New Orleans Makes Ready To Host PAD International Convention

TYPICAL NEW ORLEANS FRENCH QUARTER HOME — Set with balcony decorated in wrought and cast iron, this typical New Orleans French Quarter home recalls the appearance of New Orleans when the city was a colony of Spain during the 18th century.

Convention Entertainment Planning Nears Completion

The New Orleans Alumni Chapter of PAD is hard at work making plans for an invasion of PADs from across the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico to attend the 38th Biennial Convention of the Fraternity to be held September 2-5, 1970.

An International flavor will be provided this time by the attendance of Chapters installed since the 1968 Convention in Canada and Puerto Rico.

The Honorary Chairman for the 1970 Convention is the Honorable John Minor Wisdom, Judge of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals and an alumnus of Martin Chapter at Tulane University.

The Host Committee is composed of Loyola University Assistant Dean John C. McAulay, Chairman; Gerald T. LaBorde, Vice Chairman; Maurice S. Cazaubon, Jr., former New Orleans Chapter Justice; Professor Melvin Dakin of Louisiana State University, and James D. Johnson, Jr., former New Orleans Alumni Chapter Justice.

JAZZ DEVELOPED AS MARCH MUSIC in New Orleans in the 1800's. The brass bands that parade today in the French Quarter play the same sort of music, with few modifications, that was played then. Dixieland parades and night jam sessions in the French Quarter have attracted thousands of tourists who had never heard traditional jazz played live before. The parades, usually scheduled for Sundays, have become a favorite weekend entertainment for visitors and Orleanians alike.

Entertainment Plans Announced

The Host Committee has announced that entertainment phases of the Convention are taking shape and will include the following:

The Supreme Justice's Reception.

The Barrister's Ball, a dance for all members attending — the local active chapters have promised a good supply of beautiful Southern Girls

A Creole Soiree

A Convention Banquet

A tour of New Orleans and the magnetic attraction of Bourbon Street and the French Quarter.

Wives and families are invited to attend the Convention and special entertainment is being arranged for them. Some of the arrangements which have been completed include walking tours of the French Quarter, luncheons at gourmet restaurants and Breakfast at Brennans.

Financial Allowance

In accordance with the International By-Laws the Supreme Chapter will provide the actual cost of one roundtrip airline coach fare to New Orleans, hotel accommodations and a subsistence allowance for each day of travel to and from the Convention and each day at the convention for one delegate from each active and alumni chapter in good standing.

Chapters are, however, urged to send as many delegates as possible.

In order for an active chapter to be in good standing all fees and forms must have been filed prior to the Convention. Each active chapter has already been sent notification as to any deficiency which may exist in this regard.

For alumni chapters to qualify for the monetary allowance they must meet the following requirements:

1. The annual alumni chapter tax of $15.00 per year must be paid for the two fiscal years subsequent to the 1968 Convention.

2. Each alumni chapter must have held at least two meetings during the period August 1, 1969-July 31, 1970 with an attendance of at least 10 persons at each meeting.

3. Each alumni chapter must have duly elected officers properly reported to the National Executive Office.

Convention Program

The Convention will officially convene on Wednesday, September 2, 1970, with a welcome being extended by the Governor of Louisiana, the Mayor of New Orleans, the Chief Justice of the Louisiana Supreme Court and the Chairman of the Host Committee.

HEW Secretary to be Keynote
One of the highlights of the Convention will be the keynote address by PAD Brother Robert H. Finch, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

During the afternoon delegates will attend workshops designed to discuss and approve chapter activities.

On Thursday, September 3, a model initiation will be staged and the delegates will be occupied for the remainder of the day in committee meetings.

On Friday, September 4, the general session will be held.

Campbell Chapter Reports on Activities

The 1970 second year law student Campbell Moot Court Competition has drawn to a close at the University of Michigan. PAD's who performed with distinction, reaching the semi-finals, included Brothers Wayne C. Dabb Jr., Gene Farber, Terry Lyons and Ron Styka. Brother Ralph Wellington, who reached the quarter-finals, demonstrated excellence in rhetoric and brief writing as well.

Brother Richard Erickson has prepared a program for the presentation of the Military Justice System which has been accepted by AFOTC Headquarters, Air University (Maxwell (A.F.B.)), for incorporation into the July, 1970 revision of the instructor's handbook in this area. His efforts will serve at least the next 5000 Air Force Commissionees.

Campbell Chapter has begun a program in the teaching of law in the High Schools in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Several lectures have been developed of particular interest to students ranging over such topics as "Drugs and the Law" and "The Rights of Persons Under 21." Brother Paul Sefcovic is heading up the project and is optimistic of the results.

Message from the Supreme Justice

This school year will soon be over. As we look back on this year we can be satisfied, but not entirely content, on the progress that has been made. We should never stop looking ahead and planning for the future of our great organization.

Zinn, House Judiciary Committee Counsel, Dies

Brother Charles J. Zinn, Law Revision Counsel of the House Judiciary Counsel, died Thursday, March 5, 1970, after a heart attack at his home in Washington, D.C.

A staff member of the House Judiciary Committee and House Select Committee on Revision of the Laws for more than 25 years, Dr. Zinn was a man who believed that "making the laws of the land understandable is as important as making the law."

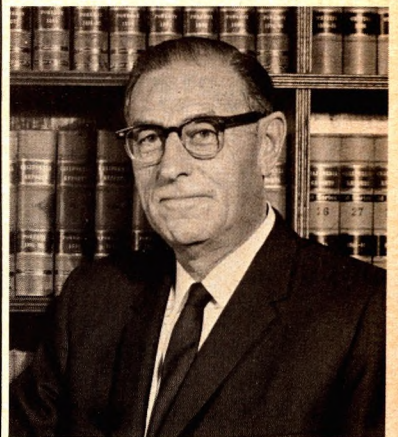

But Charlie Zinn also considered an understanding of the legislative process important and he was the author of "How Our Laws Are Made," an official house publication describing Congressional procedures.

An enthusiastic PAD, Brother Zinn appeared at numerous active and alumni chapter functions where he was much in demand as a speaker.

He was a member of the District of Columbia, New York, and Supreme Court Bars and the recipient of the Federal Bar Association's Justice Tom Clark Award given to an outstanding career lawyer practicing in the Federal Courts.

He was a member of Taft Chapter at Georgetown Law School.

As the school year draws to a close I urge the officers of each active chapter to make plans during the Summer for the Fall semester rushing. Consider sending letters to each incoming student during the Summer. Examples of such letters can be obtained from the Executive Office. Planning should commence now for the professional program of each chapter to be sponsored during the Fall. Complete information can be obtained on the Fraternity's Professional Program from your District Justice or from the Executive Office.

Our 38th Biennial Convention will be held in September 2-5, 1970, in New Orleans, Louisiana. Details on the Convention are discussed elsewhere in this issue. Those who will be fortunate enough to attend the convention will have the opportunity to meet law students, lawyers, and judges from across the country, Puerto Rico and Canada, to become better acquainted with the Fraternity operations, its problems and their solutions, as discussed by the delegates in various meetings and during the Convention Workshops.

The New Orleans Alumni have planned outstanding entertainment for all members, wives and children. This Convention marks another first for PAD in that it is the first time that we will have met in Convention assembled as an International Organization.

I look forward to meeting many of you there.

Fraternally,
HENRY C. ROHR

Murrah Succeeds Clark As Federal Judicial Center Director

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger (Jay Chapter) recently announced that Federal Appeals Court Judge Alfred P. Murrah (Harlan Chapter) of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, has been selected as the new Director of the Federal Judicial Center succeeding retired Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark (Taney Chapter), whose term of service expired by law last September.

Judge Murrah served as Supreme Justice of Phi Alpha Delta from 1962 to 1964. Mr. Justice Clark served as Supreme Vice Justice of the Fraternity from 1964 to 1968.

Judge Murrah will retire from his present post as Chief Judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit to take over the direction of the Federal Judicial Center, which is headquartered in Washington. Mr. Justice Clark has served as the first Director of the Center, created by an Act of Congress almost two years ago to aid with critical problems confronting the Federal Judiciary.

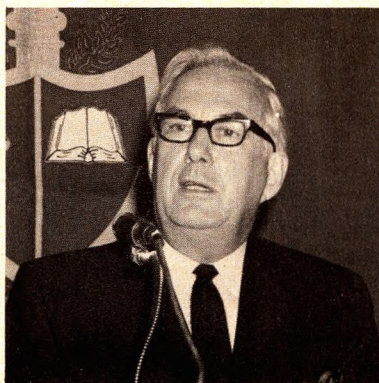

The Chief Justice praised Mr. Justice Clark's "dynamic leadership" in establishing the Federal Judicial Center on a sound operational basis in less than two years and added that the Justice's contribution to the entire judicial system in the United States is "unparalleled."

He said that Judge Murrah, who is the senior judge in the Federal Judiciary in the point of active service and who became a Federal Judge in 1937 at age 32, is "a pioneer in programs for the improvement of judicial administration and thus is destined to be a worthy successor to Mr. Justice Clark."

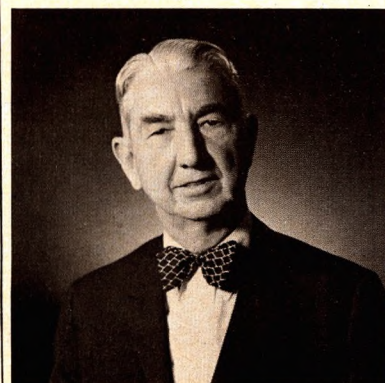

Judge Murrah first served as a U.S. District Court Judge for the Northern, Eastern and Western Districts of Oklahoma. In 1940, he was elevated to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit and he has been the Chief Judge of that Circuit since 1959.

Judge Murrah has been active as a member of numerous committees of the Judicial Conference of the United States, including the Committee on the Budget for the federal judiciary and the Committee on the Administration of the Criminal Justice Act, and served as Chairman of the Conference Committee on Trial Practice and Technique for more than twenty years. In these capacities, he has played a major role in developing new and innovative techniques and procedures throughout the federal judiciary. As chairman of the Conference Committee on Trial Practice and Technique he was responsible for the development of seminars for federal judges, including newly-appointed United States district judges, which have been held regularly since 1957. He was the first chairman of the Judicial Panel on Multi-district Litigation which was formed in 1968 to deal with complex problems of multiple law suits arising out of airplane crashes, private antitrust litigation, and other law suits having a common origin.

Former Governor Fred Hall Dies

Brother Fred L. Hall, 53, former governor of Kansas in 1955 and 1956 and a justice of the Kansas Supreme Court for two years, died on March 18, 1970 after a prolonged illness.

Brother Hall was a member of Ross Chapter at the University of Southern California.

A Student Views a Meeting of the SEB

By ED CHAPIN

(Ed Chapin is the recently elected Justice of Lawson Chapter at the University of Missouri.

The Supreme Executive Board invited the active chapters in the Kansas City area to each nominate one of their members for final selection to attend the February 1970 meeting of the Supreme Executive Board at Lake Ozark, Missouri so that the student viewpoint would have its impression on the Board Meeting. Brother Chapin was selected to attend and his impressions follow.)

It was my privilege to attend the meeting of the Supreme Executive Board of Phi Alpha Delta during the period February 6-8, and I would like to share this experience with you.

When I was notified that I had been selected to attend this meeting, I was unsure of my duties and privileges as a student voice. Shortly after meeting the board members it was apparent that they were genuinely interested in having me take an active role in the proceedings. Throughout the entire course of the meeting I felt free to join in discussing the matters being considered. In addition, the attentiveness which I received reinforced my impression of their interest toward a student voice in fraternity affairs.

The board meets semi-annually at selected places throughout the nation. Their primary purposes are to formulate fraternity policy and make plans and decisions for the future operations of PAD. Every available working hour of this meeting was consumed by the business at hand. Any illusion of wine, women and song was replaced by water, work and study.

The agenda covered the entire gamut of programs offered by the fraternity as well as the problems which confront it. Examples of these are: expansion of the scholarship program, student membership on the Supreme Executive Board, and female membership. In dealing with these and other matters the board members were willing to recognize that there was a need to change existing policy. The different alternatives were considered and debated, a recommendation or motion was formulated, and provisions were made to resolve the problem or controversy in the best possible manner consistent with the goals, Constitution and By-Laws of the fraternity.

My overall impressions of the meeting and the men attending it were as follows: Our Supreme Executive Board consists of a group of highly competent, dedicated and forward looking men who sincerely believe in the ideals and objectives of Phi Alpha Delta. They appear to be constantly seeking new ways and ideas as to how they can improve the fraternity so that it will better serve its members. They are flexible, willing to accept and promote reform, and are concerned that the fraternity be relevant to the needs of today.

I have an increased awareness that one cannot realize the many benefits offered by Phi Alpha Delta unless he participates actively in the programs offered. To a great extent, participation stimulates thoughts and ideas. These in turn lead to reform. PAD is an excellent vehicle for professional growth and service."

DAVID M. PACK

Pack Becomes Attorney General of Tennessee

Brother David M. Pack was appointed Attorney General and Reporter of the State of Tennessee in September of last year.

Brother Pack became a member of PAD through McReynolds Chapter at the University of Tennessee where he obtained his J. D. Degree.

He is a former City Attorney for Gatlingburg, Tennessee. He was appointed Chancellor of the 13th Chancery Division in 1954 and served in that capacity until 1957 when he became Assistant State Attorney General. He served in that capacity until 1963 when he was appointed Tennessee State Highway Commissioner. He has also served as Commissioner of the Department of Insurance and Banking.

During the summer of 1969, a letter was sent to each PAD alumnus in the Houston area, requesting that he advise his wife of a meeting to be held to organize a wives club. On September 9, nine women met and agreed to give their wholehearted efforts to inform all of the PAD wives of the proposed organization. Each wife present took 60 names to call and find out if the wife was interested in being a part of the club. From the original list, a mailing list of almost 400 was determined. On October 21, 16 women attended a meeting at which a by-laws committee was appointed and temporary officers were elected.

By December 16 all of the groundwork was laid and a group met to accept by-laws, vote on permanent officers and officially name the organization the PAD Wives Association.

On January 20, 1970, Judge C. Raymond Judice, Supreme Secretary of the international PAD organization installed the officers and the PAD Wives Association was officially launched.

The 1970 officers are: President, Mrs. Sam J. Brown, III; Vice-President, Mrs. William B. Wharton; Secretary, Mrs. Richard A. Mayhan; Treasurer, Mrs. Thomas E. Lichenstein; Parliamentarian, Mrs. Michael L. Parks.

Operation LayProCon Hailed By State, Federal Legislators

Garland Chapter of PAD at the University of Arkansas School of Law has formulated a project known as LayProCon which has received the acclaim of Arkansas State and Federal legislators alike.

The State of Arkansas is in the midst of a study of a recommended new State Constitution and Garland Chapter has organized a team of students to take its study of the Constitution, a study which tries to present an accurate picture without either supporting or opposing adoption of the proposed Constitution, to meetings throughout the State. Through these meetings and through cooperation with various media, the project seeks to present an accurate picture of what the new constitution proposes to the Arkansas electorate.

The title "LayProCon" stands for Learn About Your Proposed Constitution. It is a public service project initiated by Garland Chapter alone and has met with tremendous success.

The idea originated as the result of concern among law students that the Arkansas populace did not fully understand many of the provisions of the proposed document such as the County Council, Right to Work and the Voting Age provisions. The goal of the project is to assist the citizens of Arkansas in becoming aware of the advantages and the drawbacks of the various provisions.

The project began March 15 with a program on television entitled "Face the State." The week of March 16-22 was officially designated "LayProCon" Week by Governor Winthrop Rockefeller.

Five member teams were set by the chapter across the State throughout the Spring. The State was divided into 14 geographical areas centered around the State and private supported universities, colleges and junior colleges. Each team spent a three day weekend in each of these areas speaking to as many groups as possible.

The entire project was highlighted by many radio and television appearances.

Congressman Wilbur D. Mills, an honorary member of Garland Chapter, spoke before the United States House of Representatives on April 7, 1970, regarding Operation LayProCon and a complete discussion of the program was placed in the Congressional Record of that date.

The entire project was under the very able direction of Chapter Justice Steve Clark.

Keep Your Voice Down!

By Thomas R. Charsee

(Mr. Charsee received his LL.B. at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., where he became a member of Taft Chapter. He is a retired trial attorney from the Internal Revenue Service and now resides in Elizabeth, New Jersey.)

President Richard M. Nixon said in his inaugural address: "In these difficult years, America has suffered from a fever of words; from inflated rhetoric that promises more than it can deliver; from angry rhetoric that fans discontents into hatreds; from bombastic rhetoric that postures instead of persuading. We cannot learn from one another until we stop shouting at one another — until we speak quietly enough so that our words can be heard as well as our voices."

How often do people shout when they are angry? No longer do lawyers raise their voices when they plead their cases before juries. They speak in low and calculated tones, because it has proved to be more effective. So when you speak keep your voice down or don't speak at all. Go placidly amid the noise and haste, remembering what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible, without surrender, be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly. And listen to others, even the dull and ignorant, for they too have their story.

It is well to avoid loud and aggressive persons. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain or bitter, for always there will be persons greater or lesser than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs for the world is full of tricksters. Be yourself and especially do not feign affection. I have seen people become very affected, simply because they attended a certain college or university. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. So keep your voice down and be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be. We are children of the Universe, no less than the trees and stars; you have a right to be here. And, whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the Universe is unfolding as it should. With all its shaf, drudgery, broken promises and dreams, conceit and loud voices, it is still a beautiful world.

The politicians are always shouting about helping the little man. This little man routine has irked people for a long time. Who is this little man the politicians keep talking about? There are not little people anywhere. Everybody I know is just as big as I am and maybe bigger. Just as big as everybody else, too. There are some poor people and some sad people, but do not have the courage to form their own opinions; some plain no good people, but no little people. Not in the sense it is used today.

There are plenty of big people around with little minds and little morals, and little aims and little ways of forwarding those aims. I would call a great many of our politicians little in the sense that their talents are too small for the jobs they assume. Mark Twain once said that one of the greatest men he ever met in his life was a bartender. Little people! They pay taxes and they vote, and they breed and they fight wars, when the big people, through their own crassness, involve us in conflicts carelessness, involve us in conflicts as a cheap solution to their own stupidity. Is a man little because he can't get into exclusive clubs or circles? Is he little because he doesn't own a pair of striped pants? Is he little because his grandfather was born outside the country, or because he cleans streets, or drives a truck, or never gets his name in the papers, except when it appears in the obituary columns.

To the best of my knowledge the little man has just as many eyes, ears and noses as the big people. He needs roughly the same amount of food, sleep and friendship. He catches the same diseases and when he dies he goes to wherever the big people go. By what right is he referred to as the poor man, or the little man, or as he Communists do it so charmingly, the masses. It occurs to me that Christ would qualify for the little man tag today, in that His parentage were humble people and He was a semi-skilled carpenter, and on occasion without a place to lay His head. There are no little people anywhere, except possibly the big and important people, who suckle in their own delusions of grandeur, and who lose themselves so permanently in the clouds of their delusion and they are contained to enshrine themselves as gods by peering down their noses at less lucky folk. There is no little or common man. All mankind is uncommon, at least to himself, and when you start to lump him in a mass, he gets as mad as a wet hen. That is when he hauls the big man down to the level that the big man sets, and then proceeds to kick his teeth in. The so called little man lowers his voice, keeps his cool, but carries a big stick.

Fletcher Chapter Activities

The end of the Fall quarter completed one of the most active terms in recent years for Fletcher Chapter at the University of Florida. The highlight of the quarter was the annual Phi Alpha Delta Homecoming Breakfast. One of the largest number of guests (200) in the history of the breakfast was in attendance. The master of ceremonies was C. Clyde Atkins, United States District Judge, Southern District of Florida, who with his humor and wit kept the activities moving at a lively pace.

Dean Frank E. Maloney greeted the guests and in his capacity as international Supreme Marshal welcomed those attending on behalf of the National organization. State Senator John Mathews was the guest speaker. He spoke on the educational needs of the state of Florida. Senator Mathews is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1970.

U.S. Rep. Claude C. Pepper and Mrs. Pepper attended the breakfast and presented to Malcolm Wisehart the Claude C. Pepper Award for scholarship and service.

After the breakfast, everyone adjourned to the now almost nationally famous annual production of the John Marshall Bar Association Homecoming Skits which were attended by one of its largest crowds. Following the skits and lunch, PAD alumni and guests attended the game and sat in a block furnished by the Fletcher Chapter. Rounding out the day after a Gator victory over North Carolina, the chapter had a cocktail party for the brothers and alumni, climaxing one of the best homecoming celebrations in chapter history.

Finally, to close out the quarter, Brother Bob Morris hosted a cook-out at his ranch on the world famous St. John's river. The day started with hunting on the 4000 acre ranch where all the native game of Florida can be found. The day was closed with all the guests and their families enjoying a beef barbecue prepared by Bob.

S.M.U. Chapter Makes Contributions to Law School

Taney Chapter of PAD at Southern Methodist University School of Law has made many contributions to the Law School during the past year.

The chapter has been working not only for the best interests of its members but also for the entire student body.

The chapter formulated a list of abbreviations and useful terms to be distributed among the first year class. This has been an annual program of the chapter and has been quite useful to all law students.

Taney Chapter also assumed the responsibility of editing and providing for the S.M.U. Law School Telephone Directories complete with nicknames of all law students. A graduate PAD has financially supported this effort.

The Chapter has sponsored, for members only, two luncheons at a reduced rate partially paid for by semester dues focusing on two critical and interesting areas for law students. The Assistant District Attorney for Dallas provided all PAD members with a stimulating presentation and discussion on current trends in the drug laws of this Country and the problems of enforcement of these laws. A well known tax attorney of Dallas attended the second luncheon and revealed some of the critical aspects of tax litigation.

As a service to all students at the law school, the chapter sponsored buses to all home football games.

In the area of civic concern Taney Chapter developed a program to reach high school students throughout Dallas. This program ties in with PADS National Program known as "Student to Student." The High School Forum provides a means for law students to visit high schools in an all-school assembly in which there is discussed contemporary social problems such as drugs, misdemeanor laws, traffic laws and the necessity of such laws. Sam Houston High School and Arlington High School have found the program to be especially effective and stimulating because the information is presented in a reasonable manner by law students, which is more acceptable to high school students than hearing the same information from a law student official. This program has been highly successful and will be expanded next semester to reach more schools in Dallas.

The chapter's rush has been especially effective during the last year. Parties have been held at the Dallas Bar Association in the Adolphus Hotel downtown. Films of interest were shown to law students and PAD Brothers who are now judges in the County Court presented the benefits and value of a legal fraternity. The most attractive feature of one of the parties was Miss Barbara Spect, Miss College Football of 1969, who gave prospective Brothers a clear indication of why they should pledge Taney Chapter.

Before Fall examinations, Taney Chapter initiated twice as many members as Phi Delta Phi, the other law fraternity at S.M.U. The initiation was given stature and authority by Judge Dee Brown Walker, a former International Officer. The initiation was held in his Courtroom and his personal participation gave the ceremony a touch of dignity which could only be bestowed on it by a man of Brother Walker's character.

To complete the activities of Taney Chapter this past year a plaque was formally presented to the student of the law school who recorded the highest improvement in his grade between the first and second semesters of his last year.

OLAF THORSEN PASSES

Brother Olaf M. Thorsen, a member of Corliss Chapter at the University of North Dakota, passed away recently. He was a past president of the Grand Forks County Bar Association and during most of his professional life was engaged in private practice.

District XVII Holds First Conclave

The first annual District XVII Conclave was held in Gainesville, Florida, on February 6th and 7th, hosted by Duncan U. Fletcher Chapter of the University of Florida. The Conclave had a true international flavor for the first time as a delegate was present from the de Diego Chapter of Catholic University located in Ponce, Puerto Rico.

District XVII is one of the newest districts and is comprised of the chapters in Florida and Puerto Rico. At the present time there is only one chapter in Puerto Rico but the groundwork has been laid at other universities with the hopes of further expansion.

The Conclave got under way on Friday night, February 6, with a welcoming party co-hosted by Fletcher Chapter in honor of its twenty new initiates. Workshops and the business meeting were the order of the day on Saturday. Conclave Justice Sidney Shapiro led the workshops under the watchful eye of District Justice Marvin Moss. Also on the agenda was the District oratory contest. The topic chosen was "The practice of law as an instrument of social change." Each of the participants gave excellent presentations. It was a hard choice, but the judges finally chose Grover Freeman, Justice of Fletcher Chapter, as the winner.

The Conclave was concluded on Saturday night with a banquet at which delegates and guests were given the double honor of being addressed by two current political figures in the State of Florida, State Senator Robert Haverfield, a candidate for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by Spessard Holland, and Circuit Court Judge Hal Dekle, a candidate for the Florida Supreme Court. Both gentlemen are PAD brothers.

The Conclave proved to be highly successful and all chapters are looking forward to next year's which is scheduled to be held in Ponce, Puerto Rico.

Two Outstanding Judges Initiated During District III Conclave

The District III Annual Conclave was held in Los Angeles, California, April 3-4, 1970, at the Airport Marina Hotel.

Highlight of the meeting was the Honorary Initiation of Justice John F. Aiso of the California Court of Appeal, and Judge Eugene F. Sax of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County. Following their Honorary Initiation both of the initiates responded indicating their pleasure to be a part of such an outstanding International organization of law students, lawyers, judges and government officials.

Attending the meeting were Supreme Justice Henry C. Rohr and Supreme Advocate Matthew S. "Sandy" Rae.

Kicking off the week-end meeting was a reception on Friday evening which served as an excellent ice-breaker.

Calling the meeting to order the next morning was Spencer E. Covert of Ross Chapter, Conclave Vice-Justice. He introduced the National, District and Chapter Officers, appointed a Nominating Committee and Resolutions Committee.

An interesting panel entitled "Young PADs Tell It Like It Is" took up the remainder of the morning. Participating were Alvin N. Loskamp, former Justice of Ford Chapter, National PAD Scholarship winner and a sole practitioner; Loren Miller, Jr. of Ford Chapter formerly Deputy Attorney General and now specializing in Civil and Criminal Litigation; Alan L. Rushfeldt, Ross Chapter, associated with the firm of Overton, Lyman & Prince, and specializing in Defense Litigation; John Vacca, Ford Chapter, Deputy Public Defender of the County of Los Angeles; and Jack R. White of Ross Chapter, formerly a member of the Board of Editors of the University of Southern California Law Review, now associated with the firm of Hill, Farrer & Burdill, specializing in tax and appellate litigation.

Ford Chapter Justice Sheldon I. Lodmer served as toastmaster for the noon luncheon. Extending the address on "The California Bar Commission" was PAD Dean Leo J. O'Brien of the Loyola University School of Law.

The afternoon session was moderated by John H. Sandoz, Justice of Ross Chapter. Participating in Chapter Workshops were the following:

Closing out the business portion of the Conclave was a report of the Resolutions Committee, the Nominating Committee and the election of District Conclave Officers.

The Conclave Justice, James E. Beal of Ford Chapter, served as toastmaster of the banquet in the evening. It was at that function that Justice John F. Aiso and Judge Eugene E. Sax were initiated as Honorary Members.

Eight Chapters Attend District VII Conclave

Forty delegates representing eight of the ten chapters in District VII attended the District Conclave held March 6-7 in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. National officers in attendance were Supreme Justice Henry C. Rohr and Supreme Secretary C. Raymond Judice. Also present were District Justice Walter Ray Phillips and Louisiana State University Law School Dean, Paul M. Hebert.

Registration and a cocktail party began simultaneously Friday evening at the White House Inn and were thoroughly enjoyed by all; however, a few absences were noted due to "motion sickness" which was attributed to, among other things, "bumpy" bus rides, "air pockets," etc.

Following an 8:00 a.m. breakfast on Saturday morning, the business meeting was opened by Brother Ralph Tureau, Conclave Justice (White Chapter), and a welcome address given by Bill Fleming, Justice of White Chapter. Chapter reports were presented and the topics of Rushing Techniques, Professional Programs, Finances, and Social Programs were covered during the morning session.

Opening the afternoon session, the Honorable Mack E. Barkham, Associate Justice of the Louisiana Supreme Court, delivered the conclave address on the well-received topic of "Clinical Legal Education and Specifically Law Students in Court."

Further topics of discussion were "Effective Use of Alumni, Effective Use of Members" (DJ Walter Ray Phillips), "Aids Provided by the National Office" (SS C. Raymond Judice), and the "State of the Fraternity" (SJ Henry C. Rohr).

A resolution was passed condemning using the blackball to keep potential members out of the fraternity because of personality conflicts. The delegates also expressed a desire to see women law students admitted into the fraternity. It was decided that next year's Conclave would be held in Lubbock, Texas.

After the meeting was adjourned, the delegates were taken on a tour of the new 2.3 million dollar LSU Law Center. The law school is a modern limestone and glass structure, which will accommodate 650 law students.

ST. LOUIS CATHEDRAL, one of the best-known religious structures in the nation, is as much a symbol of the New Orleans Quarter as the statue of General Andrew Jackson or the palm trees and azaleas of Jackson Square. The old parish church which first served New Orleans was destroyed by hurricane in 1723. The second burned in the Good Friday fire of 1788 which consumed four fifths of the city. The present Cathedral, constructed with funds supplied by a public spirited citizen, Don Andres Almonester Roxas, was completed in 1794 when New Orleans was a colony of Spain. It is the oldest cathedral building in the United States.

FUNERAL PARADE — Brass band parades at funerals are a unique part of the culture of New Orleans. Tourists who inquire about the jazz parades in the French Quarter occasionally learn of such funerals. The photo above was made at a procession for Kid Howard, a trumpeter. En route to the cemetery bands historically play dirges and hymns; returning, they turn the hymns into ragtime.

A LOVELY OLD NEW ORLEANS HOME — Many old New Orleans homes are opened to visitors each year. This home is one of the "raised cottage" type with the home elevated in a basement of brick. In sub tropical New Orleans that kept the building away from the dampers and admitted cooling breezes.

Baylor Chapter Hears Young Atty. Problems

On January 26, Baylor Chapter at Baylor University School of Law presented as its program a talk on the Problems a Young Attorney Faces in the Initial Practice of Law." The speaker was Coke Mills, a past justice of Baylor Chapter and a trial attorney in the city of Waco.

In attendance were members of the active chapter, PAD Dean Angus S. McSwain, Jr. of the law school, and Professor William Boswell and past dean of the Law School.

On the lighter side Baylor Chapter recently held a bowling tournament for active members of the chapter. Ten trophies were awarded as follows: one to the member with the highest total score for three games; another to the member with the second highest score for three games; four trophies to the team of four which had the highest aggregate score; and four trophies to the team of four which had the second highest score. Forty-eight members participated in the tournament.

Alexander to be Santa Clara Dean

Professor George J. Alexander of the College of Law at Syracuse University will become Dean of Santa Clara University School of Law next Fall.

Brother Alexander, 39, has been at Syracuse University since 1960 and has held other teaching and law research posts since graduating from the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1959. He has been the attorney in a number of cases raising important criminal, juvenile, matrimonial and constitutional issues.

He is a member of Carmody Chapter at Syracuse University.

Ford Chapter Hears Legislator of the Year

Ford Chapter at Loyola University Law School in Los Angeles recently hosted a luncheon program featuring California Assemblyman James A. Hayes as guest speaker. Assemblyman Hayes is the author of the new California Divorce Law which is now known as "dissolution of marriage." He spoke to those assembled at the Rodger Young Auditorium on February 13 on the major features of the legislation.

He was recently named "1969 Legislator of the Year" in California. He indicated that several other state legislatures are now studying and may join California in enacting the new concept.

Also in attendance was Jeff Cavanaugh, Assisant Dean of the Law School.
