I would like to take this opportunity to commend Phi Alpha Delta for its dedicated involvement in the Law Related Education Program.

To effectively reduce youth crime and delinquency requires the dedicated and active participation of the legal profession, law enforcement community, and many concerned citizens. By working together we can achieve a significant reduction in drug abuse that will better permit all our residents to live a fuller and more productive life.

The support and genuine concern of Phi Alpha Delta offers further hope that the battle against drugs can be won. The sincere commitment and professional leadership of PAD deserves our sincere respect and deep appreciation.

Please accept my best wishes for every success in the future.

Most cordially,

George Deukmejian

CALIFORNIA GOVERNOR LAUDS PAD Shown above is a letter received from PAD Governor of California George Deukmejian commending PAD for its involvement in Law Related Education.

PADs Admitted To High Court in Special Ceremonies

A number of members of PAD were admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States at the annual PAD Day at the Supreme Court on June 3, 1985. Their admissions to the Bar of the nation's highest court were moved by Miss Alice O'Connell as the highlight of the 19th annual PAD Day at the Supreme Court.

Miss O'Donnell is Director of Inter-Judicial Affairs and Information Services at the Federal Judicial Center and Past Chairman of the Judicial Administration Division of the American Bar Association.

Preceding the ceremony, the Fraternity sponsored a reception and continental breakfast at the Court in honor of the new admittees and a luncheon followed at the Rayburn House Office Building. Participants in the program were Chief Justice Warren E. Burger; International Justice Stanley H. Kohn, past International Justice Robert E. Redding; and Dr. Mark Cannon, Administrative Assistant to the Chief Justice.

Administrative Law Judge (retired) Donald R. Moore, a past International Vice Justice of the Fraternity, acted as Chairman and toastmaster for the day. Sheldon C. Hoffman, past Justice of the National Capital Area Alumni Chapter, delivered the invocation.

Other members of the Arrangements Committee included District XVII Justice Marni Byrum and past alumni chapter Justices Frank Cacciapaglia, Jr., Dennis D. Kirk, and William B. Robertson.

L.A. Alumni Claim a First

The Los Angeles Alumni Chapter recently claimed a first in the history of PAD when it initiated two members into the alumni chapter pursuant to amendments to the International By-Laws which were adopted at the August, 1984 International Convention. Prior to the By-Law amendment, only student chapters could initiate members.

The two persons recently initiated are Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Ricardo Torres, and Los Angeles attorney Phillip Poole, Jr. Past Supreme Justice Matthew S. "Sandy" Rae presided as initiating officer.

Also present at the initiation were International Historian Joe Deems, International Field Representative Nora Barson, District III Justice Alexandra K. Mells, outgoing alumni chapter Justice Stephen Fluharty, and incoming Justice Gallagher.

Granddaughter Becomes Brother

Katherine Mary Bergenthal, granddaughter of Cecil Bergenthal, was recently initiated into Monroe Chapter of PAD. To the knowledge of the editor of The Reporter, this is the first instance where a grandfather and granddaughter have become members of the Fraternity, thus making the granddaughter the brother or sister of the grandfather.

Errata

The picture contained on Page 4 of the February, 1985 issue of The Reporter indicated that the initiates pictured were of Stephens Chapter, University of Georgia, whereas, in fact, they were new initiates of Russell Chapter of Georgia State University.

Now That You Mention It . . .

. . . the most exciting, yet unheralded, program benefit of PAD membership is our annual PAD Day at the Supreme Court . . .
. . . it is sponsored by the National Capital Area Alumni Chapter . . .
. . . chaired by Judge Donald R. Moore, a former International Vice Justice . . .
. . . and is presented in all of its dignified and traditional splendor suitable for a ceremonial event at the United States Supreme Court . . .
. . . PAD members are individually introduced to the Court and formally admitted to practice . . .
. . . Chief Justice Burger, also a PAD member, spends personal time with the entire group . . .
. . . extends a welcome on behalf of the Court, and engages in personal chit-chat with all present . . .
. . . and has his picture taken with the admittees, and poses for individual pictures, too . . .
. . . autographs the program booklets . . .
. . . and other PAD dignitaries in the D.C. area attend, even the International Justice is present . . .
. . . followed by a Reception and Luncheon in the House Office Building . . .
. . . it is the best Fraternity event I have attended in many, many years . . .
. . . those who attended and participated, and those who may attend in the future, will never forget this outstanding singular professional experience.

Professor Duane L. Faw (Former Marine Corps Brigadier General) Retires

Duane L. Faw, Professor of Law at Pepperdine University School of Law and Faculty Advisor to Shepherd Chapter, was recently honored by Shepherd Chapter on the occasion of his retirement.
Professor Faw is a former Brigadier General, United States Marine Corps retired. A native Texan, he rose from Seaman Second Class in the Navy to become the first Marine Corps lawyer promoted to Brigadier General. He became the Staff Judge Advocate for the Commandant of the Marine Corps and headed the Judge Advocates of the Marine Corps from August, 1969 until his retirement from the Corps in September, 1971.
Along the way he was a Naval Aviator with 179 combat missions in World War II. A commanding officer of two battalions and a regiment (infantry) and a Deputy Chief of Staff of the Third Marine Amphibious Force in Vietnam.
Professor Faw has been an enthusiastic supporter of Shepherd Chapter and the following is an address which he delivered before Shepherd Chapter some ten years ago. That address is still applicable today.

Once upon a time there was a man who sought the "meaning of life." He looked everywhere, and for many years. He went to churches, mosques and synagogues and got no satisfactory answer. He turned to the occult, to clairvoyants, and attended seances, but still found no satisfactory answer. Finally he heard of an obscure guru in far-off Tibet whom — he was told — knew the meaning of life. The man quit his job, sold everything he had, and set out on a long pilgrimage to Tibet. After a long journey to a remote village he followed a dim trail into the mountains to a small simple cave. There he came face to face with the guru. The man gave as a present to the guru an object which he had purchased with the last penny he had. Then he asked the question. "Tell me, wise guru, what is the meaning of life?" Thereupon the guru held out his fist, palm up, and slowly opened his wizened fingers. "Life, my son," he said "is a lotus blossom." The man waited for more, but none came. In dismay he asked, "You mean life is only a lotus blossom?" To which the guru replied, "Well, isn't it?"
All of us are looking for meaning in life. Perhaps, there is no single answer. But here are some interesting comparisons.
Life is like an unknown quantity of sand in a bag with a hole in it. You have only your own hands to do what you will with the spilling sand — and you can touch only that sand which pours out — and only until the bag runs out.
Life is a tank of water with a single unpluggable drain, and no faucet or other way to change the flow. You can only use the water as it runs out of the drain — until the tank runs dry.

Life is a clock with a single prewound spring and no way to wind it further. You can do with it what you will while the hands keep moving.
These are simple ways of saying man's days are numbered. And every one of us spends one full day of life every 24 hours.
But what do we spend it for? What do we have to show for it?
All of us wish to obtain the best bargain we can when we spend the time of our life.
There is a word in the motto of Phi

Landau Becomes District XXI Justice

Jerry G. Landau, a private practitioner in the Phoenix, Arizona area, has been named by the International Executive Board to succeed Stan Jones as District XXI Justice. Brother Jones, who has served for a number of years as District Justice, passed away suddenly earlier this year.
Jerry Landau is a graduate of Cleveland Marshall College of Law where he became a member of PAD. He has worked extensively with the Arizona State Legislature in drafting DWI laws and has testified before various legislative committees on the subject.

Alpha Delta which gives a key to the answer to the question "How can I best spend my life?"
The Word is Service:
There's no more significant secular word in the English language. It represents the highest altruistic ideal known to man. P.A.D. has chose it as a theme —
Service to Law Students
Service to Law School
Service to Legal Profession
One of the great tragedies of our modern American society is that it has derogated vast amounts of service to meniality. It has made work appear undesirable, and hard labor a mark of failure.

We Americans have a tendency to look down upon the man who works with his hands instead of his head.

We look down upon the woman who provides cleanliness to our immediate environment.

We look down upon those who work where it stinks, where it is hot, where it sounds bad or looks bad.

We do not see in these menial tasks the noble mark of service.

I suspect there is no such thing as menial work! There are only menial-minded people.

I suspect all honest work is sacred, ennobling, exhilarating. To those who see it in proper light.

But to see any beauty in work one must first see the virtue in service.

Service by its very nature is to subordinate one to another.

It assists someone in some manner.

It places another's interests above one's own!

It recognizes that service is always a part of a greater whole.

It is therefore a wise and noble fraternity which builds its cornerstone on service.

We members of P.A.D. should be proud that our fraternity recognizes, specially, the law student and his or her needs, the law school and its needs, and the legal profession and its needs, and holds them up as worthy of our service.

What P.A.D. has said is that these three things are worthy of our investment of our time; indeed, of our expenditure of our life.

In a sense, P.A.D. has chosen to become a microcosm of the brotherhood of man. In fact, the word "fraternity" means "brotherhood." We have chosen to serve our closest fellows.

A wise Galilean Jew taught that service to one's fellows is the highest concept of brotherhood. He cast himself in the role of the suffering servant.

The highest honor which a state can bestow is not a gift, but a recognition: a recognition of service to the brotherhood which is the state.

What greater way to "spend" one's life than in service? And what greater training for service than P.A.D.?

It was a great Supreme Court Justice, Hugo Black, who captured the essence of what I am saying in a few words. Black said "At the end of life we shall not be asked how much pleasure we had in it, but how much service we gave; not how happy we were, but how helpful we were, not how ambition was gratified, but how, in love, we served."

For it is really true: "He who would be greatest among men, let him be server of all."
