Chicago Attorney New District VI Justice

Well known Chicago attorney, Robert J. Gorman, has recently been appointed Justice of District VI by Supreme Justice Elwyn Thomas. Gorman takes the reins over from Hilmond O. Vogel, patent attorney with International Harvester.

When Brother Gorman was requested to furnish a detailed autobiography for The Reporter, he responded with a letter which was so full of humor and wit that it is reprinted herewith:

"Because you have Martindale-Hubbell available, I will confess I was born in 1915. At the time I was so surprised I didn't utter a word for a year.

"My undergraduate work was at Northwestern University. In 1940 I received my L.L.B. at Chicago Kent College of Law. Of course I was an active PAD at law school and during my last year was Justice of Blackstone Chapter. It was a blind date at a PAD affair that introduced me to my charming spouse.

"Upon passing the bar in 1940 I at once commenced the general practice for myself. My first six months in practice I netted an average of $6.00 per week. Of course I was living at home, but I remember wishing I could push it up to $10.00 per week so I would be self-supporting in spending money.

"After a year and a half of practicing law World War II intervened, and I was drafted. That evening I went home and turned on the gas—and cooked a cup of coffee.

"Being a true PAD, however, I adjusted after a quick highball, and went on to interesting assignments in Washington, D. C., and on the Special and General Staffs of Eisenhower's Headquarters in London, Paris, the beaches of Normandy, etc.

"The War over I commenced again my law practice in which I indulge to this day. My confidence in the public's perspicacity on election day has been slightly undermined by having run for Congress and the judiciary unsuccessfully. Last July I acquired a slight measure of renown by being written up in the Saturday Evening Post as the attorney who helped free Roy Eaton, a prisoner who served sixteen years for a crime he did not commit.

"As a result of my marital venture, I have acquired three little Gormans. Another hobby is a

Elwyn Thomas Assumes PAD's Top Office

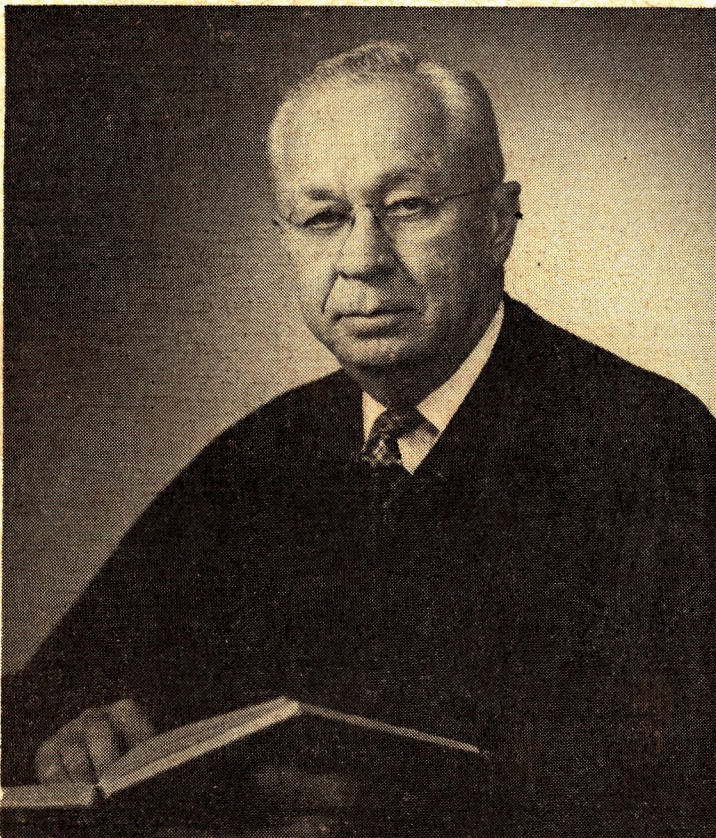

On Saturday, June 23, the delegates to the 31st Biennial Convention of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity elected, by unanimous vote, the Honorable Elwyn Thomas as the man to guide the destinies of PAD for the next two years. Judge Thomas is a Justice of the Florida Supreme Court, a former Chief Justice of that Court, and is recognized as one of our country's most distinguished and able jurists.

Since his entry into the national picture of the fraternity three years ago as Justice of District X, Justice Thomas has won the love and affection of the fraternity and has rapidly ascended to the highest post which PAD offers.

Our new Supreme Justice was born on the Indian River at An-kona, Florida, July 5, 1894. He received his LL.B. from Stetson University and became a member of Brewer Chapter while there. In 1951, he was awarded an LL.D. from his alma mater.

During 1915 and 1916, he practiced law at DeLand, Florida, with Howard Stewart and David Scholtz, who was the first Jus-ice of Brewer Chapter and later a Governor of Florida. Thereafter, Thomas served in various government positions and was appointed Judge of the 21st Judicial District in 1925. He served continuously without opposition as Judge of the 21st Judicial District and Senior Judge of the 9th Judicial District, with headquarters at Ft. Pierce, until 1938, when he was elected to the Supreme Court of Florida. He was re-elected in 1944 and 1950, and in 1956 ran unopposed.

The Governor of Florida in 1953 appointed Judge Thomas as the first Chairman of the Judicial Council of Florida. He was reappointed this year for another three year term.

He is a former President of the Ft. Pierce Chamber of Commerce and of the Tallahassee Rotary Club.

The American Bar Association recognized his distinguished record and his capabilities at its 1956 convention, when it elected him Chairman of the Section of Judicial Administration. This post is the highest which any jurist can attain in the American Bar Association.

Our new Supreme Justice has a lovely wife, Eva, who is already well known to many PADs, and two daughters, Mrs. Walter M. Meginnis and Pamela Thomas.

Outstanding Board Elected

In addition to Judge Thomas, the convention elected the following men to serve until the 1958 convention:

Supreme Vice Justice

John L. Griffith, of Denver, Colorado, was elected Supreme Vice Justice. He has been a practicing attorney in Denver for some 30 years. A Past Potentate of the El Jabel Temple of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, he is also a Past President of the Council of Churches of Colorado. Brother Griffith is well known to all PADs, as he has previously served two years on the Supreme Executive Board as Second Supreme Vice Justice and was for many years Justice of District IV.

Second Supreme Vice Justice

Newly elected Second Supreme Vice Justice is Anthony A. DiGrazia, of Chicago, Illinois. "Tony," as he is known to PADs throughout the country, was first elected to the Supreme Executive Board in 1952 as Supreme Marshal, and has just completed a two year term as Supreme Treasurer. Prior to that time he was Justice of District VI. A practicing attorney in Chicago, he is a member of Story Chapter at DePaul University, where he held the office of Justice. He is

Thomas Heads ABA Jurists; Clark First Vice Chairman

Our newly elected Supreme Justice, the Honorable Elwyn Thomas, has had further honors bestowed upon him by his election to the office of Chairman of the Section on Judicial Administration of the American Bar Association at the ABA's National Convention recently held in Dallas, Texas. This position is the highest which any jurist may attain in the American Bar Association.

Serving with Judge Thomas is another well known PAD, the Honorable Tom C. Clark, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, who was elected First Vice Chairman. Brother Clark, a member of Taney Chapter at Southern Methodist University, was formerly Attorney General for the United States. His affiliations include National Press Club, Masonic also a Past Justice of the Chicago Alumni Chapter.

Supreme Secretary

Re-elected for a third term as Supreme Secretary is Brother Frank E. Gray, of Beverly Hills, California. Frank served as Executive Secretary of the fraternity from 1948 until 1952 when he was elected Supreme Secretary by the Golden Anniversary Convention. A graduate of Loyola University Law School in Los Angeles, he was Justice of Ford Chapter and is a Past Justice of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter. He is engaged in private practice and his partner is PAD Arthur D. Guy, Jr., also a Past Justice of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter and a Past Justice of Ross Chapter at the University of Southern California.

Supreme Treasurer

The new Supreme Treasurer of the fraternity is Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Assistant Dean of Temple University School of Law. Dr. Magaw has been filling the post of Justice of District XI for the past two years, and has done a magnificent job in that District.

He has been a Professor of Law at Temple University since 1933. He is so highly thought of

MESSAGE FROM THE SUPREME JUSTICE

Hello PADs, wherever you are.

The Cleveland convention has taken its place in history with the 30 which preceded it, but the happy memory of the fine social and fraternal contacts lingers.

To those who were delegates from active chapters, the experience must have been a delight for there was doubtless about it the charm and excitement of adventure, an excursion into a new field, yet a field so close to the scholastic activities that any apprehension growing out of adventure was immediately dissipated, leaving, after the distillation, only the fun gained from the lure of the "side shows" the innumerable informal gatherings, and the immense satisfaction that came from the serious, sincere, transaction of the fraternity's business in the "main tent," where the plenary sessions of the convention were held.

It is probably not extravagant to say that the whole affair was a sort of "booster shot" both for those who were attending for the first time and those who were inclined to make comparisons between this convention and others of bygone years.

To me as a member of the latter class, the reaction was extremely gratifying. Long has the fraternity encouraged the activities of law schools intended, and bound, better to prepare the prospective lawyer for the effective presentation of his clients' causes, and encouraged our members to participate generally in debate and particularly in proceedings in moot court.

For some time there has been sentiment amongst judges that more opportunity should be given for training in the art of advocacy, the exposition of a case with conciseness, thoroughness, intelligence, and composure. Anyone who witnessed the debates in the convention, especially during the consideration of a proposed amendment to the constitution, must have noted with much satisfaction the effect upon members of the fraternity of these programs which are designed not only to encourage and develop, but to polish advocacy and must have marveled at the fluency and ability, as well as the earnestness of the speakers.

These fine qualities were noted and appreciated by at least two men who had spent a total of about forty years listening to the arguments of lawyers of long and varied experience.

The orderly transaction of the fraternity's business offered, at once, further opportunity for development of forensic ability and a demonstration of excellent training already received.

I came away with the distinct impression that programs of great moment were being presented in the law schools whence my brother PADs came and that they had not failed to participate.

Fraternally yours,
Elwyn Thomas

Lamar Chapter Garners Top National Honors

Lamar Chapter, at the University of Mississippi, was selected as the Most Outstanding PAD Chapter for the school year 1955-1956 by the Supreme Executive Board during the 1956 convention in Cleveland. Presentation of the beautiful plaque which is awarded annually was made at the convention banquet on the evening of June 23.

Judge Hamley Named to U. S. Circuit Court

Chief Justice Frederick G. Hamley of the Washington State Supreme Court, was named by President Eisenhower last May to be a Judge for the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The Court, which sits in San Francisco, covers a number of western states and also Alaska and Guam. Brother Hamley, a member of Dunbar Chapter at the University of Washington, has long been a very active and enthusiastic PAD. His nomination for the federal bench came as no surprise, as it had been expected for several months. He was appointed to Washington state's highest Court in 1949 by PAD Governor Arthur B. Langlie. Subsequently he was elected for a six year term in 1950, and has been serving as Chief Justice since January of this year.

FREDERICK G. HAMLEY

The careers of both Langlie and Hamley have been closely related for more than 20 years. The two were elected to the Seattle City Council in 1935. During Langlie's days as Councilman and Mayor, Hamley held several Seattle city posts.

When Langlie first won the governorship in 1940, Hamley went to Olympia and served in a number of State positions between 1941 and 1943. In 1943, Hamley moved to Washington, D. C. as Assistant General Solicitor for the National Association of Railroads and there he remained until his appointment in 1949 to the Washington Supreme Court.

The Reporter expresses its congratulations to Brother Hamley, who has brought further honor upon himself and to PAD.

Kansas Alumni Breakfast at State Bar

Kansas PADs enjoyed a fraternal breakfast on Saturday, May 12, during the annual meeting of the Bar Association of the State of Kansas. 38 members were present to greet one another and renew friendships.

The record of achievements which has been compiled by the Chapter is truly one for other Chapters to look to. Out of a total law school enrollment of 99, 41 were members of PAD. Phi Delta Phi, the only other law fraternity at the University of Mississippi, had only 14 members.

Chapter members held virtually all student body offices, including the President, Vice-President and Secretary. In addition, PADs filled the offices of President and Vice-President of the first, second and third-year classes, and that of Secretary and Treasurer of the first and second year. Out of 19 persons on the Law Review, nine were PADs. The Chairman of the Moot Court Board was also a member of the Chapter. Probably the highlight of Lamar's year was the honorary initiation of Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi, on May 3.

Professional Programs

Among the multitude of professional projects and programs which the Chapter sponsored are an orientation program for entering students, a PAD Lending Library, an Effective Speaking Program, a Moot Court award, a Guest Speakers' Program, and assisting in the preparation of a Law School Directory.

The Chapter's social program was also a very full and complete one during the year.

Lamar Chapter is located in District V, of which T. Julian Skinner is District Justice.

District winners were as follows: District I, tie between Kent Chapter (University of Idaho) and Williams Chapter (University of Oregon); District II, Holmes Chapter (Stanford University); District III, Ross Chapter (University of Southern California); District IV, no chapter selected; District V, Lamar Chapter (University of Mississippi); District VI, Campbell Chapter (University of Michigan); District VII, Hammond Chapter (University of Iowa); District VIII, Tom C. Clark Chapter (University of Texas); District IX, McKiKneley Chapter (University of Ohio); District X, Fletcher Chapter (University of Florida); District XI, Livingston Chapter (Columbia University); District XII, Henry Chapter (University of Richmond).

Annual Chicago Judges Night Held

On Tuesday, September 25, the Chicago Alumni Chapter honored the PAD members of the judiciary who are in the Chicago area. Held in Charter Hall of the Bar Association, the meeting was replete with cocktails and fraternal spirit.

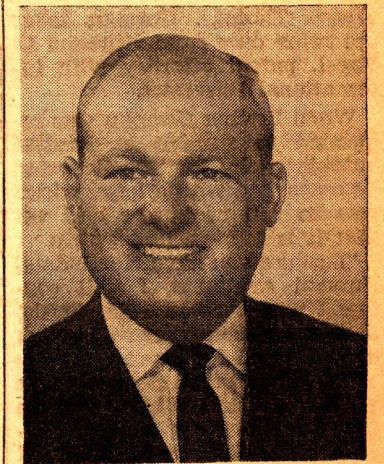

Details of the meeting were taken care by Justice Bob Mackey and Executive Secretary D. Arthur O'Connell.

W. C. Farrer Elected JBC Chairman

Brother William C. Farrer, of Los Angeles, Calif., has been bestowed the top honor of the Junior Bar Conference of the American Bar Association in his election as its chairman at the recent National Convention held in Dallas, Texas.

Farrer, a member of Holmes and Rutledge Chapters at Stanford and Duke Universities, was formerly National Secretary of the Junior Bar Conference and editor of its Newsletter during 1956. He was Campaign Manager for the Conference during the special membership drive, also in 1956. He has held numerous other positions in the Conference.

In a special interview with the editor of the Reporter, Brother Farrer outlined his plans for the Junior Bar Conference during the next year, as follows:

1. Full support by the 25,000 members of the Jenkins-Keogh Bills or similar legislation designed to extend retirement benefits available to corporate executives and corporate employees to the self-employed, this to be done through the organization of bi-partisan committees in each senatorial and congressional district.
2. Increased cooperation between state and local Junior Bar groups in order that the young lawyer may develop a more effective voice in the profession.
3. Increase the effectiveness of committee work, particularly in the fields of public relations and unauthorized practice of the law.

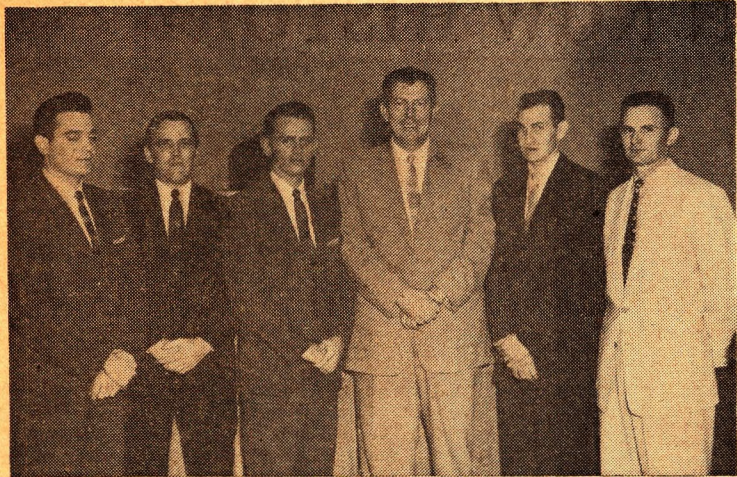

CHARLES E. WHITTAKER

Ike Selects Whittaker for U. S. Circuit Court

President Eisenhower last May appointed Brother Charles E. Whittaker to the United States Court of Appeals for the 8th Circuit. This appointment indicates the capabilities of Brother Whittaker, who, while President of the Missouri State Bar Association in 1954, was nominated to the Federal District Court for the Western District of Missouri.

Prior to that time, Judge Whittaker was engaged in general practice with the firm of Wadson, Ess, Whittaker, Marshall and Anggas.

He is a graduate of the University of Kansas City, where he was a member of Benton Chapter.

Miss. Governor Initiated

Governor J. P. Coleman, of the State of Mississippi, was formally initiated into Lamar Chapter at the University of Mississippi, as an honorary member, on May 3, 1956. The entire day was Governor's Day at the University of Mississippi and the initiation of the Governor by Lamar Chapter was the highlight of the day.

Attending the initiation, in addition to Chapter members, were: Thomas Ethridge (Miss. U.), U.S. District Attorney for the Northern District of Mississippi; Guy N. Rodgers (Miss. U.), Ass't. District Attorney for the Northern District of Mississippi; Bramlett Roberts (Miss. U.), Lafayette County Attorney and Professor of Law, and Ormar D. Craig (Miss. U.), Oxford attorney.

Lamar Chapter is the Chapter which was selected as the most outstanding from throughout the country for the year 1955-1956.

MILTON W. HARDY

Hardy New President Of Hi-12 International

Brother Milton W. Hardy, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, was elected International President of Hi-Twelve International at its 1956 convention held recently in San Francisco. Membership in Hi-Twelve International is limited to Masons and the organization is devoted to living Masonic principles.

Hardy has long been an active member of PAD. He was Justice of his active Chapter, Harlan Chapter at the University of Oklahoma, in 1932-3, and is presently faculty advisor of Hardy Chapter at Tulsa University. His father, Summers Hardy, was also a PAD and it was for him that Hardy Chapter was named. Summers Hardy was an early International President of Hi-Twelve, holding office in 1931-2.

Membership in Hi-Twelve International is in the United States, Canada, the Philippine Islands and Hawaii. There are some 225 Clubs with a total membership of 15,000. One of the most noteworthy projects of Hi-Twelve is the Wolcott International Foundation, which provides a fellowship for anyone under the age of 29 who desires to enter foreign service. The pur-

Dunbar Chapter Visits State Offices

Last March 19th members, pledges and guests of the Dunbar Chapter, Phi Alpha Delta at the University of Washington Law School, Seattle visited the Washington State Supreme Court and a number of the offices of the executive branch of the state government at Olympia, Washington. The group, accompanied by Dean George Neff Stevens and Arval Morris of the law school faculty made the sixty-five mile trip in private automobiles. Liem E. Tuai, past justice of Dunbar Chapter, was the chairman of the trip.

P.A.D. alumnus Charles Z. Smith, law clerk for Judge Matthew F. Hill, made the arrangements for the visit to the supreme court. During the morning hours the group was split into two sections; one attended the session of the court while the other made a tour of the physical facilities of the court. Chief Justice Frederick G. Hamley, a P.A.D. alumnus greeted the visiting group upon the opening of the court's session. At a later luncheon attended by all of the judges of the court, four of whom are P.A.D. alumni, Judge Hill, a P.A.D. alumnus spoke on the early development of the University of Washington.

Following the luncheon the group made a visit to some of the offices of the executive branch of the state government as arranged by Dan P. Danilov. The group's first stop was at the Attorney-General's office, where a discussion was presented regarding the functions and duties of that office. Then a visit was made to the governor's office. Unfortunately, PAD alumni Governor Arthur B. Langlie and PAD Attorney-General Don Eastvold were not in the city and could not meet with the group, but they conveyed their deepest regrets and made arrangements whereby their offices were opened to the visitors. The governor's office arranged for a guided tour of the capitol building. During the tour a visit was made to Secretary of State Earl Coe's office. Mr. Coe was kind enough to discuss the operations of his office and to exhibit to the group the original Washington State Constitution and other historically significant documents. A visit to the state legislature completed the visit, ending a very busy and enjoyable day.

pose of the Foundation is to have and emphasize foreign relations by providing democratic ideals in foreign service. This particular fellowship is at George Washington University in Washington, D. C.

Brother Hardy is presently engaged in private practice and was formerly with the Tulsa City Attorney's Office. Among his many affiliations are Pi Kappa Alpha, Delta Nu Alpha, Alpha Rho Tau, 32nd Degree Masons, Optimists, Sons of the American Revolution, and he is a life member in the Knights of Pythias.

Timberlake Chapter Law School Moves

Timberlake Chapter, which for many years has been located at Wake Forest College of Law in North Carolina, recently underwent a drastic change when the entire College moved to the city of Winston-Salem, No. Carolina.

The change of location was brought about when the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation agreed to pay to Wake Forest College annually and in perpetuity the yearly income from the Foundation, up to the sum of $350,000, upon condition that friends of the college would provide the necessary buildings to house the College on a new campus in or near the city of Winston-Salem. Thereafter, the College administration and friends went to work and acquired a new campus site and an entire physical plant.

Today the entire College enjoys a beautiful new site and the law school a very functional building. Timberlake Chapter is housed in one of the men's dormitory sections where they have a more than adequate Chapter room, library and lounge, in addition to having rooming facilities for 20 men.

Dean Storey Receives Highest ABA Award

Brother Robert G. Storey, Dean of Southern Methodist School of Law, has been awarded the American Bar Association medal, highest award the Association gives, for "conspicuous and unselfish service to the cause of American jurisprudence."

Dean Storey is a former President of the Association and has given untiringly of his time and efforts to the advancement of the principles and ideals of the American Bar Association.

ABA Meets in Dallas

The annual PAD reception at the American Bar Association convention was held Thursday, August 30, 1956, in the Embassy West Room of the Statler Hilton. In Dallas, Texas, site of the 1956 ABA convention. As usual, PADs flocked to meet and greet Brothers from across the country and to enjoy relaxation from the preceding days of hard work.

Noteworthy among those present were Supreme Justice Elwyn Thomas, of the Florida Supreme Court; Past Supreme Justice Douglas L. Edmonds; Robert G. Storey, Dean of Southern Methodist University; Stephen R. Curtis, Dean of Ohio Northern Law School; Robert J. Drinan, S. J., Dean of Boston College Law School; Ray Hutchens, Dean of Chase College of Law; and Leslie Jackson, former Dean of Baylor University Law School.

The pictures found elsewhere on this page are the best evidence of the good time which was had by all.

PAD, incidentally, was the first law fraternity to hold such a reception and most of the other law fraternities have now followed suit.

PAD Recording Acclaimed

The recording of the Phi Alpha Delta official song, which was released this summer on an RCA-Victor LP record, has received great acclaim throughout the country, not only by members of the fraternity, but by non-members as well. The rendition of the song is truly inspirational and experts in the recording field have acknowledged its technical excellence as being one of the "best ever."

The quartet which recorded the song and other favorites is the Cities Service Quartet. Delegates to the 1956 National Convention were privileged to have the quartet attend in person and present numerous selections at the Convention luncheon, including the PAD song. So fine were their renditions that they were called back for encore after encore.

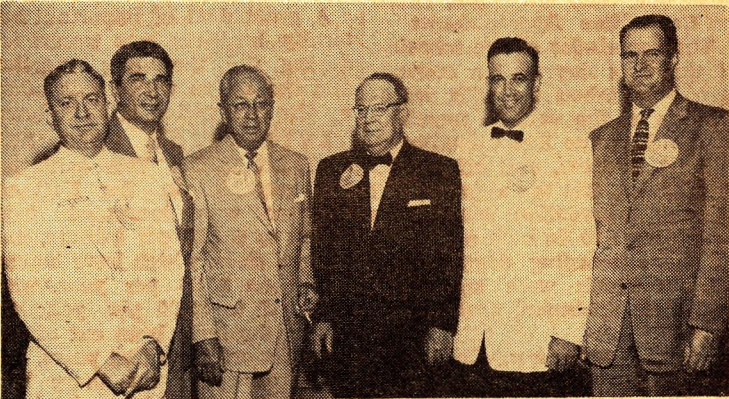

Your editor urges that all who have not yet done so obtain a copy of this fine recording so as to have a copy of the fraternity song permanently in your library. The record, which contains, in addition to the PAD SONG, "I've Been Working on the Railroad," "Honey, Dat I Love so Well," "There Is a Tavern in the Town," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "The Wiffenpoof Song," "Down By the Old Mill Stream" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic," can be obtained for the nominal cost of $5.00 by writing

Brother Cleveland R. Cross, lawyer, civic leader and educator in Cleveland, Ohio, since early in the century, died Monday April 16, in Berea Community Hospital. Brother Cross was one of the founders of Hay Chapters at Western Reserve University and was one of the guiding lights of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter.

He practiced law from 1907 to 1951, with various firms in the Cleveland area. In addition to his membership in Phi Alpha Delta, Brother Cross was a member of the Masonic order, the Union and Mayfield Clubs. He was also a Trustee of Oberlin College, Hathaway-Brown School, and the Cleveland Museum of Natural History.

31ST BIENNIAL CONVENTION NOW HISTORY

Cleveland Proves Outstanding Host

The 31st Biennial Convention of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity convened in the Ohio Room of the Statler Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio, at 9:45 a.m. on June 21, 1956, with Supreme Justice Robert D. Jackson, from Cole Chapter, Des Moines, Iowa, presiding.

A magnanimous and warm welcome to the City of Cleveland was extended by many of that city's dignitaries. Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, by written proclamation, declared the day as "Phi Alpha Delta Day" and acknowledged the outstanding contributions which the fraternity has made to the legal profession during the period of its existence. The Acting Mayor and Law Director of the City of Cleveland, Ralph Locher, extended a personal welcome, as did Brother J. Hall Kellogg, a Past President of the Cleveland Bar Association and member of Hay Chapter, and Brother Keith Lawrence, on behalf of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter.

Founder Present

One of the truly inspirational moments of the entire convention came when our beloved Brother Sidney B. Meyer, one of the fraternity's two living founders, was escorted to the rostrum. Brother Meyer and his charming wife were in attendance for the entire three-day convention.

Also extending remarks of welcome was the General Convention Chairman, Jimmy Broz, District IX Justice, who had prepared such a wonderful program of entertainment for the delegates, their wives and dates.

Committee Appointments

The remainder of the morning of the first day of the convention was taken up with introduction of the various members of the Supreme Executive Board, District Justices, and other PAD dignitaries, and the appointment of the convention committees which were to do such a fine job in the succeeding days. Committees which were appointed, and their chairmen, were as follows:

Alumni Relations, Chairman, Bill Jacobs (Chicago Alumni), Dr. Elder S. Magaw (District XI Justice), adviser; Audit and Finance, Chairman, Dee Brown Walker (Dallas Alumni), Charles Tom Henderson (District X Justice), adviser; Awards and Scholarships, Chairman, Vincent Cirillo (Magaw Alumni Chapter of Philadelphia), T. Julian Skinner (District V Justice), adviser; Constitution and By-Laws, Chairman, Sandy Rae (L. A. Alumni), Leo Baker (District VII Justice), and George Nickell (District I Justice), advisers; Credentials

Committee, Chairman, Fred Weitkamp (Executive Secretary); District Conclaves, Chairman, Bob Redding (Supreme Tribune), Henry Rohr (District III Justice), adviser; Projects Chairman, J. Westwood Smithers (Virginia Alumni), Hilmond Vogel (District VI Justice), adviser; Publications, Chairman, Charles DiGangi (New York Alumni), John Griffin (District II Justice), adviser; Resolutions, Chairman, Donald R. Moore (District XII Justice).

Convention Action

A great deal of important fraternity business was transacted during the three-day meeting and the action which was taken by the convention is as follows:

INITIATION FEES AND ALUMNI DUES: The initiation fee payable to the National Chapter was increased from $22.00 to $25.00 per initiate, and alumni dues, which have heretofore been $3.00 per year, were changed to $5.00 per year for those who have been out of law school more than five years, and $3.00 per year for those who have been out of law school five years or less.

PLACEMENT: The Supreme Executive Board was directed to appoint a committee to prepare a tentative outline of a sample brochure to be used for placement activities between the active senior members of the fraternity and the Alumni Chapters throughout the country. The thinking of the convention was that any graduating senior who is interested in placement would prepare a one- or two-page outline of his background and qualifications, together with a picture, and the National Fraternity would have these reproduced in some manner and a quantity would be sent to the nearest Alumni Chapter several months prior to the individual's graduation. The local Alumni Chapter would then mail these sheets to all of the fraternity members on its mailing list. These were only suggestions and it was left to the discretion of the committee appointed by the Supreme Executive Board as to the actual procedure to be adopted.

VOTING REQUIRED FOR PLEDGING: Heretofore, the Constitution has required a unanimous vote on persons to be pledged. The convention amended the Constitution to provide the unanimous vote shall be continued except that any active Chapter may, by a two-thirds majority of its active members, adopt a different procedure for election of pledges, provided, however, that no matter what procedure may be adopted, in no event shall any person be pledged if more than five per cent of the active members present vote against such pledging, nor shall any person be pledged if more than two of the active members present vote against such pledging, and provided, further, that no Chapter may do away with the right of the secret ballot.

VOTING REQUIRED FOR INITIATION: Heretofore, the Constitution has required a unanimous vote on pledges to be elected to membership. The convention amended the Constitution to provide that the unanimous vote shall be continued except that any active Chapter may, by a two-thirds majority of its active members, adopt a different procedure for election of members, provided, however, that no matter what procedure may be adopted in no event shall any person be elected to membership if more than five per cent of the active members present vote against such pledging, nor shall any person be elected to membership if more than two of the active members present vote against such election to membership, and provided, further, that no Chapter may do away with the right of the secret ballot.

ALUMNI RELATIONS: It was suggested that a senior card file be maintained by each active Chapter with the name, address and other pertinent information on each senior, indicating in which area of the country they will practice, and that a duplicate copy of that card be sent to the Clerk of the Alumni Chapter nearest the location where the individual desires to practice. It was felt that in this manner the individual would go right from his active Chapter into an Alumni Chapter without any intervening period of inactivity.

PUBLICATIONS: The following resolutions were adopted by the convention:

1. That the fraternity continue to publish the present tabloid form of The Reporter, the official publication.

2. That the form of the rushing booklet be continued and that on the next reprinting, the booklet be brought up to date and that the Executive Secretary consider possible rearrangement of the order of pictures contained in the booklet.

3. That there be no change in the make-up or composition of the Supplement to the PAD Professional Directory except that a page of instructions on the use of the Supplement shall be included.

4. That there be no change in the make-up or composition of the publication of the Constitution and By-Laws except that in

Convention Scratch Pad

(Since the 1950 National Convention, Matthew S. "Sandy" Rae, former National Field Representative of the fraternity, has written a special column for the Reporter on his impressions of each Convention. The following column is one of the best he has written yet and your editor knows that the delegates to the 1956 Convention will have many a chuckle when reading it.)

The program cover proclaimed it the "Thirty-First Biennial Convention" . . . PAD Brothers and their wives who attended called it "first-rate" . . . and the Cleveland Alumni Chapter as our gracious hosts received the acclaim of all . . . truly a memorable three days.

The usual early-birds flew in Tuesday evening . . . some to work on convention details . . . others to participate in the pre-convention reunions . . . and there was Jimmy Broz waiting to receive them . . . with open hospitality (liquid) . . . Strangest phenomenon of Cleveland . . . the bilious green color of the whiskey Jimmy was serving . . . seems the Statler water was causing the technicolor refreshments . . . learned in a hurry to take our sustenance over rocks.

Statler's pre-convention rate quotations very reasonable . . . discovered upon checking in that rooms matched the rates . . . small . . . John Griffin reported that his room had only three chairs . . . two in the bedroom . . . and the customary bathroom fixture . . . tried them all . . . found the one in the bathroom the most comfortable, despite lack of upholstery . . . Air-conditioning also almost non-existent . . . rooms so equipped given only to Alumni with low resistance . . . like Bob Jackson . . . And then there were the elevator operators . . . who says rugged individualism is dead . . . took Dee Brown Walker five round trips once to finally get to the floor he wanted . . . first time something like that ever happened to a Texan.

Cleveland proved to be an exciting city . . . all manner of things to see . . . Irma Haberstroh took the ladies to Halle Bros. for lunch on Thursday . . . and to General Electric's fabulous Nela Park on Friday . . . and Phil Battaglia and Jay Schulman took themselves to the burlesque shows down the block . . . Jimmy Broz tried to convince us that Cleveland is the only city in the world with no North . . . just East, West, and South . . . but John and Margaret Griffith tried going North anyhow . . . and found a delightful place to eat . . . just short of the point where their hats would have floated . . . Hank Rohr just had to try Rohr's Seafood House . . . the owner turned out to be a distant relative . . . maybe . . . and the lobster was excellent . . . And just about everybody went out to the ball game at Municipal Auditorium . . . where the Indians proceeded to wallopp the Senators . . . much to the dismay of Jay Chapter's Charles Menzemer and Myron Solter and Taft Chapter's Bob Matz and Bennett Feigenbaum.

Our Secretaries . . . Supreme and Executive . . . had more than their share of troubles just trying to get to Cleveland . . . Frank Gray thought he was coming by plane . . . found out he was on a mechanical grasshopper instead . . . kept calling us from every cow pasture between Los Angeles and Cleveland to announce he was being delayed another few hours . . . until we finally quit answering the phone . . . Fred Weitkamp had suitcases switched when debarking at Cleveland . . . learned after he reached the hotel that his . . . with all the Convention Reports . . . turned up 40 miles away.

Congratulations to Hay Chapter for the superb job it did in handling Convention details . . . and especially to James F. O'Day . . . who rounded up all of those lovely blind dates for the delegates . . . and filled all date requests to perfection . . . except one . . . George Nickell's date specifications . . . tall, blonde, 42, and lots of money . . . so we made him chairman of the Surplus Committee again . . . but Ira Smart moved in on his territory and kept all the girls dancing . . . Al Berardi's orchestra showed definite partiality to the Actives . . . Mexican Hat Dance . . . Change Partners . . . and we've never seen so many cute Bunnies Hopping . . . Dick Hamstead kept the wives in the dance . . . as Alumni sought the less strenuous diversions of the bar.

Convention fun opened with a bang . . . Chinese bang . . . at the gala reception by the Cleveland Alumni for delegates at The China Lane . . . the place was so packed that Vince Cirillo had to give up politicking . . . so many trays of food . . . with so many different varieties . . . that some of it finally got past Sandy Rae and the rest of us got to eat . . . George Nickell found a squeeze-box . . . and the singing continued until the management pried him loose from it in the wee small hours . . . Pat Griffin entertained the boys with her own version of the lyrics of many a tune . . . that isn't the way we learned them, Pat . . . and Hillie Vogel somehow brought the Irish to China for a while . . . while Leo Morley and Bob Hanna helped the hosts see to it that voices were kept well lubricated . . . and the delegates from our brand-new Chapters . . . Burton Signer and Bob Enoch of Hoffman Chapter . . . and Jackson Chapter's Jerold A. Bressman . . . met their Brothers from throughout the country for the first time.

Unplanned feature of the Convention . . . Eugene C. Smith and Sherwood M. Weiser became fathers . . . Congratulations!

'56 Convention

The next reprint there shall be included a Summary Table of Contents.

5. That the seal of the Professional Interfraternity Conference shall be included in the masthead of The Reporter.

PROGRAMS AND PROJECTS: The following resolutions were adopted by the convention:

3. That the fraternity continue making space available in The Reporter for American Bar Association news.

4. That the fraternity continue to assist in any way possible with the National Legal Aid Program.

5. That the Supreme Executive Board urge the various Alumni Chapters to consider holding a reception for newly admitted members of the Bar.

6. That the Supreme Executive Board take under advisement the desirability and feasibility of conducting a National Essay Contest.

7. That the Supreme Executive Board have reprinted and/or revised the booklet entitled Extra Curricular Activities and the Legal Fraternities, which was written by former National Field Representative Sandy Rae.

8. That insofar as feasible, committee appointments for each National Convention be made in advance of the convention so that the members thereof may have an opportunity to develop their thoughts with regard to their assignment.

Although not in the form of resolutions, the following recommendations were made to the convention:

1. That the National Fraternity urge the various alumni chapters to sponsor receptions at State Bar Association meetings.

2. That the active Chapters compile a list of members who are interested in aiding, assisting or observing practicing lawyers in the trial of cases, and after compiling such a list, furnish it to the lawyers in the locality, particularly to PAD alumni who are lawyers, so that those students may have an opportunity to derive benefit from observing, assisting or aiding in the trial of a case.

DISTRICT CONCLAVES: The following resolutions were adopted by the convention:

1. That the fraternity in convention assembled urges each District to hold an annual Conclave.

2. The Supreme Executive Board was directed to publish a Manual containing pertinent information relative to District Conclaves, which Manual shall be distributed to the District Justices and all active and alumni Chapters.

3. That the entire fund resulting from the $1.00 from each initiation fee which is under the discretion of the Supreme Executive Board shall be apportioned and allocated among all districts each year and that any monies remaining in the fund at the close of each two-year period commencing July 1, 1956, should revert to the general funds of the fraternity.

4. The Supreme Justice was directed to appoint a committee to study the functions of the district organizations and officers as they now exist, and their relationship to the National Fraternity and local chapters. This committee is to complete its study and submit its written report to the Supreme Executive Board by March 1, 1957, with a view to the adoption at the next biennial convention of such amendments to the National Constitution and By-Laws as may be deemed necessary.

Although not in the form of resolutions, the following recommendations were made to the convention:

1. That efforts be made each year to coordinate the scheduling of the annual Supreme Executive Board Meeting with the District Conclaves so as to permit attendance by the Supreme Officers at such conclaves during their journeys to and from such meeting. By the same token, the committee recommended that the respective Districts cooperate with the Supreme Executive Board in scheduling their conclaves.

2. All districts which have not done so should adopt appropriate District By-Laws and utilize the district officers to improve the effectiveness of the District Conclaves.

AUDIT AND FINANCE: The convention directed the Supreme Executive Board to pay the sum of $3,438.50 to the National Endowment Fund before the convening of the next biennial convention, which sum of $3,438.50 has been owing to the National Endowment Fund since 1933.

AWARDS AND SCHOLARSHIPS: The convention adopted the following resolutions:

1. With respect to the Most Outstanding PAD Chapter Competition, awards shall be made to the top three Chapters in the country in order of rank, and each District winner shall also receive an appropriate award.

2. Delinquency in filing any Chapter's entry in the Most Outstanding PAD Chapter Competition, whether by local chapter or District Justice, shall disqualify that Chapter from District or National Competition, respectively.

3. The Supreme Executive Board was directed to set up a committee to study the possibility of a Scholarship Program which might be put into effect in 1957 or 1958.

PERSONS ELIGIBLE FOR MEMBERSHIP: The convention changed the Constitution to provide that any male graduate or any male law instructor of any law school accredited by the American Bar Association or the Association of American Law Schools shall be eligible to become an active member of the fraternity. Heretofore, only individuals who were in attendance, law instructors or graduates of law schools where a Chapter of the Fraternity was established were eligible for membership.

FORFEITURE OF MEMBERSHIP: A new section was added to the By-Laws providing as follows:

"Any member, active, alumni or honorary, who may be disbarred by any state, federal or territorial Bar Association, shall automatically forfeit his membership in this fraternity."

Convention Entertainment

Some very outstanding entertainment was enjoyed by all the delegates and their wives. Thursday evening, the 21st, saw the China Lane Restaurant packed to the rafters with active and alumni members and their wives. The Cleveland Alumni Chapter was host for the evening and provided plenty of liquid refreshment and some very delicious Cantonese cuisine, as well as musical entertainment. Friday night, the Cleveland Alumni Chapter hosted everyone at a major league baseball game with the Cleveland Indians and the Washington Senators. Saturday evening saw the members enjoying a reception and banquet highlighted by a roving orchestra which played songs from each State in the Union.

The ladies were entertained during the three-day meeting by luncheons, fashion shows, and a trip to General Electric's Nela Park.

in the Philadelphia area that in 1953, when the Philadelphia Alumni Chapter was chartered, it elected to name itself the Elden S. Magaw Alumni Chapter of Philadelphia.

Supreme Historian

John W. Shuart, Executive Secretary of the Kansas State Bar Association, is the newly elected Supreme Historian. He has previously served one two year term as Supreme Marshall and served as Justice of District VII for a year and a half. He is a Past Justice of Benson Chapter at Washburn University School of Law and also a Past Justice of the Topeka Alumni Chapter. He is also presently serving a second term as Secretary-Treasurer of the National Conference of Bar Association Secretaries.

Supreme Marshal

The fraternity's new Supreme Marshal is popular Robert E. Redding of Silver Spring, Maryland. Bob served for several years as Justice of District XII and was one of the most outstanding District Justices the fraternity has ever known. At the 1954 convention in Des Moines, he was elected to the office of Associate Tribune. He is a member of Taft Chapter and is a Past Justice of the Washington Alumni Chapter. He is in private practice, specializing in tax and aviation matters.

Tribunes

Re-elected as Chief Tribune was Dee Brown Walker, of Dallas, Texas. Dee is a former Justice of District VIII and recently served as Chairman for the PAD reception at the American Bar convention this past August.

Serving with Dee are Henry C. "Hank" Rohr and James L. "Jimmy" Broz. Hank Rohr has been Justice of District III for many, many years and is a past Justice of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter. Jimmy is Justice of District IX and is a Past Justice of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter and was General Chairman for the entire 1956 convention.

preme Court (Hay), who spoke on "The Independence and Continuity of the United States Supreme Court." Accompanying Brother Burton were his charming wife and members of his family. Justice Burton took an active part in the affairs of the convention and attended Saturday's business session as well as the Convention banquet on Saturday evening. Acting as toastmaster for the banquet was Brother Frank P. Celeste, Mayor of Lakewood, Ohio, who kept all amused with his humorous anecdotes.

It can truly be said that all who attended the 1956 National Convention carried home with them many warm memories of new friendships made and a fraternal feeling that cannot be found elsewhere than in the bonds of Phi Alpha Delta.

PADs Breakfast at Washington State Bar

In accordance with tradition long established, PADs gathered at the annual meeting of the Washington State Bar Association for a breakfast meeting last August 4. Convening in the Evergreen Room of the Winthrop Hotel in Tacoma, Washington, were many brothers from throughout the State.

These meetings have been highlighted by the fact that there is no principal speaker, but rather, everyone who is present makes a short address. Thus, each is a featured speaker. In the past, this has greatly added to the conviviality and relaxation of the gathering.

LA Alumni Entertain California Brothers

More than 200 Brothers in Phi Alpha Delta from throughout the State of California, their wives and guests, gathered at the Los Angeles home of Judge Albert Lee Stephens, U. S. Circuit Court, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lee Stephens, Jr., on Thursday, September 20, 1956, for the traditional annual Statewide PAD Reception climaxing the California State Bar Convention activities.

In keeping with its custom of many years' standing, PAD maintained a registration and information desk at the Ambassador Hotel, Convention headquarters, in Los Angeles throughout the week as a service to visiting Brothers. The desk, operated by wives of members of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter and student members of Ford, Ross and McKenna Chapters, registered 163 members of PAD from throughout the state who attended the Convention. Each registrant received ribbons of purple and gold, attached to his convention identification badge, as a special PAD feature to display the fraternity's colors upon the Convention floor. As usual, PAD was the only legal fraternity with an organized program of activity throughout the week.

As an unscheduled service of the PAD desk, in a typical gesture of fraternal co-operation, the Brothers at the PAD registration desk assisted Phi Delta Phi with its last minute efforts to put together a small luncheon for its members, and graciously assisted their friendly competitor in the taking of reservations.

The annual PAD State Bar Reception at the beautiful Stephens' family home was held immediately preceding the Morrison Lecture on Thursday evening. Among the many prominent PAD's from all parts of California in attendance were Judge James M. Carter, U. S. District Court; Superior Court Judges Leon T. David, Donald K. Quayle, Harold W. Schweitzer, Clyde Triplett, eBach Vasey, and Herbert V. Walker; Municipal Court Judges C. Allen, C. N. Carns, Arthur S. Guerin, John Shea, Clarke E. Stephens, and Albert E. Wheatcroft; Superior Court Commissioner Arthur K. Marshall; and California Supreme Court Clerk William I. Sullivan;

Ross Chapter Holds Annual Steak Fry

Ross Chapter at the University of Southern California held its annual Steak Fry on Saturday, September 17, at the beautiful home of PAD alumnus Stanley Avery.

A social hour preceded the banquet proper and afforded prospective pledges an opportunity to become better acquainted with the world's foremost law fraternity.

The evening was a grand success, with over 200 people in attendance, enjoying the delicious steaks turned out by the PADs and the Wives' Club. A great number of PAD notables were present in the persons of Past Supreme Justice Douglas L. Edmonds, Past Supreme Justice Rex Hardy, Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray, Associate Tribune and District III Justice Henry C. Rohr, Executive Secretary Fredrick J. Weitkamp, Hon. Albert Lee Stephens of the United States Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit, United States District Court Judge William C. Mathes, Honorable Herbert C. Walker, Presiding Judge of the Los Angeles Superior Criminal Court, Hon. Walter C. Allen, Presiding Judge of the Los Angeles Municipal Court, Hon. Clarke Stephens, formerly presiding Judge of the Los Angeles Municipal Court, and Matthew S. (Sandy) Rae, former National Field Representative for the fraternity.

Representing the Supreme Executive Board at the gathering was Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray, who was accompanied by Supreme Tribune Henry C. Rohr.

Roberts Chapter Sweeps Law School Honors

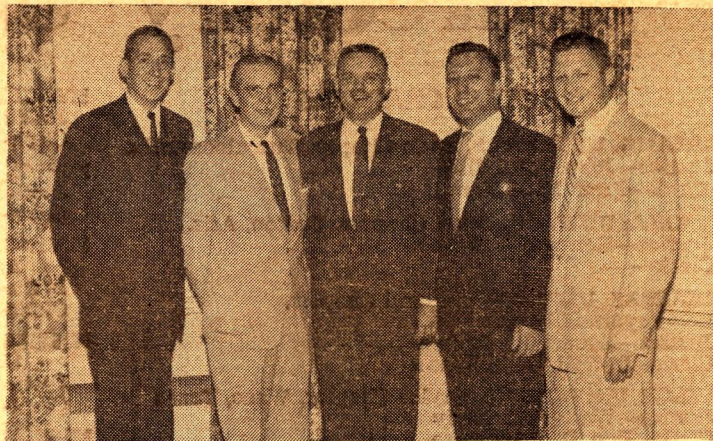

Roberts Chapter at Temple University School of Law, winner of the Most Outstanding PAD Chapter Award for 1954-1955, has again swept all of the law school honors.

Brother John E. Walheim, President of the Student Bar Association, received the coveted award from the American Law Student Association on behalf of the Temple student bar for being chosen the most outstanding in the country. At the summer meeting in Dallas he also accepted, for Roberts Chapter member George J. McConchie, a check for third place in the National Essay Contest. Brother McConchie is the new Editor-in-chief of the Temple Law Quarterly.

Lou Porretti, Justice of the Chapter, has been selected Chairman of the Night Moot Court Board.

Temple Law School is one of only two or three in the nation with a branch of the Legal Aid Society right in the Law School, and the new Director and Chairman of their Legal Aid organization is Roberts Chapter member Hubert D. Yollin.

At its annual banquet held last April, Roberts Chapter garnered further honors by the honorary initiation of John Biggs, Jr., Chief Judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.

Salt Lake City Granted Alumni Charter

PADs in Salt Lake City, Utah, have recently petitioned the National Chapter of the fraternity for an Alumni Chapter charter and received unanimous approval of their petition by the Supreme Executive Board. Spearheading the group has been Don E. Hammill, a member of Sutherland Chapter at the University of Utah. Brother Hammill is now serving as the Chapter's first Justice.

A dinner meeting has been scheduled for November 1, at which time the formal presentation of the charter will be made by Supreme Vice Justice John L. Griffith, of Denver, Colorado.

D. C. Alumni Install New Officers

The Washington, D. C. Alumni Chapter held its annual installation of officers dinner on June 12, 1956, at the Kenwood Country Club, Washington, D. C.

Speaker of the evening was Major Gen. Joseph V. Dillon, USAF (Ret.), whose talk was entitled "Vagrant Thoughts," and was in essence a relation of outstanding events of his military career and his career as Provost Marshal General.

One of the honored guests was the Honorable Albert E. Carter, a former Congressman and Judge from the State of California.

Installed as the new officers of the Chapter were John M. Murray, Justice; Harold Nystrom, Vice Justice; James Gardiner, Clerk; Robert Losch, Treasurer, and Henry Shur, Marshal. Among the many in attendance were District XII Justice Donald R. Moore and Past District XII Justice William B. Robertson.

small sail boat in which I venture on Lake Michigan."

Actually, new District Justice Bob Gorman is overly modest. Anyone examining the July 15, 1956, issue of the Saturday evening Post will find an interesting article entitled, "The Case of Prisoner No. 16688," which recites the dogged efforts of a young trial lawyer to have a man freed from prison. This young man who spent thousands of working hours and some $300.00 of his slim savings without compensation, was none other than the new District VI Justice, Robert J. Gorman.

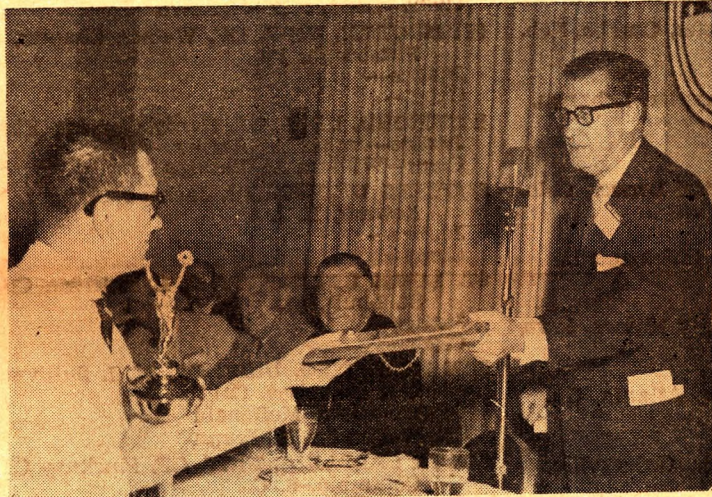

Chicago Alumni Honor Judicial Brethren

On September 25, 1956, the Chicago Alumni Chapter honored their PAD brothers who are on the Bench at the regular monthly meeting held at the Chicago Bar Association. Seventy-four brothers attended this dinner meeting to pay their respects to those who have brought honor to our great fraternity.

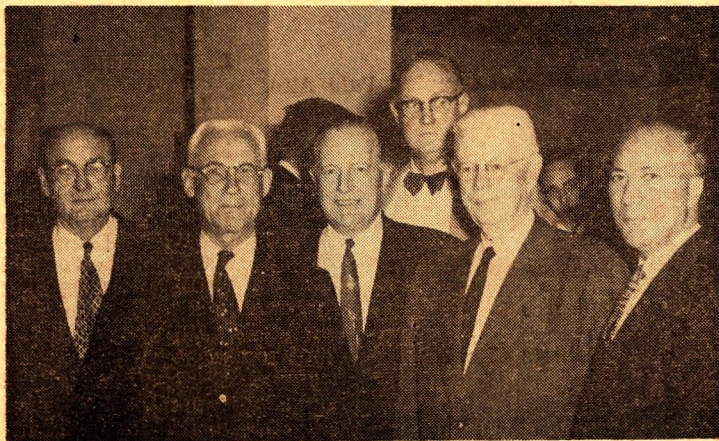

Judicial Brethren in attendance were F. Ryan Duffy of the U.S. Court of Appeals; John T. Dempsey, Leslie E. Salter and Cornelius Harrington of the Cook County Superior and Circuit Courts; Homer Byrd, Judge of Wells County Circuit Court, Bluffton Indiana (175 miles from Chicago); Former Superior Court Judge and Congressman Edgar A. Jonas, a Past Supreme Justice of our Fraternity; William Atten, County Judge of DuPage County; George Quilici of the Municipal Court of Chicago and Thomas Barrett of the Oak Park Municipal Court; Former Judges John Lyle and Stanley Pulaski of the Municipal Court; Masters in Chancery Daniel A. Costigan and Lew Wescott; Justice of the Peace Donald M. Haider and Police Magistrate Fred Cuchna.

Justice Mackey introduced John Brown and Sid Meyer, original signers of the first P.A.D. articles, and also Past Supreme Justice George Fink, Mr. PAD of the Chicago Alumni.

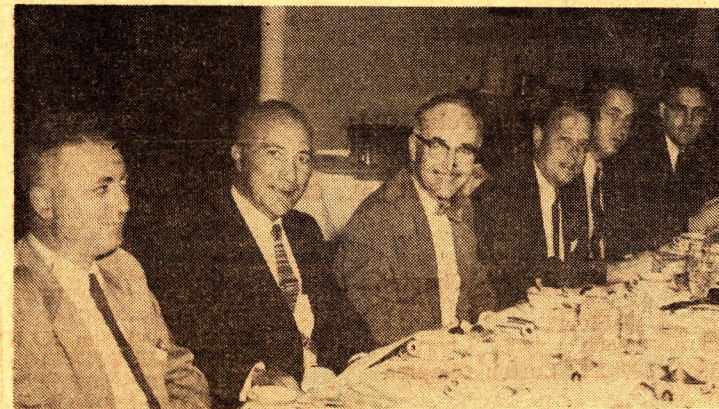

The meeting was a most successful one following the summer recess. The preceding business meeting had been held in May followed by the three day outing in June and a golf tournament in July. Both the outing and golf tournament were well attended and kept the brothers in good shape for the arduous months ahead.

ALSA AWARD—PAD John E. Walheim, President of the Student Bar Association of Temple University School of Law, accepts the award presented by Vincent P. American Bar Association Section

The American Bar Association has been given the green light to immediately launch a nation-wide campaign for enactment of Congressional legislation to enable 10 million self-employed, including lawyers, to set up individual, income-tax deferred, retirement programs.

At the Association's 79th annual meeting in Dallas, Texas, Aug. 27-31, the 230-member House of Delegates roundly applauded an announcement by David F. Maxwell, newly elected president of the ABA from Philadelphia, that two lawyers from every state would be appointed "to serve on committees to be established in every state and congressional district" to work for early passage of appropriate retirement legislation.

The Association's 80th president told the members of the House that legislation would be re-introduced in the 85th Congress soon after it convenes in January and that state and local bar help would be needed in contacting all candidates for Congress in the elections this fall.

Mr. Maxwell stated emphatically that the proposed measure, as embraced by the Jenkins-Keogh bills which failed to pass the last session of Congress, was "not a lawyers bill" but a bill which would "aid all professions," and all self-employed persons.

Briefly the bills would allow self-employed persons to deduct up to 10 per cent of current income (or not more than $5,000 yearly) to be set aside in individual retirement funds. These deductions would be income tax-deferred until withdrawn for use by the individual upon retirement at the age of 65.

ABA To Inspect Law Schools

The American Bar Association is also preparing to begin the reinspection of 129 law schools throughout the United States which have heretofore been approved by the ABA.

In a meeting that concluded the 79th annual convention of the ABA, the Board of Governors announced that a reinspection of the schools would begin immediately.

The reinspections will apply to the 129 law schools throughout the country which have been approved by the ABA since 1923. There are 167 law schools in the United States, but of these, 38 have not received ABA approval. Approved schools are those whose standards meets requirements laid down by the American Bar Association. These standards include qualifications of faculty, curriculum, library and other plant facilities, and various other criteria.
