THE PAD INITIATION FEE

During the current school year, over 1,500 law students will become members of Phi Alpha Delta. Each of these new members will pay an initiation fee to the Supreme Chapter of $25.00. Over the years we have had inquiries as to what use is made of the initiation fee, and it was felt that an article explaining its use would be of great interest to the membership.

Usually, the first physical evidence of a return for one's initiation fee is the membership certificate which is received a short time after the initiation takes place. This membership certificate is prepared by the official jeweler of the fraternity, L. G. Balfour Co., and costs the Supreme Chapter $2.50.

PAD sponsors annual meetings of the active and alumni chapters in each District, which are called District Conclaves. $2.00 of each initiation fee is returned to the districts for the holding of these Conclaves.

Immediately upon his initiation each member receives a lifetime subscription to The Reporter, the fraternity's official publication. No extra charge or subscription fee is made for this. This is not the case with the other major law fraternities, for each of them charges an annual subscription fee. Thus, PAD sends some 36,000 copies of each issue to all of its members. The other major law fraternities only mail to subscribers and thus mail slightly less than 10,000 copies each issue. The cost of publication and mailing of The Reporter currently involves an annual expenditure of approximately $6,000.00.

The fraternity periodically publishes a Professional Directory which has been acclaimed by many as the finest of its kind. The Directory is published every six years and is periodically supplemented to keep it current and up to date. Through the Directory a tremendous amount of business is referred from one PAD to another across the country from day to day and, of course, to the young attorney just starting in practice this is a very distinct advantage. The Directory has both an alphabetical and geographical section and is, to your editor's knowledge, the only law fraternity Directory which lists, in addition to the name and address of the individual the date of his admission to the bar and type of practice in which he engages. PAD is the only major law fraternity which issues a supplement to its Directory. The 1960 Directory only recently was published at a total cost of approximately $26,000. The Directory is distributed free of charge to all

90th Active Chapter Charter Granted to U. of San Diego

On the evening of May 12, 1961, PAD's 90th active chapter charter was officially issued to an outstanding group of 26 students at the University of San Diego School of Law. The new chapter is named for the Hon. Paul John McCormick, a former Chief Judge of the United States District Court for the Southern District of California. He was with the U. S. District Court from 1924 to 1951.

With the initiation of this outstanding group of young law students, PAD became the first law fraternity to establish a chapter at the newly American Bar Association accredited law school. Many PAD's are on the faculty of the law school, including Dean Rev. Martin McManus, United States District Judge James M. Carter, and Maj. Gen. George W. Hickman, Jr., former Judge Advocate General of the United States Army.

The initiation team was composed of members from Ford Chapter at Loyola University in Los Angeles and McKenna Chapter at UCLA School of Law. On hand for the official presentation of the charter was Supreme Justice Anthony A. Di Grazia, from Chicago, Illinois. Also present from the official family of PAD were Supreme Secretary Henry C. Rohr, District III Justice Matthew S. Rae, past Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray, National Placement Director Richard Loewe, and Executive Secretary Frederick J. Weitkamp. The initiation was held in the United States District Court room in San Diego.

A reception preceded the installation banquet and was held

Message From The Supreme Justice

TRAVELING THE PAD CIRCUIT

The Magic Number Is 57

Monday, March 20th. I drove to Springfield, Illinois, and met with Brother Joseph Daily, of Calhoun Chapter, Associate Justice of the Illinois Supreme Court, and Mrs. Patricia Watson, Assistant Librarian, to make final arrangements for the banquet honoring Illinois Supreme Court Justice Harry B. Hershey upon his initiation as a member of Magruder Chapter. (Story and pictures in April issue)

Tuesday, March 21st. Our thanks to Justice Daily, Mrs. Watson, and the members of Magruder Chapter for a most successful banquet and overflow crowd.

Wednesday, March 22nd. Arrived in St. Louis, where I met Brother James Sullivan at the St. Louis Club. Brother Sullivan escorted me to Washington University and St. Louis University, where we met with the Deans, PAD professors, and members of Champ Clark and Matt Sullivan Chapters.

In the evening a reception was held at the St. Louis Club, attended by many members of the St. Louis alumni chapter, including Brothers Wilson, Gershenson, Judge Maniscalco and Lieberman. With Brother Sullivan as chairman, plans were started for the PAD reception at the ABA meeting next August 8th (Jodiac Room—Chase Hotel) and the Supreme Board meeting August 11th and 12th.

My thanks to this fine group of PAD's who keep sparking the interest of both active chapters.

Thursday, March 23rd. Arrived at University of Missouri, Law School Chapter, at noon and had lunch with Carl F. Krauss, Justice, and the officers of the chapter. Brother Krauss introduced me to Dean Covington and Professors Eckhardt, Divibus, Anderson, Skinner, Pittman, and Paul Peterson, General Council for University of Missouri.

At 3:30 I regretted having to leave this outstanding chapter, but it was necessary, to keep a date with the Kansas City Alumni at 6:00 p.m.

Brother Chuck Ferm had his doubts about my making it on time, knowing the reputation of the Lawson boys for extending their hospitality (P.S. to Chuck—I promised to return to Lawson and spend an evening in Columbia) I arrived on time and to a reception and banquet as only our brothers in Kansas City can arrange, attended by Brothers Gunnels, Gold, Gore, Judge Kennedy, and many, many others. The newly appointed U. S. District Attorney for Kansas City is a PAD. (DJ Gunnels is getting us a picture and story). If you know of any PAD's receiving such high honors by either appointment or election in city, state or federal offices, be sure to notify our Executive Secretary.

Friday, March 24th. Brothers Eisler and McKelveny, and I, visited the Kansas City University Law School (Benton Chapter). I was sorry to learn that Dean King was out of town; however, I had the pleasure to visit the Assistant Dean and other members of the faculty.

After lunch, Brother McKelveny accompanied me to the Kansas Toll Road, and I was on my way to Lawrence, to attend the District VII Conclave, Green Chapter of Kansas University, host.

For various reasons, M. Sullivan, Hammond, Moore, Corliss and Reese chapters were not represented.

Saturday, March 25th. District VII Conclave called to order by Student District Justice Ronald Badger, Green Chapter, District Justice Gunnels, Benton Chapter, and Associate District Justice Glenn Lewis, Hammond. The speakers were Dean Charbenau, Kansas Supreme Court Justice Brother Schuyler Jackson. A very interesting discussion on the use of the lie detector took place.

Despite 5 absent chapters, it was a very informative Conclave and the meeting closed with a fine address by Judge Hotchkiss, Benson Chapter, who can inspire any doubtful PAD on the value of his membership in our great fraternity.

Cole Chapter, Drake University, will host the next Conclave.

Sunday, March 26th. Drove to Topeka and had lunch with Benson Chapter brothers at the Chapter House. The lunch was prepared by the House Brothers (and take it from me, without a House mother, these men deserve an award for Good House-keeping).

This was my second visit to the Benson House and I viewed the remodeling also done by the members. (Outstanding chapter—competitors, watch out for this chapter, the officers said "we are out to win this year.")

At 3:00 p.m., four pledges were initiated, at which Brother John Shuart, Past Supreme Historian, represented the alumni.

About 4:00 p.m. tornado warnings prevented me from going to Des Moines, and also a torrential rain caused many brothers to stay at the House, so with some "anti-freeze" that lacked a "Kansas stamp," a PAD confab went on to 6:00 p.m. With the phones ringing for PADs call to dinner, John Shuart, his lovely wife, and I, went to Dinner.

Monday, March 27th. This was a long mile drive, with rain and snow to boot, a previous good night's sleep was really welcome. I was the guest of Past Supreme Justice Robert Jackson and his darling wife Louise.

I arrived at Drake University Law School, Cole Chapter at 3:30, and visited with the faculty. Brother Martin Tollefson, the Dean, was out of the city.

At a reception and banquet attended by actives and Tall Corn Alumni the next Conclave was discussed for it is this chapter's desire to have a 100% attendance.

Tuesday, March 27th. Arrived at the University of Iowa Law School, Hammond Chapter, at noon. A Luncheon had been arranged by Brother Tom Wine and his officers at the Student Union. It was well attended by the actives and alumni.

After lunch I visited with Iowa Supreme Court Justice Brother Larson and Dean Mason Ladd.

I was escorted by the Assistant Dean through the new Law School Building, now under construction, and promised to return for the dedication.

Wednesday, March 29th. This day I spent in Davenport catching up on my correspondence, before going on to Chicago, to be home for Easter with my family.

Thursday, April 6th. Overlooked the fact that Ann Arbor is on Eastern time, and was about an hour late for an appointment with Ed Bottom, Justice of Campbell Chapter, who, in spite of it being spring vacation, gathered several members and Professor and Mrs. Chas. Joiner for an afternoon visit. Campbell Chapter is not as large in number as it was at one time, but I can report that in the number we have, there is quality. The 1962 District IX Conclave will be held in Detroit, with Campbell and Cooley Chapters as hosts, and they have a real goal to equal—Toledo in 1961.

ANTHONY A. DI GRAZIA

Cooley Chapter and the Detroit Alumni Chapter held a reception at the Lee-Plaza Hotel. The next conclave and new chapters at Detroit College of Law and Detroit University was the subject of discussion. It was good to see Forest Hainline (Campbell) as usual showing his deep interest in PAD, and to meet John Raymond (Hay) Justice, Detroit Alumni Chapter. Justice Benson appointed John Moskal and Don McLean as a reception committee for me, and what a reception!

Friday, April 7th. I visited Wayne University College of Law and met Brother Raymond at Detroit University, who teaches taxation, besides having an extensive practice. With John's personal guidance and the interest of Cooley and Detroit Alumni, I feel we will have a chapter to present on or before the next conclave.

I arrived in Toledo about 5:00 p.m. to attend the District IX Conclave, and met District Justice James Broz, Hay Chapter, Associate Justices Frank Pitt, Green Chapter, Don Johnson, Chase Chapter, and Supreme Vice Justice Elden Magaw and his charming wife, Mildred.

Coke Chapter, host for the conclave, only two years old, started with a reception.

Saturday, April 8th. Student District Justice Paulsen, Coke Chapter, and the committee of Rosen, Augello, Bamman, Konop and Justice Goldberg, put on a Conclave that was a true miniature National Convention, and at a minimum of cost.

Beside the usual topic and chapter reports, activities as follows: Professor Charles Joiner, Hammond Chapter, Luncheon speaker, Ohio Supreme Court Justice Weygandt, dinner speaker, Toledo area alumni, charter; Earl Boxell Campbell Chapter Justice, honorary membership award, Professor Josef L. Kunz; Cole Chapter Womens Auxiliary, Mrs. Kroncke, Williamson, Biele, Bamman and Shaffer, saw to it that the sweethearts of PAD were well entertained, while their men were busy with the Conclave.

They had TV, Radio and Press releases which has not been equalled by any other conclave.

My heartfelt thanks to all the Brothers in District IX for making this the best of the year, and my thanks to District Justice Stanley Jakala for bringing my wife Nelle to Toledo and then home.

Ten out of thirteen active chapters participated.

Sunday, April 9th. Driving in rain which turned to a heavy wet snow, I arrived at Ada, Ohio, and met Vice Justice Al Dobnick, Willis Chapter, who SUPREME COURT JUSTICE PRESENTS NEW ACTIVE PINS—Tom C. Clark, Associate Justice United States Supreme Court, presents new active pins to members of Hamill Chapter.

HAMILL CHAPTER DECLARES MAY 9TH "INDIANA PAD DAY"

Justice Tom Clark Speaks; Four Honorary Members Initiated

Hamill Chapter of Indiana University School of Law, Indianapolis Division, held "Indiana PAD Day" on May 9, 1961 in Indianapolis, Indiana. Arrangements were made in connection with the Indianapolis Alumni Chapter. The day began with a committee composed of Judge Ralph Hamill, namesake of the local chapter; Judge Thomas J. Faulconer; D. William Cramer, Justice of the Alumni Chapter; Bob Wade, Justice of the Active Chapter; and George Rubin of the Alumni Chapter, meeting a morning plane which bore the day's guest of honor, the Honorable Tom C. Clark, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Accompanying Justice Clark was his lovely wife Mary. A motorcade from the airport with police escort carried the party to the Columbia Club where the Clarks stayed during their trip to Indianapolis. An informal luncheon followed in the Room of the Columbia Club.

Initiation Ceremony

An impressive ceremony of initiation was performed in the Supreme Court of Indiana with Justice Wade assisted by Lloyd DeWester, Jr., Jerry Stinson, and Stanley Smith of the Alumni Chapter. Active members assisting in the ceremony were Glenn Davis, Vice Justice; Ernest Schnippel, Clerk; and Fred Fetta, Marshall. Those actively initiated were: Bernard Baker, Jerry Burton, Harold Folley, William C. Hasse, Jr., Daniel Harrigan, John H. McDougall, Jr., Richard L. Mattox, John Moss, Thomas Murphy, Joseph A. Thomas, and Richard G. Tulley.

Distinguished New Members

In addition to the active members initiated, the following were initiated into the Alumni Chapter as distinguished new members: Honorable Phillip L. Bayt, Marion County Prosecutor and former Mayor of Indianapolis; Robert Hollowell, Esq., Attorney at Law; Honorable John F. Linder, Judge, Marion County Superior Court Five; Alic J. Lupear, Esq., Attorney at Law.

Honorary Members

Immediately following the active initiation ceremony, an honorary ceremony was held and the following distinguished members of the local bench and bar were given their honorary oath: Honorable Harold E. Achor, Judge, Indiana Supreme Court; Honorable Norman F. Arterburn, Judge, Indiana Supreme Court; Honorable Amos W. Jackson, Judge, Indiana Supreme Court; John S. Grimes, Esq., Professor of Law, Indiana University, Indianapolis Division. Supreme Justice Anthony DiGrazia officially welcomed the honorary members.

Law School Reception

Following the ceremonies at the Indiana Supreme Court, Justice Tom C. Clark was escorted to the Law School where a reception of the entire student body awaited his informal address. Dean Ben Small of the Indiana University School of Law, Indianapolis Division, was the official greeter on behalf of the Law School.

Justice Clark spoke to the student body about the many traditions which the Supreme Court of the United States observes while sitting to hear the cases which reach the highest court of our land. During his address, he spoke of the law clerks at the court and of their duties. He further reminisced of the day he was "received at Court in London, England," and ended this remark with a humorous recollection that his wife had commented that "it was a good thing that the Court had 'recognized' him because she never would have recognized him in that wig." After the address by Justice Clark, Dean Small presented a gold engraved key to the Associate Justice, "symbolic of entry to the Law School at all hours of the day and night."

Cocktail Party Prior to Banquet

The law offices of the firm of Hollowell & Hamill were the setting for a cocktail party for the Associate Justice and his wife, which was attended by the new active and honorary members and their wives. Other guests were alumni members and their wives and distinguished brothers from all over the Midwest. Hosts for the party in addition to the senior partners of the firm, were Harry Stewart and John Price, both members of the firm and active members of the alumni chapter. The party was a wonderful opportunity for renewing old acquaintances and meeting the new members and their spouses.

The Banquet

Highlight of the day's festivities was the formal banquet held at the Marott Hotel at 8:00 p.m. Toastmaster for the evening was Ralph Hamill. After an excellent meal the proceedings, attended by 250 brothers and wives of PAD, began with Judge Hamill extending a greeting to all in the finest tradition of Phi Alpha Delta. Bob Wade, Justice of Hamill Chapter, then officiated while the new active initiates received their fraternity pins. The pins were personally presented by Justice Clark. Bill Cramer, Justice of the Alumni Chapter, then had the honor of presenting a "Fifty Year Award" certificate to Joseph O. Hoffman. Mr. Hoffman's service to the profession and his dedicated work in PAD made this presentation a rewarding experience for all who attended. Following the award to Brother Hoffman, the Honorable Thomas J. Faulconer, Judge of Marion County Criminal Court, Division Two, took charge of the meeting and proceeded to make the awards of the official fraternity key to the honorary and distinguished new members. Being the quick-witted politician that he is, Judge Faulconer made several humorous remarks about Prosecutor Bayt. As their political affiliation happens to be the same, all remarks were received in the spirit given. Judge Faulconer concluded his portion of the program by introducing Supreme Justice Anthony DiGrazia. "Tony," as he is affectionately known by the brotherhood of PAD, gave the official greeting on behalf of the National Fraternity and its governing body. He told of the growth of the Fraternity and the potential which belongs to PAD if we will but work for its fulfillment.

Added Attraction

As an added attraction to the evenings festivities, the Indianapolis Chapter of the National Association of Legal Secretaries sent representatives to the banquet who presented Mrs. Clark with an honorary membership certificate. The presentation was made by Mrs. Pat Byrd, president of the local chapter.

Schuyler Jackson, Justice, Kansas Supreme Court; C. Glenn Lewis, Associate District VII Justice; Ronald Badger, Justice, Green Chapter.

Varied Program Features District VII Conclave

The 1961 version of the District VII annual conclave was held at the Eldridge Hotel in Lawrence, Kansas. On the eve of this occasion a reception was held at the Hotel to get acquainted with the early arrivals. The Supreme Justice, Anthony DiGrazia, was on hand helping to get the conclave into the right orbit. Just to make certain he did not miss anything, he took the room adjoining the reception room. H. Jay Gunnels, District Justice and Glenn Lewis, Associate District Justice were also at the scene.

Some last minute planning was accomplished at the reception, but much of the time was spent listening to unscheduled quips and orations. In general a good time was had by all.

The following morning the conclave settled down to business beginning at 9:00 a.m. Student District Justice, Larry Ward (Benton), presided. National and District officers were introduced. Then the nominating committee for District officers was appointed. A roll call of chapters found the following present: Benson, Benton, Champ Clark, Cole, Green and Lawson.

First speaker of the day was Professor emeritus of Economics, John Ise of the University of Kansas. His topic was advertising and the law. Professor Ise complained that advertising was a waste and that people would make better choices of products to buy without the wild and exotic claims of the advertisers. Eventually he applied his subject to the legal profession. His conclusion was that if lawyers should ever lose their heads and start advertising, the only result would be to increase the cost of obtaining legal services. In other words he is in favor of advertising remaining as unethical as possible in the field of law.

At 10:30 a.m., Brothers DiGrazia, Gunnels and Lewis took charge of the speaker's table for an informative discussion of fraternity operation on the district and national levels. Justice DiGrazia commented on such topics as the bi-annual national conclave, the growing membership, student loans from the Fraternity, plans for an endowment fund to provide scholarships.

Justices Gunnels and Lewis touched upon advantages of Phi Alpha Delta during one's law school experience and during one's professional life. The Fraternity, for example, was said to be the only effective liaison between school and the practice of law; a medium for training in group leadership and cooperation; and a valuable source of contact with capable personages in the profession.

A report from each chapter was called for concerning current membership, dues, initiation fees, and conferment of fraternity pins. The following brothers gave the reports: Larry Ward (Benton), John Redick (Champ Clark), James Houser (Cole), Karl Krauss (Lawson), Ronald Badger (Green), and Sam Riggs (Benson). Morning adjournment came at 11:30 a.m.

The conclave delegates had lunch in the Big "8" Room with the special guests, Justice Schuyler Jackson of the Kansas Supreme Court and Dean Frederick Moreau of the University of Kansas School of Law.

The afternoon session began with an address by Justice Jackson on the "Law Between Nations." His talk traced the history of world organizations whose purposes have been the settlement of disputes through law. The latest chapter in this history has been the unfortunate Connally reservation which appends the United States' agreement to participate in the International Court of Justice. The Connally reservation is called unfortunate because it allows this country to decide for itself whether a particular matter is within the jurisdiction of the International Court. This in turn sets a poor example for other countries to follow. Justice Jackson is assisting the American Bar Association Committee on World Peace Through Law to bring this subject before the public and especially before the legal profession.

The Chapter Workshop period, at 2:00 p.m., was devoted to exchange of ideas from the various chapters on such subjects as

This first graduating class initiates a major long-range program for one of southern California's youngest and most vigorous law schools. The School of Law in striving to fulfill its role in the community and its responsibility to the bar association is becoming a first-rate, full-time, small day law school. A study of the academic performance and immediate plans of the recently graduated California Western University School of Law Class of 1961 shows the role this Law School is to play in the future.

Competently leading the School of Law in its vital role is Dean Robert K. Castetter. Working with Dean Castetter is the full-time faculty consisting of Marvin J. Anderson, Bernard Auerbach, James L. Chapman, Lloyd Swortwood and Doris M. Yendes.

In the spring of 1959, a Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity Club was organized at the School of Law under the sponsorship of the San Diego Alumni Chapter of PAD headed by John Justin McCathy, Justice of the Chapter. Among the first graduates of the School of Law are two of the charter officers of the new P.A.D. Club. They are Charles E. Boyce, Justice, and George W. Kraft, Jr., Treasurer.

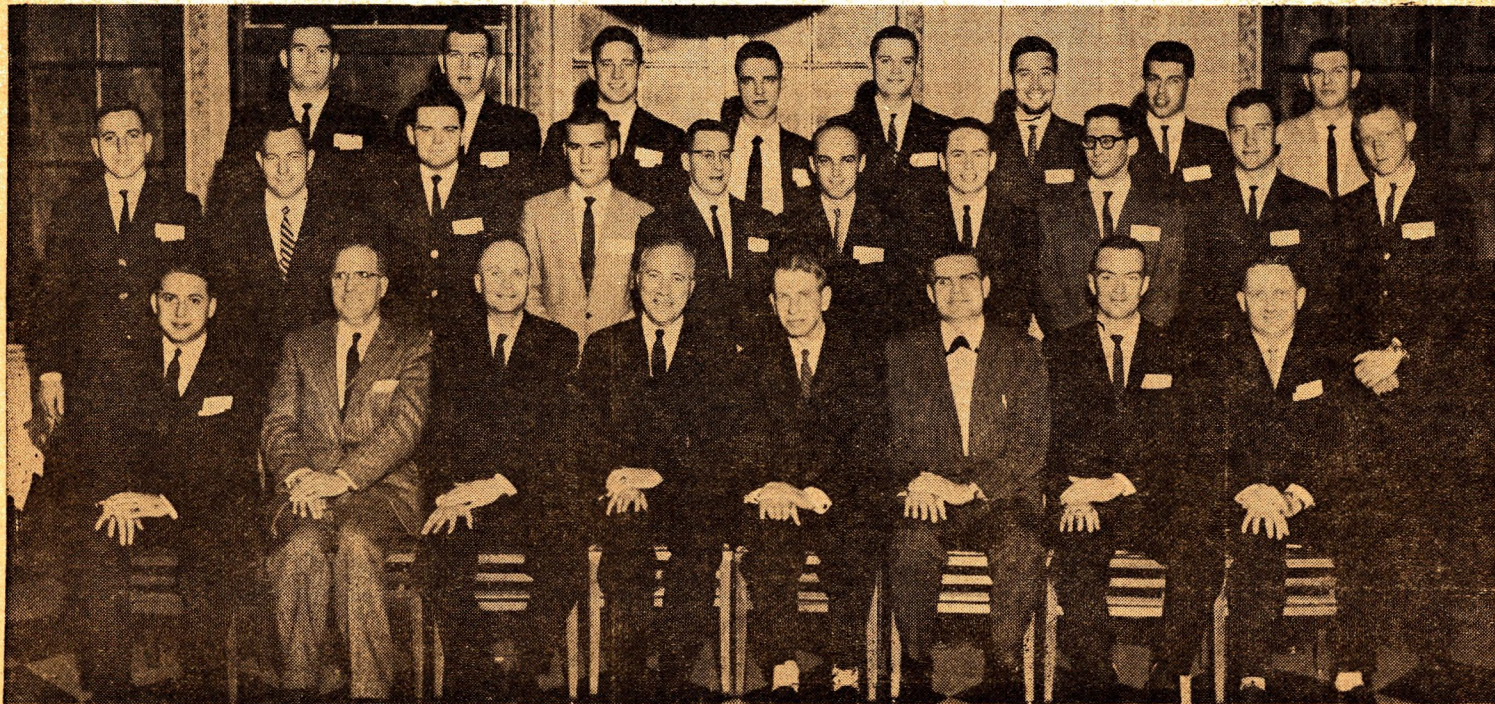

rushing, finance, and programs. Green Chapter presented copies of letters which it used last summer in its rushing program. The plan calls for one letter to be sent to each new law student. Then another letter is sent to a P.A.D. alumnus in the home town of the new student. The alumnus is asked to call on the student and explore the advantages of membership in P.A.D. Personal contact with the beginning law students as soon as they arrive on campus was stressed by several Chapters, as the most single effective method of rushing.

The second address of the afternoon was by Professor Duane Nedrud of the University of Kansas City. Professor Nedrud is an expert in lie detection. Photographic slides were used to demonstrate development of lie detection, its present uses and shortcomings, and to explain how to interpret graphs of some actual cases. Later the polygraph or lie detector machine was demonstrated.

At 4:00 p.m., the general business meeting convened with a report from the nominating committee. A motion was made and carried to elect the nominees by acclamation. The nominees were so elected. The meeting was adjourned at 5:00 p.m.

The evening festivities began with a "Happy Hour" at 6:00 p.m., followed by the banquet. The principal speaker of the evening was one of the most enthusiastic and sincere brothers in the Fraternity, Judge Alan Hotchkiss. Brother Hotchkiss is judge of the 35th Kansas Judicial Court. His subject, appropriately enough, concerned the rights, duties and privileges attaching to anyone who becomes a member of our Fraternity. At the conclusion of his talk, he was greeted by a standing ovation from the delegates and their guests. A dance in the Big "8" Room was the final event of the 1961 District VII Conclave.

Kennedy Assistant Becomes New Honorary Member

The name of James M. Landis has been added to Phi Alpha Delta's roster of honorary members.

Dean Landis, special assistant to the President and former Dean of the Harvard Law School, was initiated as an honorary member of Taft Chapter, Georgetown University Law School, at the annual spring banquet of the Washington Alumni Chapter at the Kenwood Country Club June 7. The ceremony was attended by numerous alumni, as well as the members of the active chapters in the Washington area, including beside Taft, Brandeis Chapter, American University; Darrow Chapter, University of Maryland; and Jay Chapter, George Washington University.

National officers attending included Supreme Justice Anthony A. DiGrazia, Supreme Treasurer Robert E. Redding, and Associate Tribune William B. Robertson. The induction ceremony was conducted by District XII Justice Donald R. Moore, and the oath was administered by Supreme Justice DiGrazia. Cyril D. Calley, Past Justice of Taft Chapter, presented to Dean Landis the honorary alumnus key and the certificate of honorary membership.

Another feature of the program was the formal installation of the officers of the Washington Alumni Chapter by Supreme Treasurer Redding. Officers installed along with Brother Dawson as Justice were J. Joseph Barse, Vice Justice;

In presenting Dean Landis for honorary membership, Brother Moore hailed him as "a man whose name is already written large in the annals of legal education, the profession of law and public service." He pointed out that "bestowal of honorary membership in an organization such as ours involves a reciprocal interaction." He said that the fraternity was conferring an honor upon Dean Landis in recognition of his record of devoted service to the law and to government under law and that at the same time, Dean Landis was honoring the fraternity by joining with its membership in its program of service to legal education and to the legal profession. He expressed confidence that it will be a mutually beneficial relationship.

Brother Moore then gave a brief biographical sketch of Dean Landis, highlights of which follow.

Dean Landis was born September 25, 1899 in Tokyo, Japan, the son of a Presbyterian missionary, and spent his early years in the Orient. At the age of thirteen, he was sent to the United States to attend Mercersburg Academy, where he graduated in 1916. He enrolled at Princeton University and led the class of 1921. He interrupted his career at Princeton to serve the British Y.M.C.A. in World War I, returning later for his degree.

Awarded a scholarship by Harvard Law School, young Landis graduated at the head of his class, attaining the highest rating since Mr. Justice Brandeis. It was not surprising that Mr. Justice Brandeis chose Landis, in 1924, as Harvard Law School's "Man of the Year" to serve as his law clerk. After a year in that capacity, he returned to Harvard Law School to teach and became a full professor at the age of 29.

Mr. Landis' governmental service began in 1933, when he was called to Washington, at the behest of professor Felix Frankfurter, to draft the Security Exchange Regulations. He was instrumental in writing the major portion of the Security Exchange Act of 1933 and became one of its administrators, first as a member of the Federal Trade Commission and later as chairman of the newly created Securities and Exchange Commission.

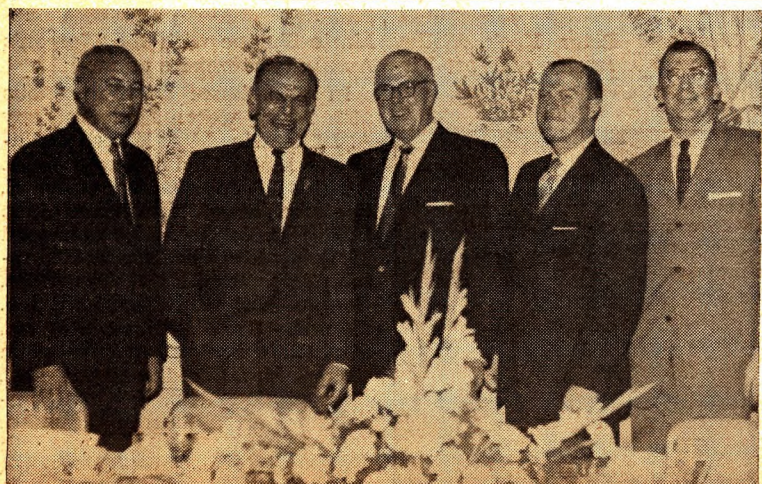

After four years in Washington, Mr. Landis returned to Harvard as Dean of the Law School, succeeding Roscoe Pound. He held this post until 1946, but his activities in government did not cease. During these years he was a member of the National Power Policy Commission; a member of the President's Emergency Board on the National Railway strike; special Trial Examiner of the U. S. Department of Labor; a consultant to the Council of National Defense and to the War Department; Regional Director and later Director of the United States office of Civilian Defense; Director of American Economic Operations and Minister to the Middle East. Subsequently he became chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board and Chairman of the President's special board on Air Safety.

Dean Landis is also distinguished as an author. His books include "Business of the Supreme Court," with Mr. Justice Frankfurter, 1927; "Cases on Labor Law," 1934 and 1942; "The Administrative Process," 1938; and "The Surrender of King Leopold," in collaboration with Joseph P. Kennedy, 1950.

Against this background, it was not surprising that President Kennedy appointed Dean Landis as a special Whitehouse Assistant to help the administrative agencies achieve the potential envisioned for them. His record is unique in his service on three of the major administrative agencies—The Federal Trade Commission, The Securities and Exchange Commission, and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

"PHI ALPHA DELTA LAW FRATERNITY
10718 White Oak Avenue
Granada Hills, California

Dear Brothers:

I seemingly have the distinction of being the first member of the fraternity to have availed myself of the benefits under the disability insurance program.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my deep appreciation to Paul Burke, Administrator of the disability plan, and the splendid company underwriting this program. The American Casualty Company of Reading, Pennsylvania, for the outstanding manner in which my claim has been handled as a result of an automobile accident in which I was involved on May 5, 1961.

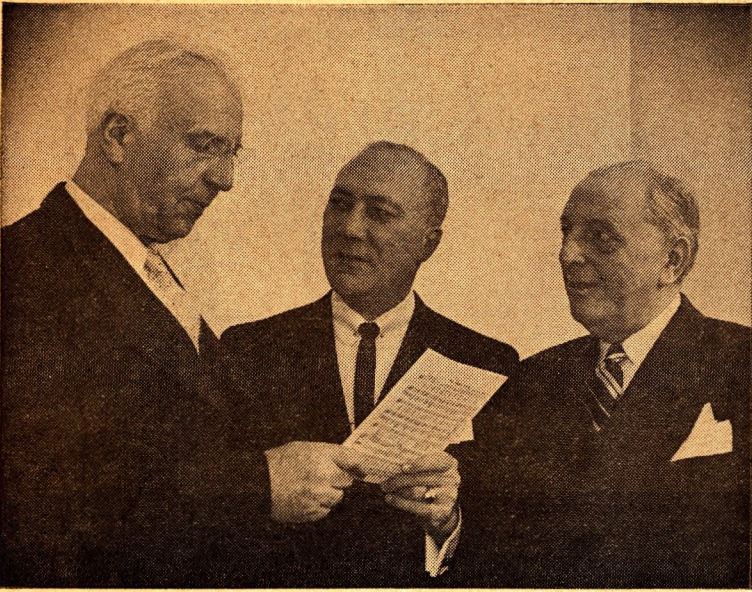

It is indeed gratifying to know that our program, with the backing of this splendid company, truly gives our brothers peace of mind and assurance of uninterrupted income when they are unable to pursue their respective occupations.

I am making it a point to inform every member of P.A.D. that we, indeed have the finest disability income program available to any professional group — bar none!!

In closing, I commend this program to each and every brother.

Fraternally yours,
JOHN N. PARKER

EDITOR'S NOTE: As The Reporter goes to press the American Casualty has agreed to reopen enrollment in the PAD Disability Income Plan for a period of 30 days. For information write The Editor.

CONCLAVE BANQUET PRINCIPALS—Pictured, left to right, are: Hon. Carl V. Weygandt, Chief Justice of Supreme Court of Ohio, District IX Conclave Banquet speaker; Supreme Justice Anthony A. Lunchen at the famous Had-dad's Round Table at which Dr. Charles W. Joiner, a P.A.D. and Associate Dean of the University of Michigan Law School spoke on "Public Responsibility." The delivery caused such a favorable response that the newspaper wire service had it published in Michigan newspapers before the speaker arrived home Saturday night.

The afternoon session consisted of the District Business Session, the selection of the location of the 1962 Conclave and the election of the new District Active officers and the awarding of door prizes.

Detroit, Michigan was the choice over Lima, Ohio for the next District Conclave.

District Active Officers elected were:

Justice—Don Davis, Campbell Chapter, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Vice Justice—John V. Dunlop, Cooley Chapter, Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan.

Clerk—William Vandemark, Willis Chapter, Ohio Northern University, Ada, Ohio.

Treasurer—Robert Ogburn, Campbell Chapter.

Marshall—Peter Hook, Willey Chapter, University of West Virginia, Morgantown, West Virginia.

DR. CHARLES W. JOINER, Associate Dean University of Michigan Law School and a District IX Conclave figure.

Coke Chapter Women's Auxiliary arranged a special program for the women Saturday which consisted of a welcome session with the address "Toledo Bar Maids" by Mrs. Earl Boxell. The speech title being the name adopted by the Women's Auxiliary to the Toledo Bar Association. Luncheon was at the new Town House Aku Aku Room where favors of carnations were given to all in attendance and many beautiful door prizes, specially gift wrapped were awarded. Imported glass atomizers, hostess glass sets, Hi-Fi records, a manicure set, candy, french purse and bill fold in white were among the items.

The afternoon program found the women enjoying a "live" style show at the exclusive Tana

Marie Shoppe with the Women's Auxiliary members as models.

In attendance at the various attractions were: Mrs. Anthony A. Di Grazia, Mrs. Elden S. Magaw, Mrs. Earl Boxell, Mrs. Charles W. Joiner, Mrs. LeRoy E. Eastman, Miss Merle Boxell, Mrs. Edwin R. Clair E. Paulson opened the Banquet program by a welcome and introduction of the persons at the head table. Honorable George N. Kiroff, a P.A.D. and Presiding Judge of the Toledo Municipal Court, executed his task as a Toastmaster in a very professional manner with witticism and timely introductions of the University of Toledo College of Law Dean, Dr. J. Allen Smith, Supreme Justice Anthony A. Di Grazia, Supreme Vice Justice Dr. Elden S. Magaw and District IX Justice James L. Broz, Jr., Associate District Justices Frank R. Pitt and Donald Johnson and

Stanley Jakala, Justice of District VI.

The Supreme Justice, Anthony A. Di Grazia, had a busy night in presenting Toledo Alumni Charter group Vice Justice LeRoy E. Eastman with the 50-year P.A.D. certificate. Mr. Eastman in his acceptance delighted the assemblage with a surprise playing over the public address system of Frank Hurlburt's composition and recording of "Phi Alpha Delta." The record was presented to Mr. Eastman many years ago by the composer and was a cherished record. Mr. Eastman made a presentation of this record to the Host Coke Chapter.

"Tony" made the presentation of the Charter for the Toledo Alumni to Justice and President of the Toledo Bar Association, Earl F. Boxell. The Alumni expressed the desire that the Charter be hung in the Student Lounge of the University of Toledo, College of Law.

The Founding Members of the Toledo Alumni are:

"Tony" also administered the oath of office to the newly elected District Active Officers at the Banquet. After the banquet, the Supreme Justice upheld his reputation of the "smooth dancer" by dancing with many, many partners.

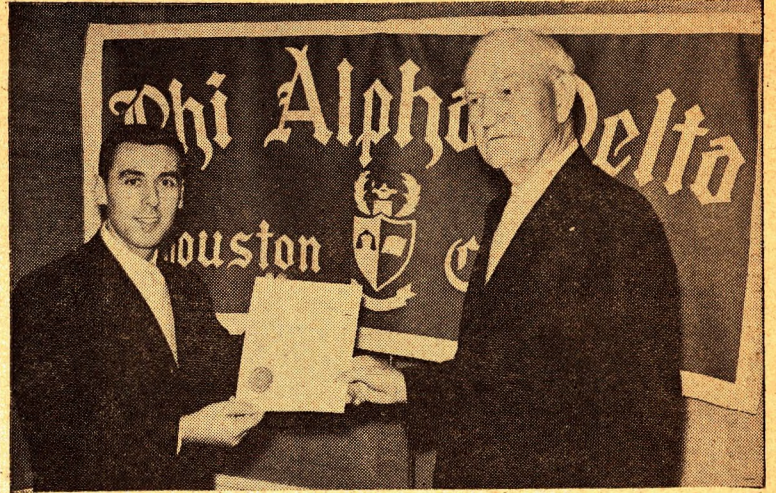

Joseph Goldberg, Host Chapter Justice, presented the membership certificate and honorary key to Coke's Faculty Adviser, Professor Robert J. Affeldt. The Coke Chapter Justice also presented a certificate and Honorary member key to Coke Chapter's only Honorary member, Dr. Josef L. Kunz, Professor Emeritus of International Law. Dr. Kunz gave a stirring acceptance speech "Enthusiasm for Law and All Activity in Life" with such sincerity and zeal that he received a tribute of a standing ovation.

The main Speaker of the evening was the Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, the Honorable Carl V. Weygandt, who has held that position for 30 years, and has been a member of that distinguished court for 40 years. Judge Weygandt delivered his speech "Challenged Ideals" and recognized as dictum that Phi Alpha Delta was the greatest legal fraternity in the world.

The Justice was presented an award, symbolic of Toledo, a 22 carat gold plated JEEP with his name engraved on the hood. The same award was also presented to the Supreme Justice, Anthony A. Di Grazia.

The Conclave Banquet was followed by the Ball with the Melody of Aaron's Orchestra providing the dance music.

A Continental Breakfast was served Sunday morning in the Copper Room of the Secor Hotel and provided the bon voyage for those attending.

Dean Jackson Initiated by Houston Chapter

Two distinguished attorneys of Houston, Texas were admitted into the ranks of Phi Alpha Delta on April 29, 1961 through Samuel Houston Chapter located at the South Texas College of Law.

An honorary membership in the Fraternity was conferred upon the honorable John C. Jackson, Dean of the South Texas College of Law at the third annual Intallation-Awards Banquet of the Chapter. Dean Jackson received an LLB degree from the University of Texas Law School in 1914 and was admitted to the Texas State Bar. He served as a Captain in the United States Army during World War I. He was for twelve years the Chief General Counsel for Texaco, Inc., one of the largest Oil companies in the world, and retired in that position in 1956. He became Dean of South Texas on June 1, 1960.

Frank Briscoe, District Attorney of Harris (Houston) County, was initiated as an alumnus member of the Fraternity during the afternoon of April 29, 1961, at the formal initiation of the Spring Pledge Class of the Chapter. He graduated from the University of Texas Law School and served as chief Assistant District Attorney of Harris County until his election to the District Attorney's office in 1960. Brother Briscoe was nominated for membership in Phi Alpha Delta by the Houston Alumni Chapter.

Immediately following the initiation of the new members, the new Chapter Officers for the ensuing year were formally installed by the Alumni Advisor of the Chapter as follows: Ralph Freedson, Justice; J. E. Turner, Vice Justice; J. W. Doucette, Clerk; J. M. Eagleson, Treasurer; and W. A. Marcontell, Marshall.

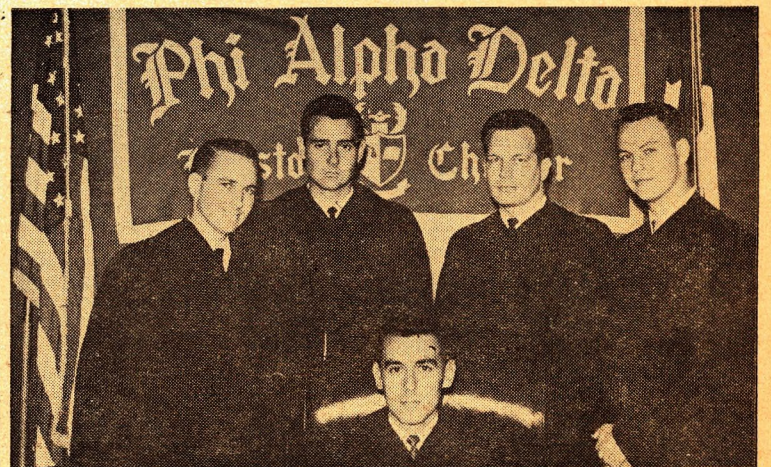

The main speaker at the banquet was Congressman Robert R. Casey, Representative from the 22nd Congressional District (Houston) of Texas. Congressman Casey reviewed his rise as a young attorney through the offices of state representative and county judge to his present position of public service and challenged those present to fulfill their obligations as representatives of the legal profession by becoming the political and moral leaders of the community. Recognition for special accomplishments during the previous year was also given at the banquet to various Chapter members. The Outstanding Active PAD Award was presented to M. B. Merrill, the immediate past Justice of the Chapter, in recognition of his untiring efforts in making the past year a memorable one in fraternal affairs. The Outstanding Alumnus PAD Award was received by Charles R. Judice, a past Justice of the Chapter who is currently serving as Alumni Advisor. The Samuel Houston Award, given to that brother other than a retiring officer who has contributed outstanding service to the Chapter, was awarded to David Capps, who has served as the very effective social chairman of the Chapter during the preceding year. The Scholastic Award of the Chapter was presented to Gene Putnam, who not only had the highest scholastic average among the brothers but also had the highest scholastic average of the first year law class at South Texas.

The banquet was held in the Grand Ballroom of the Lamar Hotel in Houston. It was preceded by a cocktail party in honor of the newly initiated brothers and of the new officers. A dance followed the formal banquet.

A Book Review:BROADCASTING AND GOVERNMENT:*Responsibilities and Regulations

By Walter B. Emery

(Michigan State University Press, East Lansing)

Brother Walter B. Emery, a member of Harlan Chapter at the University of Oklahoma, has recently published a book which represents an important contribution to the field of broadcasting and government.

Communications have come a long way since Marconi thrilled the world more than a half century ago by sending radio signals across the Atlantic. Without the far-flung telegraph, telephone and broadcasting facilities of today, the intricate pattern of modern civilization would be impossible.

A glimpse at the current dimensions of these media indicates the indispensable part they have come to play in American life. Western Union operates more than four million miles of telegraph circuits. The Bell system has more than 70 million telephones. It is estimated that Americans used the telephone more than one hundred billion times last year.

There are almost 5,000 radio and television stations in this country broadcasting programs to the general public. We have more than 200 million receivers, almost two-thirds of the world's total.

As important as public broadcasting has come to be, quantitatively, it is only a small part of the total radio picture. For every station transmitting programs to the general public, there are more than seventy-five others being used for a wide variety of other purposes — to facilitate transportation, to aid scientific research in many areas, to serve public functions of many kinds such as police and fire protection, to mention only a few. In fact, there are more than two million radio stations of various types authorized to operate in this country.

These various radio and television facilities, as well as the huge telegraph and telephone industries, are so vital to the security and well being of our people, it is unthinkable that they could be carried on effectively without some governmental regulation. The FCC is charged with the responsibility of providing this regulation and has established a multiplicity of policies and rules governing these communication media. The President, Congress, the Federal Trade Commission and other federal agencies, as well as some authorities at state and local levels, also exercise functions which influence their operations.

This book, as no other has attempted, explains the role of these agencies in the control of wire and radio communication, particularly broadcasting, and presents in an orderly and intelligible fashion the important policies and regulations that govern these media.

The work is divided into six major parts. Part I discusses the primary technological, economic and social factors which led to the creation of the FCC and the American system of broadcasting, combining enterprise and limited governmental controls. Part II defines the statutory powers and functions of the FCC and describes its organization and administrative machinery. A look is also taken at other agencies of government at federal, state and local levels which exercise regulatory functions that impinge on broadcasting.

Part III is concerned with the broadcast spectrum, its character and utility for communication, and the technical rules which govern the allocation of radio frequencies and their uses by the various classes of stations as prescribed by the FCC—Standard (AM), Frequency Modulation (FM), Television, International, mental requirements which must be met to get a license, responsibilities which must be assumed and conduct which must be avoided if one is to keep a license.

Part VI analyzes some of the current problems of broadcast regulations and suggests clarifying legislation and other remedial measures to make it more effective.

The book is an outgrowth of the author's experience and research over a period of twenty-five years. It not only presents and analyzes governmental policies and regulations, but provides a great amount of documented history explaining how the more important ones developed, both from the legislative and administrative points of view.

The reader will find the Appendices especially informative. The Communications Act of 1934, including the 1960 amendments, a detailed and documented chronology of the FCC plus biographical data and character studies of present commissioners and all former chairmen, CON-ELRAD regulations, Federal Trade Commission guides for advertising, recent policy statements of the FCC with respect to programming, the recently revised radio and TV codes of the casters—this and other material is reproduced for easy reference.

Walter B. Emery is a professor in the Television and Radio Department of Michigan State University. He has been a student of broadcasting and government for more than twenty-five years. He was the manager of an educational station and a program producer on commercial stations during the early days of radio—a period about which he writes in the first part of his book.

After completing a law degree at the University of Oklahoma in 1934, he went to Washington during the first Roosevelt administration and worked for a time on the legal staff of the then newly created FCC. This was followed by four years of teaching at the University of Wisconsin.

After holding professorships at the University of Oklahoma and Ohio State University, he returned to the FCC in 1943, where he served successively as attorney, examiner, Chief of the Renewals and Revocation Section, and Legal Assistant to former Chairman Paul A. Walker. In 1952 he left the government and for five years was employed as a general consultant by the Joint Council on Educational Television, after which he went to his present position in Michigan State University in 1957.

The author is a member of the Oklahoma Bar, and is licensed to practice before the FCC, the United States District Court, the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District, and the U. S. Supreme Court. He has been a frequent contributor over the past fifteen years to educational journals, writing on subjects mainly concerned with the broadcast media.

Parts IV and V deal with the hard facts of regulation—government Auxiliary, Experimental and others.

Freisen to ABA Post

Brother Ernest C. Freisen, Jr., recently assumed the post of Administrative Assistant and Director of State Activities of the Section of Judicial Administration of the American Bar Association.

Prior to assuming his duties with the Section, Freisen was an Assistant Professor of Law at the University of Cincinnati. He was admitted to practice in New York in 1955, and is a member of the American and Federal Bar Associations. He is a graduate of Columbia Law School, where he was a member of Livingston Chapter.

Brother Freisen formerly was employed at the Department of Justice as a trial attorney with the Tax Division. In this capacity, he represented the United States in tax cases in Federal Courts in various parts of the country, including the Northern District of Texas, where his able representation of the government caught the eye of Chief United States Judge Joe E. Estes, now Vice Chairman of the Section.

Ford Chapter Meets

Ford Chapter of PAD held its first meeting of the year on Sept. 15, in the pleasant atmosphere of the Mission Room of the Pabst Brewing Co. in Los Angeles. The genial Guest Relations Manager of Pabst, Mr. Phil Craig, extended the gracious hospitality of his firm to the members and guests in attendance.

Business Director, Walter Klein, of Ford Chapter, co-ordinated the activity. Tavey A. Sanfillipo, Justice of Ford, presided.

Reports were given by David Rosner, Bob Steinberg and Edward Grant, Alex Bryant, and William Rylaarsdam in the area of social, placement, pledging, and academic programs respectively.

At the conclusion of the business of the evening, the meeting was opened to entering students of Loyola. Among the entering students in attendance were William Bradish, Don Bachmann, Frank Barbot, Bill Missimer, Yves Herbert, Mike Seugal, Bill Fink, Tom Kerrigan, Nelson Paine, Alex Jacinto, Arnold Frier and Rene Friend.

In attendance was Brother Loyd Tevis, newly appointed Faculty Advisor for Ford Chapter.

The membership of Ford Chapter and their first year guests were privileged to hear addresses from two prominent PAD alumni, Fredrick J. Weitkamp and Frank E. Gray.

at the Officers' Club of the San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot. The banquet, which followed, found a large number of San Diego alumni in attendance. Actual presentation of the charter and installation of chapter officers took place at the banquet.

The evening was climaxed by dancing to a Marine Corps orchestra.

The charter group was established two years ago when the small school was still in its formative stages and had not yet achieved American Bar Association accreditation. It was a project sponsored by the San Diego Alumni Chapter. The Law School has now been accredited by the ABA and by the State Bar of the State of California. The University is conducted by the Roman Catholic Diocese of San Diego, was inaugurated in 1949 and is composed of a School of Theology, School of Law, College for men and College for women. Although a Catholic institution, the University of San Diego welcomes students of all religions.

The School of Law offers both a full time program and a part time program, each of which leads to a Bachelor of Laws degree. The course of instruction requires three years for a full time program and four years on a part time program. Both programs are designed to offer complete and systematic instruction in those fields of law which will best prepare the students for the later practice of law.

The charter members of the chapter are as follows: Anthony J. Piazza, Justice; David A. Mario, Vice Justice; Herbert Katz, Clerk; Glenn M. Hayden, Treasurer; Vincent J. Roffini, Dennis T. Schmidt, O. E. Estes, alumni who are in good standing.

The Supreme Chapter holds a national convention every two years, which is attended by delegates from all active and alumni chapters. A considerable portion of the fraternity's revenue is appropriated for this convention. For example, $26,000 was paid for the 1960 convention. It is interesting to note that we are the only law fraternity which pays the full expenses of active chapter delegates, including round trip railroad fares, subsistence and hotel accommodations.

Of course, the initiation fee also helps to sustain the National Executive Office. The functions of the Executive Office are extremely varied. Among other things, it processes pledge questionnaires, enrolls new members, maintains complete records on each individual, keeps up to date address records, collects alumni dues, assists in planning District Conclaves, national conventions, publishes The Reporter and the Directory, maintains a staggering correspondence burden, and performs literally dozens of other functions which cannot be here enumerated. The office staff consists of two full time clerks, one part time clerk, one part time stenographer and the Executive Secretary.

An item in the fraternity's budget which is of considerable moment is that of chapter supplies. Pledge questionnaires, initiation reports, rushing booklets, match bookcovers, identification badges, membership cards, Constitutions and By-Laws, and many other forms are supplied to the chapters at no charge.

The fraternity, of course, sustains many other functions which cost money, such as receptions for members attending the annual American Bar Convention and the American Association of Law Schools, and a series of awards for outstanding PAD chapters, etc.

Only recently the fraternity has developed a life insurance program and a disability income insurance program which are offered to members at rates substantially below those prevailing on today's market. The savings in one year's premiums on either of these programs more than pays for one's initiation fee in PAD.

None of the elective officers of the fraternity receive any monetary compensation whatsoever. In fact only one member of the fraternity receives any compensation at all and he is the Executive Secretary. At the present time we have seven men who comprise the Supreme Executive Board. These men believe so strongly in the purposes, principles, ideals and benefits of PAD that they collectively sacrifice literally thousands of dollars worth of their time annually for the opportunity of serving as national officers of PAD. These men are of the highest caliber and enjoy the highest regard of their fellow attorneys. If they had joined PAD only for the material benefits which might be theirs while attending law school, they would have ceased their active participation in fraternity activities many, many years ago.

If one considers membership in PAD only for the benefits which it can offer while in law school, he is overlooking the greatest advantages of a professional fraternity. The friendships and associations which are formed in law school will endure through one's professional career. Many law students who will consider membership in PAD are members of social fraternities. While I treasure my membership in my social fraternity, I can honestly say that it does not offer me any benefits which can even compare with those which are mine through PAD and I believe that you will agree that the same is true of all social fraternities. However, I know of few, if any, social fraternities, whose national initiation fee is anywhere near as low as that of PAD.

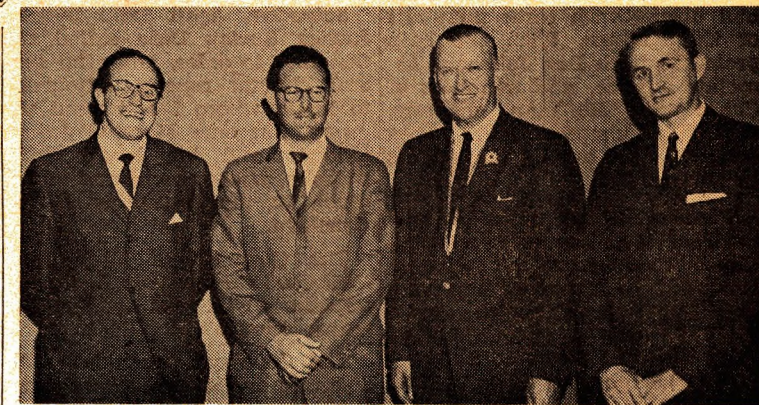

In an address before a District Conclave, our Supreme Treasurer, Robert E. Redding, stated that PAD can help one, as follows:

"First of all, it offers practical

IN ADDITION to installing Governor McKeldin as an honorary P.A.D., Darrow Chapter honored those of its own sphere who have contributed outstanding service to the Chapter over the past year. From left to right: George Felkenes, Darrow's smiling newly-wed who was honored as the Chapter's outstanding senior; John F. Miller, who was named the outstanding member of Darrow Chapter; Governor McKeldin, and A. Douglas Owens, outstanding Alumni member of the Chapter.

Md. Governor McKeldin Initiated

Theodore R. McKeldin, Governor of Maryland, 1951-1959, and nominator of President Dwight Eisenhower at the 1952 Republican National Convention, was installed as an honorary member of Phi Alpha Delta by Darrow Chapter (University of Maryland) at its annual spring banquet May 6.

In responding to his installation, Brother McKeldin, who was once known as the "boy orator of Baltimore," delivered an address "An 18th-Century Ideal In 20th-Century World" which was reprinted in the Congressional Record of May 15, 1961 at page A 3376.

McKeldin also presented to the Supreme Treasurer Robert Redding, Toastmaster M. Albert Figinski, and the incoming Justice Donald E. Campbell copies of his chronicle "Washington Bowed," the story of George Washington's surrender of his commission at the close of the War of Revolution.

Other high points of the evening included the presentation of awards to A. Douglas Owens of the Maryland Bar as the outstanding alumni member of the Chapter; to John F. Miller as the outstanding member; and to George T. Felkenes as the outstanding senior in the Chapter.

Associate Tribune William Robertson installed the newly-elected officers of the chapter: Donald E. Campbell, Justice; John Scarborough and James Carson, Vice-Justices; John Holzer, Clerk; Morris Pallozzi, Treasurer; and Raymond Kozlowski, Marshal.

Message

had arranged a meeting at one of the homes of one of the chapter brothers.

Monday, April 10th. I visited Ohio Northern Law School, and visited with the Dean and the Vice President of the school. This is a new chapter in a small law school where interest in PAD is very high. They were disappointed in not getting the conclave in 1962 and will go for it in 1963. At a luncheon attended by the chapter, I presented them with their charter.

I left Ada and arrived at Columbus to visit McKinley Chapter at the University of Ohio. After a visit with Professor Fulda, McKinley chapter, I had dinner with three members of the chapter. With the help promised from Don Johnson, Associate Justice, and members of Chase and Hoffman chapters, McKinley chapter will again take its place among the leaders in District IX.

Tuesday, April 11th. Arrived at University of Cincinnati, Chase Chapter, to attend a luncheon in honor of Professor Pop Morrison, although not a PAD, he was a true friend of PAD, and did much to help rebuild this chapter when it was very low in membership. Professor Morrison was retiring, and it was wonderful to see the tribute extended by the entire law school, faculty, and members of the bar. It was a privilege to extend the greetings of all PAD's, but particularly Chase members whom he taught for many years.

In the afternoon, I visited Dean Barrow, University of Cincinnati, and Brother Dean Hutchens, Chase College of Law.

Don Johnson, Chase Chapter, Associate District Justice, and Justices Mel Refin, Chase Chapter, and Joe Oths, Hoffman Chapter, arranged a reception and banquet attended by members and alumni of both chapters.

With a reactivated Cincinnati alumni chapter, we may soon hold another National Convention in Cincinnati.

Wednesday, April 12th. Drove 90 miles to Lexington, Ky., the home of Clay Chapter at the University of Kentucky where a luncheon had been arranged by Justice Shepherd and Brother Dean Matthews, and attended by several members. After a visit with Dean Matthews, PAD professors, and officers of Clay Chapter, and a contribution to the chapter's Final Rush Picnic, I was on my way to Louisville.

Arriving at the Brown Hotel in Louisville about 6:00 p.m. and accompanied by Associate Justice of District VI, Judge Tom Faulconer, and Indianapolis alumni Brothers Robinson, Le May and Smith, we attended a banquet arranged by Justice Briscoe and Past Tribune Norris McPherson, and alumni Justice Robert Breetz. The actives and alumni numbered more than 50, and after a question and answer period, the meeting adjourned, with a motion to look up a few Kentucky colonels.

Thursday, April 13th. I went to the University of Louisville Law School and called on Dean M. M. Volz, and after a pleasant visit, took to the Kentucky Toll Road for Bowling Green, where lunch had been planned by Brother Winkenhof, attended also by Brothers De Vasier and White. After this short visit, I was on my way to Nashville, where I first met our newest and genial District V Justice, Lucien Dale, of McReynolds Chapter.

Lucien and I drove to Lebanon where we had dinner with the officers, students and Professor Lindsey of Pinckney Chapter. We adjourned to the home of Brother Ryan. Hull Chapter, at one of the nation's smallest law schools, sent five delegates to the Conclave in Oxford. On the return trip to Nashville, Lucien and I were so engrossed in PAD conversation that we did not check the gas gauge and thanks to a "one in a million" cab driver, we made it to my motel.

Friday, April 14th. Lucien Dale and I drove to Oxford, Mississippi, to attend the District V Conclave, where Lamar Chapter, at University of Mississippi, was Host. The Conclave opened with a reception in a private club, attended by delegates from Hull, Lamar, Morgan, McReynolds, also Dean R. J. Farley and many professors of University of Mississippi Law School.

Saturday, April 15th. District Justice Lucien Dale called the Conclave to order, and after several chapter reports, adjourned to lunch where I addressed the group. Supreme Marshal Julian Skinner and his lovely wife, Doleska, were present and added much to the festivities of the Conclave.

The Governor of Mississippi, addressed the meeting in the afternoon, which was open to the entire school.

The Conclave concluded with a dinner and dance, where Dean Farley gave an inspiring address.

Sunday, April 16th. After attending Mass at a quaint small church on campus, I was off to Tuscaloosa, Morgan Chapter, and a dinner with the officers and several members.

Monday, April 17th. I visited Dean Harrison and Brother Professor McGee. (I must confess that I could not see the Dean until 11:30 so Jim and I played nine holes with yours truly shooting a 45 and Jim 47. I think he wanted the "old man" to look good).

At 12:00 I met with the members of Morgan Chapter in a classroom, where we discussed matters and I brought the National to their front door.

I then drove to Birmingham, and with Sureme Marshall Skinner, and about 20 members of the alumni, we had a fine reception and dinner. My thanks to all of them for a wonderful time and I confirm my promise to watch over Morgan Chapter. Also, my thanks to Julian and Doleska for a look at Birmingham from the beautiful 'Club'.

Tuesday, April 18th. Drove to Chattanooga, Tennessee with Brothers Luther, Frank and Seals, who promise a Chattanooga alumni chapter in the near future.

Wednesday, April 19th. Lunch at Cleveland, Tennessee with Brothers Jenniter and Whiston, and after lunch drove on to Knoxville, and visited with Brother Dean Professor Wicker, and Brother Professor Noel.

Glenn Stophel, Justice, arranged a banquet attended by 40 or more members and their wives. I was disappointed in the lack of alumni, because I was present when the chapter received its charter in 1953.

Thursday, April 20th. Had breakfast in Gatlinburg (the dogwood was in bloom) in the beautiful Smokies, which brought back pleasant memories of my honeymoon in 1939.

My drive to Columbia, S. C., 300 miles, was the toughest, but beautiful, and I arrived on time, 3:30 p.m. to visit the law school, and was met by Brother Professor Randall. That evening I was pleasantly surprised at a wonderful dinner attended by actives and alumni, to find a petition for an alumni chapter being circulated. An alumni chapter would be of great help to Pinckney Chapter.

I was also extremely pleased to once again meet Brother Ray Berry who presided. Ray attended the Golden Anniversary Convention in Chicago in 1952.

After the banquet I enjoyed the hospitality of Ray and his lovely wife, and with several Columbia alumni.

Friday and Saturday, April 21 and 22. Drove to Chapel Hill, N.C. to attend the Mock Trial conducted by members of Ruffin Chapter (does Corliss Chapter still do the same?) presided over by Judge Fountain who was later initiated as a member of PAD at their 40th anniversary banquet.

This wonderful 2-day affair, which included a chapter initiation, in a historic building on campus, was attended by Donald L. Moore, Justice of District XII, and Associate Justice Miller, also several alumni.

After visiting the Dean, Henry P. Brandeis, Jr., I again met Brother Dean Van Hecke, and was happy to learn that we both graduated from Englewood High in Chicago, only several years apart. The 2-day meeting was concluded with a dinner dance, and an address by Brother Judge Fountain, a graduate from Cumberland, which has produced many distinguished PAD's.

Sunday, April 23rd. Again after Mass, I was on my way to Timberlake at Wake Forest. At the chapter house I met many members and after a short meeting, went to the law school and visited with Professor Robert E. Lee—Roberts. After a snack at the apartment of Brother and Mrs. Ishio, the members rightfully insisted that I drive until at least 9:00 p.m. for it would have been very difficult to make Morgantown, W. Va. in one day. I made Ronneverte.

Monday, April 24th. Arrived in Morgantown about 3:00 p.m. and was met by Brother Dick Hamstead—Willey—who attended the 1958 convention in Cleveland and whose dad, Elbert, is a charter member of Willey Chapter.

After a visit with Dean C. L. Colson, who is now acting President of the University, and Brother Professor Lugar, I attended a dinner and reception. Here, too, a petition for an alumni chapter was circulated, and I trust that it will soon be presented for a charter. I trust that Past Justice W. Maloney and the members of Willey Chapter will soon present our fraternity with a pleasant and momentous surprise.

Tuesday, April 25th. Brother Mike Magro—Willey—accompanied me at breakfast, and about 9:00 a.m. I left for Pittsburgh. Here in a torrential rain and on Saw Road, I met my own "Whiplash." I'm thankful, for what happend, it could have been much worse.

I had lunch with Brother Ray

Scheib—Watson—and Brother Professor Rafalko. Ray escorted me to Watson Chapter, and we visited the Dean, and two members of the chapter.

This chapter for all practical purposes is now inactive, but at a dinner held by the alumni that evening, there was enthusiasm to reactivate Watson, and it was unanimously agreed that a chapter at Duquesne would greatly help Watson.

At Duquesne, Brother Professor Rafalko and Ray Scheib, are spearheading a drive to install a chapter. I regret that my auto accident prevented me from visiting the men who waited for me.

Wednesday, April 26th. I arrived in Cleveland, and met our oldest D.J. in service — Jim Broz, District IX. We went to Western Reserve, Hay Chapter, and had lunch with three active members; and then a fine visit with Brother Dean King who is interested in Hay Chapter taking its rightful place in our family of chapters. We then went to the Cleveland Marshall College of Law. It is my opinion that a chapter at this school would be of help to Hay Chapter. At an alumni banquet that evening they agreed that I was correct in my opinions re: Marshall Cleveland.

Thursday, April 27th. After visiting Brother Gerald Deller in Angola, Indiana, and Marrero de Ibern in Gary, I headed for home. Total miles from March 20th to April 27th—6,000.

Tuesday, May 9th. This was a banner day for PAD's in Indianapolis. My hat is off to Associate District Justice, Judge Faulconer, Judge Hamill and Indianapolis alumni. United States Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark was the guest of honor. Initiated into PAD were three Indiana Supreme Court judges, one professor, four alumni and eleven active in the State Supreme Court Chambers.

Justice Clark addressed the entire student body at the University of Indiana. 180 attended the banquet. There was newspaper and TV coverage and police escort for Justice Clark, F. Ryan Duffy, and yours truly. My heartiest congratulations to all in Indianapolis.

Friday, May 11th. Short visit to our Home Office. Fred Weitkamp, Mrs. Andresen and I drove with Richard Loewe, Placement Director, to attend the initiation of 28 into McCormick Chapter in San Diego. The heartfelt thanks of all PAD's is extended to those responsible for this wonderful addition to our family of chapters, which now number 90, and particularly, our thanks to the San Diego alumni.

Saturday, May 12th. Breakfast with Anthony Piazza, Justice, and the other officers of McCormick Chapter, and a visit with Brother Dean Fr. Martin McManus.

Monday, May 15th. On my way back to Chicago, I stopped at Tucson. This was my first visit to this beautiful valley, and a place where I know I will want to go back too. Justice Charles Tanner, Knox introduced me to Dean John Lyons and after our visit, attended a dinner with a small group of students and alumni, due to the short notice of my visit and exams. However, Judge Castro and three other alumni whose names now escape me are quite sure that an alumni chapter will soon be chartered.

Wednesday, June 7th. Had lunch at the United States Supreme Court, the guest of Justice Tom C. Clark, together with Brothers Redding, Moore, Dawson, Robinson, Sickles, Barse and Earl Kintner, President Federal Lawyers Club.

On this evening, at the Kenwood Country Club, Taft Chapter, at the annual D.C. alumni meeting, conferred Honorary membership to James M. Landis, former dean of Harvard Law School and presently Special Assistant to President Kennedy.

Since September 1, 1960, I have visited 57 active chapters and 24 alumni chapters. It has been said that I am trying to set some kind of a record. All I am trying to do is visit every chapter at least once during my term of office.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank each active and alumni chapter officer and member, the deans, professors — one and all for the hospitality extended to me when I paid a visit to you. Please allow me to reciprocate by calling on me when you next visit Chicago.

In writing this article, I have re-lived a wonderful experience and re-lived the pleasure of making the acquaintance of many fine PAD's in all parts of the country. If I did not mention your name, it was not intentional, it was just that there are so many of you, and as I made this banquet circuit, I did not note all your names in my diary. Did I gain weight? — yes, a little, while I got ulcers? — no.

Fraternally,

TONY

Garrett Retires From Ia. Sup. Ct.

Professor Cherry Dies

Professor James J. Cherry, 77, retired Professor of Law at DePaul University, Chicago, Illinois, passed away recently in Chicago. Brother Cherry was a member of Story Chapter at the University, where he taught.

He was a former Assistant States' Attorney for 20 years and was a professor on the DePaul faculty for 47 years until he retired in 1956.

He was the first Director of the Cook County Crime Prevention Bureau.

Brother Cherry helped Story Chapter through times of trial and tribulation during the depression in the early 30's. He will be sorely missed by thousands of PADs in the Chicago area.
