U. S. Supreme Court Justice Speaks at District XI Conclave

Livingston Chapter of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity at the Columbia University School of Law was host to the District XI Conclave on March 21-22, 1958. The highlight of the Conclave was the Banquet held on Saturday evening, March 22, 1958 at the Hotel Statler in New York City. The Honorable Tom C. Clark, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States was the guest of honor and the principal speaker.

The Conclave got under way on Friday afternoon, March 21, 1958, when the delegates convened at the Columbia Law School on Morningside Heights in New York City. Many of the delegates from afar had to fight their way through the worst New York blizzard of the season, but at registration time, as if by pre-arranged plan, the weather cleared and remained excellent throughout the Conclave. Supreme Treasurer Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Marshal Robert E. Redding, District XI Justice Lewis W. Morse, and delegates from the Wilson Chapter at Cornell, Roberts Chapter at Temple, Carmody Chapter at Syracuse, De Bracton Chapter at St. Johns, Rapallo Chapter at New York University, Jackson Chapter at Rutgers and the Livingston Chapter at Columbia were in attendance.

Musical Staged

On Friday evening a reception and cocktail party in honor of the visiting delegates was held at the Columbia Law School. Fraternity members from the New York City Chapters, faculty members, alumni and their ladies attended in large numbers and set the stage for the hours of fellowship and practical business to follow. After the reception, the party adjourned en masse to a theatre party to view the Columbia Law School Revue Musical Comedy production "Around the Law in Eighty Ways." Starring in this annual production were the Fraternity's two faculty advisers at Columbia: Professor Monrad G. (two-gun) Paulsen and Professor James P. (the reasonable jurist) Gifford. A choice block of seats had been reserved for the Fraternity and the show served to heighten the evening's festivities. Afterwards, a post-theater supper was held at the oldest restaurant in New York's Chinatown. Lee's Restaurant is owned and operated by Calvin Lee, Marshal of the Livingston Chapter. Confidentially, he provided too wide an assortment of delicacies and just too much to eat. One by one they sank back in their seats to watch in amazement as a few hardy souls literally ate their way through an endless series of courses. As the clocks chimed three, new found friends bade each other good night and looked forward to the morrow.

Professional Activities Report

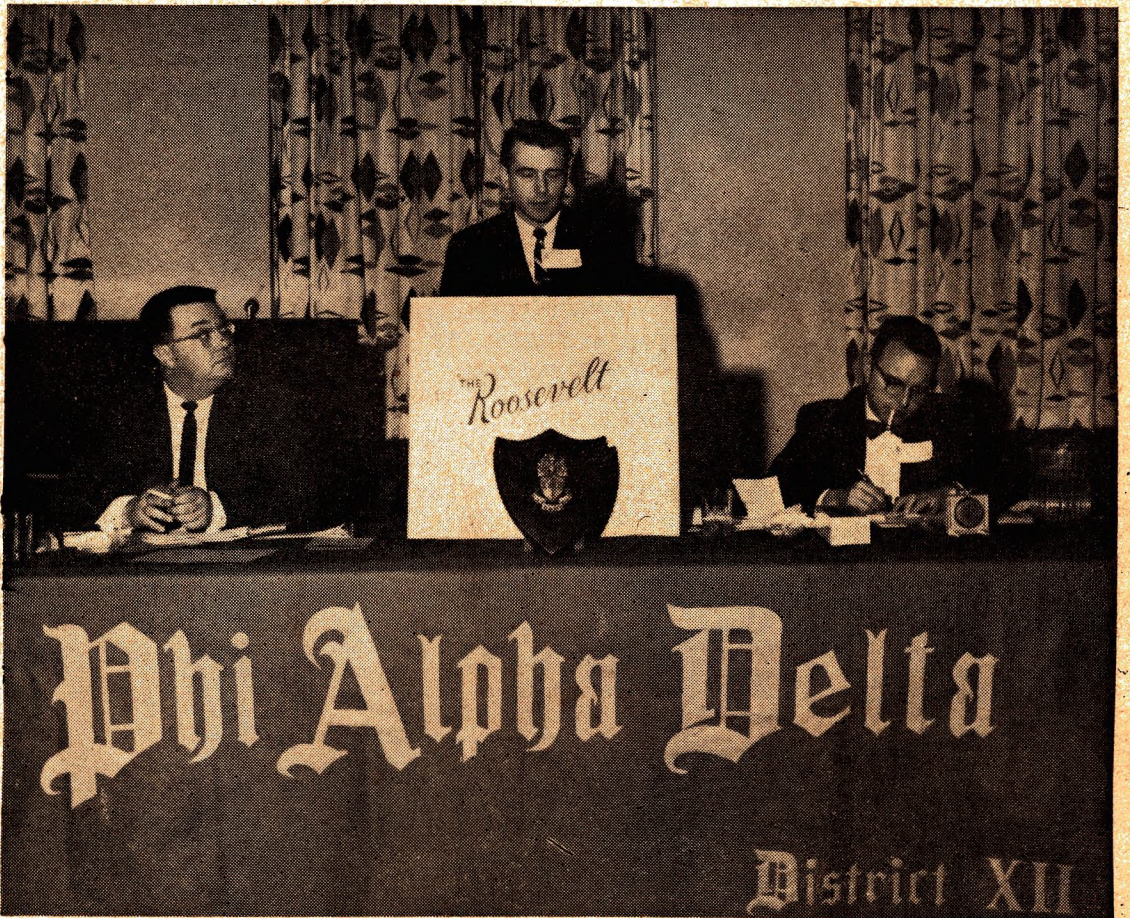

The opening business session was held at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, March 22, 1958 at Columbia, at which time each Chapter reported on its past year's activities and future plans. In the informal discussions that followed, Supreme Marshal Redding informed the delegates of the condition of the Chapter at Rutgers and reported on his previous day's visit thereto and also gave a preliminary report on the Fraternity's Survey of Professional Activities conducted by each chapter. The report graphically showed that although many potential chapter activities had been assumed by the Law Schools themselves, there was still a wide field of service to the profession that each chapter could undertake.

Later in the morning, an informal discussion and workshop concerning Legal Employment Opportunities in New York City was conducted by Mrs. Ruth B. Traynor, Placement Director at the Columbia Law School. The delegates were surprised to learn of the paucity of organized placement activities at many of the law schools, and it was felt that District activity in this field could be productive.

Supreme Marshal Robert E. Redding addressed the assemblage at luncheon. His topic was "13 Hours of Decision" and he related the nearly forty princ-

District XII In Large Conclave Attendance

The Roosevelt Hotel in Washington, D.C., was the scene of the Ninth Annual District XII Conclave February 28—March 1. Nearly 100 delegates from all the active and alumni chapters in the District were treated to an outstanding program which was hosted by John Jay Chapter of George Washington University, with the active assistance of Taft Chapter of Georgetown University and the District of Columbia Alumni Chapter.

In addition to the business sessions, other notable events were the honorary initiation of and address by the Honorable Lister Hill, United States Senator from Alabama; the keynote address by Brother Thomas J. O'Connell, a prominent government attorney, and the Conclave luncheon address by Brother Joseph Bulman, well-known trial attorney.

Senator Hill Initiated

The culmination of the week-end activities was the banquet at which Senator Hill was initiated as an honorary member of John Jay Chapter. District Justice Donald R. Moore acted as toastmaster at this affair and administered the oath to Senator Hill, who then addressed the group on the subject of "America on Trial."

At the conclusion of these ceremonies the delegates repaired to the main ballroom for the Conclave dance, with music provided by Ed Pierce's Orchestra, a well-known group which had the honor of playing at the President's inaugural ball.

The Conclave luncheon, toastmastered by Supreme Marshal Robert E. Redding, was the occasion for the address by Brother Joseph Bulman, a former professor of law at George Washington University, and one of the most outstanding trial attorneys in the East. Brother Bulman discussed some of the practical problems and considerations in "The Trial of a Negligence Case." He advised the delegates that notwithstanding what appears in television and other mass media, a case is won with preparation in the law office, not with the slick tactic in the courtroom. He stated that the law of negligence is very simple, and he stressed the importance of utilizing facts in each particular case. In that regard he urged that the attorney personally interview and take statements of all witnesses, as well as visit the location of the incident. Brother Bulman also mentioned the importance of first impressions at the trial. Specifically, he noted the value of making a favorable impression upon the jury at the voir dire and of using the strongest witness first in the presentation of the case. In summary, he declared that the attorney must base his presentation on the strength of his own case rather than on any supposed weakness in his opponent's case.

The opening session of the Conclave featured the keynote address by Brother Tom O'Connell, former professor of law at Georgetown University, former Assistant U.S. Attorney, and presently the Assistant General Counsel, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. Brother O'Connell discussed "The Trial of a Criminal Case" commenting on the role of the attorney from the moment of his

Louisville Site Of District IX Conclave

Louisville, Kentucky was the site of the District IX Conclave on February 21 and 22, 1958. Host chapter was Vinson Chapter at the University of Louisville, with Student District Justice Martin Liebman, of Vinson Chapter, acting as General Chairman of the Conclave.

The week-end meeting was opened with a reception and cocktail party at the 235 Club, with Louisville alumni as hosts. The occasion served as an ice breaker and an opportunity for delegates to the Conclave to become better acquainted.

The lovely ladies of PAD (PAD Wives' Auxiliary) helped to liven things up a little Saturday morning when they conducted registration for the Conclave.

Presiding at the Saturday morning session was PAD Dean William B. Peden, of the University of Louisville. Judge Lawrence S. Grauman, himself a PAD, delivered the welcoming address.

Round table discussions on such items as pledging, initiation and rushing, inter-chapter relations, and chapter programs and social activities, were participated in with a great deal of interest and enthusiasm.

The keynote address of the Conclave was delivered by the PAD Dean of the University School of Law, W. L. Matthews.

The featured speaker at the luncheon was Supreme Marshal Robert E. Redding, who spoke on "Where Your $25.00 Initiation Fee Goes."

During the afternoon business session, delegates voted to hold the 1959 Conclave in Lexington, Kentucky, with Clay Chapter at the University as the host. The following student officers were elected: Justice, Charles Goss (Clay); Vice Justice, Clifton Duncan (Vinson); Clerk, Robert Harrod (Clay); Treasurer, Robert Fisher (Vinson); and Marshal, Charles Brandt (McKinley).

Rounding out the Conclave in fine style was an excellent dinner-dance in the Oak Room of the Seelback Hotel. United States Congressman John M. Robison, from the Louisville district, was the principal speaker, and Brother Dan Boone, performed masterfully as Toastmaster. The dinner-dance saw 95 enthusiastic PADs in attendance.

Message From The Supreme Justice

To those who are now, and who will soon be, members of the Bar:

Every law school dean with whom I have discussed the matter has assured me, unequivocally and unhesitatingly, that the chapter of Phi Alpha Delta at his college was making a definite, valuable, contribution to the success of the institution. Having heard the report repeatedly, and not having heard a dissent, I feel confident in accepting the situation as a premise for the plea this message will contain.

Before reaching the point, it seems fitting to stress the value of the position the fraternity has attained. Not only is it a means of fostering associations of the finest character but its existence is fully justified, aside from social contacts, as an agency for furthering the curricular of the law schools, therefore, vicariously, improving the profession itself.

One who enters earnestly in the activities of the law school is the better equipped to participate effectively in the programs of the bar associations with which he should become affiliated once the dread examinations have been met and conquered.

These programs are many and varied. There is no occasion to enumerate them here, or even to list a few. I ask that you hear me or but one of them, the eternal struggle to improve the administration of justice. And I narrow the subject even farther by referring to the Section of Judicial Administration of the American Bar Association.

I truly hope that you will join the Association when you enter upon your career. And you who will be new attorneys and you who are already practicing but are not yet members, I urge to join the Section of Judicial Administration when you are enrolled as a member of the Association.

For many long years those who belong to the Section have striven to better the judicial process wherever it is needed and, inasmuch as we humans never attain perfection but only approach it, the need is everywhere.

The Section operates on a very modest budget and the only practicable way appreciably to increase its income is to enlarge the membership. The cost of a membership is the meager sum of $3 a year. If you will pay that small amount annually you will participate in a perennial movement to make justice more expeditious, more inexpensive and more sure.

The chairmanship of the Section is now in the able hands of Justice Tom C. Clark, himself a P.A.D. The other officers are Judges Emory H. Niles, Thomas

HON. ELWYN THOMAS

M. Powers, Philbrick McCoy, Walter V. Schaefer, vice-chairmen, Mr. C. Frank Reifsnider, secretary, and Mr. James C. Toomey, director of state activities. Serving on the council, the board of directors so to speak, are: Judges Stephen Chandler, James Alger Fee, Ivan Lee Holt, Bolitha J. Laws, John R. Dethmers, and David W. Peck, Mr. Leland L. Tolman and the writer.

The delegate of the Section to the House of Delegates is Judge Douglas L. Edmonds, a former Supreme Justice of P.A.D.

If you "join up" these men and the many other members will give you a hearty welcome and the assurance that your investment will be used wisely; if you wish to respond to this plea, a coupon for your use is printed in this issue of the Reporter.

This is my last request—and the last of my letters to appear in the Reporter because my administration will end in September. Let I do not get to tell you personally I say now, in writing, thanks for the opportunity you gave me to serve, thanks for the many happy hours spent in splendid companionship, thanks for the opportunity to meet so many fine deans and professors, thanks for everything.

Jay Chapter Sponsors Outstanding Programs

John Jay Chapter continued its diversified program of legal, professional, and social activities, opening the Spring Semester with the first professional meeting being held at the Willard Hotel, on February 13. The speaker was Judge Warren E. Burger of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, who spoke on "The Right of Everyman to Counsel: The Role of the Public Defender." The importance of this subject was emphasized by the earnestness and conviction of the speaker. The talk provoked an interesting response from the audience in the question and answer period that followed. Among other notables present were the Assistant Dean of the Law School and the Chapter's Advisor, C. D. Benson, and Professor Reid Hambrick. An Active get acquainted program was carried on by the more than fifty brothers present, giving the guests a chance to find out what PAD is really like.

The annual Spring Congressional Reception, the highlight of the year, was held on Friday, March 7, at the Acacia Fraternity House. Alumni members of PAD now serving in Congress were honored for their contributions to the legal and legislative fields. Among the distinguished guests present were Senator John Sparkman and Representative Brooks Hays. Some thirty guests enjoyed the hospitality extended by the Chapter. The final touch of elegance was added by the hors d'oeuvres prepared and served by the PAD Wives Club rounding out the evening of cocktails and congeniality.

The final professional meeting of the semester was held March 27, at the Acacia House. Assistant of Patents, Maurice A. Crews, substituting for Commissioner Watson, who was called away at the last minute, spoke on a subject of extreme interest to a large number of those present, "The Current Practices in the Patent Office and Prosecution of Applications." Because of the number of students affected by patent work, audience participation in the form of questions provided an interesting and informative meeting. Following the scheduled events, refreshments provided a good chance for the brothers and guests to mingle and become better acquainted.

Final events scheduled for the Spring Semester include such important affairs as the Formal Pledging on April 11, with a large group of pledges expected. The gala social affair of each semester, the dinner-dance, will

D. C. Alumni Addressed By Professor Leo A. Huard

On Monday, February 24, 1958, Professor Leo A. Huard, Georgetown University Law School, addressed approximately fifty members and guests of the Washington, D. C., Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, at a luncheon meeting held at the Touchdown Club, Washington, D. C., on the activities and functions of the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight.

The subject of Professor Huard's speech was particularly timely when presented, since the Legislative Oversight Committee was in the daily newspaper headlines by virtue of information developed as to the activities of certain officials from the administrative agencies.

Professor Huard pointed out to the luncheon group that the broad objectives of the Committee were less sensational and that it was the original intention to conduct a research project to determine whether the administrative agencies were following the intent of Congress with respect to their implementations and interpretations of statutes. It was urged by the speaker that the Congress establish an independent agency under the control of the Congress to review administrative rulings in accordance with established criteria prior to their becoming effective, since agency rulings are highly important and affect the lives of large numbers of people. Such review, in the opinion of Professor Huard, would insure greater compliance with the intent of Congress. Matters of internal agency procedure would not be subject to review.

Distinguished persons present included among others Donald Dawson (Jay Chapter), former Administrative Assistant to President Harry S. Truman, and his guest, Charles Edward Rowe, Justice, District Court of Eastern Franklin, Massachusetts, and former Director, Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

be held at Bolling Air Force Base Officer's Club, Saturday, April 19. To the strains of the Glenn Miller Air Force Band, the brothers, pledges, and their guests will mingle in an atmosphere of good fellowship, conviviality, and fraternal goodwill. The impressive and formal initiation ceremony will be held in the old Supreme Court Chamber in the Capitol Building on April 27. After the formal proceedings the brothers, both old and new, will meet over good food, joining together in true PAD spirit in honor of those just newly initiated.

DISTRICT V MEETS IN NEW ORLEANS; EXTRATERRITORIAL EXPANSION URGED

The fifth district Conclave of Phi Alpha Delta was held on February 7-9, 1958 in New Orleans, Louisiana with Martin Chapter of Tulane University acting as host. Schools represented were Vanderbilt, University of Alabama, Cumberland, Tulane, University of Mississippi and University of Tennessee. District Justice T. Julian Skinner and Supreme Justice Elwyn Thomas contributed of their time and effort to make the conclave a tremendous success. District Student Justice James J. Cox of Martin Chapter presided.

The delegates were guests of the Falstaff Brewing Company at a beer party held in their honor on Friday night following registration.

Chapters Report

The business portion of the conclave got underway at 9 a.m. Saturday morning at the Tulane Alumni House where Cafe Royale and doughnuts were served. Reports from the various chapter delegates were given and considerable benefit was derived from a comparison of progress and problems of the different chapters. It was determined at this time that there were 148 active members and 56 pledges in the Fifth District. Justice Thomas gave a brief survey of the work of the national fraternity following the chapter reports.

Outstanding Panel

Next on the agenda was a panel discussion on the Louisiana Criminal Code, the most modern of its kind. The panel was composed of Professor Leon Sarpy of Loyola University, New Orleans, one of the original draftsmen of the Code; Mike Culligan, chairman, Criminal Law Section of the Louisiana Bar Association; Judge J. Bernard Cocke, Criminal District Judge of Orleans Parish;

James McGovern, secretary, Orleans Parish Criminal Bar Association; and Charles E. Deichmann, State Senator from Orleans Parish. Walter Landry of Tulane served as moderator of the discussion which gave the delegates an insight into the viewpoints of professor, legislator and judge concerning the drafting, application and revision of a modern codal system of law.

Dean Forrester Speaker

At a luncheon held in Bruff Commons following the panel, Dean Ray Forrester of Tulane welcomed the delegates and praised the work of Martin Chapter during the year, pointing out that the law fraternity had an important function in the life of the law school. Ray Abbaticchio, Jr., Special Agent in Charge of the F.B.I. in New Orleans was the guest speaker and spoke on the problems and accomplishments of the lawyer in F.B.I. work.

Extraterritorial Expansion Urged

The business meeting was continued after the luncheon at which time Bill Wood of Vanderbilt was selected new district student justice and Vanderbilt named as 1959 host school. Tulane introduced a motion that it was the consensus of the Fifth District of Phi Alpha Delta that the fraternity should be extended extraterritorially through an amendment to the Constitution of Phi Alpha Delta, and it was passed unanimously after considerable discussion. Tulane pointed out that concrete plans have been laid for founding chapters in Athens, Greece and Geneva, Switzerland. The matter will be pursued further at the National Convention in Philadelphia this summer. Prior to the adjournment of the business meeting Justice Skinner gave a brief talk on conditions in the district.

The delegates then proceeded to Delmonico's Restaurant for cocktails and a banquet, at which Supreme Justice Elwyn Thomas was guest speaker. The banquet was attended by the wives and dates of the delegates and distinguished guests were introduced by Student Justice James J. Cox.

Closing of the day's activities was a dance party in the home of Nikky Barranger in the French Quarter of New Orleans, followed by a tour of the Quarter.

Many of the delegates remained in New Orleans through Sunday to attend church and join in the beginning of the Mardi Gras festivities, including the first Mardi Gras parades of the season.

Harno Honored

Dean Albert J. Harno (U. of Illinois), presently acting Dean at the University of California School of Law in Los Angeles, was recently honored by the Fellows of the American Bar Foundation "for outstanding research by an individual in law and government." The honor came at the organization's annual meeting in Atlanta February 22-23.

SUPREME JUSTICE ELWYN THOMAS delivers keynote address at District V banquet at Delmonico's Restaurant in New Orleans, Louisiana.

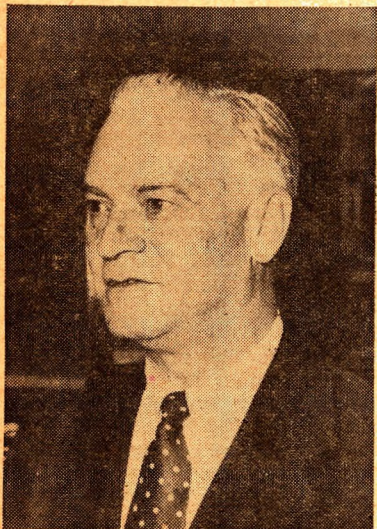

Past Supreme Justice Green Dies; Was Former Illinois Governor

With the untimely passing of Past Supreme Justice, Dwight H. Green, of Chicago, Illinois, on February 20, 1958, Phi Alpha Delta lost one of its most illustrious brothers.

Born Dwight Herbert Green, at Legonier, Indiana on January 9, 1897, Brother Green graduated from elementary and high school there, later attending Wabash College at Crawfordsville, Indiana.

Here he starred on the baseball and football teams and, somehow, picked up the nickname "Pete", by which he was affectionately known for the rest of his life.

If it had not been for the start of World War I in 1917, Pete may have realized his ambition to be big league baseball player. However, in his sophomore year he enlisted in the Aviation Corps of the U. S. Army where he was commissioned a lieutenant and served as flight instructor.

DWIGHT H. GREEN

After his discharge from the service in 1919, he studied at Stanford University where he became a member of Holmes Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, but, after the end of one quarter, he entered the University of Chicago and there, in 1920 received his bachelor of philosophy degree and in 1922 his degree of doctor of jurisprudence.

In the same year Pete was admitted to the Illinois bar, practicing in Chicago until 1926 when he was appointed special attorney in the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Washington.

Surviving our beloved and lamented brother are his widow Mabel Green, nee Mabel Victoria Kingston, and his two daughters, Gloria, and Nancy, now the wife of Dr. James B. Gilbert of Alexandria, Va., and two granddaughters. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary Shearer of Chicago.

Prosecuted Al Capone

Pete Green will always be best remembered as the gang-busting prosecutor of "Scarface" Al Capone, the prosecutor, who, on October 17, 1931, sent the most notorious gangster of all time, to the Federal Penitentiary. Of his many accomplishments, Governor Green took greatest pride in the Capone conviction.

It is said that during this famous trial, Capone himself nodded towards the prosecutor and was overheard to remark: "If I had that guy defending me I wouldn't have a worry in the world."

In 1937 Brother Green was the youngest man ever named to the post of United States Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois.

Although a novice in politics, in 1939, Dwight H. Green, was the Republican candidate for mayor of Chicago. While he was defeated, he polled more than 638,000 votes and convinced Republican slatemakers that they had a future winner.

Elected Governor

The very next year, 1940, Brother Green was elected Governor of Illinois and in 1944 was re-elected for a second term. The phenomenon was, that Green, a Republican, was twice elected governor while Roosevelt swept the state on the Democratic Presidential ticket.

1948 saw Governor Green the keynote speaker at the Republican National Convention in Philadelphia where he was a dark-horse candidate for the nomination for president.

The following are some of the offices Brother Green held in the Fraternity: Supreme Historian (1921-23); Supreme Vice Justice (1934-36); Supreme Justice (1936-38); Chairman, Board of Tribunes (1938-46); Member, Board of Tribunes (1946-48); Member, Supreme Advisory Board (1938-58).

While Governor of Illinois, he led a pilgrimage to Washington to induct Tom C. Clark, then Attorney General, into Phi Alpha Delta and addressed at the Mayflower Hotel, one of the greatest P.A.D. banquets ever held in the Capitol.

In 1956, in the full flower of health and just shortly before he was stricken, our esteemed brother Pete Green delivered the banquet address on the occasion of the reactivation of the Marshall Chapter at the University of Chicago. And as Pete said at that time, "nothing in my entire career gives me more pleasure than to see Marshall Chapter (where I was Justice for two years and lived at the Chapter House) again take its rightful place upon the campus of a great university."

Many were the times the Chicago Alumni Chapter made the rafters ring for Pete with, "He's a damn fine man." On October 17, 1941, the greatest dinner meeting ever held by the Chapter honored Dwight H. Green, Governor of Illinois, as the "Man of Destiny."

Supreme Justice J. Harry Labrum was present and Brother Michael L. Igoe, Judge of the United States Court for the Northern District of Illinois acted as toastmaster. In all the history of Phi Alpha Delta few brothers were ever given a more heartfelt and deserving accolade.

The recipient of many honors during his public life, Brother Green wore them well, never losing the common touch. During a 1956 appearance before the U. S. Senate Investigating Committee on scandals in government, Senator Fullbright of Arkansas asked Green how he wished to be addressed—as "Mr. Governor" or as "Mr. Green."

"Just call me Pete," was the reply.

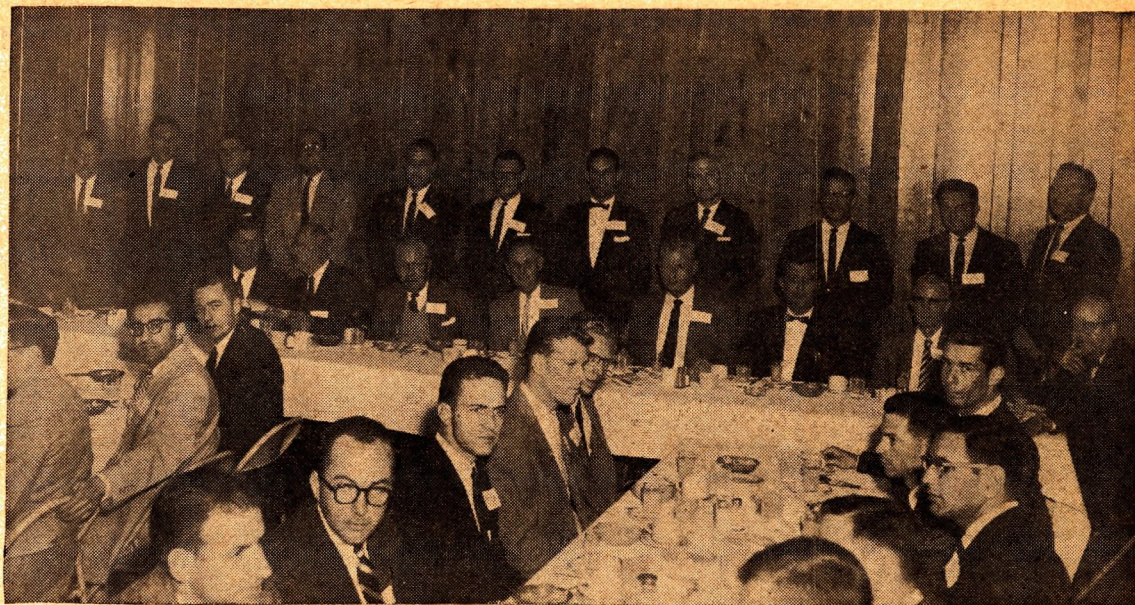

At his passing, Governor William G. Stratton of Illinois said, "All of Illinois is grieved at the death of Dwight H. Green, distinguished and devoted citizen of our state. His outstanding record of public service as our wartime governor will honor the pages of history."

If one had to sum up the character of Dwight H. Green in a single word, that word would be "kind," for he never did a mean or unkind thing. Yet, his kindness, even his gentleness, was coupled with courage of the highest order. From the time he won prominence in his fight against another scourge, his bravery was never in question—not even by his political enemies.

Yes, Pete Green was a man of immense loyalty, compassion and kindness. He had thousands of friends and he never forgot them.

Phi Alpha Delta will never forget him.

Capelle H. Damrell
Past Justice,
Chicago Alumni Chapter.

District X Meets In Florida

The District 10 Conclave held in Tallahassee, Florida at the Cherokee Hotel on March 21-22, 1958 proved to be most interesting and instructive. The delegates arrived on Friday evening and were welcomed by District Justice Tom Henderson and Supreme Justice Elwyn Thomas at an informal open house at the hotel. During the evening a number of local PAD alumni dropped by to meet the delegates and to discuss fraternity matters. Alumni William Daniel and William Merritt assisted by Joe Nesbitt and Wilson Wright served as a hospitality committee in behalf of local alumni.

Henderson Opens Conclave

The Conclave on Saturday morning was presided over by District Justice Tom Henderson, who, after expressing greetings to the delegates assembled, introduced Supreme Justice Elwyn Thomas who gave a most inspiring address on the values of fraternity activities, in connection with the preparation for the practice of law, in the law school and as an alumnus. Justice Thomas quoted statistics on the growth of the fraternity and called attention to the expansion of the fraternity and the acceptance of Phi Alpha Delta Fraternity among the deans and law professors throughout the nation. Following Supreme Justice Thomas address, the guests were welcomed by Richard W. Ervin, PAD Attorney General of Florida, who together with a number of local alumni formed a panel for discussion of important and timely subjects. Among those who took part on the morning panel were: Richard Mitchell, member of the House of Representatives of Florida, Assistant Attorneys General Odis M. Henderson, John Blair, Robert J. Kelly, former Judge Lawrence Renfro, and Attorneys Julius Parker and William (Bill) Daniel.

The morning discussion as it related to fraternity training and activities covered among the subjects, relation of a chapter and its members to the Appellate Court to Administrative State Legal Work to Criminal Procedure and Practice, and some advice to young attorneys, particularly to seniors present who plan to go immediately into the practice of law.

Former Governor Speaks

The luncheon was sponsored by the local PAD's, each assuming as his guest one or two delegates. The principal speaker was PAD Millard Caldwell, former Governor of Florida, who spoke on the relationship of a lawyer to the courts mentioning the Supreme Court, its recent decisions, and other courts as a bulwark in our democratic process. Among the additional PAD Alumni who were present at the luncheon were: Stan Brandimore, Clyde Atkinson, G. M. Weichelt, Tom Carroll, Reeves Bowen, Bill Weeks, Bob Ervin, Martin McGee, Judge W. May Walker, Bill Harris, Leo Foster, Justice T. Frank Hobson, Justice Harris Drew, and Justice B. K. Roberts of the Supreme Court.

Following the luncheon the delegates met with District Justice Tom Henderson and spent two and one-half hours discussing fraternity problems. It was decided almost unanimously among the delegates that more emphasis should be given to the question of rushing by encouraging the chapter members to start on the first day of school to become acquainted with the freshmen law students. By assisting them in becoming acclimated to school life in the law school, giving them a glad-hand, a pleasant smile, that much of the rushing problems would be eliminated later on, and time could be saved through earlier personal contacts. The problems of financing and securing a cross-section of the law school were also mentioned. The work of the Justice and particularly the Clerk in connection with making prompt reports and financial arrangements with the National office was given considerable attention.

Following this meeting at 5:30 p.m., the delegates were given a personally conducted tour through the Supreme Court building and the Capitol building in Tallahassee. Alumnus Julius F. Parker invited all delegates, all local alumni, members of the Supreme Court and members of the District Court of Appeals to a cocktail and buffet supper at his home. Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Parker and their son Fred. This climaxed a most enjoyable and profitable Conclave.

The Conclave was attended by 29 local alumni and 25 delegates. In addition to the above named alumni, the following delegates attended from District 10:

University of Georgia (Stephens), Robert A. Cronin, John Karas, Denny Galis, Horace L. Cheek, Jr.; Stetson University (Brewer), George Mettler, John Mankin, Ed. Walton, Jr., Charles F. Mixon, Jr., Roy M. Speer, Jr., Joseph W. Gross, Dean Nelson; Mercer University (Fish), E. Paul Brigman, Jr., J. Milton Harrison, George Kushenka, Antonio Doganiero;

University of Florida (Fletcher), Leon Stromire, C. R. (Pete) McDonald, Jr., C. Vernon Mize, Jr., Alan Kornbluh, Donald S. Reisman, Leonard Fleet; University of Miami (Rasco), Lawrence P. Kuvin, Owen Freed; Emory University (Keener) Richard Reynolds, Robert F. Lewis.

Personal Injury Trial Highlights District I Conclave

District One's fourth annual conclave, held in Portland, Oregon, on April 12, 1958, was highlighted by a reenactment of a personal injury trial, in which the attorneys and several of the witnesses were those who had participated in the actual trial some months previously.

Brother J. Kelly Farris portrayed himself in the role of plaintiff's attorney, Brother K. C. Tanner sat as the trial judge and brother Ken Poole portrayed the defendant. Mr. Robert H. Hollister of Portland appeared for the defendant, as he had done when the actual case was tried. Special thanks should also go to Drs. John L. Maxer and Lawrence J. Cohen who contributed their valuable time to add a touch of instructive realism to the trial, and to the real-life plaintiff and his wife who were kind enough to reappear as witness.

After a hard-fought courtroom battle, the jury of delegates from various active chapters returned a verdict for the plaintiff, with an amount less than the actual verdict in the case. During an informal question and answer period following the trial, delegates enjoyed an opportunity to gain further insight into trial tactics. Dr. Cohen, who participated in the question and answer period, gave the conclave the benefit of the views of an experienced medical expert on how to best utilize medical and other expert testimony, and also graphically described modern procedure for reduction of a compound fracture of the femur.

Griffith, Nickell, McCarroll

A luncheon for the delegates and their guests was held in the Castilian Room of Portland's Heathman Hotel. Brother Tolbert H. McCarroll, Clerk of the Portland Alumni Chapter and Chairman of the Conclave Committee, spoke briefly but movingly on the subject of alumni dues, and introduced District Justice George Nickell of Seattle who, in turn, introduced Supreme First Vice-Justice John L. Griffith of Denver, Colorado. Brother Griffith described with examples from his own experience the significance of Phi Alpha Delta, and urged delegates to attend this year's National Convention in Pittsburgh.

The conclave business session, originally scheduled to follow the moot trial, was held during an extended recess in the afternoon session of the trial. District Justice George Nickell described certain problems of the fraternity on the national and district levels, and spoke of the benefits active chapters may achieve by full utilization of national fraternity programs and resources. Delegates from the various active chapters described the programs of their respective chapters during the current year. Brother Gil Kleweno spoke for Kent Chapter, University of Idaho, Brother Jim O'Connor told of the program at Dunbar Chapter, University of Washington, and Brother Greg Hornecker described the activities of Williams Chapter, University of Oregon.

Following the moot trial, Williams Chapter conducted initiation ceremonies for new members:

Concluding the official program of the conclave were a cocktail hour and banquet in the Georgian Room of the Heathman Hotel. Featured speaker was Brother Richard R. Carney of Portland, whose topic was "Practice Before Congressional Committees." Brother Carney, who has had wide experience before Congressional Committees, focused on the basic problems faced by a lawyer who is called upon to represent a client appearing before an investigating committee.

The well-organized program of the conclave was the result of the outstanding leadership of George Nickell, District Justice, Tolbert H. McCarroll, Conclave Committee Chairman, and Vice-Chairman Herman L. Lind. This leadership was implemented by the integrated teamwork of committee members Wayne Annala, B.B. Bouneff, Alan H. Johansen, Edwin J. Peterson and Kenneth A. Poole, and of the many other active and alumni members who contributed generously of their time and means.

Judge James H. Gray Dies

Brother James H. Gray, a former Judge of the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, passed away on December 20, 1957. PADS who attended the 1956 Cleveland convention will well remember Judge Gray, who attended the convention and spoke to the brothers assembled.

Judge Gray, since 1938, was associated with his son, James D. Gray, in the private practice of law. He was 85 years of age and was in active practice until last Thanksgiving when he suffered a coronary attack.

Brother Gray was a member of the American Judicature Society, the Board of Trustees of the Western Theological Seminary, the Board of Trustees of Pennsylvania State Penitentiary, Masonic Lodge, and had been an Elder in the 6th Presbyterian Church for 40 years.

PAD Succeeds PAD on Kansas Supreme Court

It was PAD succeeding PAD in Kansas recently, when Dean Schuyler Jackson of the Washburn University School of Law, was named to fill the Kansas Supreme Court vacancy created by the resignation of ex-Governor Fred Hall. Brother Hall resigned as a Supreme Court Justice in order to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor.

Hall was elected Governor of Kansas in 1954 and then was defeated when he sought renomination in 1956.

To complete the sweep by PADS, Brother Howard A. Jones was appointed Dean of Washburn Law School to take the place of Schuyler Jackson, who went to the Supreme Court. Jones received his AB from Washburn in 1928 and his JD from Northwestern in 1930. From 1930 to the present, he has been a lecturer in the School of Law. He served as President of the Topeka Bar Association from 1953 to 1954.

Milwaukee Alumni Elect

The Milwaukee Alumni Chapter on December 18, 1957, elected the following officers to serve for the year 1958: Justice, Sheldon Lubar; Vice Justice Paul M. Meissner; Treasurer, Carl E. Dietze; and Clerk, Bernard Kubale.

"New Pittsburgh" Site of 32nd Biennial Convention

Plans have now crystallized for the 32nd biennial convention of the fraternity, which will be held September 3-5, 1958, in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. The Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter will be host to delegates from 78 active chapters and 42 alumni chapters from across the country.

Selected as the headquarters hotel has been the Penn-Sheraton Hotel, formerly the William Penn, Pittsburgh's leading hotel.

Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter Convention Chairman, Judge John G. Brosky, has announced an outstanding schedule of entertainment, including interesting trips and tours for both the members of the fraternity and their wives. Entertainment features will include a convention reception, a tour of the Heinz plant, one of the local steel mills, the Cathedral of Learning, the Cultural Center surrounding the University of Pittsburgh, activities centered around the Gateway Center, and the Greater Pittsburgh Airport. Expected to be one of the most popular events will be a tour for both men and women, by boat, on the river, beginning at the Gateway Center. A PAD tradition will be continued with the holding of a convention dinner-dance with an orchestra and a choral group.

Supreme Court Justice to Speak

Of special interest to all PADs is the announcement that United States Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, himself a PAD, expects to be the featured convention speaker. It is anticipated that he will address the delegates at the convention luncheon on September 4, on a topic of major importance.

Special ladies' entertainment is being arranged by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter, and all wives of members are urged to attend, as a most enjoyable time is assured.

The convention proper will open at 9 o'clock a.m. on Wednesday, September 3. However, all members attending are urged to be present on the evening of the 2nd so as to be able to partake of fraternal fellowship at various receptions.

The three day meeting will feature special committee reports on matters of importance to all active and alumni chapters, as well as a chapter workshop. All delegates will be given an opportunity to participate in the affairs of the convention.

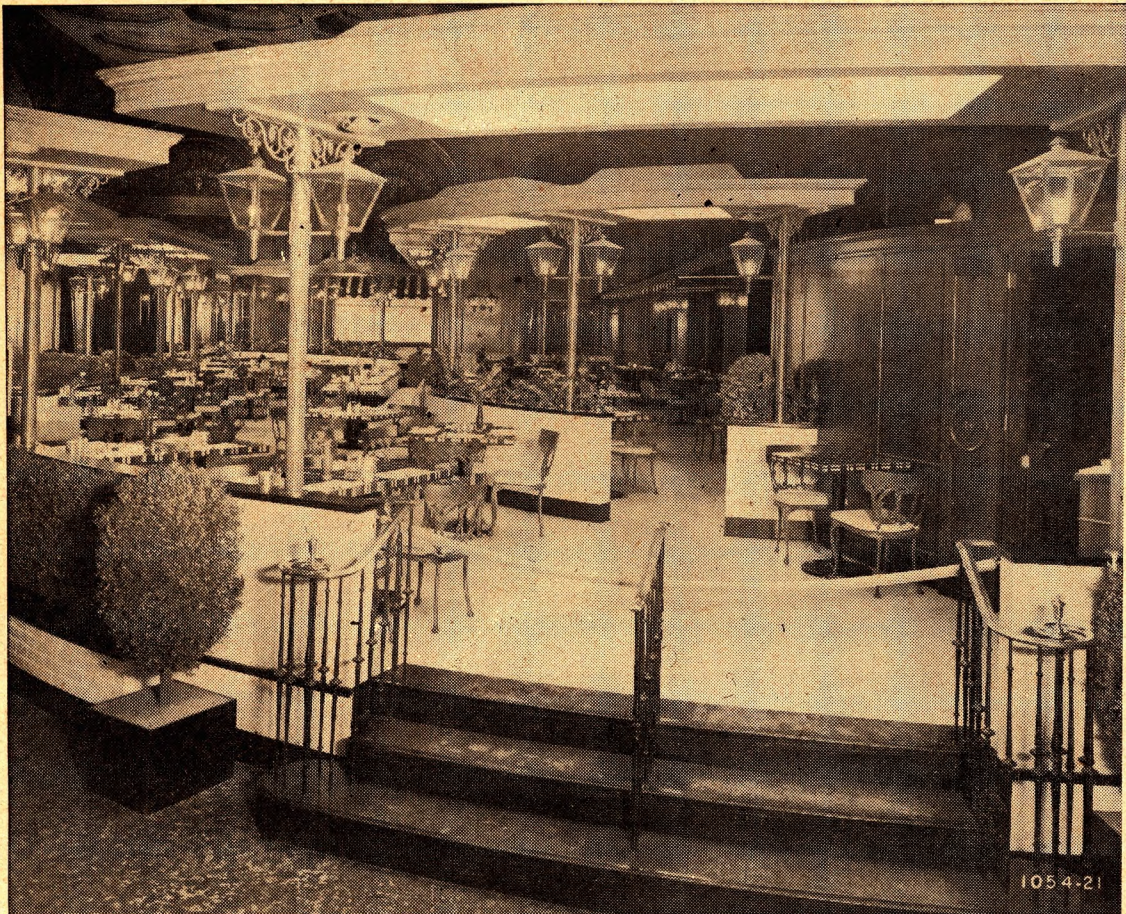

Active chapters are entitled to send two delegates and two alternate delegates and as many other members as they may wish. The national fraternity pays an allowance to each active chapter, which is computed on the basis of the actual cost of first class railroad fare, upper berth rates, $4.00 subsistence for each day of travel to and from the convention, and also an hotel allowance.

Alumni chapters are entitled to one delegate and one alternate delegate. However, both active and alumni chapters have two votes each on all matters arising in convention.

It should be noted that in order for any chapter to have its delegates' credentials approved, it must have all of its reports filed and its affairs in good order. No alumni chapter may have its delegates' credentials approved unless its annual alumni tax is paid.

Pittsburgh promises to be one of the most congenial hosts any convention of the fraternity has ever seen. Pittsburgh is now known as "the new Pittsburgh." From the very tip of the new Point Park out to the fantastically lush new airport; through the business, industrial and resi-

FORD CHAPTER PADETTES FORMED

Last year, wives and fiancées of PAD actives were called together by the Ford Chapter Justice to discuss whether or not they would like to form an informal social club. The initial purpose of the club was simply to become better acquainted and to understand the problems of law wives. In September officers were elected and the name PADettes selected.

With the beginning of the Fall semester, all wives and fiancées of new students were invited to a tea sponsored by the PADettes. Subsequently, the PADettes have worked closely with Ford Chapter and assisted chapter members at several social gatherings.

One of the most recent programs for the PADettes is the adoption of a Home for Abandoned Children. It plans to sponsor activities such as an Easter Pary, which has already been held for the children.

dential areas along the new highways and parkways, the new Pittsburgh has emerged. Two of the true beauties of Pittsburgh are the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers.

Pittsburgh's unique civic center extends in all directions from the Cathedral of Learning, the world's only skyscraper university. Here delegates will find Schenley Park, with its conservatories, monuments and beautiful drives; Carnegie Institute; Carnegie Museum, Steven Collins Foster Memorial Hall; Mellon Institute; and Syria Mosque, home of the largest Masonic shrine in the world and of Pittsburgh's Symphony Orchestra.

Also located there are Carnegie of Technology, Mt. Mercy College for Women, Forbes Field, Pitt Stadium, and Pittsburgh's already large and ever expanding medical center.

One of the world's most impressive scenes is Pittsburgh's steel mills by night. This great

PADs Named Outstanding Kansas Legislators

Two PADs received a signal honor from their fellow legislators in the Kansas Senate and House recently. Brother Paul R. Wunsch (U. of Kansas), Senate President pro-tem, was praised for his "continued leadership."

Representative Robert Anderson (U. of Kansas City) received the plaudits of his compatriots in the House of Representatives as the outstanding member of that body.

It was the first time the Legislature had voted to pick the outstanding members in the House and Senate. The United Press conducted the poll.

giant of Pittsburgh's industry knows no day or night. Ceaselessly the sinews of a great nation are forged in its plants and mills.

Because of Pittsburgh's completely "new look," it has been tabbed as the most progressive city in America.

Top Judges Selected for National Essay Contest

The committee in charge of the 1958 Legal Essay Contest for the fraternity has announced the selection of a topflight panel of judges. Reviewing the essays submitted will be United States Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, Orrin B. Evans, Assistant Dean of the School of Law at the University of Southern California, and J. Harry LaBrum, Past Supreme Justice, former Mayor of Philadelphia, and practicing attorney in Philadelphia.

The general committee in charge of the Essay Contest is composed of Albert J. Harno, Acting Dean of UCLA School of Law; Judge Douglas L. Edmonds, United States Representative to the International Law Commission of the United Nations, and Matthews S. (Sandy) Rae, Los Angeles attorney.

TRI-CHAPTER INITIATION—Shown are the initiates and the initiating team for the tri-chapter initiation which was held February 8, 1958, by Benton, Benson and Green Chapters.

42 pledges from the Kansas, Washburn, and Kansas City University chapters were initiated into brotherhood at the Jackson County Courthouse, Kansas City, Missouri, Feb. 8, 1958.

The ceremony was followed by a Banquet at one of the finer Kansas City Restaurants, which was attended by over 100 brothers of PAD and many wives and girl friends. Guests at the Banquet included Marlin M. Volz, Dean of the K.C.U. School of Law, the Reverend Joseph Freeman, S.J., of Rockhurst College, Kansas City, Mo., and Brother Jay Gunnels, District Justice.

A surprise event of the evening was the presentation by the Benton Chapter, of a Testimonial Certificate to Brother Gerald L. Gore, Senior partner in the K.C., Mo law firm of Gore and Hepburn, graduate of K.C.U. Law School, and alumnus of the Benton Chapter, in recognition of his constant and outstanding devotion, interest and service to PAD in this area.

The Alumni Sponsor of the Initiate Class and our guest speaker for the Banquet was Brother Arthur Stanley, Jr. The subject of his speech was "Strive Mightily," and he delivered an inspiring challenge to all present to dedicate themselves to ever maintaining the high standards and lofty ideals that characterize the practice of Law both in the eyes of the general public and within our profession. He urged all to ever practice those virtues just extolled in our Initiation Ritual so that we may all be worthy of the title, Counsellor and Attorney at Law. A highly enjoyable time was had by all and this will in all probability become an annual affair.

CORNELL U. CHAPTER HAS BANNER YEAR

Wilson Chapter at Cornell University is completing one of its finest years of service to its members and the law school.

The chapter has as its avowed purposes: (1) to improve and better each member's tenure at the law school; (2) to beneficially aid the law school, and (3) advance Phi Alpha Delta locally, regionally, and nationally.

Last October the chapter held two luncheons with outstanding speakers and acquired a fine group of pledges. In November, the installation banquet took place at the lovely Taughannoch Inn in Cayuga Lake. Newly elected officers were installed and the principal speaker was the chapter's recent honorary initiate, New York Supreme Court Justice Clarence Briscoe.

In December, the chapter held its annual Christmas Ball, preceded by a cocktail party which was one of the highlights of the social season. At a chapter luncheon, Dean Gray Thoron, himself a PAD, was the principal speaker talking on: "Building a Law Practice."

The Spring semester saw an active rushing program put into effect which brought the desired results. In addition, the chapter held a pre-dance banquet and various luncheon affairs.

The highlight of the entire year for Wilson Chapter is the Robert S. Stevens lecture, and this year the featured speaker was a PAD brother, Governor Edmund S. Muskie, of Maine. Governor Muskie spoke on the topic "Do Politics and Convictions Mix?" The chapter presented a special plaque to Governor Muskie.

In addition to all of the foregoing, the chapter performs many other services to the law school, such as the awarding of a moot court cup, and conducting guided tours of the law school building.

Rex Hardy Celebrates PAD Golden Anniversary

Brother Rex Hardy, Past Supreme Justice of the fraternity, was royally feted by his Los Angeles Alumni brethren on February 27 at the Mona Lisa Restaurant in Los Angeles. The occasion was Brother Hardy's 50th Anniversary in PAD. It was in 1908 that Rex Hardy was initiated into Story Chapter at DePaul University. Subsequently, he transferred to the University of Southern California and helped form Ross Chapter at that law school.

It was a double barreled celebration, as he had only a few days before the banquet been named to the Superior Court bench by PAD Governor Goodwin J. Knight.

Representatives of the active chapters at the University of Southern California, UCLA, and Loyola University joined with the Los Angeles alumni to pay tribute to Brother Hardy.

Among the prominent PADs in attendance were Superior Court

San Diego Alumni Chapter To Be Formed

At a meeting of PADs held April 8 at the San Diego Club, in San Diego, California, it was determined to form a San Diego Alumni Chapter.

A nucleus group attended the luncheon and discussed charter plans and programs for the chapter. In attendance were U.S. District Judge James Carter, California Superior Court Judge Bonsall Noon, Municipal Court Judge James C. Toothaker, F. James Bear, Assistant Dean of U. of San Diego School of Law, John J. McCarthy, Bob Wohl, Bob Stahl, and Stafford Prante. Executive Secretary Fredrick J. Weitkamp traveled from Los Angeles to meet with the group and supply information from the National office.

Temporary officers chosen were Chairman, John J. McCarthy, Vice Chairman, F. James Bear, and Secretary-Treasurer, Stafford Prante.

Judges Clyde C. Triplett, William P. Haughton, Clark E. Stephens, Brody Ahlport, Aubrey N. Irwin, Jesse J. Frampton, John Shea, Joe Vickers, Herbert V. Walker, and Leon T. David, Judge Albert Lee Stephens, Chief Judge of the Ninth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals flew down from San Francisco especially to be present for the occasion. Municipal Court Judges present included Beryl O. Lippold, Newt Carnes, John Barnes and Vernon W. Hunt. Others present included Past Supreme Justice Douglas L. Edmonds formerly of the California Supreme Court, District III Justice Henry C. Rohr, and Executive Secretary Fredrick J. Weitkamp.

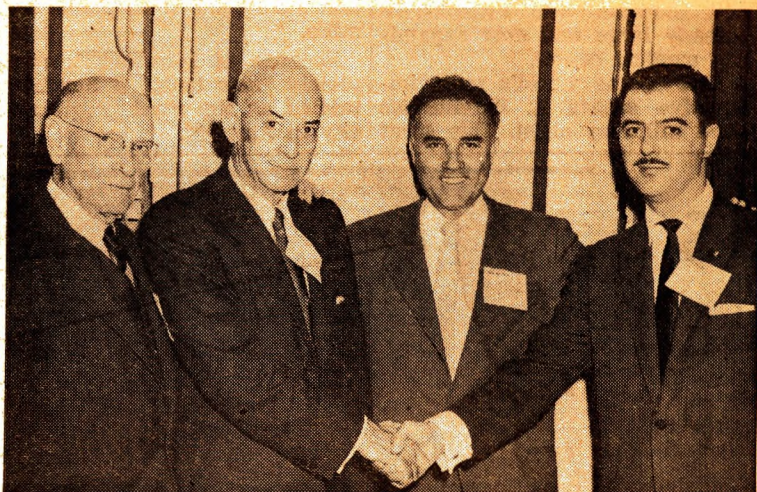

Earlier in the evening alumni attended the Spring initiation of Ross Chapter. The banquet then provided an excellent opportunity for the new initiates to meet some of the prominent alumni in the Los Angeles area. The banquet also provided Ross Chapter with an opportunity to install its newly elected officers. Approximately 200 attended the banquet meeting.

St. Petersburg PADs Have Busy Year

PADs in St. Petersburg, Florida, have been having an extremely busy year. The Supreme Executive Board has just approved a petition for an alumni chapter charter for PADs in the St. Petersburg area and the charter is scheduled to be presented by Richard Ervin, Attorney General of the State of Florida, as this issue of the Reporter is going to press.

The active chapter at Stetson College of Law is now 22 in number and it has had a banner year. A new innovation was the institution of a full book scholarship fund which has been well received. Luncheon meetings have been well attended and the chapter's rushing program has brought excellent results.

Al Cazin is Treasurer of the Student Bar Association and Roy Wagner is social chairman for that group. Joe Gross and Brittain Whitaker are Associate Justices of the Honor Court.

200 PADs gathered on February 27th to honor Rex Hardy, Past Supreme Justice, for his 50 years in PAD.

HONORARY MEMBER—Senator Lister Hill, of Alabama, is invested with the honorary alumni key by Donald R. Moore, Justice of District XII, at the District Conclave banquet.

Senator Hill Becomes Honorary PAD

The Honorable Lister Hill, senior Senator from Alabama, is now an honorary member of Jay Chapter, George Washington University. The ceremony was a highlight of the Ninth Annual District XII Conclave held February 28 - March 1 at the Roosevelt Hotel in Washington, D. C.

District Justice Donald R. Moore administered the oath at the Conclave banquet, which was attended by more than 100 District XII student and alumni delegates and their ladies. Also in attendance were fraternity notables, including Supreme Marshal Robert E. Redding, representing the Supreme Executive Board, and Past Supreme Vice Justice J. Westwood Smithers. Brother Moore presented the introductory remarks, the complete text of which was inserted in the Congressional Record March 18 by Brother John J. Sparkman, the junior Senator from Alabama.

Senator Hill addressed the group on the subject of "America on Trial." His provocative comments on the significance of the Russian advances in the race for outer space, and on the necessity that the United States develop leaders as well as scientists left a lasting impression upon the audience. He observed that in the past and present the field of law has been the source of an overwhelming number of our nation's leaders; in the future, America will continue to look to the legal profession for guidance and direction.

Senator Hill, a Democrat, has served in the United States Senate since January 10, 1938. He had been a member of the House of Representatives from August 14, 1923, until the date of his appointment to the Senate. He is the chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, and a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Senator Hill was graduated from the law schools of the University of Alabama and Columbia University, and is a member of the bar of the State of Alabama. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and has been the recipient of a number of honorary degrees.

Colorado Governor Initiated

Colorado Governor Stephen L. R. McNichols was initiated as an honorary member by Gunter Chapter at the University of Colorado, on February 28, 1958. Attending were Supreme Vice Justice John L. Griffith, of Denver, and District IV Justice C. Nelson Day, of Salt Lake City, Utah.

The initiation and banquet were presided over by Bill Baker, Gunter Chapter Justice. A goodly turn-out of alumni and active chapter members was had to welcome the popular Colorado governor into membership in PAD.

pal policy decisions made by the Supreme Board at their last annual meeting. His talk was of particular interest to the newer members present who had joined the Fraternity after the last biennial convention and who had only a vague conception of the importance of the functions performed by the National officers. Although Mr. Redding was too modest to acknowledge it, it was through his direct efforts that this District XI Conclave program became a reality. All the national officers stand as examples of service to the individual chapters as well as to the Fraternity on a National scale.

The afternoon program was commenced by a workshop concerning the "Building of a Law Library for the Young Lawyer." Representatives from the Lawyers Co-operative Publishing Company of Rochester, New York, made a special trip to New York City to lead this discussion and distributed valuable literature concerning the profession. One of the representatives: James A. Kelly was a brother of Phi Alpha Delta who found himself renewing old acquaintances at the Conclave, while the other representative, Eddie Klieger has had close contacts with some of the members who have purchased law books through his services in the past. All agreed, small initial budgets require a careful and judicious selection of an initial law library.

All delegates agreed also that to ensure permanent value from the discussions at the Conclave, mere resolutions were not enough. Specific action had to be taken in the areas needing their consideration. Therefore the following programs were adopted:

1. A committee was appointed, headed by Vinson Hayes, an alumnus of the Jackson chapter at Rutgers, to arrange a rushing function at that Law School to help to revitalize the chapter which has been beset with problems resulting from the discontinuance of one of the school's sessions. Specific arrangements were made to have the other chapters in the area represented at this function with additional assistance to be provided by the national office.

2. A placement committee was formed to prepare a paper to be presented at the National Convention to be held in September on the subject of the specific activities that could be sponsored by individual chapters and the District to a) encourage each Law School to provide adequate placement services, and b) to maintain close alumni contacts in their areas to promote placement activities.

3. To encourage direct progression for each brother from the student ranks into the alumni chapters, arrangements were made to have each chapter forward a complete list of graduating members to the nearest alumni chapter in their area. Justice John Wolf of the New York City Alumni Chapter led an interesting discussion in this area. It was noted that for the first time in recent years, there was close cooperation between the undergraduate and alumni chapters in the District, particularly New York City, this past year. Of course, the Philadelphia and Syracuse Alumni Chapters continued their active relationship.

4. Arrangements were made to have a Conclave Marshal appointed whose primary function would be to ensure prompt attendance at all functions by all delegates, whether local or from out of town.

1959 Conclave Site Selected

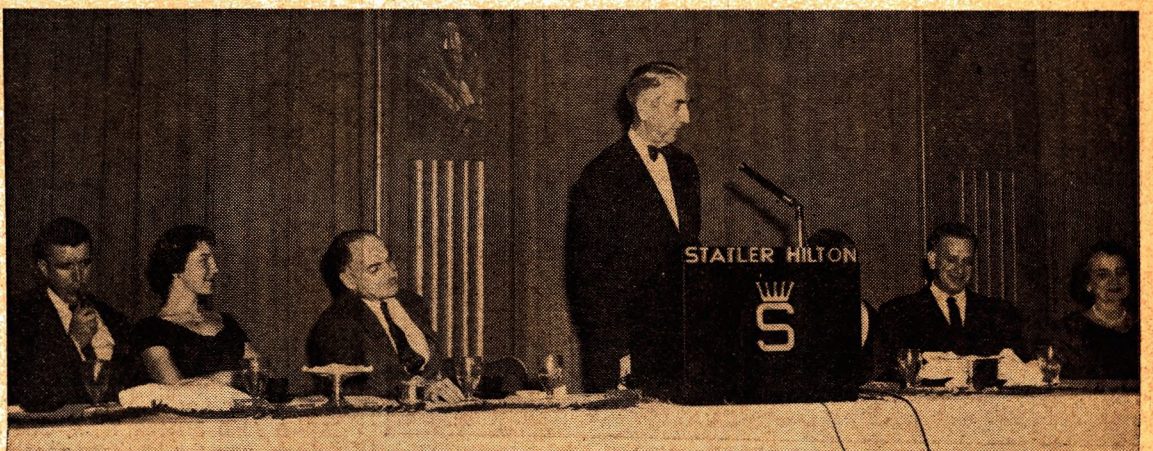

Syracuse University's Carmody Chapter was selected as the site of the next District Conclave. Brother Russo of the Carmody Chapter was elected as the new student Vice-Justice of District XI while Austin Canade of the De Bracton Chapter was elected clerk. Anthony Damiano of the Roberts Chapter was reelected as District Treasurer. Attention was focused on the National Convention in Pittsburgh in September.

Saturday Evening's activities commenced at the Skytop Room of the Hotel Statler when the De Bracton Chapter was elected clerk. Anthony Damiano of the Roberts Chapter was reelected as District Treasurer. Attention was focused on the National Convention in Pittsburgh in September.

As stated before, the Guest of Honor and principal speaker at the Banquet that followed was Justice Tom C. Clark of the Supreme Court of the United States. Supreme Marshal Robert E. Redding was the toastmaster and Supreme Treasurer Elden S. Magaw introduced the principal speaker. Those present in the crowded banquet hall were honored by a short address by Assemblyman Savarese followed by Justice Clark's speech. The Justice emphasized the importance of the defense of the indigent and the profession's responsibilities attendant thereto and also the characteristics and benefits of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity.

As a fitting conclusion to this memorable evening, a dance was planned to honor the ladies present including Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Magaw, Mrs. Savarese Jr. and the wives and guests of the alumni and students present. The band was on the floor and the baton was raised to flood the hall with music to dance by. Alas and alack, that baton never fell. A last minute labor jurisdictional dispute stopped the music before it began. If nothing else, it served to imprint this Conclave indelibly upon the minds of all who attended and those who wished they had been able to make it.

PAD DEAN ALBERT J. HARNO, of UCLA, congratulates Judge Ernest Tolin, of the United States District Court, upon his initiation as an honorary member of McKenna Chapter at UCLA.

Judge Tolin Honorary Initiate

U. S. District Judge Ernest Tolin was recently installed as an honorary member by McKenna Chapter at UCLA. The ceremonies were witnessed by PAD U. S. District Judges William Mathes and William J. Byrne as well as chapter members. PAD Dean Albert J. Harno of UCLA performed the ceremonies.

McKenna Chapter has attained undisputed first place in stature and size among the three legal fraternities at U. C. L. A. in 1957-58. The academic year began with an extremely successful Rushing Program that attracted 82 pledges of very high caliber to PAD. This represented over 65 per cent of all men who pledged a fraternity. The new pledges were honored at a stag immediately following the pledging ceremony.

Top Speakers

A variety of very interesting and informative speakers have been presented at the Chapter luncheons during the year. They included Laughlin E. Waters, U. S. Attorney; J. Edward Day, Vice-President of Prudential Insurance Company; Fred Otash, Private Investigator; and Philip Erbson, Past-President of the Criminal Courts Bar Association.

The social highlight of the year was the first annual Christmas Dinner-Dance. The affair was beautifully arranged at the Chapman-Park Hotel and was enjoyed immensely by the members, pledges, and their ladies. In the spring semester the pledges presented a stag for the Chapter at the local Schlitz Brewery featuring a tour of the plant, a barbeque dinner, and appropriate liquid refreshments. Late in April McKenna is participating in a Tri-Chapter Picnic in conjunction with Ross and Ford Chapters. To end the year in fitting fashion the Social Committee is tentatively planning a year-end party in June.

Seminars Instituted

In the scholastic realm, McKenna Chapter instituted a new series of seminars for first year students entitled "Controlled Practice in Analytic Technique." The primary purpose is to introduce new law students to the methodology and imagination necessary for success in law school rather than a review of substantive law. The first session, given during rushing, presented a panel of three top upperclassmen analyzing an examination question verbally as if they were preparing an answer. The over-all success of the program has been outstanding.

In connection with its relations with the Fraternity at large, the Chapter participated actively in the recent District Conclave in San Francisco. Richard Ellis, the Chapter Treasurer, gave a report on the Rushing Program. The success of the program elicited great interest and the report was very well received. Dick was honored at the Conclave by being elected as Vice-Justice of District III. The Chapter was well represented at the testimonial dinner for recently appointed Judge Rex Hardy, given by the Los Angeles Alumni and Ross Chapters.

The impact of Phi Alpha Delta on the U. C. L. A. scene has been notable this year. Twenty per cent of the Chapter are members of the Law Review, including the Editor-In-Chief and one of the Associate Editors. The Chapter also boasts the top two men in the second-year class and the second and third men in the third-year class. Two of the four finalists in the Roscoe Pound Moot Court Competition are PAD's. In the political arena, the Law Students' Association President and five of the eleven members of the Student Council are affiliated with PAD.

Past Supreme Justice Nangle Has 3 PAD Sons

Brother John J. Nangle, Past Supreme Justice of the fraternity, now boasts of three PAD sons.

John J. Nangle, Jr., is a member of J. L. Sullivan Chapter at St. Louis University and is presently Vice President of the Utilities Insurance Company.

Richard P. Nangle is a graduate of Georgetown University and is presently undertaking a night law school course at St. Louis University, where he is a member of John L. Sullivan Chapter.

The third son, Thomas G. Nangle, is 24 years of age and is attending Washburn University School of Law, where he holds his membership in Benson Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta.

Bise New Washington Court Administrator

Brother Albert C. Bise was recently appointed by unanimous agreement of the Washington Supreme Court to the post of Administrator for the courts. Bise is a graduate of the University of Washington School of

ALBERT C. BISE

Law, where he was a member of Dunbar Chapter and he has served as Justice of the Seattle Alumni Chapter from 1933 to 1935. From 1935 to 1957, he served as a special agent for the FBI. He served six of these years as Administrative Assistant to the Director, in Washington, D.C.

His duties will include the examining of administrative methods used by judges, clerks, court stenographers and other judicial officers throughout the state, examining the dockets and collecting of statistics and information relating to county and state budgets and the public expenditure of money, both state and local. He will report his findings directly to the Chief Justice.

client's arrest through arraignment and pretrial until the conclusion of the trial. For example, he suggested that a defense attorney personally contact the district attorney prior to trial in order to isolate the real issues. Moreover, he indicated that the district attorney is sometimes cooperative enough voluntarily to permit study of the file of the case against your client. Brother O'Connell also discussed the significance of the recent Mallory and Jencks cases.

While the social functions provided pleasant diversion and opportunity for social interchange among the brothers, the main purpose of the Conclave was accomplished at the business sessions. The goal was to broaden and strengthen the activities of the chapters of District XII. First, each chapter made a brief oral presentation of the advantages and problems of its most outstanding activity for the benefit and consideration of the other chapters. Then committees were appointed to formulate plans and initiate action on District XII projects such as Placement, and Expansion and Reactivation. The recommendations of these committees were presented to the body for implementation. The ideas and projects developed at this Conclave promise to contribute greatly to the progress of District XII.

The delegates selected Ruffin Chapter, University of North Carolina, as the host for the Tenth Annual District XII Conclave in the Spring of 1959 and elected the following Student District Officers for the coming years: Justice, Alfred E. Cleveland, III, Ruffin Chapter; Vice-Justice, James M. Farris, Timberlake Chapter; Clerk, George W. Coggin, Ruffin Chapter; Treasurer, Paul Sylvester, Ruffin Chapter, and Marshal, Ray Wicker, Pinckney Chapter.

The success of the Ninth Annual Conclave was in great measure the result of the efforts of Student District Justice Don Hutson, of Washington, D.C., and the other Student District Officers: Vice-Justice Howard Broughton, Chapel Hill, N.C.; Clerk Bennett Feigenbaum, Washington, D.C.; Treasurer Carl Love, Washington, D.C.; and Marshal Gordon Poindexter, Richmond, Va.

Each chapter in District XII was represented at the Conclave by at least two delegates. Among the out-of-town chapters, Henry and Ruffin tied for the largest registration, each sending 14 men. Pinckney Chapter, nearly 500 miles south of Washington, sent 5 delegates.

Chapter Justices attending included William Rhodes, Henry, University of Richmond; Laron Hyde, Jay, George Washington University; Henry de Butts, Jefferson, University of Virginia; William Rhoad, Pinckney, University of South Carolina; Alfred E. Cleveland, III, Ruffin, University of North Carolina; William Harvey, Taft, Georgetown University; Marion Benfield, Timberlake, Wake Forest College; John Messick, Wythe, College of William and Mary; James D. McMullan, Virginia State alumni; and Robert E. Losch, Washington (D.C.) alumni.

Monographs Feature Districts II and III Conclave

The eighth annual District II and III Joint Conclave was held March 28 and 29, 1958, in San Francisco, California. Headquarters for the Conclave was the Elks Club and host was the San Francisco Alumni Chapter.

Several national officers were in attendance, including Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray, District III Justice Henry C. Rohr, District II Justice John R. Griffin, and Executive Secretary Fredrick J. Weitkamp.

The traditional cocktail reception was held on Friday evening, and it served as an excellent means for the members and officers to become acquainted. Afterwards, many delegates went out to see the famous sights of San Francisco.

The first business session of the Conclave was called to order at 9:30 a.m. on March 29, by District II Justice John R. Griffin. As presiding officer he introduced the national, district and chapter officers in attendance, and appointed the District Nominating Committee.

The first monograph was on "The California State Bar" and was presented by Gerald P. Martin, an Oakland attorney, who is a member of the Committee of Bar Examiners. He outlined the structure of the Board of Governors, the committees and the procedure from the time an application is initially received until it is corrected.

The second monograph was delivered by San Francisco attorney Harold W. Tobin, on "The Local Bar Association." Mr. Tobin is President of the Conference of Barristers of the State Bar and State Chairman of the Jr. Bar Conference of the American Bar. He explained the advantages of membership in a local Bar Association and emphasized service as a motto for the young lawyer.

A three member panel discussed the topic "Attorneys and Their Service to the Community."

David A. Silver, Chief Counsel for the San Francisco Legal Aid Society outlined the Legal Aid program.

Abe Dresow, Chief Deputy of the Public Defender's Office, for the City and County of San Francisco, spoke on the important and extensive work that the Public Defender's office accomplishes. The third and final speaker was William M. Ferdon, San Francisco attorney, who spoke on the Federal Indigent Criminal Defense panels. He explained that the panel operates solely on a volunteer basis, which makes efficient administration difficult.

Matthew S. (Sandy) Rae, representing the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter, presided at the afternoon business session.

The Chapter Workshop was a principal item of business at the afternoon session. "The Role of Chapter Wives" was discussed by Jack DeMeo, Vice Justice of Temple Chapter at Hastings College of Law. Brother DeMeo stated that chapter wives should contribute towards forming a strong bond of friendship between different classes in the law school. He illustrated how this was accomplished at Temple Chapter by organizing a "Wives' Club."

Robert Dunn, of Matt I. Sullivan Chapter at the University of San Francisco, discussed the "Chapter in Competition with Evening Classes." Because of the large number of night students in his chapter, Brother Dunn stressed the importance of co-operation rather than competition with the night students.

The topic "An Efficient Rushing Program" was discussed by Richard Ellis, of McKenna Chapter at the University of California at Los Angeles. He pointed out that McKenna Chapter had pledged 83 men this year through a thorough rushing program in which all active members and many alumni participated.

J. D. Townsend, Justice of Holmes Chapter at Stanford University, discusses "The Senior Law Student Award." He stated that this was an award given by his chapter to the outstanding senior in the law school. The award had been well accepted by the law school administration and the student body and it served to provide the chapter with a great deal of valuable publicity.

William Anderson, of Field Chapter at the University of California, presented his views on "The Social Side of the Active Chapter." Brother Anderson stated that it was important to distinguish between married and single members, allowing for a few separate social functions for each group.

J. Brin Schulman, Justice of Ross Chapter at the University of Southern California, presented the subject "Legal Enlightenment At The Luncheon Table." He explained that a vital element in a successful luncheon program was the planning of a series of speakers who could develop similar topics or discuss different sides of the same topic. Ross Chapter's program, he stated, included members from the bench, bar and teachers and authors, covering a variety of approaches to the law.

The final workshop topic was discussed by Robert Castrada, delegate from Ford Chapter at Loyola University. He spoke on "How Students May Utilize the Alumni Chapter." Brother Castrada asserted that an aggressive committee was essential to successful cooperation between active and alumni members. Some of the benefits, he stated,

TOPEKA SITE DIST. VII CONCLAVE

The District VII annual Conclave was held in Topeka, Kansas, on February 21 and 22, 1958, with Benson Chapter, at Washburn University, as host.

The first business session of the Conclave was called to order on Saturday, February 22, by District Justice H. Jay Gunnels, Jr., of Kansas City, Missouri. He introduced Supreme Vice Justice Anthony A. DiGrazia, who was attending the Conclave representing the Supreme Executive Board.

The Conclave determined to establish a District bank account with the District Justice and the District Treasurer authorized to draw upon the account, to meet the necessary expenses for future Conclaves.

received by Ford Chapter included financial aid, job opportunities while in law school, and placement upon completion of law school. One of the chief contributions which he discussed was the advice and encouragement extended by the alumni.

A report by the national officers in attendance concluded the business sessions of the Conclave. Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray, Executive Secretary Fredrick J. Weitkamp, and District III Justice Henry C. Rohr, discussed various aspects of the national fraternity.

New student district officers who were elected, are as follows: Vice Justice, District II, Julius Debro (Matt I. Sullivan); Vice Justice, District III, Richard Ellis (McKenna); Clerk, David Overholt (Holmes), and Treasurer, John Merrill (Ross).

That evening came the highlight of the Conclave with the annual dinner-dance. Wives and dates of delegates were in attendance and enjoyed the "free bar" and the excellent music and dancing.

The subject of financing the District Conclaves was thoroughly discussed. All chapters remain in favor of continuing the $1.00 per active member assessment to assist in financing the Conclaves, with a maximum of $35.00 per chapter. It was also determined that with respect to future Conclaves an allowance should be given at the rate of $10.00 per official chapter delegate or mileage at 5c per mile, whichever amount should be the larger. It was also determined that the host chapter was to be excluded from the assessment and that no delegate from a delinquent chapter would be entitled to any allowance until the chapter's assessment had been received.

The Conclave set up a rotation system for hosting the annual Conclave, and future hosts were determined, as follows:

- 1959—St. Louis University
- 1960—Creighton University
- 1961—University of Kansas
- 1962—Drake University
- 1963—University of Missouri
- 1964—University of No. Dakota
- 1965—Kansas City University
- 1966—University of Iowa
- 1967—Washburn University

Brother Ira Delk, Justice of Hammond Chapter at the University of Iowa, was appointed to explore the possibility of adopting By-Laws for District VII and was requested to submit his report to District Justice Gunnels.

Reports from each chapter were submitted to Supreme Vice Justice Anthony A. DiGrazia and he offered various suggestions as to how each chapter could be improved.

The election of student officers saw the following men assume office: Justice, Mike Miller (Corliss); Clerk, Wendell Uhland (Benson), and Treasurer, Bill Eisler (Benton).
