JUSTICE CLARK CELEBRATES FIFTEENTH YEAR ON UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

Brother Justice Tom C. Clark, Supreme Vice-Justice of Phi Alpha Delta, was nominated as Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court by President Harry S. Truman on August 2, 1949, and on October 3, he took his seat as successor to Mr. Justice Murphy. Brother Clark is now celebrating his 15th year on the Court and is the only Justice remaining on the Court who was appointed by Brother Truman.

Most observers will agree that Brother Clark has added measurably to his stature since he accepted the judicial position after a 12 year career in the Department of Justice. He has come to be a solid anchor on the Court and in recent years has been prominent in the work of justice in all tribunals.

MONT POWELL HOYT

Hoyt Heads ALSA

Brother Mont Powell Hoyt, of Harlan Chapter, is the new President of the American Law Student Association. Hoyt who heads the American Bar Association sponsored group, was elected at the Annual Meeting last August in New York. The student organization, which represents 50,000 law students, promotes the idea of professional responsibility and acquaints the law student with his obligation to serve the public and to improve the administration of Justice through the organized Bar. The activities sponsored by Phi Alpha Delta together with those of the A.L.S.A. expose the student to the professional ideas of the legal profession.

Another PAD, Michael Schmidt, of Taney Chapter at Southern Methodist University is serving as Executive Vice President of ALSA.

William H. Lorentz of Jackson Chapter at Rutgers University and John R. Weinrauch of Story Chapter at De Paul University are serving as Circuit Vice Presidents.

Hoyt graduated from Northwestern University in 1962 with highest distinction. His recently published honors thesis was a study of the effect of enlarging the House Rules Committee. During his college years in Evanston, he served as Vice-President of the Student Senate, was elected to Norlegama Junior and Deru Senior Men's Honoraries and appointed by the President of Northwestern to serve on the Council on Undergraduate Life. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity.

During his law school career Hoyt has been active in moot court and the American Law Student Association. He participated in national and local moot court argument. Last year he served as Oklahoma University's Brother Justice Clark is aware that some of the decisions in which he has joined have drawn bitter criticism. It was he who wrote the Majority Opinion in the School Prayer Case and he participated in the unanimous 1954 vote in which the Court held that segregation in schools is unconstitutional. However, Brother Justice Clark welcomes criticism. He feels that "it is in keeping with the tradition of the democratic system. While we would like for it to be constructive, it is their right. It gets a bit discouraging sometimes. Sometimes remarks are made that hit below the belt. But I rather think that with most of the people the image of the Court now is better than it has ever been."

Brother Justice Clark points out that it is always a difference of opinion that brings a case to the Supreme Court and consequently when a decision is reached it will always make some people unhappy. He is quick to add, "That's always been the case. Thomas Jefferson, unhappy with an opinion handed down by John Marshall, told the Chief Justice to go enforce the law himself. And Teddy Roosevelt once told Oliver Wendell Holmes he never would let him in the White House."

Known as one of the hardest working members of the Court and as one of its most prolific writers of opinions and considered more or less a moderate between the more liberals and conservatives of the Court members, Clark regularly takes home stacks of briefs to review. On the night before election he was up until 1:30 a.m. pouring over legal documents.

Brother Justice Clark received his A.B. degree and LL.B. degree from the University of Texas. Since that time he has received honorary degrees from Bethany College, John Marshall College, Centre College, Missouri Valley College, Texas Technological College, Dickinson School of Law, Vincennes University, Northwestern University, University of Montana, University of Maine, St. Louis University, and Boston University.

This year also marks the 40th anniversary of his marriage to Mary Ramsey. They were married on November 8, 1924, and have had 3 children, William Ramsey Clark, Mildred (Clark) Gronlund, and Tom C. Clark, Jr. (deceased).

Brother Justice Clark joined representative to the American Law Student Association and chaired the National Moot Court Committee.

the Department of Justice in 1937. He served in the Department for 8 years and in June, 1945, was appointed Attorney General. As Attorney General he was active in the field of civil affairs, organizing the National Conference on Citizenship. He also sponsored the "Big Brothers" and was named Big Brother of the Year in 1950. During his tenure as Attorney General, 414 cases were presented before the Supreme Court of the United States. In these the government's position prevailed in over 75% of the cases. He personally argued 3 cases in the Supreme Court while Attorney General. The first, United Mines Workers and John L. Lewis vs. the United States, brought to an end the coal strike of 1946; in 1947 the Supreme Court in United States vs. California et al, sustained his position that it was the United States rather than any individual coastal state which has the paramount rights in the land, oil and other minerals under the marginal sea; the third case, Paramount Pictures, et al vs. United States, an anti-trust proceeding, was successfully argued in the United States Supreme Court in 1948.

Brother Justice Clark has been very active in Phi Alpha Delta and is presently serving as our Supreme Vice-Justice.

White House Fellows

The President has announced the establishment of the White House Fellows.

The purpose of the program is to give the Fellows first-hand, high-level experience with the workings of the federal government and to increase their sense of participation in national affairs.

It is not a college or a scholarly program. The Fellows will have completed their education and a number of them will be well into their careers. They will be chosen from business, law, journalism, the universities, architecture, or other occupations. Each will have demonstrated high moral character, exceptional ability, marked leadership qualities, and unusual promise of future development.

There will be 15 White House Fellows and they will serve for 15 months. One Fellow will be assigned to the office of the Vice President; one to each Cabinet officer; and four to members of the White House staff.

Applications and inquiries should be addressed to the Commission on White House Fellows. The White House, Washington, D.C.

Retired Justice Burton Dies

Brother Harold Hitz Burton, retired Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court and member of Phi Alpha Delta, died on October 28, 1964 at the age of 76.

Ill health forced Brother Justice Burton to retire from the United States Supreme Court on October 13, 1958 after thirteen years on the bench.

One of his most noted Supreme Court decisions outlawed racial segregation on railroad dining cars. This was the first of a line of major rulings in the civil rights field by the high court. He also wrote the opinion after World War II upholding the validity of a law providing for renegotiation of war contracts to prevent excess profits.

Another major opinion by Burton reversed a perjury conviction against Harry Bridges, the West Coast Labor Leader.

Upon retirement from the United States Supreme Court, Brother Burton remained active by helping the Appeals Court in Washington and the Court of Claims with their crowded dockets.

Before taking the bench Brother Burton was the Mayor of Cleveland and served as Republican Senator from Ohio during the period of Jan. 3, 1941 until Sept. 3, 1945 when he was appointed to the Supreme Court by President Truman, also a member of Phi Alpha Delta.

Brother Burton served in World War I as First Lieutenant and Captain of the 361st Infantry, and took part in several major offenses. He received the Belgian Croix-de-Guerre and the Purple Heart.

Brother Burton became a member of Hay Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta at Western Reserve University while an instructor of Corporation Law and was always active in our fraternity. He was present at such memorial occasions as the initiation of Justice Tom C. Clark, our Supreme Vice-Justice, as an honorary member of our fraternity. He was also always ready and willing to speak at any occasion upon request.

Brother Burton's death is certainly a loss to our fraternity and to the country.

Message From The Supreme Justice

My first official visitation as Supreme Justice was indeed a most pleasant one. It involved a visit to Syracuse University Law School and the occasion was the tenth anniversary of the founding of Carmody Chapter. Since it had been chartered while I was District Justice of District XI and I had the pleasure of installing the Syracuse Alumni Chapter in 1957, the event was to me a most significant and gratifying one.

A reception on Friday evening, October 30, 1964, was followed by a banquet the following evening. Mrs. Kharas and Dean Kharas honored us with their presence. The Dean assured me that Carmody Chapter was well respected and had a program of real value to the Law School. The Chapter is under the excellent leadership of the Justice, S. Parker Jones. One of the Charter members of both the active and alumni Chapters, Donald Bundy, Esq., was present and announced the creation of an annual award based upon need and high scholarship.

On Wednesday, November 4, 1964, I went to Washington, D.C. to attend a luncheon meeting of the Alumni Chapter and representatives from the local active Chapters. A most interesting talk was given by one of our alumni.

Prior to the luncheon I stopped at Georgetown University School of Law to pay my respects to Dean Paul Dean. In his absence I had the pleasure of conversing with Assistant Dean Gordon, who assured me that our Taft Chapter was well respected and had a program of value to the School. It was also my pleasure to visit with Dr. Jeager and Professor Gaghan, each of whom confirmed the report of the Dean. The Justice of this Chapter is David B. Armstrong.

After the luncheon I went to George Washington Law School, the home of Jay Chapter. Professor Benson and Dean Kramer gave a favorable report on the activities of Jay Chapter under the leadership of the Justice, Harry Todd, Jr.

On Thursday morning I called on Dean Myers in the fine new Law building which bears his name. During a personally conducted tour the Dean assured me that our Chapter at American University, Brandeis Chapter, has an important place in the Law School and an excellent professional program. The Justice, Richard Mahan, and the members are justifiably proud of the Chapter which is in its fourth year.

At Catholic University School of Law I was most graciously received by its Dean, Vernon X. Miller, President-elect of the Association of American Law Schools. He has a high regard for our Chapter, Cardozo Chapter, now in its third year, and very proud that one of his students, Thomas E. Patton, also a member of Cardozo Chapter, was one of the three students selected out of thirty-two as finalists in the competition for the Tom C. Clark clerkship. From the three finalists, selected by the Fraternity's Supreme Tribunal, Brother Clark will personally select his Clerk. The Justice of this Chapter is Gary Lodmell.

An evening meeting was held at which Supreme Vice Justice, Robert Redding, Esq., and Donald Moore of the Board of Tribunes, were present, along with officers from each of the Chapters.

On Wednesday morning, November 18, I flew to Chicago and was met by the newly appointed District Justice of District VI, Charles Falkenberg, Jr. From there we proceeded to the Law offices of Past Supreme Justice Anthony A. DiGrazia, and the three of us drove to Valparaiso, Indiana, to visit the Law School and Halleck Chapter. The University has a new campus and one of its finest buildings is the new Law building. A luncheon had been arranged for sixty members and pledges, and four of our faculty brothers including the Acting Dean, Professor Louis Bartelt.

This Chapter is under the able leadership of Justice Norb Pitt, and is one of which we can be very proud. I was assured by the administration and the faculty that it is highly regarded and has a respected position in the Law School.

In the evening I had the fortunate privilege of attending the Chicago Alumni Chapter testimonial dinner in honor of Brother John S. Boyle, Chief Judge of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois. The reception and dinner were held in the beautiful Skyline Room of the Sherman House, with approximately two hundred in attendance. It was a real honor to address this group and to present to Judge Boyle a handsome plaque for outstanding achievement, on behalf of the Supreme Board and the Chicago Alumni Chapter. Past Supreme Justice DiGrazia, and District Justice Falkenberg, Jr., also retiring Justice of the Alumni Chapter, were to be congratulated for a most inspirational and successful affair. All present were pleased and happy that Brother Daley, Mayor of Chicago, was present to speak words of welcome and commendation to the guest of honor.

Thursday included a visit to Chicago-Kent College of Law where we were met by the Justice of Blackstone Chapter, Ken LeVey, and Mr. Harry Rohde, Faculty Advisor, under whose leadership the Chapter is making excellent progress. The Dean, W. F. Zacharias, received us very graciously and spoke well of our Chapter's development.

Our next visit took us to Northwestern's School of Law and a meeting with Fuller Chapter. The Justice, William Heubaum, conducted a most interesting tour of the School's fine and spacious buildings. The tour through the library was conducted by a very gracious lady who is justifiably proud of this most important part of the Law School. In the absence of Dean Ritchie, I was most cordially received by the Associate Dean Rahl. We have an excellent Chapter at Northwestern, one that is well respected by administration and faculty for its excellent professional program.

Thursday evening the Court Room of our Brother, United States District Court Judge Michael L. Igoe, was the scene of great activity. At 6 p.m. I had the privilege of conducting the pledging ceremony for nine students for Lincoln Chapter at John Marshall College of Law. This Chapter is under the able leadership of Justice Sidney Gold.

At 6:30 p.m. it was my privilege to induct the honorable Abraham L. Marovitz, United States District Judge, into Honorary membership through Lincoln Chapter, ably assisted by Honorable John Dempsey of the Appellate Court. Following this ceremony I participated in the initiation of three faculty members, Professor John Waltz, Fuller Chapter, Northwestern; William Garrett, Lincoln Chapter at John Marshall College of Law; Howard Newcomb Morse, Story Chapter, De Paul University.

On Friday morning I flew to Pittsburgh for a visit with Dean Quinn and the Egan Chapter. A welcoming committee composed of Eddie O'Connor, Vice Justice of Egan Chapter, Erwin Wedner, Marshall, Frank Truzo, and Captain Keith Wagner, an alumnus, had sad news to convey and which required the cancellation of a luncheon and pledging ceremony. Professor Hector Alexander, a recent appointee to the faculty had been killed in a highway accident.

Judge John G. Brosky, one of our most loyal alumni, was general Chairman of the Fifteenth annual meeting of the All American Conference to Combat Communism; he invited us to attend the luncheon program which we were happy to do. It was also our pleasure to have a visit in chambers with Honorable Samuel Weiss of the Common Pleas Court. He is one of our most enthusiastic members and the first Honorary member of Egan Chapter. Dean Quinn, who has been so helpful and cooperative with the Chapter, had left the city to be with the bereaved family.

On Saturday morning I left for Columbus, Ohio, and a visit to McKinley Chapter, being escorted to the airport by William Hayes of Egan Chapter. Brother Al Dobnick, Assistant State Attorney General, charter member and first Justice of Willis Chapter at Ohio Northern Law School, and Tracy Bolesky, Treasurer of Willis Chapter, were in Columbus to attend the alumni banquet sponsored by McKinley Chapter. The highlight of the evening was, of course, the conferring of Honorary membership upon Honorable Kinglsey A. Taft, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Ohio. It was my privilege to conduct the ceremony and also to initiate Professor Paul D. Carrington of the Law Faculty, into membership of the McKinley Chapter. An honored guest at the banquet was the Associate Dean, Oren Slagle.

The District Justice, Ken Segal and his lovely wife, Joyce, attended the banquet. Also in attendance was Supreme Vice Justice Robert Redding, who had the honor of presenting to Brother Robert A. Butler, the Charter for the Central Ohio Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta. McKinley Chapter is an excellent one with an outstanding professional program. We wish it, and the Alumni Chapter composed of thirty-nine charter members, continued success.

Sunday morning brought a very pleasant flight to Cincinnati and the delightful hospitality of District Justice and Mrs. Segal. On Monday, November 23, Ken and I attended, in the President's dining room at the University, of Cincinnati, a luncheon given by Chase Chapter, a splendid group of sixty members and pledges. Dean Barrows honored us with his presence and spoke of our Chapter and its excellent professional program. Professor Fred Dewey is faculty advisor; Herbert Deiss is Justice and Al Kemp is Vice Justice.

In the evening we visited with Dean Ray Hutchins of Chase College of Law, and a devoted member of our Fraternity. We attended a rush party of Hoffman Chapter and heard an excellent and inspirational address by Professor Arnold Morelli, a member of the faculty, and a brother P. A. D. This Chapter is a very good and enthusiastic Chapter, and appreciated the attendance of both Justice and Vice Justice from Chase Chapter, University of Cincinnati Law School. The two Chapters propose to hold some joint affairs in the future.

Tuesday morning Ken and I drove to Lexington, Kentucky, home of the University of Kentucky, and Clay Chapter. There we were warmly received by Dean Matthews, Joe Harkins, Justice of the Chapter, and Edwin Abell, Chairman of the membership committee. We were joined at lunch by members of the Chapter, not then in class, and two faculty brothers, Professor Roy Moreland and Professor Willburt Ham. The Chapter has a membership of approximately 75; the Dean and faculty have a high regard for the Chapter and its professional program.

KNOW OUR DISTRICT JUSTICES

Our fraternity is divided into 12 districts. In each district an alumnus member of our fraternity has accepted the position of District Justice. This position is formed to provide assistance to the chapters in each district. His job is also to insure that there is complete communication between the fraternity nationally and the individual chapters. He also assumes the responsibility of coordinating the district conclaves.

Each of the men who has assumed this position certainly deserves to be commended by the fraternity. The job requires a great deal of time and is on a purely voluntary basis.

Following is a short biography of each of our District Justices:

JOHN J. DANHOF

DANHOF HONORED BY ALUMNI

John J. Danhof, President of the Detroit College of Law, was admitted to practice in 1912, after having graduated from the University of Michigan where he was a member of Campbell Chapter.

In five decades, his boys grew into judges, justices, congressmen, and fine attorneys and more than could possibly be named.

The Detroit College of Law Alumni Association recently honored Brother Danhof, who was 80 in July, at a reunion banquet in the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel.

While Brother Danhof was teaching at Detroit College of Law, he was also on the legal staff of the New York Central Railroad System, the last 20 years as General Counsel.

"I wanted to teach," he said, "but I also wanted to be part of an active, competitive business. In 1913, the year after I received my law degree at the University of Michigan, I accepted both jobs."

When he retired from the New York Central in 1951, he continued for some time as chairman of the Michigan Railroads Association.

"You can't stand still," he said. "Law is growth like everything else, an evolution not a revolution. You've got to meet the growing condition."

Brother Danhof goes to his Detroit College of Law office several times a week. The enrollment now is 599, he said, compared to the 69 in 1891.

He is proud that the majority of his students work as they study and are familiar with the court system. He continues his presidency because he supports the independent law school theory.

"Only two are left," he said, "ours and the Kent School of Law, in Chicago. We receive no public funds. We are rightfully accredited — but can do as we please, uninfluenced by Washington, Lansing, or by any big university."

He turned to a volume of Shakespeare — one of those he bought at 13 — and said he intends, at 80, 90, whatever, to be busy.

"I'll practice law a little, travel, read, hunt, fish and play golf which for me is mostly walking."

In 1939 Brother Danhof became a Trustee of Detroit College of Law and in 1945 he became president. "I had a desire to take to the students the kind of practical, day-in-day-out law, I was handling every day. It has always been important at Detroit College of Law to teach practical law as well as theory."

The Danhofs have three children who are married. The son, John Danhof, Jr., is a New York Central System executive. "He went out on a railroad section gang when he was very young," Danhof said. "I encouraged all three to go where they wanted to go after high school. My son chose Dartmouth — and the railroads."

Danhof's father encouraged him similarly. They were a Grand Haven, Michigan family, the grandfather coming to Michigan in 1854.

"My father was an insurance

JOHN H. KERIAKEDES

KERIAKEDES NEBRASKA COMMANDER

Phi Alpha Delta extends congratulations to Brother John H. Keriakedes on his recent election to the post of Commander of the American Legion in Nebraska.

Brother Keriakedes is an alumnus member of Reese Chapter, having served as Clerk in 1932 and 1933. He is married and boasts a son and daughter who are both graduates of the University of Nebraska.

After serving for many years as County Attorney for Sheraton County, Nebraska, Brother Keriakedes is now the Chief Probation Officer for the United States District Court.

He has been very active in the American Legion, having served for 5 years as Chairman of the Americanism Committee for the Department of Nebraska and having been past Senior Vice-Commander.

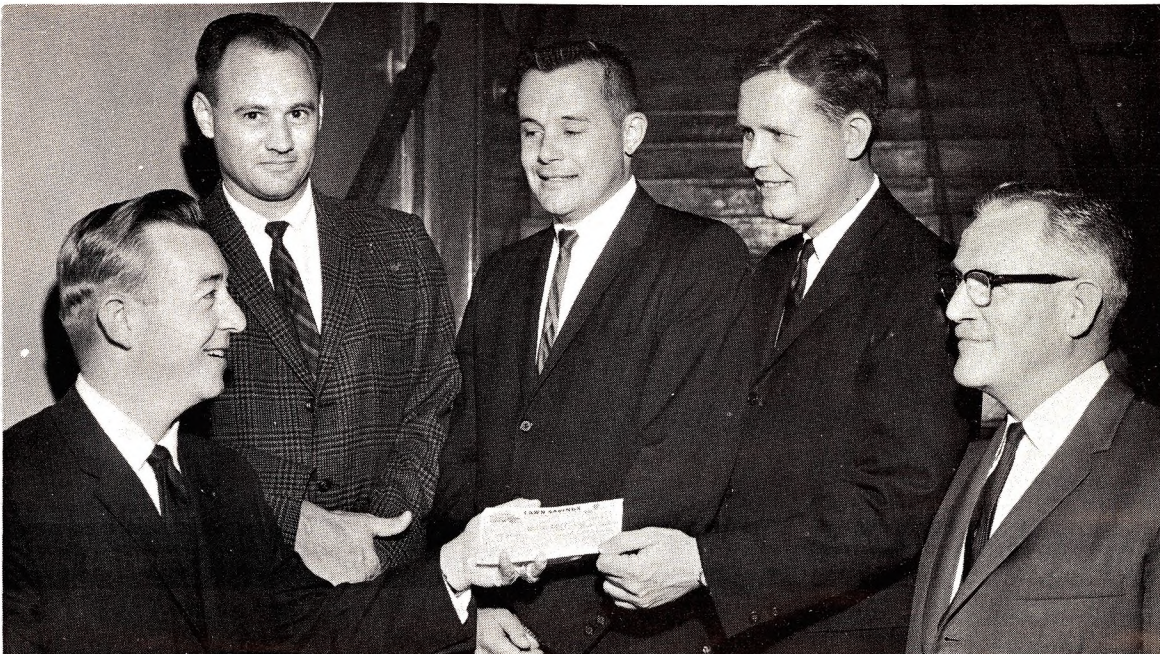

man who gave me anything but money," Danhof said. "As a boy, I worked summers in a grocery store for $5 a week, I loved to read. In my teens, I bought a set of Shakespeare from a door-to-door salesman on a 50-cent-a-week deal."

He got his Bachelor of Arts at the University of Michigan in 1906. He had a whole year of law by then. . . "But I was offered $20 a month as principal of the Hurley Wisconsin High School."

In Hurley, he married the German teacher. They came back to Grand Haven, "because the Grand Haven schools offered me $100 a month to be principal of the Grand Haven High School."

At University of Michigan, he remembers "being enthralled by the silver tones of William Jennings Bryan campaigning for the presidency. I listened with open eyes and mouth, but back in my room I'd say to myself, 'Did that fellow really say anything?' When my father asked me who I voted for, I answered Bryan. 'Young man, you'll live and learn,' my father said."

His father, who had three lawyer brothers, wanted him to be a "preacher or a doctor or anything but a lawyer." His Greek professor howled, "It's a shame for a good language teacher to become a damn lawyer."

Dean Holliday Dies

Phi Alpha Delta regrets to report that Brother Charles D. Holliday passed away on September 14, 1964 at the age of 51.

Brother Holliday completed his undergraduate education at Stanford University in 1936 and continued at Stanford University Law School where he obtained his LLB in 1939. While at Stanford Law School Brother Holliday became a member of Holmes Chapter.

Upon graduation, he returned to San Diego where his family had resided since 1878. He became managing editor of The Daily Transcript until September 16, 1940 when he was called to active duty as a National Guard Private. He served in the armed forces for 7 years and left active duty as a Lieutenant Colonel.

Upon release from active duty Brother Holliday returned to San Diego and served as Dean of the Law School of Balboa University (now California Western University) from 1947 to 1950 when he entered private practice in association with the firm of Holliday and Folsom.

Brother Holliday was active in the Boy Scouts of America. He served as Scout Master for 12 years and won the Silver Beaver Award from the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Brother Holliday was a member of the Lions Club of San Diego and an honorary member of the North Park and Silvergate Lions Clubs. In addition he was twice a deputy district governor of Lions International.

He was also a member of the American Bar Association, the American Judicature Society and the American Legion.

PAD wishes to extend its sympathy to his mother, Mrs. Charles J. Holliday, his widow, Peggy S. Holliday, his daughter, Jeannette L. Holliday and his son, Laird S. Holliday.

BREWER CHAPTER WELCOMES FRESHMEN

Brewer Chapter, at Stetson University's College of Law, began the school year by joining with Alumni from Tampa to hold a reception for freshmen students from the nearby area.

The scene was the exclusive University Club atop one of Tampa's largest banks. The purpose was to demonstrate to the Freshmen the social as well as professional attitude of Phi Alpha Delta. It was a perfect opportunity for the Alumni to tell the Phi Alpha Delta story to new students and impress upon them the number of successful men in their own area that are members of PAD.

Mr. Joseph A. McClain was a key organizer of this reception. He is the former Dean of the Duke Law School and George Washington University School of Law at St. Louis. "Dean" McClain now practices law in Tampa, Florida with the firm of McClain, Thompson & Turbiville.

Also present was Representative Terrell Sessums, State Representative to the Florida Legislature, who is one of the youngest men in the state legislature. He was the guest speaker at the reception.

Brewer is on a rebuilding program after losing its last Justice, Barry Markman, by death at 26 years of age. Bert Grandoff is the present Justice. He attended the New York Convention and has promised big things.

Justice Grandoff will be assisted by the faculty advisor for Brewer Chapter, Mr. R. T. Dillon, who is assistant Dean of Stetson University's College of Law.

PAD Wins Award

Rollin E. Drew, member of Harlan Chapter, was the recipient of the first place award in the Fidelity National Bank Will Drafting Competition. The award was presented by Brother Robert E. Lee, senior vice-president of the Fidelity National Bank and Trust, and John W. Erwin, vice-president and trust officer of the bank.

In presenting the award before the students of Oklahoma City University, Brother Lee commented, "as a contribution to the law profession and to the fine law program evolving here at Oklahoma City University, Fidelity National recognizes these students who have applied themselves in a pursuit of excellence."

Second and third prizes were awarded to H. Marshall Farrier and James L. Kee.

A group of these students are working toward law degrees in the evening while working full time. Brother Drew is a bailiff in an Oklahoma county courthouse.

The Will instruments were prepared on a problem situation designed by one panel of lawyers and judged by another panel. Participation in the contest was limited to students who completed the wills and administration course.

Fidelity's objective in awarding the cash prizes is to encourage higher scholastic achievement and promote interest in law as a profession.

EDWARD J. REASOR

The End of a Long, Hard Road

Brother Edward J. Reasor, of Cole Chapter at Drake University, recently received his LL.B. degree. This marks the end of a long and hard road.

The victim of a broken home, Ed was placed in an Illinois orphanage at the age of 6. At 14 he was sent to a foster home, a dairy farm, in Upper New York State. Upon graduation from high school, he was in the top 5% of his class and he had saved $350. He obtained a full tuition scholarship at the Jamestown Extension of the New York University and a part-time job as a cub reporter on the Jamestown "SUN."

In 1958, Ed found part-time jobs scarce so he enlisted in the Army and volunteered for the Paratroopers. He said, "I did this to 'get the extra jump pay, $55.00 a month, for my education.'"

During 3 years at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, he rose from Private to Staff Sergeant, made 50 jumps, devoted 4 nights a week and Saturdays to North Carolina State and the University of North Carolina courses, and became a court reporter through summer studies at the University of Virginia Law School.

At the termination of his military service, Ed had credits for 90 of the 120 hours required for a Liberal Arts degree, with a B+ average.

He had been court reporter for Major Reid W. Kennedy, a Drake Law School graduate, former Clay County attorney at Spencer, and defense counsel for general court martial. Kennedy urged Reasor to go to Drake and helped him obtain a one-half tuition scholarship.

Since entering Drake in the fall of 1961, Ed has continued to jam-pack his life. Along with full law studies he completed his Liberal Arts requirements and for most of the time had averaged 30 hours a week examining claims for Employers Mutual Casualty Co.

He stood fourth in his law class, was president of the Student Bar and Editorial Notes Editor of the Drake "Law Review." His article in the "Law Review" on "Uninsured Motorists Coverage," reprinted in the Insurance Law Journal was described by a leading Chicago attorney as "by far the best I have read" on the subject.

Five years ago Ed married Nancy Clyde of Bradford, Pennsylvania. Though they had 2 sons, she has worked 3 years to help the education along. Both have fallen in love with Alaska since their arrival in June.

We have printed the story of Ed Reasor to illustrate what can be accomplished through perseverance and hard work.

ADAMS HEADS TROY STATE COLLEGE

Ralph W. Adams, a member of Morgan Chapter, Phi Alpha Delta, University of Alabama, has been named president of Troy State College, Troy, Alabama.

Adams, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, has for the past two years served as the director of Selective Service for Alabama. He was one of the first cabinet appointees named by Governor George C. Wallace. He came to the Alabama Selective Service appointment from Pentagon duty with the U. S. Air Force, where he was with the Judge Advocate General's Department. He took over the helm at Troy State College on October 1, 1964, after being unanimously elected to the post by the State Board of Education.

President Adams graduated from Birmingham-Southern College and the University of Alabama Law School. He has done additional graduate study at George Washington University, the University of Colorado, and the Air University. A native of Samson, Alabama, he attended Lyman Ward Military Academy, prior to entering college. He has since been named to the Lyman Ward Board of Trustees.

World War II interrupted his Tuscaloosa law practice, and Adams became an Air Force Navigator, serving in the CBI and African-Asian theaters. At the close of the fighting, he returned to Alabama in 1945 as an Assistant Superintendent of Insurance. He returned to his Tuscaloosa law practice and later became Tuscaloosa Inferior Court Judge.

Recalled by the Air Force during Korea, he served as Assistant Dean and Acting Dean of the Air Force Law School at the Air University. He has also taught graduate courses in Insurance and Law for the University of Colorado Extension Division.

In college, he earned many distinctions and honors. He was also a member of the Kappa Phi Kappa honorary leadership fraternity, and Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity. He has been active in American Legion work, being immediate past commander of the Montgomery post, and a Mason, Shriner, Elk and Civitan.

Adams is listed in the World's Who's Who in Commerce and Industry, and in Who's Who in the South and Southwest.

NEW MIAMI ALUMNI CHAPTER JUSTICE

Brother Arden M. Siegendorf has been elected Justice of the Miami Alumni Chapter. He will direct the activities of over five hundred members of the Chapter, including many of Greater Miami's most prominent attorneys.

The election of the 26-year old is noteworthy in that he is one of the youngest attorneys ever elected to the post. A 1963 graduate of the University of Miami School of Law, he was voted the outstanding graduate of his class, and held many top law school positions, including the presidency of the Bar and Gavel Legal Society.

Siegendorf was a special as-

McKENNA CHAPTER: SOCIALLY SCHOLARLY

The role of McKenna Chapter at UCLA is to supplement with its professional programs the legal education provided by the Law School and to cooperate with the Law School Faculty and Administration in whatever way may be requested. It also strives to provide through social activities that Comradeship and fraternal spirit which will create lifelong friendships in neighboring chapters with whom the student eventually will spend a lifetime in the practice of law.

McKenna Chapter fulfills the role of the student chapter for the full program of professional and social activities. It is one of the largest of the fraternity's chapters nationally.

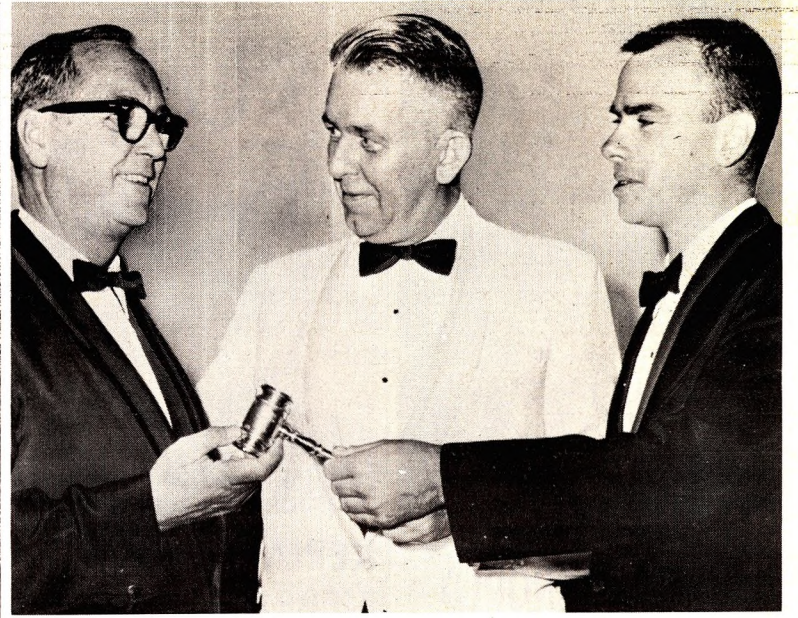

In fulfilling one of Phi Alpha Delta's primary purposes—the development of professional competence — each year McKenna Chapter undertakes a scholarship program. Chairing the program this year is Brother Bob Anderson, who ranks first in the Junior class. The program concentrates on seminars in the various first year courses to provide students with collateral information concerning examinations, study aids and approaches to different professional techniques. This year a broad and general picture will be included, explaining what each course ultimately intends to accomplish.

Socially, McKenna Chapter sponsored Rush parties with each of the three first year sections and is planning a final Rush party at the Miramar Hotel in Santa Monica.

Preceding the Christmas vacation McKenna Chapter will join with Ross Chapter at USC and Ford Chapter at Loyola in sponsoring a tri-chapter Christmas Party at a local country club. In the past, this event has been a highlight of the law school's social calendar.

Assistant attorney general in Tallahassee during the last session of the State Legislature and now serves as legal assistant to Judge Mallory Horton of the District Court of Appeals.

Brother Siegendorf has also been named legal counsel to the Dade Young Democratic Club.

Bullen Wins A.B.A. Gavel Award

The Washington Star has been awarded the American Bar Association's Gavel Award for the Supreme Court reporting of Staff writer Dana Bullen. ABA President Walter E. Craig said the award was for distinguished articles on important Supreme Court decisions that Mr. Bullen wrote under deadline pressure.

The annual Gavel Awards honor writers of outstanding articles contributing to public understanding of the American system of law and justice.

Bullen, 32, is a PAD member of the bar admitted to practice before the Supreme Court. He is the only newspaper reporter covering the court with this background.

He received his journalism and law degrees at the University of Florida, where he was executive editor of the Law Review and Justice of Fletcher Chapter.

A former Marine Corps officer, Mr. Bullen has been with The Star since 1959. Prior to his Supreme Court assignment two years ago, he covered suburban affairs, and municipal and Federal courts here. The award prompted a personal congratulatory note from Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg who said: "It is a well deserved recognition of your objective and accurate reporting of the work of the Court."

The awards to The Star and other Gavel winners were made at the 87th annual meeting of the association in New York City August 13.

Brother James N. Landis Dies

The career of James N. Landis, honorary member of Taft Chapter, has come to an end. He was a remarkable man, a vigorous public servant and a distinguished legal scholar. Born the son of missionaries in Japan, Brother Landis turned to the law and was clearly destined for a notable career. He was the law clerk to Mr. Justice Brandeis, and at the age of 29 became a full Professor of Legislation at Harvard Law School.

Drawn to Washington by the New Deal, He served as a member and then as chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, succeeding his old friend Joseph Kennedy. He set high standards for vigor and integrity at the Securities and Exchange Commission before returning to Harvard as Dean of the Law School in 1937, a post he held until 1946.

Until his death at 64, Brother Landis gave unstintingly of himself in public affairs. A few weeks ago, Attorney General Kennedy asked Brother Landis to correlate the President's papers. He was to come to Washington to begin the task.

Those who knew and worked with him recall his extraordinary brilliance and unselfishness.

Hull Chapter Begins New Year

Hull Chapter got off to a good start at the beginning of this fall semester by pledging the following men: Jerry Beck, Bob Moorer, Tom Jones, Jerry Oglesby, Mike Simonetti, Allen Cook and Phil Brown. The initiation of these pledges is set for the last of November.

The new administration for the fall semester is headed by Bob Kracke, Justice; Charles Robinson, Vice-Justice; Charles Thompson, Clerk; Nick Cervera, Treasurer and Fred Erben, Marshall.

Hull Chapter was host to the Cumberland freshman class at a social gathering held at the Birmingham Club. This was the largest freshman class enrolled at Cumberland School of Law since its transfer to the Howard Campus. "The Jackets," a local band, provided the music and everyone seemed to enjoy the party.

The chapter is instituting a law forum series to be held for the benefit of the entire Cumberland student body. From time to time the members of Hull Chapter are going to invite outstanding lawyers from the local Birmingham Bar Association and from the Alabama Bar Association. At this time they are trying to obtain the authentic Army film of the now famous Nuremberg Trials, from the National Chapter.

For the first time Hull Chapter will have a full page in the Howard College Yearbook. By this subscription, Hull Chapter will be one of the sponsors for the College Yearbook.

For the coming year Hull Chapter will be well-represented both on the Student Bar Association and the Howard College Student Government Association. Brother John Kopeulousos was elected president of the Student Bar Association and Brother Dale Corley was elected president of the Howard Student Government Association. Brother Bob Weaver was elected president of the senior class at Cumberland and Brother Mac McLeod was elected president of the junior class. Cumberland is entitled to one senator in the Howard Student Legislature and Brother Al Shoemaker was selected to this post.

ENDOWMENT FUND LOANS HELP MANY PADs

The Endowment Fund is one method by which Phi Alpha Delta endeavors to be of service to its student members in that it provides funds to needy students who are unable to obtain financial assistance elsewhere. This assists them in providing funds necessary to complete their legal education.

The Endowment Fund has existed for many years. It was revitalized after the Second World War as a result of increased need for financial assistance.

The Fund has continued to assist needy students in the completion of their legal education and has provided loans for a large number of students.

Although the Fund is a sizeable amount it represents contributions from many of our Brothers in varying amounts from $1.00 to $1,000.00, coming from many of the individuals who had a loan themselves which enabled them to complete their legal education.

The circumstances surrounding the granting of loans from this Fund are practically as numerous as the number of loans having been granted. Many of the students are closely associated with tragedy, such as the loss of parents or property through disaster. Other loans are the result of accomplishments, such as having been admitted to graduate school to pursue legal training.

The following are just a few illustrations of situations where Endowment Fund loans have assisted Brother PAD's:

CASE A: A PAD student whose parents had both passed away had borrowed $500.00 from his sister while at school. In the following year his sister needed the money which she had loaned to her brother so that she herself could complete college. The Fraternity loaned him $500.00 so that he could complete his legal education. It should be noted that upon graduating from law school he promptly repaid the loan and enclosed a letter with his final payment which thanked the Fraternity for the assistance that it was able to render.

CASE B: Another individual lost all of his personal property, including clothing and school books, as a result of a fire in the dormitory of his law school. Unfortunately, none of his property was covered by insurance. This individual had saved money from prior employment but the loss of all of his personal property required an unexpected expenditure which made it impossible for him to complete his legal education without outside assistance.

CASE C: Another student had worked his way through law school and had obtained very good grades in the process. He felt that if he could quit working he would be able to achieve cum laude recognition upon graduation. The loan was granted and this Brother was able to achieve the highest grade point average ever compiled at his law school.

CASE D: Another Fraternity Brother was dependent upon his wife's income in order to complete his legal education. His wife was employed by a local doctor and was summarily discharged because of a personality clash. Apparently the dentist had a reputation for discharging people for little or no cause. Consequently the student and his wife were left without a source of income. The Endowment Fund loan enabled the student to complete his legal education by providing them with funds until his wife could secure other employment.

CASE E: This Brother was given the opportunity to study law in England following completion of his LL.B. degree. Unfortunately he had nearly exhausted his funds in obtaining his LL.B. degree. Therefore, he would have been unable to take advantage of the opportunity to pursue his legal education in England without the assistance of a loan from the Endowment Fund.

CASE F: One of our Brothers had obtained his LL.B. degree but was without the necessary funds to take a bar review course. A PAD loan was granted and he is today enjoying a flourishing practice.

LOAN REQUIREMENTS

Senior law students who are members of our fraternity may receive an application for an Endowment Fund Loan by writing the Executive Office. Accompanying each application must be:

1. A recommendation from the Administrative Head of the Law School which indicates that the grade average of the applicant is at least a "C" or equivalent thereto;
2. A recommendation from the Chapter Justice indicating that all of the applicants' chapter dues and financial obligations are in a current status. In the event the applicant is a Chapter Justice himself, then the recommendation shall be made by the Chapter Vice-Justice;
3. A recommendation from the District Justice; and
4. A recommendation from the Faculty or Alumni Advisor of the active chapter.

The maximum amount of each loan is restricted to $500.00 and the Supreme Executive Board will approve a loan application only if the application shows that the applicant is a worthy individual; that he is unable to obtain funds to continue his law school education elsewhere, and that after the loan is granted he will have sufficient funds to complete his law school education.

No interest is charged on loans at the present time. Each applicant is, however, required to make a contribution in the amount of $25.00 to the Endowment Fund. The amount of this contribution may be added to the principal of the Loan. If the individual becomes delinquent in his payments, interest in the amount of 5% per annum is charged on the amount of the loan in arrears.

All borrowers are also required to take out a minimum life insurance policy under the PAD Life Plan. The minimum policy is $5,000.00 and the premium is $25.00. The applicant is required to assign sufficient of the proceeds of the life insurance policy to the Fraternity's Endowment Fund to cover the principal amount of the loan. The balance of the proceeds may be designated to the beneficiary of the applicant's choice. The requirement that the borrower take out a life insurance policy is necessary to protect the Endowment Fund because these are unsecured loans. The amount of the first year premium may be added to the principal of the loan.

A Promissory Note evidencing the loan must be executed not only by the applicant but also by his wife and some other financially responsible person. The other financially responsible person must also submit with the application a financial statement. The form for this financial statement may be obtained from Executive Office.

Repayment of the loans is made monthly, in an amount not less than $25.00 and commences within six months after graduation or leaving law school, or at an earlier date, in the discretion of the Supreme Executive Board.

A minimum of 30 days after submission of all required information must be allowed for final action on any application. Thereafter, upon submission of a properly executed Promissory Note and insurance application, a check for the funds will be immediately forthcoming. Inquiries regarding the Endowment Fund may be directed to the Executive Office at 10722 White Oak Avenue, Granada Hills, California.
