Prominent PADs Feature District VIII Conclave

The District VIII Conclave was held February 8 and 9, 1963, in Waco, Texas, with Baylor Chapter at Baylor University serving as host. Student District Justice H. Wayne Gillies performed a miraculous job of arranging and coordinating the events. Taking an active part in the Conclave were the Hon. Tom C. Clark, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Hon. Alfred P. Murrah, Supreme Justice of PAD, and Chief Judge of the Tenth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals; Winthrop Rockefeller, and Dean William J. Boswell. As guests were Texas Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert and Associate Justices Meade F. Griffin, Ruel C. Walker, James R. Norvell, Robert W. Hamilton and Zolie Steakley, together with Presiding Justice of Texas Court of Criminal Appeals K. K. Woodley and Judges W. A. Morrison and W. T. MacDonald. Other Judges in attendance were Frank Wilson and Jake Tirey.

The Conclave got under way on Friday, February 8, with registration in the law school at Baylor. Immediately thereafter, the delegates were driven to the hotel to check in and get ready for the evening's events, which included a cocktail party, at Ridgewood Country Club, and a banquet at the Baylor University Student Union Drawing Room.

Several hundred local attorneys, PADs and their wives, greeted Justice Clark, Supreme Justice Murrah and the other notables at the country club reception. Also greeting guests were Student District Justice H. Wayne Gillies, Conclave hostess Nancy Redmon, and David Kultgen, President of the Waco Bar Association.

Police escort ushered delegates and guests from the hotel to the club and returned them to the School Union Building where they heard Justice Clark speak on "Modernization of the Judicial System." He told of the success some states were having with Conciliation Courts for divorce cases, and how 68% of the marriages were saved in one particular locality. He advocated more improvement in the judicial handling of juveniles and other problems of the courts in the large cities. Justice Clark, only Texas attorney ever to be named to the nation's highest court, explained briefly the work of a Judicial Committee he heads and how it is holding conferences throughout the nation, advocating the modernization of the judicial organizations.

"Judges cannot administer justice unless they have the tools with which to work," Clark said. Clark is Chairman of a Committee doing a three year study of judicial administration in the United States. The study, which has been under way for one year, has been conducted in eight states. "In the eight states where we have held meetings, the states have modernized judicial structures so the judges would have something with which to work," Clark stated.

Justice Clark also said that the large number of cases coming before the Supreme Court prevent the Justices from spending sufficient time studying each case.

On Saturday, the Conclave opened with a business session at 8:15 A.M., at which time Supreme Justice Murrah addressed the delegates on the history of the fraternity, the responsibilities of members and the relationship that must be effected between the national organization and the local chapters. Later that morning, a coffee hour was held honoring Justice Tom Clark and Supreme Justice Murrah. Over 200 people attended the event. Greeting those attending, in the reception line in addition to Justices Murrah and Clark, were Student District Justice H. Wayne Gillies, Vice Justice Landon Winstead, Baylor Chapter Justice Mike Liles, and Baylor Law School Dean William J. Boswell. Conclave Hostess Nancy Redmon and members of the Baylor Law Wives' Club served, while a string quartet from the Baylor School of Music provided background music.

Rutledge Chapter Reactivated

After being inactive for a decade, Wiley Rutledge Chapter was reactivated at the School of Law of Duke University, in Durham, North Carolina, on December 14, 1962, with a membership of 30 second year students.

Officers of the chapter are: Justice, William L. Spearman, Jr.; Vice Justice, John D. Leech; Clerk, Thomas J. Andrews; Treasurer, Donald A. Gary, and Marshal, A. H. Gaede, Jr.

The induction ceremony was conducted in the courthouse of the United States District Court in Durham, North Carolina, by an initiation team from neighboring Ruffin Chapter at the University of North Carolina, and Timberlake Chapter at Wake Forest College. District XII Justice, Donald R. Moore, of Washington, D.C., presided. He was assisted by Deputy District Justice George W. Miller, Jr., of Durham, who had sparkplugged the reactivation efforts. A reception followed at the Jack Tar Hotel.

Among the members of the reactivation group are many law school leaders and students who rank high scholastically. Rutledge Chapter was originally chartered at Duke University on October 2, 1946, and was named for the late Wiley Rutledge, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court. Probably the most famous alumnus member of the chapter is former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

MARTIN CHAPTER RUSHES

Martin Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta recently concluded a most successful rushing season and pledged a total of 35 new men. This number included 30 Freshmen, 3 Juniors and 2 Seniors.

The rushing season was started very early in the summer by sending letters to incoming freshmen giving them hints as to what to expect in their first year of law school at Tulane. This letter included helpful ideas as to clothes, books, housing and entertainment.

Immediately after registration in September, a get acquainted beer party was held in the park adjoining Tulane Law School followed by a group exodus to a dance at Dominican Girl's College. The next rushing activity was a formal dance held at the Metairie American Legion Hall. Here the out of state rushees as well as those from Louisiana were given a taste of the fine musical entertainment for which New Orleans is noted.

The final rushing event of the season was a causal moonlight dance which took place on the elaborate roof garden of the elegant Claiborne Towers. The mighty Mississippi river, the Vieux Carre, and the entire New Orleans skyline served as the backdrop for a very successful and entertaining evening.

In early November, the pledge bids were sent out resulting in a total pledging of 35 students on November 19, 1962. After the pledging ceremony the new pledges along with the 23 active members celebrated by way of a beer party in the President's Reception Room of the Tulane University Center.

Prior to the Christmas holidays, Martin Chapter, in the interest of good will, initiated a co-joint Christmas party with the other Tulane Legal Fraternity. This proved to be a successful venture with hopes of it becoming one of Tulane's many traditions.

At present plans are being made for the initiation which is to take place some time in March. A banquet featuring a

Message From The Supreme Justice

Dear Brothers:

Our fraternity is indeed in its finest hour and its brightest day. We have more active and alumni chapters than ever before in history, 88 and 54, respectively. Our fraternity is rendering more service to its members than ever before, as evidenced by the wonderful success which is being enjoyed by our various insurance programs, the PAD Professional Directory, the activities sponsored by alumni chapters, and the professional and social programs carried on by our active chapters.

Ever since the legal profession began its existence in the common law, we have had legal societies. Lawyers and judges have met together under some bond. I belong to many different organizations, but Phi Alpha Delta is the one that brings me closest to the heartbeat of my profession than any other.

In Phi Alpha Delta I have the opportunity to associate not only with federal and state judges across the country, but also attorneys from all parts of the world and what I believe is most important of all, the privilege of associating with the neophytes in the law, the students in our fine law schools across the country, the association which I treasure because it helps me to maintain the young, fresh, bright and enthusiastic outlook.

Phi Alpha Delta has achieved a position of true prominence in the bar and in the law schools because it has always endeavored to carry out its motto of service to the student, the law school and the profession.

However, no matter how strong our position may be we should always be striving to better our fraternity in all respects. With this in mind, I have caused to be formed several committees to deal with important aspects of the fraternity. We have been fortunate in obtaining the services of many outstanding members of the fraternity to serve on these committees.

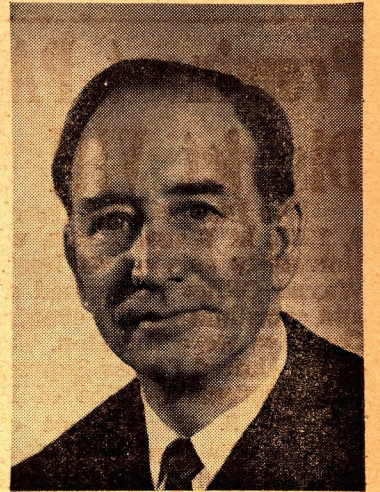

Serving on the Committee on Alumni Relations are: Judge Ryan Duffy, Chief Judge of the Sixth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Chairman; Matthew S. Rae, Jr., former National Field Representative, Secretary; Past Supreme Justice Elwyn Thomas, Chief Justice of the Florida Supreme Court; Judge Warren L. Jones, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals; Judge Frank H. Meyers, Municipal Court of Appeals of Washington, D. C.; Past Supreme Secretary Frank E. Gray, and Supreme Historian T. Julian Skinner, Jr.

The subject of insurance is of vital importance to the fraternity, both because of the service rendered to members in this field and also because of revenue to the fraternity. Serving on this committee are: Howard S. Cerny, outstanding insurance and trial attorney of New York, Chairman; Carrol M. Shanks, President, Prudential Insurance Company; Past Supreme Justice J. Harry LaBrum, former Mayor of Philadelphia and nationally known insurance counsel; Rollin R. Ecke, Treasurer, Farmers Insurance Group; John J. Corkhill, and Past Supreme Justice Anthony A. Di Grazia.

Serving on the all-important Committee on Fiscal Policy and Business Administration are:

guest speaker and party is to follow the initiation. Plans are also being made for several members of Martin Chapter to attend the District V Conclave to be held in Knoxville, Tennessee, April 5th and 6th.

HON. ALFRED P. MURRAH

Past Supreme Justice Robert D. Jackson, Chairman; Second Supreme Vice Justice Robert E. Redding; Supreme Treasurer Dee Brown Walker; and National Placement Chairman Richard Loewe.

The members of the Committee on the Fraternity Pledge Manual are as follows: Supreme Secretary Henry C. Rohr, Chairman; District I Justice Joseph A. Holleman; District II Justice Frank Worthington; District VI Justice Stanley H. Jakala; District IX Justice Frank Pitt; District X Justice Charles Tom Henderson; National Field Representative Ray Judice; District V Justice Thomas E. Powell, and Charles M. Cline.

The membership of the Committee on Fraternity—Law School Relationship is as follows: Chairman, Martin Tollefson, Dean Drake University; Dean Emeritus Carville D. Benson, George Washington; Professor Ross C. Tisdale, University of North Dakota; Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Assistant Dean Temple University; Raymond P. Hutchens, Dean, Chase College of Law; Professor John S. Bradway, Hastings College of Law; University of California, and Professor Monrad Paulsen, New York University.

We are indeed fortunate that we can count such outstanding men in their respective fields among our membership. I am confident that the reports of these committees will be of great assistance to the members of the Supreme Executive Board in planning for the future welfare of our great fraternity.

Fraternally,
Alfred P. Murrah

FORMER FTC CHAIRMAN DIES

Brother Robert E. Freer, 66, former Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission and one time head of the Federal Bar Association, passed away recently.

Brother Freer also served as Justice of District XII in 1949 and 1950.

He served as FTC Chairman in 1939, 1944 and 1948. While attending the University of Cincinnati School of Law he became a member of Chase Chapter. He later received his Master of Laws Degree from George Washington University.

He served as FTC Chairman in Washington University Board of Trustees, was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution, and Order of the Coif.

SEATTLE IS HOST OF DISTRICT I CONCLAVE

Seattle was recently the scene of a most successful Conclave held by District I, which encompasses the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana. Representatives were present from Williams Chapter, at the University of Oregon in Eugene, and Kent Chapter, from the University of Idaho, at Moscow. Hosts were Dunbar Chapter at the University of Washington, in Seattle, who planned the excellent program.

On Friday evening a liquid refreshment session was held by the students at Bly's Bounty (a first cousin of the original). On the same evening, the Supreme Justice, Alfred P. Murrah, Supreme Tribune George T. Nickell, Dunbar Chapter Justice Joe Zimmerman, Jr., and District Justice Joe Holleman, met in a working session to discuss fraternity affairs.

The following morning, six discussion sessions were held covering Private Practice, Administrative and Government Service, House Counsel and Business Opportunities, Fraternity Problems and the Impact of International Law. Among the outstanding PAD speakers were James J. Caplinger, Chief Civil Deputy Prosecuting Attorney, King County, Washington; Wharton T. Funk, President, Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation, and Robert O. Beresford, a private practitioner.

The group was joined at lunch by Supreme Justice Alfred P. Murrah, who made the personal acquaintance of everyone present. Lunch was recessed at 2:00 p.m. for the Washington-Oregon football game held at the U. of W. stadium. All of the foregoing events were held at the Husky Student Union Building on Campus.

That evening at 7:00 p.m. in the New Washington Hotel in downtown Seattle, a cocktail hour began at 7:00 pm., followed by dinner. Members and wives enjoyed a memorable evening, highlighted by the conferring of honorary membership upon the Honorable William J. Lindberg, Chief Judge, U.S. District Court, for the Western District of Washington, by Supreme Justice Murrah, who himself is Chief Judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the tenth circuit.

This was the first time in many years that honorary membership had been conferred on any distinguished lawyer or judge by Dunbar Chapter. It was especially significant that Judge Murrah conferred the membership upon Judge Lindberg who is both a valued friend and distinguished colleague. Judge Lindberg is known throughout the State for his competence, courtesy and humaneness as a Judge. Therewith, the principal address was given by Supreme Justice Murrah, who impressed all present with his abiding interest in the fraternity, its progress through the years and into the future, and regaled all with his inimitable anecdotes.

Chase Chapter Tops U. of Cincinnati

William Foss Hopkins, leading Cincinnati criminal attorney and alumnus of Chase Chapter of P. A. D., the University of Cincinnati College of Law, highlighted that chapter's rush program with a discussion of the need for trained criminal attorneys in the modern administration of criminal law at Chase Chapter's closing rush party of the 1962 season.

Mr. Hopkins cited two causes for the lack of qualified criminal practitioners: (1) That most law schools play down the importance of criminal law in the profession, and (2) that the public and the press have created an aura of "dirtiness" associated with the criminal attorney.

Mr. Hopkins also stressed his belief that there is never any justification for society to use the penalty of capital punishment. "What society cannot give, it should never take away," he said.

Mr. Hopkins illustrated his discussion with personal experiences gleaned from a long career in the field. He closed his talk with an open invitation to all PAD's to visit him at his office or in court for an inside view of a criminal attorney's work.

35 Pledged

Chase chapter, one of two legal fraternities at the University of Cincinnati, finished its most successful rush season in the past decade by pledging 35 men from a class of 47. In addition to the appearance of Mr. Hopkins, rushing speakers included Mr. James Irwin, Clerk to U. S. District Court Judge John Weld Peck (Southern District of Ohio) and Fred A. Dewey, Professor of Torts at Cincinnati and a PAD alumnus.

Tentative programs for the future include, Judge Paul George, Hamilton County Domestic Relations Court, Judge Otis Hess, Hamilton County Court of Common Pleas, Mr. Allen Brown, attorney presently deeply involved in Ohio obscene literature litigation and Robert Taft, Jr., newly-elected Congressman-at-Large from Ohio.

In addition to this expanded program of speakers, Chase Chapter presently plans to begin a rejuvenation of its local alumni association and to open a chapter placement program aimed at placing graduating seniors and students in search of summer positions in touch with alumni.

Maier Clark Competition Finalist

On the national level, Harold G. Maier, member of Chase Chapter and Editor-in-Chief of the Cincinnati Law Review placed as one of three finalists in a competition sponsored by the national fraternity to select a law clerk to serve under Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, a PAD alumnus.

Members of Chase Chapter have made exceptional progress in extra-curricular activities. The Editor-in-Chief and both associate editors of the Cincinnati Law Review are PAD's, as well as three members of the Board of Editors and seven out of 13 junior contributors.

PAD's dominate Cincinnati's Student Court, a three judge, two circuit tribunal with university-wide jurisdiction over student traffic offenses, identification card violations and constitutional questions arising under the University of Cincinnati Student Council constitution. Five of the court's seven justices are PAD's as well as all seven defense counsel and the Court's chief prosecutor.

PAD's also serve as Vice-President and Secretary of the Student Bar Association and hold five out of six positions on the Law School's Honor Council. In addition Chase Chapter claims both the President and Secretary-Treasurer of the Senior Class and Vice-President of the Freshman Class. One of the three members of Cincinnati's National Moot Court team is a PAD.

McCormick Chapter Establishes Award

The McCormick Chapter of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, University of San Diego, has just announced the approval by the Administration of a planned perpetual trophy award to the "Outstanding Senior."

This award is to be given annually by the members of the fraternity to the graduating senior who is elected by the faculty because of his good scholarship and his service to the School of Law as evidenced by his willingness to give more of himself to its activities than is required.

The fraternity plans to acquire a suitable trophy to be kept at the School of Law. Each year's recipient of the award will have his name engraved upon this trophy. In addition, it is planned that the winner will be presented with a suitable personal award to evidence his achievement.

The competition for the award is open to all students of the School of Law and is not limited to fraternity members. The fraternity hopes, by this award, to give deserving recognition to those students who, throughout the years, give so much of their time and leadership to the betterment of student activities and functions, while at the same time maintaining good scholastic standing.

The judging for the award will be done by a panel of faculty members and student leaders from all student organizations.

On Thursday, December 6, Superior Court Judge Levenson delivered a stimulating talk entitled "The Ethics of Advocacy." Judge Levenson's reflection of cases heard before him was most enlightening. He also pointed out the interesting aspects of a case which he argued before a U. S. Supreme Court. He considered this appearance the high-light of his private practice.

The chapter has scheduled a luncheon which will be of interest to all students. The guest speaker will be Mr. Bernard Witkin, whose law summary is an integral part of every attorney's library. The luncheon will be on January 24, 1963.

The San Diego District Attorney, Don Keller, spoke as a guest of the fraternity to the student body in November acquainting his listeners with the operations and effectiveness of the law enforcement office.

Later that morning, the representatives from the District VIII chapters went to the airport to greet Winthrop Rockefeller, from Arkansas, who spoke at the luncheon in the Union Building. He described our time as part of a "cold and changing world." He cited two quotations to confirm this. "There has been more knowledge as to what we know of science since World War II than in the entire history of mankind," he said, quoting Eric Johnson, of Texas Instruments.

Then, from a Conference on Nuclear Energy, "50% of the boys and girls in school today will be holding jobs before they reach retirement age that do not exist today."

Rockefeller said specific areas to think about were the ever expanding population, the change of communications, the attitude of responsibility in reviewing revolutions, employment, the question of politics and our culture and education.

Later that afternoon the Conclave continued with the business meeting, which saw fraternity rushing discussed by delegates from Southern Methodist Law School, fraternity fund raising discussed by delegates from the University of Texas, and fraternity public relations discussed by Baylor Chapter delegates. District VIII Justice Robert E. Lee and Supreme Treasurer Dee Brown Walker presided.

New officers for the District were elected, as follows: Student District Justice Robert L. Huckaby, University of Oklahoma; Vice Justice, John Crews, University of Texas; Marshal, Pete Baker, Southern Methodist University; Clerk, Paul Lyle, Baylor University; Treasurer, Ernest A. Conner, University of Texas.

TEMPLE CHAPTER FROLICS

Sunday, October 7, was a great day for some of the students of Hastings College of the Law. Led by Herbert Smith, Justice of Temple Chapter, 75 members, rushees, wives and girlfriends journeyed to Kenwood, Sonoma County, the location of Rancho Escondido. This beautiful weekend hide-away is owned by two Alumni; Daniel V. Ryan and Frank Worthington, Justice of District II.

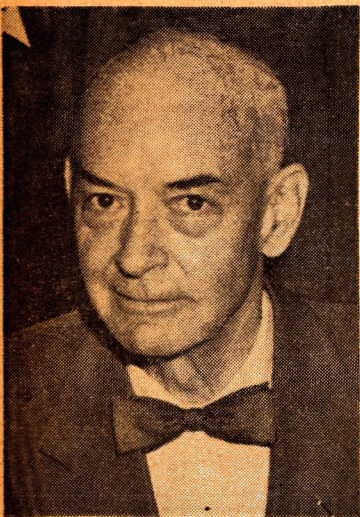

Swimming, croquet, catch ball, horseshoe, bongo and excellent weather stimulated thirsts and appetites to the extent of record breaking statistics. Some of the men even essayed to play a round of golf on the rough three-hole course which Brothers Ryan and Worthington fatuously call "Pebble Hills Golf and Country Club."

In summary, Gary Scherotter, Clerk of Temple Chapter writes "It is, I am sure, because of functions like these, where it is evident to all that our alumni can and do work with the active where we sell ourselves as a useful organization."

Lee Becomes Bank V. P.

Brother Robert E. Lee, Justice of District VIII, has recently been elected Vice President to head Fidelity National Bank's Business Development Department, in Oklahoma City.

Brother Lee holds degrees from West Point and the University of Oklahoma. He previously served as attorney for the Rock Island Railroad in Chicago, and later for Amerada Petroleum Co. before entering the banking field with First National Bank back in 1953.

REX HARDY

PSJ Rex Hardy Passes

Brother Rex Hardy, Supreme Justice of the fraternity from 1925 to 1927, passed away on November 24, 1962. He had only recently retired from the Los Angeles Superior Court Bench and was living with his wife, Dorothy, at Three Rivers in Tulare County, California.

Brother Hardy was a much decorated veteran of both world wars and has served as senior assistant city attorney of Los Angeles and as a member of the California Public Utilities Commission before his appointment to the bench in 1958. In 1917 he enlisted in the Army as a private and was discharged as a major of infantry. After the attack on Pearl Harbor he again volunteered for service and served overseas as a colonel in the General Staff Corps of the Army.

He was in charge of the collection, maintenance and repatriation of hundreds of thousands of displaced persons in the U.S. military sector in Europe.

He was awarded the U.S. Victory Medal for both wars, the U. S. Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star. He also received decorations from France, Italy and Luxemburg.

Justice Clark Addresses Jay Chapter

At its third professional meeting of the fall semester, John Jay Chapter (George Washington University) had the honor of being addressed by United States Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark. Jay Chapter played host to Taft Chapter of Georgetown University on this occasion, and over two hundred alumni, faculty, and student members and their guests convened at the Presidential Arms in Washington, D. C., to hear this famous member of Phi Alpha Delta.

The meeting opened with short talks on the value of the legal fraternity to the student — by District XII Justice Don Moore — and to the alumnus — by Supreme Vice-Justice Robert Redding. The principal speaker of the evening was then introduced by the George Washington University law school's most prolific author, Professor Arthur S. Miller, an alumnus of Holmes Chapter at Stanford University.

Then, with his characteristic humor and graciousness, Justice Tom Clark took his audience "Behind the Velvet Curtain" (which serves as the backdrop for the Supreme Court bench) to the conference room of the Justices, and discussed the review of petitions for writ of certiorari, voting, assignment of cases, problems and procedures in drafting a majority opinion for the Court, and the work of the Justices during the periods when the Court is not in session. The "old line" professionals present were as attentive as the first semester students, for these areas of Supreme Court practice and procedure are seldom if ever discussed by one of its members.

Sun Valley Alumni Chapter Chartered

On December 13, 1962, the Sun Valley Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta was formally presented with its charter.

The officers of the new chapter were also installed on the same evening. They are: Thelton Beck — Justice; Joseph Worischek — Vice-Justice; Tom C. Foster — Clerk; Richard George — Treasurer; and Richard Skousen — Marshall.

The installation banquet was M.C.'d by the honorable Stanley Jerman, Bankruptcy referee for the District of Arizona. Mr. Jerman is one of the oldest, and certainly one of the most active alumni members of P.A.D.

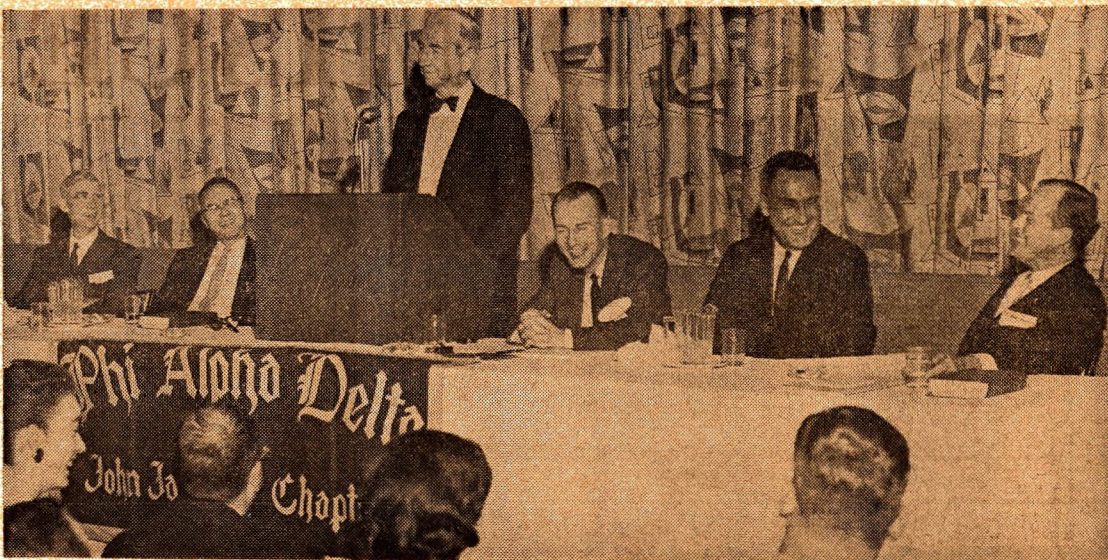

Preceding the presentation of the charter, there were short speeches by each of the former justices in attendance. Starting with the oldest, each gave a review of the activities and growth of P.A.D. at the University of Arizona Law School under their administration.

The featured speaker was Matthew S. "Sandy" Rae, the Justice of District III. Sandy welcomed the new chapter and made the presentation of its charter.

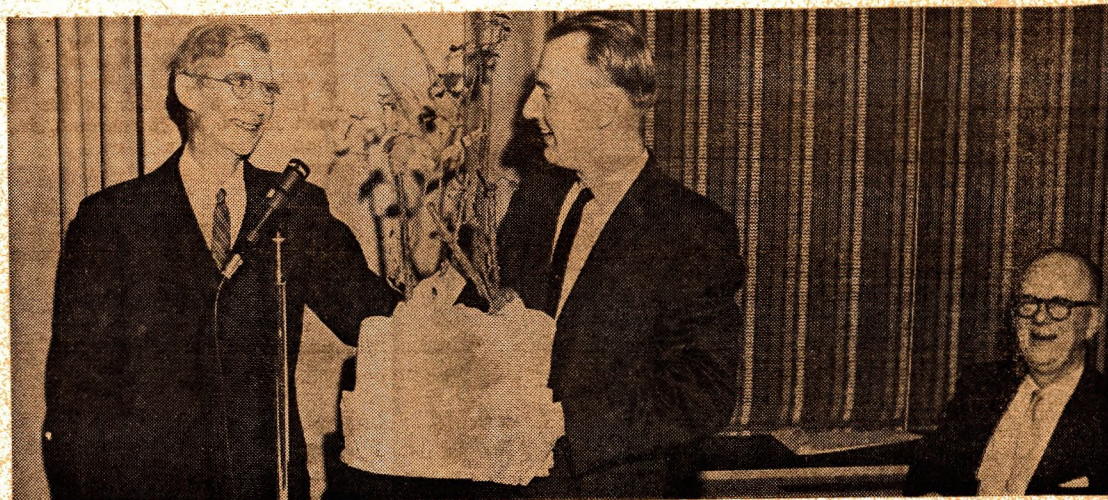

admitted to the Missouri State Bar in 1926, to Federal Court practice in 1935, and to practice before the United States Supreme Court in 1946.

Among the organizations in which he took an active part were the American Bar Association, the Missouri Bar Association and the Kansas City Bar Association.

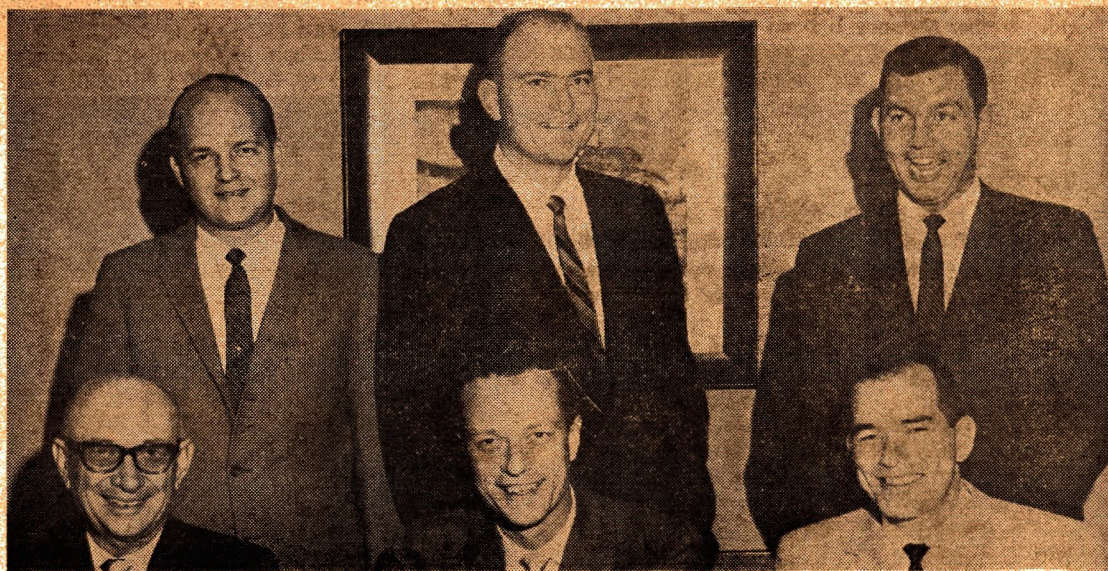

The highest honor paid him was by members of the fraternity in a message sent to his wife after his death, which stated: "To a good and loyal PAD who was always there when we needed him."
