Adams Chapter Installed

The John Adams Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta was installed at Indiana University in Bloomington, Indiana on February 26, 1966, thus creating the 105th Chapter of our Fraternity.

Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Justice, conducted the ceremonies in the Superior Court Room of the Monroe County Court House. Dr. Magaw was assisted by the Hon. C. Raymond Judice, Assistant to the Supreme Justice; Charles V. Falkenberg, Jr., District VIII Justice; Ken Segal, District IX Justice; Allen Sultan, professor at the Indiana University School of Law; and Mr. Ralph Hamill and Mr. Roscoe E. Stovall of the Indianapolis Alumni Chapter.

The Adams Chapter was installed with thirty-three active members and a forty-eight member spring pledge class. The chartering officers are: Thomas L. Schuessler, Justice; Larry R. Fisher, Vice Justice; Kent Musser, Clerk; John Whitmore, Treasurer; and William Snyder, Marshal.

Following the ceremonies, the newly initiated members and the installing team met for a reception and banquet at the Parker House Motel. Here the new members were able to meet the installing officers in an informal atmosphere and learned what it means to be a Phi Alpha Delta member. Dr. Magaw spoke to the members on the professional aspects of membership in Phi Alpha Delta. Justice Falkenberg welcomed the new chapter into District VII. Other dignitaries spoke on the various activities of the Alumni Chapters.

After several months of hard work thirty-three young men finally saw their goal realized as Dr. Elden S. Magaw conducted the installation ceremonies of the John Adams Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity. In September, Judge C. Raymond Judice confronted them with the possibility of forming a chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity at one of our nation's fine legal institutions. Judge Judice helped them achieve the status necessary for induction into the great national organization and took a part in the final installation proceedings.

Already the Adams Chapter is reaping the benefits of being a part of Phi Alpha Delta. They have received over fifty cards, letters, and telegrams of welcome from chapters, Justices, and alumni from all over the country. Offers of help have come from all over and have been greatly appreciated.

The new members have found that the Phi Alpha Delta motto is an excellent statement of the policy by which the Adams chapter is governed. They want to, in some way, provide "Service to the Student, Service to the Law School, and Service to the Profession." With only a week of existence experienced, they found a need for adequate instruction in how to use a law library properly and the members of the colony gathered to compile information in a library guide and made this available to all freshman law students here at Indiana. They plan to distribute such a guide each year which will show the law student how to research a project with ease. In the planning stages is a Freshman Guide to the Law School. In this they hope to include vital facts to make the change from undergraduate school to professional studies an easy and rewarding one.

When the bookstores were unable to have enough books for the Remedies course, the Chapter procured a large number of copies from students who had previously taken the course and had them placed on reserve in the library for the use of those who were unable to purchase copies for themselves. They have also set up a series of review sessions for the freshman courses offered this semester. These review sessions provide a place where unanswered problems find their solutions and have greatly helped in the understanding of the offered courses. Any group study, supplementary to classroom work, they feel is a benefit to the student.

Whenever a conference regarding the profession is held in the area, the Adams Chapter sends representatives.

Their major fear in the formation of the Adams Chapter was

Alex Hotchkiss Alumni Chapter Announced

Brother Alex Hotchkiss, Judge of Osage County District Court and Supreme Marshal of our Fraternity, was recently honored by the Alumni Chapter in Topeka when the chapter announced that it would heretofore be known as the "Alex Hotchkiss Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity."

The announcement was made at an affair sponsored by Benson Chapter at Washburn College during which Brother Hotchkiss was further honored for "Years of dedicated service to aspiring lawyers." Brother Hotchkiss, a charter member of Benson Chapter, was cited for his instruction and preparation of fraternity members for the State Bar Examination during the last 15 years.

Brother Don Hutson, District Justice of District VI, was present to present Benson Chapter with the award for second place in the national competition for the best Phi Alpha Delta Chapter in the nation.

Following the presentation a Founders Day address was given by Dr. Kenneth McFarland, Educational Director for General Motors Corporation.

Burton Memorial Dedication

On Monday, February 14, 1966, the Burton Memorial at Western Reserve University School of Law was formally dedicated by the officers and members of Hay Chapter, Cleveland Alumni Chapter and Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity.

The formal dedication ceremonies were held in the Moot Courtroom of Western Reserve University. Our Supreme Justice, Dr. Elden S. Magaw, and our Supreme Vice Justice, Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, were both present for the ceremonies, having flown in that morning and having had a police escort from the airport to the law school. In addition, Mrs. Harold H. (Selma) Burton, the widow of Brother Harold H. Burton, was present to acknowledge the memorial on behalf of her late husband.

The dedication began with introductions by Oliver Schroeder, Dean of Western Reserve University School of Law. In addition Dean Schroeder presented a biographical sketch of the life of Brother Burton as a Cleveland Mayor, United States Senator, United States Supreme Court Justice, gentleman, citizen, Western Reserve Law School teacher, and family man.

Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Justice, then presented the keys to the Burton Memorial Display Cabinet to the President of Western Reserve University, Dr. John S. Millis.

On behalf of the late Justice, Mrs. Burton expressed her gratitude to the members of Hay Chapter, the Cleveland Alumni Chapter, and Phi Alpha Delta for the "tribute to her late husband." Mrs. Burton then told those assembled of the interest her late husband had in Phi Alpha Delta and how much his membership in our fraternity meant to him. Mrs. Burton's remarks were received with a standing ovation that lasted for more than 2 minutes.

Following the formal dedication a luncheon was arranged in the new Crystal Room of the Pick-Carter Hotel in Cleveland. Those at the head table included: Marvin Laronge, Western Reserve University Law School Alumni President; Morris Berick, Cleveland Bar Association President; Elmer Schwartz, Cuyahoga Bar Association President; Bronis Klementowicz, Law Director for the city of Cleveland and Special Representative for Mayor Locher; Mayor Robert Lawther, Mayor of Lakewood; Frank P. Celeste, former Mayor and representative of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter; Larry Turner, Chairman of the Burton Memorial; Bernard Niehaus, Justice of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter; William Spring, Justice of Hay Chapter; and Oliver Schroeder, Dean of Western Reserve University School of Law.

Supreme Justice, Dr. Elden S. Magaw, introduced Justice Tom C. Clark, who was the main speaker at the luncheon. Brother Justice Clark talked about Brother Burton's integrity, honesty, hard work and devotion to everything he did whether in a political arena or at the Court or with his family and friends. Brother Justice Clark also recalled the 1956 National Convention in Cleveland when Brother Burton was the main speaker.

A lasting memorial honoring the late Harold H. Burton, Past Justice of the United States Supreme Court and loyal member of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, has been established by his Brothers at Western Reserve University School of Law in the form of a display case located in the school lobby.

Make Plans for the 36th Biennial Convention Aug. 31 - Sept. 3, 1966

Kansas City has opened its arms in welcome and plans are almost completed for our 36th Biennial Convention on August 31, 1966 through September 3, 1966. The headquarters hotel will be the Muehlebach which is one of the finest hotels in Kansas City and is located in the center of town with easy access to a variety of activities.

The members of the Executive Board will arrive three days in advance of the Convention in order to resolve the administrative affairs of our fraternity.

The District Justices will arrive on Monday so that they will be ready to participate in discussions with our national officers on Tuesday concerning the activities in their respective districts.

Delegates will begin arriving on Tuesday and will meet each other at a reception in the hotel that evening. Everyone will enjoy singing fraternity songs and exchanging fraternal experiences.

The convention will officially begin Wednesday morning with the opening session. Following a full day of work everyone will enjoy a western barbeque in Swope Park and tickets will be available free of charge for an outstanding performance in the Starlight Theater.

The delegates will resume business in general session and in committee on Thursday and that evening there will be a dance and a midnight buffet dinner. The Kansas City Alumni have promised a bevy of beautiful Missouri girls for those wishing dates.

The convention in assembly will listen to reports from committees on Friday morning and that afternoon individual chapter consultations will be conducted with delegates and national officers. There are no planned activities for Friday evening so everyone can choose his own activity or just relax.

Each of our districts will host a breakfast on Saturday morning prior to the convention session. In session the delegates will listen to a talk on the "Bread and Butter" aspects of the practice of law. Following the election of officers the convention will formally adjourn and the delegates, their wives and dates, will enjoy a Convention Banquet before returning to their homes throughout the country.

Of course, the wives of the delegates have not been forgotten. There are many activities planned for the women while their husbands are on the convention floor, including a tour of Nelson Gallery of Art, trip to Fort Osage, Fashion Show Luncheon, attending a radio broadcast, tour of the Truman Library and the Swope Park Zoo, as well as various other luncheons. There will be no charge for any of these activities, so plan to bring your wife.

We are looking forward to seeing you in Kansas City, for the best Convention Phi Alpha Delta has ever experienced. More information will be sent to each chapter as convention time approaches.

Message From The Supreme Justice

On November 18, 1965, I left for the Twin Cities for a visit to Butler Chapter at William Mitchell College of Law and Mitchell Chapter at the University of Minnesota Law School.

The Justice of Butler Chapter, Gene Ouradnik, had arranged a very nice luncheon at the press club where I had the opportunity to meet with a number of the members. Following the luncheon Brother Heidenreich, Dean of the Law School, took me to the School for a nice visit and the opportunity to meet faculty members.

In the evening I had dinner with Assistant Dean David Grabb, the officers of Mitchell Chapter, and a number of other students. The following morning I visited the Law School of the University of Minnesota where I was cordially received by Dean Lockhart. I also had a very pleasant visit with Dean John G. O'Brien, who has been advisor to the Chapter, and Dean Grabb. The Chapter is under the leadership of Justice Garrett Mulrooney and can be expected to develop a real professional program of value to its members.

It was also my pleasure to have a chat with Ron Wills, a recent graduate of William Mitchell School of Law, a member and past Justice of Butler Chapter. He is a most interested and capable person and will be very valuable as a member of the Alumni Chapter.

In the late afternoon I left for Seattle and was cordially welcomed by David Gannett, former Justice of Dunbar Chapter at the University of Washington Law School. He is now practicing law in the office of Associate Tribune George Nickell.

The first item of business was attendance with George at the Washington - Washington State football classic, a rare opportunity and one I greatly appreciated. In the evening I attended a reception in the lovely home of George's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd MacRea. In attendance were members of Dunbar Chapter; alumni, including Professor Harry Cross and the Administrator for the Courts, Albert C. Bise, both of whom are loyal and devoted members of our Fraternity. I am, indeed, grateful for the warm hospitality extended to me so graciously by the MacReas.

Sunday I had brunch with George atop the famous Space Needle from which, in the revolving restaurant, a panoramic view of the city is seen within an hour. The afternoon was spent in sightseeing under the excellent guidance of the Associate Tribune.

On Monday I visited the Law School, paid my respects to Dean Tunks, then met with the members of the Chapter, a splendid group which I expect to develop into one of the best chapters under the excellent leadership of Justice John Marple and Vice Justice Wolfgang Anderson. John showed me some points of interest on the campus after which we went to his home where I met his lovely life. We then had dinner at the Black Angus, then proceeded to the airport where I left for Eugene, Oregon, and the University, with the most pleasant of memories.

To greet me on my arrival was the Justice of Williams Chapter, Robert Naslund and two of the officers; Tuesday noon I attended the weekly luncheon of the Lan County Bar where I had the opportunity to meet a number of the alumni. Following the luncheon, I was given a tour of the campus which was a very pleasant experience. I also had a very pleasant visit with Dean Hollis

Know Your District Justices

Since the District Justices were introduced in the December, 1964 issue of the Reporter there have been a number of changes necessitated by death, re-districting, changes of residences and resignation.

Now our fraternity is divided into fifteen instead of twelve districts. As before in each district an alumnus member of our Fraternity has accepted the position of District Justice. This position is formed to provide assistance to the Chapters in each district. His job is also to insure that there is complete communication between the fraternity nationally and the individual Chapters.

There have been five new district justices appointed since the December, 1964 issue of the Reporter.

The following is a short biography of each of the new District Justices:

DISTRICT I

The fraternity recently lost one of its most active alumni members when Joseph A. Holleman District I Justice, passed away on August 29, 1965.

Since this time Brother Joe A. Zimmerman, Jr. has been appointed as new district justice for District I.

Brother Zimmerman was born in Seattle, Washington in 1939 and graduated from Seattle Preparatory High School in 1956. He then attended the University of Arizona where he studied in their business college for four years, obtaining a Bachelor of Science Degree with a Major in Life Insurance. Joe then returned to Seattle where he attended the University of Washington in the School of Law and was a member of Dunbar Chapter.

Brother Zimmerman was admitted to the Washington State Bar in September of 1963 and worked for the Olympic National Life Insurance Company until he was ordered to active duty as an officer in the Army in November of 1963. Joe was honorably separated from active duty in November of 1965 with the rank of captain which he still retains in the reserves.

Brother Zimmerman is now assistant General Counsel for the Olympic National Life Insurance Company and is acting as Corporate Secretary of the organization.

ROSS C. TISDALE
DISTRICT V.

The new District V encompasses North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin, while prior to the reorganization of districts, District V encompassed Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee. The new District Justice for District V is Professor Ross C. Tisdale, Professor of Law at the University of North Dakota.

Brother Tisdale was born in St. Thomas, North Dakota in 1905 and obtained his LL.B. Degree and BSC Degree from the University of North Dakota. He was also a Graduate Fellow at the University of Chicago.

Ross joined the faculty of the University of North Dakota in 1933 as an instructor in Law and became a full professor in 1947. He has now completed 33 years in his profession.

Brother Tisdale is married and has three sons: Terrance Charles who is practicing medicine in Washington; Phillip John and Robbin Grant who are both students at the University of North Dakota.

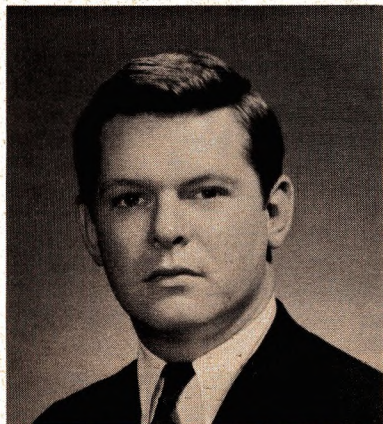

District V Justice's interests include golf, bowling, fishing, and camping in addition to writing articles for the North Dakota Law Review and being active in the North Dakota Bar Association.

Professor Tisdale specializes in commercial law and has taken an active part in the continuing legal education program at North Dakota on the uniform commercial code.

His activities at the University of North Dakota include Chairman of Scholarship and Loan Committee, Member of the Law School Student Relations Committee, Director and Treasurer of the University of North Dakota Law School Foundation, Law School Student Loan Officer and Faculty Advisor for Corliss Chapter.

The District Justice's wife, actively participates with the Law Wives and PAD wives and renders advice and assistance upon request.

JOSEPH D. HARKINS
DISTRICT X

District X encompasses Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama and is very similar to the prior District V. Brother Thomas E. Powell was formerly justice of District V however his business required that he leave the District.

Therefore Brother Joseph D. Harkins was chosen as District Justice for the new District X.

Brother Harkins was born in Prestonburg, Kentucky and graduated from Kentucky Military Institute located in Lyndon, Kentucky. He attended the University of Kentucky as an undergraduate and was a member of Kappa Alpha social fraternity. In addition, he was the vice-president of Phi Sigma Alpha, National Political Science honorary fraternity; a member of the Young Democrats and a member of the Inter-Fraternity Conference.

Joe graduated from the University of Kentucky College of Law in 1965. While in Law School he was a member of the Student Bar Association, Secretary of the McReynolds Law Club; member of the Moot Court Board; Law School Representative to Student Congress and received the Kentucky Bar Association Legal Ethics Award.

In addition, Brother Harkins served as Justice of Henry Clay Chapter at the University of Kentucky.

The District Justice is married and has two children, Joseph D. Harkins, IV, and John Robinson Harkins.

He is a member of the Kentucky and American Bar Associations.

JAMES H. KENDALL, II

DISTRICT XI

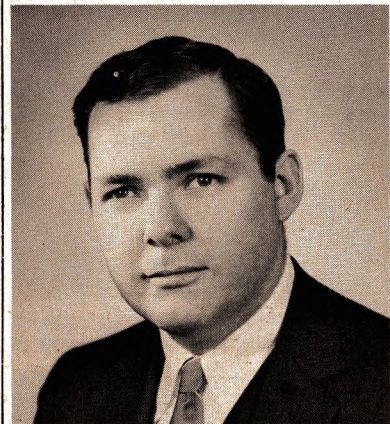

District XI encompasses the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York, excluding New York City. The District Justice appointed for this area is James H. Kendall, II, who is presently the assistant Dean and Assistant Professor at Boston School of Law where one of our newest Chapters, Harold H. Burton Chapter is located.

District Justice Kendall obtained his LL.B. Degree from Boston University in 1962, graduating cum laude, and having served as Editor-in-Chief of the Law Review. Brother Kendall received the Ordronau Prize as being the outstanding member of the graduating class.

He obtained his A.B. Degree from Harvard in 1948 having majored in History.

In addition to his duties as Assistant Dean and Assistant Professor at Boston University School of Law, Professor Kendall is also director of the First Year Seminar Program, advisor of the Student Bar Association, Director of the Placement Service, and Director of the Pre-Law Student Relations Program, which includes conducting interviews of students at 25 to 30 colleges per year.

DAN D. HALPIN
DISTRICT XIII

District XIII consists of Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland and the District of Columbia. Dan D. Halpin has been chosen as the District Justice for this area.

Brother Halpin was born in New York City in 1937 and attended the University of Notre Dame as an undergraduate and received his Bachelor of Science Degree from Seton Hall University.

After a brief tour of duty with the U. S. Army during which he received several awards and citations for leadership, Brother Halpin enrolled in the American University and became a member of the newly created Brandeis Chapter. While a member of Brandeis Chapter he served in the position of Clerk.

He is presently an attorney on the staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission having received a J. D. Degree from the American University.

Dan's interests include membership in the National Manuscript Society, the Washington area Numismatic Society, and the National Rifle Association of America. He is a Director and Vice President of the Securities and Exchange Commission Federal Credit Union and a member of the Washington PAD Alumni Chapter.

District VII Holds First Conclave in Houston

On December 11, 1965 the new District VII held its first annual conclave in Houston, Texas.

Of the eight active Chapters in District VII, R.E.B. Baylor Chapter, Baylor University, Tom C. Clark Chapter, Texas University; E. D. White Chapter, Louisiana State University; F. X. Martin, Tulane University; C. A. O'Neill, Loyola University; J. E. Hickman, University of Houston; and Samuel Houston, South Texas College of Law, were represented. Only Roger Taney Chapter of Southern Methodist University was not represented. Also representatives of the New Orleans Alumni Chapter and the Houston Alumni were present.

The conclave opened with a breakfast at 8:30 on Saturday morning. Brother Dee Brown Walker, the Supreme Treasurer, was unable to attend the conclave because of illness and therefore the breakfast address was delivered by District Justice C. Raymond Judice, Assistant to the Supreme Justice. Brother Judice spoke on the history of Phi Alpha Delta, its proper role in the law school, and its potential value to the law student and the practicing attorney members. Brother Jerry Parker of Samuel Houston Chapter welcomed all delegates and awarded the PAD breakfast door prize.

Following the breakfast the conclave was called to order by Brother Rusty Duncan, Justice of Hickman Chapter and District Student Co-Justice. The morning session was devoted exclusively to workshops and the discussions were extremely informative. Workshop assignments had been delegated to the individual Chapters six weeks prior to the conclave and all Chapters present presented very informative reports.

White and Hickman Chapters led the workshop on Chapter Rushing. This workshop proved to be the most dynamic of all. Much information was exchanged between Chapters on effective rushing techniques. Several Chapters requested and received advice on how to improve rushing in specific areas at their school. This exchange of actual experience should prove to be of great value to the individual Chapters in their future rushing endeavors. The rushing aids available to the active Chapters from the Executive Office were discussed and most of the Chapters reported on unique methods in which they were able to employ these aids.

Baylor and Houston Chapters led the discussion during the workshop on Chapter finances. Baylor Chapter discussed its Chapter scholarship fund, presently in excess of $13,000, which it has accumulated from the sale of flowers at the annual homecoming football game. The Chapter reported that while at present it awarded one full scholarship annually, it expects to be able to increase to two full scholarships annually in the near future.

Houston Chapter reported on its unique method of Chapter fund raising, which is election reporting. At each political election this Chapter contracts to report the results of the voting at a number of election precincts to one of the local newspapers which also owns and operates a television station. For this service the Chapter is paid a certain fee based upon the size and location of the precinct polling place. Generally, the Chapter receives $7.50, $10.00 or $12.00 per precinct. During 1964 the Chapter realized in excess of $2,000 from this one project. During 1965 their amount dropped to approximately $750 due to the fact that it was an off-election year. However the Chapter reported that it anticipated a large increase from this project during 1966.

Following these reports, a lively discussion ensued among the attending delegates concerning fund raising methods for Chapters, other than by dues or assessments. The discussion also centered around the problem of collecting dues from all members, with several novel methods and suggestions of encouraging payment by all members being discussed.

Taney Chapter being absent, Charles A. O'Neill Chapter together with Martin Chapter led the discussion on Chapter Scholarship. Martin Chapter reported on its tutor program for all freshmen. Houston Chapter reported on the program for review sessions at the end of each semester for all Chapter members, its PAD outline for the Texas Bar Examination and the commercial review tapes on the bar review course which the Chapter purchased and made available to all senior members. Other chapters reported on their programs in the scholarship area and an open discussion of them led to a very effective exchange of ideas among all of the delegates.

At 11:00 A.M. a joint formal initiation was conducted by the Houston and Hickman Chapters at which 21 men were initiated. All delegates attending were given an opportunity to observe the correct method in which initiation should be conducted and the ceremony served to emphasize to the delegates the strength and brotherhood of our fraternity.

The conclave luncheon was held at the Rice Hotel. Brother Bill Walsh, a noted criminal attorney, spoke on "Recent Developments in Federal Criminal Procedure." This talk gave the delegates an opportunity to learn of the actual court room procedure and the recent developments in the criminal law area.

The afternoon session was called to order by District Student Co-Justice John O. Roark, at 2:00 P.M. White and Houston Chapters led the workshop discussion on Professional Activities. White Chapter reported on its weekly moot court trial in which local attorneys set as judges and Louisiana State University co-eds are used as jurors. White Chapter also reported on its legal clinic for indigents in the Baton Rouge area wherein the students research cases for attorneys handling the cases. Houston Chapter reported on its monthly speaker's program. Following the presentation of these two reports other Chapters reported on their professional programs. Many questions were asked and answered concerning the various programs reported on.

The final workshop of the conclave, Social Activities, was assigned to Tom C. Clark Chapter and Martin Chapter. Clark Chapter reported on its many and various social activities. Martin Chapter reported on its active alumni relationship.

The business session of the conclave was called to order at 4:00 P.M. with Brother Jack Rains presiding. First item of business was the adoption of District By-Laws. The main provision of these By-Laws provides for a division of the District into three areas and rotation among these areas for the conclave host chapter; for election of one student officer from each active chapter in the district; and no Chapter assessments and a maximum conclave registration fee of $15.00 per delegate.

The By-Laws thus provide for financial protection of the host chapter as well as the district in conclave expense in that the district student justice must obtain the approval of the host Chapter for expenditures exceeding that available from district funds. The By-Laws also reduces the possibility of hard feelings developing between Chapters in the selection of the succeeding host Chapter by dividing the district into three areas and providing for rotation among these three areas in selecting conclave sites. They further reduce the possible harmful results of politics by providing for one district student officer to be selected from each active Chapter. The By-Laws also provide that fifty per cent of the district funds available from national shall be used to pay traveling expenses of out-of-town delegates.

Upon recommendations of the Conclave Publication Committee, the delegates adopted as a district publication, a proposed Chapter officer's manual and directed that it be distributed to all Chapter officers in this district. They further directed that copies of this manual be provided to the Executive Officers with a recommendation that this manual be adopted as a national publication.

The conclave was a financial as well as a professional success. The registration fee of $10.00 per delegate enabled each registrant to attend all sessions of the conclave, the conclave breakfast, the conclave luncheon, and the conclave dance. The delegates had previously decided to forego a formal banquet and substitute a dance in lieu thereof, thereby reducing the cost and at the same time enabling the delegates to entertain their wives and dates at the conclusion of the conclave. Out-of-town delegates were reimbursed for travel expenses at the rate of 10 cents per actual mile traveled for one man per active Chapter. Funds for the conclave were obtained from the National allotment to the district conclave fund, delegates registration fees and voluntary contribution from the Houston Area Alumni.

In honor of the district conclave the Mayor of Houston declared Saturday, December 11, 1966 as Phi Alpha Delta Day.

District XIII and XIV Joint Conclave in Richmond

On the weekend of March 4, 1966, 133 members of our fraternity from all the chapters in Districts XIII and XIV except Jefferson Chapter, attended the joint conclave held in Richmond, Virginia and hosted by Patrick Henry Chapter.

The conclave began on Saturday morning with an excellent series of chapter reports on fraternity problems. This was followed by a special demonstration of visual aid equipment designed for courtroom use.

The conclave adjourned for lunch at noon and at 1:00 p.m. witnessed the installation of new district student officers and listened to a fine speech from Rep. Claude D. Pepper, U. S. Representative from the District of Columbia, who spoke on the need for a world rule of law. He said, "We owe it to humanity to meet the challenge and somehow persuade public opinion to accept what we lawyers are accustomed to — to live by the rule of law."

The Congressman said the failure of the League of Nations is an example of how recently men were opposed to the concept of world law.

World War II he said came as a direct result of the refusal to accept the idea of international law.

"I believe that the future world must depend primarily on the genius of the lawyer for its design and structure," Pepper said.

Those at the luncheon also witnessed the installation of the new district student officers who are: Joseph Steen, Cardozo Chapter, Justice; William Mumaw of Timberlake Chapter, Vice-Justice; Raymond Gormen of Cardozo Chapter, Treasurer; Wayne O'Bryan of Wythe Chapter, Marshall; and Quentin Ertel of Cardozo Chapter, Clerk.

Following the afternoon session all the delegates and their wives and dates attended a black-tie reception and banquet in the ballroom of the Jefferson Hotel. Those present were welcomed to the city of Richmond by the Honorable Morrill W. Crowe, Mayor of that city,

Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Justice, was present and conducted the honorary initiation of Harold H. Dervishian, State Delegate to the General Assembly of Virginia, and Virginia Attorney General Robert Y. Button into Henry Chapter. In addition, Supreme Justice Magaw presented the most professional chapter award to the Timberlake Chapter for its outstanding professional programs which include joint law school-medical school functions and a special arrangement for law school students to accompany police officers on arrests and follow through to conviction.

Following dinner those present heard Rep. Andrew Jacobs, Jr. from Indiana talk on the necessity of separating the executive and judicial branches of the government.

Jacobs said that one of the strengths of the Federal Judiciary has been the Supreme Court's ability to remain independent of the political philosophy of the President.

Congressman Jacobs' address was followed by a telephone discussion between Melvin Belli, a prominent San Francisco attorney, and those in attendance at the conclave banquet. Mr. Belli told those present that it is their duty to "change archaic rules without waiting for the legislature to do it." He further said that there is a revolution now taking place in the legal profession. "We must be responsive to changing times and serve the needs of the present," he said.

Mr. Belli's claim that there is a revolution in the law was supported by specific cases involving divorce, warranty and malpractice. He also said that he had recently evolved a new tort which he described as "trespass of the personality." He used the term to describe how a child's mind could be influenced by an adult.

Those in attendance at the conclave elected to hold next year's conclave in Washington, D.C. with Cardozo Chapter as host chapter.

Among those in attendance were Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Justice, Robert E. Redding, Supreme Vice-Justice and Donald Moore, Associate Tri-

Fletcher Chapter Hosts District XV Conclave

Duncan U. Fletcher Chapter, University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida, hosted the first annual District XV Conclave on February 11-12. District XV is composed of the six PAD chapters in Florida and Georgia. Each chapter was represented with two delegates and several of the chapters sent several alternates. The six chapters in District XV are: Brewer Chapter, Stetson University, St. Petersburg, Florida; Fish Chapter, Mercer University, Macon, Georgia; Fletcher Chapter, University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida; Keener Chapter, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia; Rasco Chapter, University of Miami, Miami, Florida; Stephens Chapter, University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia.

Registration was held at the College of Law from 3:00-5:30 on Friday afternoon. Brothers from Fletcher Chapter were present to give the visiting delegates a tour of the law school's present and future facilities. The delegates were then at their leisure until that night. At 8:00 a reception was held in honor of Supreme Justice Elden S. Magaw at the home of Sen. J. Emory "Red" Cross. Brother Cross and his lovely wife were very gracious and a good time was had by all.

The breakfast for Chapter Justices was held Saturday morning at 7:30 in the Cub Room of the Ramada Inn. The introductions were handled by Brother Joe T. Caruso, Fletcher Chapter, the Conclave Chairman. The keynote address was given by Dean Frank E. Maloney, District Justice. Also in attendance at the breakfast were Dr. Magaw and the Hon. C. Raymond Judice, Assistant to the Supreme Justice.

Between 8:30 and 9:00 coffee was served at the College of Law for all delegates. This time was also set aside for late registration. At 9:00 the Conclave was called to order by Student District Justice John E. Alley, Fletcher Chapter. After a formal introduction, the Workshops began. Brewer and Fletcher Chapters led the discussion on Rushing. Various problems, proposed solutions and new ideas were contributed by all the chapters as well as from the national officers. The discussion then turned to the different types of memberships. Dr. Magaw pointed out that Alumni membership is often available when Honorary membership is not. To be honorarily initiated, the man must be outstanding in the state in some area of the law as well as be an

PAD Youngest City Councilman

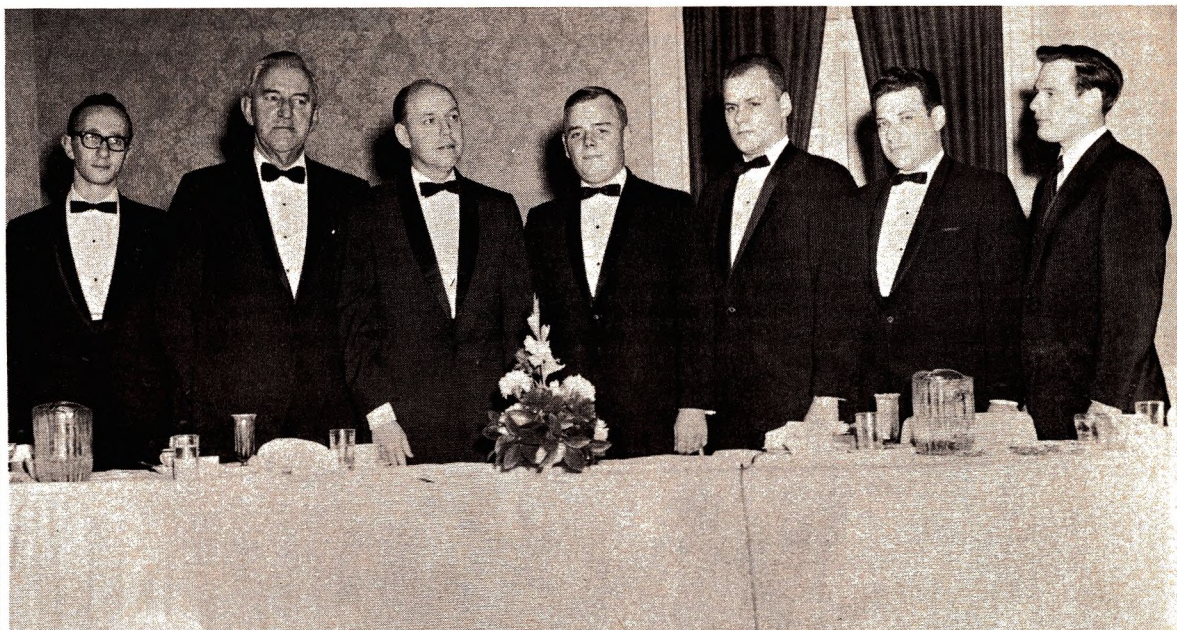

Brother Mike Schaefer, an alumnus member of Taft Chapter and a 1963 graduate of Georgetown Law Center, was recently elected City Councilman for the City of San Diego. At the age of 27 Brother Schaefer is the youngest man ever elected to the San Diego City Council and the National League of Cities Opinions indicate that he is the youngest ever elected to the City Council of a city exceeding 50,000 in population in the United States.

Brother Schaefer gives much of the credit for his election to Brother Dan D. Halpin, Jr., who is our new Justice for District XIII.

Ironically Dan and Mike became friends while attending the University of Notre Dame in 1956 and although both are members of Phi Alpha Delta, Mike is a member of Taft Chapter while Dan is a member of Brandeis Chapter having attended American University Law School.

Brother Schaefer served as a Deputy City Attorney for the city of San Diego for a year and a half prior to his election as city councilman.

Coincidentally, Brother Schaefer's election marks the first time that a lawyer has been elected to the San Diego City Council since 1957.

Tribute to Harold Hitz Burton

Adapted from an address given by Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Justice, at Burton Memorial Service sponsored by Hay Chapter.

History records that Harold Hitz Burton was born in Massachusetts on June 22, 1888; educated at Bowdoin College and Harvard Law School; that he practiced law in Cleveland, Ohio; served in World War I; returned to practice law again in Cleveland; there to serve on the faculty of Western Reserve University Law School, as Mayor of the City of Cleveland, and to be elected to the United States Senate. Subsequently, four years later in September, 1945, he was appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States where he served until illness caused him to retire in 1958. Even then he, for five years, served on the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit as his health permitted.

He was a great man; a man learned in the Law and devoted to the cause of justice and freedom as guaranteed by The Constitution. His contributions to the cause he loved and respected are forever engraved in the written records of the Supreme Court in Volumes 326-357 inclusive.

How well he served the nation in the high office he occupied can best be described in the words of some of those with whom he served during his thirteen years on the Court. On the occasion of his retirement, members of the Court wrote to him: "Without exception, we believe that of all the Justices who have set on this Bench, not one has adhered more closely than you to the ideal for which we all strive—'Equal Justice under Law.'"

One of his colleagues, the late Justice Frankfurter, in a letter read in the Supreme Court, on the occasion of the Memorial for Mr. Justice Burton states: "No one who knows the history and behavior of individual Justices during the whole history of the Court as well as I do, could single out a Justice who has been more conscientious in his duties while on the Court than you."

Justice Reed, speaking at Memorial Services said: "His indefatigable energies and keen analysis have earned the respect of those who served with him, as his gentle, understanding and undemanding nature has earned their deep affection and esteem." "His colleagues of the Court are proud of the judicial service of my Brother Burton. He came among us, illustrious for his accomplishments in government, state and national, with an extraordinary capacity for holding level the scales of Justice. His goodness of heart, his kindness gained for him the affectionate regards of all."

Certainly Bowdoin College, in awarding him the Bowdoin Prize, its highest award, for "his dis-tingent contribution through his outstanding service to his vocation and his fellow man" honored itself as well as the recipient.

In his personal life, his professional life, and in meriting and receiving the highest commendations from his colleagues, and distinction to Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity of which he became a member through Hay Chapter at this Law School. He was proud of his Fraternity; he served it well, and gave of his time and energy to it as his duties and health permitted. Those of us present will always remember the splendid address he made on "The Independence and Continuity of the Supreme Court of the United States" on the occasion of the National Convention of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, here in Cleveland, Ohio, on June 22, 1956.

It is indeed a high honor and privilege to be here in the presence of his family as we pay tribute to the memory of this great American, in the Law School where he once taught. This splendid and beautiful cabinet, which we dedicate to his memory will be a perpetual reminder of the greatness of the man, and a symbol of the respect and love of his brothers in Phi Alpha Delta. The Supreme executive Board in behalf of its more than one hundred chapters, and the Phi Alpha Delta Alumni Chapter of Cleveland are proud to present this memorial to Western Reserve School of Law.

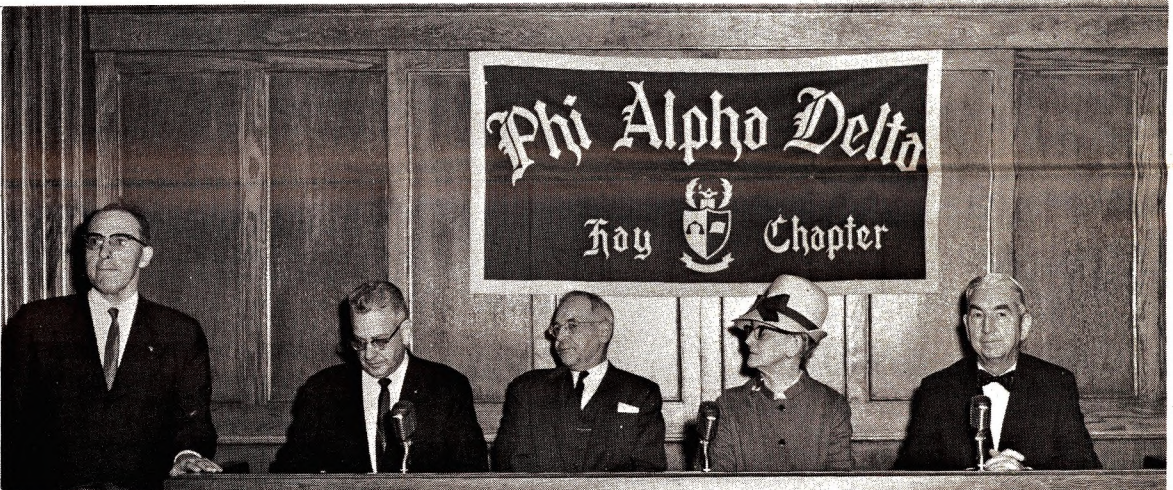

This beautiful cabinet and all that it contains will not only perpetuate the memory of our Brother, but will also serve to inspire the many generations of students who will come to this excellent school to prepare for service in his chosen profession, the Law, to the majesty and dignity of which he contributed so very much.

SUTHERLAND CHAPTER'S ACTIVITIES

Sutherland Chapter of the University of Utah College of Law has had an interesting schedule of activities this year.

During the fall quarter the members of the chapter and law students interested in membership met at a cabin in the nearby Wasatch Mountains for a stag party. Entertainment was furnished by a folk-song group made up of law students and a professional dancer.

During the winter quarter a rush party was held at the Terrace Room in the Prudential Building in Salt Lake City which was well attended by members, alumni, rushees, law professors and the Chief Justice of the Utah Supreme Court, Henri Henroid.

The main speaker for the event was the controversial Attorney General of Utah, Phil L. Hansen. His topic was the validity of the recommendations which had been recently made by Utah's "Little Hoover" commission, and the disputes which had arisen between the Attorney General's office, the Hoover Commission, the State Tax Commission, and the Governor. Mr. Hansen told the assembled law students and dignitaries that he felt that the recommendations were generally valid, but tended to over-simplify many of the problems in the state government. He was especially critical of the recommendation that more state officers be appointed, rather than elected, feeling that this would tend to take control of the state government farther away from the citizens of the state.

Sutherland Chapter plans several luncheons with well known speakers and several social gatherings for members during the remainder of the school year. The members and pledges are especially looking forward to the

Broz Speaks On Subversion

Brother James L. Broz, Jr., Executive Secretary of the Cleveland Alumni Chapter, has been interested in the activities of the Army Counter-Intelligence Corps for 24 years.

In 1944 Brother Broz was officially introduced to subversive activities when he was assigned to the headquarters of General Douglas MacArthur at Brisbane, Australia, to prepare the American troops for fifth column activities of enemy counter-intelligence.

Since World War II, Brother Broz has served as President of the National Counter Intelligence Corps Association as well as its liaison officer. "I recommend about 50 qualified men a year for the Counter Intelligence Corps," says Broz. "Since 1945 I have made 1976 speeches on developments in subversive activities to military schools, service clubs, fraternal and church groups."

Brother Broz feels that subversive elements are involved in much of the agitation against American policies in Viet Nam. He says "They have formed clubs on college campuses. We have found that 63% of the demonstrators at the University of California at Berkeley were not members of the student body or alumni. Communists were strongest in America in 1946 and 1947 when they had 47,000 active members. This has declined to 10,000 today."

Brother Broz obtained his LLB degree from Western Reserve University where he was a member of Hay Chapter and graduated in 1932 at the age of 22, the youngest member of the graduating class.

Brother Broz was appointed in 1937 by Mayor Harold H. Burton as an Assistant City Law Director and was assigned to purchase and supplies. Following the war, Brother Broz returned to Civil Service and is presently Deputy Commissioner of Purchases and Supplies for the City of Cleveland.

THE MEMBERS OF CALHOUN CHAPTER AT YALE UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL MET WITH C. RAYMOND JUDICE, ASSISTANT TO THE SUPREME JUSTICE for lunch at Mory's as Brother Judice visited their chapter.

Mr. Ambassador, Brother Arthur J. Goldberg

Brother Arthur J. Goldberg, presently United States Ambassador to the United Nations, was born in Chicago, Illinois in 1908, the son of Russian-Jewish immigrants. Brother Goldberg worked his way through college and law school graduating at the top of his law school class and becoming a member of the Illinois Bar before the age of 21 years.

Brother Goldberg missed his career, specializing in corporate law but soon turned his interests to labor law, devoting his time, energy and ability to the initial efforts of the CIO to organize and to survive. Following the war Brother Goldberg was instrumental in merging the CIO and AFL and setting up the AFL-CIO ethical practices committee, which led to the expulsion of corrupt unions. His career as a labor lawyer was followed by two successful and active years as President Kennedy's Secretary of Labor and then by three such years as Justice of the United States Supreme Court. While Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Brother Goldberg was initiated as an honorary member of our fraternity by Brandeis Chapter.

It has been said of Brother Goldberg that he has always seen the law as "an opportunity to help people obtain social justice."

Calhoun Activities

Judge C. Raymond Judice, Assistant to the Supreme Justice, recently visited Calhoun Chapter where he was given a report on the chapter's recent successes.

From a membership of 5 in 1964, Calhoun Chapter has grown to over 35 members making it the larger of Yale's two legal fraternities. The chapter's schedule of activities includes seminars with important men of public affairs like Congressman Richard Bolling and former New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

The chapter also conducts a series of meetings during which active judges and lawyers appear to acquaint the membership with practical matters of legal practice about which one generally learns little in law school.

Social events and visits to federal and state penal and rehabilitation units have rounded out the year's programs.

On the chapter agenda for the future is a lecture-seminar program open to the law school which will tap the Yale Law School's extensive contacts in Washington, D.C.

Ross Chapter Reviews Successful Semester

Notwithstanding the scholastic pressures and work loads which leave the average law student with very little time to do anything but study, the Ross Chapter of PAD at the University of Southern California Law Center has had a most successful fall semester with respect to both its rushing program and its social activities.

At its kick-off event the Chapter held a champagne cocktail party hosted by William J. Bryan, Jr., M.D., the Justice of the Chapter. Soon after the beginning of the fall classes, a Sunday brunch was held at the Brentwood home of PAD alumnus Harned Pettus Hoose where students and their wives or dates were able to relax for a bit and stroll through the beautiful grounds surrounding the Hoose residence.

The Chapter's rush functions were climaxed with the traditional steak fry at the home of the Honorable Albert Lee

Stephens, one of the Chapter's most distinguished alumni whose after dinner remarks concerning the Fraternity and the field of law in general are always an inspiration not only to the often bewildered first-year men but also the senior members of the fraternity.

The Chapter was happy to see a number of the PAD alumni turning out to its rush functions, and would encourage all alumni across the nation to make a sincere effort to attend such functions, as they, perhaps more than anyone else make the greatest impression on the prospective rushees.

The most recent social event of Ross Chapter was its "Las Vegas Night." The residence at which the party was held took on the air of a Las Vegas casino, complete with roulette wheel, crap and blackjack tables and wheel of fortune. Great precaution was taken to insure that there was no violation of California Penal Code Sec. 330 et. seq., which prohibits gaming in any form with the result that only play money was used and the most that anyone lost was his pride as he dropped his evening's "winnings" with one role of the dice.

The Chapter is happy to welcome its more than 40 law students who have made the decision to pledge PAD, and the Chapter is looking forward to early next Spring when they will join the ranks of active members of the fraternity.

COOLEY CHAPTER RECENTLY PLEDGED ELEVEN NEW MEMBERS. The ceremonies were conducted in the courtroom of Judge Victor J. Baum in the city-county building in downtown Detroit.

National Legal Aid and Defenders' Conference Held in Arizona

The 1965 National Legal Aid and Defenders' Conference was recently held in Scottsdale, Arizona and was attended by more than one hundred prominent lawyers and judges from all parts of the country.

The Honorable Lorna E. Lockwood, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona, addressed the delegates at the opening session.

The National Legal Aid and Defender's Association is headquartered at the American Bar Center in Chicago, and is the national coordinating body of local Legal Aid and Defender offices which provide legal services to the poor. There are 249 Legal Aid and 171 Defender services in the United States today. Last year they provided over 600,000 indigent clients with legal advice and representation. The annual conference provides Legal Aid and Defender lawyers an opportunity to exchange information with the view of improving their services to the public.

E. Clinton Bamberger, Director of the National Program to Provide Legal Services to the Poor, Office of Economic Opportunity, spoke to those present on "Principal Features of an Adequate Legal Services Program."

"Supreme Court Decisions and Constitutional Law" was presented by Professor Yale Kamisar of the University of Michigan Law School. He also participated as a panel member in a discussion of "Fair Trial, Free Press and Confessions," with Mason Walsh, Editor of the PHOENIX GAZETTE, and Robert A. Green, Jr., Public Defender, Eighth Judicial Circuit, Gainesville, Florida.

General Charles L. Decker, Chairman of the NLADA's National Defender Project, discussed the National Defender project which is in its second year and is financed by a $6.1 million grant from the Ford Foundation. Its objective is to further the protection of constitutional rights by assuring an effective defense to poor persons accused of crime.

Workshops on legal problems of the mentally ill and on family debt problems were scheduled for the civil section delegates at the Conference. Allison Dunham, Executive Director of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, spoke on consumer credit laws.

The NLADA and the American Bar Association Standing Committee on Legal Aid Work will supply free literature to lawyers and Bar Associations wishing to improve or establish Legal Aid and Defender facilities.

"The Trial of Jack Ruby"

A recent book which will be of interest to all members of Phi Alpha Delta was "The Trial of Jack Ruby," published by Macmillan Company. It was co-authored by Brother Jon R. Waltz, Professor of Law at Northwestern University and a member of Fuller Chapter. Professor Waltz and Professor John Kaplan of Stanford University both experienced trial lawyers, spent nearly two years in the preparation of their study of the bizarre Ruby trial and reveal a great deal of background information not previously known to the general public.

The book, a best-seller, has already gone into a second printing. It has achieved widespread critical acclaim. Time magazine referred to it as "a deft and readable analysis of a legal disaster"; the Harvard Law Record calls it "a masterpiece of interpretive writing"; and author John Gunther, in the New York Times, has stated that the book is "unbelievably engrossing."

Brother Waltz, a former member of the Cleveland, Ohio law firm of Squire, Sanders and Dempsey, serves as faculty adviser to Fuller Chapter.

LLOYD TEVIS

Tevis Named Dean of Loyola

Brother Lloyd Tevis, an alumnus member of Ford Chapter, was recently named Dean of Loyola University School of Law by the Very Reverend Charles S. Casassa, S.J., President of Loyola University.

Father Casassa announced that Dean J. Rex Dibble, Dean since 1961, was resigning in order to devote full time to teaching and research at the Law School.

Dean Tevis received his LL.B. degree from Loyola Law School in 1950. He spent the following year as law clerk to United States District Judge William M. Byrne. From 1951 to 1954 he was associated with the Los Angeles firm of Slane, Mantalica and Davis. From 1954 to 1961 he was in general practice in Pasadena.

Dean Tevis has been associated with the Law School since 1952. He was a part-time member of the faculty until 1961 when he joined the full-time faculty as a Professor of Law. He was appointed Assistant Dean in 1962, Associate Dean in 1964, and was Acting Dean from February to July of 1965. His special areas of interest are Contracts and Family Law and he plans to continue to teach these courses.

Dean Tevis saw military duty in the United States Army from 1942 to 1945 as a Second Lieutenant in the Medical Administrative Corps. He is a member of the Los Angeles County Bar Association, Pasadena Bar Association, and the American Judicature Society. He actively participates as a member of the Family Law Committees of the Association of American Law Schools, the Los Angeles County Bar Association, and the American Bar Association.

PAD Authors New Book

Brother F. Reed Dickerson, an alumnus member of Watson Chapter and a Professor of Law at Indiana University School of Law, recently responded to the American Bar Foundation's concern about the prevalence of less than perfect legal drafting.

Brother Dickerson's response to this concern was to author a book entitled "Fundamentals of Legal Drafting."

Brother Dickerson received his LL.B. degree from Harvard and his LL.M. and Jur.Sc.D. from Columbia. Among his activities he is Commissioner for Indiana, National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws; consultant to the Federal Aviation Agency.

attorney. The meeting was adjourned. During the break, the members of the various committees were able to meet and organize. When the meeting reconvened, Rasco and Stephens Chapters led a brisk discussion on Finances. Fund raising and the various methods of collecting money from within the chapter were the principal points of discussion.

The Conclave Luncheon was in honor of Brother Elwyn Thomas, Associate Justice of the Florida Supreme Court and a former Supreme Justice of Phi Alpha Delta. Brother Maloney presented Brother Thomas with a mounted gavel in recognition of his many years of outstanding service to the fraternity.

The luncheon address was given by our Supreme Justice Dr. Elden S. Magaw. Dr. Magaw spoke on the tremendous progress the fraternity has made in the past few years. He again stressed the need for honorary memberships. Dr. Magaw also reiterated the well-known fact that PAD is the only truly professional law fraternity and how this was not only recognized by us but also by alumni of other fraternities.

The luncheon was very well attended by area alumni. Among those present were the Hon. George L. Patten, Circuit Judge for the Eighth Judicial Circuit; Osee Fagan, Gainesville City attorney who recently accepted the position of Alumni Advisor for Fletcher Chapter; J. Lance Lazonby, very prominent Gainesville attorney; Edwin S. Taylor, former Alumni Advisor for Fletcher Chapter, who is presently very active in forming a Gainesville Alumni Chapter; Joe C. Jenkins, Jr., past president of the Alachua County (Florida) Bar Association; and Mandell Glicksberg, one of the outstanding professors at the University of Florida College of Law.

The afternoon session of the Conclave was called to order by Student Justice Alley at 2:00. Chapters reports were the first order of business. These reports formed the basis of decision for the Progress Award which was given Saturday evening at the Conclave Banquet. The individual chapters were rated by Dr. Magaw, Brother Justice and District Justice Maloney. Their job was not easy. During the past year, each chapter made tremendous progress in all areas. There can be no question that Phi Alpha Delta is the number one law fraternity in the area encompassed by District XV.

The Alumni Relations discussion was led by Rasco Chapter. Justice "Skip" Gross first outlined the Constitutional procedures and then explained the internal workings of the Miami Alumni Chapter. Fletcher Chapter announced that an Alumni Chapter was being organized in Gainesville and that plans are underway to re-activate the Alumni Chapter in Jacksonville.

Professional activities were next on the agenda. Keener Chapter has instituted a Speakers Bureau to go to the various high schools in Atlanta and discuss current legal problems with the students. Justice Tony Hight explained that this project has a two-fold purpose. First, it is a very important service function. Second, it gives the individual members of the fraternity a chance to obtain valuable speaking experience. Another new idea was the notorizing of student bar applications. Fletcher Chapter reported a very favorable student response to this new project.

The final discussion topic was Social Activities. Not only does this prove invaluable to rush, but it also provides an excellent opportunity for members to relax and have a good time. From the successful rush reports, it is apparent that a blend between professional and social activity is a very good one.

The last items of Conclave business were the Committee Reports. Although the committees had very little time in which to organize, they did an excellent job. The By-Laws Committee proposed several amendments which were heartily endorsed. The Resolutions Committee had typed copies of their proposed resolutions. These also were adopted. The Special Projects Committee came up with several good ideas. They suggested that National send Pledge Manuals to the chapters prior to rush so that each man could have one immediately upon pledging. It was felt that this would be much more effective. Also, they proposed a District Directory to be compiled by the District Officers. The Director would contain the name, address and home address of each brother in the District. The final report was from the Conclave Committee with the news that St. Petersburg, Florida, would be the site of the 1967 Conclave with Brewer Chapter, Stetson University, serving as host.

The Conclave Banquet was held at the University Inn. Prior to the Banquet, a Hospitality Room was set up and a reception was held in honor of Sen. John E. Matthews, Jr., and Brother Richard Ervin, Associate Justice of the Florida Supreme Court. Later in the evening, Sen. Matthews became an honorary member of Fletcher Chapter.

The Toastmaster for the evening was Student District Justice Alley. Following a fine Invocation by the Student District Justice-Elect, J. Ron Smith from Brewer Chapter, everyone sat down to sirloin steak and baked potatoes. Introductions by District Justice Maloney preceded the honorary initiation of Sen. Matthews. The initiation was conducted by Supreme Justice Magaw while cameras from WJXT, Channel 4, Jacksonville, recorded the entire ceremony. A native of Jacksonville, Brother Matthews graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Emory University. He is presently serving as a Trustee of that institution. As an undergraduate, he served as President of the Student Body, Sigma Chi, and Omicron Delta Kappa. As a result of distinguished service during World War II, he was awarded the Bronze Star. Following the war, Brother Matthews entered Harvard University where he received his LL.B. in 1948. He returned to Florida and was elected to the Florida House of Representatives in 1956. During his first term, he was named the Most Outstanding Freshman Legislator. In 1962 he was elected to the Florida Senate. He now holds the same seat in the Senate that his father held prior to his appointment to the Florida Supreme Court. In 1963 Brother Matthews was named the Most Outstanding Member of the Florida Legislature. He has also been the recipient of the Florida Jaycee Good Government Award. Brother Matthews is a partner in the Jacksonville law firm of Matthews, Osborne and Ehrlich. PAD's everywhere are indeed fortunate to have "Jack" Matthews as a Brother.

The principal address of the Conclave was delivered by Brother Richard Ervin, Associate Justice of the Florida Supreme Court. Brother Ervin's speech dealt with democracy and role of the attorney in preserving this cherished concept. He traced democracy from its earliest days in Athens and chartered the various changes it has undergone throughout the years. In summation, Brother Ervin reminded us that we must strive daily lest we lose this precious thing called freedom.

The final Conclave business was the Progress Award which was given to the most improved chapter. The traditional plaque, however, was not the only tangible evidence of this great achievement. In addition, Mr. Donald Birch, Sales Representative for West Publishing Company, personally donated a complete eight-volume set of the Restatement Second. The selection of the most improved chapter was very difficult. This is evidenced by the fact that three awards were given. The Progress Award, the engraved plaque and three volumes of the Restatement Second, went to Stephens Chapter, University of Georgia. Bob Mathews accepted the award from District Justice Maloney. Rasco Chapter, University of Miami, was first runner-up and Justice Maynard "Skip" Gross proudly accepted three volumes of the Restatement Second. The final two volumes went to Brewer Chapter, Stetson University, and Justice Joseph A. Sole.

The Romans from Winter Park, Florida, provided the musical entertainment for the Conclave Ball. The dancing proved to be a relaxing finale to a very enjoyable and profitable Conclave. By the time the Ball ended, plans had already been made to meet in St. Petersburg for the 1967 District XV Conclave. Brother delegates promised a weekend to top this one in Gainesville. If they succeed, it will be quite a Conclave.

This Conclave was successful because of the fine efforts of all concerned. However, certain people deserve a special word of appreciation. Brother Joe T. Caruso, Fletcher Chapter, did an outstanding job as Conclave Chairman. District Justice Maloney, Dean of the University of Florida College of Law, and Student District Justice Alley, Fletcher Chapter, worked long and hard throughout the entire year in order to make this Conclave a success. William T. Haverfield, II, Fletcher Chapter, did an excellent job as Interim District Treasurer on very short notice. George W. Greer, Clerk of Fletcher Chapter, also stepped in at the last minute as Interim District Clerk. Special thanks must go to Dr. Elden S. Magaw, Supreme Justice, and the Hon. C. Raymond Justice, Assistant to the Supreme Justice, without whom the first annual District XV Conclave could not have been the major success it was.

PHI ALPHA DELTA is a member of the Professional Interfraternity Conference, which Conference advocates and encourages high scholarship, professional research, advancement of professional ethics, and the promotion of a spirit of comity among the professional fraternities in the advancement of fraternity ideals.

and the members of the faculty. Tuesday evening a number of us had dinner at the Eugene Hotel after which we proceeded to the campus for the chapter's Fall rush, at which Brother Arno Denecke, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Oregon, was the principal speaker. His loyalty to P. A. D. and his continued interest in Williams Chapter are greatly appreciated. We can expect this chapter to develop a very good professional program. The members are a splendid group of young men of whom we can be very proud.

On Wednesday morning, I left for Philadelphia and Thanksgiving dinner with my wife and friends, tired but with the most pleasant of memories and grateful for the opportunity to meet personally so many of our faculty brothers and student members.

On February 11 and 12, I attended the District XV Conclave at Gainesville, Florida, the home of Fletcher Chapter and of its very capable District Justice, Dean Maloney.

The Conclave was an excellent one under the direction of the Dean and the District Justice, John E. Alley, of Fletcher Chapter. All chapters were well represented and I was delighted with the sincerity and quality of membership and their professional attitude, as well as the professional programs each is supporting in their respective chapters.

Brewer Chapter at Stetson (36 members), Fletcher, University of Florida (105 members), and Rasco, of Miami (59 members), Fish, of Mercer (41 members), Keener, of Emory (50 members), and Stephens, of University of Georgia (34 pledges) make up the District, and we can be very proud of it and the individual chapters.

Friday evening opened with a reception for the Supreme Justice at the lovely home of Senator and Mrs. Emory Cross. Saturday morning was business, followed by a luncheon at which I was principal speaker. The afternoon was also business, and the evening a banquet and dance.

The principal speaker at the banquet was Brother Richard W. Edwin Jr., of Florida Supreme Court. I was privileged to confer honorary membership upon John E. Matthews, Jr.

A highlight of the Conclave was the attendance at the luncheon of Past Supreme Justice, Elwyn Thomas who spoke briefly after having been presented with a plaque and mounted gavel in appreciation of his services.

On Monday morning, February 14, 1966, I flew to Cleveland where I participated in the dedication of the beautiful cabinet at Western Reserve Law School in memory of Justice Burton whose family was in attendance. It is significant to note that Jimmy Broz was responsible for raising for the Alumni Chapter the additional $500 needed, for the memorial.

Following the dedication service at the Law School, we proceeded to a hotel where the alumni participated in a luncheon affair. It was well attended—the room was filled. Several judges were present, and Jimmy Broz did a beautiful job of presiding. Brother Tom Clark spoke here as principal speaker; he also spoke briefly at the dedication. He then returned to Washington, and I stayed for the initiation of about 36 pledges. Hay Chapter is an excellent one and graduating only 3 members and will with the new initiates be much larger at the opening of the fall session. It now has 58 members.

Professor David Smith who was instrumental in the reactivation of the Hay Chapter deserves a letter of thanks from all of us as does Jimmy Broz.

On Friday, February 18, 1966, I went to Seton Hall Law School, Newark, New Jersey, for a luncheon with our very wonderful Paterson Chapter.

The purpose was an official visitation and the presentation to the Chapter of the District

Plaque won last year and the newly created Supreme Justice Award, another splendid and defined plaque.

This Chapter is hosting the combined District XI and XII Conclave, probably the 22nd and 23rd of April. Needless to say, it will be an excellent one.

The Chapter has an excellent justice, Harold Ruvoldt, and last year's justice, Brother Gilpin, was present to receive both awards. He is in the 4th-year evening class. The Dean, John Loftus, is a loyal, dedicated brother, and we are indeed indebted to him for his support.

On Friday morning, February 25, 1966, I left Philadelphia for a luncheon meeting with a group of Cincinnati Alumni for the purposes of assisting the District Justice, Ken Segal, in reactivating the Alumni Chapter. As a result of the big snow storm in New York, my flight got in two hours late so I missed the lunch. However, Ken took care of the situation, and we now have an interested group of 20 who will provide the leadership for a revived chapter which we expect will be represented at the Kansas City Convention in August.

At 2:30, I went to the University of Cincinnati Law School where Ken and I met with the officers of Chase Chapter. There are 26 members and 13 pledges. Their Justice, Paul J. Winterhalter, is a very able leader and well respected by the administration. Under Paul's leadership this chapter will increase its numbers and provide a good professional program.

I paid my respects to the new and very able Dean Sowle with whom I had a most pleasant conversation. He is pleased with our chapter and its activities in the school and regards the justice as exceptionally capable.

At 6:30 we went to Chase Law School where it was a real pleasure to meet with Dean Ray Hutchens, one of our most dedicated and loyal brothers. We had a short meeting prior to 7 o'clock with 35-40 of the brothers of Hoffman Chapter. They are a fine group of well qualified men and have the benefit of counsel and guidance from Ken Segal who is a member of the chapter and very proud of it.

February 26, 1966, a most significant date in the history of Phi Alpha Delta, is the date of installation of the 105th chapter of our Fraternity and the 99th of our active chapters, the John Adams Chapter at the University of Indiana in Bloomington.

This was one of the most inspiring occasions I have ever experienced. Thirty-four splendid young men were duly initiated in the Superior Court Room of the County Courthouse. The initiation team was composed of Assistant to the Supreme Justice, Ray Judice, District Justice, Charles Falkenberg, Jr., Brother Hamill of the Indianapolis Alumni Chapter, Ken Segal, District Justice of District IX, and myself.

After the initiation there was a reception followed by a very nice banquet, which afforded us a real opportunity to meet and talk with each of the new brothers.

Each of the brothers was very enthusiastic, and all are agreed on one thing—a professional program of real value to the chapter and to the Law School. Already this amazing group of young men have several significant projects, some already under way prior to their initiation.

A group is going next week to Ann Arbor to confer with Campbell Chapter with respect to one of its most significant programs. The purpose is to establish at the University of Indiana (requiring appropriate legislation), a system whereby senior law students may serve in a limited legal capacity.

Also, they plan to establish a legal aid service and to participate actively in the American Law Students Association.

This splendid group already has 40 pledges and expects to have 20 or more very soon.

freshman rush. In order to carry out of all their plans, they realized the necessity of having a good strong membership base. Rush took place while they were still in the colony stage of existence and they faced the competition of a firmly established and well-organized legal fraternity. On February 16 they had a rush smoker in the student lounge of the Law School where they explained to a large group the goals of their chapter and the benefits of becoming a member of Phi Alpha Delta. The colony officers explained their policy and the group was addressed by their faculty advisor, Professor Allen Sultan. Professor Sultan has been a great help in their organization procedure. When the pledging was completed they were very happy to learn that they had gained forty-eight new hard-working members which was a great deal more than their well-established competitor. It was a group effort that made their rush a success and it is a group effort that is making the Adams chapter a success at Indiana.

The Chapter has not forgotten the brotherhood aspect of a group such as Phi Alpha Delta. Through their associations at the Adams Chapter they have been able to make new friends not only at Indiana but with their brothers all over the country. They have also planned a worthwhile social program with several receptions and cocktail parties. The Law fraternities at Indiana work in conjunction with the Student Bar Association in its social endeavors.

They have found the use of speakers a very good way to aid the student of law in furthering his study. The Chapter makes the arrangements in procuring speakers on several aspects of the law but have attendance open to all the student body and faculty. On March 22 they have planned a coffee hour where the students will gather to hear Professor Ralph Fuchs discuss "Legal Ethics."

They have begun work on various long range projects. Larry Fisher, the head of the projects committee, has researched the many ways in which they can carry out their goals. They are attempting to get a legal aid society for the Bloomington area. A co-operative set up is being planned where students can spend several hours in a lawyer's office each week to see how he will be expected to handle his affairs when he becomes a practicing attorney. A summer placement program has been established where students desiring summer employment, whether it be legal or not, can be placed in a position for the summer. They are working on this project in conjunction with the University Business Placement Office. The Adams Chapter is attempting to establish a voluntary student ethics program to better prepare the students for the life ahead of them.

EVERYONE ENJOYED THE BUFFET SUPPER SERVED FOLLOWING THE INSTALLATION OF JOHN ADAMS CHAPTER at Indiana University on February 26, 1966.
