Paterson Chapter Sponsors Workmen's Compensation Seminar

In April, the William Paterson Chapter at Seton Hall University School of Law, sponsored an all-day seminar on workmen's compensation. Seven hundred representatives of industry, labor, insurance companies, the legal profession, government, and students participated in this seminar.

The seminar was held in the Grand Ballroom of the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark. The program began at 9:00 a.m. with a welcome address by Paul J. Giblin, Justice of the William Paterson Chapter. Following the welcome, there was a panel discussion on "Introduction to the Law and Its Application" and "The ABCs of Workmen's Compensation." From 10:00 to 10:15 a.m., there was a coffee break. From 10:15 to 11:15 a.m., there was a panel discussion on the "Decisional Developments." From 11:15 to 12:30 p.m., there was another panel discussion entitled "A Consideration of Legislative Amendments." Following this panel discussion, lunch was served. During the luncheon, Dean John P. Loftus and Justice Paul Giblin initiated Judge Arthur J. O'Dea as the first honorary member of the William Paterson Chapter.

New Jersey Governor Richard J. Hughes was the featured speaker at the luncheon. The governor praised the fraternity and the officers of the William Paterson Chapter for giving everyone in New Jersey who is interested in the workmen's compensation laws an opportunity to discuss this important subject in a neutral forum. The governor traced the history of workmen's compensation laws and called for higher weekly benefits to injured workers in New Jersey.

After lunch, Dr. Wilhelm C. Hueper, world-renowned expert on cancer, spoke about cancer as an industrial problem. Dr. Hueper was introduced by Dr. Jerome Kaufman, N. J. President of the N. J. Medical Society. After Dr. Hueper's talk, a panel composed of leading attorneys in the field of workmen's compensation, along with the Chief Judge of the Workmen's Compensation Court, commented on Dr. Hueper's remarks.

The program ended at 4:30 p.m. The William Paterson Chapter realized a profit from the seminar of $2400.

During the conference, Wayne Dumont, Jr., the State Senator from Warren County, New Jersey, and the Republican gubernatorial candidate, said that some tightening up was essential in order to screen out unwarranted claims, especially those for permanent partial disability resulting from accidents on the job or work-connected illness. He suggested that one step should be to require injured workers to be examined by a physician of their choice from a list approved by the State Commissioner of Labor and Industry. He was supported in this suggestion by Peter Dorn, Secretary of the State Chamber of Commerce, who cited instances when a finger blood blister brought a $78 award and a bumped forehead with no discernible injury brought $385. Mr. Dorn said, "We must limit payments to truly injured employees so as to prevent rising costs of the program from adversely affecting New Jersey's ability to attract new employers."

Mr. Joel R. Jacobson, President of the State Industrial Union Council, A.F.L.-C.I.O., suggested the real drain on the program was soaring legal fees and profits to the mutual insurance companies set up by employers.

PATERSON CHAPTER INITIATES O'DEA

At the recently sponsored Workmen's Compensation Seminar, Paterson Chapter honored Judge Arthur J. O'Dea, Bergen County Court Judge, by initiating him as an honorary member of our fraternity.

Judge O'Dea then told those present of the loneliness of life on the bench and suggested one way of paring the backlog of suits awaiting trial.

He said appeals from decisions of the Workmen's Compensation Division should go directly to the Superior Court Appellate Division instead of coming into County Court for a new trial as they do under the present law. Judge O'Dea indicated that the present procedure was a clear waste of time, money, and litigation in that all such decisions ultimately reached the Appellate Division anyway. He asserted that the County Court proceeding is not a judicial review but a brand new trial duplicating the work of the Workmen's Compensation Court. He said, "I raise this point whenever such a case appears before me."

The initiation ceremony was conducted by Brother Paul J. Giblin, Justice of Paterson Chapter.

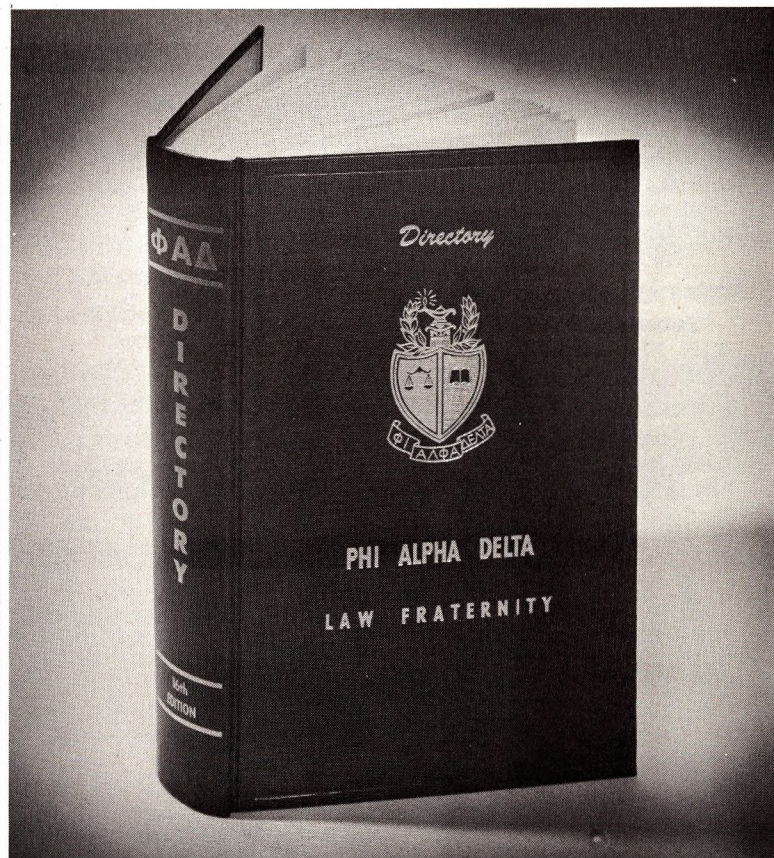

Following the initiation, Judge O'Dea said that he welcomed the opportunity to join in the discussion and said, "Where does a judge have the opportunity to take part in such proceedings other than through such a legal society?"

1965 PHI ALPHA DELTA DIRECTORY

Finest PAD Directory Ever

The 16th edition of the Phi Alpha Delta Directory has now been completed and is being forwarded free of charge to all of our alumni members who pay their 1965-1966 annual dues.

This directory has proven to be invaluable in the reference of business to all parts of the United States, its territories and many foreign countries, including countries such as Canada, Samoa, Australia, Bolivia, Brazil, Cuba, Denmark, Egypt, El Salvador, England, France, Germany, Greece, India, Iraq, Israel, Italy, Japan, Korea, Lebanon, Liberia, Lybia, Mexico, Nigeria, Pakistan, Panama, Philippine Islands, Scotland, Spain, Switzerland and Venezuela.

The new directory contains an alphabetical listing of over 41,000 members of our fraternity. With this alphabetical listing, it is easily possible to learn the location of any brother in Phi Alpha Delta.

In addition, all of the members of Phi Alpha Delta are also listed in the geographical section of the directory. These geographical listings make it extremely convenient to locate the name of a brother who resides in a particular city or area throughout the world.

The names and addresses of our present National officers and District Justices can be found on Pages iv and v.

A brief description of the inception of Phi Alpha Delta is found on Page vi. This serves as a living reminder to each of us that our fraternity was founded in a legal controversy which created the realization that more could be accomplished by a unified group. This common struggle also kindled a close association which gave rise to a strong nucleus for the inception of our National Fraternity.

The 102 law schools in the United States which boast a charter of Phi Alpha Delta are listed on Pages vii and viii of the new Phi Alpha Delta Directory. Of the 102 chapters, five are inactive. They are John Marshall, University of Chicago; Theodore Brantly, University of Montana; Manoeh Reese, University of Nebraska; David Watson, University of Pittsburgh; and Champ Clark, Washington University. Illinois Wesleyan University is also listed in that while it had a law school, a chapter of Phi Alpha Delta was there. On Pages viii, ix and x there is found an alphabetical list of our active chapters.

Our 56 alumni chapters are listed alphabetically on Pages x and xi.

Phi Alpha Delta leadership is reflected on Pages xii through xix, wherein a list of the past National officers from 1902 through 1964 is located.

Of course, any dynamic organization such as Phi Alpha Delta is always changing and improving. For this reason, portions of the directory have already become outdated. For example, at the recent Supreme Executive Board meeting in Denver the Supreme Executive Board decided to redistrict the United States. There are now fifteen districts instead of the twelve districts listed on Page v. Because of the ever-changing profile of our fraternity, a supplement is printed two years following the compilation of a new edition.

JUDGE PERRY STEVENS DIES

Brother Perry Howard Stevens, Judge of the Ninth District Court of Appeals, died recently in Akron, Ohio.

Prior to his death, Brother Stevens served thirty-one years on the Appeals bench and made more than 7500 decisions. Of those decisions, only about one per cent were reversed by the Supreme Court of Ohio.

Judge Stevens took the bench in February 1933; when he retired last November due to failing health, he had the longest record of service in the court's history.

Brother Stevens received his LL.B. degree from the University of Michigan Law School in 1916.

He began practicing in Cleveland but was shortly interrupted by World War I.

Brother Stevens is survived by his widow, Lucy Stevens.

Message From The Supreme Justice

We are in a new academic year, a year in which to do those things we thought about last year but did not accomplish. It is also a year in which we must move ahead with Chapter programs which are consistent with our purpose of Service to the Student, the Law School, and the Legal Profession.

It is well to remember that the habits developed now will follow one into the profession, and the attitudes formed as law students will be reflected in their practice of the law. Each Chapter officer has a constitutional obligation, and this is particularly so with regard to the Chapter Justice and the Treasurer. Carelessness in discharging these responsibilities with the attitude that it engenders, may result in a similar approach to the practice of law, with resulting unfortunate consequences.

Each active member is urged to conduct himself with respect to his Law School and Law Fraternity, in such way that it will not require the development of an entirely different set of principles and attitudes after taking the oath that makes him a vital part of our judicial system, an attorney, an officer of the Court.

The past year has been a good one for Phi Alpha Delta. At our recent meeting of the Supreme Executive Board, in Denver, Colorado, many actions were taken, including the redistricting of our Chapters, and to encourage scholastic excellence and conscientious attention to important extracurricular activities in the Law School.

Each of our one hundred two student Chapters bears the same relation to Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, as one of our fifty States to the United States. It is our strength based upon the combined accomplishments of all our Chapters which has enabled us to achieve our present high position on a national basis. May your Chapter and your individual record as a student reflect honor on our Fraternity, and your Law School.

Congratulations to the individual Chapters which have been chosen District winners in the outstanding chapter competition, and particularly to those four Chapters which were selected in the National competition. May your Chapter be one of those selected for similar honors at our National Convention next August in Kansas City, Missouri.

The loyal support of thousands of our Alumni is sincerely appreciated. Their financial contributions through the payment of dues and gifts to our Endowment Fund, make it possible for us to develop the programs which justify our position as a part of legal education. We cordially invite contributions from those who have not yet contributed to the end that we may render even greater service in the future.

Fraternally,

TV IN THE COURTROOM

Brother Dana R. Bullen, an alumnus member of Fletcher Chapter, and the United States Supreme Court Reporter for the Washington Star newspaper, recently spoke before the Virginia Broadcasters on the desirability of television during judicial proceedings.

Brother Bullen urged that the "use of natural lighting, noiseless cameras, partial drapes or screens would improve the image television makes considerably." He suggested that "pooling of cameras and microphones would be a huge improvement," and added, "if this is asking too much, then perhaps it is asking too much to ask that television be allowed in courtrooms."

Brother Bullen feels that television will have to demonstrate its responsibility outside the courtroom before it can convince judges in the forty-eight states that now bar it from the courtroom that it will conduct itself properly during a trial.

Bullen covers the United States Supreme Court as a reporter for The Washington Star. He is one of two reporters covering the Supreme Court who are members of the Bar admitted to practice before the Court. He also holds the American Bar Association's Silver Gavel Award for his distinguished articles on important Supreme Court decisions. In addition, Brother Bullen has reported on "Decision Monday" on NBC radio, carried over 50 NBC radio stations. He has also written a book on the Free Press-Fair Trial Debate for the Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

A PURPOSE TO SERVE

"... Just as sure as education is the guardian of democracy, brotherliness is its keeper. Fraternities can do much to bring this truth home to the American people.

"In doing so we must tap our greatest resource, the college graduates who wear the fraternity badge. This is where we have failed miserably. We have projected an image of fraternities as being solely an undergraduate activity. It is not. Once a fraternity man, always a fraternity man. Like the iceberg, we have hidden our most potent force from view. I suggest that we redesign our image bringing into the profile our greatest asset—the graduate fraternity men. Let's put them to work.

"Picture, if you will, the potential of such a group, dedicated as they are to our cause and working through our active chapters and thousands of alumni ones. Imagine, if you will, the influence that these leaders might also wield in every public community in America. We could not only organize more fraternities to meet the bulging student population but we could increase the number of our own chapters. In this way we could make fraternity life and ideals available to every student wishing the experience. Hard to do? Yes, all good things are hard to attain. But I am sure that with a strong dedicated program it could be done in a few years. This problem, my brothers, is bigger than my fraternity—it is bigger than yours—its success will take the cooperation of all fraternities united in one cause.

"Is the fraternity system worth it? I say emphatically that it is."

—Hon. Tom C. Clark
Assoc. Justice, U. S. Supreme Court

Supreme Board Meets in Denver

A meeting of the members of the Supreme Executive Board was held on September 17, 18 and 19, 1965 at the Brown Palace Hotel in Denver, Colorado pursuant to the call of the Supreme Justice.

At the meeting many topics of fraternal interest were discussed and many important actions taken.

The members of the Supreme Executive Board considered the possible conversion of the Fraternity's membership records to an IBM system and upon full determination decided to retain the existing system used in the Executive Office.

The topic of the Reporter was raised, and it was felt that our publication should be oriented more around the active chapters' activities. The Executive Secretary was therefore requested to include more active chapter news in the Reporter and increase the size of the Reporter from eight pages to twelve pages when necessary.

The Supreme Executive Board then turned its attention to foreign colonization. It directed that colonization efforts at the University of Puerto Rico School of Law be commenced and Past Supreme Justice Alfred P. Murrh volunteered to pursue this project.

Reactivation of our inactive chapters was also discussed, and it was decided that reactivation efforts should be commenced for Brantly Chapter at Montana State University, Watson Chapter at the University of Pittsburgh, Marshall Chapter at the University of Chicago, Champ Clark Chapter at Washington University in St. Louis, and Reese Chapter at the University of Nebraska.

Turning to scholastic achievement, the Supreme Executive Board approved the adoption of a scholarship program which would involve a grant to each active chapter. The Supreme Executive Board referred the job of formulating details and financing of such a program over to a committee. This committee was also instructed to make recommendations on any further or additional uses of the Endowment Fund.

It was determined not to sponsor a Legal Writing Contest, as previously authorized by a prior meeting of the Supreme Board. This decision was reached due to the adoption of a scholarship awards program, as described above.

The Supreme Executive Board decided that annual joint meetings between the Supreme Board and the District Justices were of extreme value as providing an opportunity for the two groups to meet together jointly to exchange ideas. It was therefore decided that such a joint meeting would be held annually, commencing with the fiscal year 1966-1967.

In honor of Justice Harold H. Burton, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, who recently passed away, the Supreme Executive Board determined to establish a memorial for Justice Burton at Western Reserve University School of Law, his alma mater.

In planning for our future conventions, it was decided that the Muehlebach Hotel in Kansas City would serve as the headquarters hotel for the 1966 Convention. Also, Washington, D. C. was selected as the site for the 1968 Convention.

As our Fraternity has grown, more and more paper-work has been required of the District Justices and Supreme officers. This problem has been turned over to the Supreme Secretary to attempt to reduce some of the paperwork volume experienced.

The Supreme Executive Board also instructed the Executive Secretary to prepare and obtain a Distinguished Service Award Certificate, to be made available to all active chapters at cost.

The concept of a Distinguished Service Chapter, as proposed by Supreme Vice Justice Tom C. Clark, was discussed by the Supreme Board and the concept was approved. A committee is to be appointed to implement this concept.

The Supreme Board then discussed the possibility of a ritual for the opening of a conclave. This aspect of our Ritual was referred to the Ritual Committee for further study.

Because of the ever increasing number of chapters and members of our Fraternity, the Supreme Executive Board found it necessary to increase the number of Phi Alpha Delta districts in the United States to fifteen. A complete redistricting of the country was accomplished to accommodate the additional districts. A map illustrating the new districting will be found on the back cover of this issue.

The District Justices for the new districts will be as follows: District II — William F. Worthington
District III — Mathew S. Rae
District IV

(Western Portion) — Judge C. Nelson Day

(Eastern Portion) — Judge O. Hatfield Chilson

District VI — Don Hutson

District VII — C. Raymond Judice

District VIII — Charles V. Falkenberg, Jr.

District IX — Kenneth Segal

District XII — Jerome Ornstein

District XIV — George W. Miller, Jr.

District XV — Dean Frank Maloney

Tom C. Clark Clerkship Finalists Announced

Each year Justice Tom C. Clark, Supreme Vice Justice of our fraternity selects a law clerk from among the student members of Phi Alpha Delta. The qualifications of all participants are first reviewed by the Supreme Tribunal of the fraternity, which selects three finalists. The applications of the three finalists are then submitted to Justice Clark for the final determination.

This year twenty-five outstanding student members of Phi Alpha Delta applied for this position. Because of the large response and outstanding caliber of the applicants, the fraternity's Supreme Tribunal, consisting of Chief Tribune Charles Di Gangi and Associate Tribunes Donald R. Moore and George T. Nickell spent many hours in reviewing the applications. Three applicants were finally selected as finalists from which Justice Clark will personally select his Clerk. They are, in alphabetical order: Robert L. Anderson, Robert H. Bowmar, and Sheldon S. Gilbert.

Each of the applicants is outstanding in his own right, both in his academic record and extracurricular activities.

Brother Robert L. Anderson was born in Kansas City, Missouri. He obtained his A.B. degree from Dartmouth College and entered the University of California at Los Angeles Law School. He is presently a third year student at UCLA, ranking second in his class with a scholastic average of "A". He has received academic honors including the Florence-Virginia K. Wilson Scholarship, Bancroft-Whitney prizes in Torts, Property and Procedure, West Publishing Company's C.J.S. Award, and the West Publishing Company Annual Hornbook student awards. In addition, he is serving as the Editor-in-chief of the UCLA Law Review and serves on the Honor Code Committee.

In addition to his scholastic achievements, Brother Anderson has served as Scholarship Chairman, Rushing Chairman, and Marshal of McKenna Chapter at UCLA.

Brother Anderson is a first lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps, having been on active duty from 1961 to 1963.

Brother Robert H. Bowmar received his undergraduate degree from Boston University, where he was a General Motors scholar, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and graduated summa cum laude in mathematics. He received a teaching fellowship for his first year of graduate work and a national Science Foundation Co-op Fellowship for his second year. At the end of his second year, he received a master's degree in mathematics.

While attending Law School at Northwestern University, he is employed as a part-time instructor in mathematics at Chicago Teachers' College. During the summer months, he teaches full-time. Brother Bowmar has also participated in a pilot research program established to retrain practicing teachers in the "New" math curricula.

At the beginning of his second year at Northwestern Law School, Brother Bowmar was selected to be a fellow of the Russell Sage Foundation. This is a group established to develop means for creating greater mutual understanding among professionals in law and the social sciences, as well as to actively participate in research and discussion of current social ideas. Membership in the Russell Sage foundation entails attendance at bi-weekly seminars with graduate students of Law and the social sciences, as well as with learned professors and community leaders.

In the Law Review competition at Northwestern Law School, Brother Bowmar was chosen Article Editor of the Review. He was also named to the five-man Executive Committee which determines policy and administers the Review's work.

Brother Bowmar ranks seventh in his class. He intends to teach law after he receives his degree.

He is married with two children, both born while attending Law School.

Brother Sheldon S. Gilbert commenced his legal training after sixteen years of experience as an engineer, including twelve years as an employee of the United States government, approximately ten of which were spent in France.

His record at the American University includes receiving the American Jurisprudence Award for highest scholastic achievements in the study of torts, criminal law, legislation, legal methods and research, international law, equity, and legal profession. In addition, he has been awarded a full tuition academic scholarship.

During his first year at the American University, Washington College of Law, he was awarded the American Law Book Company award for achieving the highest scholastic average in his class and the Delta Theta Phi Scholastic Award for the highest scholastic average in

As can be seen by the brief description of the activities and abilities of the three finalists, it is apparent that any one of them, because of their qualifications, will represent Phi Alpha Delta honorably as the Law Clerk for Justice Tom C. Clark.

1965 OUTSTANDING CHAPTER AWARDS TOLD

Selection of the most outstanding chapters in the nation for the year 1965 was made at the Supreme Executive Board meeting recently held in Denver, Colorado. Tabbed as the top chapter in the country was McKenna Chapter at the University of California at Los Angeles. Second place went to Benson Chapter at Washburn University and third place went to Vaught Chapter at Oklahoma City University. Paterson Chapter at Seton Hall University received the Supreme Justice Award for outstanding achievement during its first year of existence.

McKenna Chapter

During the course of the last year, McKenna Chapter at UCLA has engaged in both traditional and new law fraternity activities. From the beginning, it has based its program on the theme of the partnership between the academic and the co-curricular aspects of the student's law training.

McKenna Chapter is the largest legal fraternity on the UCLA campus, boasting 93 actives and 72 pledges for the school year 1964-1965.

Its professional programs have been extensive. During the fall semester, McKenna Chapter emphasized an orientation program for the first year students, which included talks to the first year class by practicing attorneys. In addition, McKenna Chapter sponsored periodic coffee hours which gave students an opportunity to associate with prominent attorneys in the Los Angeles area as well as professors from the Law School.

As can be seen by the number of pledges inducted into McKenna Chapter, the chapter has conducted an extensive rushing program which began with an annual back-to-school barbecue. Of course, the fall orientation program provided a noteworthy rushing tool. Formal rushing was commenced with announcements in the form of personal letters sent to a large number of the first-year class. Enclosed with the letter was a copy of the McKenna Dicta, which is the chapter's monthly newsletter. The chapter then sponsored three informal evenings of beer and pretzels held at members' homes. Scholarship seminars were then commenced by the No. 1 ranking man in the second year class, a member of McKenna Chapter.

The culminating rush event was a semi-formal cocktail dance with wives and dates.

In addition to its value as a rushing tool, the scholastic seminars were also of great assistance to the first year students. In addition to the scholastic seminars, the scholarship program included the sale of outlines as study aids and advisory group counseling. The sale of outlines also was a valuable source of income to McKenna Chapter.

Another fund-raising activity was the book exchange sponsored by McKenna Chapter. The exchange operated a few hours each day during the week prior to the day of orientation for first-year students.

In addition to McKenna Chapter's activities, many of its individuals have served as leaders on the Law School campus. These included George Eskin, President of the Student Bar Association; Dan Simon, Editor-in-Chief of the school newspaper; Mike Gruen, Managing Editor of the school newspaper; Richard Schulenberg, Chairman of the Publications Committee for the Student Directory; Pete Bregman, Chairman of the Law Day events; Jerry Fleishman, representative to the Graduate Student's Association; Arnold York, President of the Graduate Students' Association; Steve Miller, Treasurer of the Student Bar Association; Steve Schneider, member of the Executive Committee who served as Chief Justice of the Moot Court Honors Program; and Ron Leibow, member of the Executive Committee.

McKenna Chapter also sponsored a Moot Court Program with the leadership of Steve Schneider, Jack Goldman, and Gerald Goldstein.

Brother Gary Grimm of McKenna Chapter, served as Chairman of the UCLA Law School's federal criminal indigent defense program. This is a program operated jointly by the Law School and the Los Angeles County Bar Association's Federal Courts Criminal Indigent Defense Committee.

In addition, McKenna Chapter was active on the Law Review, having five members serve on the editorial staff.

Benson Chapter

Benson Chapter at Washburn University of Law was chosen as the second most outstanding chapter in our national competition. Like McKenna, Chapter, Benson Chapter's success is due to the hard work of each of its members who total 74 active members and 39 pledges. Members of Benson Chapter served on the Moot Court team, as Student Bar Association officers, Committee chairmen, Committee members, members of the Law Review staff, student newspaper editors and contributors, as well as many other offices and positions.

Also like McKenna Chapter, Benson Chapter sponsors a freshman orientation program. This program serves the purpose of assisting the freshman in his transition from undergraduate school to the Law School and

McKENNA CHAPTER AT UCLA LAW SCHOOL—1965 MOST OUTSTANDING CHAPTER

3 CHAPTERS INSTALLED IN MASSACHUSETTS

On Saturday, May 8, 1965, a new page was begun in the annals of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity when, at history-making ceremonies held in the George Sherman Union at Boston University, Boston, Massachusetts, three chapters were installed at the same proceedings.

The initiation of the Harold Hitz Burton Chapter at Boston University School of Law, the Felix H. Frankfurter Chapter at Suffolk Law School and the Boston Alumni Chapter, presided over by Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Justice; Robert E. Redding, 2nd Supreme Vice-Justice; Jerome Orensteen, District XI Justice; and Thomas R. Nelipowitz, Martin Greenblatt and Dr. John H. Woodruff all of the Boston Alumni Chapter, constituted the establishment of P.A.D. in the New England Area, previously represented only by Calhoun Chapter at Yale University.

GOVERNOR CHARLES L. TERRY INITIATED

Governor Charles L. Terry of Delaware was recently initiated as an honorary member of our Fraternity during the District XI conclave.

Governor Terry was born in Camden, Delaware, September 17, 1900.

He attended Camden elementary school, the Wilmington Conference Academy, Swarthmore Preparatory School, Swarthmore College, the University of Virginia and the Washington and Lee Law School, where he played both football and baseball.

In 1924 he married Jessica Irby of Beaumont, Texas, and they have a son, Charles L. Terry, III, and two grandchildren, Charles L., IV and Elizabeth.

He was admitted to the Delaware Bar the same year and in 1925 became a partner in the firm of Hughes, Wolcott and Terry.

Mr. Terry became Secretary of State of Delaware in 1937 under the late Governor Richard McMullen. In that capacity he administered the corporation and motor vehicle departments of the state. In 1938 he resigned to become an associate judge of the State of Delaware. He was reappointed in 1950 and in 1957 was named president judge of the Superior Court. He was appointed an associate justice of the Delaware Supreme Court in 1962 and in May, 1963 he became Chief Justice. He resigned from the state's top judicial office on August 19, 1964, the day he was drafted by the Democratic Party to be its candidate for Governor. He was elected to that office on November 3, 1964.

"Judge" Terry, as he is often called by longtime friends and associates, is a trustee of the University of Delaware and an elector of the Hall of Fame for Famous Americans. In 1963 he was awarded the highest civilian honor given by the United States Air Force at a ceremony in Dover.

NEW N.Y. ALUMNI CHAPTER OFFICERS

Recently the new officers of the New York Alumni Chapter were elected. They are: Edward A. Siragusa, Justice; Edward V. Atnally, 1st Vice Justice; Nicholas F. DiZozza, 2nd Vice Justice; Austen D. Canade, 3rd Vice Justice; Arthur Berman, 4th Vice Justice; Peter A. Piscitelli, Treasurer; Andrew L. Sichenze, Clerk; and Nicholas Byron, Marshal.

Following the ceremonies, the newly initiated members and wives met with the initiation team and other dignitaries for a reception and banquet at the Midtown Motor Inn at which Thomas Nelipowitz was Toastmaster. Grace was said by Rev. W. Weth Willard of the Boston Alumni Chapter after which a delicious cuisine was enjoyed by all.

Dr. Magaw spoke of the high purposes and ideals of Phi Alpha Delta and the need for every member of PAD to reaffirm his overriding duty to the community. The Supreme Justice told of the distinguished jurists whose names the new chapters bear. He said that Harold H. Burton (himself a member of PAD) and Felix H. Frankfurter, while of differing backgrounds were alike in many respects while on the Bench. Both comprehended the law as a growing, living thing, and both interpreted the law as they understood it, regardless of any possible unfavorable popular response to their decisions.

Vice-Justice Redding described the newer programs and recent developments within Phi Alpha Delta.

Justice Orensteen welcomed the new chapters into the fold and described District XI of which they are now a part.

The evening ended on a pleasant note with the presentation of charters and an appropriately engraved block and gavel to the Justices of each of the chapters.

L.A. ALUMNI HONOR MATHES

The Los Angeles Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta honored Judge William C. Mathes on his retirement from the United States District Court at a banquet held on Thursday, June 3, 1965, at the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

McKenna Chapter Justice Ron Leibow presented an engraved certificate to Judge Mathes as 1965 winner of the Cal Chapter award to the alumnus who has contributed the most to the Chapter. Others who spoke words of praise on behalf of Judge Mathes were Professor Herb Schwartz of UCLA Law School, Judge John Arguelles, and United States District Judge James Carter.

Harper Is D.C. Executive Secretary

John O. Harper has been appointed Executive Secretary of the Washington Alumni Chapter. Harper maintains law offices in the District of Columbia at 1744 R Street, N. W. In announcing the appointment, Chapter Justice Ronald B. Natalie said "The post of an Executive Secretary is an absolute necessity for the Chapter. There are over 1200 PAD alumni in the Washington Metropolitan area who must be served. In addition, the five area chapters—Brandeis, Cardozo, Darrow, Jay and Taft—have developed a close working relationship with the Alumni chapter. It is vital for both actives and alumni that this joint effort be continued and strengthened. The Alumni Chapter is fortunate indeed that a PAD of the caliber of John Harper will serve as our Executive Secretary."

Harper is engaged in private practice in the District of Columbia and is a past Justice of Brandeis Chapter at American University. He is best known to Washington PAD's as presiding officer at the honorary initiation into Brandeis Chapter of then Supreme Court Justice—and now UN Ambassador—Arthur Goldberg. Harper is a graduate of Dartmouth College and served six years in the Navy before entering the Bar. Like many PAD's in the area, John attended law school at night while he worked in the day. Despite this crowded schedule, he served as Brandeis Chapter Justice, engaged in student activities as class president and American Law Student Association delegate and carried a B average throughout law school.

Natalie stated that Harper's term would run for two years, until June 30, 1967. At the end of the Chapter's current fiscal year on June 30, 1966, the Executive Committee will determine whether the post should be salaried. Natalie also expressed the hope that the existence of an Executive Secretary would enable the Chapter to introduce some innovations in the fraternity's goal of service to the profession. "My predecessor as Justice of the Alumni Chapter, Associate Tribune Don Moore, has proposed that the Alumni Chapter embark in a new service area by working with the organized bar to advance the profession. I hope that John Harper can devote time to this program and can build up a good rapport with the local bar associations. We plan to document carefully our efforts in this matter in the hope that, if they are successful, other alumni chapters may find our experience of use."

DAVID HART DIES

Brother David Aiken Hart, Sr., senior partner of the law firm of Hart, Moss & Tavenner, recently passed away.

Prior to entering private practice, Brother Hart served as Assistant United States District Attorney for the District of Columbia for twenty years. During his twenty years with the government, he tried more jury cases than any other prosecutor.

As a government lawyer, he was in charge of liquor and gambling cases during prohibition.

Brother Hart graduated from Georgetown University Law School in 1914, and during his senior year was Justice of Taft Chapter.

He joined the United States Army in 1917 and served overseas for twenty-six months. He was discharged a captain.

HARDY CHAPTER SEES GREAT YEAR

Hardy Chapter, University of Tulsa, is undoubtedly the leader among the three fraternities at Tulsa University School of Law. All of the editors-in-chief of the law journal, including the two for this year, J. C. Joyce and Leigh Taylor, have been or are currently active PAD members. Hardy Chapter is proud that its membership included the outstanding freshman, junior, and senior in the law school last year; Casey Cooper, Leigh Taylor, and John Jarboe, respectively. Two PAD members, John Jarboe and Rick Loewenherz, were the only two students selected for membership in the Order of the Curule Chair, a senior honor society for outstanding students.

Hardy Chapter is continuing forward again this year. All of the officers of the Student Bar Association are PADs; Tom Mason, President; Tom Coffman, Vice President; Dwayne Pollard, Secretary; and John Paul Jones, Treasurer. The Chapter plans to continue the luncheon-speaker programs which proved so successful last year. The remodeling of the chapter room should be completed before long.

The Chapter sees a great year under the able leadership of Jim Goodpaster, Justice; Tom Coffman, Vice Justice; Joe McCormick, Clerk; and John Paul Jones, Treasurer; with very helpful assistance from Ray Judice, District Justice of new District VII.

Scott Speaks At District VII Conclave

Brother Charles C. Scott was the keynote speaker at the recent District VII Conclave held in Kansas City, Missouri.

Brother Scott, nationally known handwriting and typewriting identification expert, is a lawyer and legal author and the leading authority today on the use of photographs as evidence in courts of law. Scott is not just a theorist but a practical man as well, for as an examiner of questioned documents, using large photographic exhibits to illustrate the reasons for his opinions, Scott testifies in courts all over the nation as an authority on the authenticity of questioned documents. He is one of the very few nationally acknowledged experts in this fascinating field. When time permits Scott also conducts seminars on photographic evidence for bar associations, law schools, and law enforcement agencies throughout the United States.

Always interested in photography and an experienced photographer himself, while in law school over twenty years ago Scott observed that lawyers were not making sufficient use of photographs as evidence and often were unable to determine whether or not a picture was a good reproduction of its subject. Scott decided that something should be done about it and he wrote many law review articles on the subject and gradually developed an extensive knowledge of the whys and wherefores of photographic evidence.

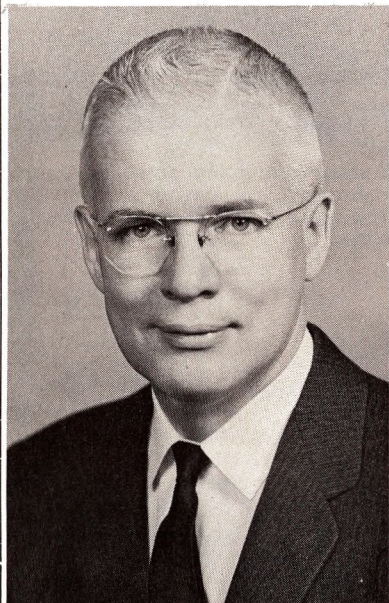

In 1942 the Vernon Law Book Company and the West Publishing Company published Scott's monumental work, "Photographic Evidence." Molded from the white heat of experience the book soon became the standard work on the subject. In 1955 Scott added a 225-page supplement to the book to bring it up-to-date. Because the book discusses photography scientifically as well as legally it is helpful to lawyers everywhere and is in use not only in the United States and Canada, but also in many foreign countries. The book is cited and quoted frequently as an authority in the opinions of the appellate courts. Mystery story writers often use "Photographic Evidence" as a source book and such writers as Erle Stanley Gardner often cite the book and its author by name in their novels.

Although maintaining his interest in and study of the subject of photographic evidence generally, Scott now specializes in the examination of questioned documents which involves the identification of handwriting, typewriting, ink, and paper by photographic and other scientific processes. Scott's office in downtown Kansas City is jammed with the photographic, microscopic, and chemical apparatus needed in his work. He calls it his "submarine laboratory" because of the efficient use of the space to contain so many complicated tools of the business, some of which were designed and perfected by Scott.

In addition to his laboratory Scott maintains an extensive library of books on forgery and crime detection and a comprehensive collection of handwriting specimens taken from his solved cases. He also has a complete file of specimens of the work of all makes of typewriters dating back to the invention of the machine and showing the differences in the design of all type faces and the dates of changes in type design. With the aid of this file it is possible for Scott to determine the make, model and age of a typewriter used in writing a questioned document — an anonymous letter, for example.

Photographic evidence is now offered as a course at the University of Missouri at Kansas City Law School with Scott as teacher. The course is particularly popular with graduate students — lawyers who come back to take this course which was not offered when they were in law school.

Scott advocates a course on photographic evidence in every law school in the country. Until that goal can be achieved he is pioneering by conducting short courses on the subject at many meetings. In doing this he condenses the full semester course he teaches at the University of Missouri at Kansas City into a three-hour seminar with never a dull moment. The lawyers are shown how to get the most accurate photographs for their won cases and how to determine whether or not photographs offered by their opponents are accurate reproductions. Armed with many striking illustrations, Scott holds the undivided attention of his audiences for the entire session. He uses color slides and large photographic exhibits to demonstrate his points.

While in law school, Scott founded the University of Kansas City Law Review and was its editor-in-chief from 1932 to 1937 and is now Chairman of its Advisory Editorial Board. In 1948 the Review published Scott's 70 page monograph, "Recent Questioned Document Law." In addition to this and numerous other articles in the Kansas City Law Review, Scott is the author of articles in the Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology, Michigan Law Review, American Photography, American Annual of Photography, and Blashfield's Encyclopedia of Automobile Law.

COMPOSER OF PAD SONG DIES

"In our hearts we'll always cherish memories of thee," wrote Brother Frank R. Hurlbutt of Phi Alpha Delta in his composition of our song, "Phi Alpha Delta."

These words could equally apply to the sentiments of Phi Alpha Delta toward this man who contributed so much to PAD.

The song was composed by Brother Hurlbutt, a charter member of Calhoun Chapter while he was attending Yale Law School in 1909. He submitted this song in response to a nationwide competition to obtain a fraternity song. "Phi Alpha Delta" has remained our fraternity song since that time.

In 1956, Brother Hurlbutt was instrumental in obtaining the recording of our song by the Cities Service Quartet. It was distributed nationally and is still available.

Brother Hurlbutt was a charter member of Calhoun chapter, a member of the New York Bar Association, as well as the West Virginia Bar Association and the Connecticut Bar Association.

Acheson Gets New Post

President Johnson recently appointed Brother David C. Acheson to the new office of Special Assistant For Enforcement to the Secretary of the Treasury. Brother Acheson is an alumnus member of Taft Chapter.

The post to which he was recently appointed was created at Johnson's request in keeping with his stated desire to increase law enforcement efforts by federal agencies.

In his new position, Brother Acheson will supervise and coordinate all Treasury law enforcement activities which are the most extensive in the federal government.

He will have direct supervision over the Secret Service and the Bureau of Narcotics. He will also coordinate all enforcement activities of the Treasury and provide policy and technical guidance for enforcement activities of the Bureau of Customs, United States Coast Guard, and Internal Revenue Service.

Acheson, of the age of 43, has resigned as U. S. Attorney for the District of Columbia to take this position.

Creation of the Treasury post is in line with the President's message to Congress of last spring establishing the National Commission on Law Enforcement.

In that message, Johnson called upon the Attorney General, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and the Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity in determining how the state and local enforcement can be improved, how the federal government can best assist state and local enforcement, how first offenders can be prevented from making a career in crime, and how public respect for law and law enforcement officers can be increased.

Brother Acheson is the son of former Secretary of State Dean Acheson. He is married and has three children.

He was appointed by the late President John F. Kennedy to become the District's Chief Prosecutor in 1961.

During World War II, Brother Acheson served in the Navy in the Pacific after graduation from Yale University, seeing action in the Solomon Islands, New Guinea and the Philippines.

After the war, he graduated from Harvard Law School and served in the office of the General Counsel of the Atomic Energy Commission for a year before joining the Washington law firm of Covington & Burling.

SANCHEZ NAMED COUNTY JUDGE

Brother Sanchez was initiated by Hughes Chapter on November 23, 1949.

Appointments to the County Court bench are made by the Mayor after he receives recommendations from the County Court Judicial Commission established by the citizens of Denver in a City charter amendment adopted last November.

Judge Sanchez, a law graduate of the University of Denver, served as a Deputy District Attorney from 1952 until 1959 when he was appointed to the court by former Mayor Nicholson.

The awards were presented by Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Oregon, Honorable Gordon L. Sloan, at a luncheon meeting.

During the luncheon, Brother Grimm, Chapter Justice, disclosed the names of the recipients of the Charles G. Howard Trust Fund for 1965. This fund provides financial grants to needy students of approximately $1500 per year.

Justice Sloan, a member of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, was the guest speaker at the luncheon. He discussed the significant role a law fraternity plays in preparing law students for the responsibility they must assume as attorneys and judges. He expressed satisfaction that many law schools are placing great emphasis on the legal writing habits of law students and pointed out that many Courts are tending to rely more and more on the opinions of law textbook writers and Law Review articles.

The banquet proved to be a very timely and inspiring event for the Phi Alpha Delta members of Minnesota. Deserving special comment was the turnout of the newly graduated brothers from both Butler Chapter and Mitchell Chapter.

HOME OF PAD JEWELRY

L. G. Balfour Company, the home of Phi Alpha Delta jewelry, has experienced tremendous growth in recent years.

Over the last twelve years, the nation's biggest jewelry maker has doubled its plant capacity and employment and currently claims to have more gold in its bulging vaults than any other place in the United States, with the exception, of course, of Fort Knox.

According to its President, C. Robert Yeager, there is plenty of the yellow metal to be found under the floorboards, also. In fact, the last time Mr. Yeager decided to replace a floor in one of Balfour's two Attleboro plants, the company made $38,000 over and above the replacement costs. This occurred in 1955 and the gold dust has been piling up for years despite huge vacuum devices which were installed by management to help retrieve the precious particles from the air.

While the vacuum machines have cleared the air to some extent, Balfour's some 2,000 employees can't help but walk off with a fraction of one per cent of the gold (in dust on their clothing), which is purchased from the United States Treasury Department.

Mr. Yeager estimates that the company's gold holdings range from six to seven million dollars a year, including some in finished inventory.

L. G. Balfour Company was founded on Friday the 13th, 1913 by Lloyd G. Balfour, the exclusive owner who, at 81, serves as Chairman of the Board.

Mr. Balfour, also a native Kentuckian, located in Attleboro because of the community's well-deserved reputation as the jewelry making center of the country.

Growing by leaps and bounds, the company last year had sales of about thirty million dollars, an increase of 12 to 15 per cent over 1963. Mr. Balfour estimates that Balfour sold approximately one million class and other rings to high schools and colleges, baseball and football teams and the nation's top military schools.

Balfour and Company was originally known as a fraternity badge specialist, but today is a top producer of class rings, awards and promotional jewelry for business organizational insignia and sports awards.

Under Mr. Yeager's direction, the company designed and produced the Boston Medal for distinguished achievement and jointly with the 2400-member A.I.M. donated the first batch to the city.

Our fraternity has used L. G. Balfour Company as its sole official jeweler since February 1, 1924.

STEINBERG JAYCEE OF YEAR

Brother Paul B. Steinberg, alumnus member of Brewer Chapter, was recently awarded the Jaycee of The Year Award for his outstanding work as a member of the Miami Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce. This was one of the few times, in forty years, that a first-year member ever received this, the highest award the Jaycees can give a fellow member.

Present at the banquet was the Honorable Fuller Warren, former governor of the State of Florida. Brother Steinberg was the chairman of the Dinner Committee and served as toastmaster.

At the banquet many new friends were made for the fraternity. A "majority" of the State Supreme Court were in attendance, Judge Miles Lord, Mayor Naftalin, and his lovely wife.

Brothers Tony DiGrazia, Past Supreme Justice, and Chuck Falkenberg, Justice of the new District VIII, were also in attendance. District Judge Falkenberg assisted in the installation ceremony and made the closing remarks at the affair.

Dean Heidenreich of William Mitchell College of Law and Dean Lockhart of the University of Minnesota College of Law were also in attendance.

Also in attendance to make the event a truly outstanding one was Justice Tom C. Clark of the United States Supreme Court. He was met at the airport by Oscar R. Knutson, Chief Justice of the Minnesota State Supreme Court, and Theodore B. Knutson, State District Judge. A brief press conference was held at the airport, followed by a press conference at the Minneapolis Club. All of the local television and radio stations were represented, as well as the major newspapers, at the press conference.

Justice Tom Clark, Supreme Vice Justice of our fraternity, served as initiating officer. Following the initiation, Justice Clark spoke on "Effective Administration of Justice."

BOARD MEETING

Second Supreme Vice Justice Bob Redding proposed to the Board that the matter of obtaining discounts on office equipment and similar items utilized by attorneys be considered as a service to the alumni members of our Fraternity. The Supreme Board requested Brother Redding to continue his investigation of this matter.

In reference to honorary memberships, the Supreme Executive Board determined to initiate a Constitutional amendment which would allow the Board to initiate the proceedings for the sponsorship of honorary memberships on its own motion rather than only on the motion of an active chapter.

The winners of the 1965 Outstanding Chapter competition were decided. McKenna Chapter received first place honors, while Second Place went to Benson Chapter at Washburn University, and Third Place to Vaught Chapter at Oklahoma City University. The Supreme Justice Award was given to Paterson Chapter at Seton Hall University for its outstanding achievements during its first year of existence.

The Supreme Marshal was instructed to purchase robes and fraternity emblems for all members of the Supreme Executive Board, the Supreme Tribunal, and for all the District Justices.

The Succession Committee gave its report to the Supreme Executive Board. Its recommendation that the number of members of the Supreme Executive Board should be maintained at seven was adopted. It was determined that the National Convention should continue to elect individual officers rather than members of the Board as a group. It was further determined to recommend to the 1966 Convention that the office of Supreme Justice-Elect be created and that such officer shall succeed to the office of Supreme Justice upon expiration of his term or sooner, in the event of death or resignation of the Supreme Justice. It will also be recommended to the 1966 convention that the members of the Supreme Executive Board to be elected at the Biennial Convention shall be designated as the Supreme Justice, Supreme Justice-Elect, Supreme Advocate, Supreme Secretary, Supreme Treasurer, Supreme Historian and Supreme Marshal.

It will also be recommended to the 1966 Convention that the length of term of the Supreme Justice shall be one full 2-year term plus any unexpired term previously served in that office, and that the length of the term of the Supreme Justice-Elect shall be limited to one full 2-year term.

A further amendment to the National Constitution and By-Laws will be recommended which shall provide that no person may serve more than eight consecutive years as a member of the Supreme Executive Board unless he be elected to the office of Supreme Justice-Elect, in which event he may serve four additional years as a member of the Supreme Executive Board.

Many other decisions were made by the Supreme Board, including determining that a supplement to the 1965 Directory shall be published in the summer of 1967, directing the Executive Secretary to order banquet place cards with the crest of the Fraternity thereon in gold, determining to make the Meetings and Social Activities Guide a part of the PAD "Tool Kit" for all members of the Board and District Justices, directing the Supreme Historian to prepare a Fraternity history, adopting the budget for the fiscal year August 1, 1965 through July 31, 1966, adopting the budget for all District Justices for the fiscal year, August 1965 through July 31, 1966, and selecting Past Supreme Justice Alfred P. Murrah, Supreme Justice Elden S. Magaw and Executive Secretary Fredrick J. Weitkamp to be the delegates to the 1966 Professional Interfraternity Conference.

Magaw Addresses Joint Conclave

"We lawyers must stand before the country not as ineffectual idealists, but as tough crusaders committed to the job of making this republic tick under a Constitution of which we should be passionately proud."

This admonition was given by Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Justice of our fraternity and Assistant Dean of the Temple University Law School, at a luncheon of Districts V and X of the fraternity during their annual conclave at Sheraton Motor Inn last spring.

"The task to which we must dedicate ourselves, our intellects, our energies, is how to preserve, against ever mounting odds, a government of laws, not of men, a native philosophy strong enough to defeat subversion from within, tyranny from without," he declared.

"IF FREEDOM, religion and a sound system of administering justice are to be preserved as the heritage of America, we lawyers must dedicate ourselves to their preservation and everlastingly work at the job."

Dr. Magaw said the leadership should come from the lawyers of the nation, but until it appears we will continue to stand in mortal danger, "not because we lack the instruments of survival, but because we have lost a sustaining faith in our heritage of freedom."

After detailing the history of Phi Alpha Delta, Dr. Magaw closed his remarks by declaring that "it must always be the policy of Phi Alpha Delta, and each of its active chapters, to insist upon the highest moral standards from its pledges and its active membership, just as it must be the obligation of each alumnus to maintain his moral integrity and to be a leader in insisting that the highest quality of moral conduct shall be the standard of his bar association."

The two-day conclave of Districts V and X was attended by delegates from thirteen law schools of colleges and universities in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee.

In attendance at the two-day joint conclave was Thomas E. Powell of Birmingham, Alabama; Edwin L. Hardin, Jr., Justice of Morgan Chapter; Dean Frank Maloney, Justice of the new District XV; and T. Julian Skinner, Jr., Supreme Historian.

Francis H. Hare, Birmingham attorney and former Dean of the International Academy of Trial Lawyers, was the speaker at the annual banquet Saturday evening at the Relay House.

PHI ALPHA DELTA is a member of the Professional Interfraternity Conference, which Conference advocates and encourages high scholarship, professional research, advancement of professional ethics, and the promotion of a spirit of comity among the professional fraternities in the advancement of fraternity ideals.
