83rd Chapter Installed At University of Toledo

On March 5, 1960, the 83rd chapter of Phi Alpha Delta was formally installed at the University of Toledo College of Law in impressive ceremonies conducted by Supreme Vice Justice Anthony A. DiGrazia, assisted by an initiation team from Wayne State University, and by Toledo alumni. The chapter was installed as the Sir Edward Coke Chapter, being named after the famed English jurist.

The colonization group was spearheaded by John S. Shaffer, a PAD transfer from Georgetown University Law School. Brother Shaffer first organized the Phi Alpha Legal Society at the University, which subsequently received university recognition and then petitioned the Supreme Executive Board for an active chapter charter. Of great assistance to the group in its organizational phases were Brothers Frank Pitt, Secretary of The DeVilbiss Co., and a law instructor at the Toledo University College of Law, District IX Justice James L. Broz, Jr., and Supreme Vice Justice Anthony A. DiGrazia.

The initiation team was furnished by Cooley Chapter at Wayne State University. Cooley Chapter is itself less than a year old, and the invitation to furnish the initiation team was a singular one for a relatively new chapter. Also joining in the initiation team as a member was John S. Shaffer, the Justice of the new Sir Edward Coke Chapter, inasmuch as Brother Shaffer had already been initiated as a member of the fraternity at Taft Chapter.

The initiation proper took place in the afternoon at the Federal District Court Room in the new Federal Building in Toledo. The initiation was followed by a cocktail reception in the Great Lakes Room of the Toledo Club. Several Toledo alumni attended, including Willard Jacquot, Frank Pitt, Ted Crucey, George P. Smith, Harold Sivers, and Edwin P. Johnson. Several national officers attended, including Supreme Vice Justice Anthony A. DiGrazia, District IX Justice James L. Broz, Jr., and District VI Justice Stanley H. Jakala.

Speaker of the evening was Judge John M. McCabe, for 28 years a distinguished Judge of the Common Pleas Court of Toledo, Ohio.

The College of Law at the University of Toledo was organized in 1906 as a part of the educational program of the YMCA and staffed by members of the bench and bar of the community. It was an undertaking responsive to the obvious need for the opportunity of acquiring a legal education in a metropolitan area. In 1909 the College became a part of the University, where the profession continued to provide the driving force for the program. In 1941 the American Bar Association gave full approval and accreditation to the College, and in December of that year the College was elected to membership in the Association of American Law Schools, thus becoming the first part time law school in the country to meet the requirements and standards of the two national accrediting agencies in the field of legal education. The organization and facilities of the College have been built up steadily since then, in keeping with the policy of keeping abreast of the rising standards of the field.

Charter members of the new chapter are: Joseph Angello, James Bodie, Hayden Carney, Allan Chabler, Joseph Goldberg, William Kroncke, Clair Langmaid, Jr., Paul McCrory, Jon Meinert, William Moore, Larry

'60 Convention Site Changed to Florida

The Supreme Executive Board has just announced that the 1960 National Convention of PAD, originally scheduled to be held in Nashville, Tennessee, has been changed to Miami Beach, Florida, with the Deauville Hotel as the headquarters hotel.

The change came about when members of the Nashville, Tennessee, Alumni Convention Committee requested that a convention in Nashville be deferred for a two year period, due principally to problems of integration and convention facilities.

Dates for the convention, which will see active and alumni delegates convene from 83 active and 45 alumni chapters, have been reset for August 22, 23 and 24.

The Deauville Hotel is a magnificent convention hotel, engineered in advance design, architecture and decor, and offers a perfect setting for Phi Alpha Delta's 33rd Biennial Convention. This ultra modern convention luxury hotel occupies two blocks on the Atlantic Ocean in the heart of Miami Beach.

Each active chapter is entitled to have two delegates and two alternate delegates at the convention, while each alumni chapter is entitled to have one delegate and one alternate at the convention. As many observers and guests as wish to attend may do so.

The Supreme Chapter pays the actual cost of first class railroad fare, upper berth rates, hotel accommodations and a subsistence allowance, for each day of travel to and from the convention and each day of the convention, all of which is paid for one delegate from each active chapter.

The Florida Alumni have pledged all-out efforts to assure all attending the convention a most entertaining time and the 1960 convention promises to be one of the best attended ever.

Mr. Justice Clark Extols Advantages of PAD at New York Golden Anniversary Dinner

Associate Justice Tom C. Clark of the Supreme Court of the United States and a devoted PAD was the guest of honor and principal speaker at the Golden Anniversary Dinner tendered by the Phi Alpha Delta New York Alumni Chapter, on February 20, 1960, which honored eight men who have been members of the fraternity for more than fifty years. The date also marked the Fifty-First Anniversary of the granting of the Charter to Rapallo Chapter at New York University School of Law. This was the first commemorative occasion scheduled in the country honoring members who have been in the fraternity for fifty years or more. The banquet was held in conjunction with the District XI Conclave so that approximately 175 members of the fraternity, and their ladies, were present for the festivities at the New York University Club in midtown New York.

Saturday evening's activities commenced with cocktails and a pre-banquet reception for Justice Clark. Thereafter, the national officers, members of the alumni chapter, delegates to the Conclave from Columbia, Cornell, New York, Rutgers, St. John, Syracuse, Temple and Yale Universities, and students adjourned to the Club's large banquet hall, filling it to capacity. The dinner consisted of fresh fruit cup, prime ribs of beef, baked potatoes and string beans, followed by a delectable rainbow parfait and coffee. Good food and fellowship set the stage for the ceremonies that were to follow.

Charles Digangi, Master of Ceremonies and Chairman of the Golden Anniversary celebration, introduced those seated at the head table, which included Robert J. Chadwick, Justice of District XI, Prof. Elmer Million, Faculty Advisor to Rapallo Chapter at New York University School of Law, Burton Citak, Justice of the New York Alumni Chapter, Robert A. Kushner, Chairman of the District XI Conclave, and national officers

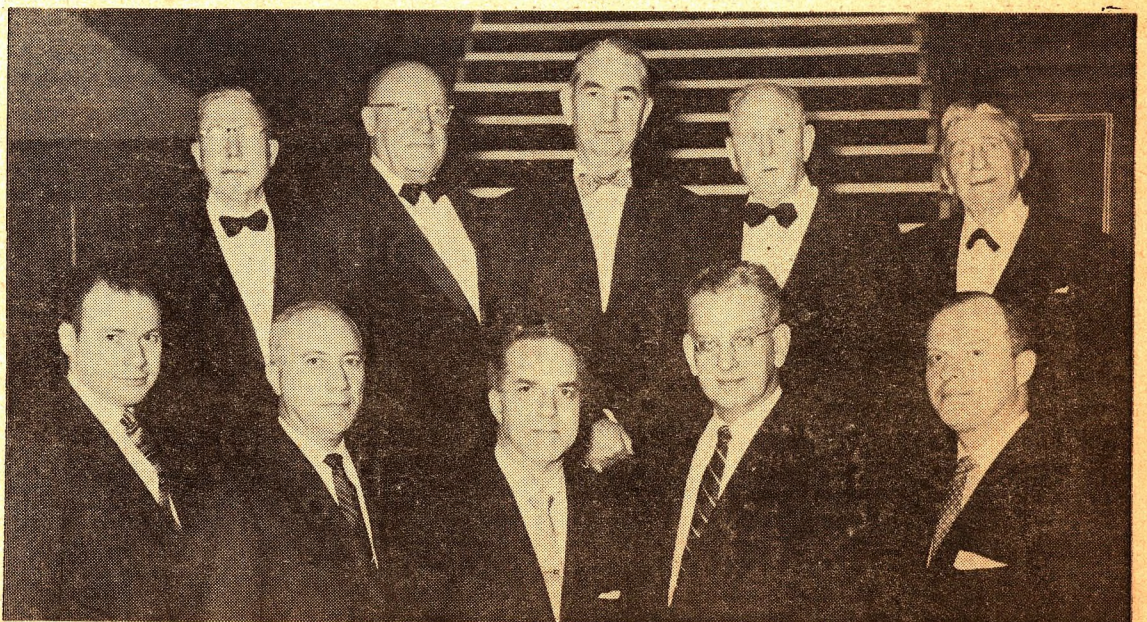

Anthony A. DiGrazia, Supreme Vice Justice, Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Vice Justice, and Robert E. Redding, Supreme Treasurer. Brother DiGrazia conveyed the best wishes of Supreme Justice Griffith and the Executive Board to the assembly.

Talks On PAD

Justice Clark's address was extremely well presented and doubly interesting in that he considered and stressed the practical role of our legal fraternity, together with the many advantages it offers the young prospective attorney as well as the practicing lawyer.

Upon the conclusion of his address, Justice Clark presented commemorative scrolls to the four fifty-year men who were present at the ceremonies, namely Mortimer B. Burnside, Thomas W. Constable, James W. Farrell and Louis F. Rebori. Four others, Harry A. Back, J. Laurens Elmore, Edward E. Fay and Charles J. Kennedy were prevented, by illness, from attending. (Their certificates and copies of the printed souvenir programs were

Message From The Supreme Justice

Does any worthy member of your chapter need a loan from the Endowment Fund to pay for tuition, books, or other expenses to complete the last two years of his legal education?

If so, he should make application for a loan to our Executive Secretary Fredrick J. Weitkamp, 10718 White Oak Avenue, Granada Hills, California. All applications will receive immediate attention by the Supreme Executive Board.

In states where refresher courses are given to prepare for a bar examination, loans may be made for this expense.

It is the desire of your fraternity that no member of PAD need drop out of law school during the last two years of study or be unable to take a refresher course because of lack of funds.

The Endowment Fund will soon submit a plan which, with the work of the local chapters, will help finance chapter activities. Under this proposal a campaign will be organized, headed by the District Justice, to promote the Endowment Fund in your area. Each alumnus will be asked to participate in the fund, by becoming a Life Member—$50.00; a member of the Century Club—$100.00; a member of the Thousand Dollar Club; or a contributing member in any amount. For each membership in the Endowment Fund received through the efforts of the members of your chapter, your chapter will receive 20%; for example, if your chapter obtains $500.00 for the Endowment Fund, it will immediately receive $100.00 for chapter activities.

The advantages of this plan are three-fold: (1) The active chapter will become better acquainted with the alumni; (2) the active chapter will have needed money available for chapter activities; (3) the Endowment Fund will reach the size necessary to accomplish its purpose of having money readily available for student loans, scholarships, and fellowships. This is a cash program.—The alumni, by contributing through the active chapter, will not only build the Endowment Fund but will also help finance the program of the local chapter. For further information, attend your Conclave or write to your District Justice.

The insurance project is off to a good start. There is now well over $4,000,000 in force.

Are you planning to attend the National Convention? Margaret and I will hope to see you there.

Fraternally,

Supreme Justice

ALUMNI SERENADE ACTIVES—Judge Alex Hotchkiss, Past Justice, Topeka Alumni Chapter, leads Benson Chapter alumni as they serenaded the actives at Benson Chapter's 1959-60 Founders' Day banquet held recently.

Benson Chapter Alumni Attend Annual Founders Day Banquet

As part of the tradition of Benson Chapter at Washburn University, in Topeka, Kansas, active and alumni members gathered in the capitol city of Kansas for their annual Founders' Day Banquet, February 26, 1960, despite the presence of 17 inches of snow on the ground. Nearly 100 Brothers of Benson Chapter, meeting in true fraternity fashion, joined in song, partaking of good food and listening to the advice of a distinguished gallery of speakers.

Founder's Day is an annual event with Benson Chapter and the members look forward each year with expectation to be able to meet and talk with old classmates, practicing attorneys and alumni of Benson Chapter now on the bench. From the Supreme Court, represented by Brother Schuyler Jackson, to the Court of Common Pleas, represented by one of the chapter's founders, Judge George M. Ashford, the active members learned what lies ahead in the practice of the law.

Benson Chapter has found its annual Founders' Day Banquet to be a great asset to the chapter. It renews the enthusiasm of the alumni, allows the pledges to grasp the significance of Phi Alpha Delta, and encourages the active chapter to strive to better itself.

Founders' Day has other purposes.

It promotes and develops an active alumni chapter. During the Founders' Day celebration, the alumni meet and elect officers who, in turn, serve the active chapter in every possible way from financing to rushing. For example, the alumni have helped the active chapter maintain a fraternity house at Washburn University, which houses 16 law students, has a complete library, and is the focus of fraternity affairs.

The actives recognize the good will and tireless efforts that the alumni of Benson Chapter generate in the course of this year. As part of the chapter's tradition, Founders' Day is given in tribute and various awards are presented to outstanding alumni. This year, for example, the outgoing President of the alumni chapter was given a gravel of recognition.

OUTSTANDING BENSON CHAPTER ALUMNUS—Shown being pleasantly surprised is Brother Everett Steerman, Justice, Topeka Alumni Chapter, as Benson Chapter Justice William Tomlinson presents him with an engraved gavel honoring him as Benson Chapter's outstanding alumnus for 1959-60. The award was presented as Brother Steerman welcomed guests at Benson Chapter's annual Founder's Day Banquet.

How Good Is Your Chapter's Rushing Program?

One of the most important problems confronting a chapter of our fraternity is that of rushing prospective members. Any chapter will be strong, active and an asset to the law school at which it is located only if its members continually think of bringing the right types of pledges into it. The technique of rushing will vary from school to school. However, there is one important factor which all of us should remember; we are brothers of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity and the way we conduct our affairs and ourselves in law school will largely determine the types of law students we will attract.

In my own experience both as a law student at Southern Methodist University and as an alumnus here in Dallas, Texas, I find the best parties for rushees are held when large numbers of the alumni are present. The programs which obviously produced the greatest number of new pledges were those in which the subject of law itself was paramount. An interested and reasonably successful alumnus at such a party can do wonders with the rushees.

Of course the rules of each school will vary concerning the use of alcoholic beverages. It is my opinion formed after twenty-seven years of active membership in Phi Alpha Delta that the least successful rushing parties are those which might be called "beer busts." I believe that the rushees are more interested in the practice of law and in knowing an talking to those in its pursuit than in just another social party.

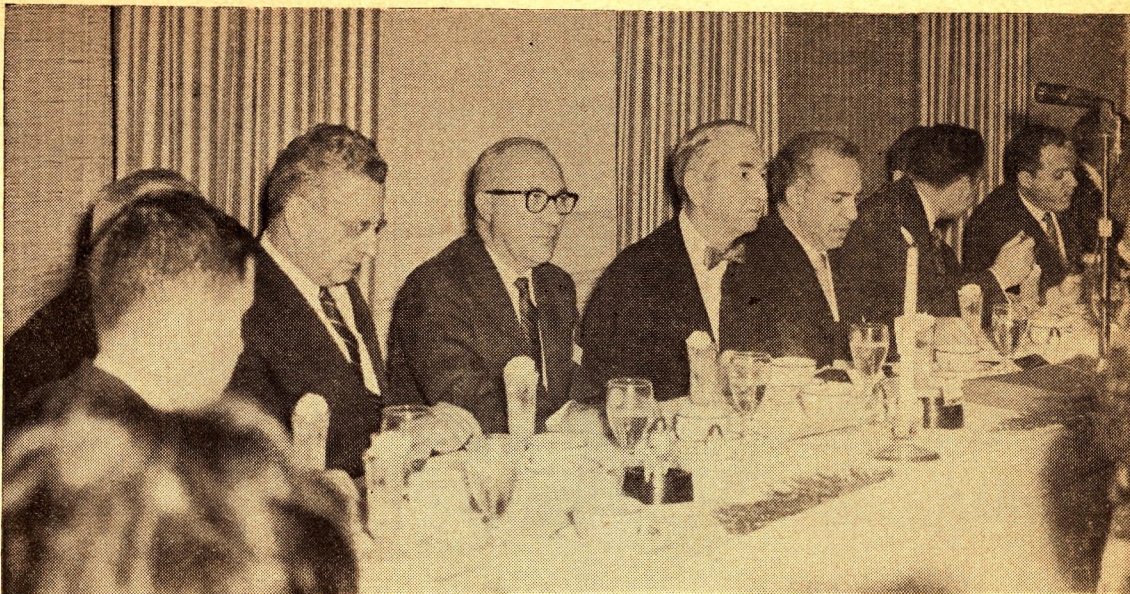

Last year we mailed to each chapter a list of "rushing tips." Those are again given here for present and future use. Good rushing!

1. Remember that rushing is a year-round activity.
2. Hold a free coffee hour for all students.
3. Offer a "How to Study" program during the first few weeks of law school.
4. Hold a PAD breakfast for all new students.
5. Prepare mimeographed diagrams of the Law Library, showing the location of each set of Statutes, Reports, Encyclopedias, etc., and distribute these to the entire law school.
6. Prepare a list of abbreviations suggested for use in the preparation of briefs and the taking of notes, and distribute these to the entire law school.
7. Prepare a PAD Chapter Directory, which also serves as a Rushing Booklet, containing members; names, a history of the local chapter, names of faculty members, and other information.

8. Leave PAD matchbooks in the Student Lounge for all to use and pick up.
9. Have your active members study with the freshmen or new students, and take coffee breaks with them.
10. Hold periodic reviews for the new students prior to their first round of examinations.
11. Make use of your PAD wives. For example, hold a Wives Tea before your rushing functions, for the wives of rushees. Establish a Wives' Bridge Club. Have PAD wives serve at rushing parties and functions.
12. Place in the hands of every new student the National Rushing Booklet and perhaps also one prepared by the local chapter dealing with local chapter points.
13. Take those who appear to be the leaders of the freshman class to lunch with prominent alumni.
14. Maintain a special library for prospective members, from which they may borrow law books.
15. Use your new pledges in rushing. They can do more to tell others why they decided to pledge PAD than can the actives of your chapter.
16. Take pictures of your important PAD functions, enlarge them and place them on a large bulletin board where they can be seen by the entire law school.
17. Make sure that your active members have PAD recognition pins.
18. Maintain a "PAD inkwell" which can be used by all students in the Law Library.
19. Make sure that each of your guests has a ride to and from the rushing functions.
20. Sponsor trips to Supreme Court or other government agencies or institutions.
21. Sustain an Effective Speaking Program, patterned after Toastmasters International.
22. Stress the "professionalism" of PAD.
23. Remember that rushing is nothing but WORK, WORK, WORK and MORE WORK all year round.

DEE BROWN WALKER,
Rushing Chairman

N.Y. Site of District XI Conclave

The District XI Conclave got underway on Friday afternoon, February 19, 1960, when the delegates convened at the Law School of the host chapter, New York University, on its Washington Square campus. National officers Anthony A. DiGrazia, Elden S. Magaw, Robert E. Redding, District Justice Robert J. Chadwick, and delegates from the chapters in District XI comprising the northeastern portion of the United States were in attendance. On Friday evening a reception and cocktail party in honor of the visiting delegates was held at Hayden Hall on Washington Square. Fraternity members of the local chapter, faculty members, alumni and their ladies attended a full evening of fellowship and good cheer.

The opening business session was held at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, February 20, 1960, in the Loeb Student Activity Center overlooking Washington Square Park in Greenwich Village. Opening remarks by Supreme Treasurer Robert E. Redding and District Justice Robert J. Chadwick set the pattern for the informative informal discussions that followed. To avoid a stereotyped chapter-by-chapter presentation of the past year's activities, the discussions this year were held in panel fashion and highlighted the individual problems of each chapter, rather than individual strong points. It was felt that this method was extremely helpful and that the discussions could help to resolve local difficulties and bring assistance to the Chapters concerned. Throughout the session, the comments and assistance of the national officers present were extremely helpful and rewarding.

Discussions concerning the insurance plan provided by the national chapter for individual members disclosed that information bulletins from the national chapter, and the Reporter, are not being thoroughly digested nor was the information being disseminated to all active members; the office of the District Justice can play an effective role here by pointing up such new plans and activities so that all become aware of the many benefits being provided. On the question of adequate receipt of information, the delegates requested that only one person in each chapter be on the mailing list of the national board so that either the Justice or the Clerk would be responsible for obtaining and disseminating all correspondence. In a similar vein, the problem of continuity of officers was discussed together with the mandatory requirement that outgoing chapter officers turn over all of their files and materials intact so that they may be used to the greatest advantage by their successors, together with a thorough briefing by the old officers as to their duties and functions.

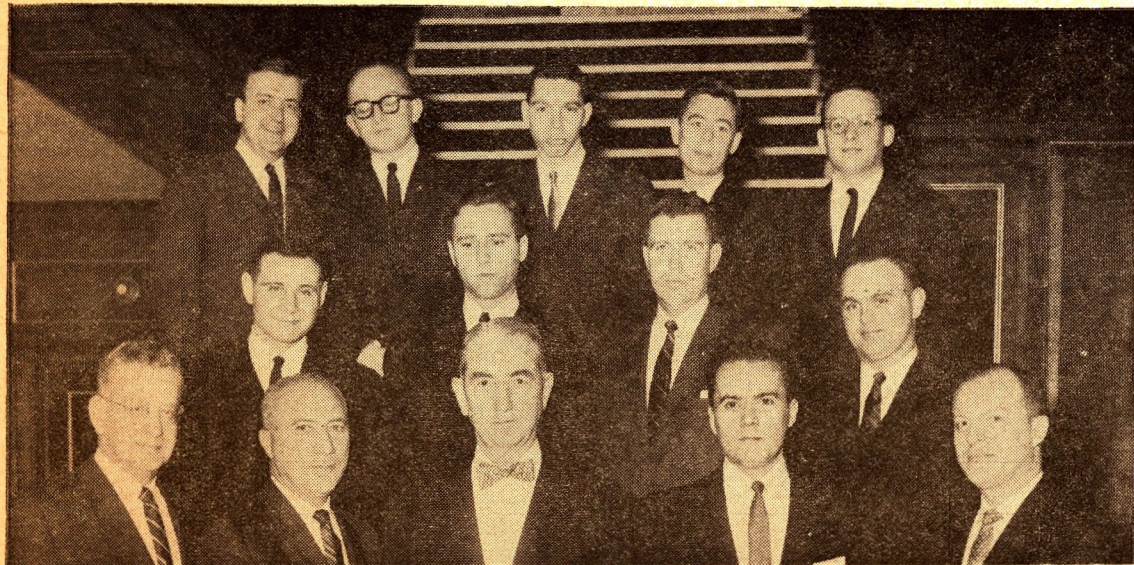

The problem of adequate alumni coordination was also thoroughly discussed with the decision that liaison personnel be designated by both the alumni and the active chapters so that each would be in close contact with the other. The question of adequate coordination and the fruits thereof is graphically shown in the fine joint function of the Golden Anniversary Celebration and this Conclave, wherein both the alumni and the undergraduate members worked in close cooperation and harmony. This cooperation was further emphasized for the future in the plans that were developed to have the metropolitan New York chapters hold a joint initiation in a New York court house with a banquet to follow, and an open invitation being extended to the alumni to participate.

Among the problems discussed by the delegates and national officers was the question of maintaining the second year class at a high level of activity, interest and numbers. The discussion developed into the general question of rushing practices and among some of the suggestions was the publication and use of a class directory, library display and special programming. It was decided that one of the biggest assets available was the use of alumni support in this area, coordinated through the chapter and alumni advisors and the District Justice. The question also arose concerning professional activities that could be engaged in by the active chapters and attention was again called to an excellent memorandum in this area prepared by Supreme Treasurer Robert E. Redding.

The delegates requested that the national officers continue to provide adequate information and publicity on the varied services performed by the Supreme chapter for the local members and their chapters. It was especially requested that full information concerning the National Convention this year be sent early for adequate planning purposes. The economical purchase of banners for each chapter at the nominal cost of $30 each was discussed and emphasized. Another point not very often raised was the function and activity of the Board of Tribunes and it was suggested that a particular question raised as to the admission of a foreign attorney who has discontinued legal studies in the United States, but who is attending local universities, would be an appropriate question for the Board of Tribunes to decide.

At lunchtime, the delegates proceeded to partake of a sumptuous buffet provided by an efficient catering staff in Loeb Hall. Of course, no one would dare keep count, but it was rumored that the national officers feasted as well as any, and the heavy-laden tables were quickly cleaned. Coffee, dessert and interesting private discussion faded into the background as the district business meeting resumed in the early afternoon. Supreme Treasurer Redding explained in detail the financing of both the District Conclave and the National Convention planned for Nashville later this year.

Roberts Chapter at Temple University in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, was the site chosen for the 1961 Conclave, and Samuel Yucht of New York University School of Law was elected Student District Clerk.

In the February, 1959, issue of THE REPORTER, appeared a "Statement of Policy" by the National Placement Director. The key paragraph in that statement read:

"Experience has taught that placement on a national level will not work. Placement activities can achieve success only in the local community. The National Placement Director cannot effect placement on an individual basis. He can only stimulate, advise, and co-ordinate local activities."

The "Statement" then proceeded to suggest a simple form of local organization for placement activities. Mimeograph copies of the statement were mailed to all Active and Alumni Chapters and District Judges. Covering letters requested appointment of local alumni and student placement committees and reports to the Director on appointments made and procedures being followed.

Replies were received from 3 Active Chapters, 1 Alumni Chapter and 2 District Justices. Of the three Active Chapters replying, two forwarded detailed information on their placement activities and one stated that because of local conditions it did not believe a Placement program would be of particular value. The Alumni Chapter replying was a state-wide organization which reported the appointment of a Placement Director for the State. One District Justice replying was faced with the preliminary problem of attempting to organize the Alumni in his area, the other, in a highly organized District, provided valuable suggestions on expansion of existing programs.

The foregoing summary is not intended in any way to be critical of those who did not reply. It is known that successful placement activities are being carried on in many areas from which no replies were received. The purpose of this review is to emphasize the proposition that placement can operate only on the local level. This lack of response to national placement efforts is but a duplication of results experienced in prior years relative to national placement activities. It is to be assumed that the necessity of local effort is so obvious that most areas see no benefits to be gained from a national program.

In at least one field national efforts can be of value. That is reviewing local activities which have been successful for their areas and may be worth copying in other areas. In New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles, Active Chapters have used varying versions of the basic idea of circularizing all Alumni in the area in an effort to locate possible job openings. An indirect benefit of this program is to keep Alumni alert to the needs of job placement, even if no direct placements result.

The program developed by Ross Chapter last year, and contemplated for expansion to include Ford and McKenna Chapters this year, is based around a preliminary mailing to all Alumni advising that biographical material for graduating Brothers is available upon request. Last year, 3,285 preliminary letters were mailed, resulting in approximately 150 requests by Alumni for biographical data on 20 graduating Brothers. In addition, information was received on 13 part time openings and 15 summer openings for students still in school.

Such a program, which can be carried on most effectively by the student chapters, should not be the sole placement activity, but is a valuable addition to the basic placement program which must be conducted by Alumni. The essential elements of an Alumni program, as exemplified by activities in Washington, Chicago and Los Angeles, include both job locating and placement and the equally essential function of job counselling. These are time-consuming tasks which should not be imposed upon a single individual alumnus in any large area, but rather should be spread among as large an alumni committee as possible.

Placement requires continual effort. A progress report is meaningless. Prior accomplishments are of value only in pointing the way to further effort. It is the objective of this report to attempt to induce additional activity. Each year's graduating classes must be assisted anew. If your area was successful in placing Brothers of last year's class, this should spur extra efforts this year. If you feel that efforts in your area last year were insufficient, each year provides a new opportunity to serve the fraternity in this most vital of all fields.

Alabama Chapter Hosts District V Conclave

The District V Conclave for 1960 was held February 19 and 20 at the Stafford Hotel in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, with Morgan Chapter, of the University of Alabama, as host.

The Conclave opened with an informal party for delegates on Friday night, February 19. The function provided an excellent opportunity for delegates to become acquainted.

The business meetings commenced the next morning at 10:00 A.M. (an hour later than originally scheduled pursuant to unanimous agreement of the delegates who had attended the Conclave cocktail party the evening before). Presiding at the opening business session was District Student Justice L. Tennent Lee, III, and District Student Clerk, Curtis Wright recorded the minutes.

Supreme Justice John L. Griffith addressed the Conclave delegates on general fraternity matters, and Supreme Marshal T. Julian Skinner, Jr., substituting for District Judge John J. Hooker, who was unable to attend, spoke on District fraternity activities.

Plans for the forthcoming National Convention, in Nashville, Tennessee, were discussed and all District V chapters pledged their cooperation to District Justice Hooker, who is Convention General Chairman.

An extensive discussion took place on the status of the various active chapters and the activities which were conducted by them.

Taking an active part were Edward A. Ling, Justice of the Alabama Alumni Chapter, and H. Clay Berry, Past Justice of the Alumni Chapter. Justice Ling presented the Conclave with a check from the Alabama Alumni Chapter to assist in the Conclave expenses and stated that the Alumni Chapter expected to aid in completing plans for the National Convention.

The business session of the Conclave concluded with the selection of Oxford, Mississippi, as the site for the 1961 Conclave, with Lamar Chapter, at the University of Mississippi, as host. The following new District officers were also selected: District Student Justice, Ralph Lawson (Lamar Chapter); District Student First Vice Justice, Richard L. Brandon (Hull Chapter); District Student Second Vice Justice, Richard L. Yarbrough (Martin Chapter); District Student Third Vice Justice, Sam Hamiter (Morgan Chapter); District Student Clerk, James E. Welch (Lamar Chapter); District Student Treasurer, Howell Clements (McReynolds Chapter); and District Student Marshal, to be selected by Lurton Chapter at Vanderbilt University.

One of the highlights of the Conclave was the initiation of three outstanding lawyers as members of Morgan Chapter. The oath was administered by Supreme Justice John L. Griffith to Edward Azar, Administrator of the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, Guy Sparks, Assistant Revenue Commissioner and Legal Counsel for the State of Alabama, and M. Clinton McGee, Professor of Law at the University of Alabama School of Law and author of "Criminal Procedure in Alabama."

Presiding at the Conclave banquet was the retiring District Student Justice L. Tennent Lee, III. He introduced various prominent guests including Judge Leigh M. Clark, of Birmingham, a charter member of Morgan

OATH ADMINISTERED TO NEW ALUMNI MEMBERS—Supreme Justice John L. Griffith (left) is shown administering the oath to three new alumni members taken into Phi Alpha Delta through Morgan Chapter at the University of Alabama. They are Edward Azar, Administrator of the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, Guy Sparks, Assistant Revenue Commissioner, and legal counsel for the State of Alabama, and M. Clinton McGee, University of Alabama Law School professor.

PRESENTATION OF HONORARY KEY—The key of honorary membership in Phi Alpha Delta is presented by Ross Chapter Justice Sam Crowe to United States District Judge Fred Kunzel, as other dignitaries look on. Left to right: John J. McCarthy, San Diego Alumni Chapter Justice; Crowe; Judge Kunzel; Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray; and Dean Staten of the University of San Diego School of Law.

U. S. Judge Kunzel Initiated in San Diego

On January 15, 1960, at a meeting of the San Diego Alumni Chapter held at the Admiral Kidd Naval Officer's Club, Ross Chapter of the University of Southern California, initiated the Honorable Fred Kunzel, Judge of the United States District Court, as an honorary member of the fraternity. The ceremonies were conducted by Justice Sam Crowe, of Ross Chapter, assisted by Ross Chapter member John Witt, and San Diego Alumni Chapter Justice John J. McCarthy.

Among notables attending the initiation were United States District Judge James Carter, Municipal Judge Fenton Garfield, Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray, Executive Secretary Frederick J. Weitkamp, and Dean Staten of the University of San Diego School of Law.

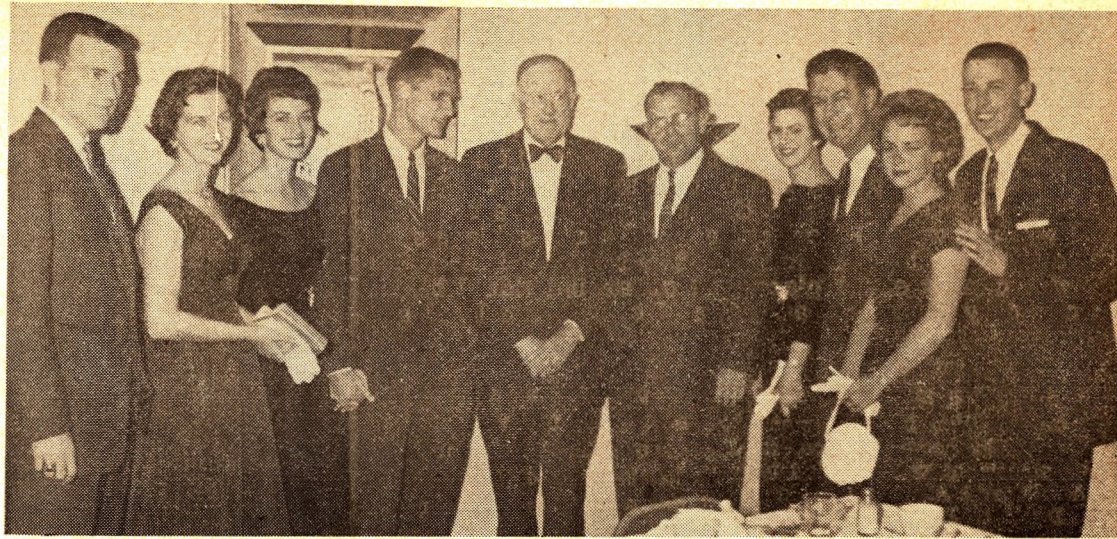

The Alumni Chapter heard a report that the two law schools, the University of San Diego College of Law, and California Western School of Law, were as yet unaccredited by the American Bar Association, but the accreditation was anticipated in the near future. Justice McCarthy reported that members of the Father and Son Initiated

On January 22, 1960, the Elden S. Magaw Alumni Chapter of Philadelphia, held a cocktail party at the Constitution Room of the Sheraton Hotel in Philadelphia, in honor of the Honorable Edward G. Biester, President Judge of the Common Pleas Court of Bucks County, Pennsylvania, who had been initiated previously as an honorary member, and also for his son, Attorney Edward G. Biester, Jr., who was initiated as an active member. Approximately 80 members attended the cocktail party, including many Judges of Philadelphia and surrounding counties.

Alumni Chapter had met with students and faculty members at both those schools and that it appeared that student bodies at these law schools were desirous of obtaining charters of PAD when the necessary requirements have been met.

The Alumni Chapter resolved to institute alumni chapter prizes to each of the two law schools in the form of law book prizes. Specific funds were donated at the meeting to assure the prizes for the first year.

Hughes Chapter Crowns Sweetheart

Each year around the feast of St. Valentine the members of Hughes Chapter, at the University of Denver College of Law, honor a woman connected with the University by selecting and crowning her as the Chapter's SWEETHEART. This year the members unanimously selected Lady Frances Hickey Schallow, a Denver attorney and part time professor of law at the College.

Lady Schallow was crowned "Sweetheart" by John P. Linn, assistant Dean of the College, and was invested with the other indicia of honor by Supreme Justice John L. Griffith and Chapter Justice Thomas Playle. The latter included a "buss" bestowed by the Supreme Justice on behalf of all the members of the Supreme Chapter.

The setting for the investiture was a special St. Valentine's Day session of the House of the House of Lords. 'Lord' John P. Kreishimer, Chapter vice-justice, addressed the House and officiated at the session.

Frances Hickey Schallow received her associate in Arts degree from Colorado College and her B.A. and LL.B. degrees from the University of Denver. She was admitted to practice in Colorado in 1943. She was law clerk to the Honorable Orlie L. Phillips from 1946-1947. Mrs. Schallow has been Librarian and executive secretary of the College of Law and also an Assistant Professor in the College of Law and in The University of Denver School of Commerce. She has been a frequent contributor to legal periodicals including: Dicta, The Connecticut Bar Journal, and the Whitehouse Conference on Children and Youth (1951). She is a member of the American, Colorado and Denver Bar Associations. Mrs. Schallow is the daughter of Colorado's Deputy Attorney General, Frank E. Hickey.

Former Governor Dan Moody Initiated

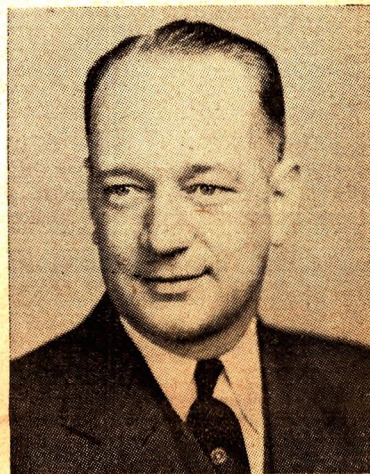

A highly successful Fall rush for Tom C. Clark Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, the "most outstanding PAD chapter for 1959," ended recently with its formal initiation of pledges and the annual Fall dinner-dance. Formal initiation was held at the Court of Criminal Appeals. This was followed with the annual Fall dinner-dance at the Austin Country Club.

The honorary initiate was former Governor Dan Moody. Mr. Moody was elected Governor in 1926 and again in 1929 after having previously served as the Attorney General of Texas and District Attorney of Williamson and Travis counties. Governor Moody is a member of the American Bar Association, the Texas Bar, the Travis County Bar, Fellow of American College of Trial Lawyers, Fellow of American Bar Foundation, National Association of Railroad Counsel, and is Vice-President of the University of Texas Law School Foundation.

New PAD pledges are John F. Boyle, Jr., Roy C. Coffee, Jr., Robert Keith Drummond, Taylor Gandy, David Gerald Glickman, Pearson Grimes, Arthur John Harter III, Robert Ewell Hudson, Truett G. Hull, Jr., Harry Jones, Noel Kuester, Jerry Van Kyle, Thomas R. McDade, Samuel Downing McDaniel, Thomas Vance McMahan, Gordon MacDowell, Harold Lee Ogden, Robert J. Pickens, A. L. MILTON W. HARDY

Hardy Named New District VIII Justice

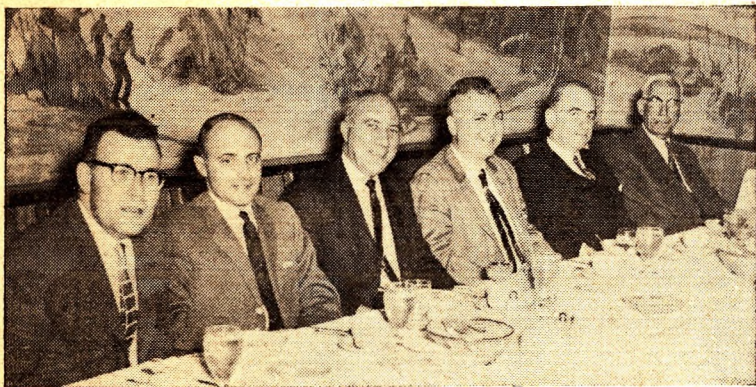

Brother Milton W. Hardy, former well known instructor of law at Tulsa University, and prominent attorney in Tulsa, has been named by Supreme Justice John L. Griffith as the new Justice of District VIII. Brother Hardy succeeds Joseph W. Geary, Jr., who was forced to resign due to pressure of other duties. Brother Geary was recently elected to the City Council of Dallas, Texas.

Brother Hardy is well known to PADs in the Southwest, through his many activities in the fraternity and in the community. Of particular note is the fact that Hardy Chapter at the University of Tulsa, was named for Brother Hardy's father, Summers Hardy.

The new District Justice is a Past President of Hi-Twelve International, Past President of the Optimist Club of Tulsa, Oklahoma, Past President of the Tulsa Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, a member of the Scottish Rite Masons, Knights Templar, Knights of Pythias, and is listed in Who's Who in the South and Southwest.

Brother Hardy also holds membership in the American Bar Association, the Oklahoma Bar Association, the Federal Bar Association, and the Tulsa County Bar Association. He has been a member of the faculty of the College of Law at the University of Tulsa since 1946.

Although Chicago had one of its worst snow storms the meeting was well attended by young and old PADs, including Brother William Sadd, Justice of Marshall Chapter, who brought five guests, and Les Culler, Justice of Story Chapter.

Speaker of the evening was C. S. Bentley Pike, U. S. Commissioner for the Northern District of Illinois. His address dealt with his years of experience in office and was well entitled,

"From Bond to the Hoosgow."

At the January meeting of the Chicago Alumni Chapter, held at the Chicago Bar Association, the following brothers were installed as officers for the year 1960: Justice, Robert J. Gorman; Vice Justice, J. Arthur Connelly; Second Vice Justice, Barrett O'Hara; Clerk, Constantine Drugas; Treasurer, Philip T. Greenburg; Marshal, William Zavis, and Historian, Floyd Harmon. PADs Sweep Washburn Student Bar Offices

PADs again dominate the Student Bar Association at Washburn University College of Law, with the election of Brothers Jack Focht, Larry McDonald, Charles Brogan, and Ed Davis to the respective offices of President, Vice President, Treasurer and Bailiff.

There are two political parties in the Washburn Law School—the Equitable Party, made up of unaffiliated students, and members of PAD, and the Independent Party, which is made up of members of Delta Theta Phi.

Within the next two weeks, the chapter plans to initiate 22 men as actives, thus boosting active membership to 60. PAD wives are a very active group and hold meetings twice a month. The Wives' organization from time to time raises money through various activities and some of this money is used to purchase needed items for the chapter house located near the campus. Actives and pledges meet every other Monday for dinner, with a featured speaker. Past speakers have been various Judges, attorneys, and state and government officials.
