EDITORIAL

The enthusiasm with which the first issue of JAY'S DIGEST was received has been a source of much gratification, both to the active chapter as a whole and to Ye Editor personally. It indicates that a long-felt need is being, and will continue to be, filled ad infinitum. Heretofore there has not been any appreciable contact between the alumni and actives, which, it is clearly evident, is necessary in order to keep the fires of fraternalism burning brightly, thereby insuring that the spirit and principles of Phi Alpha Delta will not be submerged in the course of our business and professional activities. It is our earnest desire to keep alive that spirit of good fellowship to the end that the most good can be realized by all as we travel along life's pathway.

In the March issue you will recall the promise of a Chapter Directory. Our Historian, Jack Glassner, has been working diligently to prepare it, and we are glad to report that it is almost complete. The By-Laws of the chapter have been revised, and in order that all members may have a better opportunity to study them and at the same time have the Alumni Directory in a more convenient form, it was decided to have both printed in a pocket-sized Hand Book instead of in the Digest, as heretofore announced. We hope that you will read it carefully and co-operate with us by sending in all necessary corrections.

It will be noted that several brethren who have gone out into this world of strife failed to leave their forwarding addresses, and to date we have been unable to locate them. Brother, in looking over this Directory, if you see listed there the name of some brother whose address is unknown to us, or is incorrectly given, and YOU know it, sit ye down pronto and write us the good news! For by so doing you will confer a favor, not only upon the chapter officers, but also on the unknown brother himself.

FUTURE INTERESTS

John Jay Chapter will have a busy time during the remainder of the college year, and will close its affairs in a blaze of glory. On May 5 a class of 11 initiates will be introduced to the mysteries of the order. The peacock's egg will be brought out for inspection and analytical discussion, and the itinerant jackass whose wanderings brought his witness master to grief for which he could not recover, will be presented to the neophytes for weighty deliberation. Again the long line of blindfolded victims will be abjured to "stoop lower," to count off and salute, and perform all the good old hokum. To our alumni who are within striking distance of Washington we extend a cordial invitation to attend and share with us in the fun and good fellowship of the occasion.

On May 15 election of officers will be held for the first semester of the next college year. A new pilot will be taken aboard, and new plans and greater advancement for the fraternity will come with him. And the old officers, while they will weep into their handkerchiefs at the thought of leaving the good old Ship of State, will breathe a deep sigh of relief that their labors are over, and will turn the tiller and the log over to their successors with hearty good will.

Then comes the busiest time of all, final examinations! And real final examinations, too, for more than half of us, who will fill our last blue books, put our typewriters into Henry's private office for the last time, and write the w.k. pledge at the end of our papers. We shall be too busy to waste any tears then, but on June 5, after the examinations are over and the skies are sunny and blue once more, we will again foregather for the last Founders' Day banquet that we will attend as actives, and drown our sorrows in great bumpers of sparkling water. Then the new officers will be installed in due regal splendor, and the pomp and glory in which we have strutted our little day will be laid aside, and we shall depart to our respective places of abode plain, ordinary citizens, whose chief concern is whether we shall ever make a living with all the learning we have taken aboard.

ROBERT D. ARMSTRONG, Justice.

CHAPTER BY - LAWS REVISED.

The initiation fee of John Jay Chapter has been increased from $30 to $40, this amount to include the national initiation fee of $12 and the cost of a miniature jeweled badge of office, viz., $10.50, which is to be ordered in advance and presented to the candidate at the time of initiation. It is desired to make the miniature jeweled badge the standard for John Jay.

This is only one of several important changes that have recently been made in the chapter By-Laws.

A chapter editor is provided for, to be appointed for one year by the Justice. This office has been combined with that of Historian, formerly provided for, and is designated Editor-Historian. An assistant may also be appointed.

Another very desirable change prohibits the Treasurer from disbursing chapter funds except under itemized voucher signed by the Justice and countersigned by the Clerk. This will avoid any confusion as to the Treasurer's authority for disbursements, and will facilitate the audit of the books, which is required at the end of each semester.

No one is now eligible for membership until he has completed at least one semester in the Law School, summer term not included, and until his grades for the courses completed during that semester have been reported to the Law School office.

Rather strict rules have been provided as to excuses for absences from meetings of the chapter. Written excuses must now be presented before the meeting to the Clerk or a showing must be made either that an emergency prevented or that an excuse was sent, but failed to reach the Clerk. An unexcused absence results in a fine of 50 cents, which is doubled at the third consecutive absence. The Ways and Means Committee, of which the Vice-Justice is Chairman, has authority to reduce or discharge such fines, and to hear all complaints regarding dues, fines, and assessments.

Necessary provisions of the National Constitution relating to the business of local chapters have also been incorporated in the chapter By-Laws.

J. E. STEVENS, Vice-Justice.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES.

As usual, Phi Alpha Delta invaded the Interfraternity Prom as vigorously as it attacks the legal snarls that harass so many of its members. However, the Scribe missed the tortoise shell spectacles, mustache, and, last and most important, the good wife of the Justice "among those present." On the whole, however, the I. F. P. was a complete success, though we venture to suggest that—ah, yes, the pencils! The Scribe was forced to lend his quill on many occasions that evening to brothers who were unable to find the means with which to jot down the names of fair partners, and, mayhap, phone numbers, etc.

Practical problems in Income Tax practice was the subject of discussion at the second monthly dinner of John Jay Chapter at the Garden T House on April 3rd. Brother Parkinson, '23, spoke from the standpoint of the practicing lawyer, and Brother Pearce, '25, spoke from the angle of the Income Tax Unit. Brother Turner, '23, a member of the staff of experts working on the pending tax bill, discussed some of the pending problems of income tax legislation.

Brother Parkinson outlined the steps that an attorney should take in preparing, presenting and following up the various types of cases that arise under the Income Tax Law, and gave many practical hints, especially in the all-important matter of fixing fees. Brother Pearce gave a brief history of the various revenue acts since 1913, and analyzed the principal features of the present act. He outlined the procedure of the Income Tax Unit in auditing the returns, making the assessments, hearing protests, and making the final disposition of the case. Brother Turner went into some of the difficulties of the enforcement of the present revenue law, and discussed the proposed changes in the act, including the proposal to abolish the Committee on Appeals and Review and substitute an independent tribunal to hear appeals from the decisions of the Commissioner.

Practically the entire chapter turned out for this dinner and many questions followed the discussion. This was the last of these meetings for this year.

On April 10th some of the brothers felt the call of the "vile weed," and a smoker was held in the Oak Room of the Raleigh Hotel. Eight guests of the chapter were entertained. A plate supper was served at the conclusion of the evening. We were gratified to greet Brother Blake E. Nicholson, '23, who is now an instructor in the Wharton School of Commerce at Philadelphia, and also Brother Arthur Van Meter, who as an alumnus is a very active worker for our welfare.

ROBERT A. NIXON.

FINANCES.

Vulgar as it is to speak of money in good society, a word about the financial situation of the chapter may be of interest to the brethren. An audit of the books of January 31, 1924, shows a cash balance of $337.16; members' accounts receivable, $333.25, with a liability to the National Chapter of $14.00.

During the thirteen months since January 1, 1923, $407.00 has been paid into the coffers of the National Chapter, and $506.75 toward National Convention expenses. Banquets cost $304.05, and smokers blew us for $154.73. So we dined and smoked! And to start the new brothers, right, initiation expenses cost $99.50. A double page in the Cherry Tree threw us for 40 berries, while postage and stationery amounted to $43.33.

Although $506.75 has already been paid toward our share of the National Convention expenses, an additional sum of possibly $300.00 will be required. We are proud to have joined Taft Chapter in bringing the convention to Washington, even if we did find it an expensive luxury. An S O S was sent out to Alumni in the city and we wish to express our gratitude to Brothers Anderson, Barkman, Cleveland, Gibson, Jenkins, Lacey, McVay, Parkinson, Potter, Robinson, Sandoe, Van Meter, and Yates for their checks in answer to that call. However, an unpaid balance of that debt remains. But the books have not been closed and we should be glad to hear from others.

AUDIT COMMITTEE,
B. SAUNDERS, Chairman,
R. H. TRANSUE,
A. MCGREGOR.

INTERFRATERNITY BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

Phi Alpha Delta doesn't participate in a great many athletic events, but when she does sally forth into competition, whatever the nature of the contest may be, she "don't mean if." Now can the boys hurl the gutta-percha marbles? They can't do nothing previous.

In the Interfraternity Bowling Tournament last year our team swept all opposition before it, winning the cup while under restraint. So decisive was the victory that we had considered a repetition of the same this year as assured, when just at the close of our spring training, Brother Bob Armstrong, our star performer, sprung a painful "charley horse," thus rendering his participation in the contest impossible and seriously impairing the morale of the squad.

Notwithstanding this handicap, the team presented a solid front on the evening of the contest. We won the first game. Brother Dan Wheeler was the star, knocking 'em down with consistent regularity, and the other members of the team performed creditably. But when the semi-finals were reached, our boys were slightly off form and were nosed out by the Sig Alfs and thus eliminated from the tournament.

"But we died game, boys, let me tell;
We had our boots on when we fell."

Brother Bert Law's spirit was willing, but—well, he knocked the pins down the same way they were manufactured—one at a time. The otherwise thrilling contest was marred by an accident sustained by Brother Bob Nixon, who during the earlier part of the evening had drawn round after round of applause from the nickel seats by beaning a couple of negro pin boys. Brother Nixon, in his earnest enthusiasm, while in action on the powdered alley, slipped and fell most unceremoniously, not only suffering a sprained hip, but ripping his beautiful purple embroidered bowling pants. This accident, coming at a very crucial moment of the game, rather upset the nerves of his teammates, and the cup which was won so easily last year slipped from our grasp. But we feel that a different story will be told next year.

BARTLEY H. CORBIN.

THE G. W. U. LEGAL FRATERNITY ASSOCIATION.

The most significant forward step in the history of legal fraternities at George Washington was taken during the last month, when the presidents of Phi Alpha Delta, Phi Delta Phi and Delta Theta Phi met and drew up by-laws of the George Washington University Legal Fraternity Association, which were subsequently ratified by the several chapters by a unanimous vote. This association fulfills a practical need that has been felt for some years. Its principal purpose was to establish a mutual agreement as to the time when freshmen could be offered membership. Hitherto no rule has prevailed, and the individual chapters have been free to pledge men as they pleased. This was unfortunate in many ways. It resulted in the pledging of many men before they really had a chance to form a sound judgment of the various legal fraternities represented in the Law School, and made it impossible for an individual chapter to act with restraint in the pledging of new men, so as to have some scholarship record to go on, without the danger that some other chapter would pledge men before the chapter could properly consider them.

We are proud to say that the leadership in the formation of this organization was taken by Phi Alpha Delta, and still prouder to say that it met with no opposition from any quarter, and was received with enthusiasm by both the other legal fraternities. All chapters can now pursue the same rushing policy, for the by-laws of the association pledge the honor of the several chapters to offer membership to no man until he has completed a full semester in this Law School, summer term not included, and his grades have been reported to the office for all courses completed during that semester.

The by-laws contemplate that joint meetings of the three fraternities shall be held. It was too late in the year when these by-laws were adopted to have any joint meeting this year, but such a meeting, in the nature of a smoker or a dinner, is scheduled at an early date next fall. Such meetings should contribute to a greater community of interest and a better fellowship among the law fraternity men of the school.

The offices in the new organization are held by the presidents of the several chapters in rotation. All action must be by the unanimous vote of the Executive Committee, which is composed of all the officers.

ROBERT D. ARMSTRONG, Justice.

HALL OF FAME.

Houston Thompson, Chairman, Federal Trade Commission.

It is a common characteristic of biographies and biographical sketches that they begin by recording the date, place of birth, and partners of the subject. Therefore, we will first record that Houston Thompson was born at Louisburg, Pa., on November 1st, 1875, and that his father and mother were Samuel and Martha Jane Thompson.

It at once becomes obvious that Mr. Thompson should rise to the eminent position which he now holds. It is merely in the natural course of events that anyone born within the territorial limits of the illustrious sovereignty of Pennsylvania shall rise to eminent heights in whatever walk of life he may adopt. It is of great interest to us, however, to trace that rise, and therefore we next record that in 1897 Mr. Thompson received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Princeton University, and thereafter studied law in the New York School of Law. He removed shortly thereafter to Colorado and began to practice in Denver in the year 1899.

That this beginning was any more startling and brilliant than that of any other young lawyer we do not need to assume. It is enough for us to know that Mr. Thompson undoubtedly "knew his stuff," since he lectured at the University of Denver Law School from 1903 to 1906. He served as Assistant Attorney General of Colorado for two years; again engaged in private practice from 1909 to 1913, and became Assistant Attorney General of the United States on April 26th, 1913, which position he occupied until 1918. At that time he was appointed a member of the Federal Trade Commission, of which commission he became chairman in 1920.

It is now in order to add a few touches and so a little further to round out the picture. Mr. Thompson was president of the District of Columbia Council, Boy Scouts of America, and also chairman of the Regional District Commission, covering Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. It may also be mentioned that he is a member of the American and Colorado Bar Associations and of the following clubs: Chevy Chase and Cosmos, Washington, D. C., and Cactus and Mile High of Denver. Last, but not least—oh, no, brothers, by no means least—he is an Honorary Member of John Jay Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta.

The foregoing would undoubtedly give to the observant reader a sufficiently accurate idea of the man and what he is. The members of the chapter, however, are able from their own personal knowledge to add a great deal more. They know that Mr. Thompson is a man who has taken the greatest personal interest in themselves. He has not merely accepted honorary membership as a compliment, but has made of it an opportunity, something which honorary members are not always apt to do. It is one thing to come to one or two entertainments and let the gracious sun of your presence shine upon lesser mortals. It is another and vastly different matter to come to those meetings prepared and willing to give something to them. The quality and character of that "something" also differs with different honorary members. In this regard the chapter has been more than fortunate in our Brother Thompson, for that something is, in his case, of never-failing information and inspiration to the chapter, and perhaps that is the best epitome of what he stands for.

PHILIP E. BARNARD.

SENIORS.

Robert D. Armstrong, Indianapolis, Ind. A.B., Indiana University; M.A., University of Wisconsin. Acacia and Benchers. Brother Armstrong has been a most active P. A. D., having served a term each as Clerk and Justice. His administration has been thorough and efficient in every way. In addition to that he has found time to annex two degrees, LL.B. and LL.M. (June) cum laude. Bob is in love with his wife, his baby and his work. He is at present an Examiner with the Interstate Commerce Commission, but expects to practice in Indianapolis in the near future.

Philip E. Barnard, Philadelphia, Pa. Attended St. Edmunds College and Oxford University (England). Member of several English clubs and societies, Delta Sigma Rho and Benchers. Member of Harlan Law Club, which petitioned P. A. D. members of George Washington University debating team which defeated Oxford University last fall. Served with British army 1914-1916, and later with U. S. army. Saw action at the Vosges, St. Die, St. Mihiel, Argonne-Meuse, and with the Army of Occupation. Phil served the chapter in his characteristic style as Clerk and Justice in 1922-1923. Delegate to the 19th Biennial Convention of Phi Alpha Delta, and is chairman of the National Ritual Committee. He is practicing in the City of Washington.

Joe C. Barrett, Jonesboro, Ark. Graduate of University of Arkansas. Besides living in Italy for some time, he is now living in married bliss. Expects to practice in his native haunts.

A Willard Carlson, Austin, Minn. Acacia. John Jay will lose a valuable brother in Carlson. He rendered able service as Clerk in the temporary absence of Brother Armstrong last year, and was later unanimously chosen Clerk for the present semester. Bill is the quiet, unobtrusive type, whose ability is none the less recognized by all. He goes to the New York School of Business Administration next fall.

Parley P. Eccles, Utah. Sigma Chi. Secretary to Senator Smoot. Assistant to Professor Collier in Constitutional Law. Between the Professor and Brothers Eccles and Hitt, the Constitutional Law Class this semester has been well instructed. We'll hear more of "Ec" after he leaves G. W. He's sure to make his mark.

Fred O. Graves. A very "grave" man, indeed. Surely it isn't because he is a married man, for the writer understands that he was very fortunate in that respect. Fred puts in his spare time in the Income Tax Unit. With his combined ability as tax expert and lawyer, we have no doubt that he will bring honor to the name of Phi Alpha Delta.

William G. Hamilton, Arkansas. Kappa Sigma. Another son of the South. Bill is already a member of the bar of his native state. You should have seen the firm of Hamilton and Roby in action in Moot Court. They took on all comers and somehow managed to get decisions in their favor almost every time. Bill expects to return to his native haunts to practice. Change the name of Arkansas? Hell, no!

Moultrie Hitt, Georgia. As Chairman of the Entertainment Committee the past semester, Brother Hitt has conducted himself in the true PAD style. If you have attended one of our dinners at the Garden T House you will recall the excellent food and instructive entertainment with which Brother Hitt provided us. He intends to practice in the District and will be able to continue his active support of the chapter.

C. Russell Long. Phi Sigma Kappa. As Chairman of the Rushing Committee for the present semester, "Russ" has rendered a lasting service to the chapter and to Phi Alpha Delta. If he practices law like he handles a "rushing campaign," success at the bar is a foregone conclusion. Long on: (1) Criminal cases, (2) Women.

Arthur McGregor. "Mack" hails from Utah, and intends to go back. Nevertheless, strange to say, he is a good fellow, and we expect to hear more of him. His genial smile and good-natured banter will be missed on the "K" street campus.

Charles B. McInnis, Alabama. Theta-Upsilon Omega. Consistently an "A" student, it is no wonder that "Mack" is going back to the head of the alphabet, his native heath, Alabama. He is already a member of the bar of his state, and we expect big things of this brother and wish him well.

Robert A. Nixon, Viroqua, Wis. Acacia. Columbian Debating Society. "Nick" is a good student, and has been a valuable brother in PAD. He passes the day up on Capitol Hill somewhere among the politicians. Although he hails from the land of Magnus Johnson, LaFollette, Brookhart, et al., we expect to hear of this brother some day.

William A. Paisley, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama, in the order named. Theta Upsilon Omega. A Southern gentleman in every respect, with a strong desire to enforce the prohibition laws and to entertain the ladies. Here's to the happiest days of "Bill's" life, spent in the arms of another man's wife—his mother. (Ed)

Charles Pickett, Portsmouth, Va. The land of the F. F. V.'s. But it could be worse. He might have been from Newport News. "Pick" is already a member of the Virginia bar, and is practicing in Fairfax County, Va. This brother is noted for his ability to recite deeds. Yes? "Deed so!"

Pickett on witness stand: "Why, I am so familiar with the terms of that deed I know it by heart."

Justice Clephane: "Since the witness cannot produce the deed, but says he knows it by heart, let him recite it." And he DID!

William E. Reese, West Virginia. Theta Upsilon Omega. Delta Sigma Rho. Columbian Debating Society. "Bill" was a member of the varsity debating team during his second year in Law School, is a worker of the tenacious type who "gets there," and expects to practice here in the District. May success crown his efforts!

Marion B. ("Dusty") Rhodes, Potosi, Mo. Sigma Chi. "Dusty," although annexing an A.B. from the University of Missouri, came to G. W. to learn the law. However, he is going back to Missouri to "show them" how it should be applied. And he will.

Hobart Roby, West Virginia. Kappa Sigma. A.B., University of West Virginia. Member of the bar of that state since February, also of the firm of Hamilton and Roby, G. W. U. Bar, and has been heard to ask for information on the Michigan Bar. Query! Hobart is a good student and has been active in the chapter. Our good wishes attend him.

James E. Stevens, Marion, Indiana. Theta Upsilon Omega. Columbian Debating Society. James Edelbert's record in John Jay is well known to the brothers. He served as Treasurer for two terms and is now rounding out an active career as Vice-Justice. It was largely through his influence that Colonel Houston Thompson, Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, was extended and accepted honorary membership in Phi Alpha Delta. Altogether, Jim is a model young man. But were you at the New Year's Ball? And did you see him then? "'Tis true, 'tis a pity."

James E. Stuart, Petersburg, West Virginia. Sigma Chi. Gate and Key. Brother Stuart is the Cassius-like brother, with the "lean and hungry look," who sleeps through every class and yet knocks a home run while most of us are trying to get to first base. He has not yet decided where he will practice law.

WILLIAM A. PAISLEY.

PLEDGES.

Harold P. Curtis, St. Paul, Minn. Graduate Dexter (Maine) High School. Mexican border, 1916; U. S. Army, 1917-1919; wounded at Chateau Thierry and Argonne. Formerly chief, Administrative Division, American Legion under Commander D'Olier. Theta Upsilon Omega.

Alfred K. Cherry, Manti, Utah. Attended Wasatch Academy, North Sanpete (Utah) High School, and Utah Agricultural College. U. S. Army, 1917-1919; saw action at Chateau Thierry, Soissons and Argonne. Formerly employed with Utah State Road Commission and Standard Oil Company. Utah Legal Club. Sigma Chi.

Eldred N. Mahoney, Ottumwa, Iowa. Graduate Emerson Institute, Washington, D. C. U. S. Army, 1917-1919. Employed in office of Comptroller General of the United States.

Ronald N. Marquis, Oklahoma. Graduate High School, Pond Creek, Okla. Three years Columbian College, George Washington University. Treasurer Junior Class. Glee Club. Theta Upsilon Omega.

O. Alvin Zabel, Spokane, Wash. Graduate North Central High School, Spokane. Three years in Political Science group, Columbian College, George Washington University. Columbian Debating Society. Enosinian Society. Delta Sigma Rho. Theta Upsilon Omega.

Robert P. Smith, Pennsylvania. Graduate Hopewell Township High School, Yellow Creek, Pa., Millersville (Pa.) State Normal, and Columbia Preparatory School (D. C.). Passed West Point examination. Executive expert, Income Tax Law, Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Other pledges awaiting initiation who are too modest to give us the dope are Wilfred Beatty, T. C. Mooney, H. H. Kimball, Bernard A. Kosicki, and Wallace McBride.

THE LETTER BOX.

Supreme Secretary Reviews Jay's Digest.

Los Angeles, Calif.,

April 3, 1924.

Dear Brother:

* * * Copy of your "Jay's Digest" reached me last week, and I wish to compliment the chapter on this splendid edition. It is by far the best of the chapter letters which I have received, and I feel sure will be most welcome to the alumni of the chapters. Keep up the good work. * * *

Fraternally yours,

F. M. LUDWICK, Supreme Secretary.

841 Calvert Building, Baltimore, Md.,

April 2, 1924.

Dear Brother Petty:

I appreciated the Special Edition of "Jay's Digest." Please hereafter send mine to the above address.

In school I thought law practice would be interesting, but now I know it. I, too, had an experience like that described in the letter from O. W. Osnes. I haven't collected yet!

Yours very truly,

THOMAS Y. CLARK.

Russellville, Ark.,

March 25, 1924.

Dear Brother Petty:

The first number of "Jay's Digest" has just reached me, and I am writing to congratulate you heartily upon the edition. I am very proud of John Jay Chapter and am sure that none of the other chapters will produce a better bulletin than ours.

After one has been out of school for two years, a chapter bulletin brings a great deal of pleasure. There are still a number of familiar names on the list of members, and I have enjoyed immensely reading about my old associates in the Law School. I seldom have the pleasure of seeing a brother P.A.D. out here, but am trying to retain the fraternity spirit which meant so much to me during my three years in Washington.

Please give my best wishes to the fellows. Some of them will be interested in knowing that I have a young lady lawyer at my house, Miss Betty Brooks, who is now about six months old.

Thanking you again for the "Digest," I am, fraternally yours,

L. BROOKS HAYS, '23.

Washington, D. C.,

March 25, 1924.

Dear Brother Petty:

I congratulate you on the Special Edition of "Jay's Digest." As you suggest, I am sending you my home and business addresses for use in preparing the directory for the May issue. With best wishes, I am, sincerely yours,

ROBERT N. ANDERSON.
