Public Service Has Special Meaning For Hughes Chapter

The Hughes Chapter at Denver University annually sponsors two blood drives. This year, however, the blood drives had a special meaning. Last May, we learned that our brother, former Hughes Chapter Marshal, Craig Negler was diagnosed with leukemia. Craig is now in need of a bone marrow transplant. PAD Hughes Chapter Vice Justice Chris Andaya, and Clerk

Katherine Markheim Lee along with Student Bar Association President, Carolynne White, organized the bone marrow drive in addition to the blood drive. Several thousand dollars were raised to fund the cost for the test.

With help from the DU student body, over 200 bone marrow tests were performed and deposited with the National Marrow Donor Registry. In addition about 100 pints of blood were donated to Belle Bonfils Memorial Blood Center. International Secretary J. Derek Hill, and District Justice Rhonda Hill were also instrumental in our efforts to raise donors as well as funds. We are pleased to report that Craig has found a bone marrow match.

Profiles In Excellence Carmody Chapter — On The Move In '92

Phi Alpha Delta Carmody Chapter, at the Syracuse University College of Law, is definitely on the move in 1992-93. Since returning to school in August, Carmody chapter has been going non-stop, bringing programs and services to the school and the community it serves.

In September, Carmody chapter sponsored a Blood Drive at the Syracuse University College of Law, drawing over 50 people. Both students and faculty alike came to support this event.

In October Carmody chapter sponsored "Opportunities '92" a job placement symposium aimed at helping students find a job in the legal field of their choice. Twelve different speakers from around the region came to share their experiences, and give students advice on how to approach looking for a job. Some of the featured speakers included:

- Ellen Zablan, a prominent Sports Agent, and the only female agent working in the N.F.L., who spoke on Sports Law & Sports Agency.
- David Greenspan, Director of Business Affairs and in-House Counsel for TROMA, Inc., who spoke on Entertainment Law.
- Jeff Rupp, a Capitol Area Phi Alpha Delta Alumni who works for the Department of Transportation in the Office of the Assistant General Counsel for International Law. He spoke on the topic of International Law.

In all, a total of over 400 students attended this symposium, which lasted the entire month of October, and two weeks into November. All of the students who attended felt they were greatly helped by the advice given to them by attorneys practicing in the "real world."

To further help fellow students, Carmody chapter set up a 1L Counseling session, where 2L & 3L members helped quell the fears of the first year students worried about upcoming exams. Carmody chapter also sponsored a Course Counseling session, where 2Ls and 3Ls shared their experiences in certain classes, helping each other decide what classes to take during the Spring semester. Questionnaires were distributed and filled out, to keep an ongoing record of teachers and their rating by students.

Also during October, Carmody chapter sponsored a Halloween party for the children staying at the Ronald McDonald House near Syracuse University. Over 200 children were in attendance for a 50s motif party. On November 16, 1992, Carmody chapter initiated 27 new members at the Onodago County Courthouse. Past Justice Keith Ebenholtz came back to Syracuse specifically to speak at the ceremony.

Wrapping up the fall semester activities, Carmody chapter sponsored a "Tree of Light" for the Salvation Army, in the Law School Lounge. This tree allowed law students to share their good fortune with those less fortunate than themselves. Special guest appearances by Santa helped keep everyone in a festive spirit throughout finals.

Carmody chapter kicked off its winter semester rush with its first annual "Wipeout Weekend," where festivities included a day ski trip to Song Mountain, and a social night at O'Tooles Pub. Later this semester Carmody Chapter will also be hosting the District XIX Conference.

For the coming months, Carmody chapter has many more events planned. Some of these events include adopting a whale through one of the conservation groups in the area, and the possibility of having attorney Jay Foonberg (who spoke at the Scottsdale Convention) give a presentation to the Syracuse College of Law.

Congressional Judicial Reception What A Party!

On March 31 the National Capital Area Alumni Chapter held its annual Reception honoring members of Executive, Judicial and Legislative Branches at the Rayburn Building in Washington, DC. "This year's event was the best yet in terms of attendance by VIPs, alumni and students," remarked District XXIII Justice Annette M. Wencil.

Among the most notable honored guests in attendance were Virginia Governor. Douglas Wilder, United States District Court, D.C. Circuit Chief Judge, John G. Penn and Congressman Charles Taylor, a past International Justice. The NCAA honorarily initiated Congressman Howard Coble at the event, while earlier in the evening the Taft Chapter from Georgetown University held an initiation of its own.

"It was great to see this event come together after all the hours spent planning," remarked Nicholas A. Mirkay, chair of the reception. "It was great to see our Board Member Curtis Anderson and Associate Tribune Deborah Davis in attendance. Without their support and the support of individuals like Annette Wencil success would not be possible."

The reception, attended by some 150 legal professionals, was so successful students requested similar events to be planned. Events like this epitomize the full service programming PAD strives to achieve.

CLE Program Focuses On Sexual Harassment

A topic that was once taboo is increasingly in the news and on the list of things to worry about for corporate counsel and other attorneys charged with advising public and private employers. It is Sexual Harassment in the Workplace and that is the title of a Continuing Legal Education Seminar being sponsored by Phi Alpha Delta in conjunction with PAD Day at the Supreme Court. The Seminar is scheduled for Saturday, June 6, 1993, the Saturday immediately preceding the swearing in on Monday of PAD Attorneys from all over the country to practice before the Supreme Court.

The seminar is being organized by the staff of the PAD Public Service Center, Capitol area alumni volunteers, and members of the Taft Chapter at Georgetown University Law School. The seminar will be held at Georgetown Law School and proceeds from the seminar will go to the Public Service Center to assist the center in its non profit mission.

The seminar will focus on Intervention Steps to Take Before and Incident Leads to Litigation, Case Law Update, Damages, and Ethical Considerations for the Practitioner. The Faculty will feature Cathie A. Shattuck, of Epstein Becker & Green, P.C., who served on the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission under President Reagan and recently published a treatise entitled, The Employer's Guide to Sexual Harassment; Jonathan R. Topazian, of Fitzpatrick and Verstegen, who practices in this area; and Susan Morris, of the Office of Equal Opportunity, U.S. Army Electronics Command, Fort Monmouth, NJ, who is Chief of the Office of Equal Opportunity.

PAD is applying for CLE credit in states surrounding the District which have a CLE requirement as well as in New York, Texas and other states with a large number of bar members working in the DC area.

The program is scheduled to run from 8:30 A.M. to 1:00 P.M. The cost is $65.00 for members who have paid their 1993 PAD alumni dues and $80.00 for all others. For those who do not take advantage of advance registration, the fee is $90.00 at the door. You may register by sending your check, made payable to the PAD Public Service Center, to the PSC at 1511 K. Street, Suite 611, Washington, DC 20005. Questions may be directed to the PSC at (202) 638-2898.

Sutherland Chapter is a Good Neighbor

If any chapter of Phi Alpha Delta epitomizes the moto of service to the student, the law school, the profession and the community, it is Sutherland Chapter at the University of Utah College of Law.

Under the expert guidance of Helen Kathryn, Justice, Sutherland Chapter has excelled in each of these areas. Sutherland Chapter charges no chapter dues, yet provides hundreds of dollars of food, drink, fun and instruction to its members.

In service to the student, Sutherland has presented outlining seminars, an exam seminar, a moot court seminar, the "outlines on disk" program, and second-year scheduling advice to the PAD members as well as the college of law student body. Sutherland chapter also recognizes that all study and no fun can make for dull students in the classroom. So, PAD sponsored the Martin Luther King Movie Day where Separate, But Equal was shown. Due to an increasing number of non-traditional students, Sutherland initiated a PAD family night out for roller skating and family fun.

On the more serious side of life, Sutherland Chapter has jumped in with enthusiasm. Already this year, members have hosted a blood drive at the law school, cleaned the Phi Alpha Delta stretch of Highway 80, co-sponsored a divorce mediation seminar and a Common Ground lecture about the Utah abortion debate, donated more than 400 pounds of food to the food bank, offered Alternate Gift Giving during the Christmas Holidays, and taught "at risk" high school and junior high children about the Bill of Rights.

Future plans include a second food drive, the fourth annual turkey barbecue to raise charity funds for the Ronald McDonald House, a seminar featuring a local attorney offering advance legal research, and co-sponsoring the law school student directory with the Student Bar Association.

In all, it seems an exhausting list of accomplishments. But, with 35 new members this year, an increase of 77% and a new Sutherland Chapter record, Phi Alpha Delta at the University of Utah College of Law has just begun to reach new heights of professionalism, service to the student, the University and the community.

An Opportunity To Be Heard

Have you ever had the fascinating experience of being in a small airplane and flying over the community where you live. You get a new perspective on your community. You see it in a different way. Or have you struggled for hours to put a jigsaw puzzle together, and then decided to get up and look at the puzzle from the opposite side of the table. Suddenly you see the place for that troubling piece you have been trying to fit for the last 20 minutes.

That is also the way it is with human life. Sometimes we face a difficult problem and are unable to see a solution. The harder we try to resolve the problem, the more difficult it seems to get. We seem to be getting nowhere. But if we look at the problem from another perspective we can often perceive a way to resolve it.

Your International Executive Board in its Winter meeting took this approach in seeking solutions to problems that have remained unresolved for many years. In seeking new ways to address our Fraternity's operations, funding and programming in the past we have often sought International solutions. Our focus now is to view our International operations from our members' perspective.

In order for your International Executive Board to seek to improve our Fraternity, and to do an even better job in exemplifying our matters, Service to the Student, the Law School, the Profession and the Community, we want input from you, our members. Throughout our organization, our membership – Pre-Law members, Law School members or Alumnus members, and whether as a Chapter or as an individual member – can greatly enhance our Fraternity's future by informing our Executive Board on ways and means to make PAD more vital, more meaningful and more relevant in the future.

Therefore, I invite each of you to write me to share meaningful and positive ways PAD can make your life in the law a more meaningful and rewarding experience. I, in turn, will pass on your suggestions to our Executive Board, for study and action; and together we can make our Fraternity grow and prosper in a direction that will reflect the interest of our members.

I look forward to reading your letters, and to building PAD through your perspective with your assistance and contributions. Have a great Spring Rush, and plan early for a great 1993-94 school year. When we all meet in Convention assembled in 1994, I know we will look back on this Biennium with pride as one of the best in our history. With your active participation, PAD will be stronger and more relevant.

Fraternally,
NORMAN M. OWEN

P.A.D. ADOPT A PRE-LAW PROGRAM

In the late 1970s P.A.D. conducted extensive research which uncovered a tremendous need for information among thousands of undergraduate students interested in law school and the legal profession. Law School administrative officials pointed out that students were quite often ill-prepared for the rigorous transition from undergraduate school to law school.

In addition it was discovered that the entire process of preparing for the LSAT, choosing a law school, and undergoing the law school application process could be frustrating and intimidating for many undergraduate students who lacked adequate information upon which to base their decisions. Each year these problems are personified by many undergraduate students who forego other educational or career alternatives to enter law school, only to find that law school is not what they expected and not what they want to do with their lives.

In an effort to "bridge the gap" which exists between undergraduate school, law school, and the legal profession P.A.D. developed the ADOPT A PRE-LAW CHAPTER PROGRAM. P.A.D. Law School and Alumni Chapters are encouraged to work with and provide help to P.A.D. Pre-Law Chapters.

Since its implementation the program has been a huge success. One specific example is the Big Sibling — Little Sibling program which has developed between the Pre-Law members at California State University, Sacramento (C.S.U.S.) and the Clair Engle Law School members at McGeorge School of Law.

The idea behind the program is simple: pair up law school and Pre-Law students so that Phi Alpha Delta Pre-Laws will have a more accurate perception of the law school lifestyle. Once the pairs were formed, the course of relationship is left to the individual students.

Recommended activities include law school campus tours, Pre-Law attendance in first year classes, discussions regarding law school admissions policies and Pre-Law visitations with their assigned law students at the law student's place of employment. Pre-Law students are encouraged to accompany the law students to the Clair Engle Chapter's "Day With A Judge" program and discuss relevant legal issues and procedure.

Students were teamed up at a bar-be-que held at the home of C.S.U.S. Chapter Officers, attended by approximately twenty law students and twenty-five Pre-Laws. One pair, Engle Chapter Director of Publicity Dana Mitchell and C.S.U.S. Chapter Vice President Pat Henning, traded chapter t-shirts on the spot.

Overall, the Pre-Law adoption program has been well received. The program provides the Pre-Law with a positive Phi-Alpha Delta experience, encouraging them to pursue active participation in membership and positions of leadership as law school members. And, law students are provided the opportunity to act as mentors to their Pre-Law partners and share their law school experiences.

PAD Attorneys Team Up With CRADLE

Under a program funded by the US Department of Education, PAD PSC will assist with a workshop in July 1993 sponsored by the Center for Research and Development in Law Related Education (CRADLE).

The conference will take place at Wake Forest University Law School in Winston Salem, North Carolina where CRADLE is located. PAD will assist state LRE Coordinators in selecting the attorney participants.

The attorneys will team up with teachers from their local communities to build a LRE partnership.

Attorney participants will be trained to make effective LRE presentations in the classroom, to identify and motivate other community resources for the teachers with whom they are paired, and to understand the special need of the gifted learner. Attorneys will also be trained in the curricular offerings of the PAD PSC.

Teacher-lawyer partners will work for a year developing and testing lesson plans and creating an internship program that places students with professionals in the community. The training conference will occur from July 7-12 with the attorneys attending from July 9-12

Attorneys interested in participating in this project or any other PAD PSC project should call PAD PSC for more information.

PS Form 3526, Dec. 1987

(See instructions on reverse)

NCAA Helps Law School Chapters Identify Potential Honorary Initiates

The National Capital Area Alumni (NCAA) Chapter embarked on a major initiative to help active law school chapters to identify potential honorary initiates and to prepare the applications for these distinguished persons. The goals of the initiative were to (1) increase the number of Honorary Members of the Fraternity, and (2) remind active chapters that alumni chapters can be tremendous resources if properly approached.

Prior to the 1992 International Biennial Convention the NCAA identified 68 U. S. Senators who were not affiliated with any law fraternity. The NCAA prepared applications for honorary membership for each of these unaffiliated Senators and submitted the applications to the International Board prior to the International Convention. The International Board pre-approved these applications with the understanding that the paperwork would be offered to the law school chapters in the state from which each Senator hailed, and those chapters would be given the first opportunity to initiate their Senator.

This initiative expedited the process for approval because the NCAA prepared the petitions, and the law school chapters know in advance that a particular person is approved by the International Board. It should also be obvious to the active chapters that there are many other potential honorary initiates available, especially with the recent general election.

At the Convention the NCAA spoke with each District Justice and made an announcement during the General Session about the program and the applications to publicize the potential honorary membership petitions.

The NCAA encourages all of the Active Law School Chapters to file petitions on other potential honorary initiates, making sure to obtain the International Board's approval prior to contacting the individual. With the recent general elections behind us, it should also be obvious to the active chapters that there are many other potential honorary initiates available: new U.S. Senators, Congressmen/Congresswomen, Judges, Governors, Attorneys General, and other persons of distinction in the field of law.

The International Executive office prepared a manual for the 1992 International Convention "Alumni, Faculty & Honorary Membership." Use this manual to identify existing and potential Honorary members, then fill out the petition (included in the manual and in each Chapter Clerk's manual), and seek the International Board's approval right away. This is a way each Chapter can make a difference.

Pre-Law Chapters Chartered

Welcome to the newest members of the P.A.D. family. Pre-Law Chapters number 129, 130 and 131 at the University of Pennsylvania, Pasadena City College, and Salisbury State University have recently received their charter. Presiding at the University of Pennsylvania ceremonies was International Board member Curtis M. Anderson who was assisted by Margaret Cumisky. Anderson returned to the scene of his undergraduate studies in Philadelphia for the occasion. The Pennsylvania chapter has forty-four charter members.

Within a matter of days, a similar ceremony was held in Pasadena, California. International Advocate Shelley A. Weinstein led the ceremony and was ably assisted by District III Justice Marci L. Bolter. Thirty new members participated in the proceedings and signed the roll as charter members.

Our most recent Chapter's chartering took place at Salisbury (Maryland) State University. The proceedings were capably handled by District XXI Justice David Benamy. He welcomed 17 new members to Phi Alpha Delta.

Our Pre-Law program has grown dramatically since its inception in 1981. International Justice Norman M. Owen noted, "that our Fraternity has been able to provide a valuable service to thousands of undergraduate students through the pre-La program. I am gratified that this program has become such a success."

PRE-LAW PROGRAM TO HIRE FULL TIME COORDINATOR

Applications and nominations are now being accepted for the position of Pre-Law Coordinator. The International Executive Board, at its February meeting, authorized the change from the present part-time position of Pre-law Director. Noting the tremendous growth in the program, the International Executive Board concluded that a staffing change is required to maintain and sustain further growth.

The Pre-Law Coordinator reports to the Executive Director. He or she is responsible for the operation of the program in existing chapters, expansion, planning Pre-Law Conferences, managing the Pre-Law budget and working with the Pre-Law Advisory Council. The Coordinator is responsible for Pre-Law publications, including the very successful "Law School - Look Before You Leap."

Good communication skills are required along with a desire to work with and relate to college students. Ability to motivate and an understanding of the dynamics of P.A.D. and its purposes and goals are a plus.

The position is open on July 1, 1993. Resumes along with a letter of interest should be submitted to Dalton W. Menhall, Executive Director, Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, International, P.O. Box 3217, Granada Hills, CA 91394-0217.

Phi Alpha Delta's House Hunt

Every July the Timberlake Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta coordinates, with the assistance of the Admissions Office, a house hunt for entering first year students and transfers. About fifty to one hundred and twenty new students attend each year. The House Hunt is generally held the second or third weekend in July. This allows students who were on the waiting list to take part after being accepted.

The new students arrive Friday afternoon. Friday evening there is an informal dinner at the Law School. After dinner representatives from local apartment complexes tell the new students about their respective properties, followed with a question period. A casual party is scheduled later in the night to allow the new students to meet each other and find prospective roommates.

Saturday morning there is a brief meeting after a continental breakfast at the Law School. At the meeting the students are asked if they want to room with particular people and which apartment complexes they prefer to visit. Each of the students, and his or her prospective roommate, are assigned to a P.A.D. member who will drive the new student(s) to the chosen apartment complexes to visit.

The full day of apartment hunting is followed by an informal picnic at the Law School. Many of the administration, faculty and alumni have attended in the past and are always welcome to attend in the future.

This worthwhile service project has proved to be very popular and well received by all involved.

Awards of Excellence

Join Phi Alpha Delta Public Service Center in honoring those attorneys, law students and chapters who volunteer in the public interest by nominating those who have made significant contributions to our law related educations and public service programs. Three awards will be given out this year.

The LRE Advisor Distinguished Service Award recognizes a PAD PSC Law Related Education Advisor for his or her outstanding contribution to law related education during the preceding year. The Outstanding LRE Student Service Award recognizes a PAD member for his or her contribution to a law school chapter LRE program. The Outstanding LRE Program Award recognizes a chapter for its development and implementation of a quality LRE program in its community.

Nominations for both the LRE Advisor Distinguished Service Award and the Outstanding LRE Student Service Award are due to PAD PSC by the close of business on April 30, 1993. Each nomination should include 1) the nominee's resume; 2) a letter outlining the reasons for nominating the person for the award including details of the services performed by the nominee; and 3) a maximum of three letters of recommendation from individuals who are knowledgeable about the nominee's qualifications to receive the award. Self nominations are welcome.

Outstanding LRE Program Award applications are also due on April 30, 1993. Applications will be sent directly to Chapter Justices, LRE Advisors and State LRE Coordinators. Any chapter interested in applying can contact PAD PSC for more information. All chapters are encouraged to apply.

Awards will be announced in late spring of 1993.

Phi Alpha Delta Members Offered Money & Time Saving Opportunities

January 1, 1993 marks the kickoff date of Phi Alpha Delta's new campaign to enroll members in association-sponsored insurance programs.

Phi Alpha Delta offers a variety of plans, specifically designed for members.

Negotiating as a large group, Phi Alpha Delta has considerable bargaining power. And members may be surprised by the positive results.

Executive Director Dalton Menhall states, "Phi Alpha Delta's insurance programs are an attractive means for members to round out their personal insurance portfolios. We make available quality coverage at group rates often below the cost of comparable individual plans."

Members are eligible to apply for the following plans:

- High volume Term Life
- $1,000,000 Excess Major Medical
- Hospital Cash Plan
- Long-Term Disability
- Office Overhead Expense

The plans are underwritten by only the largest and most stable insurance carriers. Members can take comfort in knowing every underwriter is required to rate "A" or higher by insurance analyst A.M. Best in order to qualify as a Phi Alpha Delta insurance provider.

"Additionally," says Menhall, "when a member is insured in one of Phi Alpha Delta's plans, he or she can count on quality service. Our administrator knows us and understands our members' needs. Frankly, members need never worry about being treated like just another number. There's just no price tag you can place on that kind of convenience."

Any member seeking more information is invited to call PBA Inc., Phi Alpha Delta's insurance administrator at 1-800-328-3323. Trained representatives can explain specific plans and forward applications.
