The Spa at Doral, where gracefully curving staircases and Italian marble floors reflect the charm and grace of the classic era.

The Doral Golf Resort and Spa in Miami, Florida has been selected by the International Executive Board as the site for Phi Alpha Delta's 51st Biennial Convention. The Convention will be held during August 6-11, 1996.

The Doral is located on 650 acres of beautifully landscaped grounds. It features 81 holes of golf, 667 guest rooms and suites, 60,000 square feet of meeting space, two heated outdoor and one heated indoor swimming pools, a fitness center, and a world-class spa.

"The Doral is the finest combination of meeting space and recreational facilities I've seen in my eleven years with PAD," commented Director of Operations, Steve Moriarty.

The Doral is the home of the PGA's Doral-Ryder Open. Its "Blue Monster" Course was rated as one of Florida's ten-best by the January, 1996 issue of Golf

SMART START HELPS ATTORNEYS AND LAW STUDENTS

By Tim Orr

PAD Smart Start Coordinator

According to recently published law review articles and Bar Association surveys, one of every five young attorneys in the United States exhibits symptoms of substance abuse. American Bar Association statistics show that approximately 60 percent of attorney discipline cases involve some sort of chemical dependency or abuse, including alcohol abuse.

While it would be foolish to believe that all attorneys who face discipline or malpractice begin to be absorbed into chemical dependency only after law school, the law school environment can create an atmosphere which fosters substance abuse. All too often, law students fall into an environment and make individual choices about their own drinking/drug use that enables dependency and

THE INTERNATIONAL JUSTICE

Why ATTEND CONVENTION?

While on my way to my first Convention in 1972, I speculated on what I would encounter.

Would I find elderly lawyers reminiscing? Or law students out for a good time? Who would be there? I reasoned there couldn't be more than 75 or 80 — most students worked, and why would lawyers or judges come? Was this Town and Country the California equivalent of a Jersey motel?

I knew only three people who would be there: Mike Harwin, then the Executive Secretary and now a California Judge; Frank McCown, my District Justice who later became International Justice; and Alex Hotchkiss, the Supreme Justice who installed my chapter.

Upon arrival, I found a magnificent Hotel and Convention Center. I was treated like a long-lost brother by PADs I had just met, and was put at ease by the warmth and friendliness of everyone present — almost 400 PADs!

After Tuesday's reception, and Wednesday's opening ceremony (where a Supreme Court Justice addressed us), I felt as if we all were with good friends and understood that we are an important force in the legal community.

The next day really convinced me that I had made the right choice in attending. We really did determine PAD's course during the next biennium! Committee reports on major topics such as the Phi Delta Delta merger, and minor things like directing the Executive Office to supply materials to chapters, were considered and voted on by the Convention.

During the balance of Convention we debated reports, determined how PAD would be run, and who would run it. All of this was done within the context of fraternal caring. Saturday brought tearful good-byes, and promises to "keep in touch".

When I boarded my plane, I realized that I, a second-year law student, made a significant impact on a then-70 year old organization. I had also made more good friends and invaluable contacts than I could hope to make in a normal year!

Today, when I look at the 1972 Convention photo, I can count at least 40 attorneys, judges, congressmen and professors with whom I can speak to ask a question, refer a case, or simply say hello.

That week in 1972 was the most valuable of my professional life, and the dividends continue to accrue today. I hope you will attend The 51st Convention at The Doral. I guarantee it will be an experience you won't forget. It may be the most important week of your professional life.

PAD PSC News

The Public Service Center (PSC) will be closing its Washington, D.C. office and moving to the International Executive Office in Granada Hills, California.

Michael Harwin, a former PAD Executive Secretary and current Los Angeles County Superior Court Judge is the new PSC Executive Vice-President. Judge Harwin will oversee the PSC's daily affairs.

Leslie Johnson will coordinate Law Related Education. Leslie served as the Justice and Vice-Justice of Green Chapter at the University of Kansas. She is licensed in California and worked in private practice before joining the PSC.

The PSC's mailing address is now the same as the International Executive Office. The PSC's toll free number (800/835-4865) remains the same and daily operations will continue as usual.

KANSAS CITY AND SAN DIEGO ALUMNI REACTIVATED ON SAME WEEKEND

The strength of Phi Alpha Delta Alumni continues to grow, as Alumni Chapters in Kansas City and in San Diego were reactivated during the same February weekend.

The Kansas City Alumni Chapter held its reactivation events on Friday, February 23, 1996. Presiding over the reactivation was Reactivating Justice Filbert Munoz (Benton). Membership of the newly reactivated Kansas City Alumni Chapter has already reached 64 members, and is still growing.

The Kansas City Alumni used Benton Chapter's Brown Bottle Reception as a jumping off point for reactivation. Sister Teresa Rieger served as the Alumni Liaison between Benton and the Kansas City Alumni and generated interest among the PADs present in reactivating the chapter.

The San Diego Alumni Chapter held their reactivation ceremony on Saturday, February 24, 1996 in the Ceremonial courtroom at California-Western School of Law in San Diego. Presiding over the reactivation were International Vice-Justice Clifford Schechter, Past-Supreme Justice Matthew "Sandy" Rae (L.A. Alumni), and International Field Representative Ed Anderson.

Sister Carmen Mosier served as Reactivating Justice. Also present were International Treasurer Shelley Weinstein, District III Justice Nora Barson, and Past-District III Justices John Weitkamp and Alexandra Mells. More than twenty members of the Los Angeles Alumni and Beaumont Chapters were also present for the ceremony.

Following the ceremony, the newly reactivated chapter hosted a reception in the California-Western reading room, adjacent to the courtroom.

PADs in the Kansas City or San Diego areas interested in joining the chapter in their area should contact the Executive Office for more information.

International Vice-Justice Clifford Schechter (Wormser) passes the ceremonial gavel of the San Diego Alumni chapter to new Justice Carmen Mosier (Dooley). San Diego Alumni Chapter Vice-Justice Amber Eck (Burton) looks on.

abuse. With this in mind, PAD has recognized that measures need to be taken to address alcohol and drug abuses that afflict law students.

Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity International's Public Service Center, along with George Mason University's Center for the Advancement of Public Health, several law schools, and the Department of Education's Fund for the Improvement of Post-Secondary Education, have been participating in an effort that gathers data and actively seeks solutions to the problems of chemical dependency and abuse among law students. Smart Start, the official name for our collective efforts, travels around the nation presenting workshops on alcohol and drug abuse. For the program to work, law schools commit themselves to addressing the problem and the Smart Start program provides the impetus and resources to expand current efforts.

The program's focus is maintained on law students' individual responsibilities and law school administrations' obligations to their students. Preventing abuse, not limiting moderate consumption, is the program's immediate goal. From Smart Start's perspective, abuse results from a failure of both the law school environment and individual choice. In addressing these problem areas and the deleterious impact associated with chemical dependency and abuse while students are in law school, PAD's motto of Service to the Law School and the Profession is implemented by helping law schools produce better lawyers.

For more information about the Smart Start program and how to implement the program on your own campus, contact the Public Service Center at (800) 835-4865 or via the Internet at padpscla@aol.com.

Officer Transitions

*... You don't have to reinvent

With Spring comes officer elections for most law school and pre-law chapters. The transition to new officers can be a vulnerable point for any chapter, but there are a number of things you can do for a smooth and successful transition:

Schedule and conduct a Transition Meeting for all old and new officers.

Complete and file a Roster of Officers (Form C) with the Executive Office. Include summer and permanent addresses, telephone numbers, and e-mail addresses for each officer.

Transfer all Accounts to the new Treasurer and Justice or President.

Transfer office and locker keys.

Notify school administration, Faculty and Alumni Advisors of elections.

Transfer Manuals to the new officers.

Transfer Ritual Paraphernalia such as banners, gavels, books of the roll, etc.

Law school chapters should elect Convention Delegates and ensure they receive all mailings, bulletins, registration and credentials information.

Transfer information on recurring events (golf tournaments, court use, parties, judge's nights) so new officers won't have to "reinvent the wheel."

File a Budget with the appropriate school entity. Many schools require filing before the end of the year.

Determine Fall Orientation date(s) to plan rush during the summer.

Determine whether your school will let you include PAD information in the mailing to incoming students. If so, make certain to find out the deadline for turning in materials for the mailing. At a minimum, include a welcome letter and application.

Contact the Executive Office to determine whether your chapter has any Pending Problems that should be cleared up before officer installation.

DORAL GOLF RESORT

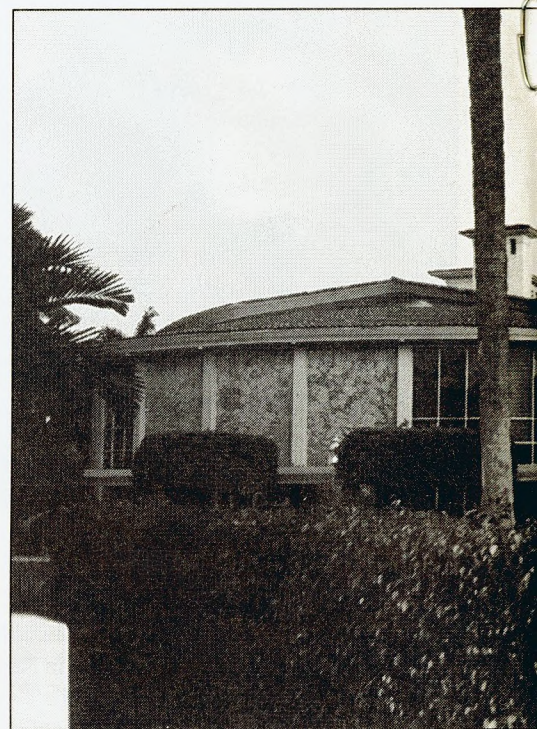

Miami, Florida – August 4, 1996

Convention will tee-off this year with the Public Service Center Golf Classic on Sunday, August 4, 1996.

The Golf Classic will be held on the Doral's Red Course and a $10,000 cash prize will be awarded to anyone sinking a hole in one on the eleventh hole. Cruises and airline tickets can also be won for aces on other holes.

This is the second time that our Convention has been highlighted by a golf tournament, and the first that this tournament will benefit the PSC. The Golf Classic is open to all PAD members and their guests.

Information on registration and sponsorship has been mailed to PAD alumni in the Miami area, and details are available through the Executive Office. Those outside the Miami area may contact Ed Anderson at 800/835-4865 for registration and hotel accommodation information.

Not only does the Doral feature world-class golf and spa accommodations, but also a fine dining restaurant.

'96 CONVENTION FUNDED THROUGH

International Board Member Alan Zerkowicz has been appointed to chair a Committee charged with helping Phi Alpha Delta raise the additional monies necessary to fund an outstanding convention. Since August, the committee has been working to enhance the Convention experience for all members.

District III Justice Nora Barson is spearheading efforts toward a Convention Trade Show. She and Past-District XX Justice Robyn Kobrin are designing a trade show to bring the latest products for lawyers and law students to our members. Convention attendees can tour the show, discuss programs and sample products. The trade show could lead to professional opportunities for some, as many companies are looking for campus representatives.

District VI Justice Gary Smolen is leading efforts to rejuvenate the Souvenir Ad

Journal. Each Convention attendee receives an Ad Journal which includes the Convention schedule, biographies of PAD officers and staff. This year, thanks to District XIII Justice Jim Erwin, District XX Justice Steve Savva, Fleming Chapter Alumni Advisor Bobby Howell, and former Vinson Chapter Justice Dave Kight, the Ad Journal will include coupons and discounts from Miami businesses, greetings between members, districts, and chapters, and photographs of chapters, officers and friends. Gary reports that they are planning for the largest ad journal yet.

Pre-Law Director Carol Duncan will host a silent and a live auction during the Convention. She is soliciting prize donations to be auctioned off during "Casino Night" festivities. Past prizes have included a hotel room and four tickets to see the Rolling Stones, and use of an Aspen con-

Finally, District XV Justice Bruce Phillips is working to compile an exciting new membership benefit—a directory of legal service providers. This is a new project, and Bruce has worked many hours with District XXII Justice Jeff Klein to refine the concept. Listings will include nearly every imaginable service used by the legal profession. This directory will be provided free of charge to all law student members, dues-paying alumni members, and a number of recent graduates. It will be published annually, with the first issue set for January, 1997.

The Committee needs your help to make each project a success. To participate in any of these projects, contact Alan Zelkowitz or the Executive Office. The addresses are on page two of The Reporter.

Members traveling to the Doral can also get 45% off of a full-fare first class or a full-fare coach ticket. Discounts can be obtained by providing PAD's special Reference number "NSVRE1" and Z Code "ZWEU".

"Continental's convenient flights will help convention attendees avoid the delays of the Atlanta Olympics, and bring them to Miami with as little hassle as possible," said Executive Director Maree Blackston.

Complete details are available through the International Executive Office and members are encouraged to call for details.

MORE THAN 100 MAKE 1995 CHICAGO PRE-LAW CONFERENCE THE LARGEST YET

By Carol Duncan
PAD Pre-Law Director

The 1995 Pre-Law Conference was held in Chicago on October 6-8, 1995. The conference was a complete success with over 100 pre-law students, law students, faculty, and alumni in attendance.

Attendees arrived on Friday, October 6th to register at the prestigious Union League Club of Chicago. Most students spent the afternoon at the Law School Admission Council-sponsored Law Forum learning about law schools from across the nation. The official Conference events began Friday evening with the Phi Alpha Delta Model Initiation Ceremony at which several conference attendees were initiated into the Fraternity. Following the ceremony, everyone enjoyed a fun-filled evening of 50's style food and music at Ed Debevic's, a Chicago go tradition.

Saturday began early at DePaul University, where students heard from various speakers on issues of concern to them as they pursue law school. The seminar included information on the law school application process, writing personal statements, Law School Aptitude Test review, words of wisdom from students currently in law school, and much more. Students even learned about the Socratic Method by participating in a true-to-life law school class!

Everyone enjoyed an evening out, Chicago style, Saturday night. At dinner we were treated to real Chicago pizza at Gino's East, known as the finest in the city. After dinner, the evening was spent laughing (and booing!) the talent at a local Comedy Club. In addition, everyone enjoyed an impromptu tour of Chicago when one bus driver made a wrong turn on our return to the hotel. Thanks to the expert navigational skills of Sister Randa Ismail, then Blackstone Chapter Justice, we were soon back on track!

Sunday morning, interested students toured all of the Chicago-area law schools. They were able to ask local PAD law student members about specific schools and about law school in general.

The conference ended Sunday afternoon with everyone returning to their own campus filled with new knowledge about law school they could share with the other members of their chapter. Plans are currently underway for the 1996 Pre-Law Conference to be held the weekend of October 18-20, 1996, in Houston, TX. More information will be announced soon, but make your plans to attend now!

NEW PRE-LAW MEMBERSHIP PIN

We are proud to announce the new PAD Pre-Law Membership Pin which will be available to Pre-Law members this Fall! The new Pin was designed with the help of Past Supreme Justice C. Raymond Judice, who throughout the years has been instrumental in preserving our Fraternity history. The new Pin is keystone in shape, and purple in color. The Greek letters for Phi Alpha Delta appear in gold upon the purple background. Above the letters appear the year of the founding of PAD, 1902. Below the letters appear the words "Pre-Law" and the year 1980, indicating the establishment of the Pre-Law Program. This new Pin will allow our Pre-Law members to always distinguish themselves within PAD throughout their law school and alumni years!

Despite upcoming final examinations at Duquesne University Law School, the John P. Egan Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, International was reactivated on Saturday, April 29, 1995 during ceremonies held in the John P. McArdle Moot Courtroom at the Duquesne campus.

Presiding over the reactivation ceremony were International Board Member Ronald Winter, District XIX Justice Bill Trezevant, and Judge John Brosky. Judge Brosky is an alumnus of Watson Chapter at neighboring Pitt Law School. Buffalo Alumni Justice-elect Noelle Kowalczyk was also present for the ceremony. Eleven new members were initiated into PAD that evening. Installed as new officers were: Justice Michael Sensor, Vice-Justice Dawn Gull, Clerk Jennifer Keith, Treasurer James Creenan, and Marshal Colleen Gallo.

Judge Brosky currently serves as Senior Judge of the Pennsylvania Superior Court and has been active in PAD affairs for nearly 50 years. Prior to his service on the Pennsylvania Superior Court, Judge Brosky served as a General in the United States Air Force. In addition to his duties on the bench, Brother Brosky was responsible for saving the 911th Airlift Wing and the Army Kelly Support Center from being closed by the Secretary of Defense.

Prior to the ceremony, a moment of silence was observed to remember the victims of the Alfred Murrah Federal Building bombing in Oklahoma City. In keeping with PAD's motto of "Service to the Community", one of Egan Chapter's early projects was to raise donations for the Oklahoma Bar Association's Disaster Relief Program.

Egan Chapter was named for John P. Egan, a Duquesne University Law Professor who later became Dean of the Law School. The Chapter's namesake also served as a Judge for the Allegheny County Court of Common pleas. Egan Chapter was originally chartered in 1963.

Following the ceremony, everyone in attendance retired to the student lounge for a catered reception and to strengthen their newly formed fraternal bonds.
