SUPREME JUSTICE'S PAGE

CONGRATULATIONS are due to all chapters—and their officers and members—for the close co-operation offered the national officers since the opening of the college year. Let this good work go on, for such practice is indeed the oxygen necessary to the flowing of the life-stream of your Fraternity.

May I ask the officers of each chapter—active and alumni—to interest themselves in the new Directory. See that each P. A. D. you know sends in his questionnaire to Brother Allan T. Gilbert. While the money for the subscription to the Directory is important—the correctness of names and addresses is more so. YOU, now reading these lines,— have you sent in your questionnaire?

This is the last Quarterly to be published in 1926, and so I want to take this opportunity of again thanking chapter officers for their cooperation, and to wish to the chapters and to the membership at large, every good thought for the coming holiday season. Let 1927 come in with the firm resolve To DO,—to do and live fraternalism and to foster the continued progress of your Fraternity.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year,
REX HARDY.

The Supreme Justice's Recent Trip

Around the Loop With Brother Hardy in his Swing Through the South and East

THINK that the fraternity at large will be interested in knowing the high-lights of my recent trip through the south and to Chicago.

There were a number of reasons that made this trip necessary, not the least of which was to give official expression to the action of the last convention in creating a Southern District. Many of you know that considerable agitation for the creation of a Southern District has gone out for a number of years, the southern chapters feeling that their problems were local to themselves and not bound up with problems incidental to northern chapters, and that for that reason a straight up and down—longitudinal—division of the United States into districts did not meet the situation presented by the Southern District. The new Southern District Justice is Amzi G. Barber, of Birmingham, who is an alumnus of the University of Alabama, and who was, during his college days, a strong factor in the success of Morgan Chapter at that University. He has been trying to bring the chapters in the newly created Southern District together, letting them know that they were in fact parts and parcels of the fraternity and that he was the direct representative of the official fraternity in their midst.

By REX HARDY

Supreme Justice

I first met with the men of Martin Chapter (Tulane University), at New Orleans, and notwithstanding the fact that school had not yet opened, was fraternally greeted and royally treated by those of Martin Chapter who were then in the city. I can readily say that the interests of the fraternity in and about New Orleans are in capable hands, and that the fraternity can well be proud of Martin Chapter. Particular credit must be given to Brothers Irion, Singreen, Robinson, and de la Vergne. The fraternity will be very much interested in knowing that the P. A. D's. in New Orleans have petitioned for the establishment of an alumni chapter in that city, and the Supreme Board has passed favorably upon that petition, and as of October 15, 1926, the charter was issued.

At Birmingham I saw Brother Barber, going over the general situation in the Southern District with him for a period of two days, during which time we visited Morgan Chapter at the University of Alabama, which had just then opened its fall semester. Brother Barber and I attended a meeting of Morgan Chapter at the University, which is located at Tuscaloosa, and I am very pleased to say that I believe that the troubles of Morgan Chapter which were reported to the last convention have all been corrected. The chapter was back in school, in force, and a great deal of interest was shown in my visit inasmuch as it had been years since Morgan Chapter had had any contact with the fraternity in general.

From Birmingham I went on to Atlanta and had a number of conferences regarding fraternity expansion in that particular district with Brother Alex M. Hitz and Brother Henry M. Quillian, Jr. Older P. A. D's. who were in Washington, D. C., will remember Alex M. Hitz, while Calhoun alumni will be glad to know that Brother Quillian is an instructor in the Law Department of Emory University at Atlanta.

At Chicago I enjoyed the hospitality at the P. A. D. table in the restaurant of the Bar Association, and held a semi-official gathering at the Hamilton Club which was attended by representatives of the chapters in and about Chicago—at least all the representatives that we could get in touch with. At this conference a number of matters were discussed, not the least of which was a sounding of the attitude of the Chicago chapters upon summer conventions. Let me say right here that the question of summer conventions is one you will hear more about later on. I was also fortunate in being in Chicago at a time when Blackstone Chapter was holding a rushing smoker, and I hope that the fact that Blackstone was able to get to that smoker four national officers made an impression upon their rushees.

The trip was necessarily rapid, and I am only sorry that I was not able to take more time and visit more places. The primary need for the visit was in the South, as this administration wants to do everything that it can to get the newly established Southern District upon a sound basis.

On the question of summer conventions I will be glad to hear informally from officers of all chapters in the near future as to what your attitude on this matter is. There are a great many things to be said both for and against summer conventions and the matter is well worthy of careful consideration. The time is going to come when you will have to pass upon the matter officially, and in the meantime it is well to be considering the situation. Your response to this request for your unofficial ideas will in a large measure determine the energy with which the matter will be pressed in the future.

Brother John J. Pershing (Lawson) of Washington, D. C., the war-time Commander of the American Expeditionary Forces, was a visitor in Chicago on Armistice Day, November 11. Upon his arrival at the Union Station on the Liberty Limited from Washington, he was met by Major-General Milton J. Foreman and Dr. Thomas A. Carter, President of the Kiwanis Club of Chicago, who conducted him to the Sky Bungalow at the Hotel Sherman. As the guests of an inter-club luncheon meeting of all the Kiwanis Clubs in Chicago, General Pershing gave a vigorous address on present day conditions. He charged that the nation's spirit of civic righteousness and integrity is lacking. Further that the test of good government is the maintenance of law and order. He urged the necessity of national preparedness and allegiance to the Constitution. In his tour of the city in the afternoon, he laid wreaths on monuments erected to World War dead in various parts of the same. Everywhere he was greeted as the conquering hero. At night he led the grand march of the Armistice Day Ball of the Kiwanis Clubs at the Hotel Sherman. During his brief stay in Chicago, his host was Dr. Thomas A. Carter.

Brother William H. Martin (Magruder) of Tulsa, Oklahoma; Brother David A. Warford (Magruder) of Elizabethtown, Illinois; and Brother Conrad H. Karkow (Magruder) of Chicago, Illinois; were the guests of Brother and Mrs. Roland E. Winkleman of Urbana, Illinois, the latter part of October. They attended the Pennsylvania-Illinois football game.

* * *

Brother Leslie J. Ayer (Dunbar) of Seattle, Washington, who was to sail from New York the last of September aboard the S. S. Ryndam, which is known as the "Floating University," was unable to do so because of the passing of Dean John T. Condon of the School of Law of the University of Washington. Brother Ayer, who has been a Professor of Law at the University of Washington for the past eleven years, had been selected as a member of the faculty and was to teach the subject of International Law. He was obliged to give up the world tour also because of some writing that he had to complete. The above ship is to circle the globe while a year's college work is completed by a student body of 450 under the able guidance of a faculty of forty members.

* * *

Brother John H. Powell (Dunbar) of Seattle, Washington, is a member of the law firm of Peters and Powell, with offices in the Dexter Horton Building. Brother Marion Edwards (Dunbar) is associated with the above firm also.

Brother Ferre C. Watkins (Capen) of Chicago, Illinois, who was elected State Commander of the Department of Illinois of the American Legion several months ago, has been in great demand since then. At noon on November 11 he gave the principal address at the Armistice Day meeting of the Hamilton Club of Chicago. Brother Allan T. Gilbert, who is a Lieutenant in the Reserve Corps and also Judge Advocate of the State Department of the American Legion, presided at this meeting. On the evening of November 12 he was the principal speaker at a mass meeting of American Legion Veterans held at Stockton, which is the extreme northwestern part of Illinois. On Sunday, November 14, he was at Mt. Morris to attend the ceremonies arranged for the unveiling of a Memorial Fountain that was dedicated to the City's War Heroes. And thus you can see that the time of our good Brother Watkins is in big demand. His selection as State Commander was indeed a very popular one. He has been a tireless worker since the first days that the Legion was organized in Illinois and his enthusiasm continues to grow year after year.

Brother John S. Earll (Ryan) of Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, is District Attorney of Crawford County.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Right of Removal Case is of extraordinary interest. It will undoubtedly rank with the most notable decisions of that Court. Its significance is political, in the broader sense of the term, for it will be a lasting landmark in the never-ending development of the Constitution.

On October 25 the Supreme Court declared that the President was fully and exclusively empowered to dismiss officials appointed by him, in spite of any legislation to the contrary. The particular case passed upon has been running so long that the original complainant is deceased. He was Frank S. Myers, who had been appointed Postmaster of Portland, Oregon, in 1917. In 1920 he was removed from office by President Woodrow Wilson (Jefferson) without the consent of the Senate. He brought suit to recover the salary that he would have received for the balance of his four-year term. The Court said that he could not get his pay because he was legally ousted.

Chief Justice William Howard Taft (Calhoun) handed down an exhaustive and masterly opinion consisting of fifty-five pages. There is indeed a scholarly solemnity in his document, which was a year and a half in preparation. In it he said:

"The power to prevent the removal of an officer who has served under the President is different from the authority to consent to or reject his appointment. When a nomination is made, it may be presumed that the Senate is, or may become, as well advised as to the fitness of the nominee as the President, but in the nature of things the defects in ability or intelligence or loyalty in the administration of the laws of one who has served as an officer under the Presidents are facts as to which the President or his trusted subordinates must be better informed than the Senate, and the power to remove him may, therefore, be regarded as confined, for very sound and practical reasons to the governmental authority which has administrative control. The power of removal is incident to the power of appointment, not to the power of advising and consenting to the appointment, and when the grant of the executive power is enforced by the express mandate to take care that the laws be faithfully executed, it emphasizes the necessity for including within the executive power as conferred, the exclusive power of removal."

The fact that the Constitution places no express limit on the power of removal by the Executive is taken by the majority of the Court as "a convincing indication that none was intended." Chief Justice Taft, therefore, says "we must hold that the provision of the law of 1876 by which the unrestricted power of removal of first-class postmasters is denied to the President, is in violation of the Constitution and invalid."

These points were made in the course of the opinion of the Chief Justice, which consisted of some 24,000 words. Justice James Clark McReynolds, after whom McReynolds Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta is named, used 20,000 words to tell why he disagreed. In a very emphatic opinion he says:

"The very foundation of the government is gone. After today no man can tell just what are the powers of the President and Congress. Yesterday we supposed we had a government of specified limited powers. Today no one knows. . . Nothing short of language clear beyond serious dispute should be held to clothe the President with authority wholly beyond Congressional control arbitrarily to dismiss every officer whom he appoints except a few judges. There are no such words in the Constitution, and the asserted inference conflicts with the heretofore accepted theory that this Government is one of carefully enumerated powers under an intelligible charter."

However, the exhaustive opinion of Chief Justice William Howard Taft leaves little opportunity for comment upon the decision. It passes upon the question clearly and decisively. The removal power of the President rests upon a direct grant of power and is not a mere incident of the power to appoint. Thus, Congress may not, by any law, prevent the President from removing anyone in the Executive Department whom he has appointed.

The Hon. Erskine M. Ross, after whom Ross Chapter of the University of Southern California is named, and who recently retired from the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Ninth Judicial District, recently gave to the boys of Ross Chapter a handsome, autographed and framed picture of himself, which is now reposing in the place of honor in Ross Chapter house at 1154 West 30th Street, Los Angeles. Judge Ross has been a famous figure in California jurisprudence for over forty years, and is a constant inspiration to the boys of Ross Chapter.

BROTHERS IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Brother U. S. Webb

(Photograph on Frontispiece)

Brother Ulysses Sigel Webb (Jackson Temple Chapter) was born in Flemington, West Virginia, and when very young removed to Kansas. His early education was in the district schools. Attended high school in Augusta, Kansas. Received his Bachelor degree at Kansas Normal College at Fort Scott. Became editor of weekly paper at Augusta. Came to California in 1888 and shortly after took up the active practice of his profession. Was elected District Attorney of Plumas County in 1890, which position he held until 1902 when he resigned to accept the appointment of Attorney General of California.

Twenty-four years have passed and each succeeding election serves to show the appreciation of the people of California for the able, learned and dignified manner in which he has conducted his office. He has just been elected for another four-year term without opposition.

Brother Webb has attained State, national, and world-wide recognition by virtue of his legal ability and extensive knowledge of political economy.

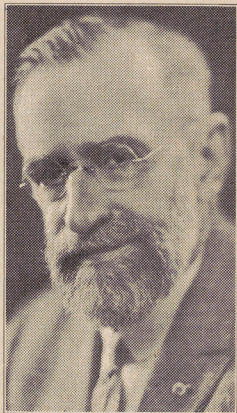

Webb drafted the Alien Land Act which prevents aliens ineligible to citizenship from owning real property and sustained his contentions in every instance before the Supreme Court of the United States. At the request of the Immigration Committee of the United States Senate he appeared before that body in 1924. General Webb was chosen as a member of the National Crime Commission, which body is acting toward the adoption of a uniform criminal code for the United States.

General Webb is past-president of the Association of Attorney Generals. He is a Mason, an Elk, and a member of the Union League and Commonwealth Clubs of San Francisco, Sutter Club of Sacramento, and the American Bar Association.

J. Zach Spearing

When the voters of New Orleans, a few years ago, chose Brother James Zacharie Spearing to represent them in the Congress of the United State they selected a man who had not only made a success in business; not only made a success in the practice of law, but who had ever given of his time and effort for the public weal. His election to Congress, as an independent Democrat, came after years spent unselfishly as a member, successively of the Orleans Parish and Louisiana State Boards of Education, and it is of especial importance to note that it was during the years that Brother Spearing served in the work of educational development, that Louisiana forged ahead to the enviable position she holds today.

BROTHER J. ZACH SPEARING

Brother "Zach," despite the fact that he was born during the Civil War, is a young man of energy, enthusiasm and that breadth of vision so much needed in our national affairs. But this enthusiasm is tempered by the practicability of the man of affairs, for before becoming an honor graduate of Tulane University, and eventually head of one of the largest law firms of New Orleans, Brother Spearing was a level headed business man. Much of his success as a lawyer and as a statesman is attributed to his early training.

Running as an Independent, he has three times been sent to Congress, first defeating two very popular and powerful opponents, the secand time without opposition, and he will take his seat in the new Congress after having defeated, by a two to one vote, three very able opponents.

One gets the impression that this man is a youngster. He ever talks of the future. His hobby (he wouldn't admit he had a hobby) we suspect, is aviation, with a big A. He is on the exclusive committee of Post Offices and Post Roads, in the national House of Representatives, and that to him means aviation. He looks to the future, and believes that the air is the sea of tomorrow.

He is a Phi Alpha Delta who has not forgotten the days in school. When he talks with the youngsters at the chapter smokers, or attends the initiation, it is with the spirit and fire of the youngest freshman, but when he turns to a discussion of affairs of state, one realizes immediately that he is listening to an authority.

Arthur A. Morrow

Brother Arthur A. Morrow (Cole) of Des Moines, Iowa, is Dean of the School of Law at Drake University. He was born on a farm near West Alexander, Pennsylvania, on August 10, 1893. His ancestry is Scotch-Irish and German. He attended grade school in Donegal Township, Washington County, Pennsylvania, and graduated from high school at Claysville. In the fall of 1907 he entered Bethany College at Bethany, West Virginia, graduating therefrom with an A. B. degree in June, 1911. He was selected by the faculty as Salutatorian of his class. For some time after graduation from Bethany College, he taught mathematics and science in the high school at New Martinsville, West Virginia. He also devoted a portion of his time to the study of law in the office of the District Attorney of Wetzel County, of which New Martinsville is the county seat. In the fall of 1913 he entered the University of Michigan Law School and graduated with the degree of J. D. in June, 1916. While at Michigan he was a student editor of the Michigan Law Review; a member of the Order of the Coif; and Valedictorian of the Class of 1916. During the World War he served in the United States Navy. He was a Quartermaster, First Class (Aviation)—QM (A)1C—and was stationed at the Charleston Navy Yard and the naval base at Hampton Roads. He has traveled in France, Italy, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales.

BROTHER ARTHUR A. MORROW

For the past eight years Brother Morrow has been a member of the law faculty of Drake University. On April 5, 1926, he was elected Dean of the School of Law, his duties as such beginning June 15. He will teach Contracts, Negotiable Instruments, Common Law Pleading, Code Pleading, and Conflict of Laws during the coming year. In July, 1921, he was selected as Dean of the College of Commerce and Finance of Drake University and continued in this position until June 15, 1926. While he was Dean of the College of Commerce and Finance he continued to teach in the Law School as his work in the College of Commerce and Finance was administrative only.

Brother Morrow was initiated as a member of Cole Chapter in May, 1921. He is a member of Tau Psi, local social fraternity at Drake; Delta Sigma Pi, national Commerce fraternity; Order of the Coif; the Frontier Club and the University Club of Des Moines

Arthur A. de la Houssaye

Brother Arthur A. de la Houssaye (Martin) of New Orleans, Louisiana, is Assistant United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Louisiana. He was born at Franklin, Louisiana, on September 2, 1900, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. de la Houssaye. His early training was received in the schools there and on June 6, 1919, he graduated from Franklin High. In the fall he entered Tulane University at New Orleans. While at Tulane he became a member of Beta Theta Pi social fraternity. He was active in college affairs, being Vice-President of the Freshman Law Class and Secretary-Treasurer of the Senior Law Class. He was also a member of the Freshman-Sophomore Tug-O-War Team and a member of the Varsity Rowing Team. On June 6, 1923, he received the degree of LL. B. from Tulane University and was admitted to the bar of Louisiana the same day. Brother de la Houssaye was an alumni member of the Omega Rho fraternity which petitioned for a charter to Phi Alpha Delta. Upon the installation of Francois Xavier Martin Chapter at Tulane on December 13, 1924, he became an alumni member of the same. In October, 1923, he became associated with the law firm of Henriques & Duchamp. Brother Edouard F. Henriques, who is Special Assistant to the Attorney General of the United States in Admiralty, is the senior member of this firm. On February 1, 1925, he was appointed Assistant United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Louisiana on the recommendation of Brother Louis H. Burns, then United States Attorney and now United States Judge for the Eastern District. He was placed in charge of all violations that come under the National Prohibition Act. Since he was so appointed he has filed in the United States District Court over a thousand informations charging violations of the National Prohibition Act, together with at least two hundred equity actions to abate nuisances under Section Twenty-Two of the same Act. Over eight hundred criminal cases have been successfully disposed of either by a plea of guilty or by a verdict of guilty by a jury, and over one hundred fifty padlock cases have likewise been disposed of successfully. During a period of three months over $100,000 in fines were collected together with the forfeiture of over a hundred trucks and automobiles which will be sold and the proceeds deposited in the Treasury of the United States. This is indeed a very good record.

BROTHER ARTHUR A. de la HOUSSEY

Ivan A. Elliott

Brother Ivan A. Elliott (Capen) of Carmi, Illinois, is the new Senior Vice-Commander of the Department of Illinois of the American Legion. Brother Elliott was born in White County, Illinois, on November 18, 1889. After he had completed his elementary and high school education, he entered Illinois Wesleyan University at Bloomington in the fall of 1913 when he was initiated as a member of Charles Laban Capen Chapter. During his entire course he lived in the chapter house, being a roommate of Brother Scott W. Lucas of

BROTHER IVAN A. ELLIOTT

Havan, who has just retired as State Commander of the Legion. He was active in athletics, being a member of the track and baseball teams during his three years in school. In 1915 he was Captain of the baseball team. He graduated from Illinois Wesleyan in the spring of 1916 with the degree of LL. B. He attended the First Officers Training Camp at Fort Sheridan, Illinois, and Fort Monroe, Virginia. On August 15, 1917, he was commissioned a First Lieutenant in the Coast Artillery. He served overseas with the First Battalion of the 52nd Artillery (C. A. C.) from September 12, 1917, to November 26, 1918. He was promoted to the rank of Captain on September 21, 1918, and now holds a commission as Major in the Coast Artillery Reserve, commanding the 532nd Artillery. Since the organization of the American Legion in Illinois he has been Adjutant of Carmi Post No. 224. For three years he served on the State Executive Committee and also served as a member of the State Finance Committee for the same length of time. During 1925-26 he was Junior Vice-Commander for the four Districts in Southern Illinois. He was elected Senior Vice-Commander of the Legion at the State Convention at Springfield on September 14, 1926. He succeeds Brother Ferre C. Watkins of Chicago, who was elevated to the post of State Commander. It is indeed a coincidence that they are both members of the same chapter and also graduates of the same law school. Since the war he has practiced in Carmi, White County, Illinois, with the law firm of Conger and Elliott. He is also a part owner of the White County Abstract Company at Carmi. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club and has been Chairman of the District Citizenship Committee of Illinois and Eastern Iowa District. Brother Elliott is married and has two sons, Ivan A., Jr., and Norman.

Hjalmer W. Swenson

Brother Hjalmer W. Swenson (Corliss) of Devils Lake, North Dakota, is State's Attorney of Ramsey County. He was born at Minneapolis, Minnesota, on November 18, 1885. Later his parents moved to a farm near Wheaton, Minnesota, where he lived until he was nineteen years of age. He received his elementary and high school education at Wheaton. After he graduated from high school, he taught school for five years in Minnesota and North Dakota. In the fall of 1911 he entered the University of North Dakota and graduated from the Law School in 1914 with the degree of LL. B. He was admitted to the bar of North Dakota the same year. During the next six years he served as Assistant Cashier of the State Bank of Brocket. In December, 1920, he was appointed County Judge of Ramsey County, North Dakota, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the presiding Judge. After serving a little over two years on appointment, he was elected for another two-year term. Thereafter he was elected State's Attorney of Ramsey County, which office he is now holding for the first term. On being elected State's Attorney he formed a partnership with S. W. Thompson of Devil's Lake, under the firm name of Thompson & Swenson.

Brother Swenson was initiated as a member of Corliss Chapter at Grand Forks during the fall of 1912 and remained an active member of the chapter until he graduated. He is also a member of Phi Delta Theta; the Masonic Order; I. O. O. F.; Modern Woodmen of America; and the Elks. During the last year he has been Exalted Ruler of Devil's Lake Lodge No. 1216, B. P. O. E. He is also a member of the Kiwanis Club of Devil's Lake and was President of the Club in 1923.

In June, 1915, Brother Swenson was married to Theresa Gummer of Mayville, North Dakota. They have two children, Glen, age nine, and Doris, age three.

The law firm of Thompson & Swenson is engaged in the general practice of law. However, Brother Swenson handles most of the probate business of the firm as he was formerly County Judge. He is assisted by his partner, S. W. Thompson, with the prosecution of all criminal cases.

ALUMNI CHAPTERS

CHICAGO

The following are notes from Minutes of Chicago Alumni Chapter, at Chicago Bar Association, October 19, 1926:

Blackstone Chapter was the guest of honor and responded with seventeen active members present and thirteen alumni chapter members. Brother George Patterson of Blackstone Chapter responded to call with well chosen and interesting remarks.

Plans for the fall informal dance, to be given during the first part of December, were reported in process of perfection and receiving the active support of the inter-chapter council of Chicago chapters.

Suggestions that chapter dues be raised from $2.00 to $3.00 and thereby include a subscription to the P. A. D. Quarterly were received. Action was deferred for further investigation and discussion.

A committee upon revision of the twenty-year-old constitution of the Alumni Chapter is giving such revision serious consideration. A lively meeting is expected for November when the revision will be presented for adoption.

The honor bestowed upon our Brother Supreme Historian Allan T. Gilbert, by virtue of his appointment as Judge Advocate of the Illinois Department of the American Legion, was announced and congratulations extended to the Brother.

Chicago Alumni Chapter is fortunate in counting amongst its members the Hon. Judge John P. McGoorty, Judge of the Superior Court of Cook County. In his eloquent and interesting manner the Judge spoke upon the subject "Privileges of the Legal Profession." He described the dignity of the Irish Courts, which he visited this past summer, and spoke of the friendliness between judge and lawyer in such courts, the beautiful simplicity and dignity of that most magnificent court of the world, at the Hague in Brussels. By contrast the speaker led his listeners to view the conditions of our Chicago law and courts—a challenge to the Bench and Bar! "Society looks to the lawyer for leadership and during the Constitutional days of crisis of American life, they have not looked in vain. It has been the lawyers who have shown the way in times of strife. Lincoln was such a lawyer-leader to whom we owe much to his clear foresight in perceiving that slavery was secondary to the question of the Union in the Civil War period. With the intrusion of government upon individual rights, however, our criminal rules have become antiquated, obsolete and broken down. The rule that silence of the accused shall not be taken against him, the rule granting bail to convicted murderers pending an appeal—such rules are unjust to modern society. For leadership in these matters the people look to the bench and bar and lawyers must realize their duty of leadership—the ministers of the law must shoulder this responsibility."

Meeting November 16, 1926

The meeting was designated as "Founder's Meeting," and three of the original founders were present, together with twenty-five other members. Brothers Prentiss, McCormick, and Sidney Meyer were the founders present and each responded to a call for impromptu remarks. Brother Prentiss told how he had lost touch with the fraternity until some three years ago when he found a very active Cleveland Alumni Chapter in existence. He was amazed at the growth of the fraternity, which he said was beyond any dreams they had back in 1902. Brother Meyer informed us that it was Brother Prentiss who designed the P. A. D. pin and he also told us of various interesting events connected with the early days, such as the numerous "continuances" granted at the time of organization at South Haven for the purpose of keeping the machinery well oiled and properly refreshed. Brother Meyer congratulated the younger members for carrying on the work so well. Brother McCormick told further choice and juicy bits of founder's history, especially how as a curb on the curiosity of a now prominent Chicago lawyer as to the activities of the founders, our gentle (?) voiced and mannered brother, Dwight McKay, conducted a certain ceremony wherein a bottle of indelible ink did its work well. Brother McCormick also told us of the work which he was now greatly interested in, of securing judges by appointment instead of election.

Brother former Justice George Fink, a pillar if not a founder of the fraternity, suggested a pilgrimage to South Haven in 1927 to commemorate the founding of the fraternity. He told of the bronze tablet which the founders had placed securely upon one of the pillars of the old Colonial Hotel, which was the headquarters of the founder's convention. Brother Prentiss said he made a search a year or so ago for such bronze tablet, but could not find it. The old hotel had burned down he found. He suggested a new tablet being placed with proper ceremonies.

Other old-timers who reminisced were Brother Harry Moran and Brother Cambridge.

The address of the evening was made by Brother Ferre C. Watkins (Capen), now State Commander, Illinois Department of the American Legion. Brother Watkins said he found many P. A. D's. active in Legion work. The Legion will play a great part in American life during the next fifty years, he said. The bonds which secure adhesion in the Legion were firmly knit during the war and by the needs of its members after the war. Twenty-seven thousand veterans are still in hospitals, he said. During 1921-22, the Legion did important work in the bread lines in counteracting the work there of agitators. At present an average of eighteen in Cook County alone become insane weekly. In the field of Americanization the Legion does important work in counteracting the activities of organizations masking as humanitarian, whose work, especially amongst women and in schools and churches, is insidious and more dangerous than the work of active radicals. Of late there has been much tampering with school text books. Through the work of the Legion, attendance at R. O. T. C. camps increased fifty per cent. "Rational Patriotism" is the watchword and aim of the Legion. Its work was directly responsible for the restricted immigration laws in force at present. The Legion voices American feeling in a non-political way. It is high and clean in its aims—its policy is to give, not to receive. Its activities are nation-wide. In Illinois alone there are 658 Posts, each a vital active part of its community life and each carrying on its duties as a sacred trust.

A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Brother Watkins and ordered spread of record.

Five new members were admitted to membership: Ralph W. Abbott, (Fuller) 1913, Paul Arthur Warme, (Blackstone) 1917, Larned V. Eklund, (Fuller) 1923, Leo N. McGlinn, (Story) 1924, and John E. Roche, (Blackstone) 1926.

Because of conflict with local chapter dances, it was decided not to hold a fall joint-chapter informal dance this year but to go ahead with the yearly formal joint-chapter dance next Spring.

Brother Supreme Historian Allan T. Gilbert told of the progress of the new national directory in process of issuance. Several members expressed tribute to the directory and the chapter went on record as ready to lend its assistance to the Historian in his work.

Next year, being the twenty-fifth year of the founding of the fraternity as a national organization, a committee was appointed to arrange for a "Founder's Outing" at a date as close as possible to July 27, 1927.

The following letter was ordered spread of record:

*"General of the Armies
Washington*

November 6, 1926.

Mr. Leslie F. Kimmell, President,
Chicago Alumni Chapter,
Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity,
Chicago, Illinois.

My Dear Mr. Kimmell:

I regret very deeply that as I shall be in Chicago for Armistice Day only and must leave as soon as practicable after the engagements of the day are concluded, it will be impossible for me to accept the cordial invitation which you have extended me on behalf of the Chicago Alumni Chapter, Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity. It would give me much pleasure to meet with the members of the Fraternity and I hope that at some later date I may have an opportunity to do so.

With hearty thanks for your invitation, and with cordial good wishes, believe me,

Sincerely yours,
John J. Pershing."

Brother James T. Harrold, unable to be present, wrote of his visit to the newest chapter, Woodrow Wilson Chapter, at Cornell University, and reported that it was firmly established, and had ten new men this year, its political strength being sought by older fraternities, two of its men on the Cornell Law Quarterly and three on the Honor List—and otherwise well embarked on a program which takes into consideration not only the present but the future growth of the chapter. "I believe we have every reason to think that the chapter at Cornell is going to be one of the strongest and best in the East," writes Brother Harrold.

LOS ANGELES

Since the last edition of the Quarterly the Alumni Chapter has held two very interesting meetings. The first was in the form of a house warming or smoker, given by Ross Chapter in their new chapter house located at 1154 West 30th Street, on October 28. This was an occasion that aroused much interest among the alumni, as it afforded many of them an opportunity to examine the house recently established by Ross Chapter, and which has been furnished through donations of the alumni. Such meetings as this greatly aid in further cementing the bond of friendship now existing between the active and alumni chapters. The large attendance at this meeting indicates the growing interest which the older men are now taking in Los Angeles fraternity affairs.

At the time of this meeting an election of officers of the Alumni Chapter was held, resulting in the election of Gordon Lawson, our last year's Vice-Chancellor, Chancellor for 1926-27; Charles E. R. Fulcher, Vice-Chancellor; and Lamar Butler, Secretary and Treasurer for the ensuing year. With these popular and efficient men at the helm the Alumni Chapter is looking forward to a year of increased activity and interest.

Another joint meeting of the two chapters took place on Saturday, November 6, in the form of a Golf Tournament and Barbecue held at the El Caballero Country Club. Thirty members showed their skill on the green, while some thirty-five attended the barbecue later. There's nothing like taking a few swings with a golf club among a lot of your friends to warm up a good appetite, as the waiters at the Club must have noted.

At present both the Alumni and Ross men are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to the formal dance for all P. A. D's. to be held at Long Beach on December 3. This is to be a gorgeous affair indeed, and every fellow is getting the "tux" pressed up and deciding who is his best sweetheart in anticipation of a "big time."

Kent H. Redwine.

NEW ORLEANS

As this goes off to Ann Arbor we are still waiting for our charter, which good Brother Ludwick assures us will be ours in a very short while. Nearly all the alumni in and around New Orleans became charter members, at the same time taking life subscriptions to the Quarterly. Those signing the petition were: Henry W. Robinson, Sam J. Tennant, Jr., S. S. Kiblinger, William P. Burke, Jr., Burt W. Henry, A. W. Cooper, A. M. Suthon, D. Beach Carre, Jr., Val Irion, Charles de la Vergne, John Singreen, James Condon, George Seth Guion, J. Zach Spearing, W. W. Westerfield, and Wynne Grey Rogers.

Three of the alumni sought political office successfully during the summer. Brother Charles A. O'Niell, of Franklin, was re-elected, without opposition, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; Brother Westerfield had the same good fortune in his race for re-election to a seat on the Court of Appeals, while Brother Zach Spearing literally swamped three opponents in seeking re-election to Congress from the Second Louisiana district.

The four new alumni have all become well located. Philip B. Watson, to begin alphabetically paradoxically, is now a member of the firm of Young and Watson, practicing at St. Joseph, La. Phil was in to see his old friends in the City a few weeks ago. Charles de la Vergne is associated with the firm of Buck, Walshe and Buck, with offices in the Canal Bank, New Orleans. John Singreen has offices in the Louisiana Building and Val Irion is with Monroe and Lemann in the New Orleans Bank Building.

SEATTLE

We, of the Seattle Alumni, have been negligent in the matter of sending in letters for the Quarterly. We state, however, that this has not been due to inactivity in P. A. D. affairs. As a matter of fact our chapter has had a very successful year and we are now beginning what we believe to be another one just as active and successful.

Dunbar Chapter at the University of Washington is progressing very nicely. Strong men were pledged last year, and carry on a good organization. The alumni have aided to the best of our ability in co-operating with them, with the object in view of building up an ever better and stronger fraternity.

In our Alumni Chapter during the past year and at present, we are inviting the best legal lights and judges in the city to address us at our noon meetings. We have adopted a definite policy of considering ourselves as students and young lawyers of the world who seek the best knowledge available on legal matters. We are disregarding, as far as possible, collateral affairs. Each speaker is to talk on some certain phase of the law which he, as a specialist, is well posted on.

We have arranged for the Quarterly to be sent this year to all members who paid their dues last year, and will, from now on, attempt to see that as many alumni as possible get the Quarterly year in and year out.

Philip J. Weiss.

KANSAS CITY

The activity of the Kansas City Alumni Chapter has again been resumed, the Republican members having recovered from the shock received November 2, 1926, and the hilarity of the Democrats having somewhat subsided. The smoke having cleared away we discovered that our younger brother, Ray Cowan, had been elected Justice of the Peace, and that our older Brother, Judge Samuel A. Dew, of the Circuit Court, had been defeated in the Democratic landslide.

The monthly luncheons at the University Club were resumed on the 17th of November when a pleasant time was had by all and no political post-mortems were indulged in.

Benton Chapter has undertaken to provide the entertainment at our monthly luncheons and have delivered in great style. The attendance of the recent meetings has been so great that the Supreme Board need have no fear concerning the activities of the Alumni Chapter in Kansas City.

Fred M. Roberts.

WASHINGTON D. C.

It may be of interest to know that we have enrolled approximately 175 members. We have been able up to date to interest only a relatively small number in our activities. Those that have attended the meetings are very enthusiastic and have been doing their utmost to push P. A. D. forward in this section of the country.

The alumni chapter has made great strides forward during the past year under the leadership of Justice K. N. Parkinson. He has made the meetings attractive and is hopeful this coming year of securing an attendance of at least fifty to seventy-five members at each meeting.

One of the principal reforms instituted by the present Justice is in the matter of eliminating from the meetings the usual waste of time over non-essential business matters. Business matters are disposed of through an executive committee appointed for that purpose, and unless a matter of unusual importance arises no time of the meetings is taken for this purpose.

Programs have been arranged some considerable time in advance, which include talks by prominent attorneys on subjects of local interest to the members. Among these talks perhaps the most interesting ones have been those by Professor Hector Spaulding of George Washington University Law School, and Mr. Moultrie Hitt, a local attorney and member of the Chapter. The former spoke on administrative law and the latter devoted his time to a very interesting analysis of the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the famous "Nickel Plate Railroad" case.

Mr. Atchison, a member of the I. C. C., and also a very interested member of our local Chapter, took personal charge of one or two of these programs and was responsible among other things for the appearance of the I. C. C. Glee Club.

Mr. Joseph A. Carey was instrumental in obtaining the services of a number of professional entertainers who delighted the Chapter at one of its meetings.

With a view to developing P. A. D. in and around Washington, and more particularly for the purpose of developing a more cordial relationship between the local chapters of George Washington University and Georgetown University, Justice Parkinson appointed committees to work with both of these chapters. The personnel of these committees was made up of alumni of both schools and thus far have obtained gratifying results. The alumni chapter makes it a point to meet first with one chapter and then with the other throughout the season in order that most friendly feelings may be developed. At occasional intervals a joint smoker is arranged at which time members of both undergraduate chapters are invited. At these smokers the true spirit of P. A. D. predominates and cordial good feelings are developed.

The first meeting of the alumni chapter is set for November 16, 1926, at which time steps will be taken to outline a more comprehensive program for the coming winter. It will be a pleasure to communicate further with you after that time as we desire the fraternity generally to know that P. A. D. is an active, vital organization in Washington.

We further wish that you would use your columns to invite all members of the fraternity to communicate with the alumni chapter when in Washington in order that we can help make their visits more profitable and enjoyable. The Chapter, as such, has no quarters but communications can be addressed either to the present Justice, Mr. K. N. Parkinson, H. L. Rust Building, or to the undersigned at 716 Investment Building.

Walter G. Moyle.

Brother Emmet F. Byrne (Story) of Chicago, Illinois, who is an Assistant State's Attorney of Cook County, has been named the "hanging prosecutor" by his associates and the press. During the past year Brother Byrne and Assistant State's Attorney Harold Levy, his associate, have obtained nine hanging verdicts. This speaks very well indeed of their ability as prosecutors. In an address before the American Business Club at the Hotel Sherman on November 9, Brother Byrne declared that Chicago gangsters have no regard for the lives of citizens when they seek the lives of enemies. Their only concern is to kill their man. Public indignation is aroused only when a respectable citizen is wounded. He also declared that facilities for criminal prosecution are inadequate in Chicago.

OUR POLITICAL MIRROR

Brother John E. Nelson (Hamlin) of Augusta, Maine, has been returned to Congress to again represent the Third Congressional District of Maine. The election was on September 13, 1926. As the Maine election was almost two months prior to the date of the general elections held in the other States the Republicans and Democrats alike had their attention centered on Maine as the election there furnished the first barometer on the sentiment as between the two parties. The State of Maine went Republican by a large vote.

Brother Thaddeus H. Caraway (Jay) of Jonesboro, Arkansas, has been re-elected to the United States Senate, so will continue as the Junior Senator from Arkansas. He is a member of the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry; Claims; Education and Labor; Judiciary; and Privileges and Elections. Several weeks ago his son, Forest, was appointed to the United States Military Academy at West Point by Senator Joseph T. Robinson, colleague of Senator Caraway.

* * *

Brother John E. Martineau (Garland) of Little Rock, Arkansas, was elected Governor of Arkansas on the Democratic ticket at the general election held on September 13, 1926. He will be inaugurated next January and will continue to occupy the position of Chancellor of the First Chancery District until then. Back in 1907 when a vacancy was created in the office of Chancellor of the Little Rock district by the elevation of Brother Jesse C. Hart to the position of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Arkansas, Brother Martineau was appointed to the position. Since his appointment he has served uninterruptedly for a period of nineteen years.

Brother Duncan U. Fletcher (Fletcher) of Jacksonville, Florida, was re-elected to the United States Senate at the general election held on November 2, so will continue as Senior Senator from Florida. Only two Democratic Senators, Simmons and Overman of North Carolina, have had longer service than Senator Fletcher, and only four Republicans. This gives Brother Fletcher a commanding position on leading committees. He is the first Democrat on the Commerce Committee and likewise on the Military Affairs Committee, and very high up on the Banking and Currency Committee, besides having membership on several other committees. If the Democrats should obtain control of the Senate, he can take his choice of Chairmanships from these Committees. During the Wilson Administration when the Democrats were last in control, he was Chairman of the Commerce Committee. He supervised the drafting and enactment of the measures which created the United States Shipping Board and Emergency Fleet Corporation. Since the Republicans gained control he has given non-partisan aid to the administration in every move to strengthen the American Merchant Marine.

Brother Adam McMullen (Reese) of Lincoln, Nebraska, has been re-elected Governor of Nebraska. He had a lead of more than 3,000 votes over his Democratic opponent Charles W. Bryan, former Governor and Vice Presidential nominee two years ago. Brother McMullen has made a fine record during the past two years and we are indeed glad to see him returned to guide the affairs of the State of Nebraska for another two years. He practiced law at Wymore, Nebraska, many years prior to his election to the Governorship in 1924. He has been active in political affairs for over twenty years.

* * *

Brother Lawrence DeGraff (Cole) of Des Moines, Iowa, has been re-elected Judge of the Supreme Court of Iowa for another term of six years. The office of Chief Justice rotates among the members of the Court. For the past year Brother DeGraff has been serving as Chief Justice. Brother DeGraff is a graduate of the Northern Illinois College of Law at Dixon, Illinois, and has held numerous important positions in the State of Iowa during the past twenty-eight years. He has also been active in the affairs of Sigma Chi social fraternity, having been National President of the same. At the general election on November 2, Brother DeGraff ran considerably ahead of the normal vote both locally and throughout the State, which is indeed a very fine compliment to his work on the bench.

Brother Henry F. Mason (Green) of Garden

City, Kansas, has been re-elected as Justice of the Supreme Court of Kansas on the Republican ticket. He has been a member of the Court since January 12, 1903, and from all indications will continue his able service for many more years. He is an authority on the subject of Constitutional Law and is a very kind advisor and friend of the members of Benson Chapter at Topeka.

* * *

Brother William H. Ellis (Brewer) of Tallahassee, Florida, has been returned to serve as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Florida, for another term of six years by the Democratic voters of the State of Florida. He was initiated as honorary member of Brewer Chapter on January 26, 1922.

* * *

Brother Frederick F. Faville (Hammond) of Fort Dodge, Iowa, has been re-elected Judge of the Supreme Court of Iowa on the Republican ticket. The entire Republican ticket was elected in the recent election by a vote of three to one. Brother Faville was onetime United States Attorney for the Northern District of Iowa. He is a very learned and distinguished jurist.

* * *

Brother John S. Dawson (Benson) of Hill City, Kansas, has been re-elected as Justice of the Supreme Court of Kansas on the Republican ticket for another term of six years. He is now serving his second term. Prior to his elevation to the Supreme Court he was quite active in political affairs. He is a most excellent speaker and it is indeed a treat to hear him. He is very devoted to his judicial duties and is one of the most popular members of the Court.

* * *

Brother Olger B. Burtness (Corliss) of Grand Forks, North Dakota, has been returned by the Republican voters to represent the First District of North Dakota in Congress. Brother Burtness is a member of the important Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee in the House. He is a very popular member and we anticipate that the people of North Dakota will advance him further in public service in the future. Brother Burtness is now serving his third term in Congress.

* * *

Brother Carl S. Milliken (Hughes) of Denver, Colorado, who was a candidate on the Republican ticket for Governor of Colorado, was unsuccessful in his race for the gubernatorial chair in the primary election held on September 14, last. Federal Prohibition Administrator John F. Vivian of Denver, who is the father of Brother John C. Vivian, Special Assistant Attorney General of Colorado, was also a candidate. Former Governor Oliver H. Shoup won the nomination. Brother Milliken's term of office as Secretary of State of Colorado expires next January. He has served in this office the past six years.

* * *

Brother Andrew J. Montague (Staples) of Richmond, Virginia, was re-elected on the Democratic ticket to represent the Third Congressional District in Congress. He is the second ranking Democratic member on the important House Committee on the Judiciary. He has been active in politics for many years and has occupied numerous important offices in his native State.

* * *

Brother Austin E. Griffiths (Dunbar) of Seattle, Washington, who was a candidate on the Republican ticket for the United States Senate, was a close second in the race for the nomination. The primary was held on September 14, last. United States Senator Wesley L. Jones, of Seattle, also a dry, won the nomination although he was opposed by a field of six candidates, and he was elected on November 2. Prohibition was the principal issue and Brother Griffiths, who is a Judge of the Superior Court of King County, Washington, ran on a dry platform, as did Senator Jones. We hope that Brother Griffiths may be successful next time. He is an able jurist and would make an excellent Senator.

* * *

Brother John J. Kindred (Brewer) of Astoria, Queens Borough, New York, was re-elected on the Democratic ticket by an overwhelming vote to again represent the Second Congressional District of New York in Congress. He is a member of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors. He is also a licensed physician and has devoted most of his professional life to the practice of medicine, specializing in mental and nervous diseases and medico-legal work.

* * *

Brother Francis L. Boutell (Marshall) of Chicago, Illinois, was elected as a member of the Board of Commissioners of Cook County on the Republican ticket on November 2. He was third high man of the ten members that were elected. He advocated an Adequate Mother's Pension Fund; Wider Roads Quickly and Honestly Built; Elimination of Profits to Middlemen on Forest Reserve Purchases; and Prevention of County Board Deficits. Brother Boutell was the Republican nominee for President of the Board, but was defeated by Anton J. Cermak, the Democratic incumbent.

Brother David E. Shanahan (Webster) of Chicago, Illinois, was re-elected as State Representative from the Ninth Senatorial District.

He was first elected to the General Assembly in 1894 and has served continuously since then. He was Speaker of the House for a period of eight years. He is engaged in the real estate and insurance business at 115 South Dearborn Street.

* * *

Brother Albert E. Carter (Temple) of Oakland, California, has been returned by the Republicans to represent the Sixth Congressional District of California in Congress. He is now serving his first term and is a member of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors. Prior to his election to Congress he was Commissioner of Public Works of Oakland and was engaged in the general practice of law there.

* * *

Brother Frank E. Northrop (Marshall) of Council Bluffs, Iowa, has been re-elected County Attorney of Pottawattamie County on the Republican ticket. He is now completing his first term as County Attorney. Prior to his election, he was Assistant County Attorney for a little over three years.

* * *

Brother Herman R. Salen (Ryan) of Waukesha, Wisconsin, has been re-elected as District Attorney of Waukesha County. He is serving his first term. He has an office in the Andrews Building.

* * *

Brother Leon A. Zick (Fuller) of Polo, Illinois, has been re-elected County Judge of Ogle County. He believes in the vigorous enforcement of our laws. His popularity is attested by the fact that he received the largest vote of any of the candidates in the recent general election.

* * *

Brother Francis J. Knauss (Story) of Denver, Colorado, has been re-elected on the Republican ticket to represent the First District of Colorado in the State Senate. He received the highest number of votes cast for the office of State Senator. Four men were elected from the First District on November 2.

* * *

Brother John Marshall Karns (Taft) of Eldorado, Illinois, who was the Democratic nominee for Congress from the Twenty-Fourth Congressional District of Illinois, was defeated by Congressman Thomas S. Williams of Louisville, who is the incumbent.

* * *

Brother Samuel A. Dew (Benton) of Kansas City, Missouri, has been re-elected on the Republican ticket for Circuit Judge of Division Six of the Sixteenth Judicial Circuit. He is next to the youngest in age of the Circuit

Judges of Jackson County, eleven in number.

* * *

Brother Stanford G. Smith (Temple) of Santa Cruz, California, has been re-elected District Attorney of Santa Cruz County on the Republican ticket. He will serve for another four-year term.

* * *

Brother William P. Holaday (Magruder) of Danville, Illinois, has been returned to represent the Eighteenth Congressional District in Congress by a majority of over 20,000 votes. He is a Republican and has been active in politics for many years. He is a member of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization; Education; Mileage; and Expenditures in the Department of Labor. He is a member of the law firm of Hall & Holaday. Brother Holaday expects to return to Washington about the first of December.

* * *

Brother Lowell B. Mason (Fuller) of Oak Park, Illinois, has been returned to the State Senate to represent the Twenty-third Senatorial District. He is a son of the late Congressman William E. Mason and a member of the law firm of Mason, Mason & Lanham of Chicago. He was opposed by Warren Phinney, a political writer for the Chicago Daily News.

* * *

Brother George F. Eaton (Hamlin) of Bangor, Maine, was elected County Attorney of Penobscot County on the Republican ticket at the general election held on September 13 last.

* * *

Brother George S. Geffs (Corliss) of Janesville, Wisconsin, has been re-elected District Attorney of Rock County. He has made a vigorous fight against violators of the prohibition law and his county is known as the dryest county in the State of Wisconsin.

* * *

Brother Harry A. Newby (Marshall) of Chicago, Illinois, has been elected a member of the Board of Commissioners of Cook County on the Republican ticket. He was at one time Assistant Attorney General of Illinois and is now a Master in Chancery of the Superior Court of Cook County.

* * *

Brother Fletcher B. Swank (Harlan) of Norman, Oklahoma, has been returned to Congress on the Democratic ticket to again represent the Fifth Congressional District of Oklahoma. He is serving his third term. Prior to his election to Congress he was District Judge of Cleveland, McClai, Garvin, and Murray Counties, which compose the Fourteenth District. Brother Swank is a member of the Committee on Agriculture.

Benjamin D. Magruder Chapter at the University of Illinois is indeed well represented on the judiciary of the State of Illinois by certain alumni members who have recently been elected judicial posts.

Brother Joseph E. Daily (Magruder) of Peoria, Illinois, was on November 2 elected Circuit Judge of the Tenth Judicial Circuit, which is composed of the Counties of Peoria, Marshall, Putnam, Stark, and Tazwell. Brother Daily had the Republican nomination and also the endorsement of the Democratic party, so was elected without opposition. He is now President of the Peoria County Bar Association and is the first member of Magruder Chapter to be elevated to the Circuit Bench.

Brother Glen J. Cameron (Magruder) of Peoria, Illinois, has been re-elected County Judge of Peoria County. He is a charter member of Magruder Chapter.

Brother Frederick O. Mercer (Magruder) of Canton, Illinois, was elected County Judge of Fulton County on the Republican ticket on November 2. Brother Mercer graduated with the class of 1924 and has been Assistant State's Attorney of Fulton County. His advancement in the legal profession has indeed been very rapid and we hope that his success will continue. When he takes office on December 6, he will be the youngest County Judge in the State of Illinois. The election of Brother Mercer recalls the election of another Canton lawyer to judicial office some fifteen years ago. Brother Harry C. Moran, who now resides in Chicago, was then elected Judge of the City Court of Canton. He was the first Magruder man to be elected to a judicial office and we believe the first alumni member of Phi Alpha Delta to be elevated to a Judgeship by the vote of the people. During the twelve years that Brother Moran served on the Bench, a great deal of his service was in the City of Chicago. After he resigned several years ago he moved to Chicago and engaged in the general practice of law at 112 West Adams Street. He has always been a most enthusiastic Phi Alpha Delta brother and has a very large acquaintance among the members of the Chicago Bar.

Brother Edward F. Litsinger (Webster) of Chicago, Illinois, who was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor of Chicago four years ago, continues to be very favorably mentioned as a likely starter in the race next Spring. His supporters claim that he will have the support of United States Senator Deneen in the primary fight. Several months ago Brother Litsinger and County Recorder Joseph F. Haas were hot rivals for the favor of the Deneen organization, in which both are members of the inner circles of Deneen leaders.

However, the defeat of Haas' personal candidates on the Deneen ticket at the Republican primary last April is understood by many politicians to have practically eliminated Haas from the Mayoralty fight. Brother Litsinger has a very wide acquaintance in Chicago as he has been a member of the Board of Review of Cook County for the past ten years.

Brother Leigh J. Monson (Corliss) of Fargo, North Dakota, was re-elected County Judge of Cass County at the general election on November 2. In the Primary last Spring he was renominated by over 4,000 votes.

* * *

Brother Nelson R. Anderson (Campbell) of Seattle, Washington, was recently elected President of the Municipal League, which is one of the city's largest civic organizations. Brother Anderson is engaged in the general practice of law with offices in the L. C. Smith Building.

* * *

Brother Joseph W. Vickers (Holmes) of Los Angeles, California, was recently appointed as a Judge of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County by Governor F. W. Richardson. Brother Vickers was at one time Private Secretary to the Governor. He is indeed very fortunate to receive this judicial appointment and we are sure that he will fill the same with honor and credit. It is a wonderful opportunity to render a most valuable service to the people of Los Angeles County and the State of California.

* * *

Brother Charles P. Moriarty (Dunbar) of Seattle, Washington, who was recently appointed as a Judge of the Superior Court of King County by Governor R. H. Hartley, was elected to that position by a large majority at the general election on November 2. Brother Moriarty has the distinction of being the youngest Superior Court Judge in the State of Washington. He is thirty-one years old and is a graduate of the School of Law of the University of Washington.

* * *

Brother Albert L. Schweitzer (Lawson) of St. Louis, Missouri, was re-elected Prosecuting Attorney for the City of St. Louis on Republican ticket by an overwhelming vote. He had a plurality of 46,500 votes over his opponent on the Democratic ticket and ran third on the Republican ticket. This shows the high esteem which the people of St. Louis have for him and is indeed an excellent endorsement of the service that he has given during his term of office. We know that he will continue to give his best efforts to the various duties of his office as Prosecuting Attorney.

WITH THE CHAPTERS

CHASE

University of Cincinnati Chase Chapter is looking forward to an extremely interesting and successful year. A new Dean, Dr. Ferson, formerly Dean of the North Carolina Law School, has taken over the reins at Cincinnati. He has brought many ideas with him, chief of which are compulsory moot court for Seniors and the publication of a Cincinnati Law Review. The former is proving of great practical advantage and the latter is to appear in the near future.

Phi Delta Phi, which has lain dormant for the past few years, is again showing signs of life at Cincinnati and promises some interesting competition in the future. The School enrollment increased to a marked degree this year and there is plenty of material to support two fraternities.

To date Chase Chapter has the following men pledged: Douglas Vest, Carrolton, Ky.; William Ramsey, Bellefontaine, Ohio; Donald Nimmo, Paul Kunkel, Harold Browne, Cincinnati; Edward Quinn, Newark, Ohio.—Russell F. Spiedel.

BENTON

Kansas City Law School Although Benton Chapter was not heard from in the last issue of the Quarterly we are very much alive and looking forward to the best year Benton Chapter has ever known.

Just before school closed last year, four men were initiated into Phi Alpha Delta by this Chapter and it was an occasion long to be remembered in the minds of these men; namely, Richard Jensen, Carl Kretzinger, William Esry and Charles Huber. All were attired in bathing suits and transported by the members and alumni who had turned out in great numbers to the sidewalk in front of the Newman Theater. Richard Jensen, acting as auctioneer, stood on the fire plug directly in front of the theater and proceeded to auction off the family pot which he called a Silver Loving Cup. The other men acted as newsboys by selling the "Morning Tissue" to the patrons of the theater. A riot call was turned in by one of the brothers to friends at Police Headquarters, who sent the patrol wagon and escorted the pledges to Headquarters, where they were kept until midnight and were released on a bond that they would appear at church the next morning under the supervision of our good brother, John G. Pugh. This initiation was put on by Brother Rod Henry and was pronounced a great success.

This year, some 250 Freshmen met with a warm reception the opening night of school by the upperclassmen who had formed two lines from the school door all the way across the street, down which the Freshmen were required to run the gauntlet of paddles of Saturday Evening Posts and newspaper, into our beautiful new building. We are very proud of our school this year. The new building with its large library, reading room, smoking room, spacious halls and large class rooms will accommodate about one thousand students.

The P. A. D.'s of Benton Chapter were on hand looking the Freshmen over and selecting their men.

We have five men who were initiated November 13 and twelve pledges so far this year. Our house was redecorated this fall and is in very good shape. We are again boasting of the best pledges Benton Chapter has ever known. The Fraternity gave its first party October 30, a Hallowe'en party which was a great success. The only complaint made about the party was that it did not last long enough. Brother O'Hara from Green Chapter and Brother Smith from Washburn were guests at our party.

Plans are now being made for the New Year's party which we hope will be as successful.

Our Chapter is now considering a Pan-Hellenic organization among the Fraternities and Sororities of the Law School. We are of the opinion that this would be a great thing here as there is not at the present time any affiliation among the Fraternities and Sororities of the Law School. We would be glad to hear from some of the chapters who have had some experience with such an organization. Address all mail to Benton Chapter, Lowell V. Palmer, Clerk, 3516 Summit.

BLACKSTONE

Chicago Kent Back to school, and every Blackstone man going strong in his school work and fraternity interest. A large graduation last June left us with somewhat depleted numbers this fall, and all the men who are really active—those who are willing to sacrifice their personal affairs occasionally for the good of the Chapter—find themselves with more work than one man can handle efficiently.

Our more menial tasks are lightened considerably, however, by the addition to our ranks (no pun intended) of about nineteen pledges.

The new officers of this year include Brother Paul White, Vice-Justice, Brother John Watson, Clerk, Brother Gordon Hook, Treasurer, and Brother Harry Carlson, Marshal. Brother Joseph Simpson, our new House Trustee, was elected to succeed House Trustee Bailey, who has taken unto himself a wife, and consequently forsaken school for a while. He expects to be back next semester.

A series of smokers held on the first four Fridays of the school year enabled us to sort out the nineteen pledges mentioned above. P. A. D. stole a march on the other fraternities, as we were the only chapter in school to have a smoker the first Friday night. Consequently the material we rounded up is above the average.

At one of the smokers, Blackstone Chapter was honored by an awesome array of notables of the Supreme Board. There were present, Supreme Justice Rex Hardy, Supreme Vice-Justice John Nangle, Supreme Historian Allan Gilbert, Editor-in-Chief John Bradfield, Brother George Fink, Chairman of the Board of Tribunes, District Justice Emmet Byrne, Brother Harry Keats, who preceded the present District Justice, and Brother Leslie Kimmell, President of the Chicago Alumni Chapter. Those are the most important of the many prominent men who were present.

October 19, 1926, was Blackstone Chapter night at the regular monthly meeting of the Chicago Alumni Chapter. There were seventeen Blackstone men present, which was the best showing that any chapter has made at a similar event, according to Brother Kimmel, the president of the Chicago Alumni Chapter. After a splendid meal we adjourned to the meeting room where the business of the month was transacted. Then after a few inconsequential remarks by the Justice of Blackstone Chapter, we heard from the real speaker of the evening, Judge McGoorty, a brother in P. A. D. and an alumnus of Blackstone Chapter. It was a wonderful speech and enjoyed by all.

Brother John Roche, last year's Justice, passed the bar last July and is sporting some personal cards marked "Attorney-at-Law."

Two members of the three-man Freshman team are pledged to P. A. D. They showed their mettle by trouncing the Juniors in an interclass debate. Good luck!

This year should be a banner year for Blackstone Chapter, with an active list of about thirty-five members.—Russell D. Patterson.

CLAY

University of Kentucky

The College of Law at the University of Kentucky celebrated a great forward step in its progress on October 27 that is significant in the development of legal education in Kentucky and the South.

A handsome new building, adequately equipped and containing all the conveniences necessary to the proper study of law, was formally dedicated. The ceremonies marked the emancipation of the College of Law as a separate and distinct unit of the State's educational system, as this year is the first year that this institution has been located in a separate building, exclusively devoted to the study of law.

From an obscure beginning eighteen years ago, the College of Law at the University of Kentucky has developed rapidly and is now one of the South's best. Seventeen years of its existence have been handicapped by inadequate quarters in a building which also was used by other colleges and departments of the university. The law college formerly was located on the third floor of the Natural Science Building and students were compelled to climb three flights of long stairs to gain access to their crowded quarters.

The building which now belongs to the College of Law is a three-story brick structure, containing airy class rooms, locker rooms and one of the completest libraries in the entire Southland.

At the ceremonies of dedication, Judge Charles S. Whitman, twice governor of New York and the present president of the American Bar Association, delivered the principal address.

"The College of Law at the University of Kentucky, has gained recognition throughout the nation for its high scholastic standards," Judge Whitman told the students and members of the Kentucky Bar who assembled for the occasion. Judge Whitman referred to the fact that within four years after its organization under an Act of the 1908 Legislature, the institution became a member of the Association of American Law Schools and it has steadily advanced until in 1924 it was placed on the approved list of the American Bar Association.

The Lexington Herald, one of Kentucky's leading dailies, in a leading editorial published the day of the dedicatory exercises, after reviewing the development of the College of Law, pointed out that Kentucky had particular reason to rejoice in that Kentuckians could be trained for the profession of law as thoroughly at home as elsewhere. In the past the majority of the leaders of the Kentucky Bar have gone elsewhere to obtain their training, returning to Kentucky to practice. This was a great disadvantage to the State as it prohibited much individual development in the legal standards of its courts. But it is believed that this has been remedied by the material and academic development of the College of Law and, as stated in the Herald, the future leaders and lawyers of the State can be properly trained in the State.

The ceremonies of celebration served also to bring together many of the alumni members of the Henry Clay Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, who were welcomed to the institution by the active chapter.

Although the Henry Clay Chapter has but few members this year, it is one of the most active organizations upon the campus. Plans have been made by the Chapter for various social functions during the year and the prospects for pledging the best of those eligible seem excellent.—Paul Porter.

FIELD

University of California
It has been some time since Field Chapter has written to the Quarterly, but individual procrastination and not chapter inactivity has been the cause. As any real estate agent would say, "We are going strong," and this, unlike the proverbial agent's puff, is true.

We have taken in eleven new members this last year and with our frequent meetings and luncheon there is a close organization and desirable harmony. Our plans for a chapter house were postponed for a year because of the smallness of the incoming class. There was a decrease from a hundred and thirty-five last year to thirty-five this year; but this ought to be made up next year. The reason for the decrease was the new administration ruling that an A. B. degree must be obtained before entrance to the Law School for a J. D. degree. Next year the class will be larger for the undergraduate students will have planned on the increased requirements. We are certain of several good men in the next semester rushing in spite of the small class to choose from. By mutual agreement with the other legal fraternities no rushing or pledging takes place until the second semester.

JUSTICE Mac CLAREN

Our great "un-scholastic" achievement for the year was the victory over Phi Delta Phi in the annual baseball game played in September. This game has become a tradition. For three weeks before the game each organization had its men out on the ball-field several afternoons a week driving the legal learning out and a few baseball tricks in. Brother Buckley was our coach, captain, pitcher, home-runner, and water boy. Of course, the other eight on the field did their share, but Buckley's share was predetermined to be the biggest. The game was not a mere frolic, or track meet; throughout it was a display of good ball playing on both sides. The final score was not our only winning for the challenge placed a banquet as the loser's penalty. Phi Delta Phi gave us a splendid banquet in San Francisco after the game. The party was hilarious, but within the law as all "legal" parties should be, and a model of inter-fraternity harmony and fellowship.

All of the men are studying hard since semester final examinations loom up but four weeks in the distance. Our school opens the middle of August so that we wind up with a Yule-tide finish and no threatening February finals to dampen the holiday spirit. Well that is something beside the California climate and-so-forth.—Lyman Henry.

HAMMOND

University of Iowa

Hammond Chapter opens the year in the same house that they occupied last year, and when the last of stragglers arrived we found that most of the brothers had returned to the fold. Out of the twelve returning actives we were pleasantly surprised to find that five of this number had been elected to the Iowa Law Review, the best showing that P. A. D. has ever made and one of which we are justly proud.

To date ten men have been pledged, making an ideal sized chapter. Our justice this year, Peter W. Jauss of Atlantic, Iowa, has proven himself to be an excellent leader and not only excels in fraternal lines but is considered to be one of the most prominent men on the campus, being president of A. F. I., an organization of twelve seniors picked each year as representing the campus leaders. Paul Dwyer of our chapter is another member of this organization and both of these brothers are strong contenders for the Rhodes Scholarship award, which will be made here next month.

Hammond Chapter has inaugurated a custom this year of having a round table every two weeks with a professor, judge, or local attorney presiding. These round tables concern themselves with a discussion of legal ethics and law problems in general which will confront the young practicing attorney. So far the attendance has not been limited to members of our chapter, but we have invited all members of the law school to attend and the response has been indeed gratifying.

Brother Raymond Wright has just been elected President of the Senior Law Class by an almost unanimous vote. Brother Wright justly deserved this honor as he has distinguished himself scholastically ever since his entry in the law school in addition to proving himself a natural leader.—Joseph Rosenfield.

HARLAN

University of Oklahoma

Harlan Chapter is and will continue to be this year (and we hope in the future) stronger, from the standpoint of active members and interest shown, than ever before. Harlan Chapter requires as a prerequisite to admission a B- (B minus) average, yet we are the highest ranking legal fraternity on the campus, having a higher scholastic average for the last year than had our rivals, Phi Delta Phi, who require a B average for admittance.

I am indeed sorry that we cannot furnish you in time with some pictures, etc., that would be of interest, such as you suggested, but we will have to make the best of it now that it is late and hope that we may have the opportunity in the future of better expressing ourselves and advertising what we are doing here.—E. B. Mitchell.

LURTON

Vanderbilt
University

Fourteen active members returned to school this year. Brother Boagni of Martin Chapter has also affiliated with us. The enthusiasm manifested by the members has started off unusually strong this year and attendance is practically 100 per cent at the meetings every Wednesday night.

Plans are now on foot for several rushing parties. The first of which will be a banquet at the Hermitage Hotel, November 10. At that banquet, we plan to have sixteen members of the first-year law class present. Interest in the law fraternities is unusually strong this year and competition is red hot, but we expect to pledge between ten and fifteen of the best in the first-year class.

We were well represented in the class elections held recently. Brother McCall, ex-'arsity basketball captain, was elected President of the Senior Class, and Brother Cartwright (King of the "home brew" gang) was elected Secretary and Treasurer. In the Junior Class, Brothers Atkins and Adams are holding down the offices of Vice President and Secretary and Treasurer.

Brother "Red" Tillman is again Manager of the Vanderbilt Union this year, and he also helps to direct the destiny of the John Marshall Law Club. And "Red" can also be counted on to carry off his share of the honors in the oratorical and debating contests. We will furnish at least four veteran members of the debate squad. Brothers Cochran and Holman will also uphold the standards of Phi Alpha Delta in debates and oratory.

Officers for this year are as follows: Ned A. Stewart, Justice; W. D. Bunton, Vice-Justice; James E. Atkins, Jr., Clerk; H. T. Holman, Treasurer; B. H. Nussbaum, Marshal.

On account of Pan-Hellenic rules, we cannot pledge until after the first term examinations are over, and between now and pledging time we are planning several "rushing" parties. Also expecting good results.—James E. Atkins, Jr.

MAGRUDER

University of Illinois

With the beginning of school in the fall thirty-four brothers returned to the old homestead at 211 E. Green.

Two brothers from Hammond Chapter, Ingleson and Brennen, and two brothers from Ryan Chapter, Guyer and Siebert, dropped in on us to continue their legal studies at Illinois. These, together with eighteen Freshmen seeking their first insight into law, complete out our roster of exactly fifty-three men.

At present writing there is a suspicion that the above men have returned to 211 E. Green for the last time. By that we do not infer any dire or inopportune happenings to the men. On the other hand Magruder seems to have hit a gusher and will soon be able to class itself amongst those who own a home. For two long weeks we have been negotiating, and at last a written offer over our signatures has been placed in the hands of the second party. Nothing remains to be done except his signature, which is practically assured, and then Magruder assumes the expression of a debt harrassed mortgagor.

The preceding paragraph reminds us of the fact that "Dad's Day" and Homecoming found a goodly number of alums back to see the football games and renew old acquaintances. Dads, alumni and brothers united to create a feeling of warmth and attachment for the profession which has enveloped all.

During the past few weeks two new men have been taken into the brotherhood, Brother Chester Groves of Quincy, and Brother August Meyer of Metropolis.

Lately it has come to our attention that Brothers Paxton, '24, and Peterson, '28, have taken unto themselves soul-mates and have deserted the ranks of the blissful bachelors.

Brothers Gilbert, Rearick and Woodbridge, all of the Class of '27, continue to represent Phi Alpha Delta on the editorial staff of the Illinois Law Review.

Brother Fred Mercer, '24, was recently elected County Judge of Fulton County. Fred lined up on the Republican ticket.

Brother Marvin Hamilton, '27, recently became the parent of one who can never hope to be a P. A. D. It's a girl.

December 4 saw P. A. D. in the first of its social functions for the year, an informal dinner dance given at the Sigma Phi Sigma House. It is submitted that a royal time was had by all.

Having led the legal fraternities scholastically for the last year, Magruder settles down for a year of real work in books and in home building, and wishes at this time to extend its felicitations to the other chapters.

MARSHALL

University of Chicago

With the advent of the autumn quarter comes the return of many P. A. D.'s, to enter into their legal pursuits and to work for the benefit and progress of Marshall Chapter. At present we have eighteen members of this chapter in school with seven transfers: Brother Wyman from the University of Idaho; Brother Best from the University of Michigan; Brother Conklin from Drake University; Brother Bendar from the University of Iowa; and Brothers Eyre, Asche and Mansfield from the University of Nebraska.

Our present interest and activity is rushing. In a few more days we hope to have completed our pledge roll for this quarter. Eight men are now wearing the pledge button of our fraternity: Bingham from Simpson College; Christensen, Mack, Holbrook and Stephenson from the Arts School of the University of Chicago; Hodges from the University of Iowa; and Oakes and Alexander from Knox College.

The chapter has found it advisable to discontinue the maintenance of its house. Such a course of action was deemed best due to the fact that many of the members live in their social fraternity houses, while others live in the city and reside at home. Coupled with this consideration was also the difficulty of finding a suitable location, without the payment of an exorbitant rental. So far such a policy has worked out in fine shape and the handicap of not having a house for rushing was obviated by Brother Orr opening up his home to us for that purpose. In the earlier part of the quarter a stag party was held at his home, at which we entertained twenty-five members of the first-year class of the law school. Bridge and billiards were the chief diversions of the evening, brought to a fitting conclusion by the serving of cider and doughnuts.

Marshall men have gained some of the highest honors of the school. Brother Homire was elected to the Order of the Coif last June. Two of our third-year men, Brother Davis and Harmon, are members of the student staff of the Illinois Law Review.

Professor K. C. Sears, from the University of Missouri, has been added to our faculty as Professor of Law this fall. Such an appointment we consider with a matter a pride for he is not only a member of P. A. D., but is also a member of Marshall Chapter.

MARTIN

University

The opening of the 1926-27 search for legal knowledge at Tulane found Martin Chapter with only one casualty. We regretfully noted that Brother Charles Boagni had chosen Vanderbilt, as his future Alma Mater, over Tulane. We know that Charley will make the Lurton boys a good man, and we hope that he will return to us as an alumnus with a wider knowledge of Phi Alpha Delta for having made the change.

All of the officers fortunately returned to school, and the organization was such that the chapter affairs functioned from the beginning just as though four months had not intervened since the last meeting. Those returning were: Warren M. Simon, Justice, J. J. Davidson, Jr., Vice-Justice, and Lloyd C. Hoffman, Clerk, Seniors; Henry M. Robinson, Treasurer, Allen L. Smith, Marshal, Sommer Benedict, Reporter, and James I. McCain, Juniors; and Wayne

Stovall and J. B. Holloman, Jr., Freshmen.

Most of us were in town to greet Brother Supreme Justice Rex Hardy on his flying trip to our city. We tried our best to persuade him to return this way, but those wonderful charms that Chicago has for all P. A. D's. were too much, and we had to bid him goodbye until the next convention. We say "until the next convention" because Martin Chapter still hopes that the next convention will be held in New Orleans, "America's Most Interesting City."

Our first monthly smoker was held at the home of our faithful Brother Robinson (we almost call it the P. A. D. House). Brother A. W. Cooper of the New Orleans Bar delivered a talk, and later conducted a round table discussion on the caducity of wills, as affected by the adoption of a child by the testator. In addition to members and alumni, there were many freshmen present.

The next smoker is scheduled for November 10, and will be held at Charley de la Vergne's home on St. Charles Avenue. Brother J. Zach Sparing will discuss certain features of the United States Congress and Brother Louis H. Burns, United States District Judge, will talk on Federal procedure.

More "Phi Alpha Delta tours" are being planned, to begin immediately following the football season. The first one will be to Louisiana State at Baton Rouge. Another is contemplated to take in the beautiful Teche country of South Louisiana.

Brother J. J. Davidson, Jr., succeeded himself as Speaker of the Glendy Burke Literary and Debating Society, and in addition to graduating with the highest honors, is expected to be a strong contender for national debating laurels again this year.

Brother Allen L. Smith is getting the affairs of the University Dramatic Club underway, having won the coveted honor of president in the elections of last spring.

Brother James I. McCain is this year's editor of the monthly chapter letter of his academic fraternity Pi Kappa Phi, and in addition was one of the thirteen men elected to the "Sphinx Society." Brother Holloman was chosen to represent his class on the Jam-balaya board.

Brother Stovall, who had high hopes of getting a berth on Shaughnessy's Greenie Squad, suffered an injured knee in an early scrimmage, and while he is out on the field again, it is feared that the injury was fatal to his ambitions for this year. Might we be pardoned in giving expression to our feeling that this probably accounts for Tulane's failure to score on Auburn?

At the suggestion of Brother Barber, our District Justice, the chapter chose a delegate to represent the chapter in future installations. Of course our choice fell immediately on Justice Warren Simon.

McKINLEY

Ohio State University
McKinley Chapter started the year with fifteen members and the Chapter on a sound financial basis, with Merle C. Reagle, 50 West Eighth Avenue, as Justice, and Harry Weaver, 1759 Oak Street, as Clerk. Our initiation fee has been increased $10.00 over former years and other financial improvements inaugurated.

Our first social affair of the year was a banquet and smoker at Hotel Chittenden, Columbus, on October 6, with Hon. Forrest F. Smith, former United States District Attorney and present member of the Columbus Bar, as the chief speaker and guest. Professor Clarence D. Laylin of the Law Faculty was also a guest and speaker of the evening. Several alumni were also present.

On October 27 our second social affair of the year was held in the form of a six o'clock dinner and smoker at the Hotel Chittenden. Addresses were made by several of the alumni who were present.

Brother Merle C. Reagle, present Justice of the Chapter, and Karl E. Mollenberg, who was a delegate to our St. Louis Convention, attended the American Bar Association, meeting at Denver this summer. While there, they had the privilege of attending the Phi Alpha Delta banquet of the members of the American Bar Association, which included many leading and distinguished characters of legal men of the United States. It was a grand affair, held at the Elks Club in Denver.

Brother William C. Graham, '27, was admitted to the Bar of West Virginia during the past summer.

It is our intention to initiate a small class in January at the beginning of the next quarter. Scholarship has been made a leading qualification as to membership, which has always been the case with McKinley Chapter.

During the past summer, it was the privilege of Brothers Merle C. Reagle and Karl E. Mollenberg, who were in attendance at the University of Colorado Law School, to attend a P. A. D. banquet at Blanchard's Ranch in the mountains near Boulder, Colorado, sponsored by the Gunter Chapter. Five chapters were represented by members present, being Michigan, Arizona, Northwestern, Colorado, and Ohio State. Professor Kulp, of the University of Oklahoma Law School, well known as author and authority on Oil and Gas Law, was the guest of the evening. Faculty members present were Professors Arthur and Rutledge.

Visitors from McKinley Chapter found Gunter Chapter of Colorado very hospitable as well as in a flourishing condition.

The Chapter is gratified to meet Brother B. D. Bunsen, of Benton Chapter, Kansas City, who has come to this city to take charge of the offices of the Missouri State Life Insurance Company, at 16 East Broad Street. He will be with us for a few months only.

Brother Hon. Cyrus Locher of Hay Chapter, Western Reserve University, who is Director of Commerce in Governor Donahey's Cabinet, was the speaker at our last initiation banquet. He was a candidate for United States Senator in the primary election, having withdrawn in favor of Atlee Pomerene.

Brother Merle C. Reagle will take the Ohio Bar Examination this December before his graduation.

MORGAN

Morgan Chapter returned seventeen members for the present semester. So far we have been successful in our rushing and pledging and have eight pledged, with prospects of several more. The alumni have taken a greater interest in the chapter than has been the case in the past. Our meetings have been well attended. It is noticeable that the chapter has been working as a unit towards its general betterment.

We were favored by having Brother Rex Hardy at our first meeting. His suggestions were appreciated by the entire chapter. Morgan Chapter is particularly hopeful that the other officers can and will visit us during the year. The invitation is open to all members of the fraternity.

The law school at the University of Alabama has been given an A grade rating by the American Bar Association, and is on a two-year probation period with the American Law School Association. Several new courses are to be given during the year. The school contemplates publishing a law journal during the year.

It is only a question of a very short time until the work will be begun on the beautifully planned building to be used exclusively for the law school.

ROSS

Speech by J. F. T. O'Connor presenting autographed picture of Irskine M. Ross to Ross Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta on Wednesday, October 13, 1926, Los Angeles, California.

University of The wisdom and foresight of the Southern founders of Phi Alpha Delta provided California that chapters should be named after distinguished jurists. The chapters in Chicago, where the fraternity was organized, selected the greatest names in the history of jurisprudence—Blackstone, Kent, and Story, and as other chapters were organized the same policy was followed.

The roll of our chapters contains such names as Calhoun, Benton, Campbell, Chase, Clay, Jefferson, Marshall, Wilson, Taft, Rapallo, and many others. In 1911 when this chapter was installed it selected the name of the greatest jurist in the history of California. It is a great pleasure to be requested today to present to the active chapter a picture of Judge Irskine M. Ross with his autograph and best wishes to the fraternity.

There is nothing finer in life than the influence of a great soul as it sweeps through its allotted period of time. A life of service is like the headlight on a giant engine which dispels the darkness with its brilliant light. Judge Ross has been such a light in the legal history of California. He was born at Bel Pre, Culpaper County, Virginia, on June 30, 1845, and graduated from Virginia Military Institute in 1865. He was admitted to the California Bar in 1869, and ten years later was elected a Justice of the Supreme Court of the State and since that time and up until two years ago he had served with distinction on the Supreme Court of California as a United States District Judge on the United States Circuit Court until he voluntarily retired two years ago.

In these forty-five years he indelibly impressed himself as a great jurist and his opinions for clarity of thought, accuracy of expression and justice in results have never been equalled or surpassed by any California judge. He came to this State when its institutions and its courts were in their infancy and at a time when a strong, clear mind was needed to expound and apply the great principles of law and equity upon which the prosperity of this States has been built.

Other men during this period bent their mental and physical efforts to the accumulation of worldly goods. Some have retained the wealth they won, others have dissipated it. Some fortunes have passed into hands that are unworthy. Judge Ross sends to us today his message of regret from a bed of pain. His mind is as clear today as when his greatest decisions were written. The eighty-two years have not impaired it but the load of those years are weighed heavily upon his body. He does not boast of great wealth. He looks back today over those forty-five years spent as a judge in the various courts in this State, certainly with some degree of pride. In that life of service he has something no amount of money can buy. Fortunes may crumble and their possessors be forgotten, but nothing can destroy or erase the contribution made by Judge Ross to the growth, development and prosperity of this golden State. Into the stern principles of law he seemed to always find occasion to entwine the finer principles of equity. In every decision he emphasized the human side as against the material. He believed that human rights were more important than the rights that men claim to property.

Judge Ross now sits in the twilight of a magnificent life. He can call from the walls of memory the great legal battles of the past half century. He can still hear the masterful arguments that were made by the leading lawyers of the State. No man gave more, no man asked less, of the commonwealth. Judge Ross looks back today over a life of enviable service while we honor him here in this room at this dinner, looking forward with a hope that we might profit by his example, that we might emulate his conduct and in some degree make a contribution to this State.

Without ideals our fraternity must die and it should die. The name of Judge Ross will live as long as the great university which harbors this chapter survives. It will serve to inspire the youth of today and tomorrow to a higher sense of public service. We love him because of his unselfish devotion to the ideals of a great profession and in the name of that illustrious career which will always shine as a beacon light to those who study the jurisprudence of our State, I present to you, Mr. Toastmaster, a picture with the autograph of this distinguished jurist whom we honor, whom we love and whose memory in the years to come will be a benediction.

Ryan Chapter has gotten well under way for what promises to be another very successful year. The beginning of the year found us with twenty-eight active members and we have pledged twenty of the finest fellows in the law school. We have a right to feel proud of our pledge class this fall as the men are leaders in the law school and on the campus. They are: Donlan Amberg, Jack Clarkson, Tom Carter, William Clough, Maurice Coakley, Arthur Dahl, Robert Downey, Fred Evans, Edward Finn, Dean Frasche, William Krueger, Harry McAndrews, Harold McCoy, Harold Lambole, Ben Mattek, Samuel Meyers, John Roberts, John Rooney, Lawrence Williams, and Gustav Winters.

We gave a house dance in honor of the pledges a week ago. There was a fine turnout for the dance, and the pledges all had a great time. Quite a few alumni came to the dance, so many old friends met again. We hope as many of the "old timers" will get down to the rest of our dances.

The chapter house has had a going over of a kind it hasn't had for many years. The fellows all got to work this fall and redecorated all of the rooms, and refinished all of the floors. A one-time billiard room, which had degenerated into a general store room, has been soaked with paint and varnish and converted into as fine a reading and card room as can be found anywhere on the campus. We're proud of the old house this fall.

As usual, P. A. D's. are active this year. The president of the Law School Association is none other than our Justice "Casey" Fugina. Two of the editors of the Wisconsin Law Review are P. A. D's. They are C. E. Fugina and Glen Bell. We furnished three of the six Coif men last spring, Brothers Myron Stevens, Francis Lamb, and Eugene Williams being elected.

Three of the "Profs" on the Law School faculty this year are P. A. D's. These men are Brothers Marvin Rosenberry, W. G. Rice, and Maxwell Herriott.—Glen H. Bell.

STAPLES

Washington and Lee University
At a recent meeting of Staples Chapter, the following men were elected to hold office for the year 1926-27: T. W. Menefee, Justice; L. S. Stemmons, Vice Justice; Euc Reeves, Clerk; C. H. Wilson, Marshal; Hannibal Joyce, Correspondent; George T. Smith, Historian; R. J. Johnson, Treasurer.

In spite of the fact that final examinations are about at hand, Staples Chapter is glad to take this opportunity of greeting all of the P. A. D. boys and telling them of Staples' activities.

Since the last letter was written the chapter held its spring initiation on the 29th of March when eleven men were taken into membership. At this juncture I may add that the initiation was staged in good style under the direction of Brother Story Stemmons. Following the ceremonies a formal banquet was held and a good time was had by all. The new brothers are: W. P. Woodley, Suffolk, Va.; H. N. Joyce, Stoneville, N. C.; Jerry Collins, Bluefield, W. Va.; J. L. Lancaster, Jackson, Tenn.; R. J. Johnson, Portsmouth, Va.; R. W. Stipes, Flint, Mich.; W. A. Halsey, Whiting, Ind.; G. T. Smith, Portsmouth, Va.; Lane Howard, Cleveland, Ohio; Jack Cane, Gate City, Va.; and Harold Oosterman, Chambersburg, Pa.

Brother Basil Watkins, retiring Justice and our representative to the convention, brought back a stirring report of the activities of the Supreme Chapter in St. Louis and of the constructive work accomplished by that body.

Brother Raymond T. Johnson of Marshall Chapter, a member of the law faculty, has resigned his position with that body, and will start practicing in Louisville, Ky., next fall. Brother Johnson has taken an active interest in the chapter for the past year, and his absence will be keenly felt by Staples next year.

Staples Chapter herein wishes to extend congratulations to the brothers of the other chapters for the splendid progress they are making in advancing the cause of Phi Alpha Delta, and wishes them a howling success and a bigger year next year than ever before.

—Euc Reeves, Jr. Clerk.

STORY

DePaul University
In June of this year Story Chapter closer a very successful year under the able guidance of Brother Tom Haggerty, with a banquet at which the following new officers were installed: Justice, Dan Riley Waters; Vice-Justice, William Riley; Treasurer, Willard C. Walters; Clerk, John Nordstrand; Marshal, Carroll F. Zapp.

The year 1926-27 has been inaugurated with an enthusiasm that promise to give Story Chapter the most successful year in its history. Justice Dan Waters outlined his plans for the year at the first meeting and at the present time the Chapter has accomplished much. We have established a chapter paper which has been christened the Phi Alpha Delta Story Book, published monthly. The purpose of the Story Book is to bring the active chapter into closer touch with the alumni and to stimulate chapter interest. Brother George McGrath is editor of the Story Book and Brother Charles Lilly is associate editor and publisher.

The first annual alumni banquet has been held at the Chapter House at 53 East Superior Street. The affair was attended by seventy-five active and alumni members of Story Chapter. During the program that followed, many interesting and instructive talks were heard. Brother Jim Cherry, Professor of Law at De Paul University, acted as toastmaster in the way that only Jim Cherry can. Among the speakers were Past Supreme Justice George E. Fink, Emmet F. Byrne, past Justice of Story Chapter and present Northern District Justice, George Quillici and Henry Phoenix. Brother Joe McAnuliffe of Campbell Chapter entertained with a few numbers on the piano and Brother Bill Riley sang us a few of his famous songs. Long before any of the Brothers departed for home, there was a resolution by all that the banquet next year would be bigger and better.

The following men have been elected to pledgeship John P. Roche, Fred E. Doyle, John L. Bordes, Edwin Hutchins, Edwin Robson, James Koutsoglana, William Barth, John Coughlan, Joseph Hayes, James Murray, Charles McKenna, and William Gleason.

The Brothers are looking forward to the annual Formal Christmas Party to be held on December 18. This affair gives promise of being a gala event and one that will long be remembered by those who attend. It is hoped that alumni Brothers in goodly numbers will be among those present.—Charles M. Lilly.

TEMPLE

Hastings It has been some time since you were last burdened with a letter from Jackson Temple Chapter, way out here on the western frontier, so to speak, at Hastings College of the Law in San Francisco, California.

This sudden burst of energy on the part of the writer, the historian of Jackson Temple Chapter, with the accompanying picture of almost all of us smiling out at you, may be charged to spontaneous combustion, which is an analysis that always covers a multitude of scientific ignorance and why shouldn't it work in this case?

Also, if the letter sounds a bit egotistical in streaks, charge it to the enthusiasm of youth and to the fact that Jackson Temple hasn't written in so long a time.

First of all, Brother Editor, let us correct you on one point that we consider a grievous reflection on our dear Alma Mater and consequently a reflection on its student body and the P. A. D's, thereof.

The Quarterly lists Jackson Temple Chapter as being situated at "Hasting School of Law," which is a terrible thing to call dear old "Hastings College of the Law," that has the distinction of being the only "college of law" individually endowed and affiliated with a State university in the United States. Hastings was endowed as an affiliated college of the University of California with the provision that it should always remain a distinct and individual college situated in San Francisco. We're not snobs by any means, but people that don't know old and venerable Hastings might think it was one of the mail-order correspondence law schools. No reflection on the correspondence schools, y'understand.

Because of its peculiar individual and yet affiliated character, Hastings is located in the beautiful State building facing the glorious Civic Center of San Francisco, and it is on the steps of this building that we posed the other day, all of the active members with the exception of three, and including one of our distinguished honorary members, the Hon. U. S. Webb, attorney general of California.

A word about our Brother Webb. The least that can be said about him is that he is a great scout. The writer had the honor of being initiated in the same class with the General, and can vouch that he took as much abuse and other painful experiences of the ceremonials of initiation as the humblest of us neophytes, with graceful good humor. Another thing about General Webb. Although he is an extremely busy man, Jackson Temple Chapter never has to prosecute a writ of mandamus to force him to turn out to P. A. D. affairs. He is quite as loyal an enthusiastic member as is found within the ranks of P. A. D., and the Chapter is very fond and proud of him. And mind you, not this because of his distinguished rank because our Chapter boasts of other very distinguished men, including Curtis J. Wilbur, Secretary of the Navy.

Now, as to the news of what the Chapter has been doing since your last word from us. Your Historian, the narrator, will have to pick up the thread of the story from that eventful day in February, this year, when he and eight others, including General Webb, our Chief Justice, Ingemar Hoberg, and our Chapter Clerk, Don K. Quayle, were led through the impressive ceremonies that unfolded to us the secret virtues of Phi Alpha Delta. The initiation was held in the chambers of the California State Supreme Court in the State building. Following the ceremony, a banquet was tendered the neophytes at the famous Palace Hotel, the same universally known hostelry where our late and esteemed brother, President Warren G. Harding, breathed his last.

At the conclusion of the semester the following May, the annual election was held and here's where the ego of which you were forewarned, enters unblushingly.

The February class of neophytes had proved to be a peppy lot. Brother Hoberg had considerable of a reputation as a leader on the campus at the University of California from whence he came, and lo! when the smoke of battle had cleared, Jackson Chapter found it had elected three first-year men, or, at least three men not yet technically out of the first year, to offices in the Chapter, an honor that usually goes without argument to seniors. These officers were Brother Hoberg, Chief Justice, Brother Quayle, Clerk, Brother Leslie C. Gillen, Historian, and the other officers elected were Brother Merle Shreck, a senior, Vice-Justice, and Brother De Martini, Marshal.

Thanks to the patron Saint of Law Students, whom ever he may be, and to the fact that the Goddess of Justice wears a thick bandage over her eyes, ninety-eight per cent of the P. A. D's. sailed through above the required "C" average.

This year started out with a bang and a promise. To be sure, the new officers, primarily the Chief Justice, lived up to the hopes that Retiring Chief Justice Lionel B. Brown expressed when he officiated at the installation.

Although the first semester is not yet over, Jackson Temple Chapter already has initiated a very promising class of eight candidates, all of them high average students. These men, upon being pledged, were assigned to critical tasks of writing a thesis, or submitting a complete synopsis of a first-year subject, or something of the same order. All acquitted themselves admirably and after another successful initiation in the Supreme Court Chambers, and a banquet at the Whitcomb Hotel, we shook their hands as our brothers of P. A. D.

This year the Alumni members have been cooperating with the Chapter famously. They have turned out in goodly numbers to all Chapter affairs, including a well appointed formal dinner dance held the early part of November on the Roof Garden of the Clift Hotel. And the Alumni members do not participate as though it were their duty but apparently they enjoy themselves genuinely.

Jackson Temple Chapter holds a weekly meeting every Monday morning and for the unexcused absence of any member a fine of twenty-five cents is imposed. The Chapter holds a luncheon every Friday noon, at which active and alumni alike attend, and frequent dinners.

We realize that because of the peculiar character of our Alma Mater by the lack of campus life, that this frequent association is imperative for the success of our Chapter, and the brothers respond in loyal fashion.

There are five fraternities in all at Hastings College of the Law, three of them national legal fraternities. And the Historian can assure you without fear of contradiction, that Phi Alpha Delta is the foremost.

For the last twelve years there has been a P. A. D. President of the Student Body at Hastings. This present year our capable Vice-Justice, Brother Merle Shreck, holds the coveted office, and in the month of September put over a splendid "smoker" for the entire student body that went down in the annals of the institution. Dean William Simmons and Professor Golden Bell, both Harvard alumni, represented the faculty on that successful evening.

Brother John D. Gallagher distinguishes P. A. D. by being President of the Debating Society and was a member of the team that last year defeated the College of the Pacific, and this year faces unflinchingly, a number of challenges from various institutions of the State.

Yes, Brothers of Phi Alpha Delta, you may not have heard from us, but in our small way, Jackson Temple Chapter has been doing proudly in upholding the standards of our beloved order, and in selecting pledges, rest assured that we have chosen carefully such as we feel sure are capable to carry on.

With sincere best wishes to all of our P. A. D. Brothers of this broad continent, whom we have never met personally but to whom we know ourselves to be bound by the unbreakable ties of our order, permit me to sign for Jackson Temple Chapter.—Leslie C. Gillen.

WILLEY

With the opening of this school year West Virginia Willey Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta University presents a golden opportunity to its members as an institution for further legal study. As a justification for its existence, we conceive it to be an organization which we can use to further our legal education outside the class room. Our aim is to fulfill this purpose, and we believe we are doing it.

Two recent papers read by Brother Brown and Brother LaFollette deserve particular mention. Brother Brown's paper was on the subject of Prohibition, and he merits singular commendation from the fact that it was strictly original. While he did not claim that his plan would cure all the evils of prohibition, he did maintain that it would start the 18th amendment on the right road. It is, indeed, too bad that Brother Brown cannot represent us in the National Senate, that he might at least have his plan considered. Brother LaFollette set us right on the Supreme Court decision in the Frick Case. Owing to the fact that this decision has a direct bearing upon statutes in some forty of our States, we at once realized its importance. His efforts to make clear this troublesome question were marked with the highest success.

Willey Chapter is soon to initiate Judge Haymond Maxwell, B. A., LL. B., of the Circuit Court of West Virginia, into Honorary Membership of Phi Alpha Delta. Uprightness of character, firmness of purpose and unwavering integrity are his chief characteristics. As a judge he is not impulsive, but is calm, deliberative and just. He is easily approached, and combine courtesy and affability with dignity and firmness.

On November 19, Ex-Governor John J. Cornwell of this State, who is now General Counsel for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, is coming to our law school to tell us about his work. Phi Alpha Delta is instituting a custom here of bringing a man of the type to speak before the law school each year. We anticipate with great pleasure his coming, as we know he will have something very valuable to tell us. Our Chapter was not particularly hard hit by graduation last year. However, we did lose some mighty fine men. Chief among them were Walter "Red" Mahan, captain of our football team, and Howard Klostermyer, who represented us on the Law Quarterly. The freshman class of our law school has an exceptionally high number of good men this year, and we feel confident that we will get our share of these men. We are looking forward to a valuable and prosperous year. We extend our best wishes to all the chapters of Phi Alpha Delta.—W. H. Rardin.

WILSON

Cornell University Woodrow Wilson Chapter is well started on its third year. We have given several smokers to members of the entering class, enabling us to get acquainted with each other. We also gave a smoker to the faculty and the other two law fraternities at Cornell, Phi Delta Phi and Delta Theta Phi. This last particularly provided an opportunity for the fraternity men in the School to meet with the faculty on common ground in a spirit of cooperation.

Wilson Chapter is proud to announce the pledging of E. J. Besig, C. S. Bates, G. W. Morgan, M. P. Vallilee, A. M. Laidlaw, E. C. Wilcox, J. D. Van de Water, M. A. Mitchell, and C. N. Gray. These men have been carefully chosen and we feel will uphold the high standards of P. A. D.

Under our by-laws, before a pledge is eligible for initiation, he must have creditably passed ten hours of law work. Of the men pledge, M. P. Vallile, E. C. Wilcox, E. J. Besig, G. W. Morgan, and C. N. Gray have met this requirement in summer school, and will be initiated December 4. The others will be initiated early in the next term.

During the summer, Brothers Rice, Kelly, and Carver were married. Brother Jeffers was married this month.

P. A. D. is well represented this year in the Law School's student activities. Brothers Conroy and Blake are on the Law Quarterly Board. Brothers Flanagan, Blake, Kenny, Conroy, Moreland, Hurley, and Morse are serving on several important committees.

By one vote of the senior class, Brother Conroy was awarded on the two Fraser Scholarships. This is one of the highest honors obtainable in the Law School.—Elbert H. Carver.
