Competition for 1956 Under Way

The most outstanding PAD Chapter competition for 1956 is currently under way. This is the second year of the competition which was established by resolution of the 1954 national convention. National winner for 1955 was Owen J. Roberts Chapter, of Temple University.

The Chapter judged the most outstanding throughout the country each year is awarded a large and beautiful crested engraved plaque to be permanently placed in the law school foyer.

Each of the 78 PAD active Chapters are eligible to enter the competition. Entry blanks in the form of questionnaires have already been mailed to all Chapters. Upon completion of the questionnaire, it is forwarded to the Chapter's District Justice, and the Executive Office also forwards to each District Justice a report on the condition of each Chapter as reflected by the records of the Executive Office. Each District Justice then selects the one Chapter in his District which he deems to be the most outstanding. In general, his selection is based upon the following factors: percentage increase in membership; best social and/or professional program; most outstanding achievement by members of the Chapter, whether in extra-curricular activities or in scholarship; best Chapter-school relationships; highest percentagewise attendance at District Conclaves, and the most nearly perfect record of required report submissions.

Douglas Edmonds Feted By So. Calif. PADs

Douglas L. Edmonds, Past Supreme Justice of PAD, was feted March 22 when the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter staged its annual Spring Banquet in his honor upon his retirement from the California Supreme Court, where he has served for 20 years. Members of the bench and bar turned out in large numbers to pay their respects to this distinguished jurist.

Justice Edmonds is presently the United States representative to the International Law Commission of the United Nations. He is also a director of the American Judicature Society and Past Chairman of the Section of Judicial Administration of the American Bar Association, the highest post a jurist in this nation may attain in the American Bar Association.

The banquet proper was preceded by a social hour, which provided an excellent opportunity for the renewal of old friendships and the making of new ones.

Brother Oliver C. Hardy (So. Cal.), alumnus adviser for McKenna Chapter at UCLA, gave the invocation.

After an enjoyable steak dinner, Alumni Chapter Justice Arthur D. Guy, Jr. (So. Cal.) introduced a host of distinguished PADs. Among those present were Los Angeles County Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz (So. Cal.), Charles E. Beardsley (Stanford), Past President California State Bar; Rex Hardy (So. Carter Introduces Edmonds

Justice Edmonds was introduced to his brothers by United States District Judge James M. Carter. Brother Carter traced Justice Edmonds' career from his admission to the California Bar in 1910, private practice, appointment to the Municipal Court bench in 1926, elevation to the Superior Court bench later in the same year, and his appointment to the California Supreme Court in 1936. He has, Carter stated, served continuously on the State's highest court until his resignation January 1, 1956.

Justice Edmonds, who has won a place in the hearts of all PADs, told all assembled of his deep feeling for the fraternity and what it had done for him over the years. His talk dealt mainly with the work of the International Law Commission of the United Nations. He spoke of its importance to all nations and of the many knotty problems which it is studying. Brother Edmonds will again meet with the International Law Commission this summer in Geneva, Switzerland.

Following the Judge's inspirational address, Superior Court Judge Harold W. Schweitzer presented the report of the Nominating Committee for alumni officers for the coming year, and the following men were unanimously elected to office:

Bion B. Vogel, Justice; Albert Lee Stephens, 1st Vice Justice; Mark Mullin, 2nd Vice Justice; James H. Leeds, 3rd Vice Justice; Matthew S. "Sandy" Rae, Treasurer; William P. Haughton, Clerk; Carlos Stratton, Marshal; and delegate to the 1956 national convention, Matthew S. "Sandy" Rae.

PAD President of State Bank

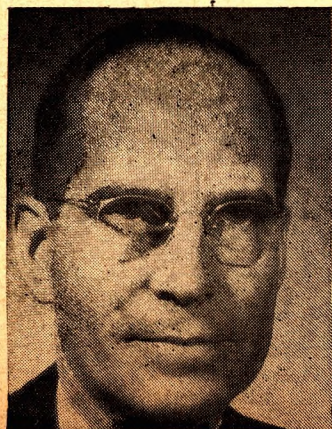

Brother Peter D. Giachini is the new President of the Maywood-Proviso State Bank.

Giachini, a member of Clay and Magruder Chapters, has been engaged in the private practice of law for over 25 years. Upon advising of his new post, he said: "I now enjoy being in the only business in the world where the government guarantees you a profit."

White Resigns As Houston U. Dean

Brother A. A. White recently tendered his resignation as Dean of the University of Houston School of Law to become general counsel for Texas Gas Co.

Dean White, a member of Taney Chapter at Southern Methodist University, joined the staff of the University of Houston as the first Dean of the College of Law in 1947. Under his guidance and leadership, the law school has grown from 55 students to 234. The University's College of Law has achieved distinction in nationwide educational circles.

Fourteen of the 17 times graduates of the school have taken the State Bar examination, 100 per cent have passed the first time. The Law School received American Bar Association approval in 1950.

In addition to heading the School of Law, Dean White remained active at the student level as a professor, conducting classes in contracts, torts, constitutional law, administrative law, trade regulation and labor law.

Brother White is a member of the American Law Institute, the American Arbitration Association and the Panel of Arbitrators of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Obiter Dictum, the publication of the University of Houston Bar Association, said of Dean White, upon announcing his resignation:

"Perhaps more than anything, Dean White will always be remembered for his strong sense of humaneness and his understanding of the problems of his fellow men. He approached a

District VI Chapters Hold Joint Initiation

Six District VI Chapters joined in a mass initiation held in Chicago on February 18, 1956.

The six Chapters participating were Fuller (Northwestern), Story (DePaul), Halleck (Valparaiso), Webster (Loyola-Chicago), Marshall (Chicago U.), and Blackstone (Chicago-Kent).

The group was honored to hear Justice Douglas L. Edmonds of the California Supreme Court as the principal speaker of the evening. Judge Edmonds was in Chicago attending meetings of the American Bar Association. Also in attendance was Supreme Treasurer Anthony A. DiGrazia. Supreme Vice Justice Elwyn Thomas, of the Florida Supreme Court, had expected to be present but due to illness in his family was unable to attend.

Seventy men were initiated in the joint ceremonies.

PAD Will Be Official Host at GOP National Convention

Brother Robert Fenton Craig, Professor of Business Administration at the University of Southern California, was recently elected President of the California Republican Assembly by 350 delegates from all over the State.

Craig, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he was a member of Reese Chapter, will have the task of coordinating all of the activities of California Republican candidates and cooperating with the Washington, D. C., Republican hierarchy. Even more than this, he will have the mammoth job of being official host and greeter at the Republican National Convention to be held this summer at San Francisco.

problem not only with ability but humility... and when a solution was reached, he could be counted on to stand firmly behind it with all the strength of his moral conviction."

PAD expresses its deep appreciation to Dean White for his outstanding contribution to the field of legal education and wishes him well in his new undertaking.

Speakers' Program Highlights Columbia Activities

Robert W. Livingston Chapter at Columbia has continued its enlightening and enjoyable program of speakers, athletic functions and social affairs.

PADs were honored by the presence of the Hon. Harold H. Burton, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, who spoke to the brothers on February 21st about the "Unsung Functions of the Supreme Court." He emphasized the continuity of membership and staff of the Court and pointed out the role of the clerks in assisting the Justices.

On February 29th, Dr. Margaret Mead of the American Museum of Natural History, who is also adjunct professor of anthropology at Columbia, addressed the Chapter on the relationship between law and anthropology. Her description of the field method of study and of the influence of our concepts of courts and law on the natives of New Guinea was most fascinating.

Mr. Norman Thomas joined with the Chapter at a luncheon meeting of March 7th and spoke informally about the role which he felt the Socialist Party should fulfill in the United States. He emphasized the differences between American democratic socialism and the socialist parties of other nations. His pragmatic approach to the problems of the farmer, of integration in the South, and of civil liberties was particularly informative.

The PAD basketball team is presently tied for first place in the Professional Division of the Intramural League. Cocktail parties and afternoon beer parties have not been neglected.

The chapter's program is continuing at full pace—all to the intellectual and social enjoyment of the brotherhood.

A $50,000 grant made by the Carnegie Corporation in 1953 has enabled PLI to furnish scholarships for prosecuting attorneys who otherwise would be unable to attend its Public Prosecutors' Course. This week-long summer program, designed to help prosecutors improve their professional skills, has been praised by J. Edgar Hoover and endorsed by the National Association of County and Prosecuting Attorneys. Lecturers in the course are public prosecutors of specialized experience. Panel discussions provide opportunity for questions from enrollees, numbering about 150 each summer, who find that the exchange of ideas with prosecuting attorneys from different areas gives them fresh viewpoints and new approaches to their problems.

Advanced-Level Programs Feature Saturday and Weekend Forums

Development of programs on an advanced level for lawyers

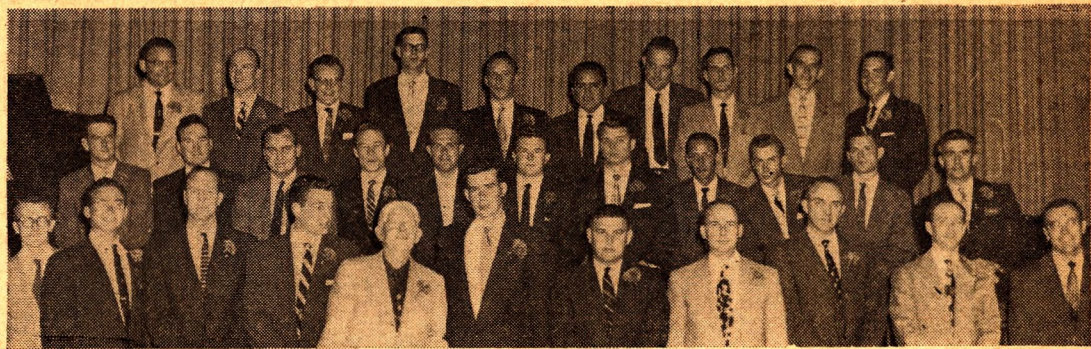

well up in their specialties has been perhaps the most significant of the Institute's recent activities. Outstanding among these programs is the Saturday or weekend forum, where typical problems in a particular area of practice are presented to large audiences by discussion panels composed of experts including government lawyers wherever appropriate.

In forums on aspects of commercial practice careful consideration is given to the business background, as well as the tax aspects and legal problems. PLI has long recognized the importance of tax matters; its courses on Federal Taxation have been particularly successful, and more than 10 years ago were sponsored on a national basis by the Section on Taxation of the American Bar Association. In recent years it has sought to furnish lawyers with a better understanding of the financial, economic and business aspects of their clients' problems.

Forums Give Opportunity for Public Service

The Institute's Saturday forums have sometimes rendered important public service apart from their usefulness to members of the Bar. A program on the 1954 Revenue Code was held while the bill was still pending in Congress, after having passed the House. Exchanges between government lawyers and private tax practitioners brought to light flaws in the House bill. Many revisions in the law as finally passed, stemmed from suggestions made by PLI panel members and audience questioners.

Similarly, at the October, 1955, forum on Negotiating Settlements in Personal Injury Actions, the 700 lawyers present were asked if they would like to have insurance company claim offices open evenings for settlement conferences. The enthusiastic response from attorneys too busy for daytime negotiations led the Maryland Casualty Company to open its offices one night a week. Eight other casualty insurance companies shortly followed suit. A large number of claims have been settled at these evening sessions, thus helping to reduce the volume of negligence cases which clog the court calendars.

Monographs Are Often Revised and Expanded

Mindful of the need to keep attorneys abreast of new developments in their specialties and related fields, PLI continually brings up to date its more than 70 monographs and adds new titles. The Institute's widely used series, Fundamentals of Federal Taxation, which analyzes federal income, estate and gift tax law and practice, has been revised in the light of the 1954 Revenue Code. The board of editors for the revision is headed by Professor Robert Anthoine of Columbia University Law School and includes Norris Darrell of Sullivan & Cromwell; Dean Erwin N. Griswold of Harvard Law School; Thomas N. Tarleau of Willkie, Owen, Farr, Gallagher & Walton; Weston Vernon, Jr., of Milbank, Tweed, Hope & Hadley; Dean William C. Warren of Columbia University Law School, and 21 other distinguished tax experts.

Other PLI monograph series deal with Trial Practice and General Practice. The price of the Institute's publications remains at its original modest level (usually $1.50 or $2 a copy), even though revision has doubled the number of pages in many of these handy, pocket-size books. Recent monographs include "Income Taxation of Estates and Trusts," "Secured Transactions," "Discovery Proceedings Under the Federal Rules," and "Federal Pre-Trial and Jury Trial Procedure." Among the lately revised titles are "Estate Planning," "Preparation and Trial of Tax Cases," "Corporate Practice," and "Understanding the Antitrust Laws."

PLI Program for Young Lawyer Includes Scholarships, Loans

The practising Law Institute still feels that one of its primary tasks is to help the young lawyer obtain practical knowledge during his first years at the Bar. For instance, Harold P. Seligson's well-known monograph, "Building a Practice" (revised in October, 1955), tells him how to organize an office and how to obtain and deal with clients. The General Practice evening course (20 two-hour sessions) provides training in the lawyer's approach, working methods and techniques in each of the major fields of practice. Courses in Trial Preparation and Trial Technique furnish a thorough grounding in the strategy and tactics of the courtroom.

PLI provides scholarships for worthy young lawyers wishing to enroll in appropriate courses. These, in the form of both outright gifts and long-term loans, are financed from the Robert P. Patterson Fund, established by the Institute in 1952 in honor of the late Secretary of War, who was its president at the time of his death.

Harold P. Seligson, the founder of the Institute and originator of many of the methods used in post-admission education, is still its Director and guiding spirit. PLI's trustees include

Service Theme of Tenn. U. Chapter

James Clark McReynolds Chapter at the University of Tennessee, in conformity with PAD's basic philosophy of service to the student, service to the profession and service to the lawyer, has instituted many progressive measures during the past few years.

Among these was the institution of a Speakers' Bureau, which is a program of having a well-known person in the field of law address the Chapter's weekly luncheons. Among the many prominent persons who have spoken before the Chapter recently are Senator Pope, former chairman of the board of TVA directors; Judge Winfield B. Hale, Tennessee Court of Appeals; Scott Alden, agent in charge of the Knoxville office of the FBI, and Mayor George R. Dempster of Knoxville.

The speakers' program has proven so successful that the other law fraternity on the campus has also adopted a similar program.

Motion Pictures Shown

Another step designed to aid law students has been the institution of the showing of motion pictures for the entire law school student body. At a recent showing of "Dedication to Justice," shown in cooperation with the American Bar Association, over 75 per cent of the entire student body was present, as well as faculty members of the law college.

Incoming students receive a special aid through the PAD loan library, which operates without any cost to the student. These books are made available by loans and gifts from students and alumni.

The active Chapter and the Knoxville Alumni Chapter sponsor the awarding of a scholarship for the PAD which proves the most meritorious in his scholastic achievements, contribution to the fraternity and contribution to the law school as a whole. The first recipient of this award was Lyle Reid, presently a senior.

Credit for the outstanding success of the Chapter's professional programs during the current year should go to its very capable officers Justice William Gilley, Vice Justice Lon Boyd, Clerk Jack Whitson, Treasurer Lolita H. Painter and Marshal Bob Buckaleu.

judges, law professors and outstanding lawyers, headed by President Nicholas Kelley of Kelley, Drye, Newhall & Maginnes; Board Chairman Arthur A. Ballantine of Dewey, Ballantine, Bushby, Palmer & Wood; Vice-President James A. Fowler, Jr., of Cahill, Gordon, Reindel & Ohl; Treasurer Alfred McCormack of Cravath, Swaine & Moore; and Secretary Ralph Montgomery Arkush. The offices of the Institute, which is chartered by the State of New York as a non-profit educational institute, are at 20 Vesey Street, New York City.

The Practising Law Institute, like other organizations whose purpose is to extend continuing legal education, has had great success in what is still an experimental field. PLI constantly seeks new and better methods

Carter Addresses New Ford Chapter Initiates

The banquet rooms of the Old Dixie in Los Angeles were the scene of Ford Chapter's (Loyola University at Los Angeles) Annual Initiation banquet the evening of March 10. A pledge group of 34 emerged from the ceremonies as active members of PAD to join their brother actives and alumni in an evening of festivity.

A great honor to the group was the attendance of Brother Walter H. Cook, Professor of Law at Loyola, who chose this evening to celebrate his 50th year as a member of Phi Alpha Delta. Professor Cook was a charter member of Hay Chapter at Western Reserve. His presence at the initiation was particularly impressive to the new actives, and it spoke much about the spirit of their fraternity.

At the close of the ceremonies, the new actives, the brothers and the alumni rejoined wives and dates and proceeded to the banquet. This year marked the first time in Ford Chapter's history that ladies had been invited to the Initiation Banquet.

The M. C. task was ably handled by Bill Brown, who introduced several of the outstanding alumni: Professor John Ely (Loyola), Brothers Sandy Rae, (Duke), Fred Weitkamp (So. California) and Bob Clinnin (Loyola); also he paid tribute to Justice Ed Buckner and the hard-working officers of Ford.

The featured speaker was Judge James H. Carter (So. California) of the Federal District Court. Judge Carter spoke to the assemblage on the planning of a career in the legal field and the factors to be weighed in starting such plans. His sound and practical advice, beamed especially to the initiates, was supported by the knowledge of the Judge's own highly successful career, and it was gratefully taken. His Honor devoted a few moments of advice to the ladies on how to be a good attorney's wife. Mrs. Carter took this quite stoically.

Brother Brown, whose quips had liberally spiced the evening, closed briefly, and the official gathering ended. All agreed that it had been a successful and enjoyable night.

for the fulfillment of this purpose, as do the hundreds of lawyers who share their skill and knowledge as authors, lecturers and panel members. These men, whose efforts bring the Bar ever closer to a high level of extensive post-graduate education comparable to that of the medical profession, find their greatest encouragement in the fact that each year more lawyers attend programs like those conducted by PLI. Attorneys and the public have increasingly come to recognize the value of continuing education in raising the Bar's professional standards and insuring the better administration of justice. Public recognition and higher standards are both measures of the success of the Practising Law Institute and its kindred organizations, but such measures can satisfy these institutions only in the process of being surpassed.

American Bar Association Section

(PAD is pleased to dedicate this space to news of the activities of the American Bar Association. All material is written especially for The Reporter by the ABA's Public Relations Department.)

National Campaign Yields 30,000 New ABA Members

In the first three months of 1956 the American Bar Association has experienced by far the largest membership gain in its history. The Association's big national membership development program which began in February produced over 30,000 new members by the end of March. The campaign still is continuing in areas where pre-established goals had not yet been reached.

As of April 1 ABA membership stood at approximately 85,000, and the goal of the current campaign is 100,000 members by the time of the Association's annual meeting August 27-31 in Dallas, Texas.

The import of this sharp membership boost is underscored by the fact that in the last 20 years—since 1936—the American Bar Association has tripled in size.

Disciplinary Code, Social Security for Lawyer Approved by House

A new model code of disciplinary procedures for the legal profession, and a resolution favoring social security for self-employed lawyers, both were approved by the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association at the mid-year meeting in Chicago February 20-21.

The disciplinary code is the first such standard code of procedures to be developed for the legal profession. Its aim is to make professional discipline more prompt, certain and uniform. It was based upon a three-year study by a special committee under the chairmanship of Judge Orie L. Phillips of Denver, retired senior judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 10th circuit. It provides four forms of discipline: 1) public censure; 2) private censure; 3) indefinite suspension, and 4) disbarment. It is not intended to supplant existing codes which are considered adequate and effective, but is intended to be a model code for establishing machinery in states where none now exist, and for strengthening existing codes. The model code is to be transmitted to the highest court in each state, which court exercises disciplinary authority.

Approval of social security for lawyers represented a departure from previous policy of the ABA, as determined by the House of Delegates. A year ago the House approved social security for lawyers on a voluntary, or elective basis only. The action this year favored amendment of the Social Security act on a mandatory basis, if the voluntary plan is not obtainable in Congress. A mandatory coverage bill has been passed by the House and is pending as this is written before the Senate Finance Committee of which Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia is chairman.

Hartford and Spokane Hosts To ABA Regional Meetings

Each year the American Bar Association holds two or more Regional Meetings, in addition to the Annual Meeting, to enable more lawyers to participate in the Association's affairs. The first Regional Meeting of 1956 is being held April 15-18 in Hartford, Conn., for lawyers of the New England states. Emphasis of the meeting will be on workshop sessions devoted to professional subjects of current interest. A second Regional Meeting, for lawyers of the Pacific Northwest, will be held May 31 to June 2 in Spokane, Wash. The Regional Meetings are open to all lawyers, whether or not they are members of ABA. Interested members of the profession may obtain full details about the Spokane meeting by writing to: Dean Smithmoore P. Myers, Gonzaga Law School, East 502 Boone Avenue, Spokane, Washington.

The final Regional Meeting of 1956 will be held in Baltimore, Maryland, October 10 to 13.

Wide Interest in 1957 ABA Meeting in London

Next year the American Bar Association annual meeting will be a split between New York and London. The New York phase will be held the week of July 7, 1957, and the London phase will be July 24 to 30. This is the first time since 1924 that the ABA has gone outside the United States for part of its yearly convention. That meeting also was in London.

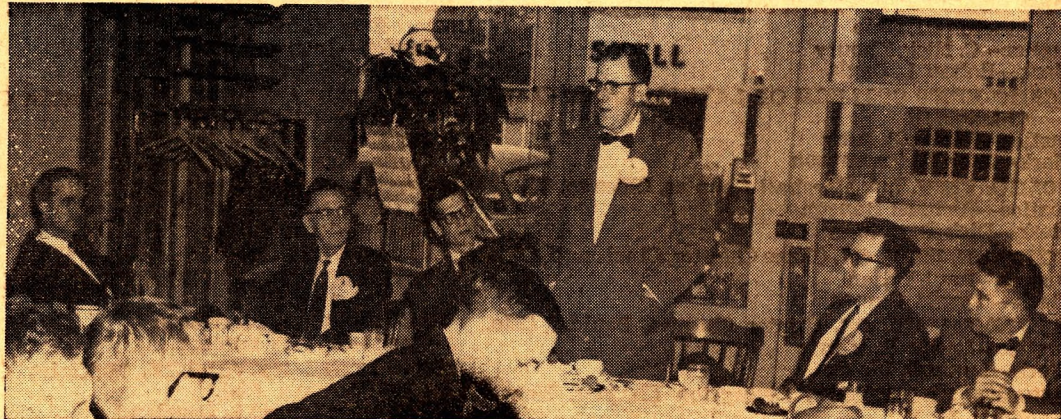

Great interest in the London meeting has been evidenced by Association members. Hundreds already have applied for reservations. Members desiring to register must do so before July 1 of this year through the Reservation Dept., American Bar Association, 1155 East 60th Street, Chicago 37. Because of the limitation on accommodations in London, an ABA member may be accompanied only by his or her spouse.

Bar Foundation Studying Court Congestion Problem

The American Bar Foundation, a non-profit agency devoted to legal research with headquarters in the American Bar Center in Chicago, has begun a prelimi-ary study of calendar congestion in U.S. courts with a view to determining whether a major research project should be devoted to the subject.

At the present time the Foundation is assembling facts about prior research conducted by state or local bar associations, law schools, or other agencies. On the basis of these data the Foundation's Research Committee, under the chairmanship of Brother Albert J. Harno (Yale) of the University of Illinois College of Law, will determine whether a research study on a national scale should be undertaken. Librarian John C. Leary of the Cromwell Library, American Bar Foundation, 1155 East 60th Street, Chicago 37, has issued an appeal for copies of all existing reports having to do with the extent of court congestion and remedies proposed.

$300,000 Ford Grant To Promote Legal Aid

A grant of $300,000 to promote legal aid in the United States in the next three years has been announced by the Ford Foundation. The grant was announced by Orison S. Marden, New York, president of the National Legal Aid Association. The NLAA recently transferred its national headquarters from Rochester, N.Y., to the American Bar Center in Chicago.

Look for PAD Reception at ABA

The annual American Bar Association convention will be held this year in Dallas, Texas, in the latter part of August. As usual, PAD will sponsor its customary reception for all members of the fraternity attending. Be sure to look for the time and place of this reception in your official American Bar Association program. This is an excellent opportunity to renew old friendships and make new ones.

In conjunction with the annual ABA meeting will be the 1956 meeting of the Junior Bar Conference. As usual, PADs are active in this function. The Dallas Junior Bar Conference officers have been hard at work making preparations for their role as "summer hosts." Among those making preparations are Dallas J. B. President Timothy Kelley (Yale) and Treasurer Charles W. Hall (SMU).

Cumberland University Site Of District V Conclave

The annual District Conclave for District V, composed of the six active and two alumni Chapters in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee, was held on Saturday, April 17, 1956, at Cumberland University School of Law, in Lebanon, Tennessee. The meeting, hosted by Hull Chapter, was well attended by representatives of all Chapters in the District with the exception of Alabama and Tulane.

The morning session was presided over by District Justice T. Julian Skinner, Jr., of Birmingham, Alabama, and was devoted largely to Chapter reports and discussions of fraternity projects. Reporting for their respective Chapters were Justice Dennis C. Wright, Hull Chapter, Cumberland University; Justice Otis Johnson, Lamar Chapter, University of Mississippi; William Fortas, Lurton Chapter, Vanderbilt University, and Lucien Dale, McReynolds Chapter, University of Tennessee. It was quite apparent that all of the active Chapters in the District are in reasonably good condition when all factors are considered, and that some are extremely active and in excellent condition.

The Student District Justice Michael D. Earney (Cumberland), welcomed the Chapters to the Conclave, as did Cumberland Law School Dean Grissom H. Walker. The Student District Clerk, William Vol Jones, Jr., took the minutes of the Conclave.

Jackson Address

The Conclave was honored by the attendance of Supreme Justice Robert D. Jackson, of Des Moines, Iowa. At the noon luncheon, Justice Jackson delivered an inspiring address on "The Opportunities Available to the Beginning Young Lawyer."

The afternoon session saw a great deal of official business transacted. Matters pertaining to Chapter administration were discussed, District By-Laws were formally adopted, and the University of Tennessee was chosen as the site for the 1957 District Conclave, with McReynolds Chapter at the University of Tennessee as host, assisted by the Knoxville Alumni Chapter. New Student District Officers elected by acclamation were J. R. Dodson, Justice (Tennessee); Edward G. Bennett, Clerk (Tennessee); Mike Haas, First Vice Justice (Mississippi); Harry W. Camp, Second Vice Justice (Vanderbilt); Third Vice Justice (to be selected by Alabama's Chapter Justice);

Treasurer, William Vol Jones, Jr. (Cumberland); Marshal (to be selected by the Tulane Chapter Justice).

The Conclave held this year in Lebanon was deemed to be one of the most successful ever held in the District.
