

THE
PHI · ALPHA · DELTA
QUARTERLY

APRIL

A NEW editor of the Quarterly makes his bow before you with this issue. He begs that you weigh judgment not too hastily and suggests that only as you work with him can the Quarterly surmount obstacles and assume its essential character as a satisfactory publication, truly representative of Phi Alpha Delta fraternity. A fraternity magazine can never prosper and succeed through the efforts of but one man alone. No matter how expert he be in magazine technic or journalistic enterprise, your editor alone cannot make the Quarterly what he hopes it will be.

So, he asks your co-operation. Particularly does he crave the active co-operation of the secretaries both of the undergraduate and the graduate chapters. They will receive many letters from him during the year begging this and asking that. These requests should immediately be acceded to. Then he wants each individual P. A. D., undergraduate and graduate, to consider himself an associate editor of the magazine; to suggest, to criticize, (constructively), and to send in news matter and items of interest. Don't wait for someone else to do it: have you an item, but a single item of news, send it on. Have you a fraternity problem that has been troubling you, write it up and it will find its way into the columns of the Quarterly.

The editor wants to run more and better pictures. Pictures with lots of snap and action. Face cuts are good but the whole figure of a man is preferable and can he be doing something in his native habitat, so much the better. Good live undergraduate news is important. Each chapter should try to outdo the other in recording every activity, every honor that comes to the chapter or its men. The Quarterly should carry advance "dope" on what's to happen, for although it is issued but four times each year, it is essentially a news-magazine. That's what we want next: news.

Your Supreme Board has appointed a new editor of the Quarterly. But the responsibility rests not with your editor but on the shoulders of ten thousand P. A. D.'s, whose combined efforts will make a magazine that will function first in the minds and hearts of all brothers.

The fraternity owes a heavy debt of gratitude to the immediate past editor of the Quarterly, Brother H. W. Humble. Your new editor believes that the Livingstone Chapter communication published herewith expresses the sentiments of the fraternity at large.

AN ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

THE Livingston Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta on this occasion to express through the medium of the Quarterly our high personal regard for the man and our acknowledged appreciation of his work, who has long served Phi Alpha Delta both ably and patriotically as Editor-in-Chief of the Phi Alpha Delta Quarterly. Upon his retirement Brother H. W. Humble has the assurances of this Chapter that his work as Editor-in-Chief receives the recognition which it fully merits. A sincere desire to acknowledge our gratitude prompts this communication.—Livingston Chapter.

The United States Board of Tax Appeals

From an Address before a P. A. D. Gathering in Washington;

Secured by Brother George F. Wells

HERE has been no recent development of greater interest and of

By CHARLES D. HAMEL
Chairman U. S. Board of Tax Appeals and his subordinates or employees, whether in the Income Tax Unit or a disconnected reviewing body, more practical importance to those who are interested in the problems, both legal and economic, which have been the outgrowth of the adoption of the 16th Amendment, than the establishment of the United States Board of Tax Appeals.

Created by the Revenue Act of 1924, and organized on July 16, 1924, it has been functioning approximately five and one-half months. It has during that time accomplished sufficient to get some idea of what may be expected of it as to the future.

Prior to the passage of the Revenue Act of 1924, under the practice of determining and assessing additional taxes, there were certain grave fundamental defects which led the public to feel that it did not receive unprejudiced and equitable treatment. The only appeal that a taxpayer had as to taxes assessed through subordinates of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue prior to the payment thereof was an appeal to the Commissioner or other subordinates of his. Taxpayers naturally felt that the Commissioner, if zealous in the performance of his duties, would collect as much of the revenue for the Government as possible, and accordingly his inclination would be to decide all doubtful questions against the taxpayer, would be guided by similar motives. This situation led to a feeling on the part of the public that cases in the Bureau were not always decided upon their merits. It was objected that the appeal from the action of the Income Tax Unit was usually taken to an organization which was a part of the Bureau itself; that the person who decided the appeal acted both as advocate and judge, since he must both protect the interests of the Government and decide the question involved, and that such conditions did not insure impartial decision of the cases. If the decision was in favor of the Government, the taxpayer only after payment of the tax had the right to protest the decision in the courts, and if the decision was in favor of the taxpayer, the action was final and the decision of the Bureau could never be contested in the courts. It was contended that this condition resulted in the decision of many doubtful points in favor of the Government.

It is true that prior to the passage of the Revenue Act of 1924 it was possible for the taxpayer, after payment of his tax, to bring suit for the recovery thereof, and thus secure a judicial determination of the question involved. He could not, however, in view of the provisions of Section 3224 of the Revised Statutes, which prohibits suits to enjoin the collection of taxes, secure such a determination prior to the payment of the tax. This situation frequently resulted in great hardship. The payment of a large additional tax on income received several years previous and which may have, since its receipt, been either wiped out by subsequent losses, invested in non-liquid assets, or spent, sometimes forced taxpayers into bankruptcy, and often caused great financial loss and hardship.

This situation brought about discussion which resulted in the establishment by Congress of the Board of Tax Appeals, the members of which shall be appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, solely on the grounds of fitness to perform the duties of the office. The Board constitutes an independent agency in the executive branch of the Government, designed to stand impartially between the taxpayer and the Bureau of Internal Revenue. In creating the Board of Tax Appeals, Congress sought to mitigate the harsh rule of payment first and litigation afterward. It was created to give the taxpayer a chance to have an open and neutral consideration of his tax liability before he is required to pay it.

The Board of Tax Appeals is in effect a judicial tribunal of limited jurisdiction. It has the power to review determinations of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue with respect to income and profits taxes, estate taxes, and the new gift tax, although the extent of the jurisdiction of the Board in some cases where the tax arises under past revenue acts is being questioned by the Commissioner. The Board is not merely a newly created higher division of the Bureau, or even of the Treasury Department. It is, in the language of the statute, "an independent agency in the executive branch of the Government," and as such it is expected to act independently in all its determinations. This independent character cannot be too firmly emphasized. If the Board were within the Bureau, the entire records of the Bureau would be available to it, and all of the administrative aspects of each case would need be considered. Thus the taxpayer would be in much the same situation as he has heretofore been before the Bureau.

This is very apparently not what Congress intended. The reports of the Congressional Committees and the language of the statute show that what was intended was an entirely independent body with no motive except to apply the law to the facts in each case and reach the correct answer in that case. The Board is not to collect the revenue and hence it has no fear of administrative precedents.

Its concern is to see on the one hand that the citizen is not unjustly assessed and on the other that in the collection of its just revenue the Government is not unduly delayed. The Board represents neither party. Both parties are represented by their own advocates.

We are familiar with the growth in recent years of the special tribunal outside the judiciary. In the Federal Government the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Federal Trade Commission are well known examples. Such bodies have a composite function to perform, both judicial and legislative. They are largely concerned with the legislative function of prescribing specific rules of conduct for the future,—and to that end they determine the facts of the past. Their primary interest is not for the parties but for the public, so that carriers' rates and business practices shall be fair. Their problems are economic more perhaps than legal.

HON. CHAS. HAMEL

He sees that Uncle Sam gives you a Square Deal in Matters of Taxation

This Board has no such legislative function and the problems which it solves are only indirectly economic. They are primarily legal. The Board must see that a specific statute is correctly applied to a completed and past state of facts and the specific liability of a single person under that statute correctly determined.—a purely judicial duty.

While the Board has been in existence for only about five and one-half months and of necessity has not decided many cases, nevertheless, there have been some opinions which may be of interest.

Naturally a large number of very important jurisdictional questions have been raised during the early existence of the Board. Some of these have already been decided. The question of whether or not the Board has jurisdiction as to claims for refund was one of the first to arise. The Board decided in the case of the appeal of the Everett Knitting Works, 1 B. T. A., page 5, that it did not have such jurisdiction. The question also arose very early as to the computation of the 60-day period within which an appeal might be taken. The statute provides that an appeal must be taken within sixty days from the mailing by the Commissioner of the so-called deficiency letter. The Board held in its opinion in the matter of the appeal of Sam Satovsky, 1 B. T. A., page 22, that an appeal could not be considered as received until filed with the Board, and that the 60-day period included Sundays and holidays. In the matter of the appeal of Bruin Coal Company, 1 B. T. A., page 85, the Board decided that it had jurisdiction in a case involving a deficiency for a certain year, even though that deficiency may be occasioned by an adjustment of income for a prior year. Perhaps one of the most interesting opinions of the Board on the extent of its jurisdiction is that in the matter of the Hotel de France Company, 1 B. T. A., page 28, where it was held that if it appears from the record that the deficiency determined by the Commissioner is incorrect, the Board will, where possible, find the correct deficiency whether greater or less. In that particular case the Board found a greater deficiency than that found by the Commissioner. In the appeal of E. J. Barry, 1 B. T. A., page 156, it was held that the Board has jurisdiction to consider an appeal presenting questions affecting the correct tax liability which were not presented to the Commissioner before his determination. In an opinion of far reaching importance, it was held in the matter of the appeal of the Oesterlein Machine Company, 1 B. T. A., page 159, that the Board has jurisdiction to hear and determine appeals from determinations of deficiencies arising under the so-called special assessment provisions. The Board has also held in the matter of the appeal of Ormsby McKnight Mitchell, 1 B. T. A., page 143, that an assessment made prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1924 through mistake, and while an appeal was pending before the Commissioner undetermined, it is not such a determination as will deprive the Board of jurisdiction. The Board has also held in the matter of the appeal of Gutterman Strauss Company, 1 B. T. A., page 243, that it has jurisdiction in cases involving fraud. There are numerous other jurisdictional questions pending before the Board, one of the most important of which raises the question as to the jurisdiction of the Board in so-called jeopardy assessment cases; that is, cases where an assessment was made by the Commissioner without a consideration by him of the case on the merits.

The Board has recently decided a case which is directly contrary to a Treasury Decision; namely, T. D. 3414. In the matter of the appeal of Grosvenor Atterbury, 1 B. T. A., page 169, the Board held that a leasehold is property and its cost and increase in value prior to March 1, 1913, are properly capital, and that the owner thereof is entitled to take deductions for exhaustion of such leasehold in the same manner as he would of any other exhaustible property. This decision emphasizes the independent character of the Board.

The Board has before it at present, although the questions have not been decided, some of the most far reaching questions. The questions which have been and are now before the Board clearly indicate that practically every question which has heretofore arisen in the Bureau will sooner or later come before it.

In approximately two weeks after its organization the Board had promulgated its rules of practice. It was unable to actually consider any cases until a certain time had elapsed and cases had accumulated and come to issue. A great many difficulties necessarily grew out of the problems of organization, but in spite of the fact that it had no precedents, it has succeeded in a little over five months in becoming a very important member of the family of independent organizations maintained by the Government. It has heard approximately 400 cases and disposed of over 300. Its machinery is in full operation and from forty to sixty cases are now set down for hearing each week. While it may not have had sufficient experience to determine whether it will fully meet the purpose Congress had in mind in its creation, it has at least given some indication of the useful work it may perform. It still has before it and will continue to have before it for a considerable period many important questions. It is treading on new ground, and before it can be determined whether the purposes behind its creation have been accomplished many problems must be disposed of.

It must not be expected that the Board can in itself reduce or remove the complexities that are inseparable from the administration of any tax law similar to the laws which have been enacted since the adoption of the 16th Amendment. It will afford an independent tribunal for the consideration of questions which grow out of a valid difference of opinion as to the correctness of the findings of the Bureau of Internal Revenue in any given case, and to that degree it will assist in the equitable and just collection of the tax and insure that the rights of the taxpayer are duly protected and observed.

Installation of Francois X. Martin Chapter

*Splendid Crowd of Men now Represent P. A. D. on the Campus

Martin Chapter at Tulane University,
New Orleans, La.,

was installed on Saturday, December 13, 1924, the ceremonies being conducted by Supreme Justice George E. Fink, of Chicago, assisted by a team of five men from Morgan Chapter, University of Alabama.

The visiting team was made up of Bros. Amzi Barber, Justice; J. R. Thornton, Clerk; A. R. Jackson, Marshall; Clyde McKee, and W. G. Black. These men had their parts of the rituals well memorized and the work was very impressively rendered. The visiting team and Brother Fink were guests of the petitioners at a luncheon at one of New Orleans' popular eating places, after which the party proceeded to the Scottish Rite Cathedral, which had been secured for the installation ceremonies by Clancy A. Latham, one of the petitioners. This hall was admirably fitted for the work which started at 2 p. m. and lasted until nearly 6 p. m.

In the evening an enjoyable banquet was held, attended by the visiting and newly initiated members, the principal speakers at which were Hon. Charles A. O'Niell, Chief Justice of the Louisiana Supreme Court, Val J. Stentz, Jr., James V. E. Iron, (Justice of the new Orleans, Clancy A. Latham, John O. Chamber-Judge of the Civil District Court of New Chapter) and Supreme

Howard Demarest (Atlantic District), John
R. Snively (Eastern District), Harry Keats (Central District), and others. After the conclusion of the more formal speeches personal anecdotes of the Bench and Bar were much enjoyed by all present. The remainder of the evening was devoted to a dance at one of the local country clubs. Sunday forenoon at 9 o'clock the five officers of the new Chapter were found assembled at Bro. Fink's room at the St. Charles Hotel, receiving instructions in the keeping of records and making of reports to the Supreme Officers.

The Chapter was named after the late Francois Xavier Martin, the first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Louisiana. The members of the new Chapter are as follows:

James V. E. Iron, John E. Singreen, J.
Schwing Kiblinger, Phi Delta Theta, Lester

The Tulane University of Louisiana

Where a Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta was Installed

on December 13, 1924

THE Tulane University of Louisiana is recognized as one of the leading educational institutions of higher learning in the United States. Last year it had students from forty states of the Union and eleven foreign countries, a fact which shows how widespread is its influence.

During 1923-24 there were 4,304 students receiving instruction from the 374 members of the teaching staff in the ten Schools and Colleges. The productive endowment of the University during that year was $6,619,107.37.

As now constituted Tulane is the result of a contract entered into in 1884 by the State of Louisiana and the Board of Administrators of the Tulane Educational Fund. This Fund, donated by Paul Tulane in 1882, consisted of his New Orleans property and donations in cash, and was to be devoted to the higher education of "white young persons in the city of New Orleans." The State has granted control of the University to the administrators, and the status of the University as a State institution has thus been fully maintained.

Tulane University enjoys the advantages of being located in New Orleans, one of the most interesting and thriving cities of the South. The city has a population of over 400,000, and is, therefore a great laboratory of observation and study.

Especially of advantage to the law student is the location of Tulane University. Due to its location the students have the advantages of instruction from and personal association with both types of law teachers. The faculty is composed in part of judges and practitioners and in part of those who have made the teaching of law their sole profession and devote their full time to the work. New Orleans, besides its municipal and other courts, is the seat of the Supreme Court of Louisiana; the United States Circuit Court of Appeal; and the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana. The opportunity to observe the proceedings of these courts, the practice of many eminent lawyers, and the conduct of much of the most important commercial litigation of the South is of material advantage to the law student and is one of the reasons for the school's increasing popularity.

The library of the College of Law includes the full reprint of the English decisions from the earliest printed reports of the 16th Century to 1865; a complete set of the English Law Reports since 1865; the reports of the United States Supreme Court; of the lower Federal Courts, and of the Courts of Last Resort of all the states of the Union. Among its 10,000 volumes are included many well selected text books, digests and encyclopedias, including commentaries on French law. The State Law Library and the Library of the Louisiana Bar Association are both located in New Orleans, and students have free access to both.

The College of Law is a member of the Association of American Law Schools, and among its living graduates are listed Chief Justice Charles A. O'Neill, and Associate Justices John St. Paul, Wynne Grey Rogers, and Harney F. Brunot, of the Supreme Court of Louisiana; Hon. Rufus E. Foster, recently appointed to the bench of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals; Hon. Ben C. Dawkins, Judge of the U. S. District Court for the Western District of Louisiana, and Hon. Pierre Crabites, U. S. member of the Tribunal Mixte, Cairo, Egypt.

Beginning with the Session 1925-26 two years of college work will be required for entrance to the College of Law.

The Life Story of Francois—Xavier Martin

For whom the Tulane University P. A. D. Chapter is Named

FRANCOIS Xavier Martin was born in Marseilles, in France, on the prudence who was destined to become a jurist.

By CLANCY A. LATHAM

Martin was a man whose industry could not be 17th of March, 1762, and his boyhood was passed in that busy and cosmopolitan seaport. His family were plain and quiet people, from whom he derived, as his sole inheritance, a rugged physique, a keen intelligence, and a robust will. It is said that he was educated for the priesthood, but he never took orders.

At the age of eighteen years he left Marseilles for the island of Martinique and never afterwards returned to the place of his birth, except for a brief visit near the close of his life. At that time Martinique was a French colony famous, then as now, for producing considerable quantities of sugar, coffee, logwood, and rum. Young Martin appears to have gone thither to engage in some kind of mercantile business, and probably was not very successful, for in the last year of the American revolution he came to this country, landing at Newbern, North Carolina, and so far as we can discover looking for a cargo of molasses which had gone astray.

It is said that he volunteered in the Continental army, but his military career was short. Tradition relates that being on outpost duty one day he came rushing in with the report that the enemy was at hand. His regiment turned out to meet the foe, and found instead of the fiery coats of the British, a row of red shirts hung out to dry. The fact was that the young scout was painfully nearsighted, and his vision was so defective that he was entirely unfit for military service. He returned to Newbern and at the close of the Revolution, we find him there teaching French.

Martin soon applied for and secured a job in a printing shop. He soon after established a newspaper of his own, which he was not ashamed to peddle, newsboy fashion, not only in Newbern, but also in the adjoining counties; and at the same time he published almanacs, spelling-books, and translated from the French. But he could not rest content with work like this. He studied law, and in the year 1789, being then twenty-seven years of age, he was admitted to the bar of North Carolina. He soon took position, not as a brilliant advocate, for he had neither the tastes nor the qualities which make the brilliant advocate, but as a student of laws and of jurisprudence by any single employment. While practicing law he continued to carry on business as a printer, and began to busy himself with the composition and publication of books. Among these may be mentioned a collection of the Statutes of the Parliament of England in force in the State of North Carolina, published according to a resolve of the General Assembly at Newbern from the Editor's Press, 1792; a Treatise on the Powers and Duties of a Sheriff, according to the laws of North Carolina, and a Treatise on Executions. In 1793 he printed and published Taylor's North Carolina Reports in a thin volume. In 1806 Mr. Martin was elected and served for one term as a member of the legislature. His researches into the statutes of North Carolina suggested to him a collection of material for a history of that State which he published some years later, chiefly in the form of annals.

In this busy and useful method he passed his life in North Carolina, some twenty-eight years. The youth who had come to Newbern, a foreign and friendless stranger, had grown to a man of mature years and assured position. He had wasted no time. He had become proficient in the common law and in the laws of the United States, and had not neglected the jurisprudence of Rome and his native country. He had acquired a wide knowledge of history. He had attained the age of about forty-seven years, and had with an economy like that of a French peasant, laid up a modest competence. To some men it might have seemed that the work of life was about complete, and that it was nearly time for rest. But for Martin life had just begun. His work thus far had been provisional and preparatory. He was now to live and labor for nearly forty years longer, and was to use his acquirement and talent in a very different field. He had exhausted the possibilities of the little town of Newbern, and the same spirit of intelligent enterprise which led him from Marseilles to Martinique, and from Martinique to North Carolina, prompted him to leave North Carolina for newer fields. James Madison had just been inaugurated President of the United States. A judge was needed in the territory of Mississippi and the new President offered the place to Mr. Martin.

He accepted the position and filled it about one year, when he was transferred on the 21st of March, 1810, to the bench of the Superior Court of the territory of Orleans, and this brought him to the city of New Orleans.

At the time of the Louisiana purchase by the United States, the population of New Orleans was about eight thousand. At the time of Judge Martin's arrival it was over seven-teen thousand. It requires but a glance at Louisiana history to reveal the singular situation of this new American territory. It was not American in history or even in name. It had been governed, both by French and Spanish, with ideas and by methods which were in many respects mediaeval. In 1754 a soldier who had been guilty of mutiny at Cat Island was "sawed in two parts. He was placed in a kind of coffin, to the middle of which two sergeants applied a whip saw." In 1778 a royal schedule was published in New Orleans, forbidding the reading of Robertson's "History of America," and ordering all copies which might be found to be destroyed. Courts of justice in New Orleans were at this time furnished with interpreters of French, Spanish, and English language. These translated the evidence and the charge of the Court when necessary, but not the arguments of the counsel. The case was often opened in the English language, and then the jurymen who did not understand the counsel, were indulged with leave to withdraw from the box into the gallery. The defense, being in French, they were recalled, and the indulgence shown them was enjoyed by their companions who were strangers to that language.

It is easy to perceive that Judge Martin coming in 1810 to be a member of the Superior Court for the territory had before him a formidable task. There were conflicts of decisions to be reconciled, anomalies to be reduced to order, a jurisprudence in fact to be created. How well he performed his part of the task, with what patience, clear-sightedness and vigor, is a matter of history. He has been called the Mansfield of the Southwest. Such comparisons are of little worth. They are always defective, and sometimes very deceptive. In many respects, Mansfield and Martin were entirely unlike. Yet in some respects their work was similar. In the department of what may be called constructive jurisprudence, in the skillful blending of the best principles of the English and the Roman law, in the apt illustration of one by the other, some resemblance may be traced. By act of Congress of 1811, the inhabitants of the territory were authorized to form a constitution, with a view to establishment of a State government. The bill having been passed, the Constitution of 1812 was framed and adopted, and in April of that year the Congress passed an act for the admission of the State to the Union by the name of Louisiana. The territorial courts ceased to exist, and Martin was no longer a judge. He was, however, appointed Attorney-General of the new State, and so acted during the exciting events of the war with England, when he again volunteered. In February 1815, he was appointed a judge of the Supreme Court of the State. At this time he was fifty-three years of age. He seemed to take a new lease of life, for he sat upon that bench until 1846, a period of thirty-one years. Judge Martin prepared and published reports of the Superior Court of the territory of Orleans from 1809 to 1812, in two volumes. The territorial court having come to an end, Judge Martin continued his work as reporter, by publishing the decisions of the Supreme Court of the State, which make eighteen volumes, from the third of Martin, old series, to the eighth of Martin, new series, inclusive, the last of these volumes being issued in the year 1830. In 1817 his fame had so far reached his native place that he was elected a member of the Academy of Marseilles. In 1841 he was made a Doctor of Laws by Harvard College. His imperfections of vision increased under his incessant and protracted work, and in 1838 he became quite blind. For all practical purposes this blindness was total during the last eight years of his judicial life. Yet he continued to sit on the bench and to discharge the duties of his office with a regularity that was surprising. In the year 1844, Judge Martin made a brief visit to France, in the hope of obtaining some relief for his eyes,—a hope which was entirely fruitless. In March 1846, in consequence of the adoption of a new State constitution, the court of which he was a member, ceased to exist, and he was thus retired from the bench. By reason of his strength, his days had become four score and four, and there was little left for him to do in this world. On the 10th of December, 1846, the end came. A shaft of granite marks his grave in the St. Louis Cemetery, in New Orleans.

In personal appearance, Martin was rather below the medium height, with a large head, a Roman nose, and a thick neck. He never married. Some said he could not afford such an extravagance as a wife. Absorbed in the study of law and the practice of frugality, it does not appear that the thought of domestic happiness ever entered his imagination, and much less his heart. Contrary to the rule of many good lawyers and judges, Judge Martin died leaving an estate inventoried at $396,841.17, the result of his thrift and frugality.

A marble bust adorning the rooms of the Supreme Court of Louisiana represents the features of Judge Martin. They are the features of one who was eccentric, but who was truly honest; who was soundly learned; and who above all made his laborious life of real and lasting value to the world.

An Account of the Ceremony at Morgantown, W. Virginia

ginia University, Morgantown, West Virginia, was installed on Saturday, February 14, 1925. The installation was conducted by Supreme Justice George E. Fink, of Chicago, assisted by a team of four men from Taft Chapter, Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., and by Brothers Arthur L. Limbach, one of the trustees of the National House Endowment fund of New Philadelphia, O., and Bradley McKinley Burns (Mich. '11), of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The visiting team was made up of John K. Locke, Justice of Taft Chapter; J. Harry La Brun, Vice-Justice; B. L. Cosio, Jr., Treasurer, and John A. Doolan, Marshall.

Bro. Fink was met at Pittsburgh by Bros. Limbach and Burns, the three going to Collinsville, Pa., where the visiting Taft team was met and the party proceeded to Morgantown, arriving there about 12:30 in the afternoon, being met by a delegation from the petitioning group and taken to the Maderia Hotel. After luncheon the party was taken by automobile to the Law Building, which J. W. Madden (Marshall '14), Dean of Law School, had given permission to use for the initiation and installation ceremonies. Brother Madden was interested in the work of the new ritual and much enjoyed the ceremonies including examination on legal subjects to which each petitioner was subjected.

In the evening a banquet was given at which Dean Madden acted as toastmaster, and at which several of the other members of the Law Faculty, as well as Mr. Cantrell, head of the rival chapter of Phi Delta Phi, were guests.

Telegrams of congratulation to the new chapter were read by Supreme Justice Fink from past Supreme Justice Frank L. Fawcett, of Milwaukee, Wis., Supreme Secretary Frank M. Ludwick, Los Angeles, Supreme Historian Allan T. Gilbert, of Chicago, District Justices, W. Howard Demarest, Atlantic District, John R. Snively, Eastern District, Harry G. Keats, Central District, Fred J. Hoffmeister, Western District, the Chicago Alumna Chapter, and the St. Louis Alumna Chapter.

Supreme Justice

After the banquet the remainder of the evening was devoted to good fellowship and the cementing of friendships.

ships until after midnight, the visiting Brothers leaving about 1:30 a. m. for Pittsburgh, where they were the guests of Bro. Burns on Sunday.

The Chapter was named after William Willey, who was a member of the Law Faculty for many years prior to his death. The members of the new Chapter are as follows:

The College of Law, University of West Virginia, was established in 1878 and is the oldest professional school at the University and the only law school in the state. In 1919 the College of Law was admitted to membership in the Association of American Law Schools and is listed as a Class "A" Law School fully complying with the standards fixed by the American Bar Association through its section on Legal Education. The present enrollment is 120. The only other fraternity now at the school is Phi Delta Phi, whose Chapter was established about three years ago. The Law Faculty is made up of six professors, headed by Bro. J. W. Madden, previously mentioned. The petitioning group was recommended by the President of the University

ALUMNI CHAPTERS

Old Timers in Chicago

The Chicago Alumni Chapter began another year of activities by the election on January 20 of the following officers: President Homer A. Dodge, Benson; Vice-President John D. DeLany, Blackstone; Treasurer Earl E. Schultz, Magruder; Secretary Leslie F. Kimmell, Marshall. We now have a regular meeting place in the splendid quarters of the Chicago Bar Association, which we find most convenient for our purposes.

On the evening of February 17 we held an "Old Timers" Reunion. Many of that group of intrepid souls who founded the Fraternity almost twenty-five years ago are still active, on the Bench and at the Bar in Chicago, and this chapter holds the enviable privilege of listing their names on its membership roll. The "Old Timers" were requested to bring packages (?) of historical interest and the result was an exceedingly engrossing collection of old records, letters, books, notices, pictures, et cetera, which told, without words, a vivid story of the early days. Brother Tom Octigan, Supreme Justice during 1906 and 1907, presided as Toastmaster and a half dozen or more of the "Old Boys" told of those arduous beginnings when the Fraternity was struggling to establish itself. It was an inspiration to listen to these men because of the genuine note of affection for and loyalty to the the Fraternity which permeated the remarks of each one. To these "Old Timers" belong honor and esteem without measure.

Plans for the future include our Annual Spring Banquet and Joint Initiation on April 18. Any P. A. D. in Chicago will bear witness that this affair is always one to be looked forward to with keen anticipation and recalled with pleasant memories. The five active chapters of the Chicago district will participate in the initiation at Story Chapter house. The banquet will follow in the dining room of the Chicago Bar Association and if the Annual Banquets of past years are any criterion, the flames of fraternal spirit will be rekindled and much enthusiasm renewed.

—Leslie F. Kimmel, Sec'y.

Denver Reorganizes

Since so many things have been blamed on the war, we perhaps can turn to that great conflict as a cause for the inactivity of the Denver Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, which has been dormant for some six years. Nevertheless it is true that the most active members of the chapter went into the service; some "went West," others took up the practice of law elsewhere, and the chapter was forgotten.

During the month of November last, several brothers met at a noon-day luncheon and began the reorganization. Brother Richard K. Gandy, Hughes '23, was elected President, and Brother James R. Hoffman, Gunter '22, was elected Secretary of the temporary group. These two as a committee then sent out over one hundred twenty-five invitations to the alumni located in Denver for a banquet and business meeting, which was held the evening of December 8 at the Kenmark Hotel. The temporary organization was made permanent and the Denver Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta was again an active part of the fraternity. At the banquet talks were made by Brother Carl S. Milliken, the Colorado Secretary of State, and Brother Julius C. Gunter, former Governor of Colorado.

On January 27 a second banquet was held at the Metropole Hotel with some fifty members of Phi Alpha Delta present. After a short business meeting, Brother S. Harrison White, former Chief Justice of the Colorado Supreme Court, gave a very inspiring address on "The Constitution and Lessons from the Past." Brother H. P. Burke, Justice of the State Supreme Court, spoke on "The Romances of the Legal Profession."

The Chapter plans to meet once a week at a get-together luncheon at some downtown cafe and thus keep more closely in touch with each other. Phi Alpha Deltas visiting the city are urgently requested to communicate with Brother Gandy or Brother Hoffman, so that they may be welcomed and made acquainted with the city and the chapter.

—James R. Hoffman, Sec'y.

BROTHERS HERE AND THERE

CHARLES AUSTIN O'NIELL
Tulane '93

Brother O'Niell was born in Franklin, St. Mary Parish, Louisiana, September 7, 1869, the son of John and Isabella Burnham O'Niell. His early education was obtained in private schools, while his college days were spent at the Christian Brothers College, Memphis, Tennessee, from which he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts. He took up the study of law at the Tulane University, graduating in 1893 with the degree of LL. B. The honorary degree of LL. D. was later conferred.

He returned to his native city of Franklin, where he rose to a position of prominence, occupying several distinguished positions, culminating in his elevation to a seat upon the State Supreme Court at the age of forty-four, in 1914. He became Chief Justice of the Louisiana Supreme Court December 30, 1922, which position he occupies with credit to himself and honor to his State today.

When the local Omega Rho fraternity of Tulane was organized, Brother O'Niell, although at that time an alumnus, became an enthusiastic member, and, upon the installation of the Martin chapter he, along with the active and other alumni of the local, became an alumnus of Phi Alpha Delta.

HON. ALBERT E. CARTER
Temple '13

Born July 5, 1881, in the Sierra Nevada Mountains of Tulare County, California. Worked in logging camps there until nineteen years of age. Graduated from the San Jose Normal School in 1903. Taught school for five or six years. Graduated from the Law Department of the University of California in 1913. Practiced law in Oakland since graduation.

President, during 1916 and 1917 of the Oakland Rotary Club, and a member of many civic and fraternal organizations. During time of war was assigned to special duty under the Secretary of War. Appointed by Governor William D. Stephens as attorney for the State Pharmacy Board of the State of California in 1919. Elected Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Oakland in 1921. Received the Republican nomination for Congress from the Sixth District of California at the Primaries, August 26, 1924, defeating the incumbent. Was elected Congressman by a majority of over 26,000.

Brother Carter was initiated into Jackson Temple Chapter as far back as 1912, and he quickly found a warm corner in the affections of all with whom he came in contact. He was the "balance wheel" of the Chapter in the days when it attempted to inaugurate a Chapter House in San Francisco. Perhaps it was then that he became known to us as "Dad" Carter, an appellation which still persists among those who recall the good old days.

HARRY G. KEATS
Blackstone '99

Harry G. Keats has resigned his position as assistant to Henry Horner, judge of the Probate Court of Cook County, Illinois, taking effect on October 1, 1924. Mr. Keats has been connected with the Probate Court for more than eighteen years and has occupied the important position of assistant to the Probate judge for the past fourteen years. The bar and his associates in the Probate Court view his resignation with keen regret, and are reconciled only by the fact that he enters in wider avenues of activity with greater opportunities for the employment of his ability and experience.

Mr. Keats has associated himself with the Union Bank of Chicago as assistant trust officer, having charge of the handling of estates for that company. All those who have had occasion to appear before or transact business with him will regret his leaving the court, but all wish him well in his new endeavors and that great success which his merits so well deserve.—National Corporation Reporter.

LAURIZ VOLD

Initiated as an honorary member of Reese Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta on December 16, 1924. Brother Vold at present is a Professor of Law in the University of Nebraska Law School, at Lincoln. He received an A. B. degree from Harvard in 1910, and in 1913 received an LL. B. from Harvard. One year later he received the degree of S. J. D. from the same school. From 1910 until 1911 he was assistant in Economics at Harvard University. Later, removing to North Dakota, he was instructor in law, associate professor of law, and later professor of law in North Dakota University College of Law from 1914 until 1924.

UNDERGRADS AND GRADS

EDITOR'S NOTE — Chapter correspondents should see to it that their chapter is represented by a letter in each issue of the Quarterly. Communications for the May issue should be mailed to reach the editor before May 1. The following material is what we especially desire:

1. Special article about all the athletic activities of your fraters, both intercollege and inter-university and inter-fraternity, including cuts and photographs.
2. The names, occupations and addresses of five alumni from your chapter who are doing unusual and excellent work in the world.
3. Scholarship standing of chapter for 1923-24 and for last semester or quarter.
4. Photograph or cut of your chapter house.
5. Chapter Hunches: something that your chapter does that you recommend for the consideration of other chapters.
6. Name, photograph and story of your most active P. A. D. now in school; active in scholarship, athletics and campus work.

BENTON

Kansas City
Law School

News from Benton Chapter has been almost as scarce as Republican voters in Alabama, or eulogies on the Mongolian race by Hiram Johnson, due mostly to the fact that it has been an Alphonse-Gaston stunt before.

At the beginning of the fall term, Pledges Donaldson, Massey, and Gunn were conducted through the final rites of our order, and the winter term initiation was recently performed with Pledges Williams, Henry, Berry, Skinner, Rubert, and Linhardt as centers of attraction. All of these men bid fair to make real P. A. D.'s in every sense of the word, and they should live up to expectations, since the chapter as a whole considers these men the "pick" of the school.

At the opening of school, Benton Chapter had a big smoker, and, as the small-town newspapers say, "A good time was had by all," especially so by three brothers whose names we shall not mention at this time; suffice it is to say they were recipients of osculations from one of the dancers, and all bore the "ordeal" with becoming gravity (?).

Our annual Halloween Masquerade Ball was put over in great style, thanks to Brothers Beedle and Red Hoth. The prize, a jeweled pin, was won by Brother Hoth, (he personally picked the judges). Red appearing as a country boy, for which appearance he was naturally qualified to such an extent that he would put "Chick" Sale to shame. The Halloween Ball, great as it was, was eclipsed New Year's Eve by THE BALL held at Marquette Council Hall. About two hundred and fifty couples attended. The feature of the evening was the much-heralded arrival of Brothers Tracewell and Schick, and of Brother John Joseph "Forbes" Haley, the last named Brother a member of Taft Chapter. Brother Haley is located with the Veteran's Bureau in Kansas City, hence his title. It is reported on good authority that "Forbes" got in the reserved section of Fred Harvey's justly famous restaurant by announcing to everyone in general (and nobody in particular) that he was Senator Boise Penrose of Pennsylvania, and that Brother Harvey Taylor was Senator Jim Reed of Missouri. Penrose made his demise from this terrestrial sphere of mortal woe a few years ago, and Brother Taylor resembles William H. Taft more than Senator Reed in profundity and rotundity, but Haley rightly guessed that none of the waiters knew this. Thus an enraged banker and an insurance president were forced to eat elsewhere, on account of their reserved table being thus taken.

A few trivial matters, such as three brothers leaving single blessedness, might be mentioned here.

As usual, P. A. D. is in charge of the Pandex, the law school annual. Brother Gore is editor, the author of this and J. R. Calhoun, associate editors, and Pledge William "Barney" Gugel, business manager.

Hon. Sanford B. Ladd, one of the founders of our law school, and an honorary member of Benton Chapter, is to be entertained by our chapter at some near date. Brother Ladd is blind and confined to his home, but his cheerfulness in spite of his misfortune is remarkable. He was formerly president of the Kansas City Chapter of the American Bar Association.

Benton Chapter is in better condition than ever before, and we hope and feel sure it will thrive as well in the future as it has in the past year.—Wm. Lee Calhoun.

BLACKSTONE

Chicago Kent
College of Law

At the very beginning of the school year Blackstone started out with a definite and fixed determination that everything undertaken this year should be done in a commendable manner. Every plan and event has been successfully carried out thus far.

Securing suitable rooms was our first important problem of the season. Through the effort of one of the committees, rooms were secured in the Hearst Building located about one block from the College. Having secured such a convenient location it required only a short time to furnish the rooms and then things were ready for a real fraternity year.

We have held two smokers and one initiation since the opening of the school year. We were very fortunate in having Supreme Justice Fink with us at the last smoker. Every one present was very favorably impressed with the inspirational discourse given by the Supreme Justice. Out of the number pledged only six men were received as members in the first initiation. Four others now wearing the pledge emblem will be initiated soon.

The fraternity is well represented in the general activities of the college. Brother Madden is president of the Senior class; Brother Bidwell is president of the Junior class; and Brother James is president of the Freshman class. Brother Hill is an associate editor of the Transcript (the college year book). We are also represented on committees, the College Debating Team, etc.

We are now planning to incorporate the Chapter under Illinois laws and thus add another incorporated chapter to the national organization. It should require only a short time to complete our plans and secure the charter from the state.

The best is last; we have long felt the need of broadening our educational lectures and have worked out a plan whereby we feel this can be accomplished. The chapter now plans to establish a fund for the purpose of buying a complete set of Illinois reports. These reports will be invaluable to the men returning next year and those coming in later on. The reports may be used very conveniently by the members who are not employed in law offices; who do not have access to a law library, or find it inconvenient to use the college library.—L. E. Terry.

ALUMNI

Our Supreme Historian announces that there is a new Phi Alpha Delta in the world. His name is Allan A. Gilbert. Date of arrival, January 7; weight eight pounds, thirteen ounces.

Brother Richey V. Graham writes as follows on the stationery of the Chicago House of Correction: "I am in charge of this institution and shall be glad to take care of any of the Brothers who may be passing through Chicago at any time."

CALHOUN

Yale University
Calhoun Chapter is proud chiefly of the fact that it is now definitely located in what we all are agreed is an ideal fraternity home, in the fine old residence district of New Haven and just a few minutes' walk from the central part of the university campus. The house itself is a large, old-fashioned, vine-covered brick structure of sixteen immense rooms and stands in a spacious lawn among stately elms, evergreens, and shrubs, making it perfectly a part of this historical community. Its rooms opening into each other and with marble fireplaces in each of those on the first two floors in the manner of sixty years ago, make it almost perfect for fraternity purposes. Thanks to the generosity of the alumni of the chapter we have been able to furnish it in a most fitting and comfortable manner.

The present members are maintaining the scholastic standing of the group in the Law School. Brothers Carl Merryman, Robert Watts, and Ralph Failing are on the Board of Editors of the Law Journal, and Brother Watts is secretary of the Board. Brother Watts was recently awarded for the third time the Goodrich Scholarship, for scholastic excellence and outside achievement, which award carries with it a material financial benefit. This honor is given two men in the Law School each year.

Law students' political activities are limited to the Law School Student Council on which we have two representatives, Brothers Jeremiah Cadick and Joseph Talbot.

We are all very glad to welcome Brother Alfred L. Armstrong from Mitchell Chapter, U. of Minn. and to be able to report his affiliation.

Our rushing for the year is practically completed. We are pleased to announce the pledging and initiation of the following men:

James S. Becker, Ph. B., Georgetown U., of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Harold R. Brophy, Ph. B., Georgetown U., of Minneapolis, Minn.; George L. Burke, B. A., Georgetown U., of Northampton, Mass.; Bernard A. Connelly, B. S., Colgate College, of New Britain, Conn.; Frank W. Flood, B. A., Yale, of New Haven, Conn.; John L. Gillen, B. A., Georgetown U., of Youngstown, Ohio; John A. Goodwin, B. A., Georgetown U., of New York City; Arthur T. Gorman, Catholic U., of New Haven, Conn.; Robert G. Merrick, B. S., Kansas State College, of Topeka, Kansas; Albert G. Prutzman, Penn State College, of Palmerton, Pa.

The other men making up the present chapter are:

Norman C. Andrew, of New York City; Jeremiah L. Cadick, of Grand View, Ind.; Richard J. Connor, of New Haven, Conn.; William F. Curtin, of New Britain, Conn.; Thomas K. Egan, of Goshen, N. Y.; Josiah F. Farmer, of Cedar Hill, Tenn.; Cyril F. Gaffney, of New Britain, Conn.; Enos G. Jones, of Sioux Falls, S. Dak.; Carl Merryman, of New Haven, Conn.; Samuel Lloyd, Jr., of New Haven, Conn.; Alfred N. Slaggert, of Saginaw, Mich.; Joseph E. Talbot, of Naugatuck, Conn.; Mark S. Waggener, of Atchison, Kansas; Robert B. Watts, of Portland, Me.; William T. Fitzgerald, of North Vernon, Ind.; Ralph G. Failing, of Fort Plain, N. Y.; Leon E. McCarthy, of Ansonia, Conn.; Charles M. Martin, of Bay City, Mich.; Paul Horton Miller, of Beallsville, Pa.; James A. O'Reilly, of Providence, R. I.; William F. Schneider, of Louisville, Ky.; Francis V. Tracy, of Bristol, Conn.; Albert A. Verrilli, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Conrad A. W. Voigt, of New Haven, Conn.

—Enos G. Jones.

ALUMNI

Brother Harry F. Hamlin has been elected as an Associate Judge of the Municipal Court of the City of Chicago at the election last November. Brother Hamlin is an alumnus of Campbell and Calhoun Chapters and was formerly first Assistant United States District Attorney at Chicago.

A RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Major Robert Whitney Imbrie, Master of Laws, Yale University, 1906, late United States Consul at Teheran, Persia, was a graduate member in good standing of Book and Gavel, the Calhoun Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity;

AND WHEREAS, Major Imbrie had for many years served his country with distinction in important capacities both in war and peace, and thereby reflecting honor and credit upon the fraternity of which he was a member, and especially upon this, his own chapter of said fraternity;

AND WHEREAS, Major Robert Whitney Imbrie, while on active duty in the service of his country in the important post of United States Consul at Teheran, capital of Persia, was, on the eighteenth day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty-four, unjustifiably and wickedly attacked and put to death by a mob of fanatical natives, whereby his country and his fraternity have suffered an irreparable loss: Now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, by the Active Chapter of Book and Gavel, Calhoun Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, assembled at the first meeting of the year 1924-25, that the most sincere sympathy of the members of the chapter is extended to Mrs. Katherine Gillespie Imbrie in her bereavement, and be it FURTHER RESOLVED, that this Resolution be spread upon the minutes of this chapter, and that the Clerk be and is hereby directed to prepare a copy thereof and forward the same to Mrs. Imbrie.

CAMPBELL

University of Michigan

Campbell chapter again takes pleasure in greeting the other chapters of our fraternity and extending to them the compliments and good wishes.

While the time has not yet arrived for a complete summary of the year's work and activity, we feel safe in saying that the year thus far had been, for us a very prosperous one, a happy one and one which has seen our membership maintain the high standards always expected of Phi Alpha Delta on the Michigan Campus. On December the sixth last, ten men were initiated into the chapter and we have every reason to be proud of our selection. It has been a source of much satisfaction to the older members to receive the congratulations, not only of the faculty of the law school, but of several of the rival legal fraternities, upon the calibre and character of the men chosen. Those initiated comprise the following men: Arthur A. Nack, of Galena, Ill.; Jose E. Armijo, of Las Vegas, N. M.; Noble D. Travis, of Kalamazoo, Mich.; Charles D. Livingston, of Detroit, Mich.; Louis S. Reller, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Robert P. Davies, of Dayton, O.; H. Allyn Hicks, Jr., of Denver, Colo.; John Curry Hover, of Bellefontaine, O.; William W. King, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo.; and James B. Boyle, of Salt Lake City, Utah. We also take pleasure in announcing that Brother Cliff A. Pedderson, of Morehead, Minn., a member of Ryan chapter of the University of Wisconsin, has been affiliated with Campbell chapter. Our second semester rushing program is now nicely started. Richard W. Lenseke, of Jackson, Mich., has been pledged and will be initiated with the group which is admitted to membership in the Spring of the year.

Our social activities, as always, strictly limited to a very few events throughout the year, have made up in quality what they lacked in quantity. An informal dance was given at the chapter house on the first of November, but the real party of the year was given at the time of the J-Hop. A house party was held and the eleven members of the chapter who attended report that it was the "best ever." A formal dinner was held Friday evening after which the party repaired to the scene of the formal ball and a breakfast was held at the chapter house after the Hop. On Saturday evening a formal dinner dance was held at the house and on Sunday after dinner the group dispersed allowing the wandering brothers to again take possession of their house and home. The fair guests presented to the chapter a very attractive floor lamp as a token of their appreciation for the hospitality of the chapter.

The men of Campbell chapter have this year, as in other years, taken a prominent part in the affairs and activity of the campus. Brother James K. Brooker is captain of the track team. He has gained national and even international prominence by reason of being a member of the Olympic team from the United States and will no doubt add further to his laurels before the coming track season is over. Brother Murane is president of the Blue Key chapter, a prominent campus organization whose purpose is to extend the hospitality of Michigan to all athletic organizations which come to Ann Arbor. Brother Neill Reid is the president of the University of Michigan Glee Club. Brother John Ross is the editor in chief of "The Bent," the national organ of the Tau Beta Pi engineering fraternity. Brother King is the vice-president of the Lawyers' Club. Brother Livingston is the president of the Mimes of the University of Michigan Union, the organization which is responsible for the production of the Michigan Union Opera, which has become nationally known during the past few years. Three of our men are on the board of editors of the Michigan Law Review.

It will be of interest to the other chapters of the fraternity to know that during the past year we have perfected an organization to bring the alumni of our chapter into closer relationship with the active men. We believe that all of the chapters of the fraternity have experienced or will experience some difficulty in maintaining the proper relationship with the body of alumni. There has been organized an "Alumni Advisory council" consisting of three prominent alumni and three members of the chapter whose duty it shall be to bring the active fraternity into closer touch with those who have gone on and we have every reason to believe that this body, which is now functioning in splendid fashion will accomplish worthwhile results. Space does not permit a detailed explanation of the plan but our secretary would be happy to answer any inquiries from any of the chapters who might be interested.

One of Campbell chapter's alumni, Brother John Bradfield, has been appointed managing editor of "The Quarterly." The chapter takes this opportunity to congratulate him and to wish him every success in his new work.

The door of our chapter house is never locked and it always gives us the greatest sort of pleasure to entertain the brothers of other chapters who are so fortunate as to have occasion to visit Ann Arbor.

—Marcell E. Fead.

ALUMNI

Editor of the Quarterly—I am giving up my private practice at the end of this year to take charge of the trust department of the Liberty Insurance Bank of this city. I might say that this is one of the largest banks in the South. On December 13, just passed, I attended the convention of the University of Michigan Alumni Association from the 4th District held at Indianapolis. The 4th District is made up of alumni of Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Alabama. It was my good fortune to be elected District President at that meeting and to secure Louisville as the next meeting place, in April of this year.—W. S. Kammerer.

Announcement has been received of the addition of Brother Thomas F. McDonald to the firm of Spencer & Donnell, of St. Louis, Mo. The firm will hereafter be known as Spencer, Donnell & McDonald. Selden P. Spencer is United States Senator from Missouri. Brother McDonald served as Major of F. A. during the World War.

From Brother Alex Hitz comes the following: "The Quarterly is getting better with each issue. In Brother Hank L. Phoenix Story Chapter has a man who can write the most interesting newsletter I ever read." Brother Hitz is located at Atlanta, Ga.

CAPEN

Illinois Wesleyan University
Capen Chapter, which is named after the Dean of the Illinois Wesleyan University School of Law, was granted a charter on the twenty-first of March, 1908. At the time of its installation, Dean Charles Leban Capen was elected to honorary membership. Honorable Louis Fitz-Henry of Bloomington was also made an honorary member. Brother Fitz-Henry is now Federal Judge of the Southern District of Illinois. At our recent initiation ceremonies both of these distinguished brothers were present and told of the growth of Phi Alpha Delta. Our chapter has shown a steady growth each year since 1908, except during the World War when every member joined the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, except on brother who was a cripple. After the war our capable alumni got busy and started the chapter going again until we now have over 150 members.

This school year has been a very successful one from every standpoint. We have an active chapter of twenty-three and every one is doing his best to make it a bigger and better chapter.—Vernon G. Butz.

Brother James O. Gallimore is associated with brother in the practice of law at Carversville, Illinois.

Brother Ivan Cole has recently opened an office here in Bloomington for the general practice of law.

Brother John Twomey is in the law office of Charles Crayton at Danville, Illinois.

Brother Jesse R. Willis is the newly appointed Assistant State's Attorney of McLean County, Bloomington, Illinois.

Brother John Gerling holds a very responsible position with the Chicago & Alton Railroad in this city.

Brother Kenneth Pearce of last year's class is associated with his father, Joe Pearce, in the practice of law at Carmi, Illinois. His father is State Attorney of White County.

Brother Ferre Watkins is now Judge Advocate of the American Legion, Department of Illinois. On Supreme Historian is one of his assistants.

CLAY

University of Kentucky

Clay chapter of P. A. D. began this school year last semester with thirty old men back, last year's graduating class sadly depleted her ranks. But a few men qualified in the last spring's exams, but from among the eligibles the chapter selected and initiated two of the best. If the quantity was low the quality was high.

The law school of the University of Kentucky took on new color and life this year with the advent of C. J. Turck as the leader of the law school. Kentucky has always boasted of the past, but now with a man of the caliber of Dean Turck at the head of the school, the future looms with a spirit that will challenge the best that other schools can offer. Dean Turck came to us from Vanderbilt University, where he was a teacher and author of note.

Clay chapter is still proud to number among the names of her illustrious and loved, the name of Judge Lyman P. Chalkley, who is a member of the law faculty and a very present help to Clay chapter. Judge Chalkley is a splendid type of the old Kentucky gentleman and southern chivalry shall never die as long as it has such champions.

The chapter is now looking toward its future and has already pledged some half dozen men who successfully completed the first semester's work with the required standard. In June, ten of the chapter's best men will step forth onto the battlefield of life to test their strength with the best that the legal world can boast. May they ever champion the cause that are just and bring honor to the land that gave them birth.

Clay chapter extends her greetings to the other chapters of Phi Alpha Delta, and wishes them every justly merited success.—John Y. Brown.

DUNBAR

University of Washington

Dunbar Chapter has had, I believe, an exceptionally successful pledging season. We looked up the scholastic records of the men and pledged about a month after the opening of school in the fall. Among the pledges are Gerald De Garnow and Frank Fraser, consistent grade getters, George Guttormsen and Fred Abel, who are stars on the University of Washington football squad, Elmer Tesreau, captain-elect of the 'Varsity football team, Carl Heiderman, good student and a brother of Brother George Heiderman of Campbell Chapter, Orlo Kellogg, who stood second in the scholastic standing of the first year class at the end of the first quarter, Dean Spencer, Manager of 'Varsity Debate, Al J. Westberg, 'Varsity Debate squad man.

Brother Morford is at present on the 'Varsity Debate team that will compete with the University of Idaho this month.

A new field of work for us has opened here by the institution of a Law Review movement by Dean Condon. Brothers Walthew and Lesh are members of the Editorial Board for the new Review.

—Chester A. Lesh.

Brother Leslie J. Ayer is a member of the Law School Faculty and divides his spare moments between the University of Washington Athletic Committee and playing golf with members of our Supreme Bench.

Brother Roland M. Hollock is now Division Judge Advocate stationed at Fort Amador, Canal Zone.

Brother Charles W. Hadley of Wheaton, Illinois, has been retained by Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom as special assistant attorney general in connection with interest suits. Brother Hadley had an important part in the prosecution of the civil suits against Governor Len Small, under former Attorney General Edward Brundage, and he is to carry on this work. Brother Hadley was formerly State's Attorney of DuPage County.

GREEN

University of Kansas

Since our last letter failed to reach the editor in time for publication in the November "Quarterly," it seems proper to begin now by going back to some of the events of last Spring.

The thing which remains most strongly impressed upon the minds of the members as a whole is the last Annual Spring Party. Under the direction of Brother Jack Stewart, the meanest party in the local history of P. A. D. was thrown at Ecke's Hall. "Brick" English provided the music. It is sufficient to say that he was at his best, for anyone who has heard him at such a time knows that means the latest thing in dance music. With wonderful music, beautiful decorations, neat programs, and everything which goes to make a good party, the event was a success in every way; and though it may be equalled it will be a hard party to beat.

While this is the impression remaining uppermost in the majority of our recollections, there are some of our members to whom it has no doubt faded into nothingness and been entirely forgotten in the effort to keep pace with their more important undertakings. Heading this category are our three latest deserters from the ranks of the merry bachelors. Brothers Kramer, Stewart, and Noah walked the plank in the order named. Of these, Stewart and Noah are back in school trying to prove the old maxim that two can live cheaper than one.

In debate some of the brothers have distinguished themselves. Brothers Wunsch and Wright composed the Kansas team which defeated Pennsylvania when they came out here fresh from their victory over Oxford. This year Pledge Means is out for debate.

At the last meeting in the Spring, Brother Wunsch was elected to head the chapter for the year 1924-25, and is proving himself to be an efficient officer and exceptionally competent leader.

Brother John Blake is the Law School's representative to the University Student Council for this year.

In scholarship, the names of Brothers Snell, Day, Wunsch, Hugin, and Fontron appear upon the honor roll. Snell was the high man in the Senior class, and Fontron in the Junior class. Pledge Means has recently been elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Last Spring Snell was one of the applicants selected for final consideration for the Rhodes Scholarship, and this year

Wunsch has been awarded this honor. Knowing his qualifications, we predict that Brother Wunsch will be the next Rhodes scholar from Kansas.

At the opening of school we moved into another house, and we extend an invitation to all our alumni and everyone else to visit us here on Vermont street.

In the Fall class elections, Fontron was elected president of the second year class, and Means president of the first year class. Brother Noah was elected to the Law School Student Council to fill an unexpired term. At the present time P. A. D. furnished three of the council members: Brothers Noah, I. and Wunsch.

The most recent social event was "The Law Scrim"—the annual Law School party in honor of the Varsity football squad. Brother John Hall was one of the firm of Blake & Blake, who managed the party, and much credit is due to him for making it one of the best Law Scrims in recent years. The football team were guests of honor, and seemed to enjoy it to the utmost. No damage was done, despite the fact that "flea-hopping" was the step in vogue for the evening. Brother "Babe" Smith was our representative on the football team. This year "Babe" made his second letter, and was selected as an All-Missouri Valley tackle—W. Hallett; J. H. Hogin.

Brother Arthur E. Hamilton, a member of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter, died October 13, 1924. He was a graduate of Leland Stanford University, and a member of Holmes Chapter there, later on changing over to Ross Chapter and subsequently joining the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter. The following was clipped from a Los Angeles newspaper:

"The body of Arthur Elton Hamilton, Los Angeles attorney, who as an officer in the World War was gassed and wounded, was brought to Los Angeles last night from the desert ranch of B. A. Funk, near Daggett, where he died Monday night after a vain effort to regain his health. Mr. Hamilton was a first lieutenant in the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Infantry. He lived at 1236 West Eleventh street.

"Mr. Hamilton was a member of the American Legion Post, No. 13, Pasadena; of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Los Angeles, and of the Native Sons of the Golden West, Ramona Parlor, No. 109. He was born in El Monte thirty-six years ago; was graduated from the Covina High School, class '01, from Leland Stanford University, class '11, and from the law school of the University of Southern California, class '13. He was a member of the Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity.

"Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Hamilton, 836 North Raymond street, Pasadena, Mr. Hamilton's parents, his widow, two brothers and two sisters survive. The brothers are Ernest Hamilton, Pasadena, and R. C. Hamilton, Alameda. The sisters are Mrs. E. W. Toy, Pasadena, and Mrs. R. C. Denny, Fresno.

"Ramona Parlor, of which he was a past president, will attend the funeral in a body."

MAGRUDER

University of Illinois

On the flatness of the prairie where the first tribe of Illini roved eight generations ago, their descendants have built a great memorial stadium. The stadium was dedicated on the seventeenth of October to the memory of two hundred sons of the University of Illinois whose lives were lost in the World War. It is a tribute to the valor of the Illini who made the supreme sacrifice that the spirit of justice and equality might prevail. The stadium will stand forever as a symbol of Illini spirit.

And there will go down into the history of Illinois the story of Red Grange and the rest of the Zupp-keved Illini on the afternoon of the eighteenth of October. With pandemonium let loose amid the 70,000 delirious Homecomers and their hosts that swayed in the Memorial Stadium, the Illini team sent Michigan down into defeat by a score of 39 to 14. It was Grange—Grange—Grange—four touchdowns for him in the first quarter. A thrill came to the heart of everyone as they saw him dart, dodge, and race through the bewildered Michigan team.

A large number of the alumni of Magruder Chapter were back for the Homecoming celebration. The chapter house was the headquarters for every brother in Phi Alpha Delta. Among those who registered at the house were the following from Magruder: Leroy R. Kershaw, '04, Muskogee, Okla.; Stoy J. Maxwell, '06, Robinson, Ill.; Edward McConaughy, '06, Rochelle, Ill.; Fred L. Wham, '09, Centralia, Ill.; William Ewan, '07, Kewanee, Ill.; Roy H. Among those from Campbell Chapter who registered were: Supreme Justice George E. Fink, Chicago, Ill.; W. S. Kammerer, '18, Louisville, Ky.; Norman Sallwasser, '21, La Porte, Ind.; Vernon Hillery, '25, Los Angeles, Calif.; Thomas Lynch, '25, Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Among those from Blackstone Chapter who registered were: Edwin Jindra, Oak Park, Ill.; J. E. Roche, Chicago, Ill.; Otto Clemens, Chicago, Ill.; J. B. Jurasha, Chicago, Ill.; Albert Smith, Chicago, Ill.; John Bunto, Chicago, Ill.; Richard Baker, Chicago, Ill.; M. J. Madden, Chicago, Ill.; District Justice Harry G. Keats, Chicago, Ill.

Brother Edward McConaughy, of Rochelle, Illinois, is an aspirant for the office of County Judge of Ogle County to succeed the late Frank E. Reed. Governor Len Small has authorized the calling of a special election on Tuesday the seventh of April. A meeting of the Republican County Central Committee has been called for Tuesday, the twenty-fourth of February, when a nomination will be made. It is understood that there are four aspirants for the office. Brother McConaughy would make a mighty good Judge and he has our very best wishes.

Brother Charles H. Kinnane is an Assistant Professor of Law in the Law School of the University of Wyoming at Laramie. He was born in 1898. After graduation from the Centralia, Illinois Township, High School in 1916, he entered the University of Illinois. On the sixth of June, 1917, he enlisted in the United States Army, saw service overseas, and for bravery in action was awarded the Croix de Guerre. He re-entered the University the second semester 1919-20, and registered in the College of Law in the fall of 1920. On the sixteenth of December, 1920, he was initiated into the Benjamin D. Magruder Chapter. He assisted part time in the law office of Fred B. Hamill, of Champaign, for a period of six months during the school year of 1923-

24. During his senior year in the College of Law he was a student editor of the Illinois Law Quarterly. He was granted the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Law in 1924. During the summer session, 1924, he took post graduate work at Yale University School of Law as a candidate for the J. S. D. degree. He intends to return to Yale this summer to continue his work for the J. S. D. degree. Brother Kinnane was married in November, 1922.

Brother Leslie L. Wilbourn, of Cairo, Illinois is State's Attorney of Alexander County. After graduation from the Jackson Military Academy, Jackson, Missouri, in 1908, he entered the College of Law of the University of Illinois, receiving his LL. B. degree in 1911. He was admitted to the Bar in February, 1913, and has been located at Cairo since that time. He first entered politics as the Republican candidate for County Judge but he was defeated. He was elected State's Attorney in 1916, re-elected in 1920, and again re-elected in 1924. His Democratic opponent in 1916 had held the office of State's Attorney for sixteen consecutive years, and was also a candidate in 1920. His opponent in the 1920 Primary was Brother Wesley E. Cummins, who is also a member of Magruder Chapter. The election of Brother Wilbourn for a third term speaks well of his popularity in Alexander County and his ability as a prosecutor. Brother Wilbourn was married the twenty-fourth of March, 1923.

John R. Snively, Eastern District Justice, was appointed Assistant State's Attorney of Winnebago County, Illinois, last December.

McKinley

Ohio State

University

McKinley chapter is entering upon its fifth year as a chapter of Phi Alpha Delta. At present we are represented by alumni in practically every section of Ohio. At the close of the school year last spring we lost eleven members by graduation. All of these brothers have successfully passed the state bar exam and are now engaged in the active practice of law.

In spite of our handicap in the way of depleted ranks at the beginning of this school year, we had the added amount of spirit and pep to overcome this difficulty. Every two weeks we have held a dinner and smoker at some local hotel. To these different affairs we always invited a select group from the freshman law class. Thus we were enabled to carry on our rushing in a systematic and careful manner. At these dinners we always managed to secure a prominent lawyer to address the group. We were well repaid for our efforts, and so far this year have initiated seven mighty promising men. They are: John B. Powell, Columbus, O.; Robert J. Davis, Columbus, O.; Harold J. Cross, Columbus, O.; Harry C. Weaver, Columbus, O.; Albert A. Clark, Columbus, O.; Wm. A. Graham, Huntington, W. Va.; Frank V. Benton, Jr., Newport, Ky.

At the end of the first quarter of the school year we lost three more brothers through graduation. They are: Bros. Alva W. Bachman, Cameron, Meachem, and Cable M. Gibson. Bro. Gibson was, up until this time, our honorable Justice, so this necessitated the election of a new Justice. Bro. Ford was unanimously chosen as successor and it is therefore needless to add any words in his favor. The other officers at present are: Vice Justice, Walter C. Dungan; Treasurer, Dwight A. Swisher; Marshall, Ralph J. Reckart; Clerk, Walter R. Snider.

The election of a new Justice at this time of the year has the effect of a second breath upon the activities of the chapter. Every one is expecting as much or more to be accomplished during the rest of the year as has been in the first half.

Last year our chapter ranked second in scholarship among the four legal fraternities at Ohio State

Bro. George L. Dixon was elected to Coif. Bro. Swisher was elected as president of the Y. M. C. A. for the present year.

The law school at Ohio State is growing each year. The Freshman class numbers over two hundred. This necessitated the addition of a new member to the faculty. Professor Robert Eldon Matthews was selected as the sixth professor in our law faculty.—W. R. Snider.

MARSHALL

University of Chicago

Be it remembered that heretofore, that is to say, in the term of Fall last past, before the honorable lords, the Faculty at the University of Chicago Law School, came one Marshall Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, accomplishing many and divers acts, both creditable and worthy of mention.

And not the least of these Acts was the fall initiation, held in the Cooper-Carleton Hotel. A most impressive ceremony—followed by a glorious banquet. We are particularly proud of the new brothers, for we believe they are indeed the pick of the school. Cast you eye over this bunch: Derrel L. Gross, New York City; Thomas A. Murray, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Kenneth Kneussl, Ottawa, Ill.; Shepherd D. Wheat, Dallas, Texas; Arthur Hies, Indianapolis, Ind.; Robert L. Hunter, Boone, Iowa; Alfred H. Highland, Hammond, Ind., and from Chicago, Earl Bright, Chas. W. Allen, Norman A. Crawford, and R. J. Demeree.

We now have eight pledges: E. Vance Wilson, Salt Lake City, Utah; Walker B. Davis, Burke, S. Dakota; L. A. Westcott, Shawano, Wis.; and from Chicago, J. C. Webster, Don Irwin, King McCord, Edward O'Brien, and E. A. Miller.

Merriam has been elected president of the Law School Council, and also appointed to the staff of the recently re-organized Illinois Law Review. Pledge E. A. Miller is also a member of the staff.

Little, Becker, and Allen were elected to the Law School Council, and Little was later appointed secretary of that organization.

This year each of the fraternities was asked to put on a stunt for the annual Law School Smoker. Marshall Chapter alone responded and made a tremendous hit with a minstrel show. The success of the skit was largely due to the hard work and inimitable characterizations of Proudfoot.

Pledge Don Irwin is Abbott of Black Friars, the most important campus dramatic organization. Sullivan is doing excellent work at track; Hunter saunters over and shows 'em up on the mat, and finds time to referee innumerable matches. He is prominent in Y. M. C. A. work, and a member of the Inter-fraternity Council. Demeree, as head of the Employment Bureau, sees that we are well taken care of in time of need.

Johnson captained the debate team which at Oxford last fall, and, although we lost the decision, our brother proved himself to be master of his subject. We are very proud of Johnson's honor.

And the best of these many Acts comes last. We now have an active house committee, one that provides a new house by next fall. Our quarters are extremely inadequate at present, and this will give us just the additional amount of prestige we need, and then watch Marshall Chapter.—Albert M. Cole

Brother G. G. Smith, in a letter to the Editor recently pleads guilty to a reawakening of interest in Phi Alpha Delta after a lapse of several years. In the early days Brother Smith was active in the A. D. affairs, having been instrumental in the establishment of the chapters at Wisconsin, Michigan, and Oregon.

Brother Jack Kummell has been elected secretary of the Chicago Alumnae Chapter, and is also helping our chapter to incorporate, in accordance with the policy of the national organization.

Graduation took two men last fall—Raymond Johnson, who is now in Stamping Ground, Ky., and R. W. Morgan, now with the Strauss Bros. Co., Chicago. Brothers Tallant, Schoening, Proudfoot and Metzgen have expressed their hopes to be graduated at the end of the winter quarter.

Brother Montgomery S. Winning, of Chicago, Illinois, has been appointed first Assistant Attorney General of the State of Illinois by Honorable Oscar E. Carlstrom, who is the new Attorney General. Brother Winning was formerly Secretary of the Legislative Reference Bureau at Springfield, and has been associated with the law firm of Schuyler, Etison & Weinfeld, of Chicago.

MORGAN

University of Alabama

Morgan Chapter has been unusually active this year. Although only twelve men returned at the opening of school, the year has been its brightest one that this young chapter has ever had. The twelve men returning were Brothers Barber, Baxley, Bailey, Black, Carmichael, Cotton, Curry, Hunter, Jackson, McKee, Rubira, and Thornton.

Since the beginning of the year we have pledged twelve good men, who will be initiated shortly. The new men are Pledges Boner, Bridges, Coleman, Dodd, Dougherty, Ellis, Haralson, Hardeman, Hill, Murphy, Truman, and Ventress.

Although we have no house here at the University of Alabama, we have had regular weekly meetings and the fellows are showing a great spirit. This was evidenced by the attendance at our annual banquet, which we had on the twenty-fourth of January, at the McLester Hotel. Many alumni were present for this enjoyable occasion. Professors Masters, of the University Law Faculty, and an Honorary member of this chapter, was to have acted as Toastmaster but had to be out of town on business, and Brother Barber, Justice, ably acted in his place. All present said it was the best banquet they had ever attended.

The following officers were elected at the last meeting of the year: Amzi G. Barber, Justice; T. J. Carmichael, Vice Justice; J. R. Thornton, Jr., Clerk; J. H. Curry, Treasurer; M. I. Jackson, Marshal; and W. G. Black, Historian. Under their able leadership Morgan Chapter is assured of a most successful and prosperous year as has already been evinced by the progress made during the first semester.

Several of the Brothers who were with us during the first semester have either graduated at Mid-Term or else found it necessary to give up their school work. We regret very much that Brother Cotton could not have been with us during the whole year, and are also very sorry to lose Brothers Boner, Black, and Bailey by graduation.

On December 13, we sent a delegation, composed of Brothers Barber, Black, McKee, Jackson, and Thornton, to New Orleans to the installation of the Francois Xavier Martin Chapter at Tulane University. They were most favorably impressed with the personnel of the new chapter, and, needless to say, enjoyed the hospitality shown them in New Orleans.

—S. S. Rubira, Jr.

ALUMNI

Brother Sidney J. Gray was married on November 12, to Miss Ina Chason, of Chatham, Alabama, and they are now at home at Pascagoula, Miss., where Brother Gray is engaged in the practice.

Brother W. Emmett Perry is now practicing law in Birmingham, with an office at 933-5 First National Bank Bldg.

Brother Leigh M. Clark is associated with Hon. Rehben H. Wright in the practice at Tuscaloosa.

Brother John J. Sparkman is General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of the University of Alabama.

Brother Al Rives is Assistant Athletic Director of the University of Alabama this year.

Brother Leo H. Pou is a member of the firm of Curtis, Pennington & Pou, with an office in the First national Bank Bldg., Jasper.

ALUMNI

Brother Oliver C. Hardy, member of Ross Chapter, is associated with the firm of Hardy, Elliott & Aberle. Their offices are at 535 Van Nuys Bldg., Los Angeles. A partner in the firm is Brother Fred Aberle, Jr.

JOSEPH STORY

De Paul University

Well, no one can deny that we're at last in the midst of it. School, school, school—and the Bar Exam in July as an objective. What a wonderful thing to look forward to! Oh my, yes! And how much more wonderful to look backward at!

In the last issue of the Quarterly we didn't have time to inject news about our school—De Paul. Perhaps there is no news; surely there are very few changes. The Faculty of the Law School remains the same as last year. Honorable Francis X. Bush, Corporation Counsel of the City of Chicago, acts, as before, in the capacity of Dean. The enrollment this year is larger than ever before; partly because of the fact that the Pre-Law classes continue to bear fruit abundant, and partly because of the fact that the high standard of De Paul's products is becoming every day more universally recognized.

The reputation which De Paul University has made for herself is the growth of over a quarter of a century; the result of the arduous labors of a legion of noble men who gave their lives for the furtherance of legal education and the firm establishment and development of De Paul's College of Law. The respect and admiration in which the law school is held is not confined to those, only, who have profited directly thereby, but is comparatively universal. The good work she is doing is recognized throughout the State; not only by other law schools, but also by the vast body of citizens who are indirectly benefited as members of social and political bodies.

Joseph Story Chapter is fortunate in finding its resting place in such an institution. A great trust has been imposed on us in whose hands rests the duty of keeping this Chapter up to the standards set by the University. That trust is being performed in a most faithful manner. Thus far this year no pledges have been accepted, although a superabundance of material has presented itself. We are simply making sure of the worthiness of these men before taking any steps. It is often the irony of fate that natural brothers are characterized by such different temperaments that life together becomes one grand typification of Tartarus. That condition need not, and should not, exist in Fraternal life. Here, we have the opportunity of picking and choosing our brothers, while the Lord must look on from the side lines. If any brother be not satisfied that the man seeking admission to our ranks is worthy to be called his brother, it is not only his right, but his duty, to see that such an applicant does not gain admission. For, if he is not worthy to be the brother of one of us, he is not worthy to be the brother of any. It is with such a thought in mind that our selections are made. For that reason, and none other, the organization of Joseph Story Chapter and Phi Alpha Delta generally is marked with the harmony, friendliness, and sympathetic understanding which is the outstanding feature of a real Fraternity.

The list of prospective pledges contains more than seventy names. A relatively small number will be accepted. How very important, then, becomes the matter of choosing the most likely material! It devolves upon the Membership Committee to look well into the qualifications of all these men, that neither applicant nor brother can be done an injustice. Harry Walters is the Chairman of the Membership Committee, and is deserving of praise as great as that accorded any active Joseph Story man. Since becoming a Brother, Harry has worked relentlessly wherever he thought his energy and initiative might be of assistance. His work on this committee, particularly, might be rightly termed a personification of the spirit of Phi Alpha Delta.

Our ranks were greatly depleted at the close of the school year, but our organization is perfect, our membership respectable, our establishment secure. We have no fear of rival legal fraternities, though they continually buzz around our ears like pesky mosquitoes. No Fraternity in the University, Professional or Social, has one-half the advantages that we have to offer; not one is so well thought of either by Faculty or students. Our position is so strong and the general attitude so favorable to our progress, that we need not resort to the age-old system of "rushing"—a system fraught with the dangers of an insufficient consideration of candidates, and a consequent imperilization of organization. We can afford to go slowly—and we must do so or weaken our position.

At a Smoker some few weeks ago, we were honored with the presence of Supreme Justice George Fink. We were especially happy to have George with us on this occasion because so many of our friends wearing the white carnations were present. Many of our alumni, also, were with us. Brothers George Quilici, Bill Boone, Vinc O'Connor, and Jim Cherry added to the pleasure of the evening with their informal talks; Frank Gleason, with his playing and singing. Brothers Joe T. Murphy and "Josh" Stout of the active chapter contributed greatly to the entertainment with their stories, and "Josh" with his "gol-durned jiggin'." Brothers Donahey and Layman, of Taft and Magruder Chapters respectively, helped out, one with a speech and the other at the piano. Our new Justice, Bill Maloney, certainly plays his part well. Every day we're finding new reasons why we elected him to the highest office in this Chapter. Brother George Fink closed the program with one of his peppy talks, carrying the boys from the sublime to the ridiculous and back—without losing a one. Everyone went away feeling that Joseph Story men are the crown of the University; and Phi Alpha Delta, THE Legal Fraternity.

In order to show at least a small part of the participation of Joseph Story men in school affairs, we cite the offices held by Brothers Elmlad and Boyle. "Vic" Elmlad is Vice-President of the Juniors; "Steve" Boyle is President of the Juniors.

We are sorry to announce at this time the death of the father of one of our finest men, Brother Lee Gary. We sympathize with Lee and try to share his loss as brothers. And though sympathy and consolation, try as they will, cannot take away the utter desolation and dejection at the passing of one whom we love, especially if that one be "Dad" or Mother, still, they do make the way seem brighter. Lee will be forever grateful to those brothers who found it possible to get out to the house, and he may be cheered somewhat by the thought that there would have been there had it been within their power. On innumerable occasions we have told of the many notable things done by Lee for Joseph Story, and we won't enumerate again except to say that he was Justice in '21-'22.

Some time ago we told of the threatened marriage of our own J. Paul Ardeeser. J. Paul and Miss Ursula Sweeney romped to the altar on October 11 and became the "Mr. and Mrs." The ceremony was performed in the bride's parish, St. Ita's, in Edgewater. Brothers Frank Conroy and "Dox" Kueh stood guard at the door to keep the crowd in order. A good part of that crowd was P. A. D., and they all swear that Frank caught the bride's bouquet. If statistics are right, that ought to make Frank next, but we know several brothers who will be him to it—unless he does some fast work. J. Paul believes in seeing America first: his honeymoon tour takes in every point of interest from Edgewater to the Atlantic, including Evanston, Niagara Falls, New York, and Washington, D. C. The boys at thought J. Paul would take up his residence at the House upon his return, but he seems to prefer home in Rogers Park. As Brother Cherry says: "He'll begin to prefer the House later." Brother Cherry knows.—H. L. Phoenix.

ALUMNI

Brother Rex G. Hardy associated himself, effective the first of the year, with Harry William Elliott and Fred Aberle, Jr. The firm name will be Hardy, Elliott & Aberle. The new offices will be 535 Van Nuys Bldg., Los Angeles.

Brother John P. McGooty is now a double Judge. Besides being a Superior Court Judge, he has just been sworn in as a Major in Judge Advocate General's Reserve Corps.

WEBSTER

(No letter received)

ALUMNI

Brother James P. Harrold attended the American Bar Association London meeting and wrote a very interesting account of it, which appears in a recent report published by the association.

Brother Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis announces the addition of another grandson. He undoubtedly a P. A. D. to come.

Brother Judge John S. Lyle has been having an argument with Chief Justice on how high a bail bond should be. John says $100,000 is none too high when a criminal has a record of five or six killings, and we think that he is about right.

Brother Edgar A. Jonas, a past supreme justice, now is Judge of the boys in our special court held in Chicago, and he is doing splendid work in helping the boys to reform.

HISTORIAN'S NOTE

The Supreme Historian is desirous of having all those who can contribute any information about the early history of the fraternity, communicate with him immediately. It is the sincere wish that we have a pleasant controversial contest on how and why this great fraternity of ours started. Brother Hollock and Brothers Day and Cline are hard at work on the pros and cons of the situation. Their august findings will appear shortly. Won't you do your bit and add to what they will say? A general court martial will be had for all those that tell the truth.

Frank B. Trotter; Hon. John H. Hatcher, Judge of the 10th Judicial Circuit; Thomas P. Hardman, Professor of Law; Hon. James A. Meredith, President Supreme Court of Appeals; Hon. Ephraim F. Morgan, Governor of West Virginia, as well as Dean Madden.

The visiting Brothers were much impressed with the type of men composing the petitioning group in view of the fact that its leading rival Phi Delta Phi was thoroughly established before the advent of Phi Alpha Delta on the campus. Mr. Cantrell, of Phi Delta Phi, at the banquet welcomed the new P. A. D. Chapter and a strong healthy rivalry is bound to spring up to the good of both organizations and the Law School as well.

The Law School is housed in a large modern, exceptionally well equipped three story building, with a library of 20,000 volumes and has a large moot court room and fine recitation rooms.

The new stadium at the University to seat 35,000 will be ready for the Fall football games.

Five Minutes of Your Time—Is Worth a Year of Mine.

DHONE three of your P. A. D. friends and, if they are not already subscribing to the Quarterly, ask them if they have any objection to being placed on our mailing list. [Subscription $1.00 a year. With professional card $2.00 a year.] Statement will be mailed by the Editor upon receipt of the names that you send in.

Five minutes work by each Alumnus reader will count for more than months of circularizing from this office.

The Editor

Merit— and merit alone!

LITTLE has been said in print about the Woodstock—
—but much has been said by thousands of enthusiastic operators.

It's mainly this background of goodwill—earned by good performance—that is responsible for its success.

Users will tell you the Woodstock is a most exceptional typewriter—a composite of all improvements conducive to effortless writing—plus a rare beauty of type and sturdiness of construction that stamps this machine as a thing apart.
