Convention Acclaimed As "The Finest"

The 41st Biennial Convention of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity International, which was held in Kansas City, Missouri this past summer, proved to live up to its pre-convention publicity as one of the finest conventions the Fraternity has ever held.

An excellent turnout was expected and in the final count, representatives from 118 active and 32 alumni chapters registered with a total attendance of 350 persons.

In a break with recent tradition, the Convention was held over a weekend from July 30 to August 2. Our present International Justice Don Hutson, performed the duties of the local chairman for the convention and helped to develop many of the social activities that took place during the evenings.

Registration was held on Thursday afternoon prior to Friday's opening session. On that Thursday evening, a reception for all members and their families was held at poolside. A band, the Barristers, made up of local attorneys and led by a PAD, added entertainment. The function served as an excellent icebreaker so that the delegates could get to know each other before the convention officially began. A rainstorm threatened to mar the function, but fortunately, fair skies prevailed and good fellowship flowed freely.

Friday morning, July 30th, everyone gathered for coffee, sweet rolls and donuts just outside the official convention meeting hall. There they enjoyed large blowups of various pictures of Fraternity historical events. A number of displays were also available for viewing.

The convention opened at 9:00 AM with the processional of Supreme Officers and immediately thereafter, the lights were dimmed and a newly developed filmstrip entitled, "Phi Alpha Delta — A History" was shown. This pictorial history was produced by Bruce Kerner of Sammis Chapter and John Weitkamp of Ford Chapter. The narration was done by then Supreme Vice Justice Don Hutson. The filmstrip began by telling the story of the early origin of Phi Alpha Delta and traced its history over the years to and including the establishment of our 150th chapter at Inter-American University in San Juan, Puerto Rico and ended with a challenge for the future. The filmstrip ran some 21 minutes in length and was well received.

Supreme Justice C. Raymond Judice then gavelled the convention to order and immediately thereafter, the invocation was delivered by Bishop George J. Fitzsimmons, Diocese of Kansas City — St. Joseph. Brother Charles B. Wheeler, mayor of the city of Kansas City and an alumnus of Benton Chapter extended words of welcome to the conventioners and presented to the Supreme Justice the key to the city. This was followed by the introduction of all International Officers of the Fraternity.

A special presentation highlighted the first day of activities when the Hon. Tom C. Clark, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States (retired), and an alumnus of Taney Chapter, gave the Keynote Address. Brother Justice Clark captivated the delegates with a speech addressing itself to the problems and failings of a modern legal education. As might be expected, the student delegates applauded good naturedly at each criticism that Justice Clark made. Justice Clark also drew upon a personal experience he had which concerned a small town physician whose highest ambition was to be of service to his community. Justice Clark stated that this had been his philosophy over the years and challenged both the alumni and students present to work to make their local communities a better place to live.

New Chapters Welcomed

A special welcome to the convention was extended to those delegates of chapters chartered since the 1974 Convention and included: Arthur Chapter, Vermont Law School; Christianity Chapter, Cooley Law School; Fleming Chapter, Nova University; Monroe Chapter, Midwestern School of Law; Munoz Chapter, Inter-American University of Puerto Rico School of Law; Read Chapter, Delaware Law School; Waite Chapter, University of Dayton; Aloha Alumni Chapter, Hawaii and Puerto Rico Alumni Chapter.

those chapters which were reactivated during the past biennium including: MacLean Chapter, New England School of Law; and Burr Chapter Dickinson School of Law, both former Phi Delta Delta chapters, in addition to Cooley Chapter, Wayne State University; Hay Chapter, Western Reserve University; and Murphy Chapter, University of Detroit.

The Effective Chapter

Perhaps one of the most important and valuable portions of the Convention occurred on Friday afternoon following the opening session, with the holding of Chapter Workshops. The theme of the workshops was "The Effective Chapter." The programming covered a wide range of topics and was divided into four sessions, each conducted simultaneously. All active chapter delegates and alternates were divided into four groups and each workshop was given four times which enabled each delegate or alternate to attend each workshop.

The workshops included the following: Chapter Organization, Programming and Financing — chairman, Supreme Vice Justice Don Hutson; panelists, Supreme Second Vice Justice Donald R.

Hutson Elected To Top Post New Officers Are Installed

By unanimous vote of the 41st Biennial Convention, Don Hutson, one of Missouri's most outstanding trial attorneys was elected International Justice of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, International on August 2, 1977.

Our new International Justice was born in Kansas City on November 4, 1931 and graduated with honors from Central College, Fayette, Missouri, in 1953. He took graduate study work at the University of Missouri. Don has an outstanding voice which has stood him in good stead in his active trial practice. He was Missouri State Oratory Champion for two years and later was named the National Intercollegiate Oratory Champion.

He graduated with honors from George Washington University School of Law in 1958 where he received his Juris Doctor Degree. While attending law school he served as Justice of Jay Chapter and Student District Justice for the Washington, D.C. Area.

During his law school career, he also worked as Staff Assistant to United States Senator Stuart Symington.

After graduation, he became Assistant Prosecuting Attorney for Jackson County Missouri and since 1963 has been in private practice.

His extensive service to PAD includes: Supreme Marshal (1966-1968) Supreme Treasurer (1968-1970), Supreme Secretary (1970-1972), Supreme Advocate (1972-1974), and Supreme Vice Justice (1974-1976). Don also served as District Justice for the Missouri area from 1964 to 1966 and as the 1966 General Convention Chairman for the 36th Biennial which was held in Kansas City, Missouri. He is the author of the PAD Social Activities Guide, the PAD Chapter Activities Guide, the PAD Rushing Guide, the PAD Alumni Chapter Officers Manual and has served as Chairman of numerous committees including those on Conclaves, alumni activities, active chapter activities, student admission to practice, student advocacy, the Phi Delta Delta Merger, Effective Chapter and Professional Activities and Development.

Brother Hutson has the distinction of being the first International Justice of the Fraternity. Prior to the 41st Biennial Convention, the name given to the highest elected official of the Fraternity was that of Supreme Justice. The name change from Supreme to International became effective at our recent convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

He has twice been named in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, and his presently listed in Who's Who in the Midwest, Who's Who in the United States, and Personalities in the West and Midwest.

Don is married to the former Betty Switzer and has four children.

Kohn New Vice Justice

Stanley H. Kohn, a practicing attorney in Columbia, South Carolina, was elected International Vice Justice at the 41st Biennial Convention in Kansas City, Missouri. Prior to his election he had served as Justice of District XIX encompassing the states of South Carolina and Georgia.

Brother Kohn was born in Charleston, South Carolina on April 25, 1935 and obtained his BS degree from Clemson University and his JD Degree from the University of South Carolina School of Law.

While in attendance at the University of South Carolina, he served as Justice of Pinckney Chapter, as Business Manager of the South Carolina Law Review, and was a member of the International Law Moot Court Team. He also received the award as the Outstanding Active member in 1968 and was on the National Scholarship Committee in 1966 and 1967.

RAPPING WITH

Some people see things as they are and ask, "Why"? Let us dream of things that never were, and ask,
"Why not"?
George Bernard Shaw

For several thousand years, two distinct philosophies of government have existed. One is the belief that those who govern exercise that right by virtue of strength, "divine right," or historical imperative. Usually, this philosophy has resulted in one person (usually a man) or at most, a very few people, imposing their will and desires upon the rest of the population.

The second philosophy of government is that the decision as to whom should lead ought to rest with the general public and that they should have the right to choose not only who will govern but also how and under what terms and conditions.

Without question, the first philosophy of government has been the one followed by most people and most countries. Dictators, kings and other strong men fill the pages of history with their deeds and misdeeds.

The second philosophy has been infrequently practiced and, rarely, for more than brief periods.

For two hundred years, a comparatively brief time historically speaking, we in this country have attempted to practice the second philosophy of government. Have we been successful in that attempt? Sometimes. Sometimes not.

There is no guarantee that the collective wisdom of a people of a nation will prove to be historically correct or beneficial.

However, it is a dead certainty that if the people do not utilize the right to choose their leaders, then the system will fail by default.

As members of a professional legal organization, we tell ourselves and the people with and for whom we work that one of the great things about American citizenship is the right to participate in our government. The words sound good and true, but when less than 50% of our eligible population has the interest or takes the time to vote, who's kidding whom?

On Tuesday, November 2, 1976, what will be at the top of your "to do" list?

As a regular part of this column in future issues of the Reporter, we will print member's questions posed to the International Justice together with my response. If you have some fraternity, law related, or other matter you would like to ask or comment about, drop a note to Don Hutson, P.O. Box 3217, Granada Hills, California 91344. Only signed questions or comments will be printed. Let me start this exchange of ideas by asking you some questions.

1. What should be the Fraternity's role in the next decade?
2. How can PAD better serve you, your Chapter or your law school?
3. Why did you join PAD?
4. What is your greatest pet peeve with the way your law school operates?
5. What general subjects would you like me to comment on in this column?

Chapter Services Are Expanded

The International Executive Board takes pleasure in announcing the continued expansion of services to active and alumni chapters through the appointment of three new Executive Secretaries. All three were present at the recent International Convention held this past August in Kansas City, Missouri where they took advantage of the opportunity to begin establishing contacts among both the student and alumni delegates. A coincidental geographic balance was struck as one hails from Virginia, one comes from Kansas and the other has lived the majority of her life in Northern California.

Chapter visitations have already been undertaken by all three with special emphasis being placed on reactivation at those schools which chapters are currently on inactive status. The Fraternity is already receiving the benefits of their labor in that four reactivation ceremonies are already being planned for this semester and their visits have just begun.

Jamoia Moberly

One of our new appointees is Jamoia Moberly, an alumnus of Temple Chapter at Hastings College of Law in San Francisco. She graduated Cum Laude in 1972 while receiving her B.A. degree in Philosophy from the University of California at San Diego. Not one to

PHI ALPHA DELTA: A HISTORY

by C. Raymond Judice, Chairman, Supreme Advisory Board

(In November 1977, Phi Alpha Delta will celebrate its 75th anniversary. So that all members will have a better understanding of Phi Alpha Delta, the History of the Fraternity is being published in serial form. This is the fifth installment.)

Part V of IX

The Years Of

Challenge

Postwar Recovery And Growth

World War II was over. But it left behind deep scars on mankind in general and Phi Alpha Delta in particular. At war's end the fraternity had six active chapters remaining.

But the Supreme Justice issued words of optimistic encouragement: "Fortunately, your Supreme Chapter is in a better financial condition than that which marked its position after the last war. By rigid economy your Supreme Chapter has managed to carry on its activities and still maintains, and adds to, a nest egg which will provide the financial nucleus for a resurgence of Phi Alpha Delta which will demonstrate its leadership in law fraternity circles . . ."

The fraternity then embarked on a concentrated drive to reactivate chapters which had become inactive during the war years. The Supreme Executive Board, in resuming publication of The Reporter, decided to continue using the same newspaper format that had been in use temporarily during the war years, reasoning that its lower cost would allow mailing copies of the paper to all members and thereby help to re-ignite interest.

These efforts met with immediate results. Benson Chapter at Washburn University was reactivated April 16, 1946. Benton Chapter at the University of Missouri at Kansas City had remained active during the war years but bounced back with new life. Blackstone Chapter at Chicago-Kent had also remained active, but quickly experienced a resurgence. Capen Chapter (later to be renamed Matt I. Sullivan Chapter) at the University of San Francisco was reactivated May 23, 1946. Chase Chapter at the University of Cincinnati likewise was quickly reactivated April 3, 1946.

Clay Chapter at the University of Kentucky was guided back to full active status through the organizational talents of Brother George W. Evans, the only member to return from military service. Simultaneously, reactivation occurred for Corliss Chapter at the University of North Dakota, and Dunbar Chapter at the University of Washington.

Fletcher Chapter at the University of Florida was reactivated in March, 1945, by Brother Harry P. Edwards, the first member to return from military service. Ford Chapter at Loyola University of Los Angeles survived the war with flying colors, maintaining an average chapter roster of 25 members throughout the war years. Garland Chapter at the University of Arkansas likewise survived the war in good fashion, as did Green Chapter at the University of Kansas.

Reactivation was necessary for Fuller Chapter at Northwestern University, Gunter Chapter at the University of Colorado, Hammond Chapter at the University of Iowa, Harlan Chapter at the University of Oklahoma, Hay Chapter at Western Reserve University, Holmes Chapter at Stanford University, Hughes Chapter at Denver University, Jefferson Chapter at the University of Virginia, and Kent Chapter at the University of Idaho.

Reactivation was also the order of business for Knox Chapter at the University of Arizona, Lamar Chapter at the University of Mississippi, Magruder Chapter at the University of Illinois, Martin Chapter at Tulane University, and Morgan Chapter at the University of Alabama.

Lurton Chapter at the University of Louisville, Rapallo Chapter at New York University, and Reese Chapter at the University of Nebraska remained active throughout the war years.

Also reactivated were Ross Chapter at the University of Southern California, Ryan Chapter at the University of Wisconsin, Sutherland Chapter at the University of Utah, Taft Chapter at Georgetown University, Temple Chapter at Hastings College of Law, Watson Chapter at Cornell University, and Willey Chapter at the University of West Virginia.

Additionally, many other chapters had plans underway for reactivation soon after the war's end. And, new chapters were installed at Duke University (Rutledge Chapter) and the University of Miami (Rasco Chapter).

National officers were therefore justly proud when delegates from approximately 50 chapters registered for the twenty-sixth biennial convention, meeting at the President Hotel in Kansas City, Missouri, in 1946.

(Coincidentally, the gathering was eight years to the day from the last (pre-war) convention, in the same city, same hotel, and same meeting room.)

The delegates rolled up their sleeves and plunged into the work at hand, the records report. First, the new newspaper format of The Reporter was formally approved. Plans for a new directory were pushed.

The delegates went on record directing the Supreme Executive Board to submit to the appropriate committees in Congress a plan calling for divorcing courts martial from the control of the commanding officers of the armed forces of the U.S., and simultaneously establishing an independent staff of professionally trained men under the Judge Advocate's office.

The Supreme Executive Board was realigned to include the Supreme Justice, Supreme Vice-Justice, Supreme Second Vice-Justice, Supreme Secretary, Supreme Treasurer, Supreme Historian, and Supreme Marshal. The Supreme Executive Board was required to thereafter meet at least once a year.

The twenty-seventh biennial convention of Phi Alpha Delta convened in March, 1948, in Los Angeles. Delegates were in attendance from 56 active and eight alumni chapters.

At the direction of the twenty-sixth convention the Supreme Treasurer had considered the question of incorporation of the fraternity. At this convention he recommended that the fraternity be incorporated in the state of Illinois. However, after extensive discussion, the convention declined to order such incorporation, but rather referred the matter to each individual chapter for confirmation or rejection.

This convention considered what was probably the most controversial constitutional amendment at the time ever presented to a fraternity convention. This amendment, submitted by Holmes Chapter proposed to eliminate the words "of the Caucasian race" from the Constitutional provisions for membership.

The Constitution and By-Laws Committee, chaired by Past Supreme Justice Rex Hardy, considered this proposal at some length and reported its recommendations to the convention as follows: of the twelve members of the committee, eight signed the majority report which recommended that this provision be submitted to a plebiscite of all members of the fraternity; the minority report, signed by three members requested immediate convention consideration of this proposed constitutional change; one member of the committee abstained from signing either report.

Both reports, majority and minority, were debated at great length in the open session. After a luncheon recess, the convention resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole to consider this matter. After reconvening as a convention, the majority report was adopted and the Supreme Executive Board was directed to conduct a plebiscite of all members of the fraternity. A summary of the arguments as expressed at this convention was to accompany the ballots. The results of this plebiscite, as reported in the March, 1949, issue of The Reporter were: As to the first proposition, "Shall the words 'male' and 'Caucasian' be eliminated from the constitution where such words appear as a qualifying factor for membership in Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity?" Yes — 747; No — 2,068. As to the second proposition, "Shall the word 'male' be eliminated from the constitution where such word appears as a qualifying factor of membership?" Yes — 719; No — 2,005. As to the third proposition, "Shall the word 'Caucasian' be eliminated from the constitution wherever such word appears as a qualifying factor of membership in Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity?" Yes — 1,198; No — 1,645.

The total number of votes cast out of a mailing of 15,580 was 3,298 or about 20%. (It is interesting to note that the subsequent convention in 1950 did in fact remove the Caucasian clause from the constitution.)

Election of officers at this convention saw Douglas L. Edmonds elected Supreme Justice; E. A. Taylor, Supreme Vice-Justice; Charles Tom Henderson, Supreme Second Vice-Justice; A. A. McDowell, Supreme Secretary; Anthony P. Savarese, Supreme Treasurer; Giles E. Miller, Supreme Historian; and Nicholas L. Dunbar, Supreme Marshal.

Following the Los Angeles convention, the Washington office of the fraternity was closed and moved to Los Angeles.

Growth was to continue for Phi Alpha Delta. Field Chapter at the University of California at Berkeley was reactivated in 1949. Sullivan Chapter was installed at St. Louis University, Hull Chapter was installed at Cumberland University in Lebanon, Tennessee, and R. E. B. Baylor Chapter was installed at Baylor University in Waco, Texas, all in 1949.

Also, the Martin Chapter at Tulane University was reactivated, and the Tall Corn Alumni Chapter in Des Moines, Iowa, and the Pinckney Chapter at the University of South Carolina were installed.

The following year was equally active. Champ Clark and McKinley Chapters, at Washington University in St. Louis and at Ohio State University, respectively, were reactivated. Two new active chapters were granted to More Chapter at Creighton University in Omaha, Nebraska, and to Brantly Chapter at the University of Montana. Three new alumni chapters were installed in Atlanta, Denver, and Milwaukee.

The twenty-eighth biennial convention opened on a crisp Autumn day in the Fall of 1950 at French Lick, Indiana. Sparking the convention was an address by Associate Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court Tom C. Clark in which he announced the establishment of a Phi Alpha Delta clerkship program in the Supreme Court.

Among action taken by this convention was a resolution to allow advertising in The Reporter.

Next, the convention undertook the question of removal of the racial restriction on eligibility for membership. After lengthy debate and discussion — in which it became quickly obvious in many cases that delegates were acting in conformity with instructions from their chapter membership — a vote was called.

Of the total of 138 votes cast, 97 voted to remove the restriction and 41 voted to retain it — the amendment was declared passed.

Phi Alpha Delta was once again the leader. It was the first major law fraternity to remove racial restriction as to membership. It was again to lead the way, when in 1970 at the New Orleans Convention, it removed the sex restrictions and became the first major law fraternity to admit women into membership.

Phi Alpha Delta had survived the ravages of the depression of the 1930's and the effects of World War II.

Building upon the foundation of its founders and their successors, it had met the challenge of its "years of adversity." It had met the challenge and prevailed.

Emerging from World War II with but six surviving active chapters and a depleted treasury, the basic strengths of the fraternity had served to pull the organization through this period of greatest adversity.

Now, in 1951, its active chapters numbered 72, and it could look forward with assurance and self-confidence to gain its predestined place of prominence with the legal community.

Buses left the hotel at 6:00 P.M. and upon arriving at the barbecue area, were met by a mounted posse. A country western band was present to play all the favorites, if you happen to be a Country Western fan and impromptu square dancing broke out on the dance floor.

graved on a large shovel along with past recipients of this award., which included former President Harry S. Truman. "The Bovine Scoop" is presented to those individuals who have proven themselves adept at "shoveling it."

Beer and soft drinks were consumed in abundance, after which the conventioners lined up for an authentic western barbecue which some people complained was a little too authentic and necessitated the consumption of additional quantities of beer and soft drinks.

The real fun began when the group walked en masse to a rodeo ring to watch the presentation of a supposedly authentic western rodeo. The performers were caught off guard by the response of the crowd. Quite independently of each other, large groups took it upon themselves to boo the cowboys when they successfully roped a calf. This threw off one individual's timing and he was unsuccessful in roping the calf, which resulted in tumultuous cheers from the PADs. It was easy to see that the spectators were rooting for the "under-dogge."

Several students volunteered to fulfill their Walter Mitty dream of becoming cowboys by setting out on horseback and attempting to rope calves, proving once and for all for everyone present that they were correct in deciding to keep law as their profession.

The highlight of the evening came when Supreme Justice C. Raymond Judice, with reckless disregard for his own personal safety, entered the riding pen and mounted what had to be the world's oldest Brahma bull. Fortunately for all concerned, Justice Judice survived this adventure unscathed, although it was rumored that he did not sit down for the remainder of the Convention.

Obviously throughout the duration of the Convention, numerous unscheduled social functions preceded and followed the official ones. The stamina of some delegates was amazing over that four day period. For although parties may have lasted all night, there was still excellent attendance at all business sessions, committee meetings and workshops.

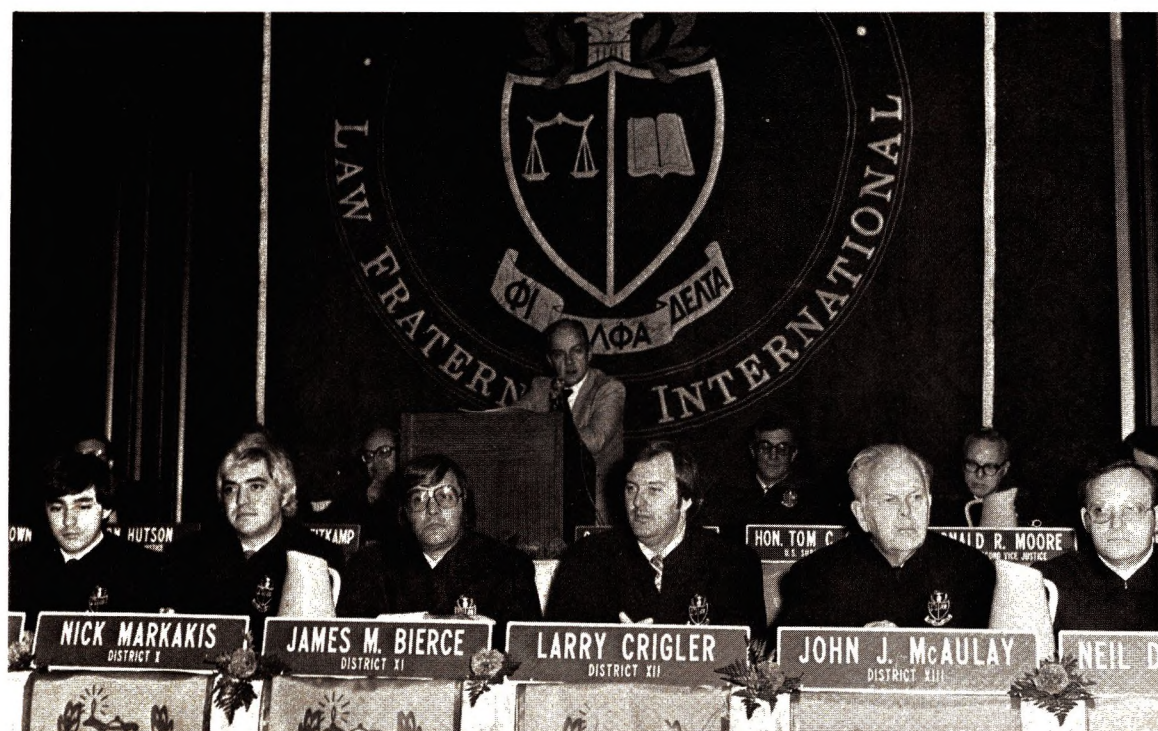

Model Initiation

The Saturday morning session began with a model initiation. A revised Ritual was used and a special Convention committee was appointed to compare this Ritual with that presently being used by the chapters. The initiation team included: Constance Ross, Justice of Cardozo Chapter; Larry Cravens, Justice of Hull Chapter; Marie Von Krosigk, Justice of Hickman Chapter, Curtis Barlow, Vice Justice of Garland Chapter; and Pat Madden, Justice of Hammond Chapter.

Participants in the role of initiates during the ceremony included Clark Bachman, Benson Chapter; Linda Elrod, Professor of Law at Washburn University and member of Benson Chapter; Megan Heath, Benson Chapter; Dave Plinsky, Benson Chapter; and Ron Williams, Benson Chapter. In addition, two PAD spouses were initiated and became members of PAD at that time. Howard Ross of Vancouver, British Columbia and Kay Clark of Fayetteville, Arkansas received the best wishes of then Supreme Parliamentarian Enid Ross and District VII Justice J. Steven Clark. Also initiated was Ken Yates, of the law office of our International Justice Don Hutson.

Following the initiation ceremonies, the Hon. Clarence M. Kelley, Director of the FBI and alumnus of Benton Chapter, was scheduled to speak. Unfortunately due to medical reasons, he was unable to leave Washington, D.C. and in his place, an Assistant Director of the FBI, spoke to the alumni and students.

The afternoon of Saturday, July 31, was spent in Committee Meetings. Each convention delegate was assigned to a specific committee. The assignments were made Saturday morning and the delegates worked diligently throughout the rest of the day. The committee topics were as follows: Credentials, Rules and Resolutions, Audit and Finance, Rushing Aids, International Expansion, Publications, Professional Service, Loans, Scholarships, Awards, and Fellowships; and Constitution and By-Laws.

PADDY IS COMING

That evening's activities were kept unstructured. Buses were made available so that the delegates might visit the River Quay, an area of restaurants, bars and discoteques. One such bar, Huck Finn's, became the unofficial headquarters that evening for delegates from District VIII which encompasses the State of Texas, although foreigners from California also made an appearance and were warmly greeted.

Many convention delegates struck out on their own and attended the Kansas City Royals baseball game. An exciting matchup saw the host Royals go down in defeat.

Sunday morning was kept free for most delegates. However, the special committee appointed to study the revised Ritual met at this time and approved the new Ritual as presented the previous day at the model initiation. The remainder of the day was taken up by a general business session at which time the first reports of Convention Committees were presented and discussion and action were taken.

"You Can't Take It With You"

After recess of the business session at 5:00 p.m., the delegates prepared to depart for the "Waldo Astoria" Dinner Theater to see a presentation of "You Can't Take It With You." Hungry and budget minded delegates took this opportunity to take advantage of an "all you can eat" feast which preceded the play. Also, prior to the actors making their appearance, the waiters and waitresses put on a singing and dancing show of their own. In truth, there was something for everyone that night.

Alumnus Brother Terrence Jordan was heard to remark that this Convention made a lasting impression on him. It seems that while driving his own car to the River Quay, he made the tactical error of following one of the buses containing convention delegates. The bus driver inadvertently made a wrong turn and attempted to rectify this by backing down a freeway on-ramp. Unfortunately, Brother Jordan's automobile presented a slight obstacle and his full size car was transformed into a compact. Shouts of TORT emanated from the bus containing 60 celebrating law students. Another bus driver who was following remained calm when she approached the site of the accident and since the road was blocked, and knowing the desire of the delegates to reach the River Quay, she rectified the problem by proceeding forth over a road divider and driving the wrong way down a one way street so that she might run a red light and drop off the delegates.

At 7:30 Monday morning, each District met for a District Breakfast. At this time, delegates were selected to represent their district on the nominating committee.

The afternoon business session was taken up with the completion of committee reports and the action thereon, and the election and installation of International Officers.

After the convention had formally adjourned, the International Executive Board met on Tuesday and Wednesday to implement the action directed by the 1976 Convention.

As the delegates and officers of the Fraternity reflect on this past convention in Kansas City, they can justly feel a sense of pride in the accomplishments that they have made towards seeing that Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, International, remains the foremost legal fraternity in the world. The companionship and fellowship which was expressed by all PADs attending was an additional bonus that was received by all those who participated in this, the finest Convention that Phi Alpha Delta has ever hosted.

THE CHAPTER WORKSHOP ON BUILDING CHAPTER STRENGTH was presided over by Panelists Supreme Historian Ladson Hart, Supreme Advocate Frank McCown and Supreme Marshal Jack Miller.

DISCUSSING THE TOPIC, "EXECUTIVE OFFICE SERVICES" during the chapter workshop sessions were panelists, Supreme Secretary Charles H. Taylor, Executive Director Fredrick J. Weitkamp and Executive Secretary Joseph W. Ripinger.

ONE OF THE CHAPTER WORKSHOPS which was of primary interest to delegates was that on the topic of "Placement." Shown above are panelists Greg Beck of Temple Chapter, Past Supreme Justice Sandy Rae and International Placement Director James E. Freeman.

EXPERTS ON THE TOPIC OF CHAPTER ORGANIZATION, PROGRAMMING AND FINANCING imparted information ideas and suggestions to those attending the workshop. Shown above are, Supreme Second Vice Justice Donald R. Moore, Supreme Vice Justice Don Hutson and Supreme Treasurer Dalphine MacMillan.

Membership Increase Program Announced

As the Reporter goes to press, letters are being written to every active chapter by International Justice Don Hutson announcing the inauguration of a contest to increase chapter membership.

The goal is for every chapter to accomplish a 1/3rd increase in initiated chapter membership over its membership as of April 15, 1976.

The ten even numbered Districts will compete against the ten odd numbered Districts. Winning will be based on the percentage of chapters on each side who achieve the goal.

Special International achievement awards will be given to:

A. Each chapter in the District that increases its membership by 1/3.

B. Each chapter in the District where all chapters in the District increase membership by 1/3.

C. The chapter with the greatest increase in total membership.

D. The chapter with the greatest percentage increase in membership.

Those District Justices on the winning side will have a steak luncheon at the July, 1977 joint officers meeting and those on the losing side will eat beans.

Progress reports will be carried in each issue of the Reporter as well as PAD Notes. Final results and award winning chapters will be announced at the close of the school year.

The goal should be easily attainable for in the last school year the total number of persons initiated into the Fraternity was 1/3 more than the preceding year.

As this article is being written word has come into the Executive Office that one chapter, Ford Chapter at Loyola University School of Law in Los Angeles will initiate 99 new members on October 2. Let's all pitch in and do a job this year. If we do then the Fraternity will be the winner and that, of course, is everyone's goal!

Old Copies of the Reporter Needed

The Executive Office needs copies of the May 1969, October 1972 and December 1972 issues of The Reporter. If any members have copies of these issues and are willing to send them to the Executive Office, it would be greatly appreciated. They will be maintained in the archives of the Fraternity.
