University of Houston Receives PAD Charter

A new chapter of Phi Alpha Delta has been formed at the University of Houston College of Law. The John E. Hickman Chapter was formally installed on Saturday, May 11, 1963 in Judge T. J. Stovall's 129th District Courtroom in the Harris County Civil Courts Building.

The chapter, after much thought, deemed it desirable to select as its namesake a man not only prominent in American Jurisprudence but one who was particularly representative of the area in which the chapter originated and who was also a member of Phi Alpha Delta.

John E. Hickman was born in Liberty Hill, Texas in 1883. Having grown up in a predominately rural area, he was particularly aware of the educational needs of people in similar circumstances. Attempting to satisfy this need, he began to teach in country schools, finally rising to the position of Principal of Lampassas High School in 1902. In 1908, he entered the University of Texas College of Law, receiving his L.L.B. in 1910. Admitted to the Texas State Bar in 1910, he established a practice in Erath and Stephens Counties from 1911 to 1926. His judiciary potential was recognized by the people in 1926 when he was elected Associate Justice of the Texas Court of Civil Appeals becoming Chief Justice of that court in 1928. In 1935 he became Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas and in 1948 rose to Chief Justice. He had served as trustee of Southern Methodist University, trustee of Southwestern Legal Foundation and chairman of the Conference of Chief Justices. He has also been honored with a L.L.D. at Southwestern University and was a member of the State and American Bar Association, Phi Alpha Delta and the Philosophers Society of Texas.

The brothers realized that John E. Hickman set a standard in the profession and in his personal life that all would do well to follow.

The new chapter becomes the third legal fraternity represented at the University of Houston College of Law. The College of Law was organized in 1947 and has grown steadily to a current enrollment of 420.

The objectives of the College are to train students to practice law wherever the Anglo-American system of law prevails. The College of Law provides training in fundamental techniques required in the practice and administration of the law; it imparts to all students an understanding and appreciation of the high nature of the profession into which they are about to enter; it equips students to participate intelligently in the affairs of their community, state, and nation; and, it seeks to develop in students a sense of social balance, a respect for rights and privileges and an understanding of the obligation such rights and privileges entail.

The College of Law is headed by a dean and nine full time and eighteen part time faculty members. The students receive instruction in related courses in other colleges of the University.

LSU Chapter Installed as 51 Initiated

One of the largest charter groups in the history of the fraternity, fifty-one in number, received an active chapter charter of Phi Alpha Delta last May at Louisiana State University School of Law. The new chapter was named for Edward Douglass White, the only Louisianian ever to serve as Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. The Chief Justice during his tenure with the Supreme Court, became quite expert in matters of procedure and some very sophisticated decisions on why the court should or should not entertain a particular case, on jurisdictional grounds.

The installation of the new chapter was presided over by Supreme Justice Alfred P. Murrain, Chief Judge of the 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. PADs instrumental in the organization of the colonization group were Professor Melvin G. Dakin and National Field Representative Ray Judice.

Charter officers are: Rogers M. Prestridge, Justice; Floyd A. Roddy, Vice - Justice; William Henson Moore, III, Clerk; John Wilson, Treasurer; A. Hartie Spence, Marshal.

NY ALUMNI HONOR PSJ SAVARESE

The retirement of Past Supreme Justice of Phi Alpha Delta, Anthony P. Savarese, as Surrogate of Queens County, New York, was the occasion of a testimonial dinner tendered him recently by the New York Alumni Chapter, at the Forest Hills Inn, Forest Hills, New York City, N.Y.

Judge Savarese is nationally known and beloved. He was Supreme Justice from 1952 to 1954, having previously served as Supreme Treasurer from 1948 to 1952. His career in PAD started at New York University Law School when he was initiated into Rapallo Chapter back in 1921. Since that time he has served his fraternity, his profession and his country well.

PAD's indebtedness to his untiring devotion was recognized by the presence on the dais of Brothers Anthony Di Grazia, Past Supreme Justice, Brother Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Vice Justice, and Brother Robert E. Redding, Second Supreme Vice Justice, who travelled, respectively, from Chicago, Philadelphia and Washington to attend. Supreme Justice Alfred P. Murrah, who was unable to attend because of his court's calendar, sent a telegram to Justice Savarese full of commendations.

Among other distinguished guests were Brother Charles Digangi, National Chief Tribune, who acted as toastmaster for the evening Brother Donald R. Moore, Past District Justice, District XII, and presently Associate Tribune, Brother Howard F. Cerny, Past Chief Tribune, who presented the Judge with a plaque on behalf of the brothers of the New York Alumni Chapter, and Brother James W. O'Neil, the present Justice of the New York Alumni Chapter, who spoke on behalf of the Alumni.

The highlight of the evening was the introduction, by Brother Digangi, of the brothers present who had been members of PAD for more than 50 years, and who had been associated for many of those years with the Judge in PAD. Each one reminisced about the bygone days when he, and the Judge, were taking their first steps in a new profession. Those who brought back "old times" were Brothers Ambrose A. Arnold, Joseph P. Brennan, Nicholas Byron, Thomas W. Constable, James W. Farrell, William P. McCool, Charles D. Prutzman, Louis F. Rebori, Frank R. Serri and Albert A. Verrilli. A number of young members also spoke words of tribute to Judge Savarese for the kindness and consideration he had shown them during the time of their membership in PAD.

Judge Savarese, in accepting the plaque, announced that he did not want anyone to get the idea that, because he had retired from the bench at the age of seventy, he was putting himself to pasture. On the contrary, he was returning to his first love, which is the active practice of the law, after a brief vacation.

Present throughout the entire evening was Mrs. Savarese, who is the unsung heroine of the story to date. She, too, has been a tireless worker for PAD, and much is owed her.

The Committee whose diligent and enthusiastic efforts made the evening the unqualified success it was consisted of Brothers Edward V. Atnally, District Justice of District XI and 3rd Vice Justice of the New York Alumni Chapter, Joseph P. Brennan, Austen Canade, Charles Digangi, Nicholas F. Dizozza, 4th Vice Justice, John Hobert, Tyler S. Roundy, Director, and Andrew L. Sichenze, Clerk.

Message From The Supreme Justice

Your Supreme Executive Board takes great pleasure in announcing another FIRST for PAD. For a considerable period of time our law fraternity has led all others in providing new services for its members. Among the many FIRSTS for PAD have been the offering to members of a life insurance program at greatly reduced rates, a disability income insurance program with lower than usual premiums, the holding of annual regional meetings which we call District Conclaves and the providing of a Professional Directory at no charge.

Now our fraternity has made arrangements with the American Casualty Company to provide Attorneys Professional Liability Insurance coverage to members at a rate which is approximately forty per cent under that adopted by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters. No other law fraternity has such a program.

This program is the result of over nine months of negotiations involving our Executive Secretary, our insurance administrator and various casualty companies. In addition, our insurance committee carefully reviewed the proposed plan before it was adopted by the Supreme Executive Board. Our insurance committee, incidentally, consists of members who are well qualified to pass on our various insurance programs. They are Howard Cerny, outstanding insurance and trial attorney of New York, Chairman; Carroll M. Shanks, past President of Prudential Insurance Company; J. Harry LaBrum, Past President of the Federation of Insurance Counsel, Past Supreme Justice of the fraternity and nationally known insurance counsel; Rollin R. Ecke, Treasurer, Farmers Insurance Group; John J. Corkhill, Executive Secretary, Kansas Public Employees Retirement System; and Anthony A. Di Grazia, Past Supreme Justice.

In a very few days you will receive detailed information on this fine new program. I urge you to study it carefully. If you presently have a professional liability policy, compare it with the PAD sponsored plan. We are confident that you will find it to your advantage to give serious consideration to this, PAD's latest FIRST.

HON. ALFRED P. MURRAH

Fraternally,
ALFRED P. MURRAH
Supreme Justice

Brother O'Brien is a member of Hammond Chapter of the University of Iowa School of Law where he received his LL.B.

Upon his retirement ceremony at Heidelberg, Germany, he received the Legion of Merit Medal for "outstanding contribution to development of Military law and successive assignments of major responsibility."

In addition to his membership in PAD he holds membership in the American Bar Association, Federal Bar Association, Iowa Bar Association and Judge Advocate's Association.

Now! Attorneys Professional Liability Ins. Sponsored By PAD

PAD announces its sponsorship of a Professional Liability insurance policy for practicing alumni members of the fraternity. This coverage is commonly referred to as "attorneys errors and omissions." The new program is the result of a great deal of intensive study and involved the contacting of many major companies in the field of professional liability. All members will receive details shortly.

As most members are aware, though not accorded the wide publicity of professional liability suits against physicians, attorneys are becoming the increasing target of suits for so-called "acts of errors and omissions." Quite frequently, suits occur not because of any lapse on the part of the attorney, but through alleged negligence on the part of an employee or associate, for whom the attorney may be legally liable.

Certainly, the first line of defense against malpractice claims is one's own professional skill, training and integrity. However the SECOND LINE OF DEFENSE is an Attorneys Professional Liability policy.

Some of the many advantages of the PAD sponsored program are:

1. LOW PREMIUMS—the rate structure for the PAD plan is approximately 40% under that adopted by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters.

2. BROAD INSURANCE CLAUSE—Coverage applies for damages because of any act or omission arising out of the performance of professional services for others in the insured's capacity as a lawyer. By omitting "negligent" the policy provides the broadest professional protection possible.

3. NO COMPROMISE OF CLAIMS WITHOUT YOUR CONSENT—The company (American Casualty Company) will not make settlement of any claim without your written consent.

4. PRIOR ACTS COVERAGE—Coverage is also applicable to acts or omissions committed prior to the policy period, providing claim is made or suit is brought against the insured during the policy period and such insured at the effective date of the insurance did not know or could not have reasonably foreseen that such acts or omissions might be expected to be the basis of a claim or suit. Knowledge of any associate or an employee does not penalize the insured.

5. NEW PARTNERS AND EMPLOYED LAWYERS ARE AUTOMATICALLY COVERED—Automatic coverage is provided for additional lawyers who, during the policy period, become partners of the partnership insured. If, at the effective date, the policy included as named insured all employed lawyers, automatic coverage is provided for additional lawyers employed during the policy.

ST. JOHN'S UNIVERSITY HOSTS DISTRICT XI CONCLAVE IN NEW YORK

De Bracton Chapter of St. John's University Law School was host for the Annual District XI Conclave for the weekend of April 19, 1963. Checking in that Friday evening at the St. George Hotel were the various delegates representing Columbia, Cornell, N.Y.U., Rutgers, St. John's, Syracuse and Temple. These weary travelers had their SPIRITS bolstered by a Cocktail Party at the Towers Hotel, complete with music and girls for those lucky unmarried delegates. The District Vice-Justice and De Bracton's foremost piano player, Anthony Indence, led the delegates in group singing as the evening faded into the early hours.

On Saturday at 10 A.M. the delegates reconvened for the business meeting in the Law Lounge of St. John's Law School. Among those present were Supreme Vice-Justice Dr. Magaw and District Justice Ed. Atnally. After the meeting was cordially opened by De Bracton Justice John Scully, the various delegates gave their reports.

Among the topics discussed were the securing of membership dues, the techniques of pleading and the closer cooperation between chapters.

Following the business meeting was a luncheon at Foffe's Restaurant in Brooklyn. At the luncheon, Dr. Fagan, moderator of De Bracton chapter, gave a stimulating talk on the protection of the rights of indigent persons. He pointed out that the Ford Foundation has made large sums available for such endeavors and indicated the opportunity for Phi Alpha Delta to take the lead in such work so as to demonstrate a TRUE sense of BROTHERHOOD.

After the luncheon, several of the brothers attended the International Photography Fair at the Coliseum in New York City.

That evening an elegant dinner was had by all at the Sherry-Netherlands Hotel. Among those attending were Supreme Vice-Justice Dr. Elden Magaw, Assemblyman Anthony Savarese (N.Y.), Charles Di Gangi, Chief Tribune and Father Tierney, Dean of Men at St. John's University.

A fruitful and spirited weekend was finally terminated by a farewell party at the Loewe's Midtown Motor Inn.

MORE CHAPTER ACQUIRES FRATERNITY HOUSE

Saturday, May 4, 1963, marked the fulfillment of more than a year's hard labor by the members of More Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Legal Fraternity, Creighton University School of Law, in that it dedicated its recently acquired fraternity house.

This dedication was the climax of a drive for the acquisition of a house which was conceived in the late spring of 1962 by past justice Richard Francis Rowley II, whose father had lived in the Benson Chapter house in Topeka, Kansas, some thirty years prior to this date.

Once the idea was formed, Brother Rowley appointed a committee to study the feasibility of obtaining a house for the use of More Chapter members. The committee agreed that a definite need and necessity existed for a fraternity house; but they were faced with the common nemesis — lack of funds. With the dim and grim outlook of this lack facing them, Brothers Rowley, Lamb, Cannon, McGill, and Hunker decided that they would attend the National PAD Convention to be held in Denver, Colorado, in August of 1962, and discuss the matter with other chapters to see how they had overcome this problem and what solutions were open to them.

While Brother Lamb was engaged in a "friendly" card game with Brother Anthony DiGrazia; said game being held on top of one of the Rocky Mountains, Brother Rowley and Lamb explained the problem and need concerning the house to Brother DiGrazia, the Past Supreme Justice of PAD. After listening to their story, Brother DiGrazia assured the members representing the More Chapter that he would be of any assistance possible, in whatever way, in the acquisition of a house. The More representatives advised Brother DiGrazia that they had located what they felt would be a satisfactory house and asked if it would be possible for Brother DiGrazia to stop off in Omaha on his return trip to Chicago and look at the house. Brother DiGrazia did so and felt, as the More Chapter did, that the house they had located would be ideal for the fraternity house. Brother DiGrazia remained in Omaha long enough to supervise the purchase of the house for the More Chapter.

After purchase of the house was completed, a zoning controversy arose over the operation of a fraternity house in the particular neighborhood. More Chapter was represented before the Omaha Planning Commission by an Omaha attorney, and the Commission voted 5 to 0 against allowing a fraternity house in the area requested. Not to be daunted at this stage, the Chapter appealed this decision to the City Council of Omaha; this time foregoing the aid of legal counsel. The "zoning squabble" of the ensuing weeks within the City Council Chambers has been described as one of the most controversial in the history of Omaha. Local press and television gave full coverage of all proceedings. Members of More Chapter were described by their opponents as everything from immoralists to green-eyed monsters, thieves and even murderers. Tension was spread on all sides thick as the proverbial 'pea soup'.

The members of More Chapter appeared before the City Council, and in the words of City Council president, Harry Trustin, "represented themselves and the legal profession amicably in the face of the slanderous onslaughts by their opponents." This firm appeal by the Chapter members resulted in a 7 to 0 vote overriding the City Planning Commission's decision. However, the Mayor of Omaha saw fit to veto the action of the City Council on the matter, but the Council, feeling the Chapter had a legitimate appeal, voted 7 to 0 to override the Mayor's veto, and thus gave final approval to the establishment of the house.

The foregoing serves only to explain the high feelings and exultation of all concerned during the activities of the dedication. Among the PAD dignitaries in attendance were past Supreme Justice DiGrazia and Judge Robert Jackson and their respective wives, and C. Glenn Lewis, Associate District Justice. Special congratulatory telegrams were received from District Justice Jay Gunnels, Greater Kansas City PAD Alumni, and the Governor of Nebraska, Frank Morrison, who sent not only his congratulations, but his regrets at not being able to attend the dedication due to other pressing engagements. The Governor is also a PAD.

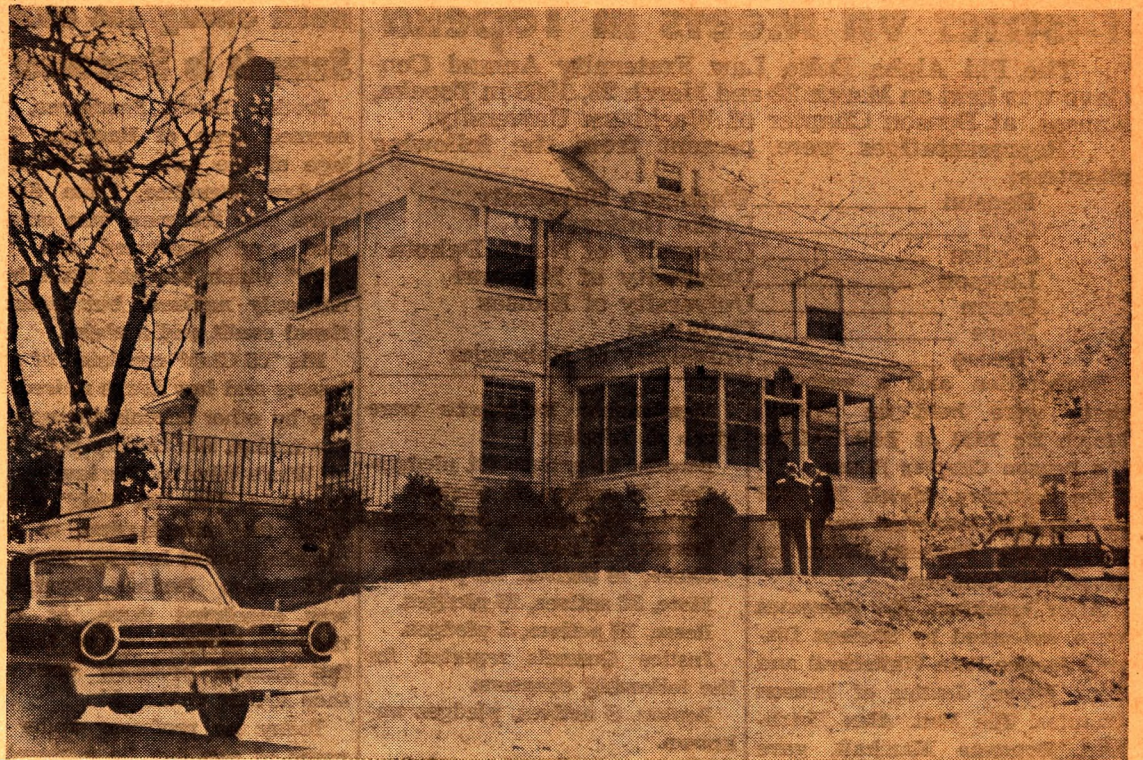

Some of the special guests included Very Reverend Henry Linn, S. J., President of Creighton University, James A. Doyle, Dean of the Creighton University School of Law, and several of the law school faculty who had followed the acquisition of the house with interest.

The new PAD house was dedicated to Anthony A. DiGrazia because of his continued encouragement and assistance throughout the acquisition of the house. The National office of PAD provided a portrait of Brother DiGrazia, who in return presented to More Chapter an oil painting of Saint Thomas More, the patron saint of lawyers, and namesake of the chapter at Creighton University. The dedication ceremony was culminated with the blessing of the house by the Reverend Leroy Endres, S.J., faculty member of the law school.

Dedication over, the festivities of the day did not end, but rather continued into the annual Law Day Dinner-Dance of the Student Bar Association, with the Brothers DiGrazia and Judge Jackson being honored guests of the evening.

Brother Frank Morrison, Governor of the State of Nebraska, was the guest speaker at this event, and in a joking manner commented on the attendance of so many distinguished PAD members by stating, "... didn't know that I was going to attend a PAD rally ...", said remark was met with a rousing cheer by the few non-PAD members present.

The acquisition of this fraternity house has given and will continue to give additional stability to the Saint Thomas More Chapter of PAD. It will provide housing facilities for the law students where previously there has been none, and this housing will be a drawing card for the fraternity for it will provide much more than a mere roof and bed. The house has already acquired

Peterson Pres. College Attorneys

Brother Paul M. Peterson, General Counsel for the University of Missouri, has recently been elected President of the National Association of College and University Attorneys, an organization representing 161 schools in 41 states. Peterson joined the University of Missouri staff in 1954 after serving 12 years as a parttime faculty member. He holds his membership in Lawson Chapter at University of Missouri.

a goodly library, always valuable to the student, and by being accessible constantly, will promote better and more concentrated studies. Companionship is another important factor in the fraternity. It always helps to have someone who understands the tribulations of law school, and who better understands than another law student.

Recent years have seen the decay of Omaha PAD alumni activities, and the feeling is now that with the house serving as a center, more interest can be aroused for various projects of the Alumni.

With the dedication of the house, the Saint Thomas More Chapter members felt that they had also re-dedicated themselves in the motto of the PAD law fraternity — service to the student, to the law school, and to the profession.

Dean Snodgrass Dies; Sammis is Successor

Brother David Snodgrass, renowned dean of Hastings College of the Law, died recently in San Francisco. Dean Snodgrass was the man who originated and developed the "65 Club" which brought his school not only national but international credit and acclaim.

His "65 Club" consisted of professors and law deans retired for age by other schools throughout the nation. His faculty read like a "Who's Who" of the law teaching field. The "65 Club" which fired the imagination of the teaching world had its origin in 1948 when Brother Snodgrass was appointed dean. At that time he brought to the faculty the famous professor and author Arthur Cathcart.

Today no professor under 65 years of age can be a member of the Hastings teaching staff and the school boasts a "million dollar" faculty. He was a member of Temple Chapter at Hastings and a devoted and active member in PAD.

His successor is another PAD, Arthur M. Sammis. Dean Sammis, 52, was a Snodgrass protege since his graduation from Hastings in 1939. He is also a member of Temple Chapter.

Sammis is a former secretary of the Committee of Bar Examiners of the State of California and has served as Registrar and Associate Dean of the Law School at Hastings.

Of Particular Note . . .

When asked to submit news of themselves and their accomplishments, some of our brothers in reply set forth noteworthy comments. Following are some of the comments:

"I have no time to hold any public offices or engage in any community activities and I am not sharp enough to have any honors or awards bestowed on me. I am busy as h— trying to earn enough money to support my sick, starving and unhealthy hungry children and wife."

"Retired—no business, no money, no address, no phone."

"To be honored by your children and their spouses who reside three hours by jet or 1500 miles from you is most heartwarming. My only son and his lovely wife have honored me by naming their twin sons Michael and Thomas. My only daughter and her talented husband have named their firstborn child Michael Patrick, after me and his paternal grandfather. These honors will live for generations in active, human endeavors for my descendants, fellow men. This is greater than any wax figure of me."

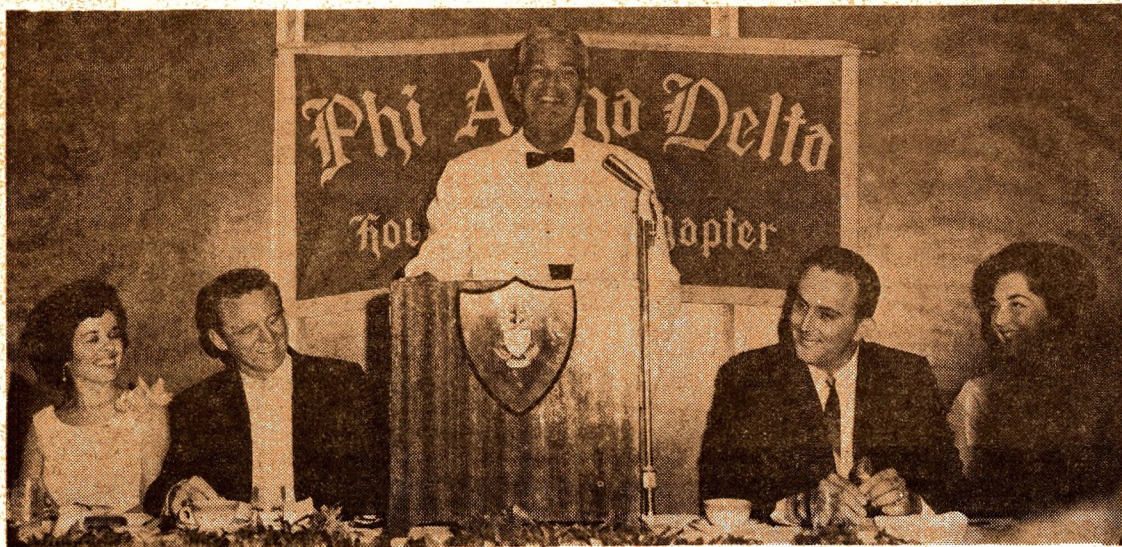

"Nothing new, happily. Have been dropping activities trying to retire for the past seven years but haven't been able to let go yet."

"Just credit me privately with perseverance. I shall take my fourth bar in two weeks."

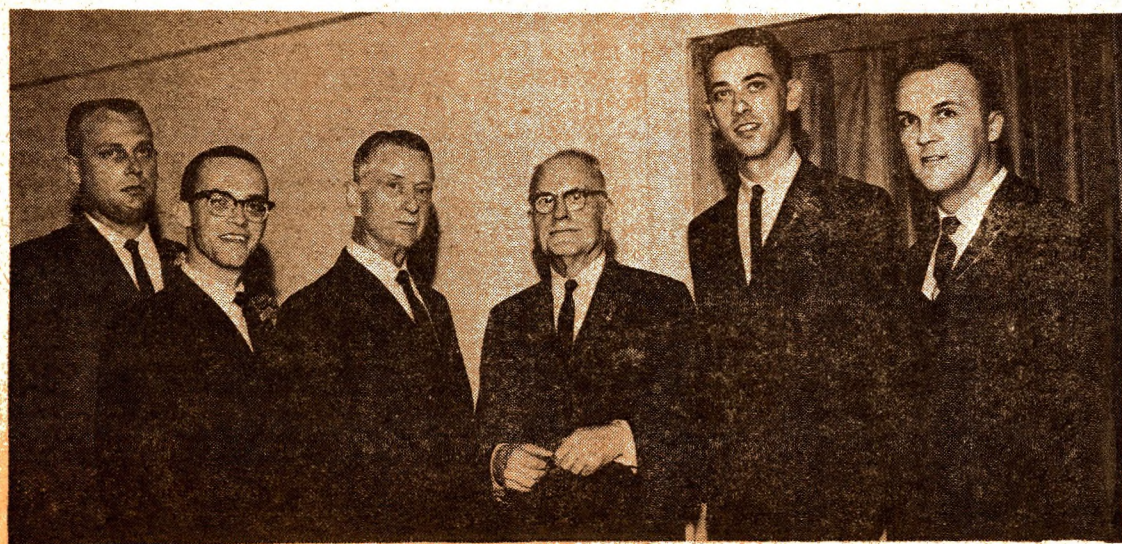

"As a source of news, I am a washout. Now 71, I am taking things a bit easier—working less and loafing more."
