DUNBAR CHAPTER (U. of Washington)

SUPREME COURT JUSTICE HUNTER SPEAKS

January 25th saw Dunbar Chapter on the University of Washington campus initiate seventeen pledges at their annual winter ceremonial. Recently appointed to the Washington Supreme Court, Justice Robert T. Hunter, PAD alum, was the featured speaker.

With Justice Richard Holt presiding at the ceremonies, the following were raised to active membership: Glendo B. Boothe, Duane Erickson, William Johnson, Jr., Wesley Uhlman, Jon Linfield, Joseph Eberharter, M. Gerald Herman, Leroy Borders, Robert Schillberg, Ivan Parkhurst, Richard Foreman, George Fiori, Pat Nicholson, Steffen Birkeland, Stanley Alper, James Alfieri and Arnie Barer.

Other officers in addition to Justice Holt taking part in the initiation were Bill Fraser, vice justice; James O'Connor, clerk; Richard Thompson, treasurer; and Ernest Kugota, marshal.

Plans for the trip to Olympia are set for March 24th. Lunch with the State Supreme Court and a full day of activities in the state capital. This yearly venture is one always enjoyed by the chapter.

Over twenty Dunbar members plan to attend the District Conclave to be held this spring in Portland. The two-day affair, with delegates' expenses paid by the district, should be a real function. The date is April 12th. We hope to see a big turnout from other PAD chapters in this area and be able to exchange ideas to put the district on the PAD map in a big way during the coming year.

Our professional program and rushing program have been satisfactorily combined in at least one activity: speakers' luncheons. With Pat Cook leading the way, the program has enjoyed an excellent reception by old and prospective members.

WILLIAM FRASER,
Vice-Justice.

KENT CHAPTER (U. of Idaho)

PAD STATE BAR PREXY SPEAKS AT FALL INSTITUTE

An activity of primary interest to members of Kent Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta this year was the Third Annual Fall Institute of the Idaho Bar Association which was scheduled in cooperation with the College of Law, University of Idaho. The Institute, under the auspices of the State Bar's Committee on Continuing Legal Education, was held on the Idaho Campus and provided an excellent opportunity for members of the Chapter to attend sessions on current legal problems discussed by practicing members of the Bar and others whose experience in particular fields was extremely informative.

The program emphasized the effects of legislation adopted at the 1957 Session of the Idaho Legislature. Speakers included

Thomas R. Walenta, Professor, College of Law, University of Idaho, and Robert I. Troxell of the Third District Bar, on "Review of Law and Background Re Suspension of the Power of Alienation and the Rule Against Perpetuities" and "Effect of the 1957 Amendment and Practical Application of Suspension of the Power of Alienation in Idaho"; James E. Newton, Regional Administrator of the Securities and Exchange Commission of Seattle, Washington, on "Problems in General Practice Under the Federal Securities Act and the Idaho Blue Sky Laws"; William J. Brockelbank, Professor, College of Law, University of Idaho, on "Idaho Uniform Gifts to Minors Acts"; and Weldon Schimke of the Clearwater Bar Association; George Nodell, Counsel for Prudential Insurance Company of America, and George Russell, Vice-President, Idaho Title Company, on various aspects of "Trust Deeds."

In order that the lighter side of the programming not be neglected, the College of Law sponsored an evening's entertainment in the form of a banquet and dance. The very capable toastmaster for this affair was Lamont Jones, a member of Phi Alpha Delta, who happily took the opportunity to be jocular at the expense of several of the attending professors of the College of Law. The principal speaker at the banquet was Gilbert C. St. Clair, another PAD and president of the Idaho Bar, who spoke on his recent trip to London to attend the American Bar Association meeting.

In a special initiation this fall, Kent Chapter welcomed as new members into the Brotherhood of Phi Alpha Delta, Lon F. Davis and Vern E. Herzog. The regular initiation for the year is to be held soon and several new members are to be added to the rolls of the Chapter.

The Chapter recently elected its new officers for the ensuing term. The new officers are: Jack Barrett, Justice; Peter Snow, Vice-Justice; Dick Weeks, Clerk; Gil Kleweno, Treasurer, and Edward Downen, Marshal.

PETER SNOW,
Vice-Justice.

FIELD CHAPTER (U. of California)

EMPHASIS IS ON PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS

Stephen J. Field Chapter of the University of California at Berkeley is presently enjoying one of its most active years. The singular success of the rushing program presaged a banner year for Field Chapter. The program featured a faculty reception for all first-year students at which Dean William L. Prosser presided and introduced the members of the faculty in his uniquely humorous fashion. The success of the rushing program is indicated by the fact that the Chapter, 1958 CONVENTION CITY—The beautiful city of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, (it's now smoke and smog-free) has been selected for the 1958 site for the National Convention of PAD. Circled in black is the Hotel Penn-Sheraton, which will be the fraternity's headquarters hotel.

Plans Forming For 1958 Convention

The Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter reports that plans for the 1958 National Convention of Phi Alpha Delta are rapidly taking form. Pittsburgh has been selected as the convention city and the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter has assured the Supreme Executive Board of one of the finest conventions PAD has ever seen. Dates of the convention are September 3, 4 and 5, and the headquarters hotel will be the Penn-Sheraton, formerly the William Penn.

The General Chairman of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter convention committee is Judge John G. Brosky. Members of his immediate committee are: C. Bryson Schreiner, Robert Riggs, Stephen R. Booher and Melvin Schwartz.

A special invitation is extended to the wives and sweethearts of PADs to attend. Interesting trips and programs are being arranged just for the ladies.

Active chapters are entitled to send two delegates and two alternates and as many guests as they desire. Each active chapter is given an allowance by the National Fraternity which is computed on the basis of the actual cost of first class railroad fare, upper berth rates, $4.00 subsistence for each day of travel to and from the convention, and also a hotel allowance for one delegate from each active chapter.

Alumni chapters are entitled to one delegate each and one alternate delegate. No alumni chapter may have its delegate seated on the convention floor unless its annual tax is paid.

Other Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter committees are as follows: Convention Finance: Francis S. McQuilkin, Oscar G. Peterson, Edward P. Good, James H. Gray, Edward C. Miller, Jr., Stephen Emery, Wayne Luce and Alexander H. Lindsay.

Convention Activities: Stephen R. Booher, Chairman. Other members to be elected.

LEGAL ESSAY CONTEST RULES ANNOUNCED

PADs MAY WIN $250 CASH PRIZES FOR WRITINGS

The first annual PAD Legal Essay Contest, offering a total of $250 in cash prizes to student members of the Fraternity, is now open to entries, according to the committee appointed by the Supreme Executive Board.

"The Fourteenth Amendment and the Bill of Rights—The First Eight Amendments and the States" is the subject of the contest, which is open to all Active Chapter members in good standing. The committee has announced a first prize of $175.00, a second prize of $50.00, and a third prize of $25.00.

The contest was authorized by the Supreme Executive Board in carrying out a mandate of the last biennial convention of the Fraternity. The project is a further expansion of the Fraternity's traditional emphasis upon professional activities of benefit to student members.

The committee in charge of the contest, appointed by Supreme Justice Elwyn Thomas, are Past Supreme Justice Douglas L. Edmonds (U. of So. Calif.), Dean Albert J. Harno (Yale U.), of the University of California at Los Angeles School of Law, and Matthew S. (Sandy) Rae (Duke), former National Field Representative, all of Los Angeles.

Entries, not to exceed 5,000 words in length, must be postmarked not later than midnight, May 1, 1958, and mailed to Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, c/o Sandy Rae, 523 West Sixth Street, Suite 737, Los Angeles 14, California. For the benefit of contestants, the committee has epitomized the announced subject as raising the question of to what extent the first eight amendments to the Federal Constitution circumscribe State action by embodiment in the Fourteenth Amendment.

Judges for the contest will be announced at a later date. It is contemplated that the winners will be announced at the 1958 Biennial Convention in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, September 3 through 5.

Detailed rules for the contest, as announced by the committee, are:

Eligibility: The contest will be open to all Active Chapter members of the Fraternity in good standing.

Subject: "The Fourteenth Amendment and the Bill of Rights—The First Eight Amendments and the States." To what extent do the first eight amendments to the Federal Constitution circumscribe State action by embodiment in the Fourteenth Amendment?

Prizes: First Prize, $175.00; Second Prize, $50.00; Third Prize, $25.00.

Length: Not to exceed 5,000 words.

Form and Copies: Entries must be typewritten, double-spaced. Legal size paper preferred. Four legible copies.

Miscellaneous: Entries must not have been previously published. Each entrant will be required to assign to the Fraternity all right, title and interest in the essay submitted. Essays submitted will not be returned.

Deadline: Entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, May 1, 1958.

Address: Entries must be mailed to Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, c/o Sandy Rae, 523 West Sixth Street, Suite 737, Los Angeles 14, California.

Judges: To be announced. Decision of Judges will be final.

Message From The Supreme Justice

To those who read the Reporter and those who listen to those who read the Reporter:

A national convention is a grand affair. It may be said, without violent inaccuracy, that it consists of a main tent and many side shows. And around the edges is much activity of a social nature with, toward the end of the meeting, a political tinge—all on the highest order.

In the main tent one can hear argument that is stimulating and oratory that is inspiring. Oldsters and youngsters mingle in the friendliest fashion and all seem to enjoy proceedings that are serious efforts to better the fraternity but are so spiced with clever and comical asides that no boredom creeps in. And frequently there are the slyest, most delicate attempts to confound and confuse the presiding officer with parliamentary tactics that make him wish he had been born earlier or later or, perhaps, not at all.

Before the performance opens in the main tent each day and after it closes, the side shows begin. Sometimes there is evidence of slight competition during what might be termed "business hours," but it cannot be denied that, interesting as the main show is, the recollections of the fine associations in the side shows may linger longer.

These qualities of a P.A.D. gathering must be traditional, that is, if a tradition can be established in 43 years for the memory of the many delightful experiences of this writer when he was a delegate to the convention in San Francisco in 1915 are still vivid, and occasionally comes the extreme pleasure of seeing or hearing from one of the men who made the assembly so happy and instructive.

September 3, 4 and 5 the fraternity meets again—this time at the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in Pittsburgh, bidden there by the Mayor of the city and a goodly number of men who are prepared and eager to make every P.A.D. visitor glad that he did not stay at home. The manager of the hostelry where the main tent will be erected assures all a cordial greeting, tender care and a rousing time. Everyone who comes will be privileged to set up his own side show; everyone he invites to the goings on will likely appear; if he is too lavish with his invitations, they will likely appear in force.

The point is: whether you are the newest initiate or the eldest elder statesman, why not toss a few things in your bag and start for Pittsburgh September second?

Programs that will interest you are being arranged. There will be music to soothe you and pretty girls to charm you and renewed acquaintances to intrigue you.

Present to keep things on an even keel and a steady course will be our perennial manager, mentor and factotum, Fred Weitkamp, who will bid you a hearty welcome immediately after you arrive and a cheery good-bye when the time comes to disband.

The members of the executive board join me in a cordial invitation to meet with the officers and delegates when they foregather in Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile, every possible good wish.

Fraternally,
ELWYN THOMAS,
Supreme Justice.

District II

presently consisting of forty-three active members, pledged fifty-five new members.

Field Chapter has traditionally placed great emphasis on its professional programs. This year the Speaker's Committee obtained several outstanding men in the legal profession as speakers at Chapter luncheons. Among these was J. Frank Coakley, the District Attorney of Alameda County. Mr. Coakley, in a very informative talk, explained the organization of the District Attorney's office, relating the practical everyday functions of the office to the legal theory with which law students are more familiar.

One of the most delightful speakers of the year was Professor Warren Seavey of Harvard Law School. Professor Seavey drew on his long experience as a teacher and scholar in delivering a most interesting talk. He spoke of his experiences in teaching in law schools throughout the United States and in Europe. During the latter part of the period, Professor Seavey entertained and answered all questions of the members, an undertaking for which his scholarly background and long experience uniquely equipped him.

On November 29, forty members of the Chapter were conducted on a complete tour of San Quentin Prison, arranged by the Chapter Workshop Committee. The visitors were taken through the prison shops, recreational and living areas, the hospital and the gas chamber. This tour was the first in a series that contemplates visits to courts, administrative hearings, the District Attorney's and Public Defender's offices and other legal facilities in the Bay Area.

The Professional Opportunities Survey is progressing, the committee having received answers to questionnaires sent to attorneys, local Bar Associations and Chambers of Commerce throughout the state. The committee is now assimilating the information and putting it into readily usable form. The survey is designed to complement the Law School's placement program by providing for all students in the school, many of whom come from out of state, information which will enable them to determine in what particular area of California they wish to practice.

Prior to the Christmas vacation the Scholarship Committee conducted a practice examination for the first-year pledges. A total of 25 took the examination. Each student taking the examination was given the opportunity to meet individually with the committee member who graded his answer. In these conferences the committee, composed of the members of the Law Review, sought to improve the examination technique of each student.

Professional activities have not been carried on to the exclusion of social activities. The Chapter had a very successful dinner-dance just prior to Thanksgiving. There have also been two exchange dances with women's groups as well as several informal afternoon beer parties.

In the early part of December,

Brother Frank Gray, the Supreme Secretary, made his annual visit to Field Chapter. Brother Gray had lunch with the officers and committee chairmen and discussed with them the activities of the Chapter.

Field Chapter is presently laying plans for the initiation banquet to be held in March in San Francisco. The banquet promises to be the largest given by the Chapter in recent years. Federal District Judge Oliver J. Carter of San Francisco will be speaker.

THOMAS F. OLSON,
Vice-Justice.

HOLMES CHAPTER

(Stanford University)

NINE ARE ON LAW REVIEW

Holmes Chapter, Stanford University, has recently welcomed four new members into the ranks. Formal initiation ceremonies were held on February 6, at the County Court House in Redwood City. The new members are: Ronald Bonaparte, Melvin J. Coben, Michael Schmeer and Robert Wager. Total active chapter membership is now at thirty-three. New pledges from the second-year class—George Haydon, Thomas King and John Montgomery—will be initiated soon.

Rushing of first-year students is now in full swing by all three national legal fraternities at Stanford. PAD's rushing program is in the capable hands of Andy Kjos and Bud Banner. Rushing parties were held on January 18 at L'Omelette Restaurant, and on January 28 at Bowman Alumni House on the campus. It is too early to tell the full results, but there appear to be quite a few joiners.

Two or three times each academic quarter the chapter holds luncheon meetings with a guest speaker from the Bench or Bar on some topic of interest to the law student. Attendance always runs high and members are permitted to bring non-member guests.

Holmes Chapter has at least one major social event each quarter. This quarter it will be a dinner-dance at Hunter's Point Naval Officer's Club in San Francisco on February 15. A beer-bust is scheduled for March 8.

Each spring a dinner is held to honor the recipient of the PAD outstanding senior award and the graduating members of the chapter. Prominent figures such as Governor Goodwin J. Knight have appeared as the main attraction in the past.

Nine members of Phi Alpha Delta are on the Stanford Law Review: Keith Pursel, Bill Raff, John Sobieski and Bill Hosler are members of the Editorial Board; and Larry Sheehan, Mike Schmeer, Jerry Kurtz, Sidney Picker and Jim Darrah are candidates for next year's Board.

Stanford Law Professors John B. Hurlbut, Harold Sheppard and Preston Silbaugh are PAD faculty members.

Chapter officers for the year are: J. D. Townsend, Justice; Bill Fundenberg, Vice-Justice; Dave Overholdt, Clerk; Jim Palmer, Treasurer; and Bill Raff, Marshall.

BILL FUNDENBERG,
Vice-Justice.

CHAPTER GOES ON TV

At the start of the school year in September we had, and still have, forty-one actives and have now twenty-seven pledges.

Our rushing activities which resulted in a fine crop of twenty-seven pledges included a beer-bust at Golden State Park with football, etc.; a dinner at the exotic Waikiki Beachcomer, where we had Attorney Jake Ehrlich give tips on the practice of law, a private dance, and a cocktail party at the world-famous Village in S. F.

Similar activities will be held this spring with the addition of a beer-bust at the Hamm's Sky Blue Waters Room with movies of the '49er Highlights arranged by Bill Kim, our publicity agent (and also publicity agent for the S.F. 49'ers). Due to our part in a television skit we will obtain free passes to see the movie, "Witness for the Prosecution," which will also be a rushing activity.

Our chapter is so active in school activities that it has been said we run the school. On the ten-member Student Council, PAD is represented by six members: Wm. F. Worthington, Vice President; Julien Hansen, Treasurer; Ralph Coffman, Secretary; Carlos P. Baker, Third-Year Representative; Robert Aguilar, Third-Year Representative; and Tony Bueno, Second-Year Representative.

On the California Club whose members are personally appointed by Robert G. Sproul of UC, are Jack DeMeo, Carlos Baker, Robert Aguilar, Willie Brown, Wm. Kim and Wm. Worthington.

On the Editorial Board of the Hastings Law Journal are Frank Kim and Dal Edgar. Among the Associates and Contributors are Ralph Coffman, Gerald Parent, Howard Shain, Robert Aguilar and Jess Aguilar.

Professional programs including speeches to student body by such figures as Senator William Knowland and Attorney General Pat Brown have been planned and carried out by our members on the Student Council rather than making them a fraternity function. A program planned by Jack DeMeo was given Bay Area television coverage over KRON-TV wherein the fraternity enacting a court scene decided that Miss Sue Speer was the girl we would least like to have as "Witness for the Prosecution."

Attempts are being made to have a medical-legal meeting between the PAD Legal Fraternity and Nu Sigma Medical Fraternity to discuss our mutual problems.

Election of officers will be held in the middle of March. Our present officers are: John DeMeo, Justice; Wm. F. Worthington, Vice Justice; Steve Haun, Clerk; Kenneth Wechsler, Treasurer; and Carlos P. Baker, Marshal.

THREE-FOURTHS OF FRESHMAN CLASS PLEDGED

Cordell Hull Chapter has doubled in strength this school year, pledging over three-fourths of the freshman class.

All officers of the Student Bar Association except one are PADs, and all freshman and senior class officers are PADs. Also, our Justice was recently elected 1st Vice Justice of this District.

We have monthly guest speakers who are all of prominence in the legal profession.

P.A.D. here sponsors a legal film program, showing legal films to the student body at no charge.

We have tours of the state prison, mental institution, Legislature, etc.

Also of mention is the second hand book store maintained by our chapter and the lending library that we have.

Another worthwhile project that we have is writing prospective students, enticing them to come to this school, offering services of members of P.A.D. to get them adjusted in a place to live, briefing them on what to expect, etc., if they decide to come—very effective!

We P.A.D.s of Cumberland have joint rush parties with Lurton Chapter at Vanderbilt University also, which is effective.

JAMES R. HAMRICK,
Justice.

LURTON CHAPTER

(Vanderbilt University)

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

Lurton Chapter has just recently elected officers for this spring semester, they are: Jack McNeil, Justice; John Nixon, Vice Justice; Stephen Meyer, Clerk; Louis Smigel, Treasurer; and Arnold Weiss, Marshal.

We are looking forward to several joint functions with Marshall Chapter this Spring in which each chapter will undertake trips to the others' school for the affairs.

Brother Nixon, an up and coming historian, has been conducting extensive research on the life of Stonewall Jackson about whom he is writing a biography.

Welcomed back from the service are Brothers Coplan, Lewart and Meyer. Brother Self participated in the National Moot Court competition in New York last fall representing Vanderbilt University and is now practicing Law in Meridian, Mississippi.

STEPHEN P. MEYER,
Clerk.

MARTIN CHAPTER

(Tulane University)

CONCLAVE WILL BE HOSTED BY CHAPTER

Martin Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity is located at Tulane University in the heart of New Orleans, Louisiana. As Martin Chapter is located in New Orleans, all the actives and pledges are currently looking forward to the annual Mardi Gras celebration which will be held on the eighteenth of February. The students at Tulane are given a two day holiday to join in the festivities.

After a declining year in 1955-56, a re-growth of membership has been realized during 1957-58 and the fall semester of the year 1957. The current membership of Martin Chapter numbers thirty-three brothers and pledges. This steady growth may be attributed to the ceaseless efforts of Justice James Cox. Brother Cox has spent endless hours in endeavoring to acquire new members and to raise Martin Chapter to the prominence it enjoyed some few years ago.

The above has been accomplished by an organized rush program under the direction of Brother Boyd Reeves and a series of luncheons at which many prominent members of the legal and political professions were present as speakers. These luncheons were open to the entire School of Law so that all interested students were free to attend. This created a great deal of interest among the prospective pledges as well as the entire student body.

At the beginning of the fall semester the incoming Freshman class was entertained with a beer party in the French Quarter in downtown New Orleans. At this party the various aspects of the fraternity were explained to the freshmen by the actives of the chapter. This party was a tremendous success.

The members of Martin Chapter are quite active in law school activities. James Cox is Vice-President of the Law School Student Association. He is also a member of the Tulane Law Review along with Richard Troy. Boyd Reeves is vice-president of the Junior class and Juan Perez-Castillo is secretary of the same class. David Harris is president of the Tulane University Chess Club.

It is of interest to note that the membership of Martin Chapter is composed of students from several different states as well as several different foreign countries. This is due to the fact that the students at Tulane School of Law are permitted to study either Common or Civil Law.

On the schedule for the immediate future at Tulane is the annual Fifth District Conclave which will be held in New Orleans. Delegates are expected from all the Phi Alpha Delta Chapters in the district.

The spring calendar shows many more luncheons with guest speakers, a tour of the Parish Prison, visits to the numerous Federal and State courts, and the annual spring banquet.

BOYD REEVES,
Vice-Justice.

McREYNOLDS CHAPTER

(U. of Tennessee)

DOTSON HEADS STUDENT BAR

McReynolds Chapter of P.A.D. at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, has made itself seen, felt and heard in the College of Law activities during the past six months. To begin with our membership continues to grow, and we now number 30 actives and pledges, with 7 affiliates coming from the senior class, 11 from the junior and 12 from the freshmen, with the ratio being 20 actives to 10 pledges.

For the past six months (summer and fall quarters) P.A.D. members held down the two top elective offices in the Student Bar Association, with Ray Dotson, '57, a former chapter justice being president, and William Holtsclaw, also '57, (a pledge) being vice-president.

Also during the past year P.A.D. had one of its members as official A.L.S.A. representative on campus in the person of John Conkin, '58, now currently Chapter Justice. Conkin also served as clerk of the Moot Court, section A, while Jim Stambaugh, '58, region treasurer, served as clerk of the Moot Court, section B.

Chapter officers include Conkin, '58, as justice; Franklin E. Glass, '59, as vice-justice; Bob Carter, '58, as treasurer; and Gerald Largen, '58, as secretary.

During the past several school quarters the chapter has been active in rushing incoming students, tendering them several functions to introduce them to P.A.D. and its local members. In the fall a stag affair was held with special entertainment and a motion picture of a Tennessee Bowl game. Later in the Fall, a "date" affair was held for members and the freshmen in the form of a weiner roast and sing around an old-fashioned outdoor oak log fire. Winter quarter rushing activities include a stag affair to start the quarter off, and another "date" affair scheduled for Valentine night, when the girls and wives will be honored with an informal dance following dinner.

Weekly luncheon meetings are

CAMPBELL CHAPTER (ILLINOIS, MICHIGAN, INDIANA AND WISCONSIN)

(University of Michigan)

PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS MEET WITH SUCCESS

The University of Michigan, in Ann Arbor, is the home of Campbell Chapter of PAD. The chapter has over 125 members and is the largest legal fraternity in the Michigan Law School.

As this issue of the Reporter goes to press, elections of officers have just been completed for the second semester. The new officers are:

Justice, Mike Ryan; Vice-Justice, Tom Carstens; Clerk, Herman Siqueland; Treasurer, Stan Bergman; Marshall, Larry La Brie; and Rushing Chairman, Paul Howe.

Retiring Justice Gill Wanger has led the chapter through an active semester, both professionally and socially. As mentioned in the last issue of the Reporter, Wanger and Eugene Hartwig (also of Campbell Chapter) represented the University of Michigan in the National Moot Court Finals in New York City. The PAD team advanced to the semi-final round before being defeated by the University of Pennsylvania, the eventual winners of the competition.

The chapter's luncheon program this semester was fortunate in having several excellent speakers. William A. Paton, one of the country's outstanding accountants, and a former professor of economics at Michigan, presented "Another Look at Competition," especially with regard to the nation's present antitrust laws. Judge Horace W. Gilmore, of the Michigan judiciary, spoke on the impact of recent Supreme Court decisions on the fields of civil rights and civil liberties. Present at this luncheon were 80 guests of the fraternity who were being considered for future membership.

A member of Erle Stanley Gardner's Court of Last Resort was the third speaker of the semester. Mr. Alex L. Gregory adressed an interested audience on "The Uses and Misuses of the Lie Detector." Mr. Gregory has been Mr. Gardner's polygraph expert for over ten years, and enlightened the membership with some plain facts on a complicated subject.

The final luncheon of the term was devoted to the role of speaking properly — an aim of every attorney, and one that is actively encouraged by the national chapter of PAD. A speech contest was held as part of the luncheon, in which the five best speakers of the chapter's Toastmaster group (as picked by the Toastmasters) gave 6-minute talks on a topic they had been assigned only the day previously. The contest judges were four PAD faculty members, and the entire luncheon was run as a Toastmaster meeting. Tom Carstens emerged victorious and will represent Campbell Chapter in the national Toastmaster speech contest this winter and spring.

Rushing Chairman Bill Brehl presented the chapter with 37 pledges in December, including the president of the Freshman class. The rushees participated in a beer blast and potluck supper (prepared by the PAD wives, a group of active PAD boosters on the distaff side) as well as one of the regular luncheons.

The chapter has, for the last two years, sponsored a Toastmaster club. In addition to being an excellent selling point for rushing, the club has developed a number of fine speakers. It is limited to 25 men, and the present waiting list is over 10. And, if imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, then the group is flattered by the initiation of a similar club by one of the other law fraternities at Michigan.

Athletically, the PADs finished the 1957 academic year in 3rd place out of 21 professional fraternities, with a total of 974 points. The closest competition of the other three law fraternities was in 14th place with 511 points. Phi Delta Phi and Delta Theta Phi finished 18th and 17th respectively. The "Powerful PAD" juggernaut continues to roll this year.

MAGRUDER CHAPTER (University of Illinois)

PAD FOLLIES HIGHLIGHT RUSHING

"Expansion" has been the keynote thought in all Magruder Chapter endeavors during the last few semesters. Faced with a dwindling membership of some thirty-odd hardy souls less than two years ago, members and pledges of Magruder acted swiftly and surely. Total membership at this moment stands at more than eighty. This in a law school of less than three hundred students. More precise figures must await the determination by Clerk Harold Wilson of the pangs of success through graduation and the slings of outrageous fortune inherent in failure, which are only now becoming apparent in this between-semester period.

To single out anyone for praise for his part in PAD's accomplishment here would be an injustice to numerous others who played their roles — large or small — in the manner which makes any team a winner, the manner of the professional — well!

Perhaps the best aspect of a rapid increase in membership in any fraternal organization is the feeling of increased interest, one might go so far as to label it a process of "revitalization," that overtakes the entire group. A graphic illustration of this new lease on life given to the fraternity was evidenced last semester, when, for the first time, Magruder Chapter, with the aid of interested feminine friends, staged a musical review as part of its semester Rushing campaign. Not only was the review a success, but the percentage of Rushees attending who later pledged was far above that which was anticipated. It is thought that the "PAD Follies" will become a semi-annual affair. There were no Flo Ziegfelds to supervise, no Marilyn Millers to dance, no Will Rogers to cut up, but the fun experienced, interest awakened, and spirit of good comradeship created, served to knit those within the fraternity more closely together and to present to those without a very pleasant picture of what a fraternity should be in its best moments. The cost of this eminently successful extravaganza? Eleven dollars and sixty-one cents! In all honesty, one must admit that there were a few disputes along the way between directors Ed Reicin and Hal McKenney and Treasurer Dave Burke.

PAD officers of Magruder Chapter for the coming semester are: Mort Goldsmith, Justice; Ed Reicin, Vice-Justice; Harold Wilson, Clerk; Paul Clevenger, Treasurer; and Antonius Paul-etto, Marshall.

One of the more interesting activities engaged in by members of Magruder Chapter in conjunction with their formal law school training is the PAD Toastmaster program, conducted presently by brothers Al Sumberg and Jim Hurley, which seeks to develop extemporaneous speaking skills among its members by assigning them subjects in spur-of-the-moment fashion at PAD's weekly luncheon.

Certain members of PAD have attained numerous honors and distinctions within the last year. Two of the five positions on the school executive council are filled by brothers Lee Garbs and Thomas Killoren, as Vice-President and Treasurer respectively. In the recent graduating class, brothers James Altmeter and Dave Anderson were among the top three seniors in scholastic achievement. Ex-Justice Tom Metskas reached the finals of the school moot court competition held before the Supreme Court of Illinois. The fraternity feels that two brothers deserve special citations, the one for intrepid adventurousness and the other for dogged perseverance. Brother Bernard V. Narusis became engaged to a feminine law student, and brother Harvey S. Traub is graduating from law school with four children—and about fifty classmates.

HALLECK CHAPTER (Valparaiso University)

PADS PRESIDENT OF LAWYERS' ASSOCIATION SINCE 1947

The Charles E. Halleck chapter at Valparaiso University in Valparaiso, Indiana, is probably one of the smaller chapters of Phi Alpha Delta, yet its activities and achievements belie its size. It is composed of 27 members, yet it and its members have enjoyed nearly every honor and accolade that the National Fraternity and the Law School have to offer.

Since Halleck Chapter was founded on this campus in 1947, every president of the Lawyer's Association has been a PAD. At the present Charles Zandstra is the president of the Lawyer's Association and 8 of the other 10 members of the Executive Board of the Association are PADS.

Of the 6 second year students chosen to argue a case before the Supreme Court of Indiana sitting at Valparaiso last spring, 4 were PADS and the other national fraternity represented in the Law School was unable to place a man on the team. The four brothers were David McCain, Don Prevaillet, Charles Zandstra and John Lyons. From this group David McCain, Don Prevaillet and John Lyons were chosen to represent the Law School in the National Moot Court Competition, and this team of PADS went farther in the competition than any other Valparaiso team has ever gone.

In the previous three years, Halleck Chapter has provided two Regional Vice-Justices the highest elected position in the Region, indicating that its members do not confine themselves to strictly local activities. It is perennially one of the best-represented chapters at the fraternity conventions and conclaves.

The chapter rushing activities consist of a smoker shortly after the beginning of each semester, and a party later in the year for the pledges and their wives or dates. There is a concentrated personal effort on the part of the actives, each with an assigned pledge, to acquaint each with the other and to assure all concerned that this chapter will continue to take the lead in all Law School affairs.

Chapter meetings are held weekly, and at least once a month a speaker is present. These speakers have been, among others: the chief sociologist for the Indiana State Prison; the Prosecuting Attorney; the Chief Deputy Sheriff; and a number of practicing attorneys. On the program for this semester are a Superior Court Judge, the Probation Officer, the County Treasurer and the Chief of Police.

Halleck Chapter operates a student book exchange for its members which enables them to procure used books and materials for a fraction of their original cost. It has proved to be very popular with the members and is being enlarged and expanded this year.

The members have an annual touch football game with the members of the other law fraternity, and an annual softball game with one of the campus sororities, each of which is the big athletic event of the fall and spring semester, respectively. The parties for the pledges and the Christmas party are the highlights of the social season.

The officers for this semester are: Albert Zimmerman: president; John Lyons: vice-president; Fred Andre: secretary and John Adams: treasurer.

All things considered, the Halleck Chapter has been a very successful venture on this campus, and future prospects are even brighter than past recollections.

John M. Lyons

STORY CHAPTER

(De Paul University)

MEMBERS ACTIVE IN LAW SCHOOL

Story Chapter at De Paul University now has 24 active members and 29 pledges. The pledges will be initiated on February 22.

The chapter's principal rushing activity consists of a smoker at which some prominent speaker addresses those assembled and refreshments are served. The smoker this year will be held in early March.

Brother Ted Gruschot is on the Board of Editors of the De Paul Law Review. Tom Schlehuber has been appointed to the Moot Court Board. Former Justice Donald Straub was Editor-In-Chief of the Law Review until his graduation last week.

The chapter has speakers in different fields of law at almost every meeting, and we plan to commence more professional activities soon. Social activities consist of dances and different types of parties.

Dermott J. Doyle was recently elected Justice and election to fill the office of Clerk will be held February 14th as Wilbur Gaines has withdrawn from school.

DERMOTT J. DOYLE,
Justice.

FULLER CHAPTER

(Northwestern University)

CHAPTER HAS 65 MEMBERS

In the tradition of an old and respected law school, Fuller Chapter of PAD continues on striving to attain new heights. The fall semester saw active and spirited rushing functions: the high point was the luncheon at which the noted trial attorney, PAD Brother Jim Dooley, spoke to us; a beer-blast rounded out the rushing season; the end result—13 fine pledges, and some hangovers.

The high points of the fall semester were the dance in the Hilton Hotel upper tower with band and booze, and the faculty-staff cocktail party towards semester's close at the Black Orchid which also added a proper touch of spirits to titillate the tired legal mind.

One of the brothers, Paul Stemm, has been elected vice-president of the Law School Student Body.

The activities of our 65 active members are to be directed during the spring semester by the following officers: Ira Gilbert, Justice, with Paul Stemm as Vice Justice; Paul Ehman as Treasurer; Tom Henley as Secretary; and Sid Sexner as Marshall.

Spring will see new parties, new luncheons and many emptied beer kegs, and it looks like a fine semester.

A movement is afoot to set up a placement service.

PAUL STEMME,
Vice-Justice.

have taken precedence at Corliss Chapter with the beginning of the second semester, a wide range of activities have been carried on by the chapter throughout the year.

During Freshman week Corliss held a Smoker with a special invitation to all the freshman. This gave us all a chance to get acquainted with our new fellow students and at the same time made the freshmen feel more at ease and at home in their new surroundings.

At the beginning of the school year Brothers Tschider, Vande-Walle and MacPhee, student librarians, conducted a library tour for the Freshman law students. This is an annual affair carried on by Corliss chapter to help the new law student get acquainted with our library and its function in the law school. Similar tours are conducted each year by the chapter for all law students in cooperation with the Grand Forks County Register of Deeds Office to help acquaint the law student with that office.

In late October a cocktail hour was held at the home of Brother Pearson preceding the annual Freshman Banquet. All Freshmen, as well as unpledged upperclassmen, and their wives were invited. The general consensus was that this proved to be one of the most successful of social rushing functions.

Plans are now in the making to stage Corliss Chapter's annual mock trial. With the help of several University students an incident will be staged on campus which will be the subject of the trial. District Judge Foster has consented to preside over this trial if we can work it in to his busy schedule.

Corliss Chapter has instituted a new program of reciprocal meetings with various colleges in the University (those closely related, such as Medical, Accounting, Engineering, etc.) in an attempt to become better acquainted with the other fields of education. For the first meeting the Chapter is inviting the Medical School to attend the April 22nd showing of the movie "Medical Witness" which the chapter has secured for showing at that time.

GREEN CHAPTER (U. of Kansas)

JUSTICE FRED HALL ADDRESSES CHAPTER

Climaxing its yearly activity, Green Chapter of the University of Kansas participated in a very impressive initiation ceremony February 8 at the county court house in Kansas City, Missouri. Benson and Benton Chapters of Washburn College and the University of Kansas City, respectively, were the other two participants; so that a total of about 50 initiates were present. Green initiates included Professor Paul E. Wilson of the University of Kansas law faculty, as well as ten other new members. Brother Arthur Stanley, Jr., Benton, member of the Kansas Bar, was guest speaker.

William D. Raine received the chapter honor-initiate award. He attained the highest fall-semester scholastic average for K.U.'s first-year class. Green is also proud to claim among its membership Donald W. Meeker and William L. Turner, who ranked second and third, respectively, in the first-year class scholastically.

Green Chapter now numbers twenty-eight actives and sixteen pledges. Four of the ten faculty members are also PADs. Officers now include: Jason V. Ott, Justice; Gerald L. Rushfelt, Vice-Justice; Richard D. Coffelt, Clerk; Edwin A. Stene, Treasurer; Kermit M. Beal, Marshall. Professor William R. Scott is faculty advisor.

Many K.U. PADs have been active and successful in a number of law-school and related campus activities. Law-review members include Donald V. Pearson, James D. Van Pelt, Floyd E. Jensen, and Richard D. Coffelt. Grant Napier is Chief Justice of the Student Court. Three of the remaining six justices are also PADs: Kermit M. Beal; Floyd E. Jensen; and Gerald L. Rushfelt. Jason V. Ott serves as law-school representative to the All-Student Council and also on the University Disciplinary Committee. Bernard E. Whalen is vice-president of the first-year class. Jack Sullivan and Gerald L. Rushfelt are president and treasurer, respectively, of the K.U. Young Democrats. Pursuant to a seminar in juvenile problems, four PADs serve as county juvenile probation officers: Hans L. Peterson; Kermit M. Beal; Richard D. Coffelt; and Jason V. Ott. Several members have participated on the law school's "Jim Beam Dream Team" in intramural football and basketball.

Green's rushing program has been highly successful during this school year. The chapter pledged twenty-five men in the fall. This was a majority of the total of new pledges for all active groups in the law school. Culminating the early rush activity was a banquet for all members, including new initiates and new pledges. Mr. Jay Gunnels, District VII Justice, gave the address of welcome. Brother Dan Hopson, Assistant Dean of the law faculty, awarded the honor-initiate key to Clifford T. Mueller.

Judge Fred Hall of the Supreme Court of Kansas, and alumnus of Ross Chapter, was guest of the chapter in November for a professional luncheon. Brother Hall summarized the nature of a justice's duties and explained a number of practical problems facing Kansas practitioners.

Highlighting other activity this year has been a series of Friday-afternoon movies, a semi-formal Christmas dance, and a fall hayrack ride.

LAWSON CHAPTER (University of Missouri)

35 PLEDGED OUT OF 50 ELIGIBLE

John D. Lawson Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta at the University of Missouri has a membership of 88, including actives and pledges. The chapter is well on its way to another banner year, on the heels of last year's unmatched scholastic and social achievements. Officers at the present time are John M. Cleaveland, Justice; Dale Resman, Vice-Justice; Harold C. Stephenson, Clerk; Wendell Peery, Treasurer; and Milton S. Broome, Marshall.

Faculty members, all of whom take an active interest in the affairs of Lawson Chapter are Edmond R. Anderson, Jr., Willard L. Eckhardt, Fred A. Lambert, Paul M. Peterson, and William H. Pittman.

Under the energetic leadership of Fred L. Hall, Jr., our Fall rushing program produced 35 Phi Alpha Delta pledges out of 50 eligible men in the freshman class. Four members of the junior class were pledged at the same time. Pledge officers are Sam Smith III, Justice; Warren Lyon, Vice-Justice; Robert Paden, Clerk; and Charles Erickson, Treasurer. Among last year's pledges is Gunter Jacob, a native of Berlin, Germany, who studied law at the University of Berlin before coming to the United States.

We are looking forward to the annual Law School Day, held in the Spring, at which awards and honors are presented for the past year's achievements. Highlighting the event is the Junior Case Club competition held before a special court of state and federal judges. Finalists this year are David A. Eggers and William W. Quigg, alternates are Stanley Grimm and Dale Reesman, while Clark Kelly and Mitchell Hough received honorable mention. Last year three of the four finalists were members of PAD. They are James C. Butcher, who received the Roscoe Anderson award for oral excellence, Larry O. Davis, and Richard J. Shipley. Four of the seven men initiated into Order of the Coif at last year's Law Day are Theodore C. Beckett, Dwight Larison, Robert Lusk and Walter Moudy. In addition, ten of the 14 scholarships and awards went to PAD's. They are Richard Shipley, Robert Heins, Clark Kelly, James Butcher, Dwight Larison, David Eggers and Robert Lusk.

This year four of the six men under consideration for nomination to Order of the Coif are PAD's. They are Louis F. Cottey, Larry O. Davis, Eugene Feldhausen and Richard Shipley. Editor-in-chief of the Missouri Law Review is Louis F. Cottey. Other members of the Editorial Board are Melvin Carnahan, Larry Davis, David Eggers, Charles Hylar, Stanley Grimm, Eugene Feldhausen, Clark Kelly, Harry Pene, Dale Reesman, and Richard Shipley.

At last year's Law School Day Judge Marshall Craig, of the 28th Judicial Circuit, was made an honorary member of Phi Alpha Delta. Judge Craig is an outstanding civic leader and was chosen "man of the year" for 1957 in Sikeston, Mo.

Two PAD's were elected last Fall to fill two of the three vacancies on the Board of Governors, governing body of the Law Student Association. They are John Mooneyham and Mitchell Hough. Other PAD members of the Board of Governors are Melvin Carnahan, Treasurer, and Fred L. Hall, Jr.

At a November dinner meeting 12 men were initiated into Phi Alpha Delta, including one faculty member, Edmond R. Anderson, Jr. Mr. Anderson was graduated from the University of Illinois School of Law in 1953. He served as a law associate at the University of California at Berkeley in 1953-54, and was a member of the law faculty at the University of Idaho in 1954-55. He came to the University of Missouri School of Law in 1955. Mr. Anderson is a member of the California bar. Others initiated at that time are Milton S. Broome, Louis F. Cottey, David A. Eggers, Stanley A. Grimm, W. Clark Kelly, Byron Milgram, Jules L. Moore, Wendell W. Perry, Benjamin F. Pyle, Dale Resman, and Dale L. Watson.

G. DALE RESSMAN,

HAMMOND CHAPTER (University of Iowa)

TETER IS STUDENT PRES.

The following men have been elected officers of Hammond Chapter for the Spring of 1958: Justice — Ira E. Delk, Des Moines, Iowa.

Vice-Justice—James Britton, Fort Madison, Iowa.

Clerk — Robert Walton, Rock Island, Illinois.

Treasurer — James Bolloy, Independence, Iowa.

Marshall — Spencer Peck, Sharpsburg, Iowa.

Iowa Law Student Assoc. Representative — Frank Nelson, Ringsted, Iowa.

On January 11, 1958 Hammond Chapter conducted pledging and initiation ceremonies at which twelve men were pledged to the chapter and eleven men became actives. The ceremonies were followed by an informal dinner-dance in the evening.

Brother William Teter has been elected president of the Student Council of the State University of Iowa.

JAMES BRITTON,
Vice-Justice.

BAYLOR CHAPTER (Baylor University)

HALF OF STUDENT BAR ARE PADs

The R.E.B. Baylor Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta which is celebrating its ninth year at the Baylor University School of Law, is preparing a full program of events for the winter and spring terms. On January 17, 1958, the R.E.B. Baylor chapter held a semi-formal rush party for freshmen law students. In the coming months the chapter is planning other social events for rushing, participation in the annual Baylor Law Day, held in honor of the Texas Supreme Court, and the extension of its scholarship program.

The chapter has initiated an annual award of a scholarship to an incoming freshman law student. The fund is raised by the sale of mums at the Homecoming Football game each fall. The 1958 award will be the third scholarship presented by the chapter.

At the present time half of the Board of Governors is composed of PAD members. The President of the Board of Governors, which is the student government, for the past two terms has also been from the PAD fraternity.

The officers for December through May are: Earl Bracken, Justice. Glenn Jones, Vice-Justice. Donald Moye, Clerk. Mark McKee, Treasurer. Don Williamson, Marshall.

GARLAND CHAPTER (U. of Arkansas)

ECHOLS IS LAW REVIEW EDITOR

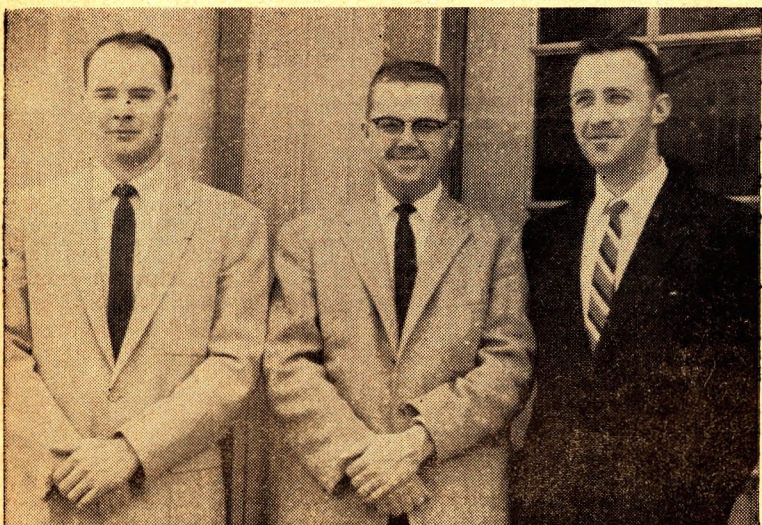

The Garland Chapter commenced the spring semester with a rush dinner for the Freshman Class. Our District Justice, Joseph W. Geary, paid us a visit and spoke to the Freshmen at the dinner. The principal speaker was Dan B. Dobbs, a former member and now a practicing attorney at Fort Smith, Arkansas. The dinner was well attended and a fine response is anticipated.

Three of the brothers became officers of the Arkansas Law Review for the spring issue with John Echols as Editor, David A. Pierce as Associate-editor, and Darrell Hickman as Business Manager.

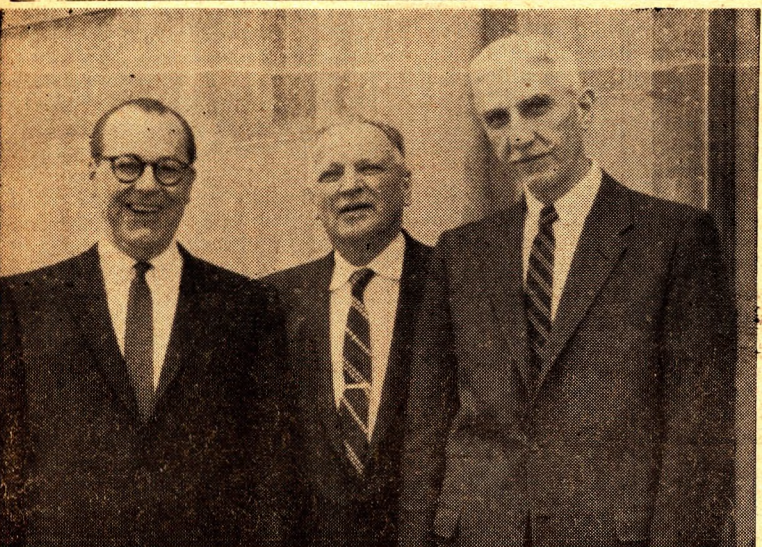

Three more of the brothers graduated at mid-term and are now working diligently towards mastering the ever challenging Arkansas Bar Examination.

In conclusion we are looking forward to a fruitful spring semester although it started with a snow.

(University of Kentucky)

PADs SWEEP STUDENT BAR OFFICES

After a rather severe slump in membership in the period immediately following the War, Henry Clay Chapter has again assumed its traditional role of leadership in the student body of the University of Kentucky Law School. Last week, Phi Alpha Delta members virtually swept all the top offices of the Student Bar Association in electing Brothers Oliver, Redford, and Miniard as President, Vice President and Treasurer respectively. In addition, Brother Glenn Green was one of the representatives of the University of Kentucky Law School in the Moot Court Arguments which were held in St. Louis. The Chapter is represented on the Kentucky Law Journal by Henry Dickinson, Glenn Green, Wendell Cherry, Gene Ross, Robert Adams, Richard D. Cooper, Donald Harkins and Nelson Shafer. Brother Cherry is the Law School Representative in the Student Government Association.

One of the most effective programs this Chapter has inaugurated in recent years is the monthly luncheon program, where prominent members of the local bar are invited to speak on the successful practice of law. This program is designed to familiarize the student with the practical aspects of law practice. The program has proven not only educational but also an integral part of the Chapter's rush program. At a recent luncheon Henry Clay Chapter was most honored to have our Supreme Justice, Brother Elwyn Thomas, as guest speaker. Judge Thomas spoke on the responsibility of the lawyer to work toward reform and improvement of our legal system. Judge Thomas' visit was one of the highlights in the history of Clay Chapter. This week our luncheon program featured the nationally known criminal lawyer Brother John Y. Brown who gave a most interesting talk on the techniques of trial practice.

In addition to the luncheon program, Henry Clay Chapter conducts an orientation program for the Freshman law students. This program is designed to acquaint the beginning law student with proper methods of law study. Plans are being made at the present time to organize an effective speaking program for the benefit of the student body, under the direction of past Justice Joe E. Johnson III.

Within the next month Henry Clay Chapter will be host to the first year men at its annual formal rush party. We have been working hard to make our rush as successful this year as it was last year. The leadership of such men as Justice Hugh Moore, Vice Justice Richard D. Cooper, Clerk Henry Dickinson and Don B. Mills, Treasurer, has contributed greatly to the success now enjoyed by Henry Clay Chapter.

The members who plan to attend the District Conclave, soon to be held in Louisville, are looking forward to meeting with our brethren on that occasion. We are honored that Brother W. L. Matthews Jr., Dean of the University of Kentucky Law School, has been invited to be a guest speaker.

RICHARD D. COOPER,

McKINLEY CHAPTER

(Ohio State University)

WELL-ROUNDED ACTIVITIES MARK CHAPTER PROGRAM

The McKinley Chapter, like the Buckeye football team, kicked off last fall to start another banner year, but the "Glad PADs" didn't have to wait until New Year's Day to celebrate. They began the season's festivities with a dinner-dance at the Seneca Hotel in Columbus on October 25th, one of the two annual "Co-Ed" functions sponsored by the Chapter to remind the girls that they're not forgotten in the battle of the hornbooks and briefs!

Two speaker's luncheons were scheduled by Joe White, the Chapter Social Chairman. In October, the brothers heard Columbus Police Chief Scholer discuss law enforcement problems of interest to the lawyer. In November, Mr. Charles Whittenstein explained the function of the Anti-Defamation League to the members at another noon-tide session.

November also saw the formal initiation into active membership of Ron Calhoun, Stan Weckler, Joe Waterman, Chuck Boyd, Frank Varga, Ken Thomas, and Edward Lack in the Parks Memorial Room of the Ohio Union. Stan Weckler was host afterwards at the traditional beer party given for new members.

Before closing up shop for the Christmas holidays, the Chapter held an evening dinner meeting at the Desert Inn in Bexley, on December 6th. New By-Laws for the Chapter, the result of a summer's work by Vice-Justice Chuck Brent and Clerk Chuck Taylor, were discussed and approved. The Brothers also accepted with regret the resignation of Justice Don Work, made necessary by the press of other duties. Don had served as Justice since April of 1957, with enthusiasm and ability, and the Chapter would like to take this occasion to acknowledge publicly his service to the Fraternity. Senior Brother Bill Toy was elected Justice to succeed him.

Thus Ohio State's PADs began the new year with a new Justice and a new set of By-Laws, and plunged into the yearly interfraternity rush program for pledges. McKinley Chapter opened the season on the first year men with a beer party on January 12th, and followed up with a luncheon a week later at which the freshmen were guests. Justice Zimmerman of the Ohio Supreme Court proved a most entertaining and informative speaker as he flavored his talk on the Ohio High Court with a recount of anecdotes from his years on that bench. Both functions were highly successful and were better attended by the freshmen than any given by rival fraternities! Credit for this fine showing goes to Marshal Al Buchfirer and his Initiation and Rushing Committee. Hopes are high for another good pledge class.

Justice Bill Toy recently announced the appointment of Ed Lack as acting Treasurer to fill the vacancy in that office created by the departure from school of Brother Mal Catsoulas, whose loss to the active membership of the Chapter will be keenly felt. Sheldon Scoliard was also appointed Chapter correspondent on the OSU Law School's publication, "The Buckeye Barrister."

VINSON CHAPTER

(U. of Louisville)

PROGRESS AT VINSON CHAPTER

Vinson Chapter at the University of Louisville has a story of hard work, optimism and gradual success to relate. Three years ago, the Chapter was in sad shape in every possible way; today, the Chapter is a sound, active organization with a bright future in sight.

Complacency, caused by having the majority of the school as members for years, had greatly weakened the Chapter. Active leadership was lacking; financial difficulties were great, rushing was half-heartedly pursued, functions were few and far between, and interest was about as low as it could get. This resulted in a total of four members in the Senior Class last year.

One Senior, Richard Revell, had been active and he was elected Justice at a duly called meeting; six men attended this meeting. Immediately a rush program was set up and executive meetings were held to put the Chapter in working order.

Rush ended with sixteen men pledging out of a class of thirty-five and the Chapter was given new life. Monthly dinner meetings were held and the pledges were given free dinners to encourage attendance.

Alumni were contacted and urged to pay dues still owed to the Chapter. Although some of the replies were not too encouraging, (one asked if we knew the law in Kentucky on open accounts and suggested we sue him) the majority of the alumni paid their debts.

In February, the Juniors took the reins with Bert Edwards, the past treasurer, elected Justice; Martin Liebman, now District IX Justice, elected vice-justice; and Karl Victor as treasurer. Business meetings were then set up for every other week with executive meetings every other week.

A big step was the merging of the monthly dinner meetings with the Alumni Chapter monthly dinner meetings. This provided the actives with contracts of which they had previously been deprived and gave the Alumni Chapter an opportunity to look over prospects for future law clerks and associates. (These contacts should also increase the percentage of graduates joining the Alumni Chapter, making it stronger and more active.)

Daniel Boone, Past Supreme Historian, encouraged and aided these efforts to merge and he personally drove the active delegation to the District Conclave in Pittsburgh in April; two of the four in the delegation were Freshmen which has proved beneficial this year.

A constitutional revision committee was set up in addition to the regular committees, but the treasurer proposed the most important amendment, which set up a system for enforcing dues.

Another step forward last Spring was the formation of a PAD Wives' Auxiliary to bring the wives together so they could aid the Chapter. Besides helping with registration of the delegates to the recent District IX Conclave (February 21 and 22) they plan to help in rush by giving a tea for the wives of incoming Freshmen.

This fall, under the leadership of Richard Moorman, twenty-one men pledged the Chapter. PADs were elected to head the Moot Court Club and The Louisville Lawyer, and this semester a PAD was elected vice-president of the Moot Court Club. The District IX Conclave has been the one big project of the Chapter this year and the Alumni have aided the Chapter in this project with work and money.

With these accomplishments, and activities, it would seem that the time has come to be complacent, but no, the pledges envisage a better Chapter offering more activities and services and have expressed their interest to attain these goals.

The future is bright!

ALLAN GORDON, JR.,
Vice-Justice.

KEENER CHAPTER

(Emory University)

CHAPTER MAKES COMEBACK

Keener Chapter has been made more active at Emory University after a concerted campaign initiated by W. Ray Phillips and James Phillips in the fall of 1955. At that time the chapter membership had shrunk to the low membership of two brothers and one pledge. Since then the chapter has steadily grown each year until now it has ten brothers and thirteen pledges.

The current officers of the chapter are: Justice, Richard J. Reynolds, III; Vice Justice, Thaddeus R. Sobieski; Clerk, vacant; Treasurer, Jacob S. Kornman.

The brothers and pledges of the chapter are active in the many law school activities such as The Case Club, Journal of Public Law, Student Bar Association, and intramural sports. A 1957 graduate, W. Ray Phillips, was an associate editor of The Journal of Public Law, while Richard J. Reynolds, III, Thaddeus R. Sobieski and R. Fredrick Lewis were on the staff.

Each year the chapter presents to the winners of the school's Case Club competition miniature gavels properly engraved. The entire chapter has lent its assistance in promoting the school's annual law day, by serving on various committees. Recent officers of the Student Bar that were from the chapter were Richard J. Reynolds III as Vice President and Thaddeus R. Sobieski as Secretary.

The chapter is looking forward to the coming semester with great interest, and one of the highlights will be a luncheon planned to coincide with the regional meeting of The American Bar Association here in Atlanta during the month of February.

Vice-Justice.

INFORMATIVE PROGRAMS ARE SPONSORED

Stephens Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta at the University of Georgia has recently completed a very successful rush program. The highlight of the program was a dinner for the prospective members which featured an address by the Honorable Phil Landrum, United States Congressman for the Ninth District of Georgia. The success of the program was evidenced by the fact that sixteen members of the first year class accepted bids issued by the fraternity. With the addition of these new members to the present twenty-eight active members, Stephens Chapter continues its tradition of leadership at the University of Georgia.

The Stephens Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta endeavors to sponsor activities which benefit the entire law school. To carry out this program, monthly luncheons are conducted at which outstanding speakers selected from the Georgia Bar are presented. Perhaps the Chapter's most noteworthy activity is its presentation of the annual Henry Scheen memorial award. This is given each year to the University of Georgia student writing the best legal paper. The recipient of the award is chosen by a committee composed of members of the faculty of the law school and members of the Athens, Georgia, Bar.

Each year Stephens Chapter is extended an invitation by Justice Joseph Quillian of the Court of Appeals of Georgia to visit the Judiciary Department in Atlanta. The visit never fails to be very informative. The Brothers have an opportunity to meet the members of the appellate courts of Georgia and to talk with them and their associates about some of the current problems which confront the courts and the practicing attorney. The visit also includes lectures by the Chairman of the Public Service Commission and the Chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board. The latter lecture has proven to be of great interest to these who have attended as a very thorough introduction to the basic problems involving the Workmen's Compensation Board and the Workmen's Compensation Laws is given.

Also on these annual visits to the state capitol the brothers have an opportunity to meet other state officials. The past year the fraternity had the privilege of meeting and conversing with the Honorable Earnest Vandiver, Lt. Governor of Georgia. Further, the brothers had the opportunity to meet Eugene Cook, Attorney General of Georgia. Mr. Cook departed from his busy schedule and gave the brothers a very interesting tour of the state's law library and provided a great deal of information concerning the activities of the Attorney General's Office.

The brothers of Stephens Chapter have always participated in the activities of the law school with great enthusiasm. The list of class officers and members of the Honor Court of the law school always include the names of several members of Phi Alpha Delta. During the fall quarter of 1957 it was the privilege of the fraternity to have Brother Donald D. Smith serve as Chief Justice of the Honor Court. The present Honor Court includes Stephens Chapter Justice Handley, Brother Bobby Milam, and Pledge John O'Toole.

(Syracuse University)

ALUMNI CHAPTER PROVES FINE ASSET

Our Spring election results were as follows:

Justice.....Roger A. Pott
Vice-Justice.....Joseph McMahon
Treasurer.....Charles Lieb
Clerk.....E. Joseph Bugbee
Marshal.....Rodney Richards

Under the leadership of our Justice, Roger Pott, a new program was instituted to strengthen our fraternity from within. It was felt that if we could strengthen the relationships and the fellowship among the members our chapter would prove to be more beneficial to the members and the law school we attend. Pursuant to this plan it was deemed necessary that the members be in contact with each other during the summer vacation. We therefore held several informal fraternity parties and invited several guest speakers to talk on different aspects of the law. Attendance at these functions was greater than anticipated with many of our out of town members attending.

Our first function upon returning to school was a steak dinner for all the members of the fraternity. This proved to be one of the most successful functions in our chapter's young life. Instead of having an established lawyer address the group, the officers thought it might be more beneficial to have members of our alumni form a panel and discuss the problems of law practice as viewed by a young attorney. The panel chosen consisted of alumni who have been practicing law for two years and was moderated by Donald Bundy, '56, president of the alumni chapter. Various topics were discussed, including the comparison between the study of law and actual practice, advantages and disadvantages in clerking for a small firm as differentiated from large firm clerkship, bar review courses and their merits, and remuneration a young lawyer can expect in a city the size of Syracuse. This discussion proved to be very practical in scope since the panel members were personally involved with the problems of a young attorney and could more vividly relate their experience and advice to the members of the fraternity, than could an established attorney far removed from the days when he received his sheepskin. It gave rise to a more relaxed atmosphere and hence many questions were asked, as all took an active part in the discussions.

Our next function was our annual fall smoker, the main purpose of which is to acquaint ourselves with the freshmen and to make them aware of us and what we are doing. This function was open to all members of the law school and as usual the beer flowed freely.

A big event during the fall was a cocktail party prior to the annual law school dance in December. Once again Brother George T. Kerr donated the use of his basement-bar to the fraternity to ensure the success of this party.

Our faculty adviser, Professor Horace J. Landry, entertained the brothers at the University Club in February. In spite of snow and an N.B.A. doubleheader at the War Memorial, attendance was good. An accounting fraternity joined with us as we heard informal talks by a C.P.A. and tax lawyer concerning the business associations of the two professions, especially in respect to the practice of taxation. This was an informative session concerning an area in the law where public relations can be greatly enhanced by such functions.

Our formal rushing season is about to get under way. On February 28 a smoker is planned, to be followed on March 14 by a cocktail party and buffet supper with a speaker. Pledging takes place on March 19, and our plans call for a dance following initiation in mid-April.

Many brothers hold titles in the various school organizations. At Syracuse we have three legal fraternities, Carmody Chapter being the youngest. However, we are proud of the strong representation of our fraternity in law school activities. In essence PAD's provide the student leadership at Syracuse University College of Law. Examples of the various positions held by PAD members are:

Editor in chief of the Law Review.....Ronald Butterazzi
President of the Student
Bar Ass'n.....George T. Kerr
Secretary of the Student
Bar Ass'n.....John Barnaba
Treasurer of the Student
Bar Ass'n.....John Vita
Student Bar Ass'n. Class
Representatives:
Class of '58.....William Braatz
Class of '59.....Gary Axenfeld
Members of the Student Bar
Ass'n. Board of Governors:
Bernard King, William Braatz,
Gary Axenfeld, Roger A. Pott
Junior Class
President.....Gary Axenfeld
Editor in chief of our School Paper
"The Syndicus".....Martin Lee
Coordinator and head of the Hiscock Legal Aid Society program in the Law School.....John McDonough

We have in Syracuse a newly formed alumni association. Its first president is Donald Bundy. This alumni group is proving to be the Chapter's greatest asset. They have already been instrumental in functions we have held. In conjunction with the alumni group, the fraternity has made plans for a symposium in the corporate law field. This panel consisting of four prominent area residents will be presented to the student body on March 19.

Several brothers who attended the alumni banquet came away with the conviction that Carmody chapter is indeed fortunate in having the alumni in the city directly supporting our program.

The alumni group is in the process of adopting a plan which will afford the brothers an opportunity to work with an alumnus in his office for a day or week. They hope to give us some practical knowledge and experience in the field we are preparing to enter. They also plan on introducing our graduating members to partners in their firms which should help in job placement.

Carmody Chapter's existence, perhaps for the first time in its four-year history, is justified. We feel that we are providing service for the school, that we are advancing the standards of the legal profession, and that we are helping the individual member. Not even the Syracuse winter can dim our hopes for a bright future.

Justice

DE BRACON CHAPTER

(St. John's U.)

NEW CHAPTER DOING WELL

We here at the Henry de Braccon Chapter are doing well but are still in the process of organization and establishment here at St. John's.

We had a very successful

Rushing Smoker in November and intend to initiate about twenty pledges on Tuesday, February 18th. Among our prospective new brothers will be George J. Jaser. George is a Councilman elected from the 3rd District of Milford, Conn. He was elected to a two year term and received the highest vote of any candidate in the district. He is a member of the Finance & Ordinance Committee, and Rules Committee.

Several of the pledges made the Dean's List with Freshman Pledge Brother Ned D. Frank leading the group with an average of 88.2.

Some of the brothers of the de Braccon Chapter were guests of the New York Alumni Chapter for dinner and viewed two fine legal films on expert testimony and the doctor on the stand. The films were procured for the group by Brother Dick Smith of de Braccon. Everyone thought the films very worth while and we are planning to have a showing of these films here at St. John's this semester.

Our first guest speaker will be Howard F. Cerny of the New York Alumni Chapter. Brother Cerny will talk on the recent amendments to New York law concerning wiretapping and eavesdropping. As the Counsel for the legislative committees investigating this subject he is well versed in the area. We expect the new changes to appear on the next New York State Bar Examination hence the interest we (and the other students here at St. John's) have is understandable.

We intend to give the District Conclave (now scheduled for 21-22 March) our fullest support and are working closely with Bob Chadwick of Columbia to make the event a great success.

Justice.

CHAPTER WILL HOST DISTRICT XI CONCLAVE

Due to programing difficulties, the District XI Conclave has been postponed until the weekend of March 20th, 21st and 22nd. Because of this later date, a much fuller program has been arranged for the Conclave.

On Thursday, March 20th, Mr. Paul Williams, United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York, will be the guest of Livingston Chapter at a luncheon at the Women's Faculty Club of Columbia University. All brothers who will be in New York on this date are cordially invited to attend.

The actual Conclave program will begin on Friday afternoon, March 21st, with registration of delegates at Columbia Law School (Kent Hall). At 6:30 p.m., a "get acquainted" cocktail party will be held, followed by a theater party to see "Around the Law in Eighty Ways," a musical revue starring students and faculty of Columbia Law School, and produced by the Columbia Law Revue. This is the third annual production of this group, and if it proves as successful as the previous two, will be a smash hit.

Saturday will be devoted to business sessions and panel discussions dealing with philosophy and the law. The Conclave program will culminate on Saturday night with a banquet and dance honoring Justice Tom Clark of the United States Supreme Court at the Hotel Statler.

All District XI Chapters are being notified of these plans. All student and alumnus brothers who plan to attend any or all of these events are requested to contact Brother Stephen Meadow, Chairman, 214 Lawrence Place, Patterson, New Jersey, for further information.

HENRY CHAPTER

(University of Richmond)

NEW PLEDGE CLASS DOUBLES MEMBERSHIP

The Henry Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta was organized in 1948 as the second of two legal fraternities at the University of Richmond. This year the chapter had twenty-six (26) members and after a very successful rush program doubled its size by pledging twenty-six (26) of thirty-seven (37) eligible students. The present Justice is William J. Rhodes, Jr., Vice-Justice, John S. Smart, Clerk, Robert Broudy, and Marshall, Gordon Poindexter. The rush program was better than usual because of the outstanding work of Henry Thomas' rush committee and Joseph Benetti's social committee. But for the work of these two units the chapter may have only pledged eleven. The pledge class will be initiated in the middle of February. At that time up to ten (10) new members are expected to be initiated for the Richmond Alumni Chapter. The two chapters are also considering several local and state attorneys for honorary membership in PAD.

Henry Chapter is very active here at the University. Brothers fill thirteen of the sixteen offices of the Student Bar and Honor Council. The chapter sponsors a pre-law club at the university. Jack O'Dell is being replaced by Thomas Hatz as advisor for the club. It is the purpose of the pre-law club to show the prospective law student what they might expect in law school. Senior law students from PAD and law professors are frequent speakers at the club meetings.

During the early days of the school session Henry Chapter publishes a handbook for incoming first year students each year. The book contains such material as how to prepare briefs, how to recite, a description of all law school activities, and most important of all a character sketch of the professors, their means and methods.

A public speaking program is sponsored by the chapter each year. In the past it was open to the entire university, but last year only the law school participated. It was hoped that in this way, students in the whole law school would take more advantage of the program. Plans are being made for the contest to be conducted in March. Ellsworth (Sandy) Bassett is this committee chairman.

As for the pre-pre-law group, the chapter sponsored a Christmas party for a group of boys from Richmond from the Methodist Children's Home. Twenty-two boys, enjoyed ice cream drinks, and pop corn. Gifts were distributed by Frank (Santa) Russo. A magician also performed for the boys and students.

Twenty-five PADs, not all pledges, have volunteered to help the librarian of the school clear the stacks of the library, to make room for new books. The chapter will be compensated for this service and that should make the treasurer happy.

Some action on the part of a few Brothers has finally started a graduate placement program in the chapter. The faculty, the alumni chapter, and other law schools were contacted to learn how other schools conducted their programs, and what might be done here. In connection with this, another project is carried by the chapter. Those students who are interested take problems from local attorneys who cannot reach the larger libraries in Richmond, (time not permitting) research is done and the point discussed in a note to the requesting lawyer. This simplifies the lawyer's problem and gives the student valuable experience. The net result can be a give and take between the student and lawyer, if the work is effective. At least it is conceivable that outstanding work on the part of a student might lead to a job in the placement program.

Vice-Justice.

JAY CHAPTER

(George Washington U.)

OUTSTANDING PROGRAMS FEATURE CHAPTER ACTIVITIES

Some sixty Jay Chapter PADs, their wives, dates and guests enjoyed a Hayride in historic Virginia along the banks of the Potomac in the Chapter's first social event of the fall semester.

Departing at dusk from Washington, D. C. and journeying to Brother Quin Elson's estate on Backwater Bay, the party-goers climbed aboard hay filled wagons secured for the occasion.

Singing songs of close (and not so close) harmony the riders wound their way along deserted country roads, through dense areas of timber, and then finally arrived at Brother Elson's private park.

There they found two roaring fires on the sandy beach and soon were busy roasting hotdogs and chilled fingers. The men took charge of tapping an icy keg of the brewer's art, while the ladies prepared the food.

After all had eaten their fill, the group gathered around the fires to sing, exchange law school stories and wait for the tide to come in.

Because of its success, both as a social outing and as a rush event, Jay Chapter officers have recommended that the Hayride become an annual affair. Other already established annual events for G. W. PADs include a Spring Congressional Reception, a Spring Dinner Dance, a Summer picnic and swimming party, a Fall Dinner Dance, a Fall Judge's Reception, and a Cocktail Party for graduating Seniors.

The Chapter's Winter Formal Pledging ceremony was held recently at a local Fraternity House in Washington, D. C.

At this impressive candlelight gathering, 39 men pledged themselves to uphold the ideas and purposes of Phi Alpha Delta.

Men pledging were Alan Akers, Ray Baker, Waldron Baker, Jack Exelbert, Warrington Smith, John Diuguid, Joseph Cooke, Robert Kalish, Stu Kahn, Culver Ladd, William Sutton, William Kemp and Victor Agmata, Jr.

Also pledged were Marshall Sutker, Larry Berul, Stan Cohen, Larry Margolis, Franklin Wolffe, Frank Mahon, William Warden, Jr., Thomas Farrell, Michael Meller, Florian Jabas, Donald Smith, and John Sotak.

Others pledged were Robert Vickers, Charles Schwartz, Jerome Teplitz, David Teschner, Turner Trippie, Thomas Ruppert, Jr., Victor Sansalone, Morris Pollack, Sheldon Raizes, Eugene Graniewski, Edwin Brennan and Robert Allnutt.

Following the ceremony Assistant Dean Carville D. Benson, Jay Chapter Faculty Sponsor, spoke to the new pledgemen urging them to accept the challenge of guiding the rapidly developing body of law in our modern times.

Following adjournment new pledges, actives and alumni enjoyed a period of fellowship and singing in the basement bar of the fraternity house.

An even 100 Jay Chapter PADs, their wives, dates and guests recently enjoyed a gala dinner-dance at the Bolling Air Force Base Officers Club in Washington, D. C. This event was the chapter's biggest social function of the Winter Semester.

Following a cocktail hour in the beautiful Sky-Lounge, those attending enjoyed an excellent dinner of steak or lobster accompanied by wine, music and soft lights. Sitting at the head table were Chapter Justice Bob VanHorn and date Barbara Cunningham, Vice Justice and Mrs. Joel Stearman, Marshal Ed McDermott, Treasurer John Carmichael, Brother Herb Fahy and date Mary Hudson, and District Student Justice and Mrs. Don Hutson.

Following dinner, the group moved to the Club's Grand Ballroom where reserved tables were in readiness. Dancing was to the music of the famed Glen Miller Air Force Band. Also enjoyed was an excellent floor show.

Other distinguished persons attending the dance included Jay Chapter Justice elect and Mrs. Laron Hyde, Lt. Commander and Mrs. Bert Atkinson, Past Treasurer and Mrs. Clyde Frame, Treasurer elect and Mrs. Warren Hill and Marshal elect and Mrs. Myron Solter.

The Winter Dinner-Dance, an annual event for Jay Chapter, is always held shortly after Formal Pledging and affords new men an excellent opportunity to become better acquainted with active and alumni brothers.

Jay Chapter PADs and their guests recently met at the Roosevelt Hotel in Washington, D. C. to hear Clarence Lutz, Deputy Chief of Police for the District of Columbia. This professional meeting was the first event of the Fall legal fraternity rush season at George Washington University.

Deputy Chief Lutz chose as his topic, "CRIME, THE POLICE, AND YOU." During the course of his remarks, Chief Lutz pointed out that organized gambling, commercial prostitution and robbery were the three most troublesome crimes in the nation's capitol. Also noted as a troublesome area by Lutz was the "pushing" of narcotics.

Turning to the subject of the work of the police department in securing admissible evidence, the speaker discussed at some length the implications of the recently decided case of U.S. v. Malory. Chief Lutz indicated that while the full effect of the decision remains undetermined, the case has made it necessary for the police to arrest and book all suspects before there is an opportunity for extensive investigation. Another difficult problem under the decision is that of securing further information and inducing the person arrested to name possible accomplices.

A lively question and answer period followed the speakers' remarks.

Prior to the introduction of Chief Lutz, Jay Chapter was presented a plaque as the Most Outstanding PAD Chapter for 1956-57 in District XII. Presenting the award to the Chapter was Donald R. Moore, District XII Justice.

Immediately following this award, Robert E. Redding, PAD Supreme Marshal, presented Jay Chapter a beautiful gold plaque signifying its selection by the Supreme Executive Board as the Second Most Outstanding PAD Chapter in the nation.

Among the 90 men attending this meeting were all five of the present officers of the Washington, D. C. Alumni Chapter as well as Student District XII Justice Don Hutson and Student District XII Treasurer Carl Love.

"The United States is losing and in some important respects has already lost its position of military superiority vis a vis the Soviets and our survival as a free people depends upon the degree and success of our efforts to catch up," Dr. Edward C. Welsh told Jay Chapter PADs at one of their recent professional meetings.

Dr. Welsh, Legislative Assistant and defense expert for Senator Stuart Symington (Mo.), spoke on the subject "The Significance of Sputnik."

"Immediately following World War II," Dr. Welsh said, "the United States enjoyed a position of great relative military strength, but in the last ten years the Soviet Union has demonstrated greater scientific and military progress than we have. As a result they now have not only the A-Bomb and the H-Bomb, but also, what is of equal importance, effective means of delivering these destructive weapons. They have outpowered us in modern jet aircraft with the result that they have operational more modern fighters, light bombers, and possibly also heavy bombers."

"In addition," Welsh added, "the recent successful launching of Sputnik, the Soviet earth satellite, demonstrates so dramatically what we already knew, namely that they are well ahead of us in development of the intercontinental ballistic missile."

"As a result," the speaker said, "what some of us have feared for some time has now happened—the Soviets have accomplished further major breakthroughs in military scientific development and it could take us years to catch up."

Dr. Welsh began his remarks on a humorous note by suggesting that perhaps one way to give the United States time to catch up would be to send the Soviets some American lawyers. "Our attorneys," he joked, "seem to have an uncanny knack for slowing most things down to a walk."

In a more serious vein, Welsh urged his audience to accept a major share of the task which lies ahead. Among those things which Dr. Welsh suggested as necessary to reestablish our position of relative superiority were recognition of the seriousness of our present position, better dissemination of non-classified information to the American public, removal of arbitrary budget ceilings on defense expenditures, elimination of duplication in weapons production and systems, greater emphasis upon basic scientific research, and a more positive assertion of executive leadership.

Vice-Justice.

JEFFERSON CHAPTER (U. of Virginia)

PHI ALPHA DELTA AWARD TO BE INSTITUTED

Like the other Chapters throughout the country, we have just finished our mid-year exams, and most of the Brothers have distinguished themselves. Brother Dick Howard from Richmond, Va., led the first-year class in grades last year. Brother Howard also had the distinction of being chosen as a Rhodes Scholar this year. He will take a two years leave-of-absences at the end of this year so that he can study in England.

Our cocktail parties before the Law School dances have met with the usual great success here. Brother Charles Biondi has been matching again his accomplishments of last year as our congenial Party Chairman.

During the Fall semester we had a Costume Ball which was greatly enjoyed by everyone. Brother Frank Norton received top honors for his appearance and performance as a ballerina. The excitement of the evening reached its peak when Brother Henry deButts, as a gladiator, attacked feline Brother John Glover, who was clad in a beautiful leopard-skin bath-robe. Fortunately, Brother Glover was rescued by a laughing Chinaman, who turned out to be Brother David Robb.

On a more serious note, our Chapter plans to initiate a Phi Alpha Delta Award this year, which will be conferred each year upon a student in the third year class at an annual dinner to be given by our Chapter. The Award will be presented to that student whose outstanding character, fidelity and service have enriched the Law School community. The Award will consist of two parts. The first will be a plaque to be hung in a prominent place in the Law Library and the second part will be a certificate suitable for framing. It was the sense of our membership that we should provide for an annual award which would not duplicate other forms of recognition presently given students in the law school for other kinds of achievement.

Vice-Justice.

PINCKNEY CHAPTER (U. of So. Carolina)

OPERATION "HARD WORK" A SUCCESS

We are happy to report the news of our chapter, news we feel of the utmost importance. It could be labeled "Hard Work." At the beginning of the spring semester 1956, the present actives, with the exception of 2 or 3, were second semester freshmen, and had pledged in a fraternity that had one active member. Our competing fraternity had a full house of actives and pledges that daily poked fun at what appeared to be a defunct chapter; accepting this as a challenge we pledged ourselves to hard faithful work to surpass our competition. This I am happy to report is near completion in that we now have 13 actives and 9 pledges with good possibilities in the freshman class.

We are happy also to report we will be represented by our entire staff of officers at the conclave in Washington, D.C. the 28th of this month.

RUFFIN CHAPTER (University of North Carolina)

ANNUAL MOCK TRIAL HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

Led by energetic Justice Howard Broughton, the climax of what might be called the busy season for Ruffin Chapter PADs was reached early in December with the staging of the annual Mock Trial. As usual the leading participants were well known campus personalities and as usual the trial drew well over 200 spectators—a standing room only crowd. Presiding was Judge Malcolm Seawell, a prominent North Carolina Superior Court Judge. Wide publicity was received in newspapers with statewide circulation. Pictures of the proceedings were shown over a commercial television station as part of a news broadcast. Its success might be measured by the general comments which were very favorable.

The Mock Trial, though perhaps the most important, is not the only regularly scheduled activity which Ruffin PADs engage in. There is an effective speaking program which is designed to give participants experience on their feet as well as helpful pointers on technique and delivery. There is a weekly luncheon meeting at which each person delivers an impromptu one minute speech and three persons give a three minute research speech.

In addition to these meetings there is a regularly scheduled monthly dinner meeting which includes a speech by some prominent local attorney or Judge on a topic of interest to prospective lawyers.

As a service to the Law School student body, Ruffin Chapter operates a book exchange which provides an organized method for purchase and sale of casebooks. A nominal charge is levied which provides a small amount of revenue.

A special committee was set up by Justice Broughton to aid in the reactivation of Rutledge Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta at Duke University. This committee has the duty of getting acquainted with interested students at Duke and assisting with the reactivation proceedings when they begin.

At the present time Ruffin Chapter has 46 active members and one pledge. Since rushing activities are conducted in February, this number does not include a ny first year students. The Rush Committee has been making plans for a rushing program that we hope will result in the pledging of a large number of them.

Activities ceased during the recent exam period but plans for the coming semester are being made. Probably the foremost in most minds is the District XII Conclave which is scheduled for the 28th of February at Washington, D.C. Many members have made definite plans to attend and others have tentative plans. We anticipate a large representation at the Conclave and look forward to seeing and working with our brother PAD's there.

WILLIAM G. LANSDELL, JR.,
Vice-Justice.

STAPLES CHAPTER (Washington and Lee U.)

PADs HOLD MAJOR LAW SCHOOL POSITIONS

Staples Chapter of P.A.D. is definitely the up and coming law fraternity at Washington and Lee School of Law. During the last three years our chapter has risen from a struggling group of law students to one of the strongest groups in the law school.

There are 21 students on the law review at Washington and Lee, 14 of which are P.A.D.s. The faculty editor and advisor, Mr. Wilfred J. Ritz, is also a P.A.D.

Two of the student editors, Norman C. Roettger and Donald J. Currie, are likewise P.A.D.s.

The Board of Governors of the Student Bar Association, which is the governing body of the law school, is comprised of an impressive number of P.A.D.s. The offices of this body are president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer plus the justices of the two legal fraternities. Of these offices P.A.D.s hold the offices of president, secretary and treasurer of the Student Bar and president and vice-president of the senior and intermediate classes.

At the present time, Staples Chapter of P.A.D. boasts of a membership of 40. Rushing for this year is soon to begin. February 28th has been set for our rush party which will consist of a cocktail hour and dinner with the remainder of the evening being spent expounding the virtues and advantages of being a P.A.D. We hope for another successful rush season.

Following are three senior P.A.D. law students along with their activities.

Norman C. Boettger — Present Justice of Staples Chapter of P.A.D.; Vice-president 4th Circuit A.L.S.A.; Member of regional champion moot court competition team with the best brief in the nation; Law Review Editor; O.D.K.; Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities; Executive committee man, intermediate year; Treasurer of Student Bar, intermediate year; Vice-president of senior class; and member of the Board of Governors of the law school.

Robert L. Rhea — Present president of the student bar association; Vice-president of student bar association, intermediate year; Past Justice of P.A.D.; President of class intermediate year; and member of board of governors of the law school.

Charles C. Rodriguez — Secretary of P.A.D., intermediate year; Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities; O.D.K.; Law Review; Senior executive committeeman; Secretary of Student Bar association, senior year; Moot court team; Vice-president of class, intermediate year; and member of executive committee of the law school.

DONALD J. CURRIE,
Vice-Justice.

TIMBERLAKE CHAPTER (Wake Forest College)

PAD MINISTER FILLS POST OF CHAPTER CHAPLAIN

Phi Alpha Delta at Wake Forest established a new fraternity office this spring with the election of Conway Pruitt as Fraternity Chaplain. The first Chaplain brings to the office the highest qualifications since, in addition to being a second-year law student, Conway is an ordained minister. Sunday mornings usually find him preaching a sermon from the pulpit of one of the numerous Moravian churches in the Winston-Salem area, and now, since his election, Wednesday nights will find him leading the brotherhood of Phi Alpha Delta in a moment of prayer preceding their weekly meetings. The fifty-four brothers and twenty pledge-brothers of the Timberlake Chapter feel certain that the new office and its first incumbent will continue to make a significant contribution to the unity and spirit of their fraternity life.

Another significant event took place this year with the unveiling by the Wake Forest lawmen of a plaque, in honor of their namesake, Professor Edgar W. Timberlake, who passed away last year after many long years of noble service to Wake Forest, Phi Alpha Delta, and the legal profession. The plaque now hangs in the Chapter Room, beneath the portrait of the man it honors.
