PAD Loses Two Stalwarts

FRANK M. LUDWICK

Frank M. Ludwick Passes Suddenly

On May 8, 1957, Phi Alpha Delta lost to the Great Beyond one of its most illustrious sons. On that date, Frank M. Ludwick suddenly passed away, leaving behind him a record of service and devotion to the fraternity which has probably been unmatched during its 55 years of existence.

Brother Ludwick was initiated as a member of Benton Chapter at the University of Kansas City. From the very beginning he was an active and loyal member of PAD and during the formative years worked vigorously for the fraternity's betterment. His service to the fraternity ultimately earned him the position of Supreme Secretary, which he first occupied in 1921.

25 Years Supreme Secretary

For a period of 25 years Brother Ludwick thereafter served as the fraternity's Supreme Secretary and later Editor of our Reporter magazine. No other person has ever, in the history of the fraternity, held a tenure of office even approaching the period of service by Frank Ludwick.

It was during the period of Frank's service that the fraternity prospered and grew in the late 1920's and then weathered the depression in the early 1930's. He continued to hold high office during the critical years of World War II and managed not only to keep the bonds of brotherhood tightly bound but also prevented the fraternity from dissolution during this trying period.

Supreme Justice 1946-48

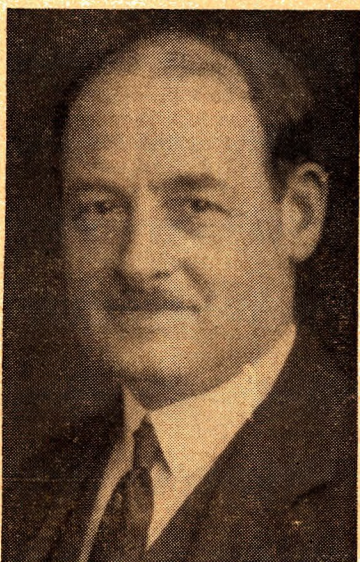

Brother Ludwick was further honored by the entire organization by his elevation to the office of Supreme Justice for the 1946-1948 period. Thus, there is very likely no man in this organization who had greater familiarity with its operations and problems over a period of almost three decades than our beloved brother, Frank M. Ludwick.

It is not enough, however, to pay our respects to Brother Ludwick as a distinguished member of the fraternity. Another story should be told about Frank Ludwick, the man and host for official Washington.

Host To Washington

Brother Ludwick engaged in the private practice of law in Washington from 1943 to the date of his death. Prior to that time, he practiced law in Kansas

GEORGE E. FINK

George E. Fink Dies

On April 14, 1957, Past Supreme Justice George E. Fink, of Chicago, Illinois, was called to his eternal reward, and so ended a career that paralleled the first 50 golden years of our beloved Fraternity and whose entire life epitomized the ideals and purposes upon which Phi Alpha Delta was founded.

Partner Also Supreme Justice

For years, and up to the time of his passing, Brother Fink was a member of the law firm of Fink and Meier. It was this same Brother and Past Supreme Justice (1905-06), Paul C. Meier (Story 1901), who drafted the Articles of Organization at South Haven, Michigan, on July 27, 1902, when the 21 who that day affixed their signatures became the founders of the greatest law fraternity the world has ever known.

Upon the death of his revered law partner, Brother Meier retired from the practice and so ended this intimate association of two Past Supreme Justices of Phi Alpha Delta.

Brother Fink's wife, Kathleen, truly a sweetheart of PAD, predeceased him by about one year, they having observed together their 50th marriage anniversary in 1955, steadfastly devoted to one another. Brother Fink left a son, Robert E. Fink, a Navy veteran of the Pacific theater in World War II, and a daughter, Nena E. Fink.

Brother Fink attended the Illinois College of Law, now De Paul Law School, received his LL.B. and LL.M. from the University of Michigan and was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1900.

George was formerly house attorney for the State Bank of Chicago and the Foreman State Bank, as well as general counsel for the Illinois State Bankers Association.

Active in Bar Association activities, he was a member of the American, Illinois and Chicago Bar Associations, the Swedish Club of Chicago and various other fraternal and social organizations. He was also a Past President of the University of Michigan Club in Chicago.

In 1950, the Illinois State Bar Association conferred the title of Senior Counsellor on Brother Fink "in recognition of more than 50 years' honorable service at the bar of Illinois...and for having set an inspiring example of devotion and fidelity to the Board Adopts Memorial Resolutions For Ludwick, Meyer and Fink

At its recent meeting, the Supreme Executive Board of the fraternity unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, the Supreme Justice of the greatest fraternity of all summoned Frank M. Ludwick from his earthly tasks on May 8, 1957, and

WHEREAS, Frank M. Ludwick was a member of Benton Chapter, University of Kansas City, and

WHEREAS, Frank M. Ludwick served this fraternity as its Supreme Secretary from 1921 to 1946, and from 1946 to 1948 as its Supreme Justice, and

WHEREAS, Frank M. Ludwick is greatly responsible for the position of preeminence which this fraternity now holds in the legal profession, and

WHEREAS, we feel deeply the loss of this sincere and great leader of the fraternity,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the fraternity and the Executive Secretary be and is hereby directed to forward a copy to the family of Frank M. Ludwick and to reprint it in the next issue of The Reporter.

WHEREAS, the Supreme Justice of the greatest fraternity of all summoned George E. Fink from his earthly tasks on April 14, 1947, and

WHEREAS, George E. Fink was

Henry de Bracton Chapter Installed At St. John's University School of Law

On June 8, 1957, the Henry de Bracton Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, was installed at St. John's University School of Law, in Brooklyn, N.Y. The chapter was named for Henry de Bracton, a Chancellor of England, who was well known for his judgments and his writings.

With the installation of this new chapter, PAD now has 78 active chapters, 13 more than Delta Theta Phi and 5 more than Phi Delta Phi. Thus, the fraternity continues to maintain its position of leadership among legal fraternities.

New York Alumni Initiate

The initiation was conducted by the Justice of the New York Alumni Chapter and the participants were as follows: John E. Wolf, Louis W. Arnold, Jr., Hart Evans, James W. O'Neil, Thomas W. Constable, Tyler S. Roundy, and Charles Digangi. Robert J. Chadwick, Justice of Livingston Chapter at Columbia University, and Robert J. Rapoport, Justice of Rapallo Chapter at New York University, were also present and participated.

Supreme Treasurer Elden S. Magaw, Assistant Dean of Temple University School of Law, was the speaker of the evening and presented the chapter charter to the charter Justice, Peter Piscitelli. Master of Ceremonies for the initiation banquet was Patrick J. Beary, of the New York Alumni Chapter.

The chartered group was led by Howard Cerny, of the New York Alumni Chapter, Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Treasurer and St. John's University Professor Edward Fagan.

St. John's University was founded in 1870 and now has an average enrollment of about 875 students. Chapters of Phi Delta Phi and Delta Theta Phi legal fraternities are already on the campus.

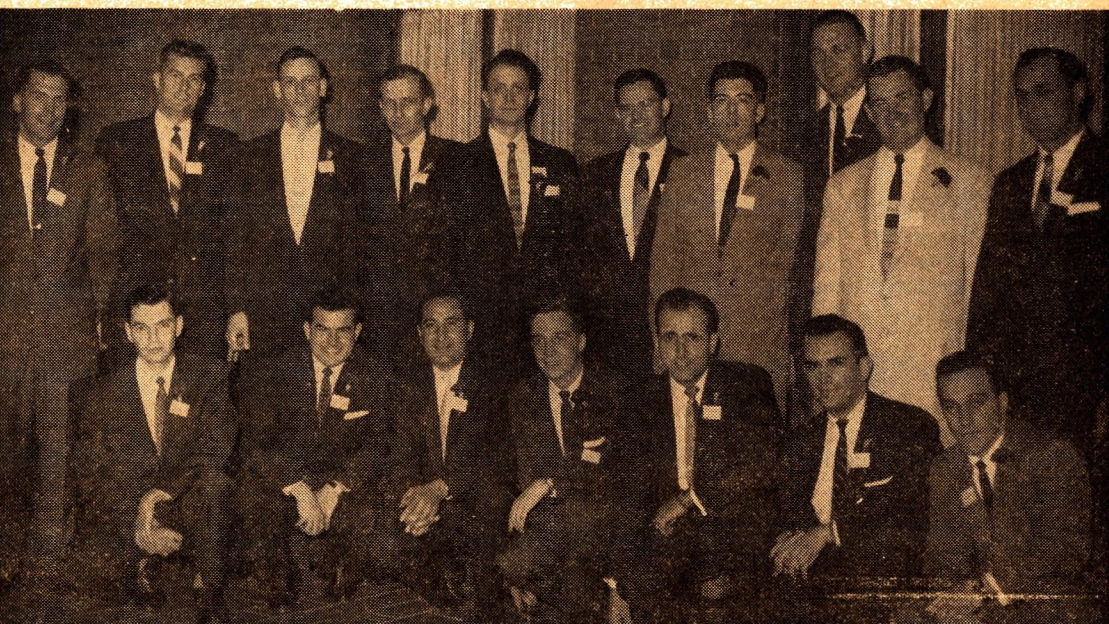

Syracuse Alumni Chapter Chartered

A new alumni chapter has been chartered for Syracuse, New York. Ceremonies were held March 15, 1957, at the Corinthian Club in Syracuse. Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Treasurer, presented the charter on behalf of the Supreme Executive Board. District Justice Lewis Morse also represented the national fraternity.

Attending the cocktail party and banquet were Gerald Kaplan, Carmody Chapter Justice, Ed. John Gallagher, Edward Torpey, James Bird, John Glowocki, Ted Munson, Robert Mooney, Norman Audinger and Donald Bundy, who is the first chapter justice.

PRESENTATION OF CHARTER FOR HENRY de BRACON CHAPTER at St. John's University in New York is made to Peter Piscitelli, Justice of the newly formed chapter, by Dr. Elden S. Magaw (U. of Oklahoma), Supreme Treasurer of the fraternity. Beaming their approval are other principals in the ceremony.

Harry Gershenson Heads Missouri Bar

Brother Harry Gershenson, a member of the John L. Sullivan Chapter at St. Louis University, was recently elected President of the Missouri Bar. Gershenson is a Past President of the St. Louis Bar Association and a member of the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association.

The new President was Vice President last year and has sat on the Board of Governors since 1952. He was Chairman of the American Bar Association's Section of Bar Activities in 1954 and 1955, and now is Chairman of the ABA Committee on Law Referral Service.

Gershenson is a member of the American Law Institute, a lecturer on Legal Ethics at St. Louis University, and a Director of Scribes, a law writers' association.

Gershenson has long been an active PAD and is scheduled to speak to John L. Sullivan Chapter on October 20.

CHARLES DIGANGI

Charles Digangi Receives 1957 Service Award

Brother Charles Digangi, a member of the Forest Hills, N.Y., law firm of Pitaro, Digangi & Gallagher, is the recipient of the 1957 Alumni Meritorious Service Medal award, it was announced recently by New York University.

The alumni medal is given only to certain individuals who have, through deeds, served their alma mater, New York University, in extraordinary fashion.

Brother Digangi has a long record of activity in affairs of the Alumni Federation and the New York University Alumni Fund. He was Washington Square College Alumni President in 1953-54, and again in 1954-55. He has also been President of the Washington Square College Law Class and was an organizer of the Queens Chapter of the Alumni Law Association.

He is a member of Rapallo Chapter and has always played a very active and important part in the fraternity's national conventions and in the activities of the New York Alumni Chapter.

Message From The Supreme Justice

Few members of the fraternity realize the great quantity of time devoted to fraternity matters by the national officers and the District Justices. The amount of this expenditure became apparent when recently the extent of the contacts, direct and indirect, of national officers and the various chapters was surveyed from headquarters.

Aside from the huge volume of correspondence and matters of administrative nature, probably the most important function which any of your officers performs is that of visitation to the various active and alumni chapters.

In the fall of 1956, I went on a trip which included calls on Chapters at Vanderbilt University, Cumberland University, the Chicago Alumni Chapter, Northwestern University, Valparaiso University, University of Chicago, and the University of Louisville. During the year I have also been able to visit other chapters in various localities, as well as be present at the District X conclave in St. Petersburg, Florida, attended by representatives of Chapters at Stetson University, University of Miami, University of Florida, University of Georgia and Emory University. Also I attended the conclave of District V at Knoxville where delegates of chapters located in four southern states were present.

Your First Supreme Vice Justice, John L. Griffith, visited the chapters in Southern California while attending the conclaves of Districts II and III, presented a charter to the Salt Lake City Alumni Chapter and called numerous times on the Chapters at the University of Denver and the University of Colorado.

Anthony A. DiGrazia, our Second Supreme Vice Justice, went to conclaves of Districts VI and XI, and called on Willey Chapter at the University of West Virginia as well as most of the chapters in District VI.

Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Vice Dean of Temple University School of Law and our Supreme Treasurer, called on chapters all across the country to California, including those at the University of Utah, University of Arizona, Rutgers University, New York University, St. Louis University, University of Oklahoma, University of Pittsburgh and the Syracuse Alumni Chapter, and further, he was present at the joint conclaves of Districts II and III, the District XI conclave, and presented the charters of de Bracton Chapter at St. John's University and the alumni chapter of Oklahoma City.

Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray has appeared and spread good advice at the chapters at Stanford University, Hastings College of Law, University of California, University of San Francisco, the University of Arizona, University of Southern California, Loyola University and UCLA, and, besides, attended the joint conclave of Districts II and III and the conclave of District VIII.

Supreme Historian John W. Shuart was present at the conclaves in Districts VII and IX, and visited Benson Chapter at Washburn University and Benton Chapter at the University of Kansas City.

Bob Redding, Supreme Marshal, certainly did his full share by visiting Chapters at the University of Oregon, George Washington University, Georgetown University, University of North Carolina, and attended two District XII conclaves; also he made a splendid effort to revive Rutledge Chapter at Duke University, and worked diligently to form nuclear groups for alumni chapters in District XI.

One of the most amazing trips of all was made by our Executive Secretary, Fredrick J. Weitkamp, who in the short period of fourteen days visited Chapters at Denver University, University of Colorado, University of Arkansas, St. Louis University, Creighton University, Montana State University, the University of Utah, as well as the Denver, Salt Lake City, St. Louis, Chicago and Omaha Alumni Chapters.

On the same itinerary he investigated the feasibility of re-establishing Champ Clark Chapter at Washington University in St. Louis, Mitchell Chapter at the University of Minnesota, and the possibility of starting a new chapter at St. Paul University, in St. Paul, Minnesota. Furthermore, he met the Supreme Justice in Chicago for a conference relative to the current state of your affairs.

Of course, these efforts were matched, if not surpassed, by our District Justices who have worked magnificently and unselfishly to further the interest of the fraternity. In a later letter the fine services of these men will be detailed and their plans for the present school year will be outlined.

Recapitulating, 55 active chapters received personal visitations during the past year, and 68 chapters received contacts, either through conclaves or through meetings with officers, 21 alumni chapters were visited, two new alumni chapters and one new active chapter were installed, and the possibilities of expanding or re-establishing three active chapters and three alumni chapters were explored.

In addition to these appearances the members of the Supreme Executive Board spent two days in Philadelphia in July discussing your affairs, reviewing activities of the past year and planning for the year to come.

All of this activity on the part of your national officers required the taking of much time from schedules already crowded, but in every case the contribution in time and energy was cheerfully, unselfishly and enthusiastically made, for in PAD we have one of the sturdiest vehicles for the dissemination of knowledge and the promotion of standards to assist the deans and other faculty members in the training they are giving law students, and to aid teachers and practitioners in the continual struggle to better the administration of justice.

We, of the Executive Board, send you, on the eve of another year, greetings, and express the hope that you will continue to prosper and to strive for a higher goal on a horizon that is ever broadening.

Fraternally,
ELWYN THOMAS
Supreme Justice

Circuit Court of Appeals; and Darrey Davis (U. of Florida), Past President Florida State Bar.

PAD's Gather for Annual ABA Reception

The famous Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, in New York, was the scene of the annual PAD reception for members during the American Bar Association convention on Monday, July 15. A large number of brothers from across the country gathered to renew friendships and to make new fraternal acquaintances. The reception is always looked forward to eagerly by the many PADs attending the ABA convention and is considered to be one of the finest receptions of the entire convention.

PAD'S Play Active Part

PAD'S were extremely prominent throughout the entire convention, as all three of what are generally considered to be the top offices in the American Bar Association were held this last year by members of the fraternity. The President of the Association, David F. Maxwell, was made an honorary member by Roberts Chapter at Temple University. The Chairman of the Section of Judicial Administration (the highest post any jurist can attain in the ABA) was our own Supreme Justice, Elwyn Thomas, of the Supreme Court of Florida. Chairman of the Junior Bar Conference of the Association (lawyers under 35) was affable William C. Farrer (Duke U.-Stanford U.).

Several members of the fraternity's Supreme Executive Board were also present in the persons of Frank E. Gray Supreme Secretary, John W. Shuart, Supreme Historian, and Robert E. Redding, Supreme Marshal.

The National Executive Secretary, Fredrick J. Weitkamp, also attended the convention and was Chairman of the PAD reception. He was assisted by members of the New York Alumni Chapter which is headed by John E. Wolf, Justice.

Brother Tom C. Clark, Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was chosen to succeed Judge Elwyn Thomas as Chairman of the ABA's Section of Judicial Administration.

PAD's Head Bar Secretaries

Two outstanding PAD's were recently elected to head the National Conference of Bar Secretaries. The new Chairman of the Conference is Donald S. Molen, a member of Hughes Chapter at Denver University. Assisting him will be PAD Supreme Historian John W. Shuart, a member of Benson Chapter at Washburn University.

Hon. Tom C. Clark Heads ABA Judicial Administration

Brother Tom C. Clark of the United States Supreme Court has succeeded Brother Elwyn Thomas of the Supreme Court of Florida as Chairman of the American Bar Association's Judicial Administration Section for this year.

The next meeting of the Section is at the Ohio Valley Regional Meeting of the American Bar Association at Louisville, Ky., November 7th, at the Brown Hotel, 2 p.m.

Besides Mr. Justice Clark, Mr. Justice Stanley Reed, Mr. Justice Sherman Minton, and Chief Judge John Biggs Jr. (Temple U.) are expected to attend the Regional Meeting on November 7 through 9 at Louisville, Ky.

All Phi Alpha Delta brothers are urged to attend this meeting, which will be profitable as well as pleasant.

Emphasis at the meeting will be placed on the rule-making function. Heretofore the general rules of practice and procedure have been first formulated by committees appointed by the Supreme Court. The committee then submitted its recommendations to the Supreme Court, and, if it approved, the Chief Justice transmitted them to the Congress for final action.

The proposal is that Congress implement this procedure by authorizing the Judicial Conference of the United States to conduct a continuing study of the rules, after which it would make recommendations to the Supreme Court. If the Court approved of the recommendations it would submit them to Congress as in the past.

Other subjects on the agenda:

Law and the Layman

This is a topic of timely interest. The program was initiated by Chief Judge Bolita J. Laws (Georgetown U.) of the District of Columbia, who also heads the committee of the same name. This successful program brings the judiciary closer to the layman.

Congestion in the Courts

With close cooperation with the Attorney General's Committee on Congestion in the Courts, this committee is concerned with State courts as well. Through its activity this program should encompass the views of the judiciary as well as the Bar and should prove beneficial to the local State committees and courts.

Post-Conviction Remedies

In order to create a better understanding of State conviction problems "with reference to post-conviction remedies in State courts and habeas corpus remedies in Federal courts," this program was established.

This committee is charged with the task of increasing the membership. Hon. Stephen S. Chandler, Chief Judge of the United States District Court at Oklahoma City, Okla., is Chairman.

HON. TOM C. CLARK

Tasks of the Trial Judge

The aim is work out "an interesting program that will be of assistance to the trial judge. Such matters as: calendar controls, standard instructions to jurors, domestic relations and family court problems, pre-trial techniques, publications of rules of court, coordination with appellate courts, etc. The Honorable Robert Simmons, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Nebraska, is Chairman.

The membership in the Section was originally limited to judges. However, for many years lawyers have been participating in its activity and have for several years been admitted to membership. The organization of the Section, as set up for this year, includes many lawyers as Chairmen as well as members of the committees and the Chairman of the Section has urged all lawyers interested in any of the programs of the Section to become members.

Supreme Executive Board Meets in Philadelphia

Extensive Action Taken

The annual meeting of the Supreme Executive Board of Phi Alpha Delta was held at the Sheraton Hotel in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on July 10 and 11, pursuant to the call of the Supreme Justice, Hon. Elwyn Thomas.

Present were Supreme Justice Elwyn Thomas, Supreme Vice Justice John L. Griffith, Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray, Supreme Treasurer Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Historian John W. Shuart, and Supreme Marshal Robert E. Redding. Second Supreme Vice Justice Anthony A. DiGrazia was absent from the meeting inasmuch as he was in Europe. Executive Secretary Fredrick J. Weitkamp sat with the Board and took the minutes.

Ross Chapter Most Outstanding for 1957

Ross Chapter at the University of Southern California has been selected as the Most Outstanding PAD Chapter in the United States for 1957 by the Supreme Executive Board. Second place went to Jay Chapter at George Washington University in Washington, D.C. and third place was won by Corliss Chapter at the University of North Dakota.

District winners were: District I, Dunbar Chapter at the University of Washington; District II, Holmes Chapter at Stanford University; District III, Ross Chapter at University of Southern California; District IV, Sutherland Chapter at University of Utah; District V, Lamar Chapter at University of Mississippi; District VI, Marshall Chapter at University of Chicago; District VII, Corliss Chapter at University of North Dakota; District VIII, Taney Chapter at Southern Methodist University; District IX, Watson Chapter at University of Pittsburgh; District X, Rasco Chapter at University of Miami; District XI, Livingston Chapter at Columbia University; District XII, Jay Chapter at George Washington University.

Ross Chapter had an extremely well rounded chapter program. It had 71 active members and 10 pledges at the time of filing for the competition. Things which helped the chapter win the competition were as follows: a PAD information booth maintained during registration to aid new students; pre-semester instruction in legal methods to aid new students conducted by top class members; introduction of new students to outstanding members of the Alumni Chapter; largest pledge class; largest law school fraternity membership, both active and pledges; PAD Wives Club; dinner honoring wives of new members; annual party honoring graduating members; joint fraternity luncheons; annual charity Christmas Party for underprivileged children; comprehensive program of seminars, lectures and group discussions; PAD Spring get acquainted program, including faculty, administrative and student personnel, rushees and PAD and other fraternity members; active participation in District II and III conclave; participation in State Bar Convention; extemporaneous speaking training program; excellent alumni relations; big brother program; wide participation in law school activities.

Without a doubt, this meeting of the Supreme Executive Board was one of the most productive in the history of the Fraternity. Indicative of the great amount of work that was accomplished is the fact that the agenda for the meeting contained over 35 items.

It was not all work and no play, for hosting the Board members and their wives at a very lovely lawn party was the Philadelphia Alumni Chapter which is named after our Supreme Treasurer, Dr. Elden S. Magaw. The lawn party was held at the beautiful home of Professor and Mrs. Frederick Feichter.

Among the many Philadelphia alumni present were Vincent Cirillo, Thomas Wilson, James Jennings, Bill Goldman, Jerry Ornstein, Walt Higgins, President Judge Chester H. Rhodes of the Superior Court, and President Judge Harold G. Knight of the Superior Court, also the Justice of the Alumni Chapter, as well as Jerome Burns and Avram Adler.

Others on hand to welcome the members of the Supreme Board were Wesley Oler, David Day, James E. Teace, James P. Garrety and Henry Skillman.

Convention Site Selected

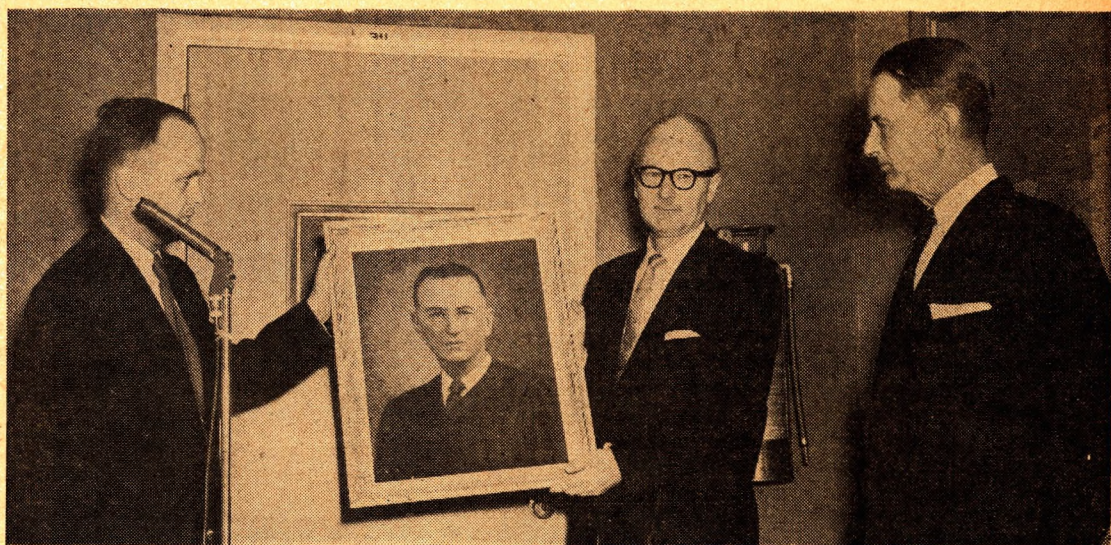

The Board considered the invitations which had been submitted for a site for the 1958 national convention and the site selected was Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, which will be celebrating its bicentennial in 1958. Dates for the convention will be September 3, 4 and 5. Headquarters hotel will be the Penn-Sheraton, formerly the William Penn, which overlooks the beautiful Mellon Square.

Extra-Territorial Expansion Committee Formed

One of the more important items of business taken up was the formation of a committee to investigate the advisability of extra-territorial expansion of the Fraternity. Heading the committee is Second Supreme Vice Justice Anthony A. DiGrazia. Also named to this committee were David F. Maxwell, President of the American Bar Association; Hon. Douglas L. Edmonds, Past Supreme Justice; James J. Cox, Justice of Martin Chapter; and Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Treasurer.

PAD Library Established

The Board also established a PAD library, which would make available to individuals and chapters special reports on local problems, conclave problems and national problems, as well as articles and speeches of general interest to the Fraternity. A section of the library will be carried in each issue of the Reporter.

The possibility of preparing a PAD movie for use of the various active chapters in rushing was suggested, and Supreme Marshal Robert E. Redding, District XII Justice Donald R. Moore and Executive Secretary Fredrick J. Weitkamp were appointed to investigate the financial aspects of such a project.

Alumni Director Appointed

Recognizing that one of the most important aspects of a professional fraternity is that of alumni activities, the Supreme Executive Board urged expanded alumni activities. Pursuant to this recommendation, the Supreme Justice designated Anthony A. DiGrazia, Second Supreme Vice Justice, as Director of Alumni Activities.

The Board also formed a committee to study the establishment of either a scholarship or other type of award system to be financed from national funds and to be made to each chapter.

Endowment Fund

The Endowment Fund received an assist when the Board determined to hereafter place all jewelry royalties received from L. G. Balfour Co. directly into the endowment fund. The Board also included a $1,500 item in the budget for the coming year to be transferred to the endowment fund.

At the suggestion of the District IX Conclave, the Board determined to send a pledge acknowledgement card to each new pledge of the Fraternity, which would acknowledge his pledge-ship and extend words of welcome from the Supreme Justice.

Professional Activities

The Board also suggested that the professional activities and programs being sponsored by the various active chapters should be continually reviewed and Supreme Justice Thomas appointed Robert E. Redding as Director of Professional Activities and requested that he submit a report on the subject of professional activities to the Supreme Executive Board not later than January 1, 1958.

The foregoing are only a few of the many items discussed and actions taken by the Supreme Board at its July meeting. Needless to say, there were a multitude of other detail items covered, as one would expect in an organization which consists of over 33,000 members.

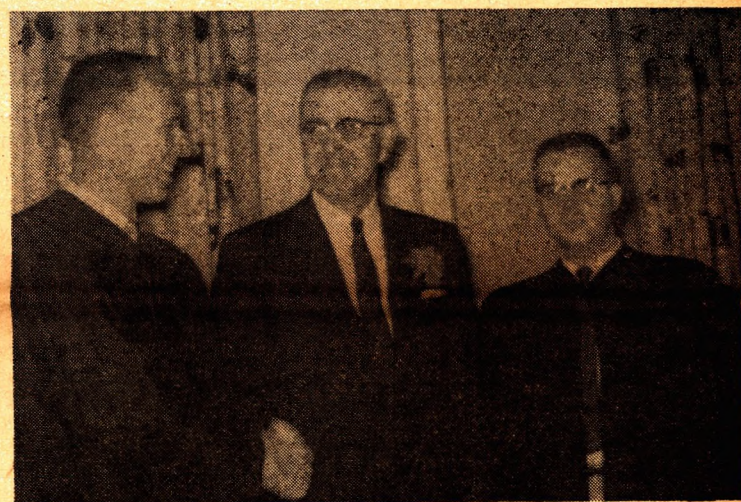

Martin Chapter Takes Honors

Members of Martin Chapter at Tulane University have recently attained high honors. Brothers Donald S. Klein and Dermont T. McGlinchey won first place in Chief Justice of the Tulane Moot the 1957 Tulane Moot Court competition. Their final argument was before the Supreme Court of Louisiana sitting as judges in the competition. Brother Xavier Chavez was recently elected Court Board and the chapter Justice, James J. Cox, has been elected Vice President of the law school student body.

K. C. Alumni Present Whittaker's Portrait

The Kansas City Alumni Chapter has presented a portrait of United States Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Whittaker to the law school of the University of Kansas City, Justice Whittaker's alma mater. The portrait will be hung in the new Seminar Room, which has been named for Justice Whittaker.

Presiding at the ceremonies was Kansas City Alumni Chapter Justice and District VII Justice, H. Jay Gunnels, Jr.

Knox Chapter Members Receive Awards

Knox Chapter (University of Arizona) of Phi Alpha Delta has been showered with scholastic records during the past year and over the summer.

Levi Ray Haire, graduating in June of 1957, as President of the Student Bar Association at the University of Arizona, had the highest grade average for the entire three years at law school. Ray then kept up the torrid pace by leading a field of 67 applicants who took the Arizona State Bar examination with a grade of 85 percent.

Ray was followed scholastically by PAD Robert W. Browder, who has the highest cumulative grade average for two full years at law school, and Steven Duke, a Phi Alpha Delta pledge, who led the first year class at the end of one complete year.

Alumnus Norman S. Hull, who had been appointed to the University law faculty three years before, after retiring from a prominent law practice in Phoenix, was elevated to the position of Administrative Vice President of the University.

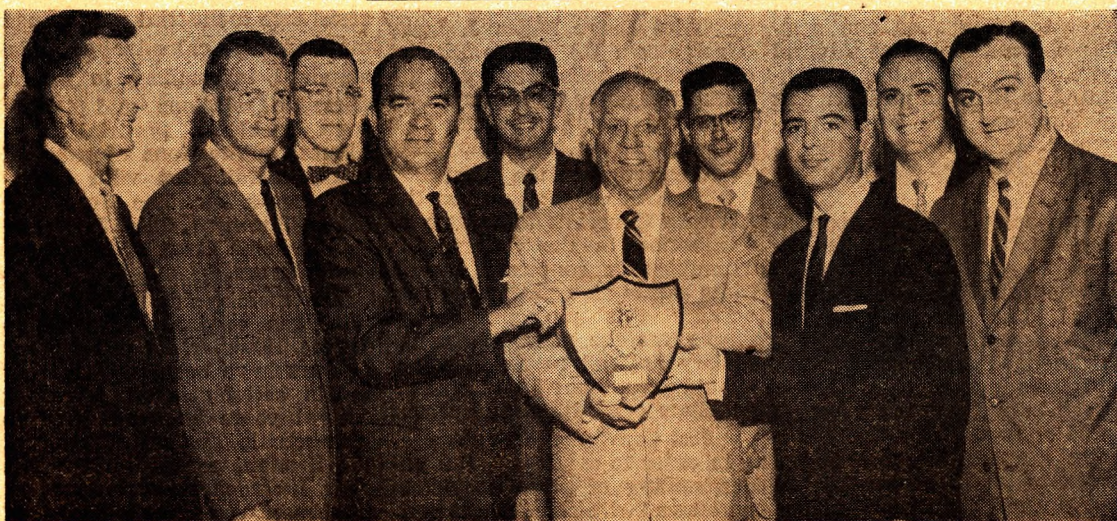

Lawson Chapter Confers Honorary Membership

Honorary membership was conferred upon Judge Marshall Craig by Lawson Chapter at the University of Missouri, as a part of the Law Day activities at the University, recently. The initiation was performed by the chapter officers in the Lounge of Read Hall on the campus of the oldest land grant school west of the Mississippi River.

In attendance at the ceremony were members of the Missouri Supreme Court, faculty, members of the University, and distinguished PAD alumni.

Judge Craig was graduated from the University of Missouri School of Law in 1932 and since then has received recognition by the legal profession as a practicing lawyer, prosecuting attorney, and more recently, as Judge of Missouri's 28th Judicial District.

Judge Craig served as a legal officer in the Quartermaster Corps during World War II. He is a member of Delta Upsilon social fraternity and Q.E.D.H. Honorary Fraternity. He is active in civic affairs, being a member of the Lions Club, the American Legion and the Masonic Lodge. He was named the "Man of the Year" in his home community of Sikeston in 1953.

THE WORLD'S LARGEST LAW FIRM

The Judge Advocate General's School, U. S. Army

(The following material was prepared especially for the Reporter, by the Judge Advocate General's School, U.S. Army, Charlottesville, Va.)

Since the appointment of the first Judge Advocate of the Army in 1775, the U.S. Army Judge Advocate General's Corps has grown to be probably the largest law firm in the world. Today over 1,000 officers on active duty and approximately 2,000 officers in the United States Army Reserve and United States National Guard comprise the membership of this firm. Members of the Corps are stationed throughout the world and their work varies from the preparation for the defense of the United States in complex litigation to the processing of a soldier's claim for damage to household goods during a change of station. The continuing education of these military lawyers is the responsibility of The Judge Advocate General's School, U.S. Army.

The commandant of the Judge Advocate General's School is a loyal and stalwart PAD, Col. John G. O'Brien, a member of Hammond Chapter at the University of Iowa. Col. O'Brien has 40 members on the staff and faculty of the Judge Advocate General's School, and it is to be noted that 13 of these are PAD's. Presently serving are Lt. Col. Dean R. Dort U. of Iowa, Lt. Col. Owen E. Woodruff, Jr. (U. of San Francisco), Major John H. Brunson (U. of Arkansas), Capt. Cabell F. Cobbs (U. of Richmond), Capt. William P. Goodman U. of Tenn., Capt. Dwan V. Kerig (U. of Texas), 1st Lt. Gordon E. Boyce (Wake Forest), 1st Lt. Bradford D. Corrigan Baylor U., 1st Lt. William J. Driscoll (George Washington U.), 1st Lt. Charles S. Mechem, Jr. (Yale U.), 1st Lt. James L. Miller U. of Virginia, and 1st Lt. Lewis T. Sweet, Jr., SMU).

eral's School, and it is to be noted that 13 of these are PAD's. Presently serving are Lt. Col. Dean R. Dort U. of Iowa, Lt. Col. Owen E. Woodruff, Jr. (U. of San Francisco), Major John H. Brunson (U. of Arkansas), Capt. Cabell F. Cobbs (U. of Richmond), Capt. William P. Goodman U. of Tenn., Capt. Dwan V. Kerig (U. of Texas), 1st Lt. Gordon E. Boyce (Wake Forest), 1st Lt. Bradford D. Corrigan Baylor U., 1st Lt. William J. Driscoll (George Washington U.), 1st Lt. Charles S. Mechem, Jr. (Yale U.), 1st Lt. James L. Miller U. of Virginia, and 1st Lt. Lewis T. Sweet, Jr., SMU).

Perhaps the most unusual feature of the School from the standpoint of the lawyer whose experience has been limited to civilian law schools is the composition of the student body. The students at the School are all members of the Bar and many of them bring years of civilian and military legal experience to the courses they study.

Upon being awarded a commission in the Judge Advocate General's Corps, the military lawyer, after eight weeks of training in weapons and military subjects at Fort Benning, Georgia, is assigned to the School for eleven weeks of intensive legal training designed to prepare him for the responsibilities he will assume. In contrast to the 14 to 16 hours of classroom time demanded in the typical civilian law school, The Judge Advocate General's School Special Course requires the newly commissioned member of the Corps to spend 35 hours of classroom time a week in the pursuit of his study.

Because of the variety of problems with which the military lawyer must be competent to deal, the Special Course includes instruction in such diverse areas as procurement law, international law, military justice, claims, and court-martial procedure. Not only the heavy course load, but also the high caliber of the student, makes the Special Course a demanding experience.

The three Special Courses

given annually are each composed of from 50 to 60 students, a high percentage of whom were editors of their respective law reviews in law school days. Many have had experience in leading law firms.

An example of the competition a student in the Special Course faces is found in the background of the first man in the most recent graduating class. He was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Stanford University, an editor of the Harvard Law Review, a Magna Cum Laude graduate of the Harvard Law School, a Fulbright Scholar, and the author of a book published by the Princeton University Press. His margin over the second man in his class at The Judge Advocate General's School was a scant 1.4 percent.

The training of newly commissioned members of the Corps is only one phase of the School's academic program. Through an Advanced Course, the School gives selected judge advocates and law specialists with several years of military experience an opportunity for additional scholarly study and exchange of ideas. The purpose of this course is two-fold, namely, (1) to educate selected judge advocates and law specialists for leadership in the field of military law and (2) to provide opportunity for research in the military-legal field so as to make a significant contribution to the development of military law. The duration of the Advanced Course is 35 weeks. Again, the course load is heavy and in addition to advanced study in the area of military justice, emphasis is given to subjects of increasing current importance such as international law, comparative law, and civil emergencies.

A requirement for successful completion of this course is the acceptance by the faculty of the School of a thesis prepared by the student. The completed thesis must represent a significant contribution to military law to be accepted in fulfillment of the requirement for graduation.

During the last month of the Advanced Course, the student operates judge advocate sections in an annual logistical exercise at Fort Lee, Virginia. This exercise, involving some 6,000 persons, provides an opportunity to work in close contact with the advanced class students of other Army technical and administrative schools and to apply principles developed in the classroom to the practical problems introduced during the exercise.

The Advanced Course is accredited as an approved graduate program of legal education by the American Bar Association. The annual inspection visits to the School by the Adviser to the Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar of the American Association help insure that the course continues to meet the high standards required by the Association.

In addition to the Special and Advanced Courses, the School periodically gives a three-week course in an area which is of growing interest to the civilian bar—procurement law. It also conducts courses for law officers, a course for judge advocates of the United States National Guard, and a course on contract termination. A court reporter class is conducted by the School for enlisted personnel who will serve as reporters for courts-martial. This six-week course instructs the students in the fine art of taking verbatim transcripts of court proceedings accurately and expeditiously.

Besides the on-campus instruction, the School prepares non-resident legal training programs for members of the Army Reserve. The programs, both in United States Army Reserve Schools and extension courses, are designed to parallel the instruction offered in the Special and Advanced Courses at the School. The School prepares and distributes instructional material in support of these programs and checks on the effectiveness of the USAR School courses through staff visits to reserve training sites.

Another important feature of the continuing education program of the School is the annual Army Judge Advocates Conference. Here senior judge advocates from around the world are given an opportunity to exchange ideas, consider mutual problems, and discuss new developments in the law. At the Conference, as well as during the year, distinguished speakers are invited to speak at the School.

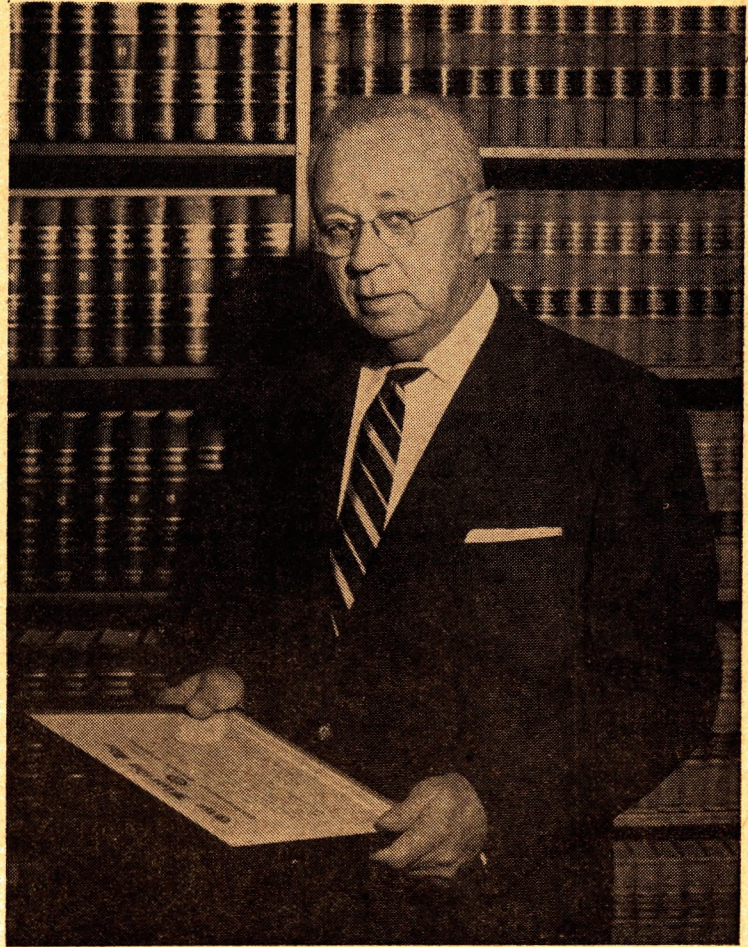

As in the civilian law school, considerable importance is attached to research and publication by members of the staff and faculty. The School conducts and coordinates research and the development of doctrine in areas where there is a lack of judicial precedent and other authoritative writing. It prepares a procurement law reporter, a Chronicle Letter of recent developments in military law, an annual cumulative pocket part to supplement the Manual for Courts-Martial, and various pamphlets to assist courts-martial. A recent aspect of the research and publications program has resulted in the development and preparation of training films designed to acquaint our soldiers throughout the world with court-martial procedure.

The myriad functions of the School are carried on by the approximately 40 members of the staff and faculty. Their work is aided immeasurably by both the fortunate location of the School and the School's advisory groups. The School occupies a building, dedicated in September 1956, on the University of Virginia grounds at Charlottesville, Virginia. It also utilizes the classroom, office, and library facilities of the adjacent University of Virginia Law School building. The extensive research facilities which the University libraries afford, together with the specialized military law library in The Judge Advocate General's School building, are ideally suited to assist the students and faculty in fulfilling the scholarly demands which the School program makes.

Two advisory groups help the School to evaluate its work. These are the Board of Visitors, all of whom are senior reserve officers, and a Civilian Advisory Group. The membership of these groups includes some of the leading members of the Bar.

Despite the relatively tender age of The Judge Advocate General's School—the present School was established in 1951—it has received accolades from the civilian bar usually reserved for more hoary institutions. At the conclusion of a recent inspection visit, for example, Mr. John G. Hervey, the Adviser to the Section of Legal Education and Admissions, American Bar Association, stated in his report:

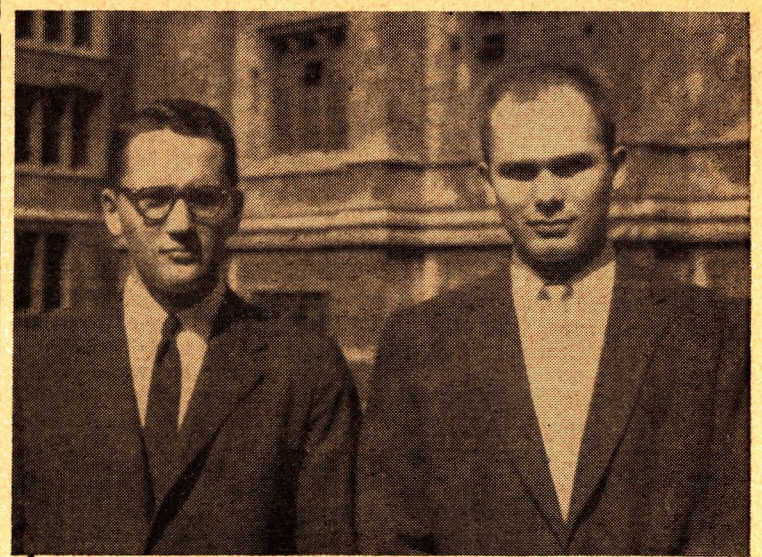

"The administrative and teaching staff, the instructional materials and methods, the quality of the student body and the scholarship standards distinguish the School, in the opinion of the Adviser, as the outstanding specialized graduate law school in the nation. It has attained an excellence unsurpassed by the programs of any other school."

JUSTICE ELWYN THOMAS

Justice Is Honored

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD—Justice Elwyn Thomas of the Supreme Court of Florida has been awarded a high honor by The Florida Bar, official statewide organization of lawyers and judges. A special citation was presented to Justice Thomas by Kenneth B. Sherouse Jr., executive director of the Florida Bar. It read: "The Florida Bar Distinguished Service Citation to Mr. Justice Elwyn Thomas for his unique and outstanding contribution of lasting value to the people of Florida and to the nation in improving the administration of justice as the first Chairman of the Judicial Council of Florida and as Chairman of the Section of Judicial Administration of the American Bar Association." This was the second time in the history of Florida's legal profession that a living Justice was thus honored. The Judicial Council, referred to in the citation and headed by Thomas during the past year, is a team of outstanding Florida laymen and lawyers whose aim is to "make a continuous study of the judicial system in Florida and the procedure and practice employed in the court, and determining what could be accomplished to insure more efficient administration of justice."

Judge Bolitha J. Laws Receives PAD Award

In its final function before summer, the Washington Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta held its annual dinner and installation of officers on the evening of June 4, 1957, at the Kenwood Golf and Country Club, Bethesda, Md.

One of the featured events of the evening was the presentation of the first annual Washington Alumni Chapter Award for outstanding contributions to the legal profession. The recipient of the first award, as selected by the Chapter Awards Committee after careful consideration of a number of prominent jurists and attorneys, was Judge Bolitha J. Laws, an honorary member of Tapt Chapter.

The presentation was made by Judge Richmond B. Keech, and the impressive record of Judge Laws as a lawyer, jurist and professor of law, was detailed in a formal citation read to the assemblage by Judge Keech and presented, at the dinner, to Judge Laws.

The evening also served to climax a spirited chapter election of the officers who are to lead the Washington Alumni Chapter of PAD for the year 1957-58. Official results of the election were announced for the first time at the dinner and the new officers were thereafter installed by Bob Redding, Supreme Marshal of PAD.

Chapter officers for the coming years are: Justice, Robert Losch; Vice-Justice, Joseph McDonnell; Treasurer, James McCullough; Clerk, Edward Fenwick; and Marshall, George Garvey.

The award made to Judge Laws received a great deal of publicity in the American Bar Association Newsletter and the Bar Journal of the District of Columbia. The entire citation follows:

WASHINGTON ALUMNI CHAPTER June 4, 1957 CITATION

For Outstanding Service to the Legal Profession of THE HON. BOLITHA J. LAWS Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, Washington Alumni Chapter, in consonance with the purpose stated in its Constitution of advancing and promoting professional, personal and cultural qualities of the legal profession, considers it fitting that the Chapter should recognize annually, through an award, some member of the Fraternity in the Washington area whose dedication to this purpose is exemplified in high degree by the outstanding contributions he has made to our distinguished profession.

An Awards Committee, established pursuant to the Chapter's decision thus to recognize outstanding contributions of members of Phi Alpha Delta to the profession, having carefully considered the records of a number of individuals whose contributions to the profession may well merit such recognition, has reached unanimous agreement upon the person to whom the first such annual award should be presented.

NOW, THEREFORE, Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, Washington Alumni Chapter, takes pride in citing for outstanding service to the legal profession the Honorable Bolitha J. Laws, Chief Judge of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, whose contributions to his chosen profession as a lawyer, jurist and professor of law in their totality comprise an impressive and outstanding record of service to that profession and reflect credit upon our Fraternity in which he holds honorary membership.

The outstanding contributions of Judge Laws to his profession can best be appreciated by a brief review of some of the highlights of his legal career.

Judge Laws was graduated from Georgetown University Law School in 1913 with the LL.B. degree and later received the degree of LL.M. and LL.D. from this university. After graduation he was admitted to the Bars of the District of Columbia, New York and Maryland, and began practice in the District of Columbia, which he continued until his selection under President Woodrow Wilson as Assistant District Attorney. He served in this capacity for six years before becoming Assistant General Counsel of the United States Shipping Board, in which post he continued until 1922, when he returned to private practice.

In 1930, Judge Laws was appointed a member of the Grievance Committee of the then Supreme Court of the District of Columbia; he was selected as Chairman of this committee in 1932.

In 1935, Judge Laws was elected Treasurer of the District of Columbia Bar Association. In 1937, he was elected President of the Association.

During his first year on the bench after his appointment in 1938 as Judge of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, Judge Laws received three certificates of award from local organizations, including selection by the Corrections Committee of the Council of Social Agencies for its annual award as a person who had rendered outstanding service in the field of administration of criminal justice and prevention of delinquency.

In 1939, Judge Laws began extensive study of pre-trial procedure and brought about the organization of a pre-trial division in the District Court. He has lectured extensively on pre-trial procedure and has put on demonstrations throughout the United States. His writings on the subject for magazines and law journals have been extensive.

Since 1938, Judge Laws has acted as Chairman of the American Bar Association's Special Committee on Improving the Administration of Justice in the District of Columbia.

In 1941, Judge Laws was appointed by Chief Justice Stone of the United States Supreme Court as a member of a committee of Federal judges to study the problem of correction of crime in the Federal courts. He has been assisted in the drafting of legislation passed by the Congress in this field and has spoken by designation before four Judicial Conferences, the American Bar Association, and other organizations on the subject. He was instrumental in the passage of the Youth Corrections Act and in making it applicable to the District of Columbia. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of the National Probation and Parole Association. He has served since 1953 as Chairman of the Advisory Council of Judges.

Judge Laws has further served his profession as a member of the American Bar Association's Committee on the Administration of Criminal Justice, as a Fellow of the Institute of Judicial Administration, as an officer of the American Judicature Society, and as Chairman of the National Speakers Bureau of the American Bar Association, providing qualified lawyers and judges as speakers before national, regional or state meetings of leading organizations of laymen.

Judge Laws is a professor of law at George Washington University; and also professor of law at Georgetown University. He is an honorary member of William Howard Taft Chapter, Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, at Georgetown University.

For this outstanding record of service to the legal profession as a lawyer, jurist and professor of law, the Washington Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity desires to express the commendation of its membership through this citation and is honored to present its first annual award to Judge Bolitha J. Laws.

Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, Washington Alumni Chapter. Harold C. Nystrom, Justice; Robert E. Losch, Treasurer; James S. Gardiner Jr., Clerk; Henry Shur, Marshal; Carville D. Benson, Donald S. Dawson, Bernard F. Garvey, Joseph R. Jackson, Harold C. Nystrom, Robert E. Redding, members of the Awards Committee.

Jay Chapter Activities Varied

John Jay Chapter, at George Washington University, added another history-making event to its credit on April 28, 1957.

On that date, 26 new brothers were initiated into Phi Alpha Delta in the first such affair ever to have taken place in the old Supreme Court chambers in the U.S. Capitol.

In the room ringed by the busts of former Chief Justices, the new brothers were taken through their initiation ceremony by the men of John Jay, led by Justice Don Hutson.

After the ceremonies were completed, the brothers, new and old, were photographed in a group beneath the bust of the Chapter namesake, John Jay, first Chief Justice of the United States.

Those initiated were: Joseph A. Caldwell, Alan E. Cobb, Teddy Elder, Quin Elson, Bill Epstein, Alvin Esterlitz, George Fahy, Vincent Gioia, Henry Hansen, Jim Hughes, Harold Levine, Grant Mayberry, Doug Means, Henry Nitta, Ed Petko, Len Phillips, Jack Posin, John Russell, Noel Smith, Jerry Verkler, Les Weinstein, Maynard Youngs, and Isaiah Zimmerman.

Banquet Held

From the Capitol, the group traveled to the traditional initiation banquet, which was preceded by a cocktail hour reception for the new initiates.

Brother Joseph D. Bulman, noted Washington, D.C., negligence lawyer, was the guest speaker at the banquet, and related many stories arising from his practice of the law.

Judge Meyers Receives Award

A feature at one of John Jay Chapter's summer smokers was the presentation of its Outstanding Alumnus Award to Brother Frank H. Meyers, Judge of the Domestic Relations Branch of the District of Columbia Municipal Court.

Those attending the affair witnessed Brother Don Moore, District XII Justice, present the award on behalf of the Chapter to Judge Meyers, in appreciation and recognition for his many continuing contributions to the Chapter and Fraternity.

Judge Meyers has ever been a faithful brother in Phi Alpha Delta, and John Jay Chapter was happy to confer this honor upon him.

Brother Meyers, who along with another PAD, Judge John H. Burnett, serves on the newly established branch of the Municipal Court, was appointed to his present post in 1956 by President Eisenhower.

Prior to that time, Brother Meyers had served on the Municipal Court from his appointment to the bench in 1948.

Judge Meyers attended George Washington University, from which he received his A.B., LL.B. and LL.M. degrees in the period from 1915-1924. He started in the legal profession with the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Income Tax Unit, and then went with the firm of U.S. Attorney John E. Lasky. From 1927 to 1932, Brother Meyers was in practice with Charles B. Tebbs, and from 1932 until his elevation to the bench in 1948, he was a partner in the firm of Frost, Myers and Towers.

Married for 27 years and the father of a son and a daughter, Judge Meyers also finds time to teach Trial Practice and sit as a Judge of the Trial Practice Court at George Washington University Law School. He is a member of ODK and The Order of the Coif.

Judge Meyers personal contributions to John Jay Chapter in particular, and to Phi Alpha Delta in general have been too many and varied to list, but it is enough to say that Jay Chapter is proud to number him among its alumni, and humble indeed to be able to express its thanks in presenting him the Outstanding Alumnus Award.

Annual Picnic Held

Washington State PADs Hold Charter Presentation

On May 2, 1957, a no-host cocktail party for the active and alumni members of PAD was held at the Arctic Club in Seattle, for the purpose of holding a presentation ceremony. Presented to Dean Stephens, of the University of Washington School of Law, for permanent hanging were the Phi Alpha Delta Alumni Chapter charter certificate and the Ralph O. Dunbar active chapter charter certificate.

on the Potomac River was the location of Jay Chapter's annual summer picnic.

The brothers and pledges, their families and guests enjoyed swimming in protected waters, games and water sports of all types and food galore.

Each family had brought enough food or itself, plus extra portions, and all was placed on community tables. There was plenty for all to eat, with a great variety from which to choose. As is traditional at these picnics, the chapter arranged for and provided the cold, cold beer.

The Alumni Chapter charter presentation was made by Brother Matthew W. Hill, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Washington, himself a charter member of the alumni group. The active chapter charter was presented by George T. Nickell, Justice of District I.

An added surprise event at the meeting was the presentation of a Certificate of Outstanding Service to Chief Justice Hill by the active chapter. The presentation also included a Certificate of Outstanding Service to Louis Guterson as the active chapter member who did the most for the chapter during the school year.

Toastmaster for the evening was Joseph A. Holleman, Justice of the Seattle Alumni Chapter. Arrangements for the ceremony were handled capably by Chapter Clerk Theodore Rosenblume and Vice-Justice Orville Hatch Jr.

Corliss Chapter Tops Phi Delta Phi

Corliss Chapter, at the University of North Dakota, recently had the last word in athletics as they defeated Phi Delta Phi in a softball game by a score of 11 to 9. This gave the PAD's a two-out-of-three game edge in law school athletics. They had previously won the annual hockey game and then lost a basketball game.

District Justice Visits

Friday, May 3, 1957, Corliss Chapter was honored with an official visitation by H. Jay Gunnels Jr., Justice of District VII.

A luncheon was held in his honor at the Bronze Boot Cafe. Attending were Law Professors Ros C. Tidale (U. of No. Dak.), Leo H. Whinery (U. of Kansas City) and Kenneth J. Moran (U. of No. Dak.).

Brother Gunnels spent the afternoon with Dean O. H. Thorngard and the faculty members of the law school, as well as the past and present officers of Corliss Chapter. Group reports were made to the District Justice by the chairmen of the standing committees on the work accomplished by the chapter during the past year.

Gunnels remarked that from all indications, Corliss Chapter was upholding its outstanding past record of leadership in the law school.

Later that evening, both Mr. and Mrs. Gunnels were honored guests at the annual North Dakota Junior Bar Association banquet held at the Elks clubrooms in Grand Forks.

Dr. Dickerson Receives High Civilian Award

Dr. F. Reed Dickerson, Assistant to the General Counsel of the Department of Defense, has been presented with the Civilian Award, the highest honor which the Secretary of Defense can bestow on civilians.

Ceremonies were held in Pentagon ceremonies April 18th. The honor was awarded for outstanding contribution to national defense in legislative codifications. The annual presentation of the award, which was inaugurated in 1956, includes a medal and citation. It was planned in recognition of the outstanding work of many civilian employees of the Defense Department who have distinguished themselves by service of major significance.

F. REED DICKERSON

The Department now has more than a million civilian employees performing essential professional, administrative, technical, clerical and mechanical work throughout the world.

Dr. Dickerson is a member of Watson Chapter at the University of Pittsburgh.

The citation which he received read as follows:

"In recognition of his exceptional service as chairman of the committee on military codification. Under Dr. Dickerson's chairmanship one of the largest and most complicated projects ever undertaken in the field of legislation was accomplished with an extraordinary degree of professional excellence. Incalculable benefits to the Department of Defense have resulted from this accomplishment which replaces more than a thousand heterogeneous laws with one integrated enactment, eliminating contradictions, ambiguities and dead law. The leadership and professional skill exercised by Dr. Dickerson in this major undertaking have been widely commended by authorities in the legal profession and warrant the highest recognition which can be given an employee of the Department of Defense."

Brother Dickerson is the first lawyer to ever receive this award.

A Family Affair

When Brother William G. Doherty received his law degree last June from the University of San Francisco, it was the cause of a gala celebration for his wife and family of eight children.

For Bill, it meant the end of four long years of night school, while at the same time working days for the Internal Revenue Service. This hard schedule and family responsibilities did not preclude his active participation in the many activities of Matt I. Sullivan Chapter of the fraternity.

To his wife, Isabel, graduation came as a long awaited dream and the end of shouldering sole responsibility of caring for the children.

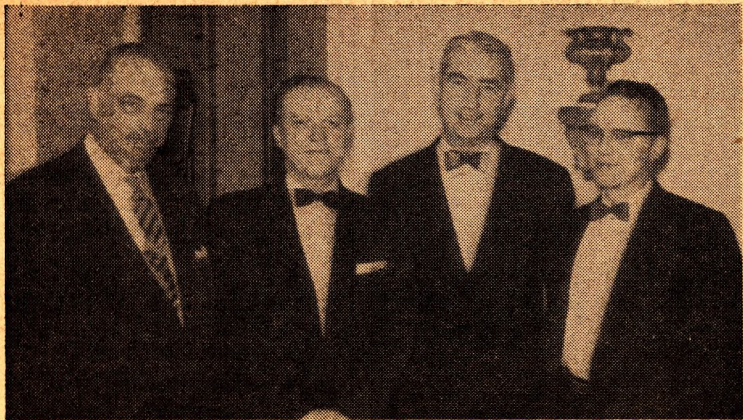

To the children, Lynn, 15, Patricia, 13, Mary, 12, Geraldine, 10, James, 9, Catherine, 5, Michael, 3, and Anne, 1, it meant that Daddy would be home in the evenings instead of "off to school."

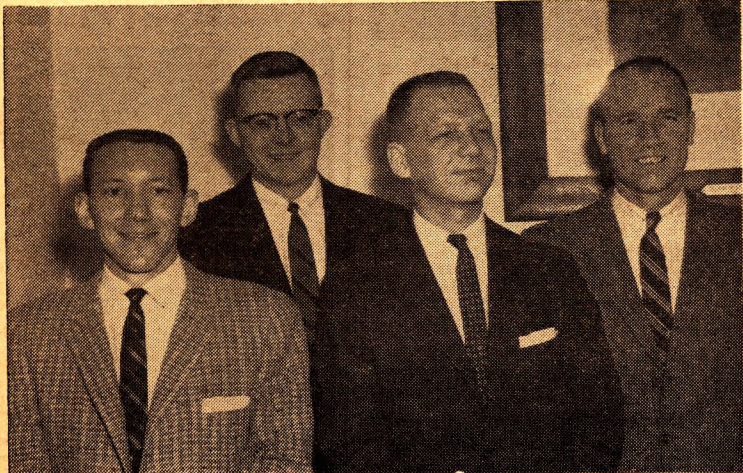

GROUPED UNDER THE BUST OF THEIR CHAPTER NAMESAKE in the old Supreme Court Chambers in the United States Capitol, are the brothers and new initiates of John Jay Chapter at George Washington University. Seated in the front center are the chapter officers, flanked by Brother Bob Redding, Supreme Marshal, and Brother Don Moore, District XII Justice. The ceremonies, first ever in the historic chambers, took place April 28, 1957.

U. OF MISSOURI PADS TAKE HONORS—Three PAD's of Lawson Chapter at the University of Missouri were among the four men who won their way into the finals in Case Club competition held as a part of the Law Day activities at the University last April. The simulated appeals case required a written brief and oral argument on the question of a wife's right of action for the loss of her husband's consortium resulting from the negligence of defendants. Shown above are the finalists. Left to right: Larry Davis, a PAD; Dick Shipley, a PAD; Andy Dalton, and Jim Butcher, Justice of Lawson Chapter. Butcher received an award for he best individual argument and Davis shared honors for the best written brief.

Chicago Alumni Reception for PAD Admittees

The semi-annual PAD reception sponsored by the Chicago Alumni Chapter and held for new admittees to practice in the State of Illinois, was held last May 23rd, in Springfield, Illinois. In charge of the event were Second Supreme Vice Justice Tony DiGrazia, and District VI Justice Bob Gorman.

Brother Elmer Michael Walsh (Chicago-Kent), former Sheriff of Cook County, was appointed by the Supreme Court of Illinois to make the motion to admit the entire group to practice in the State of Illinois. His son, Elmer Michael Walsh, Jr., a Past Justice of Taft Chapter at Georgetown University, was one of the men being admitted.

PAD Heads SBA At University of Wash.

PAD Jerry Farris was elected recently to the office of President of the Student Bar Association at the University of Washington School of Law. Brother Farris has been extremely active in both undergraduate as well as graduate activities. He was President of his graduating class, as well as of the student body of Morehouse College, and is presently a member of the Washington Law Review.

In addition, he has been a winner of the Moot Court competition, recipient of the Wilshire Memorial Scholarship for two years, and recipient of the Alpha Phi Alpha national grant to a student in a professional field.

Trust Fund Created At U of Oregon

Creation of the "Charles G. Howard Trust Fund" was announced by Justice Thomas Garrison of Williams Chapter, University of Oregon, at the annual initiation banquet of the Chapter held at the University Club in Portland, last April 13th. This fund will provide financial aid to law students at the University.

Professor Howard, well-known nationally as the co-author of a widely used business law text, and in whose name the fund is being established, has been the faculty advisor of Williams Chapter since 1930. He is retiring from the teaching profession after 30 years of service at the University.

The trust fund will be administered by a board of directors composed of alumni and active Chapter members. Gifts will be made to student recipients upon the basis of need and scholarship. The fund will be replenished each year by donations.

Justice Garrison reported that the creation of the fund has received the enthusiastic support of attorneys throughout the state as a fitting opportunity for giving recognition to Professor Howard's life work and as a means of providing financial aid to worthy law students.

Host for the banquet, the Portland alumni chapter, presented Professor Howard with an engraved desk pen set in appreciation for his outstanding contributions to the legal profession in Oregon over the years. Justice Randall Kester of the Supreme Court of the State of Oregon delivered the banquet address. "Judicial Humor In Oregon" was his subject.

K. C. Tanner, Portland attorney, was presented with a certificate for his outstanding contribution to Williams Chapter during the school year 1955-56.

Words of greeting to the 60 active and alumni members in attendance were extended by Robert E. Redding, Washington, D.C., Supreme Marshal of Phi Alpha Delta, and by George Nickell of Seattle, Washington, District I Justice.

Arno Deneke, President of the Portland Alumni Chapter, presided as master of ceremonies at the banquet.

The new members of Williams Chapter initiated at the ceremony held in the Federal Court-house prior to the banquet included David N. Andrews, Lloyd A. Domaschovsky, Richard Egner, Thomas N. Hallinan, Sidney M. Johnston, John Paul Jones, Hollis C. Ransom, Garret L. Romaine and Paul R. Vergets.

Outstanding Alumni Award Given

J. Kelly Ferris, Portland, Oregon, attorney, was selected as the outstanding alumnus of Williams Chapter, University of Oregon, for the year 1956-57 at a recent meeting. Mr. Ferris, who specializes as a plaintiff's attorney in personal-injury work, contributed much time and effort in helping the chapter organize and conduct a series of lectures, demonstrations and discussions of various phases of personal-injury trial work.

Election of officers for the local chapter was held at the meeting at which Mr. Ferris was selected. Gregory Hornecker was elected justice for the coming year. Other officers are Robert Moulton, Vice-Justice; David N. Andrews, Clerk; Peter A. Plumridge, Treasurer; and John Jaul Jones, Marshal.

Garret L. Romaine was elected a member of the Board of Directors of the Charles G. Howard Trust Fund which was created this year to honor Professor Howard, faculty advisor of Williams Chapter who is retiring after 30 years' service at the University. The trust fund will promote financial assistance to law students.

HON. CHESTER H. RHODES

Penna. Judge New Honorary Member

Chester H. Rhodes, President Judge of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, was initiated into PAD as an honorary member of Roberts Chapter at Temple University last July 10.

Attending the initiation were members of the Supreme Executive Board who were at the time meeting in Philadelphia for their annual Board meeting.

Justice Rhodes, formerly a member of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, was first elected Judge of the Superior Court in 1934 and has been re-elected each time subsequently. He is a member of the American Pennsylvania State, and Monroe County Bar Associations, as well as the American Judicature Society and the American Law Institute.

Kansas PAD Breakfast

Kansas members of PAD enjoyed a breakfast during the 75th Annual Convention of the Kansas Bar Association last Spring. Presiding at the breakfast was Wichita Alumni Chapter Justice Kent Frizzell.

A pleasant surprise to all attending was the unexpected appearance of David F. Maxwell, President of the American Bar Association and a recent honorary initiate of PAD.

Others in attendance were John W. Shuart, Executive Secretary of the Kansas State Bar Association and National Supreme Historian; H. Jay Gunnels, Jr., District VII Justice, and Jason Otto, Justice of Green Chapter at the University of Kansas.

D. ARTHUR CONNELLY

CONNELLY ILLINOIS AMVET COMMANDER

Brother D. Arthur Connelly, Executive Secretary of the Chicago Alumni Chapter, was elected Commander of the Amvets in the State of Illinois last July.

Connelly is now completing his fifth year in the position of Executive Secretary of the Chicago Alumni Chapter. A tribute to Brother Connelly's fine work is the fact that the chapter now has 425 dues paying members.

Connelly is presently serving as an Assistant United States District Attorney.

FORD CHAPTER HONORS WALTER H. COOK

Walter H. Cook (Western Reserve U.) received the tribute of his Brothers in Phi Alpha Delta and his friends of the Bench and Bar at a testimonial dinner in honor of his fifty-one years of service to his Fraternity and profession given by Ford Chapter of Loyola University of Los Angeles at the Nikabob Restaurant on May 7, 1957.

More than 125 Judges, attorneys, students and friends paid their respects to Brother Cook for his outstanding contributions to the profession through his years as a professor of law, first at Western Reserve University and, for the last 27 years, at Loyola. Lloyd J. Tevis, (Loyola U.) Loyola Professor of Law, spoke of the esteem in which Brother Cook is held by his colleagues in the teaching profession. Judge John J. Ford (Loyola U.) of the Los Angeles Superior Court recalled his memories of Brother Cook from the days when his father, William Joseph Ford for whom Ford Chapter was named, was Dean of the Law School and Brother Cook joined the faculty.

Gift of Braille Wristwatch

Highlight of the evening was the presentation to Brother Cook by Ford Chapter of a Braille wristwatch. Immediately preceding this presentation, Brother Cook was presented with an award from his own Chapter, Hay Chapter at Western Reserve University, as its outstanding alumnus for the year. Responding to these presentations, Brother Cook expressed his intention to continue his teaching career and his efforts to train students to analyze the problems of the law.

Father Joseph Donovan, S. J., Regent of the Loyola Law School, paid particular tribute to Brother Cook's independence of thought and action, which contributed so greatly to the building of the law school curriculum and the training of its students.

Greetings From Across Country

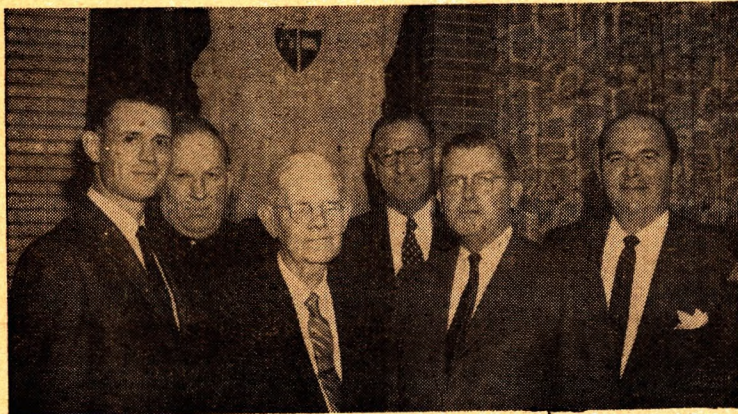

In addition to the many leaders of the Bench and Bar, both Brothers of PAD and non-members, who gathered to honor Brother Cook, a number of the most prominent individuals in the legal profession from throughout the nation sent their greetings to Professor Cook, and their regrets at their inability to attend the dinner. Amongst the many messages received were those from Supreme Justice Elwyn Thomas (Stetson U.) who wired, "All PADs appreciate your tremendous service to the Fraternity for a half century and applaud you on this anniversary," and Vice-President Richard Nixon (Duke U.) who wrote, "I particularly want to compliment you on your contribution as a teacher of Law and as an example to all of us who may at times become discouraged when adversity seems to overtake us."

Of Brother Cook, Governor Goodwin J. Knight (Stanford U.) of California wired: "His long and distinguished service in the legal profession and his unselfish contributions to the education of young men and women merit the gratitude of his many friends and neighbors. Although faced with a physical handicap, his dedication to the law has won him the admiration of his Brothers in Phi Alpha Delta."

Other messages of warm friendship and congratulations were received by Brother Cook from Governor Price Daniel (U. of Texas) of Texas, Governor Robert S. Smylie (Geo. Washington U.) of Idaho, United States Supreme Court Justices Tom C. Clark (SMU) and William O. Douglas (Columbia U.), United States Senators Alan Bible (Georgetown U.) of Nevada and A. Willis Robertson (U. of Richmond) of Virginia, Congressman William A. Dawson (U. of Utah) of Utah, Associate Justice Marshall F. McComb of the California Supreme Court, and James D. Tante (Loyola U.), member of the California Adult Authority.

Victor Stanley Baker, Ford Chapter Justice, and Jules Strickland, Chapter Clerk, planned and conducted the evening's program, with the assistance of all Ford Chapter members. In keeping with the Chapter's tradition of service to the Law School, the meeting was open to all Loyola Alumni and friends of Brother Cook and the Law School, regardless of fraternity affiliation.

WALTER COOK TESTIMONIAL DINNER—A huge crowd of over 125 persons attended the Ford Chapter testimonial dinner in honor of Professor Walter Cook. Principals at Walter Cook Testimonial Dinner are left to right: Stanley Baker, Justice of Ford Chapter; Father Joseph Donovan, Regent, Loyola University Los Angeles; Professor Walter Cook (Western Reserve U.); Henry C. Rohr (U. of So. Cal.); District III Justice; Hon. John J. Ford (Loyola U.-Los Angeles), Master of Ceremonies; and Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray (Loyola U.-Los Angeles).

PADS HONOR COOK—Los Angeles PADs gathered on May 7, 1957, to pay tribute to Walter Cook and his many years of service to the fraternity and the legal profession.

Ohio State Chapter Report Indicates Varied Activities

Since last April things at McKinley Chapter at Ohio State have been happening fast and thick.

On April 10, the Chapter got things rolling for the Spring Quarter at Ohio State with a noontide luncheon at the Ohio Union. Guest speaker for the program was Dr. Richard Reckless of the Ohio State University School of Social Administration. Dr. Reckless, one of the nation's foremost criminologists and penologists, stressed the importance of social rehabilitation in the administration of criminal justice. Too often, he observed, the young lawyer is prone to consider only the specialized fields of civil law when deciding upon a career. As a consequence, criminal law often becomes the province of the less skillful, or worse, less scrupulous practitioner. He urged the members to look upon the field as a great and fruitful area of public service and an indispensable aspect of our social system.

Early in May, Chuck Taylor and Ken Varga were selected to represent Phi Alpha Delta at the Ohio State University Inter-Fraternity Council Banquet. This organization, which serves to coordinate the activities and aims of the fraternities with the university, invited Ohio's Attorney General, William Saxbe, to address the council. Attorney General Saxbe gave an interesting resume of the duties and functions of his office in State government.

In an impressive ceremony in the Parks Memorial Chapel, thirteen pledges were initiated into the ritual of the fraternity on May 12. Later in the evening, the new brothers were wine and dine at Larry's Cafe in Columbus, so that it could be truly said that the new members could see in one evening both the serious and the social sides of Phi Alpha Delta.

New Officers Elected

Three days later, at a general meeting, fraternity elections were held and the following brothers were chosen as officers for the 1957-58 scholastic year: Don Work, Chapter Justice; Chuck Brant, Vice-Justice; Chuck Taylor, Clerk; Mal Catsoulas, Treasurer; and Al Buchfirer, Marshal.

Eager to prove their ability, the new "administration" arranged for the annual spring picnic of the Chapter on May 19. The affair, which was held at Oak Park, northeast of Columbus, was a grand success in spite of threatening skies, and over sixty members, their wives, and date attended.

After games were followed by evening dancing—a pleasant interlude being only the sumptuous feast prepared by the girls and the liquid refreshment supplied by the men-folk. Assistant Dean Robert Nordstrom and Professor Carl Fulda, both PADs represented the faculty. Credit for the program goes to chairman Bill Toy and his hard-working activities committee.

Achievements Noted

Late in the Quarter, McKinley men brought new glory to the fraternity through their achievements at Law School. Dick Loveland, former justice and ex-president of the Student Bar Association, DOCTOR OF LAWS DEGREE IS CONFERRED upon Hon. Anthony P. Savarese (NYU), Past Supreme Justice of Phi Alpha Delta by Chief Justice Arthur T. Vanderbilt (now deceased) of New Jersey Supreme Court. Degree was conferred by New York University.

Judge House Elevated To Illinois High Court NYU Confers Highest Honor on Savarese

Brother Byron O. House, a resident of Nashville, Washington County, Illinois, was elected to the Illinois Supreme Court late last Spring.

Brother House, a member of Magruder Chapter at the University of Illinois, was graduated from that university with a LL.B. in 1926. Upon graduation, he immediately entered into the general practice of law with his father, a three-time Republican State's Attorney of Washington County. He continued in partnership with his father until the latter's death in 1944 and then was joined in partnership by Wilbur J. Hohlt.

Judge House's only son, James B., became an associate of the firm in 1955. Judge House is President of the Washington County Bar Association and a member of the Illinois State and American Bar Associations and is also president-elect of the First District Federation of Local Bar Associations.

tion, graduated Order of the Coif, and received several other honors. Phi Alpha Delta was successful in retaining control of the presidency of the Student Bar Association by electing Justice Don Work to that high office.

Chuck Brant, the Vice Justice, placed second in first year Moot Court Competition and was named Associate Chief Justice of that body for the coming year.

At the last meeting of the year, the members honored Brothers George Roost and William Ahern by naming them Most Active Senior and Most Active Alumnus, respectively. Ahern, a local attorney and recent graduate, already enjoys a thriving practice. Plans were also made for the coming year which promises to be one of the best yet in McKinley Chapter history. A dinner-dance has been scheduled for fall, a stepped-up public relations and publicity program has been augmented, and several new ideas will be featured in the rushing program. Best of all, the academic axe found no victims among Phi Alpha Deltas!

The season closed with the formal initiation of Socrates Space and Bernard Fineman on May 24th, followed by a bere party at the North Heidelberg, a local and beloved situs for such activities and carryings-on.

Cummiskey Heads Michigan Bar

Brother John William Cummiskey is now the President of the Michigan State Bar Association. A member of Campbell Chapter at the University of Michigan, he is a graduate of the same university. Cummiskey is a partner in McCobb, Heaney and Dunn, a law firm in Grand Rapids, Michigan. He engages primarily in the field of labor law. This includes

New York University recently conferred its highest tribute—an honorary degree—on a distinguished New York jurist and a Past Supreme Justice of PAD.

Queen's County Surrogate Anthony P. Savarese was one of three outstanding alumni of the NYU School of Law who received honorary doctor of laws degrees during a special program dedicating Hayden Residence Hall, a new student dormitory.

Past Supreme Justice Savarese is the only person to have served five times as president of the NYU Law Alumni Association. Under his leadership the organization grew to a strength of more than 10,500 members with chapters in many cities.

A member of the School's Class of 1918, Savarese received the NYU Alumni Meritorious Award in 1951. At the University's law school a room has been named for him and an annual scholarship has been set up in his name.

Savarese has held his present office as Surrogate of Queens County since 1942. Previously he was assistant United States attorney for the Eastern District of New York and a New York City magistrate.

Active in civic and charitable affairs, the surrogate has been affiliated with numerous Queens organizations. He has served as a director of the Queens Cancer Committee, the Queensboro Tuberculosis and Health Association, the Children's Shelter of Queens, and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. He also has been president of the Queens College Speech and Hearing Center, Inc., and a trustee of Jamaica Hospital.

Surrogate Savarese has served as a leader in the Boy Scout movement for more than a quarter of a century. He founded the Italian Charities of America, Inc. and is an active member of the Bishop's Lay Committee of Catholic Charities.

HEAVY AGENDA FACING BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Proposed new rules for dealing with complaints against members of the Association involving violations of the canons of ethics are scheduled to be considered by the Board of Governors at its fall meeting at the American Bar Center in Chicago October 18-19.

A report and recommendations will be submitted by a special committee authorized by the Board to study the subject. The committee met recently in Chicago under the chairmanship of Cuthbert S. Baldwin of New Orleans to draft its report. Because the plan would entail a by-laws amendment which must be published in advance, it could not receive final action until the Annual meeting in Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 25-29, 1958.

The plan would provide for hearing of ethics complaints against ABA members by the proposed committees. The committee at large then could recommend to the Board of Governors the censure, suspension or expulsion from membership of the member according to its findings. The Association has no authority to suspend or disbar a lawyer from practice, nor does it have any disciplinary jurisdiction over non-member lawyers.

Several other important items are on the Board's agenda. One is consideration of a recommendation that the creation of the proposed new Section of Family Law be submitted to the House meeting in Atlanta, Ga. next Feb. 23-25. Another is a proposed contract under which the Association would cooperate with a leading film producer for the production, without expense to the Association, of a series of six films about the legal profession for public showings. The newly-reconstituted Survey Committee on Economics of Law Practice also may make a preliminary report to the Board.

ARRANGE ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM FOR REGIONAL AT LOUISVILLE

One present justice of the U.S. Supreme Court and two retired justices—Reed and Minton—are expected to be on the program for the Ohio Valley Regional Meeting of the American Bar Association at the Brown Hotel in Louisville, Ky. Nov. 7-9.

Associate Justice Tom C. Clark, (SMU) who is chairman of the ABA Section of Judicial Administration, will take part in the Section's program devoted to discussion of a proposal that the Judicial Conference of the U.S. carry on a continuing study of the rules of practice and procedure in the federal courts, with a view of making recommendations to the Supreme Court. In the past the Court has formulated rules from recommendations of special committees appointed by the Court. In addition to former Justices Reed and Minton, Chief Judge John Biggs, Jr., (Temple U.) of the third circuit Court of Appeals also has been invited to be on the program. Other highlights of the Louisville program:

Thursday, Nov. 7—Trial tactics panel, including James A. Dooley, Chicago, and John H. Groce of San Antonio, Tex., with U. S. Judge Shackelford Miller, Jr., as moderator; Selection and Tenure of Judges, with Lon Hocker, St. Louis, as the principal speaker; Special programs of the Corporation, Banking and Business Law Section, and the Section of Real Property, Probate and Trust Law.

Friday, Nov. 8—Taxation and estate planning with Merle H. Miller, Indianapolis, Bart Brown and Ernest Woodward II, of Louisville; Medical evidence with William Deparcq, of Minneapolis, and Forrest A. Betts, Los Angeles, as speakers.

Te meetings is for all lawyers in the ten-state Ohio Valley region. There will be an attractive entertainment program, starting with a "get acquainted" reception on the evenings of Nov. 6 and concluding with a visit to the Churchill Downs races on the afternoon of Saturday, Nov. 9. Hotel reservation requests should be sent direct to the Brown Hotel; all other correspondence should be directed to: General Chairman Robert P. Hobson, Room 400, Court House, Louisville, Ky.

NEW CHAIRMEN TO HEAD MANY ABA ACTIVITIES

Many of the standing and special committees of the Association will function under new chairmen during the coming year. Approximately 25 new committee chairmen have been appointed for 1957-58, counting those heading ten new special committees authorized in recent months. President Charles S. Rhyne is near the end of the big task of completing the personnel of the 60 committees which constitute an important part of the Association's working force. Involved are more than individual appointments.

Several men who have been prominent in the federal government are among the new appointees. Former U. S. Senator Robert W. Upton of Concord, N. H., was chosen to head the new Committee on Federal Legislation, whose task will be to coordinate and provide over-all direction for the Association's legislative program. Clarence A. Davis, of Washington, D.C., former Under Secretary of Interior, heads the new Committee on Administrative Agency Appointments.

Peter Campbell Brown, former chairman of the federal Subversive Activities Control Board and present corporation counsel of the City of New York, was appointed to head the special Committee on Communist Tactics, Strategy and Objectives. A former chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Gordon E. Dean of New York, was appointed chairman of ABA's Committee on Atomic Energy Law.

The Committee on Regional Meetings, which oversees the program through which the Association has been staging two or more regional meetings each year in different sections of the country, will be under the chairmanship of Lewis F. Powell, Jr., of Richmond, Va. The important Committee on Membership will be headed by Robert G. Storey, Jr., of Dallas, Tex., and Charles A. Horsky, of Washington, D.C., becomes chairman of the special Committee on Legal Services and Procedures currently pushing in Congress the House of Delegates-approved legislative program to overhaul basic procedures and functions of the more than 70 administrative agencies of the federal government.

Mrs. Fanny N. Litvin, of Washington, D.C., was the recipient of one of the rare ABA major committee appointments ever to go to a woman lawyer. She will be chairman of the Standing Committee on Civil Service.

GROUP LIFE PLANS LIBERALIZED:

"OPEN PERIOD" TO NOV. 15

The American Bar Association Endowment $20-a-year group life insurance program is being liberalized to boost death benefits to a maximum $10,000, and also

WASHINGTON PAD'S BREAKFAST—A most successful breakfast meeting was held on Friday, August 30, 1957, at the Washington State Bar Convention in Seattle by PAD's throughout the state. This was a no host annual breakfast which never features any speaker but rather features each member, who is permitted to speak briefly about himself. 42 members were in attendance at the Washington Athletic Club. Shown above are, first row, left to right: Ted Rosenblume, Clerk, Seattle Alumni Chapter (U. of Washington); Paul Bonnell (U. of Washington), newly appointed Assistant Attorney General; Judge Robert P. Hunter (U. of Washington), recently appointed to the Washington Supreme Court; Hon. Richard B. Ott (U. of Idaho), Justice of Washington Supreme Court; Hon. Matthew W. Hill (U. of Washington), Chief Justice of the Washington Supreme Court; Albert P. Bise, (U. of Washington), Washington State Court Administrator; Hon. Felix Rea (U. of Washington), Joseph A. Holleman (U. of Washington), Justice Seattle Alumni Chapter, and Rodman Miller (U. of Washington), Seattle Alumni Chapter. Highlight of the entire breakfast was the announcement of the marriage of District Justice George T. Nickell to Nancy J. Paggett, on August 15, 1957.

to admit for a limited time new or present ABA members under 46 without medical examination or other evidence of insurability. This non-medical "open period" extends to November 15 this year. It is limited to members of the American Bar Association who will not have reached their 46th birthday by December 1.

Basic maximum insurance coverage is raised from $6,000 to $10,000 under the liberalized plan. These added benefits will apply to all present and new enrollees under age 40, in varying amounts depending upon age. Present participants will automatically receive the increased coverage, effective December 1 this year.

Here are the highlights of the new plan:

All American Bar Association members, including lawyers who join the Association prior to Nov. 15, may enroll without evidence of insurability. (Except those in Texas and Ohio.)

Benefits are raised in varying amounts depending upon age, up to $10,000 maximum, without increase in the $20 yearly premium. Premiums are waived in the event of total disability.

At age 50, enrollees in the $20 a year plan have an option to enroll in the companion "50 Plus Plan" providing an additional $5,000 of protection, again without evidence of insurability.

The "$20 a year" group life plan is now two years old and has approximately 18,000 participants. Members of ABA up to age 56 are eligible, although the "50 Plus Plan" was later added to afford protection for members between the ages of 50 and 70. The latter became effective January 1 this year.

The twin plans have enjoyed a remarkable growth. Today they insure the lives of over 22,000 lawyers and afford over $80 millions of insurance protection. The Endowment has thus far paid out more than $300,000 in death claims. The American Bar Foundation, research arm of the ABA, has benefitted substantially through bequests and dividends. Directors of the Endowment recently made a grant of $40,000 to the Foundation for major projects of legal research.

The Endowment's group life insurance program, now one of the largest in existence, is administered by a full-time staff headquartered in the American Bar Center in Chicago. Carl B. Rix, of Milwaukee, Wis., is President of the Endowment.

PAST NATIONAL OFFICER DIES

George E. Palmer, a Past Supreme Vice-Justice of the fraternity from 1936 to 1938, passed away last April after a long illness. Palmer was Chairman and former President of the Serial Federal Savings and Loan Association of New York. He was formerly Justice of the New York Alumni Chapter of PAD.

He was particularly remembered by members of the New York Alumni Chapter for the many cruises which the chapter took on his cruiser on the Long Island Sound each summer. He was a member of Rapallo Chapter at New York University and a graduate of that law school. He was admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court in 1936 and in the same year was special assistant to the Federal Housing Administrator in Washington.

Palmer had been president of the New York State Savings and Loan League and chairman of the League's Real Estate Committee during the depression. He was formerly Chairman of the Surety Bond Committee of the United States Savings and Loan League. He had also been President of the Floral Park Federal Savings and Loan Association and a Director of the Inter-County Federal Guarantee and Mortgage Co., on Long Island.

Timberlake Chapter Namesake Dies

Professor Edgar Walker Timberlake, Jr., 74, who taught for 50 years at Wake Forest College of Law, and for whom Timberlake Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, at Wake Forest College of Law, was named, died earlier this year.

Brother Timberlake joined the Wake Forest faculty in 1906, following his graduation from the Law School at the University of Virginia, where he received both his A.B. and LL. B. degrees. He taught law until his retirement in 1956, when Wake Forest moved to its new campus in Winston-Salem.

His hundreds of former students included members of Congress, Superior Court Judges and solicitors and several members of the North Carolina General Assembly. One of his most successful pupils was the late J. Melville Broughton, who was Governor and United States Senator.

He also served for more than twenty years as a member of the Wake Forest City Council and was a 33rd degree Mason.

D. C. ALUMNI OPEN BUSY CHAPTER YEAR

Mr. John T. Fey, Clerk of the United States Supreme Court and former Dean of the George Washington University Law School, Washington, D. C., addressed a capacity group of sixty persons at the first luncheon meeting of the 1957-1958 Chapter Year of the Washington, D. C., Alumni Chapter, held on Monday, September 30, 1957, at the Touchdown Club. Mr. Fey's talk concerned the work of the United States Supreme Court, emphasizing the jurisdiction of and the handling of cases by the Court, and was highly interesting and informative.

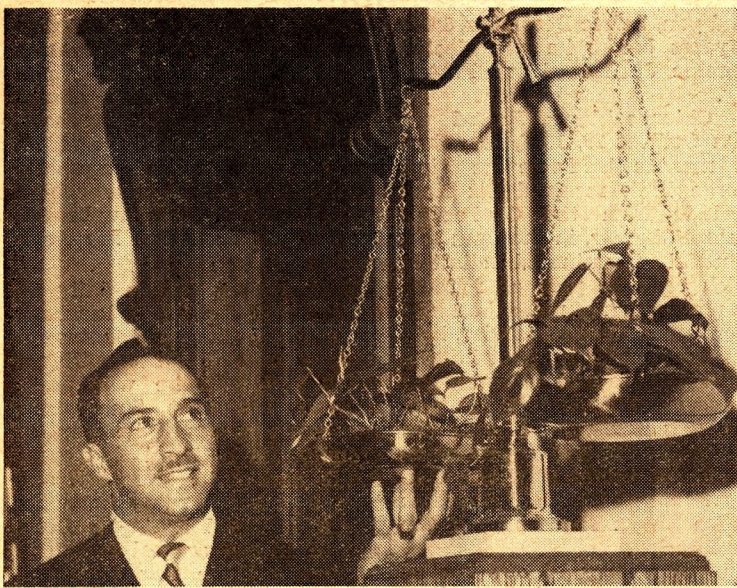

Present at the luncheon were Houston Thompson, former Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission; Thomas Lynch, General Counsel, Treasury Department; Carville E. Benson, Assistant Dean, George Washington University Law School; Robert E. Redding, Supreme Marshal; Donald R. Moore, District XII Justice; Donald Hutson, Student Justice, District XII; Robert M. Van Horn, Justice, Jay Chapter; and other outstanding PADs. A number of 1957 PAD graduates attended the luncheon as guests of the Alumni Chapter.

New Alumni Officers Introduced And Committee Chairmen Announced

Mr. Robert E. Losch, Justice of the D. C. Alumni Chapter, introduced his fellow officers for the 1957-1958 Chapter year, who are Joseph T. McDonnell, Vice Justice; Edward G. Fenwick, Jr., Clerk; James McCullough, Treasurer; and George A. Garvey, Marshall. Committee chairmen for the year are as follows: Honorable Joseph R. Jackson, Steering Committee; Harold C. Nystrom and Professor Bernard F. Garvey, Co-Chairmen, Awards Committee; George F. Lewin and Richard M. Roberts, Co-Chairmen, Placement Committee; Elliott I. Pollock and Henry Shur, Co-Chairmen, Program Committee; William B. Robertson, Membership Contact Committee; Garland P. Thompson, Public Relations Committee; David Venable, Jay Chapter Liaison; and Harold Mortimer, Taft Chapter Liaison.

Outstanding Program for 1957-1958 Chapter Year Planned

In addition to regular luncheon meetings, the program planned for the forthcoming year includes a Judiciary Reception to be held at the Cosmos Club on Saturday, December 14, 1957, and a Congressional Reception tentatively set for March 7, 1958.

"SCALES OF JUSTICE," which Judge Mitchel D. Johns, of Denver, had installed in Denver Superior Court, are admired by him. The nearly seven foot scales, made of marble, oak and brass and planted with ivy, add an esthetic touch in the otherwise austere room. Judge Johns, a member of Gunter Chapter at the University of Colorado, tells visitors that the "SCALES OF JUSTICE" are depicted in the seal of Denver Superior Court and are symbolic of the court's purpose—"Equal Justice to All." The Judge is 42 and is the only Judge to serve in the Denver Superior Court since it was created in early 1954. He handles all appeals from the Municipal Court plus varied other civil matters.

a member of Story Chapter, DePaul University, and Campbell Chapter, University of Michigan, of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, and

WHEREAS, George E. Fink served the fraternity in many capacities over the years, including that of its Supreme Justice from 1923 to 1925, and

WHEREAS, we desire to express appreciation for his devotion, enthusiasm and love for the fraternity, and

WHEREAS, we feel deeply the loss of this sincere and great leader of the fraternity,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the fraternity and the Executive Secretary be and he is hereby directed to forward a copy to the family of George E. Fink and to reprint it in the next issue of The Reporter.

WHEREAS, the Supreme Justice of the greatest fraternity of all summoned Sydney B. Meyer from his earthly tasks on March 27, 1957, and

WHEREAS, Sydney B. Meyer was a member of Fuller Chapter, Northwestern University, and

WHEREAS, Sydney B. Meyer was one of the founders of our great fraternity, and

WHEREAS, Sydney B. Meyer was in attendance at the 1956 Cleveland Convention and was a source of inspiration for all in attendance, and

WHEREAS, we feel deeply the loss of this sincere and great founder of the fraternity,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the fraternity and the Executive Secretary be and he is hereby directed to forward a copy to the family of Sydney B. Meyer and to reprint it in the next issue of The Reporter.

Ludwick Passes Suddenly

City and California for 20-odd years and also served with the War Production Board. He resided at "Marwick", a large farm located north of Washington with a spacious farmhouse, extensive outbuildings, beautiful guesthouse, and the many rolling fields and green landscapes for which Maryland is so famous.

At "Marwick", Brother Ludwick really enjoyed life. There he lived with his closest friend for many years standing, Ken Allen, who is widely known throughout the east as a distinguished interior designer. Brother Ludwick gradually earned the reputation of being one of the finest chefs in all of Washington, a man who knew cooking from apples to zucchini.

On many occasions, Brother Ludwick played host to members of PAD from all over the world. Frequent parties were held at his spacious farmhouse for the local active chapters in the area. In 1953, he was host to the Supreme Executive Board during its annual meeting held in Washington.

Brother Ludwick was an accomplished horseman, having been a member for many years of Rancheros Vistadores, an exclusive riding group on the West Coast.

In addition to this, Frank's personal records disclose a constant association with innumerable high personages in official Washington, ranging all the way from the judiciary and Capitol Hill, to the Cabinet and White House. His name appeared many times in Washington society columns which reflected his close association with the Who's Who of Washington, irrespective of political affiliations.

Thus, Frank and "Marwick" were well known to the President and Mrs. Eisenhower, former President Truman, Vice President Nixon, Sherman Adams, Chief Justice Warren, Justice Tom Clark, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, Postmaster General Summerfield, Attorney General Brownell, Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of Agriculture Benson, Governor McKeldin of Maryland, Jim Haggerty, Homer Gruenther, Secretary of the Interior Seaton, Wilton B. Persons, Commissioner Camalier of the District of Columbia, Senator Knowland, Senator Long, Senator Chavez, Perle Mesta, and other notables to numerous to mention.

Brother Ludwick also enjoyed the distinction of attending one of the President's famous stag dinners held at the White House on May 19, 1954.

Although Brother Ludwick has now passed away, his work in the fraternity will long be remembered. His remains now rest in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D. C., and his many years of time, effort and personal expense devoted to PAD stand as a shining example of his devotion to the brotherhood of man. One of PAD's finest sons has left this earth.

Supreme Marshal

duties and obligations of an attorney and counsellor-at-law."

But then, George Fink's life was Phi Alpha Delta and he will always live in the fond memory of all PAD Brothers who had the good fortune to know him. To know him was to love him, and to the Brothers of the Chicago Alumni Chapter, which he founded (it being the first alumni chapter to be chartered by the Supreme Executive Board), George Fink will never die, and as always, he will be ever affectionately known as the "Grand-daddy of PAD."

Held Many Offices

The following are some of the offices Brother Fink held in the Fraternity: Supreme Treasurer 1907-08; President of Chicago Alumni Chapter (1912); member of Board of Tribunes (1921-23); Supreme Justice (1923-25); Chairman, Board of Tribunes (1925-27); member, Supreme Advisory Board (1925-57); member, Board of Tribunes (1930-34).

The following is an editorial excerpt from the Phi Alpha Delta Quarterly for December, 1911: "In this issue appears the portrait of Brother George E. Fink—a patriarch in Phi Alpha Delta, whose untiring efforts in behalf of the Order have materially advanced its interests and in no little measure contributed to make it the greatest legal fraternity in the world."

Then follows a review of his labors in our glorious cause, ending on this note: "Truly, Brother Fink is a 'little' man of 'big' consequence," and all this, mind you, before December, 1911, 12 years before he was elected Supreme Justice of our Fraternity.

Chicago Alumni Award

On October 29, 1956, less than six months before he died, George Fink received his final accolade from the Chicago Alumni Chapter, in the form of a beautiful illuminated citation, which read in part as follows, "In recognition of more than half a century of devoted service, help and leadership in contributing to the welfare and advancement of our great Fraternity, we present this testimonial with the sincere thanks and appreciation of all the Brothers of the Chicago Alumni Chapter." Supreme Justice Elwyn Thomas made the presentation.

In the history of our Fraternity, the name of Brother George E. Fink will always be legend, as one who contributed heroic service in the building of an edifice which is the heritage of every Brother in Phi Alpha Delta. He was the repository of the entire lore and ritual of our Order. Truly fond of his Brothers he was a kindly man, with ever an outstretched hand to help a member of P.A.D., and legion were the brothers who beat a path to his door.

George was never known to miss a funeral service of a departed brother in the Chicago area and he personally distributed the purple and black funeral badges of the Fraternity on each such occasion. And by the same token he never missed a summer or golf outing of the Chicago Alumni Chapter.

After World Wars I and II,

Brother Fink played an important role in the reactivation of many chapters of Phi Alpha Delta. He was seldom absent from a convention or other meeting of the Fraternity and on many occasions he personally arranged for the P.A.D. luncheons and smokers at the annual meetings of the American Bar Association.

Brother Fink was in daily attendance at the P.A.D. luncheon table of the Chicago Bar Association, a custom he established years ago, and he was never without his Past Supreme Justice's pin, which he wore so proudly. He believed that every P.A.D. should be identified and long ago arranged to have the Greek letters Phi Alpha Delta appear in our annual listing in Sullivan's State Bar Directory, together with a complete listing of the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all officers of the Chicago Alumni Chapter.

A modest man of great humility, he would meet you at an appointed time and place, "God be willing." Even in death, his stature will never grow less for he loved Phi Alpha Delta as few Brothers ever have before him. Well it may be said that his life and works exemplified all and everything that P.A.D. stands for. Through all his years, and without complaint he bore them well, his intense love for Phi Alpha Delta burned with an all consuming flame. Next to God and family, Phi Alpha Delta was his destiny.
