CHICAGO ALUMNI CHAPTER OUTING

Saturday and Sunday, July 21-22, A. D. 1928, saw nearly one hundred P.A.D.'s of Chicago Alumni and adjoining chapters journey to Oak Hills Country Club, situated about thirty miles southwest of the city.

The feature of the outing was that time honored and classic game, golf. The brand of golf played was a surprise to everyone; it was played only as P.A.D.'s, on such an occasion, could play it.

Some very splendid scores were made in both directions. Judge Lyle is said to have gotten more exercise out of nine holes than any other excellent player got out of thirty-six. Bill Nealon made an approach from one hundred fifty-nine and one-half yards, right into the cup; and it was his first game. Art Boroughf made a hole in one at the fourth—according to reports at the 19th hole. Cecil Emery made a remarkable score, considering that he played on the wrong fairway.

The more enterprising and aggressive fellows went out early Saturday morning and got in thirty-six holes that day. Strange to say, however; those particular fellows failed to venture forth next day. So happened Saturday.

On Saturday night the outing really began. The 19th hole was not entirely deserted and its influence could be seen in many spots—joyous sounds emanating therefrom far into the night. It was then the P.A.D.'s made "whoopie" and lusty cries of "Martindale, the winner," could be heard coming from Johnny Powers, as long as one cared to listen—even longer. The best work at the 19th hole was done by Brothers Powers, Bill Halley, Frank Murray and "Doc" Wagner.

The scores for Sunday on the golf course were a great deal higher than those on Saturday. Nobody has attempted any explanation. None has been called for.

Many of the old timers were there. To Brother Donald P. Blake, Wilson Chapter, master of arrangements, goes the credit for making the outing a memorable success. Even the ancient classic of outings, a baseball game wherein the Married Men pitted their home runs against the Single Men, took place according to schedule. Brother Hayes pitched a sterling game for the Married Men, resulting in victory for them, 8 to 5. The Single Men assert the result was achieved by a deep laid conspiracy, to which the umpire, Brother Bill Haley, was a party.

Everybody got a good sunburn. It was a good outing and one that made P.A.D. history the same as others held heretofore.

JAMES H. TURNER,

Secretary Chicago Alumni Chapter.

THE ALUMNI BRETHERN

After and with apologies to Kipling.

"Once in so often," our Justice said,
Mindful of Brothers far and near,
"We will club our garlic and meat and bread
And banquet together amid good cheer.
And all of the Brothers shall come to that mess,
But as Brother Alumni, no more and no less.

"Send this message to Jim and to Frank
Trying their causes mid courthouse din.
I, and the Brothers would like it, if They and their gang would be sure and drop in.
For we'll be most happy to meet them at mess
As Brother Alumni, no more and no less.

"Carry this message to Joe and to Ned
Gone to the bench with the passage of time,
I, and the Chapter would like it, if
They and their Brethren would come and dine.
No Judicial toga, just in everyday dress
As Brother Alumni, no more and no less.

"God gave the "pleader" and "briefer" their place
Also the poor duffer who struggles along,
But that is no reason to slight any one
Because for the Law, he never was born.
And for our Fraternity, I hold and profess
That we're Brother Alumni, no more and no less.

"So it was ordered, and so it was done,
And triers of causes and writers of briefs
And some of the wearers of Judicial robes

And all of the Juniors, as well as their Chiefs
Came, sat down, and were merry at mess
As Brother Alumni, no more and no less.

"And the Judges they talked, and the Advocates spoke
And the "briefers" ran over a "point" or two.
And this was the message that they brought
And the message that I would bring to you.
"You must drop the Law and all gainful things"
When our Justice's messenger, his message brings"
And come, sit down, and be merry at mess"
As Brother Alumni, no more and no less."

LOUIS W. ARNOLD.

NOTES

Brother Bill Chism, McReynolds Chapter, is the proud daddy of an eight pound "Miss," born August 21st.

Charles Merriam, Marshall Chapter, followed suit with a seven and a half pound "Miss Dorothy," during the month of May.

Brother District Justice "Jack" Kimmell, Marshall Chapter, announced "Miss Mary Louise," in the merry month of May.

Brother James H. Turner, Marshall Chapter, trumped in during July with a nine pound son and heir.

JUDGE JONES ADDRESSES CHICAGO ALUMNI CHAPTER

Members and friends of Chicago Alumni Chapter enjoyed an outstanding evening on October 23, 1928. After a splendid chicken dinner, the Honorable Edgar A. Jonas (Webster), a past Supreme Justice of the fraternity, ever a loyal and active P. A. D., and now one of the judges of the Municipal Court of Chicago, addressed the members and their friends, all members of the Bar of Chicago having been invited and many of them having come, in the first of three lectures upon the life of John Marshall, the first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. The speaker's subject was, "The Cause and Effect of Marbury vs. Madison."

Judge Jonas, who is widely-known as an orator of no mean ability, drew a vivid picture of the setting in which the famous decision of which he spoke, was laid. He ably portrayed the causes leading to the necessity of the decision and gave his audience a very informative history of the judiciary system of our government.

When John Marshall was appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court in 1801, the City of Washington to which he came was as yet but little more than a dream. The streets had been laid out, but no improvements whatsoever had been made. In the winter months they were a morass of mud and slush, over which travel was almost impossible, and many a guest failed to arrive at his destination because his vehicle had become stuck in the mud and the condition of his clothing made him unrepresentable. During the summer the passage of a carriage would send up great clouds of dust.

It appears that upon his appointment, Marshall took lodging in a boarding house. An interesting side light of his place of abode, which was typical of its contemporaries, was that one rate was charged guests who desired only the customary lighter drinks, while a higher rate was charged those desiring their favorite libations.

At this time the federal courts had become objects of ridicule and contempt among the populace, there being little purely American law and the judges seemingly having adopted the ideas controlling the bloody assizes of Jeffries. The federal judges assumed jurisdiction of any matter they could lay their hands upon, and in contemptuous disregard of juries proceeded summarily, and sometimes without hearing the defense at all, to impose cruel and unusual punishments. Marshall saw the dangers and this situation was one of the first things to receive his corrective attention.

Jefferson was just beginning his first term of office at this time, after a long regime of the Federalists. Jefferson, being a man of the people and opposed to strong centralized powers, contended that the Federalists had packed the judiciary, seeking to maintain it as their stronghold. That stronghold had to be taken, so Jefferson set about to break the power of the judiciary. Opposed was Marshall, the lawyer, who, believing that the courts should be the bulwark of liberty, set about to elevate them to the power and dignity which he believed they should have.

Marshall, although not widely known in public life before he became Chief Justice, had been Secretary of State for a short period under President Adams. While Marshall was Secretary of State, Adams had appointed forty-two Justices of the Peace for the District of Columbia and had sent their appointments to Marshall as Secretary for the issuance of the warrants. The issuance of these warrants was apparently overlooked by Marshall, who just about that time was appointed Chief Justice, and they were left on his desk with the warrants unissued. Jefferson caused twenty-five of these appointments to be confirmed, but withheld seventeen, among which was that of one Marbury. Seeking to obtain his commission Marbury filed an original application with the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus against Madison, then Secretary of State, to require him to deliver his commission as Justice of the Peace.

Jefferson, seeking to break the Federalists last stronghold, the courts, sought to arouse public opinion so as to force the judiciary into that position which he considered it ought to hold, viz, an arm of the executive branch. The question was hotly debated in the press and Jefferson made great political capital out of the controversy. But Marshall was not to be bluffed. By reason of the application of Marbury for his writ of mandamus, Marshall was confronted with either exerting the powers of the courts to the disadvantage of the executive department of the government, or with ruling that the judicial department has no power to coerce the executive department.

By a masterly decision, supported very little on precedent and authority, but almost wholly upon outstanding reason and logic and comprehensive political theory, Marshall took the position that under the Judicature Act of 1801, having to do with the originating of writs of mandamus, an original application therefore did not lie to the Supreme Court, but at the same time ruling, by logic so convincing that it was not questioned thereafter for forty years, that the judicial department of the government could and would prevent the executive department from acting contrary to the powers conferred upon it by the Constitution and laws of the United States. This decision took all the flame out of the heated discussion that had been going on over the whole country. Denying the right of Marbury to his warrant under such an original application, it satisfied the Jeffersonians. Establishing that the judiciary was an independent branch of the federal government, and of the same magnitude as the executive branch, his decision had the double effect of satisfying both the executive branch and at the same time firmly establishing the power of the Supreme Court to enforce the supreme law of the land.

Other effects of the decision were widespread. It encouraged the people and the bar to pin their faith on the Constitution as the backbone of their rights and liberties. It established the rule of law whereby the courts have ever since had the right to declare void any law or act repugnant to the Constitution. It encouraged commercial expansion throughout the country, because the merchants began to see that their contracts would be upheld and would not be overridden by conflicting laws or by reason of political influence. It established the place of the legislative, judicial and executive departments of the government, and it established John Marshall as one of the greatest jurists of all ages.

On January 15, 1929, at the annual meeting of the Alumni Chapter, Judge Jonas will deliver the second lecture of the series entitled, "Marshall and his Conduct in the Trial of Aaron Burr." The third and last of the series will be given at the meeting on March 19th, and the subject will be, "What has Marshall contributed to the Judicial Department of the United States."

Chicago Alumni Chapter also held its regular monthly meeting at the Chicago Bar Association on the evening of November 20th. Brother Frances L. Boutell (Marshall), a member of the Cook County Board of Commissioners, gave an illustrated lecture on "Cook County By-Ways." He told of the Cook County Hospital, one of the largest institutions of its kind in the world, wherein over one hundred thousand patients, were treated last year; of the skilled physicians upon its staff; of the great work it does for the poorer classes, and of the great reputation it has throughout the world. He also told of the Mother's Pension Fund work, of the modern institution which has taken the place of the old county poor farm, of the work of training wayward boys in institutions provided for such purposes, which have displaced old penal institutions, of the new Cook County criminal court and jail, the House of Correction and of the concrete highways which are being extended throughout the county. The lecture informed many of the members with knowledge of the great work being carried on of which but few had previously had but a hazy idea.

THE SUPREME SECRETARY VISITS ALUMNI CHAPTERS

The Quarterly, betraying its natural instinct towards yellow journalism, has much pleasure in publishing a private—and we know closely guarded copy of a letter recently written by our Supreme Secretary to two high officials of the fraternity. This is enclusive to the Quarterly and is protected by copyrights, injunctions, mandamus and all other suitable legal engines and devices:—

I am handing you herewith a belated report of my inspection October 12th and 13th of the Dunbar and Seattle Alumni Chapters of our fraternity. On account of the limits of time and space and further on account of your jealous dispositions, I shall not attempt to cover my pleasant experiences in making the boat trip from here to Seattle and return, nor shall I relate my unusual and altogether delightful experience enjoyed within the confines of our neighbor to the North other than to suggest Victoria, B. C., as a fitting place for either a Supreme Board meeting or a National Convention. The trip was altogether delightful and the fact that I regained nine pounds of the eighteen which I had lost during the summer my two weeks sojourn up North will indicate to you that the trip was not only pleasant but profitable.

But to get on with my report. I feel that it would be difficult to be too complimentary regarding the manner in which these two chapters, segregated geographically as they are, have carried forward through the past years. Our boat being late I received a radiogram from Justice Harold Holden requesting that I proceed, upon my arrival in Seattle, directly to the D. U. House which I did. I found Brother Holden to be a vigorous, aggressive, and outstanding man on the campus. In addition to being Justice of Dunbar Chapter he heads the D. U. Fraternity and is president of the local Inter-fraternity Council, as well as being active in all of the University affairs. It is quite evident that like all busy men he finds time to do all of his tasks especially well. After a conference with him I was conducted to the Butler Hotel to a special luncheon which had been called by the Alumni Chapter by Dr. Leslie J. Ayer. It would be difficult to imagine a more pleasant escort. While Dr. Ayer has the reputation of being a hard boiled slave driver in the Law School, he is universally liked and respected and is another justification of our provision for election of honorary members. The only possible criticism I could make of him is that perhaps he talks too much, in that he has invited me to return to Seattle for a fishing trip with him on his yacht and some of these days he is most assuredly going to have to deliver.

Upon our arrival at the Hotel Butler we found some thirty-five or thirty-six members of the Alumni Chapter assembled for luncheon, a pleasing turnout when you consider the limited size of our Alumni Chapter and the fact that this was not a regular chapter meeting. After luncheon I was accorded the privilege of talking to them upon the affairs of the fraternity in general and alumni chapters in particular. I must confess that the interested attention accorded me caused me to forget the lapse of time and to prolong my discussion unreasonably. At least I so felt when I discovered that I had talked the greater part of an hour. However, my embarrassment in this respect was somewhat relieved when, with the exception of four or five brothers who had appointments in their offices, all of the remainder plied me with questions regarding the affair of our fraternity for about an hour longer. It was exceedingly gratifying to find that these busy lawyers, far removed geographically from contact with other chapters, have maintained so keen an interest in Phi Alpha Delta. Their interest and their hospitality was an inspiration. Frederick Henriksen, 14 Columbia Street, is their present Justice and Dinsmore Taylor, 726 Third Avenue, their Secretary. Their dues for the current year have been paid. The chapter is in a sound financial condition. The officers are alert and progressive and the future of this chapter is bright.

In the afternoon I inspected the books and records of the clerk and of the treasurer of Dunbar Chapter. This Chapter does not maintain a fraternity house nor club rooms. They hold their meetings in the chapter rooms of the various general fraternity houses. Practically all of their members are general fraternity men. The chapter treasurer had $15.00 in the treasury with all outstanding obligations paid. The present officers of the fraternity and their addresses are as follows:

Justice—Harold Holden, 1818 E. 45th, Seattle.

Vice-Justice—Jerald Imus, 4543 E. 17th Ave. N.E., Seattle.

Clerk—John W. Day, 4725 E. 15th Ave. N.E., Seattle.

Treasurer—Franklin R. Manning, 5036 E. 36th Ave. N.E., Seattle.

Marshall—Kenneth E. Case, 5604 E. 16th Ave. N.E., Seattle.

The chapter opened the school year with a membership of fifteen. The treasurer's records are, of course, simple and easy to keep under the circumstances. I examined the chapter records for the past few years and found that they were very neatly and accurately kept.

At 6 P. M., we had dinner at the D. U. House followed by a chapter meeting immediately after dinner, the members of this fraternity having turned their house over to us for the occasion. The chapter dispensed with the usual routine of business and we devoted some three hours to a more or less informal discussion of the local problems and questions of general interest. The personnel of the Chapter is excellent and they should have an exceedingly good year. While they do not pledge until the end of the first term, they were on the alert for new men. As the greater portion of our discussion was of a general nature I shall not touch upon it in this report but one or two items I feel are important. It has been the custom of the Chapter to consider scholarship first in the selection of their members. While stressing the importance of a high scholastic standing, I advised them that in my opinion scholastic standing should probably be secondary in pledging men, but if the proper material were secured that then the chapter could bring about the proper scholastic rating.

In my opinion, the Chapter has probably been overlooking good material in the Law School among men who were not members of general fraternities. I attempted to point out to them the advantage to be gained through the selection of fraternity and non-fraternity men.

At 10 P. M., I was forced to leave to attend a party which had been arranged by friends in Seattle in honor of Marie and me and left the boys in a heated discussion regarding the possibility of establishing a chapter house at the University. The boys were extremely interested in learning the manner in which our various chapters had succeeded in operating fraternity houses and I believe that within the next year or two we will have some developments there in that respect.

On Saturday I made a tour of the campus and various buildings. The University of Washington, as you know, has a campus which will compare favorably with any in the United States. I called upon the instructors in the Law School and found that our fraternity is very highly regarded and that our standing is one of which we can be justly proud.

In closing I might state that while I found both of the chapters in excellent condition I believe this inspection has created added interest in our fraternity both locally and nationally and that it will be fruitful of better conditions in the future. Many brothers expressed to me their appreciation of the visit, stating that it was the first time within their recollection that anything of the sort had occurred there. If I have omitted any information in this report which you would like to receive, I should be pleased to supply it upon request.

With continued personal regards, I remain

Sincerely and fraternally,

F. M. LUDWICK,

Supreme Secretary.

EMMET F. BYRNE

EMMET F. BYRNE

Brother Emmet F. Byrne (Story Chapter), is one of the younger generation of PAD's who is bringing distinction to the fraternity through his outstanding ability and achievements. His record needs no editorial praise, for mention of the facts alone tells the story louder than eulogy.

Fraternally, Brother Byrne, was an outstanding member of Story Chapter while preparing for the bar at De Paul University. From Justice of his active chapter, he graduated into Chicago Alumni Chapter, of which he shortly became secretary, and then in rapid succession, treasurer, vice-president and president. Thereafter he rendered such excellent service as Justice of the Northern District, that he was persuaded to serve in such capacity for several terms. In 1923 he was the delegate for Chicago Alumni Chapter to the national convention at Washington, D. C., and his has become a familiar face at all subsequent bi-ennial conventions.

A World War veteran, Brother Byrne, was admitted to the Bar of Illinois in 1919 and to the Supreme Court of the United States in 1923. In June 1921, he was appointed an assistant corporation counsel for the City of Chicago and served in such capacity for two years. By that time he had gained no little reputation as a trial lawyer, and was called to the office of the States Attorney of Cook County, as an assistant. There he was shortly assigned to the trial of murder cases and prosecution of other major crimes. Teamed with Harold L. Levy, they soon became known as "the hanging prosecutors," by the underworld of Chicago, because of their success in obtaining convictions. During Brother Byrne's five year tenure as a States Attorney, he has secured twenty-two death verdicts in murder cases, an all time record for the criminal courts of Cook County, being three more convictions than were obtained by O'Brien and Prystalski, homicide aces for eight years under the former widely known successful States Attorney, Maclay Hoyne.

Amongst the prosecutions and convictions in which Brother Byrne played a leading role, was that of Henry Fernekes, the notorious bank robber, nick-named the "Midget Bandit"; that of Robert Scott, killer of Joseph Maurer in the City Hall Pharmacy, whose case was given world wide notoriety; that of Eddie Jackson, called "The Immune," a notorious pickpocket who had successfully escaped the law for twenty years; that of the International Harvester robbers; that of the $160,000 diamond robbery at the Palmer House; that of "Three Fingered Jack White," who killed a police officer of Chicago, and that of Anselmi and Scalise, notorious Sicilian Genna gangsters, whose exploits also received national publicity.

A record was also set by Brother Byrne, before Judge Hosea W. Wells, of the criminal court, by securing fifty consecutive convictions for robbery with a gun, during the period January 1925 to July 1925.

Brother Byrne has now prosecuted that which he says is his last criminal case, returning to private practice in December to be associated with the firm of Reeda and Peace, in the general practice of law at 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois.

And strange as it may seem, his last prosecution was featured by his dramatic appeal to the jury to return of verdict of not guilty. There wasn't a dry eye in the over-crowded courtroom after the appeal of Brother Byrne, it is reported; even two husky policemen who had testified that they arrested the accused the night that he came home intoxicated and fired the shot that killed his own son, were seen to wipe away tears. "When I came to the State's Attorney's office five and a half years ago, I wondered if I could ever prosecute anybody," Mr. Byrne said. "The job of prosecutor has not been an easy one. Regardless of tears of wives and mothers, we have been called upon to demand justice on behalf of the State. But justice is all that the State seeks; our job in seeking justice is to present evidence to you, gentlemen of the jury; it is not our duty where evidence does not warrant a verdict of guilty to demand that punishment be meted out. The evidence here shows that the accused's son took the shotgun from the wall, saying 'I'd rather be dead than see my father a drunkard.' Falk tried to take the gun from his boy and in some manner it was discharged. The father tried to reload the gun to shoot himself after realizing what he had done, but he did not even know how to load or fire it. The evidence shows that the father and son were pals. This is probably the last case in which we shall appear as prosecutors and we cannot ask for punishment for Falk." The accused was found not-guilty by the jury.

Phi Alpha Delta will hear more of its eminent brother in days to come.

L. L. RICHMOND, Associate Editor.

SUPREME JUSTICE'S PAGE

We most earnestly request the officers of active and alumni chapters to give their whole-hearted attention to their duties. Our chapters will thrive only through your intelligent hard work and if you give the best that is in you, you will have little difficulty in receiving the fullest co-operation from our membership, and we can anticipate the enjoyment of splendid progress on account of your efforts.

I have recently enjoyed the facilities provided for our out of town members by the New York Alumni Chapter, description of which will be found elsewhere in this issue, and in complimenting our chapter there for the fine work they are doing, I should like to express the wish that visitors in New York should avail themselves of these arrangements.

The Supreme Board wishes its active membership a successful school year and urges you to help in every way in the building of our chapters.

With personal best wishes, I am

Sincerely and fraternally,

JOHN J. NANGLE,

Supreme Justice.

SUPREME VICE-JUSTICE'S PAGE

By the time this issue of the Quarterly reaches you, the Justice of every active Chapter will have received an urgent request from this office to communicate at once with old members of his Chapter, asking them to affiliate with an Alumni Chapter. If there is not one in his city, the Justice will ask that he call a meeting of all members and organize one.

By referring to the Directory of Alumni Chapters in the Quarterly, it will be noticed that there is room for many more Alumni Chapters and it is the desire of the Supreme Board to increase the number greatly during this administration. Full particulars regarding the necessary requirements to obtain a Charter may be had from this office upon request.

Since the publication of the last Quarterly, a Charter has been granted by the Supreme Board to the Birmingham (Alabama) Alumni Chapter. Eighteen members compose the original group. Due to the fine work of Brother Paul G. Parsons, this organization was formed and the formal installation was conducted by District Justice, Alex. Hitz of Atlanta, Ga.

At the present time, Alumni Chapters are being organized in the following cities:

Atlanta, Ga.
Pittsburgh, Pa.
Columbus, Pa.
Indianapolis, Ind.
Omaha, Neb.

There are several other cities where organization work is in its infancy and before long we hope to see results. This Quarterly will reach you before Christmas and may I take this opportunity to wish all P. A. D.'s a Merry Christmas and Prosperous New Year?

Fraternally yours,
FRANK E. RUTLEDGE,
Supreme Vice-Justice.

Washington Banquet to Brother Culbertson

As many of the Brothers doubtless know that Brother William S. Culbertson, formerly Minister to Rumania, was withdrawn from that post and recently sent as Ambassador to Chile. In going to his new post he returned to the United States and at Washington renewed his connections with some of the Brothers whom he had not seen for many years, during his absence in Europe.

A luncheon was arranged in his honor by the Washington Alumni Chapter and took place at the New Willard Hotel Wednesday, June 27th. This luncheon also served as a get-together for the Washington Alumni before the summer vacation. In sending out a notice of this luncheon Brother Clyde B. Aitchison said: "I am very happy to call the attention of the Washington Alumni to the signal honor which has been conferred upon the Fraternity by the appointment of one of our Brothers, who is well and affectionately known by all of us as Ambassador to Chile, Mr. William S. Culbertson of Calhoun Chapter, formerly Minister to Rumania, has been so designated by the President. To give the Washington Alumni of P. A. D. an opportunity to meet Brother Culbertson, before he leaves for his new post, and to extend our congratulations to the new Ambassador, we will tender him a luncheon at the New Willard Wednesday next, June the 27th." A great many of the Washington Alumni took this opportunity as to those P. A. D.'s who have been any length of time in the District of Columbia a chance to see Brother Culbertson once again was not a thing to be missed:

A number of prominent P. A. D.'s at Washington, who regretted their inability to be present, were Brothers Houston, Thompson, A. O. Stanley, Caroway, Fletcher, Burtness, Spering, and Tagushorst. At this luncheon Brother Culbertson spoke, describing to the Brothers something of his experiences in Rumania and giving his impressions of the Royal Family and Balkan politics in general.

Alumni Association Formed in Twin-Cities

It will be of interest to the Fraternity to know that a beginning of an Alumni organization in Minneapolis and St. Paul was commenced last spring at the annual banquet of Mitchell Chapter. A number of the Alumni were called to a meeting by Deputy District Justice Charles F. Noonan, which was held in conjunction with the banquet. Thirty-five Alumni attended and after the banquet, at which reports from the delegates to the National Convention were received, steps were taken to organize the Alumni into a body. It was felt that at this time much material assistance could be rendered to the active Chapter, and for this purpose an Alumni Association was organized with the following officers:

President.....	Thomas B. Mouer
Vice-President.....	Allan V. Junkin
Secretary.....	Leonard O. Langer
Treasurer.....	G. N. Sonnesyn

This Association laid plans to meet on the University Campus in conjunction with the active Chapter and in general to promote the well-being of the Chapter on the Campus. Since that time communications have been had with Supreme Vice-Justice Frank E. Rutledge, looking to the establishment of an Alumni Chapter in the Twin-Cities. It is confidently expected that the present Alumni Association, having made this auspicious start, will proceed to secure for its present and future members the advantages and privileges which accrue from the issuance of a regular Alumni Chapter charter.

New York Alumni Chapter Holds First Meeting of the Year

On Friday, November 9th, the Brothers in P. A. D. in New York City having survived the terrors of a Metropolitan election, decided to celebrate that fact at a smoker organized by the newly incorporated Alumni Chapter of New York.

Inaugurating a plan of operation previously adopted the directors of the new corporation met for dinner at the Fraternities Club building, the new headquarters of the Chapter, at which all P. A. D.'s were invited, if they could dig up $1.50 to allay the suspicions of the waiter. Thereafter the meeting adjourned to the room upstairs reserved for the Chapter's use that evening, and a considerable number of the Brothers proceeded to come in. For a while the meeting progressed leisurely upon investigation of what was to be observed floating in the large glass bowl in the center of the room, and when the investigations had been carried to a satisfactory conclusion Brother James W. Farrell, the Justice, opened the meeting and turned it over to Brother Charles Halla, Chairman of the social committee. Brother Halla called for a few remarks, first from Brother Rutledge who told the meeting some of the activity being conducted in connection with Alumni Chapters, then upon Ex-Justice Jimmie Garrett, then upon the newly elected State Senator from Connecticut, Tom Conroy, then upon Brother Tony Saperito, one of the mainstays of the old Alumni Chapter, and various other Brothers who spoke briefly and suitably.

Brother Queener from Calhoun Chapter was also called upon as one of the active men present, and his remarks as to the reaction of an active man to the Alumni Chapters, were received with great interest. In response to a demand therefor Brother Louis Arnold recited "Dan McGrew." The rest of the evening was spent in a sociable and convivial manner.

Your reporter is not able to report very accurately on all parts of the room as for a considerable period of time he was endeavoring to determine whether it was an ace or a four which he had in the hole. However, we were able to observe that everybody was apparently having an excellent time which did not break up until far into the night.

It was a matter which gave great pleasure to the Chapter to have two active men from Calhoun Chapter present, namely Brother Queener and Brother Bull, and the hope was expressed that any and all active men who could come to any or all future meetings would be welcome to do so. Among those present were the following:

George Palmer, Tom Constable, Bill Farrell, Phil Barnard, Louis Arnold, Chas. Halla, F. Savarese, Frank Saperato, Edw. J. Moriaraty, R. Banker, Chas. Miller, Jos. Kenney, J. G. Evens, Tom J. Conroy, Frank E. Rutledge, M. E. Queener, J. M. Bull, William P. McCool, Burton H. White, James H. Ferris, John G. Birks, Frances D. Higson, Jas. W. Garrett, John Bull, Kenneth W. Moroney, John J. Kirwan, George C. Howard.

JUSTICES OF THE CHAPTERS IN SOUTHERN DISTRICT PLEASE NOTE

The Quarterly has received a request from District Justice Alexander Hitz to run a notice requesting the officers of the Chapters in his district to get in touch with him at once. This applies to the following Chapters:

Brewer, Clay, Fish, Fletcher, Jefferson, Keener, Lurton, Mac-Reynolds, Martin, Morgan, Ruffin, Staples.

It is the District Justice's desire to keep in close and immediate touch with the officers of the several Chapters in his district. Of course this is very essential and important for all concerned, and he particularly requests that these officers advise him without delay of their names and addresses.

Birmingham P. A. D.'s Organize Alumni Chapter

It is with great pleasure that the Quarterly has to record the recent formation and installation of the Alumni Chapter of Birmingham, Alabama.

Some years ago Brother Paul G. Parsons came to Birmingham from North Carolina and started to organize the P. A. D.'s there. His efforts of course took some time to reach fruition, but with the assistance of a number of other loyal P. A. D.'s an organization was effected in the spring of this year. A meeting was held at the Bankhead Hotel on July 18, 1928 at which the Birmingham Brothers held a banquet and thereafter approved a form of petition for a Chapter and a working organization. The officers elected at this meeting were:

Justice.....	Paul G. Parsons
Vice-Justice.....	John W. Gillon, Jr.
Clerk.....	Clyde D. McKee
Treasurer.....	Hal W. Howard
Marshal.....	Hiram Dodd

Among the Brothers forming the Chapter are:

Bartley H. Corbin, John Jay Chapter; Carl Wiegand, Ruffin Chapter; W. Emmett Perry, Morgan Chapter; Wm. H. Ellis, Morgan Chapter, Leigh M. Clark, Morgan Chapter; J. D. Ingram, Jr.,

Morgan Chapter; N. S. Morgan, Morgan Chapter; Amzi G. Barber, Morgan Chapter; Wynn Jones, Morgan Chapter, W. G. Black, Morgan Chapter; H. H. Grooms, Clay Chapter.

This preliminary organization meeting accomplished, application was made to the Supreme Board for a charter, which was issued in due course.

The formal installation of the Chapter was not held until November 17th at which time District Justice Alexander Hitz formally installed the Chapter and the officers as above indicated.

In no District do P. A. D.'s seem to be more flourishing than in the Southern District, which is so ably presided over by Alexander Hitz, and the formation of this new Alumni Chapter is only another instance of the activities of P. A. D.'s in the South. The Quarterly offers its most sincere congratulations to the newly formed Chapter, but does not wish it success and prosperity—that were an unnecessary gesture, as those two matters are already assured.

P. A. D. in Los Angeles Opens the Current Year

The Quarterly, always glad of a helping hand, lifts the following from the Los Angeles News of September 24, 1928:

"Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity, held their first banquet of the college year at the Jonathan Club last night with two hundred members in attendance, making it one of the largest fraternity affairs of the year. Excellent entertainment was furnished by Dave Barnum of Fatty Arbuckle's Plantation Cafe, and the Ukelele Twins, Jack and Johnnie Trigg, from the Orpheum Circuit.

At the speaker's table were Judges Frederick Houser, Victor R. McLucas, Charles C. Montgomery, Carlos S. Hardy, Sheriff William Traeger, Major John Doyle Carmody, Past Supreme Justice Rex G. Hardy, Supreme Secretary Frank M. Ludwick, Charles E. R. Fulcher, Justice of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter, Ray L. Haight, Editor of the Southern California Alumni Review, Arthur Freston, President of Law School Student Body at the University of Southern California, Harold Craft, Student Editor of the Law Review, Howard Egerton, Editor of the Law School Review and Ravelle Harrison, Justice of the Active Chapter.

The principal address of the evening was made by J. F. T. O'Connor, the man who made the memorable nominating speech for William Gibbs McAdoo, in 1924 at the National Convention in New York.

The October Banquet will be held at the Uplifters Club in Santa Monica, California, at which time an elaborate show will be put on, followed by an address by Associate Justice J. E. Richards of the California Supreme Court."

P. A. D. Household Hints

Being as we are a professional fraternity, and deeply absorbed in the practices and profession of the law, we are sometimes liable to forget that there is a domestic side to the lives of most P. A. D.'s. The fact, however, that P. A. D.'s, even as lesser mortals, do have these complications, we record with great interest the fact that one of our prominent Brothers is the husband of the champion rolling pin thrower of the United States. Mrs. Robert Freer, wife of the present Clerk of the Alumni Chapter at Washington while on a visit to Lake City, South Carolina, last summer entered a rolling pin throwing contest. How the new champion perfected her skill in this difficult art and achieved prowess which enabled her to break all previous records, we do not know. Brother Freer has stated that he has nothing to say for publication, and we are therefore left to such surmises as seem to be indicated. Be the facts as they may, Mrs. Freer propelled the rolling-pin for a distance of 56 feet 3 inches (official count). The Quarterly offers its congratulations to the new champion but is a little at a loss to know what kind of wishes it ought to offer to Brother Freer.

Miss Fink Marries

Everybody in P. A. D. knows George Fink, our honored and beloved Past Supreme Justice, and it, therefore, will be of interest to everyone to learn that Miss Nena Eleanor Fink recently became Mrs. Evan Conrad Rains. The marriage was celebrated on Sunday, August the 18th, and Mr. and Mrs. Rains reside at 4764 Virginia Avenue, Chicago.

SUPREME MARSHAL'S PAGE

For some time your Supreme Marshal has been endeavoring to emphasize the importance to the Active Chapters of the necessity for the proper exemplification of the Ritual at the initiation ceremonies as well as at all regular meetings.

The first impression made upon a pledge is a lasting one and too much work cannot be expended in preparation for his entrance within the portals of Phi Alpha Delta. If the brothers conducting the initiation are careless and slovenly in their preparation and presentation of the Ritual, the new member will fail to realize the importance of the step he is taking and will not grasp the beauty and deep-seated meanings intended to be conveyed by the authors of the Ritual and the spirit afterwards shown by him will no doubt reflect the attitude of those who have conducted him into the secrets of our fraternity.

Much time and labor was spent to prepare the Ritual in such a way as to properly convey to the neophyte the ideals and purposes of Phi Alpha Delta and the officers of the Active Chapters were entrusted with the duty and privilege of so exemplifying the Ritual that none of its fine purposes be lost.

Let me therefore urge you who are responsible for your Chapter's present, and in a large measure future, success to make elaborate and careful preparation for your next initiation. Appoint those who are to assume the various parts now and insist that each part be memorized perfectly. Hold frequent rehearsals and become familiar with the meanings and purposes of each line.

You will need some equipment. See that it is prepared and on hand before the time set for your ceremonies. The Marshal can now supply you with a standard branding iron, which seems to be the most difficult article to procure. Write to him and order one if your chapter does not have one.

I also urge that you advise me of the time and place of your next initiation ceremony. Perhaps one of the Supreme Officers may be able to make a visit to your chapter.

LAWRENCE R. LYTLE,

Supreme Marshal.

Putting Over That Meeting

The often profound and complicated problem indicated by those few words is one which is more likely to harass chairman of entertainment committees of Alumni Chapters than any one else. The active chapters have their regular meeting nights and the "problem of getting out the votes" is not often a serious one. In the Alumni Chapters, however, it is often a very real and difficult one, and since no P. A. D. knows when he may be made Chairman of an entertainment committee, or some similar body, the matter is one of interest to us all. Of course the usefulness and effectiveness of an Alumni Chapter is not only to be found in meetings, banquets, outings, or the like. It can function as a supremely useful body to its members in a great many ways which do not entail such meetings. At the same time, however, they are a very important and by no means to be neglected feature of Alumni Chapter activities. One of the most important functions of an Alumni Chapter is to get the P. A. D's. in a given locality together and not merely make them acquainted with each other, but to bring them on terms of real friendship and intimacy. To accomplish this end a formal meeting will not be effective, and this is a fact which P. A. D's at large thoroughly realize. The average practising lawyer, especially in large cities, has many demands upon his spare time. There are numberless organizations to some of which he must inevitably belong and it is a fact which those in charge of the destinies of Alumni Chapters must realize and face, that members will not come out to meetings merely because a meeting happens to be called. The pressure of other activities is too great, and to put it bluntly a P. A. D. meeting must be sold to the members just as any other meeting is sold by any other organization.

One phase of this problem has to do with the object with which the meeting is to concern itself when it is called. It is not the purpose of this article to deal with that phase of the matter. The entertainment committee will of course decide upon a number of meetings with a serious object, and a number of other meetings designed for relaxation and amusement. Of course the meeting will not be a success unless the agenda at them is adequately planned and put over. It is, however, equally true that they will not be a success unless the Brothers attend them and it is upon the gentle art of wheedling the P. A. D. into the meeting that this article will enlarge.

From time to time the writer has received a number of notices for various meetings in different parts of the country and the thought has occurred that it would be both instructive and of use to others if some of these were offered as possible guides for future use.

The summer just having passed of course the meetings then held were out-of-doors meetings for entertainment only. These meetings are often run in the face of considerable opposition of a variety of kinds. Brothers may be planning on vacations, they may have regular golf dates, or similar matters, and therefore the first step in advertising a meeting would be some form of an advanced notice which will reach all the membership and give it a first warning. This is often done by means of postal cards, but some chapters run a small magazine or news letter and this can be very effectively utilized. The Chicago Alumni Chapter for instances blocked out on the front page of the "Dictum" the following advance notice:

ANNOUNCEMENT

Meet me at the

ANNUAL JULY OUTING

Saturday and Sunday, July 21 and 22

Oak Hills Country Club, 131st St. and 76th Ave.

Don't Miss It

There is something noteworthy about this very short announcement, namely, the suggestion of informality and general get-together spirit which it displays. It gives a definite date and a definite place, both important matters even in the earliest advance notices. It is short enough to catch the eye and impress the mind.

The advance notices must of course be followed up and this can generally best be accomplished by sending a detailed notice through the mail to each of the Brothers. This notice is probably the one which will sell the proposition if it is going to be sold. Follow-up postal cards thereafter serve to remind the forgetful and possibly win over a few of the wavering, but the first broadside which reaches the member is the one which is most likely to sell him.

To pick another example, this time from the Alumni Chapter of Los Angeles, the following notice is set forth verbatim:

Fraternally,

J. LAMAR BUTLER,

Secretary, Alumni Chapter.

The only comment necessary on such a notice as this is that it immediately impresses the reader with the fact that a good time has been planned and that all he has to do is turn up and enjoy it. It is unquestionably true that you do not get a man out to a meeting with any degree of ease or confidence if he has a dubious frame of mind as to the sort of time he is going to have. A notice which lets him see that the details are well planned and taken care of and that a specific entertainment of an adequate kind has been provided, is the kind of notice that sells him. This particular notice in question does that particular thing. Other entertainment committees during the summer might have planned just the same events for a day's outing, but might not have received as good a response unless they were as temptingly set out as in the example which we are now considering.

Leaving for a moment summer outings it is next in order to consider the more serious type of meeting which takes place during the winter months and in halls and meeting rooms. Of course the same general comments apply to these also, but some of them need to be more particularly stressed. It may be stated as a general proposition that an organization undertaking to run a number of meetings during the winter will meet with the best success if a regular schedule of dates and events can be sent out in advance. This enables the members of chapters to make plans to be present on the dates indicated, and also begins to sell them the idea of being there through the interest of the programs offered. At the same time it is not always possible for an entertainment committee to know in advance what speaker or what other form of entertainment will be available on distant dates. The next example offered from the Washington Alumni Chapter indicates a way in which this difficulty can be effectively overcome. The Washington Alumni Chapter, during last year, held a number of highly successful meetings at which recognized experts of national standing spoke to the Chapter on important phases of the law. These meetings having met with success it was decided to continue them and early in the season the following letter was sent to each of the members:

"Dear Brother:

Here is something special! Because of the success of last season's educational meetings we are giving you advance notice of this season's program.

The executive committee acting with Brother Justice Aitchison has fixed the schedule for this fall and winter.

If you attended the meetings last spring we know you will mark the following Thursdays in red ink on your calendar: October 18th, November 8th, and December 6th, 1928, and January 17th and February 21st, 1929.

Will you make a resolution to be at the University Club, 15th and H Streets, N. W., on all the dates given above? Let's make it 100 per cent!

Special notice will be sent prior to each meeting giving the name of the speaker and his subject; but a mark on your calendar now may insure you against the disappointment of a previous engagement.

Faternally yours,

R. E. FREER, Clerk.

It is noteworthy that this letter stimulates the members interest by recalling to him the successful meetings of the previous year and then gives him definite dates on which similar meetings will be conducted during the coming winter. The mind of the member of the Chapter in Washington, after the receipt of this letter, is favorably influenced to receive the next notice which will advise him of the definite subject to be discussed at the first meeting. This next notice, in the particular instance under consideration, was as follows:

Dear Brother:

Supplementing the general notice sent you on September 15, your alumni chapter now reminds you of the first meeting for this fall to be held at 8 o'clock P. M. on Thursday, October 18, 1928 at the University Club, 15th and H. Streets, N. W.

Continuing last year's policy of having interesting and instructive programs, your executive committee has secured Judge Frank K. Nebecker, former Assistant U. S. Attorney General, as the speaker for next Thursday.

Judge Nebecker will discuss the prosecution, under the Espionage Act, of 150 I. W. W.'s which he conducted at Chicago.

The members of both active chapters are invited to be with us in our first get-together of this fall.

A nominal charge of 50 cents will be collected to cover the cost of refreshments to be served after Judge Nebecker's address.

Fraternally yours,

It is to be noted that in this letter the speaker and his subject are both announced. This announcement is in a general way, but gives a degree of particularity which would enable any member so inclined to look the matter up in advance if he desired to get the fullest possible benefit from the discussion at the meeting. This is a small matter, which, however, often produces considerable results. It encourages the members to become acquainted and therefore presumably interested in the subject matter of the discussion before they go to the meeting, and of course it is axiomatic that a meeting which is interested in the subject in advance will be more successful than the meeting which has to be interested in the subject at the meeting itself.

The above given examples might be multiplied considerably were space available. The ones chosen were picked for one reason—because they represented chapters widely separated in distance and illustrated ways of handling the same problem by chapters remote from each other. In conclusion it may be said that the business of putting over a meeting, as has here been considered, is only a case of applied psychology. The examples above given are not susceptible of universal application, nor indeed would any examples be. Their real value lies in disclosing the approach made to the problem and they and this article are offered as a suggestion which the individual chapter can use mutatis mutandis for its own needs.

BENTON, (THOMAS HART) CHAPTER

Kansas City School of Law, Kansas City, Missouri.

The Kansas City School of Law opened Monday night, September 24, 1928. The opening of which found the men of Benton Chapter on duty looking over the ranks of the Freshman class for new material and the upper classmen for any available men that had been overlooked in the last year.

A number of the older brothers are back in school this year, filling in a few missing subjects, neglected when they passed the bar before completing the course. Some are returning to school after a few years absence, out of town for various reasons. Among them are: Herbert Knapp, Roy C. Moore, and Horace C. Rubert.

This year finds our chapter in "virtually" a new home, at the same address, 3516 Summit Street; but the old house has been completely gone over from basement to attic, and new paper, curtains, drapes, rugs, lighting fixtures, and the generous use of a paint brush have worked wonders to the house. Benton chapter takes a great deal of pride in its chapter house and is fortunate in having one so ideally situated and equipped for a Fraternity home. Now, with the "clean-up" program over, is it at all surprising to see the boys going around with their chests out and somewhat boasting?

Our chapter starts this year with the largest class of pledges it has had for several years. Thirty-four men were pledged and it is such a good looking and promising bunch that we are very proud of their prospects.

Initiation for four men was staged immediately after school started. These men were pledged last spring too late to participate in the spring initiation. Our new brothers are: Cyrus Long, Joe Carder, Frank Benanti, and Dan Stanley.

In closing we extend our good wishes and best of hopes for a prosperous year to the National Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta.

WALLACE F. HAAS, Clerk.

BLACKSTONE CHAPTER

Chicago-Kent College of Law, Chicago, Ill.

BBLACKSTONE CHAPTER looks forward to a bright and promising year. There is a fine spirit of co-operation and fraternalism being shown. We are starting the school year with fifteen active members, having lost nine by graduation, all of whom took the Bar exams this summer and 100% successfully passed the barrier.

The Chapter has been decidedly active during the first few weeks of school. A number of likely prospects have been pledged and the chapter is very enthusiastic as to the performance of a crowded calendar. We have held two successful Smokers in our new quarters—Room 300, Morton Bldg., northwest corner of Wells and Washington Sts., which is a two-minute walk from Kent at 10 N. Franklin St.

We have been fortunate in having several alumni at each of our regular meetings (1st and 3rd Thursdays of each month).

After the meeting on October 4th, Ex-Supreme Justice Tom Octigan presented, as a prize for last year's scholarship record, a beautiful two-volume set of Bouvier's Law Dictionary. Brother Justice Charles Edwards earned this prize, having set a good example for the chapter by being practically a straight "A" man since he matriculated.

Blackstone Chapter wishes to announce that they are having "Alumni Night" on Thursday, October 18, and extend an invitation to all P. A. D. Alumni. This will be our regular meeting night and all the actives and pledges will be present and we hope for a large turn-out of alumni at this house-warming for our new quarters, Room 300, Morton Building, northwest corner of Wells and Washington Streets.

CAMPBELL CHAPTER

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.

CAMPBELL CHAPTER got under way this fall with its ranks somewhat depleted by the graduation of twelve men last June. An informal roll-call shows these men to be well distributed: Franklin U. Stransky practicing with his father in Savanna, Illinois; Howard D. House, in Detroit; John Cook coaching a high-school (St. Mary's) football team in Detroit, prior to a trip to Europe which is planned for the near future; George W. Govert in the oil business in Detroit; Russel A. Ramsey is in Sandusky, Ohio; C. Keith Uren attending the Ecole des Hautes Etudes Internationales at the University of Paris, following his selection last spring for the Carnegie Fellowship in International Law by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace; Martin G. Goodwin holding the City Attorney's position in Lenoir City, Tennessee, besides his general practice.

E. Clark Davis, who was married at Commencement time to Miss Eugenia Perrin Long of Bryon, Ohio, is practicing in the prosecuting attorney's office in Chicago; Richard A. Hicks is with Honorary-Member Silas H. Strawn's firm in Chicago; Leo W. Hoffman is practicing with his father in Allegan; Adelbert M. Kipp has established his own firm in South Haven; and Roger W. Rogers is with Campbell, Buckley and Ledyard in Detroit.

During the past summer, two of the active brothers were married: William D. Cochran to Miss Lovey Mary Colvin, of Louisville, Kentucky; and Joseph H. Peters to Miss Elizabeth Walker of Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Waldo K. Greiner is the lone representative of the chapter on the Michigan Law Review. Barristers, in their spring and fall initiation, have included William C. Frue, William D. Cochran, Garland D. Tait, J. Kyle Worley, and Oscar W. Moyle.

Oscar W. Moyle is wielding the gavel as Justice of the chapter for the year; John W. Garvey, Vice-justice; Thomas C. Winter, Clerk; William E. Hamaker, Treasurer; Calvin N. Souther, Steward; James F. Miller, Jr., Marshall; and William C. Frue, Librarian.

After a vigorous opening of the rushing campaign for the year, Chairman Butler announces the pledging of: Russell D. Sauer, of Detroit (pledged before the close of school last spring); Bates Huffaker of Fairfax, Oklahoma; William Dunkin Kimble of Independence, Kansas; Robert E. Finch of Owosso; Boyd Benson of Flandreau, South Dakota; Charles Scanlon of Akron, Ohio; and of Richard Toma of Battle Creek.

Among alumni announcements we include: Joseph C. Hooper has been admitted to the firm of Stivers, Laird & Hooper, Ann Arbor; an announcement of the marriage of Victor Henry DeBacke, ('24), to Miss Julianne Bishop Taft of Detroit. Thomas E.

Atkinson, '17, of the Law school, University of Kansas, taught in Michigan's summer session.

Campbell chapter is very grateful to Honorary-member Silas H. Strawn of Chicago, who was initiated last spring, for his offer of $200 for additions to the chapter's library; a committee, which includes Prof. Herbert F. Goodrich of the law school, is now selecting the volumes for that purpose.

Alumni are urged to make certain that Campbell chapter is informed of marriages, births, promotions, and other milestones of its members.

CAMPBELL CHAPTER SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Campbell chapter was highly gratified to hear, shortly after the close of school last spring, of the promotion of Harry R. Hewitt, '17, to the office of Attorney General of the territory of Hawaii; Hewitt has been serving as First Deputy Attorney General under Attorney-General William B. Lymer, who has been appointed to the bench of the United States district court, of Hawaii.

We quote from The Honolulu Advertiser, June 21, 1928:

"Hewitt, who has been a deputy attorney general for more than six years, was born in Hartford, Michigan, in 1893. He entered the University of Michigan in 1910, leaving that institution in 1913 to travel abroad for a year.

"In 1915 he received the degree of bachelor of arts from Michigan and the degree of doctor of juris-prudence from the law school in 1917, the latter being an honorary scholastic degree.

"While at Michigan he was elected by the law faculty to the Woolsack, a scholastic society, and was made associate editor of the Michigan Law Review in 1916. He was also a member of Theta Chi and Phi Alpha Delta fraternities.

"Later Hewitt enlisted in the United States army and was sent overseas as supply officer for the 88th Division. He received his commission as first lieutenant while in France.

"After the armistice, Hewitt spent six months at the Sorbonne university in Paris, and traveled in the south of France.

"He arrived here January 1, 1920 and joined the law firm of Peters & Smith, with which he was associated for two years. He served with the city and county attorney's office for one year and first joined the attorney general's department six years ago.

"In 1925, Hewitt returned to the mainland and was married to Miss Esther Carol Tully, daughter of John Sherman Tully of Modesto, California. He is a member of the Oahu country club."

In its editorial columns, the Advertiser states, under the caption, "Worth Promotions in Office", "... Attorney Hewitt, his first deputy, will carry on with the same efficiency. He is thoroughly familiar with the routine, and he is well equipped in training and temperament for the post."

CHAMP CLARK CHAPTER

Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

WITH the opening of school Champ

Clark Chapter found that fourteen actives has returned for another year's work. For four or five it will be the last year. We regret the absence of those who last spring finished their law school course. Likewise we miss those undergraduates who for various reasons will not be with us this year. Nevertheless Champ Clark Chapter is fortunate in having so large a nucleus of willing, capable, earnest men to start the new year.

Rushing has commenced and the parties have been attended by a large number from the first year class. At these parties we have been given inestimable aid and assistance by the St. Louis alumni of Phi Alpha Delta. Their speeches have been a source of encouragement and an incentive for more earnest study. They have given us the practical side of law to go along with the class room knowledge. The most outstanding alumni friend being John Nangle, Chief Justice of Phi Alpha Delta. Clark Chapter is fortunate in having so worthy an advisor and counselor in our midst. Under his watchful eye we expect to have our banner year and we look forward to a closer co-operation with the fraternity itself than ever before.

This being the first chapter letter of the year Champ Clark Chapter extends to all other chapters best wishes for a successful year.

CHASE CHAPTER

University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, Ohio.

CHASE Chapter, of Phi Alpha Delta, at the University of Cincinnati, has enjoyed a most successful year of fraternal organization and activity. Due to the untiring efforts of several of our ambitious brothers, we were very successful in our rushing and just about got the pick of the freshman class. Phi Alpha Delta is very popular here at Cincinnati, and especially so with the freshman class.

Two of our brothers have won recognition for their extra curricular work. Brother Gordon Rich and Brother Charles Adams were recently elected to the University Student Council from Law School. Brother Ralph Rich (no relation to Gordon) has been active in politics. He lives in Covington, Ky., and is a member of the State Republican Committee.

We Phi Alpha Deltas, here at Cincinnati, are very proud of the fact that Brother W. C. Kelly was elected President of the senior class—and that Marcus Shoup was recently elected President of the junior class.

The members of Chase Chapter all had a good time, which they will not soon forget, last October 13th at Judge Walter Ryan's camp on the Miami River near S. Lebanon, Ohio. Both the judge and his son, Walter Ryan, Jr., are prominent Phi Alpha Deltas. Walter Ryan, Jr., is a member of the active chapter and proved to the boys that he knew his Bermudas as a host. Of course, the most important reason for the picnic was the fact that we had some very promising rushing prospects to entertain. Chase Chapter is proud to report that so far they have pledged twelve of the best men in the Freshman Law Class.

Also, during rushing season, a big buffet luncheon was held at the Chapter apartment, after which several men were pledged on the spot.

We are very proud, here, of our fine big apartment which we only secured a short time ago. It is situated within a half a block of the law school and has twelve big rooms including kitchen, 5 bedrooms, 3 baths, a big banquet dining hall and a large living room. At present eight out-of-town men are living in the apartment. For the information of any who may care to write, it is situated at 226 W. McMillan Street. We installed a very comfortable outfit of furniture throughout the entire apartment. A seven-tube radio and orthophonic victrola were recently added.

Big plans are going forth for the annual pledge dance to be held some time within the next few weeks. Everybody is looking forward to a good time and the members of Chase Chapter are extremely optimistic in their outlook for the coming year. We now have a large and enthusiastic group of brothers on hand at every meeting and we feel that we have by far the most active alumni chapter of any law fraternity in Cincinnati. We are on the most solid financial basis that we have enjoyed for several years. We have been successful in our rushing and the pledges this year are of an unusually high caliber and include men prominent in practically every line of school endeavor.

We are well established in our new quarters and the whole chapter is looking forward to social activities which have been planned, and to a well-ordered increase in the personnel. Chase Chapter extends a cordial invitation to the alumni members and to active members of any other chapters who may find themselves in Cincinnati, to come and visit us at our new apartment.

CORLISS CHAPTER

University of North Dakota, Grand Fork, N. Dak.

BACK again to the old grind, and last but not least, to the good fellowship of P. A. D.! Naturally the new officers installed at the spring elections last year wanted to show their stuff and start off with a bang, so Justice Thorsen called a meeting of the Regulars, and we organized a rushing committee. It was high time at that, for the Phi Delta Phi's were already in the field looking for prospects. But the going wasn't so bad after all. We are a small school, but despite the competition we have seven likely looking candidates, not to mention Professor Viesselman,—but I intended to tell you about him later! Two banquets helped to break the ice, and we feel that our new prospects have come to understand in some degree what it means to be a P. A. D.

Conditions are far from stagnant here in the first few months of school. Naturally when you get a small bunch of law students interested in school politics, and there is a real live bunch of Independents in the field, something is bound to happen. Our annual class elections are upon us!

Three strong parties are in the field, and each threatens to put up its own candidate for King and Queen of the law-school. Of course P. A. D. intends to have something to say on that subject, and with that end in view our political engineers are busily at work. I am sorry that the election comes too late to give the results here, but here's wishing P. A. D.'s candidates good luck.

And now we're getting around to Professor Viesselman! But I'm getting the cart before the horse again. To begin with, we've lost two good men from our teaching staff. Professor Harper has deserted us for the University of Oregon, and Professor Haugan has returned to active practice. Both are men of pleasing personality, and rare ability as teachers of law, and naturally we felt some pangs of regret at losing them. But we were surprised and pleased to find in our new instructors, Professors McCleary and Viesselman, the same friendliness and kindly guidance that characterized their predecessors. Incidentally, we compliment our Brothers of Phi Delta Phi with having gained a Brother in Professor McCleary. But now it is Professor Viesselman's turn. The Brothers of P. A. D. met in solemn conclave and unanimously and enthusiastically indorsed him for active membership in our chapter—and—he accepted! Naturally you can't understand what this means to Corliss Chapter unless you could meet Professor Viesselman. But when you find a man with nerve enough to spring six-weeks tests in a school that hasn't had them in years, he must be a good one; particularly when every man in the Senior class takes it and likes it. And that describes Professor Viesselman, you like what he does because you like him.

This letter threatens to run endlessly on, so I'm going to bring it to a snappy close by introducing a few of our active P. A. D.'s. Friends of Brother Cooley, now Acting-Dean of our school, will be glad to hear that the arduous task of editing "Cooley's Briefs on Insurance" is now completed. Brother Cooley has earned a much needed rest. The eight volumes of the new edition are now in our library, and make quite an armful for Brother Johnson to tote back to the shelves. I might mention that Brothers Johnson and Haugan are our assistant librarians. Both brothers have taken an active part in debating, (after hours in the library), and both help to bolster up P. A. D.'s standard of scholarship. Brother Blume is a prominent figure in inter-fraternity athletics and earned laurels for himself last year in the field of debating. Brother Thorsen has long been connected with the Dakota Playmakers, and Brothers Tisdale, Haugan, Johnson, Berganthol, and Thorsen are frequent contributors to our new Dakota Law Review. Brother Braseth has gained fame for himself in baseball and is also contributing to the Law Review. Incidentally, the brothers who will guide our fraternity through the coming year are as follows:

Olaf Thorsen, Justice
Lloyd Blume, Vice-Justice
Richardson, Clerk.
Ross Tisdale, Treasurer.
Heisler Braseth, Marshall.

The Brothers of Corliss Chapter join in extending best wishes for another prosperous year for Phi Alpha Delta.

Fraternally yours,
ROSS C. TISDALE.

DUNBAR CHAPTER

University of Washington, Seattle, Wash.

DUNBAR Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta has an encouraging outlook for the coming year, under the guidance of Bro. Harold Holden, '29, as Chief Justice. At the last Chapter meeting, plans were made for a hot dance in the near future, in order to encourage the social as well as the legal understanding of the fraternity.

Rushing season starts before long, and the incoming class seem to be a lively group of embryo lawyers. With the help of Bro. Leslie J. Ayer, a faculty member who has taken a keen interest in the progress of Phi Alpha Delta, we believe that we will be able to get some excellent pledges from the new class.

Phi Alpha Delta was well represented on the University of Washington campus this last year. Bro. Elmer Goering, '29, is a member of the Washington Law Review from last year, and Bro. Sherman Huffine, '30, was recently appointed on the Review. Bro. Marion Zioncheck, '29, was past president of the student body, and Bro. Joel Ohmsted, '29, is at present an assistant crew coach for Washington's winning crews. He also won the honor plaque last year given to the man who was the most inspiration to the crew.

Supr. Sec. F. H. Ludwick recently visited Dunbar Chapter, and gave an interesting resumé of the present conditions of Phi Alpha Delta. His visit was greatly appreciated by the Chapter.

Pledge Bro. Maynard Smith is president of the Band, member of the Presidents' Club, and treasurer of Pan-Hellenic.

Fish Chapter is changing their procedure this year by alternating weekly "moot" cases with talks from outstanding jurists in the town.

We are looking forward to a great year and are striving to be as much an honor to Phi Alpha Delta as the name "Phi Alpha Delta" is to us.

GREEN CHAPTER

University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kans.

GREEN Chapter started out the year of 1928-1929 with a smoker for all freshman law students, and after all the cigars had been smoked, the cider barrel emptied, and the doughnuts put away, the pledge buttons were brought forth, with the result that we now have twenty-six pledges. This group, added to our twenty-one actives, makes us a fair sized chapter.

Green Chapter came out quite well during the past year; scholastically, we outpointed our main competitors, the Phi Delta Phi organization, and at the same time ranked high among all the professional fraternities. In intramural athletics, we had a ranking above many of the social fraternities on our campus, of which we are very proud, since we did not enter teams in all the sports possible.

Many of our alumni have been in to see us this fall, and we hope that many more of them will visit us before the year is over. We have had three dinners, all of which have been attended by at least three of the alumni, and one was attended by seven brothers of the past years. We are planning a party for November 10, and we expect to make it a big success.

Our intramural teams have again started off with a big lead, and we expect to do even better this year than before. On the afternoon of November 2, we are to play the Phi Beta Pi medical fraternity in the good old game of football, for a twenty pound turkey, and we expect to eat turkey on November third.

Prospects in Green Chapter look better than ever before and we are putting forth all efforts to make the home we bought last fall one of the best on the campus. We wish continuing success and good luck to all of the other chapters, and herewith send them greetings from our organization.

JOHAN HAY Chapter opened its 1928-29 season with new headquarters at 2122 Cornell Road. Comfortably located in an eight-room apartment we are looking forward to greater activity of our chapter at Western Reserve University than previous years have afforded.

Politics have found their way into the activities of the various members for Brother Benesh has already started a Hoover for President Club in the University and Brother Bixler is busy organizing a Deavey for Governor Club.

One of our best friends in the alumni of the chapter, Brother George Myers is a candidate for Lieut. Governor of Ohio on the democratic ticket. (Ohio Brothers, please take notice).

Within the last two years, visiting brothers have not been frequent at Hay Chapter, so we are urging members from other chapters who may be visiting in or passing through Cleveland to make themselves acquainted and at home with John Hay Chapter.

JEFFERSON CHAPTER

University of Virginia, University, Va.

JEFFERSON Chapter is making a strong bid toward dominating Law School.

The opening of the present session of the Law School of the University of Virginia finds the local chapter of Phi Alpha Delta in a very substantial position, a harmonious group of active men prominent in the affairs of the law school. Brother R. B. Tyler is president of the law department student body, and on the editorial board of the "Virginia Law Review", the official student publication of the law school, are Brothers R. B. Tyler as Notes Editor, L. A. Buck, H. A. Teass, W. L. Corron, and H. W. Miller, with the prospect of several more being added when the present competition is finished.

During the last two weeks, two highly entertaining and very successful rushing smokers were given, with a large number of desirable new men as guests. The bids have not yet been issued, but it is certain that in the near future the chapter roll will be materially increased by the addition of many worthy names.

Tentative plans for the coming year have been formulated, and the main event is to sponsor the visit of some very distinguished man to the university for the purpose of addressing the student body, and to be the guest of honor at a private fraternity banquet. New activities have been suggested along social lines, and if these are carried out according to schedule, the year will be one worth remembering.

The chapter officers for the fall term of 1928 are:

Justice—R. B. Tyler, Palmyra, Va.
Vice-Justice—D. T. Patterson, Kansas City, Mo.

Clerk—H. W. Miller, Orlando, Fla.

Warden—C. F. Hagan, Bristol, Va.
H. W. MILLER, Clerk.

JOHN JAY CHAPTER

George Washington University,
Washington, D. C.

HERE we are starting off another year. Some of our men have graduated and are now in the practice of law, among them are C. J. Nelson, our past Justice and Henry Kinge, our past Clerk.

As a word of greeting, let this Chapter assure each brother in this Fraternity that we have two active chapters and one alumni chapter in Washington, and that it is impossible to pass through this city without getting the P. A. D. spirit.

We started the season off with a dinner at the Everett Hotel on Tuesday, October 2. Our principal speaker was Brother Hector Galloway Spaulding, a member of the faculty at George Washington. We had pledges Mays, Morrow and Williams with us, as well as a good number of new men.

The dinner was followed by a smoker at the University Club on October 10. We were fortunate in having with us the following speakers, in order: Brother Justice Mark Wilmer of the Taft Chapter, Professor William Thomas Fryer of George Washington, Brother Ben Saunders, a past Justice of this Chapter, Brother Kenneth Parkinson, the Eastern District Justice and Brother George F. Wells, former dean of the North Dakota Law School, now with the Board of Tax Appeals. After the speeches we were entertained by artists from the Fox Studios. This Chapter certainly appreciates the spirit of cooperation manifested by the alumni and the Taft Chapter. We were also gratified to have sixty-two new men with us.

We are very sorry to say that our Brother Clerk Gwynn Saunders received a broken leg Saturday in the Lafayette football game. He will probably be out of school for some time. His place on the team will be hard to fill as he was a real treat at quarterback, notwithstanding he weighs only 125 pounds.

On Saturday night, October 13, a number of our boys went out to the Taft Chapter House to a closed dance and it is reported from reliable sources that a good time was had by all.

Among the marriage announcements is Brother Junius Romney to Miss Ruth Stewart of Salt Lake City.

The Phi Alpha Delta prize for the student at George Washington who attains the highest grade in the first and second years was won by Charles V. Laughlin of Iowa.

We close by extending our good wishes to every P. A. D.

KNOX CHAPTER

University of Arizona, Tucson, Ariz.

YIP-yip-yippee-yi—with a clatter of hoofs, the Arizona cowboys from Knox Chapter are on the fall round-up—and what a round-up! They turned up and branded with P. A. D. colors one of the finest bunch of yearling and maverick lawyers that have ever been seen on this Campus: Ron Snavelly, Ed Peck, Louie Pitzell, Wiley Peterson, Delphin Rasco, Virgil Chandler, Herbert Brooks, J. B. Sumpter, Frank Jenny, Henry Stevens, Theos Bernard, Lee Garret, and Stanley Kimble.

The waddies decided that work was too heavy for the number of hands on the pay-roll and informed the foreman, Phil Munch, that it was time to get a few more. So the pledges carried over from last semester—Jack Johnson, Jimmie Day, Fred Fulton, and George Hill,—were initiated Sunday, October 14th, in the Home Corral—the Law Building of the University of Arizona. In their honor a big barbecue was held two days later at the Old Pueblo Club and (to quote the write-up in the local "Quirk Crack") "a good time was had by all."

In the semi-annual stockmen's convention, for publication, known as the election of Student Officers in the College of Law, this gang gave a good account of itself. When the smoke from the six guns had cleared away, we found that P. A. D. had two men in office—Selim Franklin, Vice-President; and Wiley Peterson, Secretary.

By the time the local waddies are next heard from, we hope to have a house of our own, wherein we can hold our meetings, smokers, barbecues, and bull-fests—not to mention the other serious and delirious occupations of waddie-lawyers. When we do, we'll have an extra bed and a hearty welcome waiting for any "foreign" brother who wants to drop in.

The retired vacqueros who have taken up practice in the dude ranching establishment up in Phoenix, Arizona, have an alumni group that gets together periodically to whirl their ropes and toss the bull. Down here in Tucson the old buckaroos do the same thing. We have to speak of these dude-wranglers in the same letter in which we tell about ourselves, but we do it just the same, because, from present indications, it looks like a toss-up as to which is going to be the first gang to get a regularly organized dude-ranching establishment, or, if you prefer it, alumni club. And, what I mean, the boys on this home-ranch will surely be glad to see both of them formed.

The bosses of this outfit of first-class cow-hands are: Phil Munch, Justice; J. J. Tunncliffe, Vice-Justice; Horace L. Gillum, Clerk; Rawleigh Stanford, Treasurer; Drew Outlaw, Marshall; and Art Devine, Historian.

Wheepee! Waddies, watch our dust!!

McKINLEY CHAPTER

Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

THIS chapter was unfortunate in having just eleven men return when the school year opened. McKinley chapter had six seniors last year and we are glad to announce that every one passed the bar in Ohio. We consider this a good record in view of the fact that 36.4% of the applicants failed that examination.

The faculty at Ohio State has been increased from seven to ten members. We also have a new dean who was formerly at the University of Kansas. Dean Arant was present at our first smoker and we feel he gave Phi Aipha Delta quite a boost at Ohio State.

Our rushing season was started early and at present we have five pledges and are not through by a long way. We feel that Phi Alpha Delta is going to have one of its best years and that we can have a much stronger chapter at McKinley.

I might also add that an Alumni chapter is well under way here in Columbus. The Alumni have a luncheon meeting every Friday and we feel this will be a great asset to the active chapter. There are approximately thirty alumni in Columbus.

McREYNOLDS CHAPTER

University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tenn.

WE have one of the strongest organizations for 1928-1929 in the history of the school. Our senior law class was very small last year, so all of the old members have returned, save one—the Justice of last year.

Up to this point, there has of course been little discussed at our meetings except the pledging of new men. We have thus far pledged but four freshmen. We have been moving rather slowly in this matter, we always desire to learn the character of a man before we pledge him. Within a month tho, we should have about 10 new pledges, which means new life for Phi Alpha Delta. We plan to have a social affair for them sometime in the near future.

The system of programs for the year 1928-29 will be discussed in an early meeting. We have always had good programs at our weekly meetings in the past, and we expect them to be even better this year.

It certainly looks like a banner year for the McReynolds Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta. Our chapter extends greetings to our brothers scattered over the width and breath of the land.

E. H. MARSH, Secretary.

MITCHELL CHAPTER

University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.

ON May 10th, 1928, the annual banquet of Mitchell Chapter was held in connection with a meeting of the alumni called by the Deputy District Justice, Charles F. Noonan. The banquet was a success. The entire active Chapter was in attendance and approximately thirty-five alumni attended. We received the reports of the delegates from the active Chapter to the National Convention and after short talks by Hon. John E. Palmer, the only honorary member of Mitchell Chapter, and a number of the alumni from outside Chapters, steps were taken to organize the Twin City alumni into a body, which it was felt could be of very material assistance to the active Chapter in building the Chapter to such a point that its members in years to come might enjoy the benefits and privileges so greatly appreciated by those who are now alumni. The Twin City Alumni Association of Phi Alpha Delta was organized and the following officers were elected:

President: Thomas B. Mouer
Vice-President: Allan V. Junkin
Secretary: Leonard O. Langer
Treasurer: G. N. Sonnesyn.

It is the object of the Association to cooperate in every way with the members of the active Chapter in the promotion of the general well-being of the Chapter on the campus. It is planned to have meetings on the University campus every two weeks in connection with the active Chapter and at least twice a year to hold a banquet in either Minneapolis or St. Paul.

I have every reason to believe this organization will function as it was intended to function and that great good will come of it.

One of the objects of the Alumni Association this coming year will be to secure permanent club rooms for the Chapter on the campus, which will add considerable to the prestige of the organization and to its general attractiveness.

MORGAN CHAPTER

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Ala.

MORGAN Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta at the University of Alabama is beginning the seventh year of its existence with prospects for a most active and successful year.

The outlook for the future is, however, dimmed by a memory of the recent past, for last summer an automobile accident resulted in the death of one of our member, Brother George A. Nichols. Brother Nichols will be long remembered by all those who knew him as a cheery and genial person, a person addicted to the making of lasting friendships, friendships worth possessing. Those in the Law School knew him as a worthy and popular student, and we in Phi Alpha Delta knew, not only these things, but knew him also as an indefatigable worker for the welfare of the fraternity, because of his always vital interest in it.

Last spring witnessed the graduation of Brothers Howard, Gross, Oliver, Gullatt, Johnson, Riddle, and Rickarby. Howard is now located at Birmingham, Gross in Tuscaloosa, Oliver is in Birmingham, Gullatt at Phoenix City, Johnson at Clayton, Riddle at Talladega, and Rickarby at Mobile. The active chapter wishes them all manner of success.

At the present writing we have pledged the following first year men of the Law School: Inge Hill of Montgomery, Robert Mundine of Jasper, Nelson Fuller of Centerville. Others are to be announced later.

Brother John Kelly was elected vice-president of the Junior class. Brother Grant's industry has been recognized and rewarded with an appointment to the editorial board of the Alabama Law Journal.

The officers for the first semester of the present scholastic year are: Percy Fountain, Justice; W. D. DeBardlaben, Vice-Justice; Frank Mizell, Clerk; Leslie Grant, Treasurer; Dick Brown, Marshall.

During the past summer a Phi Alpha Delta alumni club was organized in Birmingham. Morgan Chapter hopes that this evidence of fraternity loyalty on the part of these former actives, will meet with the successful results which such efforts well deserve.

REESE CHAPTER

University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebr.

REESE Chapter was somewhat handicapped this year because of the fact that several of our active members failed, for various reasons, to return to the University. But this handicap was overcome to a large extent when, on October 13, we initiated eight new actives into Reese Chapter and Phi Alpha Delta. These men made enviable records in their first year of law work, and, we believe, will always be a credit to P. A. D. We are pleased to initiate into Reese Chapter, and introduce to Phi Alpha Delta, the following men: Orville Cameron, Lincoln; B. R. Davis, Wayne, Nebraska; Joseph J. Gallagher, Kearney, Nebraska; Joseph P. O'Gara, Lincoln, Nebraska; Dean Pomeroy, Allen, Nebraska; Straight Townsend, Cook, Nebraska; Rupert A. Warren, Lincoln; and Fred A. Wiren, Lincoln.

Phi Alpha Delta again, this semester, received more than its share of scholarships, which are awarded annually to the high ten per cent. of each class. The members who received this award were Brothers Virtue, Misko, O'Gara, Wiltse and Ladbury, who compose about twenty-five per cent. of the returning law students.

Reese Chapter has been exceptionally fortunate this year in obtaining the very best pledge material available. We have the outstanding first year laws, and a few extra-desirable pre-laws, thereby giving the organization a pledge chapter surpassed by none on the campus.

Brother Rupert Warren received an outstanding honor this year in the form of a scholarship to Harvard University for excellence in his freshman Law work. Brother Warren far outdistanced all other members of his class, having obtained an average of about 95 during the year. Although we regret Brother Warren's leaving, we realize that this award is an honor to him, and to Phi Alpha Delta.

On October 18, we gave a smoker for the new Law students, which was very well attended. The members of the faculty were present, and gave talks commending the work which the legal fraternities are accomplishing in the Law school, and gave some very practical suggestions for future use. This freshman Law smoker is an annual institution of Phi Alpha Delta at Nebraska, and the upper classmen feel that they derive about as much benefit from it as do the freshmen.

We are now well under way towards a successful year in all respects, and we promise some more interesting news in our letters in the future.

ROSS CHAPTER

University of S. California, Los

ROSS Chapter opened the year with as bright an outlook for a successful year as it has ever been its experience to know. Before the first week was over the Chapter in cooperation with the Alumni Chapter gave a special dinner to the 'Rushees'. The dinner was given at the Jonathan Club and all the old boys certainly did turn out. It was a sight worth seeing and I wish you all good P. A. D.'s. I could have joined us. I understand the dinner is to be covered in another part of the Quarterly so I shall not infringe upon my Brother's territory.

As to the Chapter, we have up to date pledged ten men whom we know will be worthy Brothers in Phi Alpha Delta.

Within the law school we have had much success. Our Student body President is, Brother Arthur E. Fraston. The law school editor of El Rodeo is Brother James Howard Edgerton. The Student Editor-in-Chief of the Southern California Law Review is Brother Harold Douglass Kraft. The Associate Student Editor-in-Chief of the Review is Brother Arthur E. Freston. Recently appointed to the Staff of Student editors have been Brothers Edwin W. Taylor and W. V. R. Smith. The Mrs. Malinda S. Daly Scholarship was captured by Brother Edwin W. Taylor. Now, if that doesn't look like the start of a successful year I don't know what does.

Ross Chapter has just acquired a beautiful Majestic Radio and the boys are having lots of fun listening to the Hoover-Smith campaign and the World Series.

We have also started a plan to have lunch at the house one day a week. It is really a "Get-Together" lunch where we talk of the future of P. A. D. and we have found out that many a good idea can be born at such a table.

At the recent State Bar Examination after the smoke of battle had cleared away we discovered that Brothers Rufus Elmore Bailey, Nicholas Bleecker, Ranney Clark Draper, Victor C. Schmidt, Douglas C. Smith, Otho S. Vernon, Paul H. Wayte, had met the enemy and he was theirs. Let's give them all a 'Great Big Hand'.

P. A. Ds.—Everywhere let's get off the "DIME" and make this the biggest year P. A. D. has ever had.

STORY CHAPTER

De Paul University, Chicago, Ill.

SEPTEMBER 17th De Paul University opened and the law classes resumed their tussles with the dusty tomes of legal lore. September 18th Story Chapter held the first meeting of the year and found that there would be twenty-five active men to start out with on the new year.

Incidentally the law school this year is in the new downtown skyscraper building of De Paul and the law school is on the two upper floors soaring seventeen stories above the noise and bustle of the busy Loop of Chicago.

Story chapter has a promising outlook for the coming year. The active group is thoroughly welded and can act in concert on any matter. There are about ten pledges held over from last year to give the brothers diversion in the early stages of the year. Dropping back for a moment to last year, we held our initiation in May too late to record in the last Quarterly. At the initiation we brought into Phi Alpha Delta eight fine men whom we all welcome as brothers: Ed. Finnegan, John Grogan, Charles Horan, James Howe, Gene Massey, Al. McDonnell, Ed Nealon and Jack Phelan. Brother Frank Fawcett was the speaker of the evening, and delivered a splendid talk. Brother J. J. Cherry was the toast-master and served in his own inimitable manner. Brother George Fink, Judge John Lyle, Judge Harry Keats and many other brothers past and present were there. The evening was a great success and served to dedicate many brothers again to the purpose of Phi Alpha Delta.

September 27th we held a rushing smoker and had a fine crowd of men from whom we shall choose possible candidates for admission to P. A. D. October 6th we held a Fall Hop at the house for the brothers and a few of their guests, and the moaning saxs lulled us for a moment into forgetfulness of Blackstone and Coke on Littleton or is it vice versa.

Chapter activities have started off with a bang and we expect to have a group of pledges ripe for plucking by late November. With election not far off, and the chapter composed of embryo lawyers quite naturally everyone is strenuously defending his political persuasion—and thus opens the year 1928-29.

TEMPLE CHAPTER

Hasting College of the Law, San Francisco, Cal.

THE opening of the doors of Hastings College of the Law, on this, its 50th anniversary, witnessed the beginning of a most promising year in the history of Jackson Temple Chapter... of Phi Alpha Delta.

The officers for the ensuing year are:

Justice—H. Sterrett Savage
Vice-Justice—L. Egbert Lathrop
Clerk—A. Long Martin
Marshal—E. Francisco Penaa
Historian—L. Alex MacNicol.

It came to pass that a goodly number of country bumpkins deserted their rustic haunts in quest of a legal education, resulting in the attendance of the first year being nearly double the usual number. Out of this vast throng, the most brilliant and illuminating "nuggets" were chosen to wear the pledge badge of Phi Alpha Delta. They include: Douglas Dunning, Ray Kimball, James Harvey, Robert Green, Kenneth Carey, Ray Arata, and Thomas Keating. Among upperclassmen "transfers" were Myron Lackey, Herbert Smith, J. Barceloux and D. Sparks. At a well appointed luncheon, given in the Elk's Club, attended by all active members and numerous alumni, the formal pledging took place September 18th.

The semester had scarcely opened when a sumptuous Italian dinner, planned under the personal guidance of Brother Francisco Penaat, was tendered to our pledges. In a picturesque cafe, in the heart of San Francisco's Latin Quarter, Goodfellowship and Hospitality reigned supreme... AND HOW!

On September 16th Jackson Temple chartered a luxurious private yacht, and after an extensive cruise around the bay, we embarked at Paradise Cove, where all indulged in gastro-nomic exercises, followed by swimming and dancing. The outing was a glorious success, except for the fact that Brother Tulley was reported missing. Able Brother Lathrop arose to the occasion, and under his capable guidance searching squads were immediately organized. After the expiration of two long and anxious hours, Brother Savage's squad discovered the missing brother in profound slumber. It seems that he became exhausted whilst picking wild flowers upon a distant hill side...

In conclusion, Jackson Temple chapter extends greetings to our Brothers of Phi Alpha Delta.

KEEN interest has been evinced by our members in our prospectives whom we expect to pledge in February after the chaff is blown away and the better students have designated themselves.

Eighteen Phi Alpha Delta enthusiasts have returned to maintain our establishment as the leading lights of the law college.

We are glorying in the success of West Virginia football team which has just returned from driving the Pitt Panther to its lair in defeat.

The chapter last year initiated into Honorary Membership Brother Edmund C. Dickinson to whom we shall look as an advisor and friend, the place so well filled by our recent Dean: Brother Madden who has transferred to the Watson Chapter at Pittsburgh.

Another of our honorary initiates has since been elevated to the State Supreme Court and is now a candidate to succeed himself. We speak of our honored Brother Raymond Maxwell.

Brother Fred P. Kopp is president of the junior class having been elected by some votes from our rival law fraternity and he has proven himself worthy of our and their confidence.

We lose our Justice Brother Ferguson and our Vice-Justice Brother Hoover at mid-year by graduation, but having carried us to that point we hope to be then self-sustaining.

Bro. Rardin, a recent graduate, has just married Miss Elsie Shriver a ø M and a ø B K, and is now practically elected, being Republican nominee for prosecuting attorney of Pleasants County—all in one year: think of it!

Brothers Hague and O'Farrell, due to their excellent grades are members of the Law Quarterly Board.

ALUMNI CHAPTER LETTERS

LOS ANGELES

THE following brothers are receiving the congratulations from the P. A. D.'s in Los Angeles for successfully having passed the recent Bar Examination:

Ranny C. Draper, Otho Vernon, C. Douglas Smith, Elmore R. Bailey, Ralph Smith, Nicholas Bleecker, Paul Wayte, Stewart Tinsman, Thomas Vail, Victor Smith, Jack Clarkson.

Brother Lester O. "Doc" Luce, has opened an office in San Fernando, specializing in Admiralty cases.

Brother Clency Hasbrouck embarked for St. Paul on the Golden State limited to engage in a marriage ceremony, he being the plaintiff. Business must be good in the country's fastest growing City and, no doubt, Clency thought he ought to do his bit to keep up with the slogan.

Brother Paul Vallee, one of the ablest and best liked professors and lawyers in Los Angeles, is ill and confined to his bed with inflammatory rheumatism. I assure you Paul does not like her. Good luck, Paul, we all want you back soon.

Brother Major John Doyle Carmody, after receiving a very sad message, embarked on the "Chief" for Washington because of the serious illness of his father.

Brother Frank Ludwick is vacationing in Canada and has high hopes of running down some good cases.

Brother Elmore R. Bailey recently associated himself in Lloyd Wright's Law Office.

Brothers Tom Glenn and Bob Coyle, recently from Georgetown, University, Al Smith's delegates to Los Angeles, and I assure you they are dry, are now domiciled in Los Angeles. Both boys are doing fine, but they refused to drink our hard mountain water.

Brother Kim Ellis was recently appointed to the Board of Civil Service Commissioners by Mayor George E. Cryer.

Brother Joe Devin is now associated with the Eureka Casualty Co. in the Pacific National Bank Building.

Brother Gordon Lawson has gone all the way to England to take a deposition. That's a real promoter for you.

Brother Vernon W. Hunt is now associated with Hardy, Elliot & Aberle in the Van Nuys Building.

Brother Stanley Howell has accepted a full time professorship in the Law School of the University of Southern California.

Brother Walter J. Little was re-elected to the State Assembly for the fourth consecutive time.

Brother Harry C. Mabry and Pledge, Cabel Carrington recently returned from a six week's vacation in Idaho, Utah, Arizona and the wilds of Montana.

The alumni chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, national law fraternity, held its first banquet for the current college year at the Jonathan Club on Friday evening, September 21st. The gathering that assembled marked the affair as one of the largest fraternity banquets of the year, as over two hundred members of the fraternity were in attendance. The entertainment for the evening was sponsored by J. Lamar Butler, whose name is a by-word in P. A. D. parties, and consisted of David Barnum of the Plantation Cafe, and some excellent songs by Jack and Johnnie Trigg, popularly known as the Ukelele Twins of the Orpheum Circuit.

At the speaker's table were such P. A. D.'s as Judge Frederick Houser of the District Court of Appeals; Judges Victor R. McLucas, Charles C. Montgomery and Carlos S. Hardy of the Superior Court; Sheriff William I. Traeger; Major John Doyle Carmody, who always graces the banquet boards of his fraternity; Rex G. Hardy, who for the past two (2) years has been Past Supreme Justice of the fraternity; Frank M. Ludwig, Supreme Secretary; Charles E. R. Fulcer, Chancellor of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta; Ray L. Haight, Editor of the Southern California Alumni Review; Arthur Freston, President of the Law school Student Body at the University; Harold Craft, Student Editor of the Law Review; Howard Edgerton, Editor of the Law School Annual; Ravelle Harrison, Justice of Ross Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta; and William P. Haughton, who was for many years Marshal and Moderator of the active chapter.

Ray Haight acted as toast-master for the evening and introduced the many old-time P. A. D.'s who had turned out for a chance to renew acquaintances. G. R. Dexter spoke, as did Fred Aberle, and many others. The principal speaker for the evening was, however, J. F. T. O'Connor. O'Connor's talk was prefaced by some reminiscences from G. R. Dexter, who told of old college days with O'Connor years previously in the Dakotahs and of how he had coined the nickname of "Jeffy" for his illustrious classmate. On the two or three previous occasions when O'Connor has spoken at Phi Alpha Delta gatherings he has always succeeded in enchanting his audiences and this particular speech was no exception. He is a masterly orator and won national fame in 1924 by his speech in which he placed in nomination the name of Williams Gibbs McAdoo. He closed his address by reciting Ralph Waldo Trine's verses "Let me live in my house by the side of the road and be a friend to man."

Lamar Butler announced the next alumni gathering would be had at the Uplifters Club in Santa Monica, at which time an elaborate show is to be presented, after the manner of the Uplifters generally, and at which gathering an address will be made by Justice John E. Richards of the California Supreme Court.

CINCINNATI

AFTER the summer vacation, the regular monthly luncheons were resumed on October 6th. The attendance was very good and many of the brothers of Chase Chapter and some pledges were present as guests. The enthusiasm shown indicates another big year for P. A. D. in Cincinnati.

On Saturday, October 13th, despite the lateness of the season, Brother Judge Walter A. Ryan was host to the Chapter at his summer camp near South Lebanon, Ohio. The day was perfect and particularly suited to outdoor sports. Brother Charles E. Weber proved his efficiency at the old-fashioned game of "cow-pasture" golf and many of the actives were almost convinced that their dear professor was educated in a blacksmith shop. As the evening shadows began to fall, the "gang" repaired to the tables. It was then that everyone realized how great a host Walter is. If ever a more sumptuous and tempting layout was spread before mere man he has kept it a deep secret. Much thanks and praise is due Mrs. Ryan for her assistance in providing a goodly portion of the food. Then while the autumn breezes sighed and the leaves fell like rain, the ancient and time-honored indoor sports reigned supreme. Some in the crowd were accused of belonging to the Dry Cleaners Union and if they did not they at least qualified for membership, but the great majority bore up like men and faced disaster in true P. A. D. fashion. It is rumored that some of the brothers were so fascinated by the environment and the graciousness of the host that they prolonged their visit until another day had dawned. Sure we all agree that the Judge is a great host!

Brother Carl W. Rich, for several years Assistant City Solicitor, in charge of Traffic Court prosecution, has resigned to assist in the campaign of Myers Y. Cooper for Governor of Ohio. Brother Robert G. McIntosh was appointed in place of Bro. Rich.

Brother Forrest Ely was elected Prosecuting Attorney of Clermont County, Ohio. He was the Republican candidate and defeated Brother George Murphy the Democratic Candidate.

Brother Louis Nippert and Howard D. Porter were elected as Representatives to the General Assembly of Ohio. Brother Nippert led the legislative ticket.

Brothers Paul Kunkel, Robert McIntosh and Oris Hamilton were recently admitted to practice in the Federal District Court.

Recently there was established at the College of Law of the University of Cincinnati, a chapter of the Order of the Coif. The constitution permitted the election of eligible men from some of the past classes. The following P. A. D.'s were among those elected: Samuel C. Andress, David V. Attig, Fred Koenig, Frank L. Leonard, Lawrence R. Lytle, Hugh Nichols and Richard Thrall. Brothers Howard L. Bevis and Charles E. Weber of the faculty were also made charter members.

Several of the members of the Alumni Chapter attended a rush party given by Chase Chapter at the Chapter House on September 26th. There were many good prospects present and the evening was enjoyably and profitably spent.

LAWRENCE R. LYTLE, Sec'y.

WASHINGTON

AMONG the newer Congressmen of last year Brother Tatgenhorst had already made his presence known by attending meetings in the spring. We also hope this year to welcome Brother Cyrus Locher, recently appointed U. S. Senator from Ohio and Brother S. Harrison White, Representative in Congress from Colorado, whom we have not yet had present with us. We note from the March quarterly that Brothers Snively (Illinois) and Hatcher (Kansas) aspire to join this select brotherhood in Congress and we assure them a hearty welcome here if they succeed.

The executive committee of the Washington Alumni Chapter, which for this year consists of Brothers George F. Wells, (Corliss) Murray M. Ashbaugh, (Calhoun) Bernard F. Garvey, (Taft) George T. Bell, (Benton) and Wilbur C. Pickett (Clay), fixed October 18th, as the date for the resumption of the program of constructive educational lectures which proved so successful last year. Other dates are November 8, December 6, January 17 and February 21, all at the University Club, 15th and H. Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C.

The opening meeting of the fall was held by the chapter at the University Club on Thursday evening, October 18th with Vice-Justice Moultrie Hitt in the chair as Commissioner Aitchison was necessarily absent on business for the Interstate Commerce Commission on the Pacific coast. The clerk of the chapter read a telegram from Brother Aitchison indicating his presence in spirit although not in person.

While a rainstorm on that evening held down the attendance to some two dozen brothers, it was a very successful meeting, especially from the standpoint of the inspirational address given by Colonel James E. Easby-Smith who was kind enough to substitute for Judge Frank K. Nebecker, former Assistant United States Attorney General who was detained in Chicago and was unable to keep his engagement to address us.

Col. Easby-Smith talked on the rights and duties of lawyers, particularly in relation to prosecuting and defending brother lawyers in disbarment proceedings. He discussed the origin of the right of courts to admit and disbar attorneys from practice and the nature of the attorney's right to practice after admission which had been held by the courts to be as fully sacred and protected by the constitution as any property right. It was a very interesting subject, very inspirationally and scholarly developed by an expert in that line, and made a deep impression particularly, I think, on the undergraduates, of whom there were some four or five present from Taft and Jay Chapters. Particularly as of necessity, Col. Easby-Smith made some discussion of legal ethics, which subject many of these undergraduates are now pursuing in their law school courses. The chapter gave the speaker an enthusiastic rising vote of thanks, after which refreshments were served.

The meeting of November 8th will be a joint meeting of the Alumni of a half dozen legal fraternities holding membership in the Conference of Law Fraternities. This meeting will be addressed by Honorable Ira E. Robinson, Chairman of the Federal Radio Commission and former Justice of the Supreme Court of West Virginia on the subject of Recent Developments in Radio Law. The other meetings in the schedule are purely P. A. D. meetings. Visiting alumni and members of the active chapters in Washington are invited to attend any or all of the meetings.

Brothers Justice Aitchinson has appointed Brother Joe Carey of Carey and Parkinson as the special representative of the Washington Alumni Chapter to work with Brother Kenneth Parkinson, the Eastern District Justice, in looking after things at Taft Chapter, Georgetown University, and has designated Brother Ben Saunders of Hopkins, Starr, Hopkins and Hamel in the same capacity for Jay Chapter, George Washington University.

PERSONAL NEWS ITEMS

Brother Roger T. Boyden (Jay), Senior Examiner, Bureau of Valuation, Interstate Commerce Commission and Miss Florence M. Jones were married early in October and are now at home in Southbrook Courts, after a honeymoon trip to Bermuda. Brother J. Edgar Snider, (Marshall) the former clerk of the chapter left us last summer to accept a very pleasing professional connection with the Delaware & Hudson at New York City where we are informed his address is 32 Nassau Street. In the latter part of October the P.A.D.'s. in Washington suffered the loss of an honored brother in the death of Honorable Albert H. Putney, Dean of the American University School of Political Science. A committee has been appointed to draft resolutions expressing our sense of deprivation. It has also recently been announced that our Justice, Commissioner Clyde B. Aitchison of the Interstate Commerce Commission, will journey to Princeton, New Jersey on March 19, 1929, where he will deliver the Cyrus Brackett Fogg Lecture to the School of Engineering, Princeton, University. Brother Moultrie Hitt, senior partner of the law firm of Hitt and Miller recently announced the addition of two new partners, one of them being Brother Ben B. Cain, Jr. We congratulate both Brother Hitt and Brother Cain.

R. E. FREER, Clerk.

NEW YORK

While it is a fact that the Alumni Chapter has not heretofore been very regular in forwarding letters for publication in the Quarterly, nevertheless, the Chapter has been undergoing a process of reorganization which bids fair to continue regular letters in the future.

The Alumni Chapter of New York was organized on March 28, 1911, by alumni from various chapters, who had located in or about New York City. The charter was signed by John Doyle Carmody as Supreme Justice and Edward J. Hess as Supreme Recorder, and meetings have been held with more or less regularity from the date of the inception of the Chapter. The number of alumni who located in New York City and vicinity from time to time has rapidly increased during the past few years, and as a result of this large increase in members from the various states in the Union, it was concluded that the Alumni Chapter should be organized on more substantial lines to meet its national character. Accordingly, the Alumni Chapter was incorporated under the Laws of the State of New York as a membership corporation on June 7, 1928.

The purposes of the corporation, as stated in the Certificate of Incorporation, are as follows:

"The purposes for which said corporation is to be formed, are to promote the friendly association, health, comfort and recreation of all alumni of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, who may become its members; to continue the association between the alumni and the active chapters of the Fraternity; to further the influence and interest of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity throughout the universities and colleges, and to stimulate the interest in and devotion of its members to the ideals of said Fraternity; to further at all times the best interests and general welfare of the legal profession and its members both in the city of New York and elsewhere; to maintain and promote the highest standards of professional ethics among the members of the bar in the City of New York and throughout the United States; and, in the discretion of its Directors, to assist and actively cooperate with the New York Bar Association, the New York County Lawyers Association; and other organizations of like nature in accomplishing any worthy governmental reform in the United States, or in bringing about any improvement in our present system of jurisprudence; and for the aforesaid purposes, to purchase, lease or otherwise acquire, hold and own, and to mortgage, convey, sell, lease or otherwise dispose of real or personal property of every class and description."

The first officers and directors of the corporation are:

1. James W. Farrell, Justice.
2. George C. Howard, Vice Justice.
3. Thomas W. Constable, Treasurer.
4. Anthony P. Savarese, Clerk.
5. Albert A. Verrilli, Marshall.
6. Charles Halla.
7. Frank E. Rutledge.
8. Philip E. Barnard.
9. Emmett W. Poindexter.

The incorporation of the Alumni Chapter of New York has been received enthusiastically.

Our records show that there are more than 200 members of the Fraternity from various chapters located in and about New York City, and it is confidently believed that a very large proportion of this number will shortly have joined this Chapter. The subscription rate for the time being is only $10, for which a membership share of the Corporation is delivered. The annual dues commencing July 1, 1929, are to be $10 a year. Of the amount so paid for dues, it is proposed to deposit one-half in a sinking fund for the purpose of accumulating funds for future needs and conservative expansion of the Chapter.

Arrangements have been made to provide facilities at the Fraternity Club, 38th street and Madison Avenue, New York City, for not only our local members but for all members of the Fraternity who may from time to time visit New York City. The Fraternity Club maintains one of the best club buildings in the United States and we may well feel fortunate in making such a desirable contact for our Alumni Chapter. Identification card required in order to use the Fraternity Club facilities, (such as the dining room, lounge rooms, board and lodging, etc.) may be obtained from the Clerk of the Alumni Chapter.

Every member of the Fraternity will, upon reading the purposes of the Alumni Chapter as above set forth, readily recognize the possibilities for greater service and usefulness of our Alumni Chapter, and a cordial invitation is extended to every member of the Fraternity who lives in New York or its vicinity to join in our very worthy undertaking; and to those members who plan from time to time to visit New York, a cordial invitation is extended in use of the facilities of the Alumni Chapter while they are in our city.

The Alumni Chapter has also obtained luncheon club facilities for its members at Barbieri's Restaurant located at 126 William Street, New York, where the members and out-of-town guests may meet every Wednesday, at 1 P. M.

Brother Thomas J. Conroy has just been through a successful campaign as State Senator from Hartford, Conn., and gave us a very entertaining talk on incidents of his campaign and refreshed us with recollection of fellowship in P.A.D. of nearly twenty years ago.

Other Brothers have also found prominence in public affairs, among whom are Brothers Anthony P. Savarese and Herman Forster, as United States Attorneys, Brother Frank A. Cooper, as Secretary to Supreme Court Justice Cotillo, Brother George Palmer, as Special Deputy Attorney General, during the recent election, Brother Verrilli, as one of the staff of counsel in the official bar investigation, Brother Walter S. Gedney, as a member of the Assembly, and the Baumes Commission for the revision of laws on punishment for crime; Brother J. Vincent Barnitt, former Supreme Vice Justice, is now County Prosecutor at Paterson, New Jersey; Brother George C. Sprague, Profession at New York University Law School; H. Edward Wolff, former State Senator for New Jersey, and Dr. J. J. Kindred, member of Congress from the Second District of New York.

Fraternally,
THOMAS W. CONSTABLE,
Treasurer.

Among those who attended the Fifty-second annual meeting of the Illinois State Bar Association at East St. Louis on May 31st, June 1st and 2nd, were the following members of the Fraternity: Federal Judge Fred L. Ulysses' fame made him a logical rushee
