THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

By JOSEPH A. CAREY (Taft)

PAD's from all parts of the country are looking forward with great enthusiasm to the 24th Biennial Convention to be held in the nation's capital. Washington was selected by the Supreme Executive Board for the convention this year because of the history being made in the national capital. From the standpoint of sight-seeing Washington is unsurpassed. The new Supreme Court Building alone offers a great inspiration to members of the bar.

In addition, those visiting the convention will have an opportunity to observe the influx of officials, politicians, lobbyists and others who will be attracted by the organization of the new Congress on January 20, 1937. The value of this experience cannot be overestimated.

Mindful of its responsibilities for the success of this convention and having a desire to contribute in a substantial measure to the continued development and advancement of Phi Alpha Delta, the Washington Alumni Chapter, with the cooperation of Taft Chapter and Jay Chapter, pledges you hospitality, entertainment, recreation and a warm fraternal welcome . . . all in such good measure as properly becomes PAD.

Throughout the convention period everything will be done by the committee, to make the visiting members' stay in Washington pleasant and worth while. The committees in charge are expending every effort to make this convention impressive, inspiring and entertaining . . . one that will make you realize that Phi Alpha Delta is something more than a name.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE

In the organization of this committee will be presented an innovation for PAD conventions. In Washington there are alumni representatives from about 35 different chapters. These will be organized into committees to assume responsibility for the comfort, welfare and entertainment of the active and the alumni members of their respective chapters from the time the visitors and delegates arrive at the station in Washington until the convention closes. For those chapters without representatives a special committee will be made up from Taft and Jay alumni and active members.

HEADQUARTERS

The Mayflower Hotel, center of the capital's social life, has been selected as convention headquarters. The magnificent ball room of the hotel has been reserved for PAD social activities. Residence at this fine hostelry for the convention period in itself will be an enjoyable experience. A substantially reduced scale of rates has been secured for visiting PAD's.

THE SMOKER

The business sessions of the convention will begin on the morning of the 29th of December. That evening, at nine o'clock, a smoker will be held at the Mayflower Hotel at which an attendance of more than 500 is expected. Refreshments, cigars and cigarettes will be served. An excellent musical program with entertainment will be provided by the Weede-Meyer Orchestra under the direction of Charlie Strong (formerly Musical Director, Olson and Johnson) featuring vocal selections by Martha Perry, Radio Star. This smoker will afford a splendid opportunity for all attending the convention to get acquainted and enjoy a real fraternal evening.

THE BANQUET

On Wednesday evening, December 30, the Mayflower Ballroom will be the gala setting for the greatest banquet in the history of our fraternity. The banquet room itself is an architectural masterpiece with its stage, galleries and attractive decorations. The banquets at the Mayflower are justly celebrated for the cuisine and service. For this occasion music and entertainment will be provided by the Weede-Meyer Orchestra. Among those present will be many brothers who have achieved national distinction in public service and in the practice of their profession. Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, Comptroller of the Currency J. F. T. O'Connor and Assistant Attorney General Brien McMahon will be present. A reception will precede the banquet.

NEW YEAR'S EVE BALL

In all Washington, there can be no comparison with the Mayflower Ballroom as the "perfect spot" for a New Year's Eve celebration. This ball will be the closing social event of the convention. Upon request in advance of the convention, the committee will invite ladies to be guests of visiting brothers who come to the convention unaccompanied. There will be tables where all may be seated surrounding the spacious dance floor. A delicious supper will be served. Dance music will be furnished by the Weede-Meyer Orchestra.

SIGHTSEEING

The business sessions of the convention have been arranged so as to allow ample time for sightseeing. Washington holds a great diversity of interesting sights particularly to the American attorney. Each day that you spend in the national capital will be packed full of pleasant contacts, interesting sights and educational experiences. The new Congress convenes on January 3rd and most of its members will be in Washington before our convention closes. The entire alumni and active groups of the Washington chapters will be available to act as your guides. Plenty of private automobiles will be on hand to transport you around the most beautiful city in the United States, if not in the world.

There shall be a special LADIES' committee which will see that the wives and sweethearts of the visiting brothers enjoy their visit to Washington and come in for a fair share of the convention activities.

The Phi Alpha Delta 24th Biennial Convention is bound to surpass, in every way, anything of its kind you have ever attended. On to Washington!

For additional convention information, see page 34.

Alumni Chapter Suggestions

By FRANK E. RUTLEDGE

Supreme Alumni Advisor

This message is addressed especially to PADs who are seniors in law schools. Upon graduating next June, with your cooperation, additional alumni chapters can be added to our present list of twenty-five. (In 1926 we had only fifteen). With the enthusiasm now being shown throughout our entire organization during the past year, and with the general revival of business now under way, it will be easier to establish more alumni chapters.

With an increased number, PAD will become stronger and stronger. Because of increased wages, there will be more money in circulation and this will lower the resistance we have had to contend with in the past.

The following is a list of cities where we should have alumni chapters organized soon, as we have a large enough number of members living there to make this possible.

Phoenix, Arizona
 Tuscon, Arizona
 Little Rock, Arkansas
 Berkeley, California
 Oakland, California
 San Diego, California
 Fresno, California
 Denver, Colorado
 New Haven, Connecticut
 Bloomington, Illinois
 Peoria, Illinois
 Springfield, Illinois
 Indianapolis, Indiana
 Davenport, Iowa
 Des Moines, Iowa
 Wichita, Kansas
 Louisville, Kentucky
 Lexington, Kentucky
 Boston, Massachusetts
 Grand Rapids, Michigan
 Duluth, Minnesota
 Lincoln, Nebraska
 Omaha, Nebraska
 Tulsa, Oklahoma
 Akron, Ohio

Columbus, Ohio
 Toledo, Ohio
 Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
 Rochester, New York
 Knoxville, Tennessee
 Houston, Texas
 De Land, Florida
 Miami, Florida
 St. Petersburg, Florida
 Tampa, Florida

If you live in any of these cities, suggest that upon returning home you become a leader and assist in the development of an alumni chapter by getting all PADs together and organizing.

There has been an increasing interest in the PAD National Employment Bureau. Particularly during the past year. Just before school closes, the officers of all active chapters have been asked for the names of graduating members who were desirous of obtaining a position. This information, with full qualifications, has been passed on to the officers of alumni chapters in the cities where members wished to locate. If there was no alumni chapter there, individual letters were sent to all prominent brothers. This plan has been the means of making proper contacts. In some cities where our alumni chapters are very strong, many brothers found this service helpful and it should be continued in the future.

If more alumni chapters will take an interest in this employment branch of our work, PAD will be greatly strengthened. Also, it will be easier to bring new members into our active chapters.

As in the past, we hope each alumni chapter will have its representatives at the coming convention in Washington, D. C. which will be one of the best ever held by Phi Alpha Delta.

ALUMNI NOTES

The Chicago Alumni Chapter held its first rushing smoker of the year on Friday, October 2, at the Hamilton Club. Collegiate chapters from Chicago-Kent, Loyola and De Paul Law Schools participated and the attendance numbered over 100 alumni, students and rushees. Among the alumni present were two charter members of Lambda Epsilon, the predecessor to the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, Brothers Asa Gage and Jerome Cermak. Brothers John Martin of the U. S. Steel Law Department, Geary Sitbgen and Fred Paesler were also present. Following an informal buffet lunch and smoker, the crowd were guests of the Hamilton Club Stag Nite Committees. The success of the evening has prompted the officers of the Alumni Chapter to plan another smoker.

The Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter had the pleasure of an unexpected visit from SUPREME JUSTICE WILLIAM S. CULBERTSON at their meeting on October 27. Although members of the chapter did not know the Supreme Justice was visiting, more than 17 were in attendance to enjoy his brief talk.

At a banquet held at the Metropolitan Club on November 2, the guest of honor was Dr. Joseph W. Madden of the Pittsburgh Law School Faculty, who is now serving as Chairman of the National Labor Relations Board under appointment by President Roosevelt. About 30 PADs attended this banquet, including such guests as Dean A. M. Thompson of the Pittsburgh Law School Faculty, Dr. Judson A. Crane, Professor F. J. Putman and A. W. Forsyth, President of the Allegheny Bar Association.

Thomas G. Miller, Justice of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter, presided and introduced the toastmaster, John M. Bash. Dean A. M. Thompson made a short talk and Judge Gray introduced Dr. Madden, who gave a very interesting discussion of the work of the National Labor Relations Board. Altogether it was a very successful affair and one well worth while.

IN THE AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION

JOHN S. DAWSON (Benson), of Topeka, Kansas, is now serving as the provisional representative of the Bar Association of the State of Kansas in the recently created House of Delegates of the American Bar Association. The first mid-winter meeting of the House of Delegates will be held at Columbus, Ohio, January 5-7, 1937. This will be an important event in the history of the Association. Since January 11, 1915, Brother Dawson has been a Justice of the Supreme Court and is now President of the Bar Association of the State of Kansas. He recently attended the Regional meeting of the American Bar Association which was held at Kansas City, Missouri, October 10, 1936.

HOMER S. CUMMINGS (Calhoun), of Stamford, Connecticut, CLYDE R. CHAPMAN (Hamlin) of Augusta, Maine, and OWEN CUNNINGHAM (Cole), of Des Moines, Iowa, are members of the House of Delegates and will attend the mid-winter meeting. Brother Cummings is Attorney General of the United States and Brother Chapman is Attorney General of the State of Maine.

JOHN R. SNIVELY (Magruder), of Rockford, Illinois, was reappointed last month as a member of the Committee on Lay Adjusters of the Section of Insurance Law by Jesse A. Miller, of Des Moines, Iowa, Chairman of the Section. He is a former member of the Committee on Unauthorized Practice of the Law of the American Bar Association, having served five years on this committee. In addition, he served as a member, 1927-30, and Chairman, 1930-33, 1935, of a similar committee of the Illinois State Bar Association, and has been appointed as a member of the Committee on Unauthorized Practice of the Section on Professional Relations of the Association, by W. R. Matheny, of Chicago, Chairman of the Section. His last article "The Law—Business or Profession?" was widely published in the United States and Canada. Brother Snively is also a former member of the State Council of the American Bar Association. This office was eliminated by the new Constitution which was adopted at Boston.

ARTHUR J. TUTTLE (Campbell), of Detroit, Michigan, is a member of the Council of the Judicial Section. His term ends next year. Brother Tuttle is Judge of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, having been appointed August 6, 1912. He has also long been active in the fraternity and is now serving as Chief Tribune of the Supreme Tribunal.

He began his career as a Private, serving three years as an enlisted man, and has risen steadily since through all the grades to his present high rank. Wherever he has served, his personality, utter disregard to danger and unflinching loyalty to his Corps and commands have contributed largely to his outstanding record of leadership and successes.

General Meade is a veteran of the Philippine Insurrection; the Cuban Pacification; the Occupation of Vera Cruz, Mexico; the World War, having served with the American, British and French forces; the Occupation of Haiti; and, the Second Nicaraguan Campaign.

While in the Republic of Haiti, as Commander of the Department of the North, General Meade, then a Major of Marines with the rank of Colonel in the Gendarmerie d'Haiti, cleared the Department of the North of bandits and personally directed the operations which resulted in the death of the supreme leader of the bandit forces, Charlemagne Peralte, which in turn resulted in the collapse of the civil war in that country, bringing peace and prosperity to Haiti. For his work in Haiti, he was twice decorated with the Haitien Medal Militaire, cited in orders for services in the field, and twice decorated for his administrative work, including the award of the Haitien Medal of Honor and Merit, with the grade of Commander, the highest Haitien decoration.

In 1927, he commanded the First Marine Corps expeditionary force to land during the Second Nicaraguan Campaign. He was awarded the Navy Cross, by the President of the United States, and the Medal of Merit by the President of Nicaragua, for his outstanding service in that country.

He was twice Officer in Charge of the Marine Corps Reserve which he reorganized in 1925; the Officer in Charge of Marine Corps Recruiting activities; has commanded Marines at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba; the Marines in the Virgin Islands; and, Marine Detachments aboard ships of the Navy. One of his early assignments as a captain was the command of the Marines aboard the U.S.S. Missouri. He organized and trained the first signal company of the Marine Corps which later acquitted itself with great distinction in the seizure of Vera Cruz, and later furnished trained communications personnel for service in France during the World War. He has served in Washington in the Judge Advocate General's Office of the Navy, as Chief of War Plans Division of the Marine Corps Headquarters, and as Officer in Charge of Recruiting and Reserves of the Marine Corps.

General Meade is a graduate of the Marine Corps Schools, of the Army War College, and of Georgetown University with degree of LLB 1912. He was admitted to the bar in the District of Columbia and, in 1928, was admitted to practice, before the Supreme Court of the United States.

Two incidents, partially obscured by the lapse of time, illustrate a reason for his success. In the year 1901, during the Philippine Insurrection, he jumped into the angry waters of the Rio Grande de Cagayan, swollen by cloud bursts, and saved the life of an American soldier. Again, in Guantanamo Bay, he jumped overboard at night in full dress uniform to save the life of an American sailor. For this he was commended by the Secretary of Navy. These occasions, of minor importance nationally, demonstrate his character and his disregard of personal safety when the life of another, a subordinate, is endangered.

He was initiated a member of Taft Chapter in 1909 and has been very active in fraternity affairs.

On Armistice Day, November 11, he participated in the services which were held at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery. President Franklin D. Roosevelt and General Pershing both placed wreaths on the tomb. After the President and his party had departed, the services were conducted by the American Legion. The principal speaker was Harry H. Woodring, Secretary of War.

The American monuments of the World War on the French and Belgian battlefields and the memorial chapels in the eight American military cemeteries in France, Belgium and England, which were recently completed, will be dedicated next July, twenty years after American entry into the war, under a recommendation announced by the American Battle Monuments Commission on November 17, 1936. CHAPTER AWARDS

OBLIGATIONS

Field Chapter won by a nose over Knox Chapter in being the first to pay all of the present school year's obligations to the Supreme Chapter. The award consisted of a copy of Schouler on "Personal Property."

The award was presented by the Supreme Secretary at a Chapter Dinner in Berkeley on Wednesday, November 19, 1936.

LETTER

The award for the best Chapter Letter for the December issue of the Reporter goes to Watson Chapter. This award consists of a three volume set of Daniel on "Negotiable Instruments."

Several splendid letters were received and the committee experienced some difficulty in making this selection. It was felt, however, that the winning letter best depicted chapter activities and suggested exceedingly constructive ideas.

ACTIVE CHAPTER NEWS

BLACKSTONE

Chicago-Kent College of Law

■ Joint activities of Blackstone and Story Chapters evidence PAD spirit in Chicagoland. Joint smokers by these two Chapters have been the order of the past semester. Story Chapter House has acted as gracious host in two joint gatherings this fall. At the first a large group listened to a most entertaining and instructive talk given by Brother Ladd (Jay) who is now head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation-Chicago Area. His talk concerned "G" men activities and proved to be a hair-raiser.

At the second joint smoker Dean Clark of De Paul University and former U. S. District Attorney S. Fisher were principal speakers, the latter telling of his work in the U. S. District Attorney's office, all of which was of great interest to law students.

This manifest fraternal spirit is to some degree to be credited to the activity of the Chicago Alumni Chapter which started off the semester this year with an Alumni-Active Smoker at the Hamilton Club thereby encouraging friendship and cooperation between the active chapters in Chicago. Thus PAD's of Chicago enjoy the benefits of a closely knit group which promotes greater fraternal and social activities.

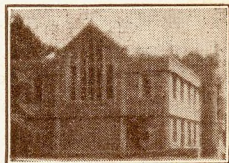

Blackstone has in prospect a selected group of pledges on which we shall make effort to prevent the end of the semester fatalities, due to grades. To help first year men to "crack" better grades is part of this year's program.

CLARK

Washington University

■ On Thursday evening, October 15, 1936, Champ Clark Chapter in conjunction with the St. Louis Alumni Chapter of Washington University, tendered a dinner at the Forest Park Hotel, to Brother Joseph A. McClain, the present Dean of the Washington University Law School. There were some forty-eight in attendance. Brother R. Forder Buckley was toastmaster, and talks were delivered by Sam Liberman, the present President of the St. Louis Bar Association (incidentally, as was mentioned at this banquet, Liberman is the third successive PAD elected President of our Bar Association—Thomas F. McDonald and Kenneth Teasdale preceding him). Talks were also delivered by Harry J. McNerney, acting director of the W. P. A. of Missouri; also by Albert Schweitzer, and the Dean. All in all, it was a very successful affair.

FLETCHER

University of Florida

■ On the evening of October 2, 1936, Fletcher Chapter pledged six men from the senior class of the Law College. These men were: Clifford Raysor Jr., Gainesville; Frank McGee, Lake Worth; Joseph Faver, Tampa; George Wentworth, Pensacola; Charles Schuh Jr., St. Petersburg; and Jacob Gwynn Parker from Tallahassee. A banquet was held in the early part of November in honor of the new pledges. Among the prominent lawyer alumni present were Joe Jenkins and Lance Lazonby, both of Gainesville.

On the 27th of October, the Tuesday before Florida's annual Homecoming Celebration, an initiation was held at which time four of the pledges became actives. Faver, Wentworth, Schuh and Parker were initiated at that time.

The following Saturday morning, Homecoming, was given up to an annual breakfast in honor of prominent State figures. At this time Justice Fred Davis of the Florida Supreme Court was the principal speaker. Many prominent alumni from the local and other chapters of Phi Alpha Delta were present.

There are five men from the Fletcher chapter listed in the publication Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. These five men are: William Sherrill, West Palm Beach; Jack Butler, Miami; Guy Botts, Milton; William Lines, Quincy; and John Lloyd, Pompano.

William Sherrill was president of the student body at Florida in 1934-35 and was chosen as one of the school's ten outstanding men in that year. He served as chairman of the Democratic Campus First Voter's Club, which has 800 voters among its membership: Sherrill dropped out of school last year to serve as Assistant Administration Director of the National Youth Administration in Florida.

Jack Butler served as president of the student body last year, as president of the Southwestern Division of the National Student Federation of America and is now vice president of Florida Blue Key. Butler was elected to Florida's Hall of Fame last year.

Guy Botts is present treasurer of Florida Blue Key, was president of his Junior Law Class and is a past president of his social fraternity, Delta Tau Delta.

Willy Lines is the present Justice of Fletcher Chapter, has served as treasurer of Florida Blue Key and has made a name for himself as a campus politico.

John Lloyd served as General Chairman on this year's Homecoming Committee.

Three members of Phi Alpha Delta are now serving as executives for the senior law class. These men are Alvin Hamilton, president; Frank McGee, pledge, vice president; and Charles Schuh, recent initiate, secretary-treasurer. James Hunter, who is a member of the fraternity, is secretary-treasurer of the Junior Law Class.

The three presidents of this year's senior law class have been members of Phi Alpha Delta. Willy Lines, Fletcher's present Justice, was chief executive of the Freshman Law Class. Guy Botts was president of the Junior Law Class. This year's class of seniors is headed by Alvin Hamilton.

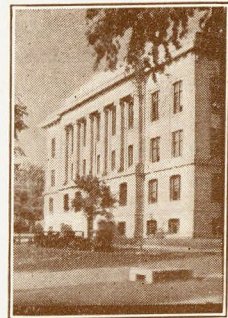

HAMMOND

University of Iowa

■ Richard Hahn had the highest grades among the members of the Junior class for the past year. They are among the best ever gotten in the Iowa Law School.

Amos Belknap has been made Editor-in-Chief of the Iowa Law School Review for the ensuing year. Benjamin Galer has been appointed to the position of Associate Editor.

The following members of Hammond Chapter were successful in their bar examinations on October 6-7-8 held at Des Moines, Iowa: Amos Belknap, William Morrison, and Wilbur Williams. Upon their return they met with a very unfortunate accident which sent Brother Belknap to the hospital at Muscatine with a fractured skull. The chapter has felt his loss to a considerable extent. His condition at the present time is much improved and the entire chapter hopes for an early return to classes. Brother Galer has taken over control of the Law Review during the enforced absence of Belknap. Donald Boddiker is one of the sixteen men from the Junior Class chosen for the Junior Law Club arguments which occur during the latter part of November and first part of December. Brother Donohue is one of the four men chosen from the Senior class for their arguments to occur before the full bench of the Iowa Supreme Court during the annual Supreme Court day.

The chapter has been very active in its rushing activities during the first few weeks of school and with results which are highly satisfactory. Numerous smokers and get-togethers have been held to show the Freshmen the benefit of the seminars which are given weekly by the law review men.

The chapter is proud to have four of its members upon the staff of the Iowa Law Review: Amos Belknap, Benjamin Galer, Richard Hahn and Joseph Donohue.

Amos Belknap has been elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Senior class.

HAY

Western Reserve University

■ In the great Democratic landslide some of the Phi Alpha Deltas of our neighborhood did well. Brother George S. Myers was elected to the Supreme Court of Ohio. Brother Keith Lawrence was elected State Senator. Both of these brothers are early John Hay members. Brother Myers, though in Columbus during the past few years in the capacity of Secretary of State, has never been too busy to remember John Hay Chapter. Brother George P. Baer has only been on the bench for thirty years, and this election found him unopposed. By resolution, the Active Chapter pledged active support of all the Brothers who sought public office.

On Thursday evening, October 22, 1936, the Alumni and Active Chapter of John Hay sponsored a Testimonial Dinner in honor of Brother Judge Baer's thirty years of service on the bench in this community. This affair, held in the Rainbow Room of the Carter Hotel, was attended by the truly "elite" of the bar; specifically, almost the entire bench of the Court of Common Pleas, Court of Appeals, and the Municipal Court of Cleveland. There were over one hundred other prominent public citizens of Greater Cleveland. Two prominent speakers were Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt, of the Supreme Court of Ohio who flew from Columbus to attend the dinner, and Honorable Harold H. Burton, Honorary Phi Alpha Delta, the Mayor of the City of Cleveland.

Because many of the Active members' work in conjunction with their law studies the activities of the Chapter have been limited. But there have been regular weekly meetings and weekly lunches. The Chapter is planning to have Alumni members as guests at the lunches to give short talks.

Two of our "Scholars," Brothers Paul Hergenroeder and Lloyd Townsend were ardent campaigners. Paul verbally trounced two staunch Republicans one evening, single handed, in his home town, Ravenna, while Lloyd was a Ward Slave in East Cleveland for the big elephant. Aside from that, Brother Lloyd Townsend is rapidly turning out what will be the boiled down essence of the law on the subject of parental liability for their children's torts. This is to be a case note. Ask for your copy!

Due to the untiring efforts of Brother Toth, the Chapter House Manager and Brother DiMarco, John Hay Chapter has obtained new furniture which it has long needed. Brother Judge David Miller was very helpful in making this acquisition possible.

HUGHES

University of Denver

■ Heavy graduation losses found Hughes Chapter with but a small nucleus of its membership at the beginning of the semester. However, an aggressive few plus a friendly freshman class soon brightened prospects and got the chapter off to a good start.

At the suggestion of Gunter Chapter a joint initiation has been arranged for the month of November. This promises to be the banner event of the school year.

JAY

George Washington University

■ Convention and rushing are the main topics of the weekly meetings of John Jay Chapter. A delightful rush smoker was held at the Hay Adams House on October 30th at which Jay Chapter entertained sixty guests. Judge Bolen Turner of the United States Board of Tax Appeals and Jay Charter member was the main speaker of the evening along with Joe Carey, prominent Washington PAD who gave some advance news of the coming Convention.

In the words of Joe Carey, "You ain't seen nothing yet!" And that, brothers, means that this New Year's Party will be the best ever. Brother Carey has been responsible for many brilliant Washington PAD parties and this Convention he avers will be his "Magnus Opus."

The local Washington Alumni Chapters are extending themselves in every way to make THIS CONVENTION one to be long remembered. The Alumni group are giving their full measure of time and money. Success is the result they will achieve.

John Jay Chapter invites the convention delegates to visit the law school as part of the Capital sightseeing program. The idea of a university located in the Capital of the Nation was sponsored by George Washington, who during his public life urged the establishment of such an institution and in his will left fifty shares of stock in the Potomac (Canal) Company for the endowment of a university to be established in the District of Columbia "to which the youth of fortune and talents from all parts thereof might be sent for the completion of their Education in all branches of polite literature;—in arts and Sciences,—in acquiring knowledge in the principles of Politics and good Government."

In furtherance of that hope and project of the first President of the United States, this University, founded as Columbian College and now named George Washington University, was founded. The stock which General Washington willed toward such an institution became valueless owing to the failure of the canal properties, and it was necessary for the "College" established in the District of Columbia to obtain funds from other sources.

In 1819, the Reverend Luther Rice, a Baptist missionary, formed an association to buy land for the use of a college in the city of Washington. With General Washington's idea in mind, John Quincy Adams, Secretary of State of the United States; William H. Crawford, Secretary of the Treasury; John C. Calhoun, Secretary of War; William Wirt, Attorney General; and Return J. Meigs, Postmaster General, became patrons of the new college and together with thirty-two members of Congress, contributed to a fund raised for the purchase of the land and development of the work.

The George Washington University Law School was established as part of the Columbian College program in 1826, discontinued later, reorganized in 1865, and is the oldest in the District of Columbia. In 1900 the School took part in the organization of the Association of American Law Schools and has been a member of the Association since that time. The School is approved by the Council of Legal Education of the American Bar Association. Effective this year the Law School required an A. B. degree or its equivalent for the admission to the Law School course.

John Jay Chapter is more than proud to do its share in the coming convention. May the rail-ways, highways, and air-ways speed you all to Washington for a Happy New Year.

KNOX

University of Arizona

■ The majority of active members for the last semester received a grade average considerably above the school average. Brother L. Alton Riggs, member of the Arizona legislature, returned to school to finish his law course.

On the opening day of school, Knox Chapter held its annual "Faculty-First Year" Smoker and rush party, which resulted in the pledging of nine of the most outstanding first year men. On November 4th the chapter exhibited an educational film for the benefit of the law school.

Brother U. Claire Dodd was recently elected to represent Knox Chapter at the Convention in Washington. Brother Joe Green has affiliated with Knox Chapter, coming from the Henry Clay Chapter of Kentucky. Knox Chapter has again established itself to the usual place of prestige in the law school. Two of our outstanding men failed to return this year: Robert Jones went to U. S. C. for his second year and Speech Contest Winner, James Rogers, entered Washington to compete his course of study.

Recently at homecoming Knox Chapter welcomed the return of many of its alumni, among whom were Elmer Coker, Assistant Attorney General of Arizona, and Virgil Chandler, County Attorney of Penal County. In the political field Knox Chapter alumni were most successful, many being elected to offices of responsibility. The most outstanding was the reelection of our Brother, the Hon. Chief Justice Lockwood of the Arizona Supreme Court, who was re-elected justice for another six years.

Knox Chapter was surprised to learn that due to outside obligations, Justice Gaynor K. Stover will be compelled to resign from his office of Justice. Through the singular endeavors of ex-Justice Verity and Justice Stover, Knox Chapter has been restored to its place of leadership in the law school. A new justice will soon be elected to fill the unexpired term of Justice Stover.

LAMAR

University of Mississippi

■ An intensely interesting program of activity has been set in motion this autumn by Lamar Chapter: a series of hypothetical appellate cases have been organized, and the briefs for the opposing sides are presented by the chapter members in brotherly rivalry. The appeals are argued before judges from the university law faculty, who hypothetically constitute, for purposes of the hearings, the supreme court of Mississippi. In order that there may be freedom for analysis and criticism of the arguments and their presentation, audiences at the hearings are restricted to PAD members. The program has enlisted enthusiastic support from all the chapter, and has shown the great advantage of introducing a fraternal and a recreative element into the intensive research work that is prerequisite to even a suppositional appeal.

At last month's hearings there sat as chief justice of the court Dr. A. B. Butts, chancellor of the university, professor of law, and, not least, an honored brother in the Lamar Chapter. It is believed that the appellate jurisdiction could not have been more instructively wielded by any court of the land. In accustoming the student participants to the atmosphere of a high court, and in promoting their knowledge both of the state code and the common law, this appellate work will, it is evident, be of real practice service.

The Lamar Chapter would very much like to learn of any plans which other chapters may be following with a similar aim of practical preparation for lawyers-to-be. For in the fraternal co-operation of men working toward the same high goal, in the spirit of PAD, there lies doubtless, the royal road to achievement both for individual lawyers and for the legal profession.

University of Chicago

■ As rushing season draws to a close, Marshall Chapter is pleased to announce that it has maintained its tradition of pledging the ten best men in the first year class.

Brother Kenneth Black has been elected to the editorial board of the Law Review. As reported in the last issue, Brother Robert Morgan is Case Note Editor of the Review. Brothers Donald Morgan and Robert Haythorne are competitors from the second year class who are being considered for membership on the board. Brother Frank Gibson has been elected Treasurer of the School Bar Association.

The chapter was glad to welcome Brother Supreme Marshal Bill O'Shea to a recent meeting. The chapter hereby extends an invitation to all of its former members to pay us a visit.

Other chapters will be interested to know that Marshall Chapter is offering its finest in sending Brother Howard Voss to the National Convention in Washington. Brothers of Phi Alpha Delta, meet Brother Voss.

RAPALLO

New York University

■ A series of events heralded the last semester. The first event on the program was a smoker for the freshmen. This was followed by a party at the Midston House which was given by the Active and Alumni Chapters. Each Monday meetings were held at the Holly Hotel, with pledges as guests.

Chapter activities include a program arranged by upper classmen who gave a series of lectures to the pledges on "How to Use Law Books." Brother Joe Fitzpatrick gave a number of lectures on the legal histories of the United States and Great Britain. Brother Allen Madavan represented the chapter on the Law Quarterly Review.

A number of prominent PAD alumni attended many of the meetings and gave interesting talks on various aspects of the law.

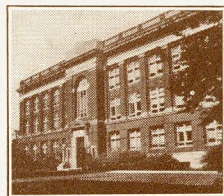

REESE

University of Nebraska

■ Nineteen active members and thirteen pledges, all energetic, started Reese Chapter off to a big year. The first PAD house party was held on November 14th, the eve of the Pittsburgh-Nebraska football game. Many alumni attended. The affair was a great success and was under the direction of Brother Moses. Freshmen of the law school were entertained at a smoker on October 4th. Members of the faculty and PAD alumni were guest speakers.

The chapter was very proud of the grades made at the end of the last semester. PAD's high scholarship standards were maintained. Brother Olsson, second man in the senior class, is now head librarian and also teaches legal bibliography. He was elected President of the senior class. Brother Munson and Pledge Persons made first and second in the junior class. Brothers

McMillan and Moses were in the first six.

Almost all of the brothers and pledges are active in scholastic and campus affairs. The chapter has never been better represented throughout the school.

Much satisfaction has been expressed with the new chapter house, especially since it is located only two blocks from the campus. Budding lawyers became day laborers for a little while and assisted with the cleaning, painting and repairing of the new quarters.

Social event of the season is the formal party planned for the evening of December 5, at the Hotel Cornhusker. One of the best orchestras of the region has been engaged for the dancing.

ROSS

University of Southern California

■ There are now a group of thirty Ross Chapter neophytes wearing the purple and gold. Of that group John Frost and Bill Kistinger were elected President and Secretary-Treasurer respectively of the Freshman Law class. Active members elected to school offices were Howard Patrick, President of Junior class and Leroy Pace, Bar-Governor of the Senior class.

But such a large and imposing list of new pledges was not without the willing help of the alumni of Los Angeles actively taking a part in rushing by giving a banquet in a downtown club in collaboration with the active chapter. The dinner was of special occasion in honoring the elevation of "Doug" Edmonds to justiceship if the State Supreme Court and honoring Paul Vallee as one of the new members of the Board of Governors. Al Stephens, active chapter member and son of Albert Lee Stephens, PAD, and United States District Court judge, worked out a plan with Brother Dowell whereby the Los Angeles Daily Journal put out a "PAD Extra" for the night of the banquet, with pictures and achievements of the more notable members — an inspiring "ad" for Phi Alpha Delta and a convincing argument to rushees that our fraternity stands only at the top of the legal profession. And speaking of alumni, there is a word or two we might say concerning a few of the younger members of that group:

The firm of Koos and Lindstrom, graduates of 1936, is thriving they say. Cases: one. Cases won: none. Cases lost: none. Their motto is "never do more than one thing at a time." Armond Jewell received his first fee in advance the other day. Jewell advises that a young attorney starting practice in Los Angeles, should know his domestic relations. Dick Yeamens and Bob Vandegrift, now both married (each has a wife) are in the trust department of the Bank of America; and I trust we can bank on both brothers to go far in law. And now to the campus of the U.S.C. Law School where five professors are Phi Alpha Deltas!

Professor Burby, property law expert, has a hard time explaining easements when a half a dozen cars with blaring horns try to awaken the morning classes by racing up and down University Ave. Comment by Burby was that abuse of the privilege of easement is not altogether too uncommon. And now a cheer for our five fine Profs.

University of Wisconsin

■ Upon the opening of school in September the first task that confronted the members of Ryan Chapter was that of changing the location of the club rooms. Excellent accommodations were found in the Commercial National Bank Building, and the furniture and library were moved to these new quarters with greatest dispatch.

The chapter voted unanimously to continue the policy inaugurated last year of holding weekly dinner meetings at which time various professors and members of the bench and bar are invited to speak. These meetings have proved to be not only entertaining and beneficial but also have proved to be a great aid in the securing of new pledges. This is manifested by the ever increasing number in the pledge enrollment. A record initiation is planned early in December.

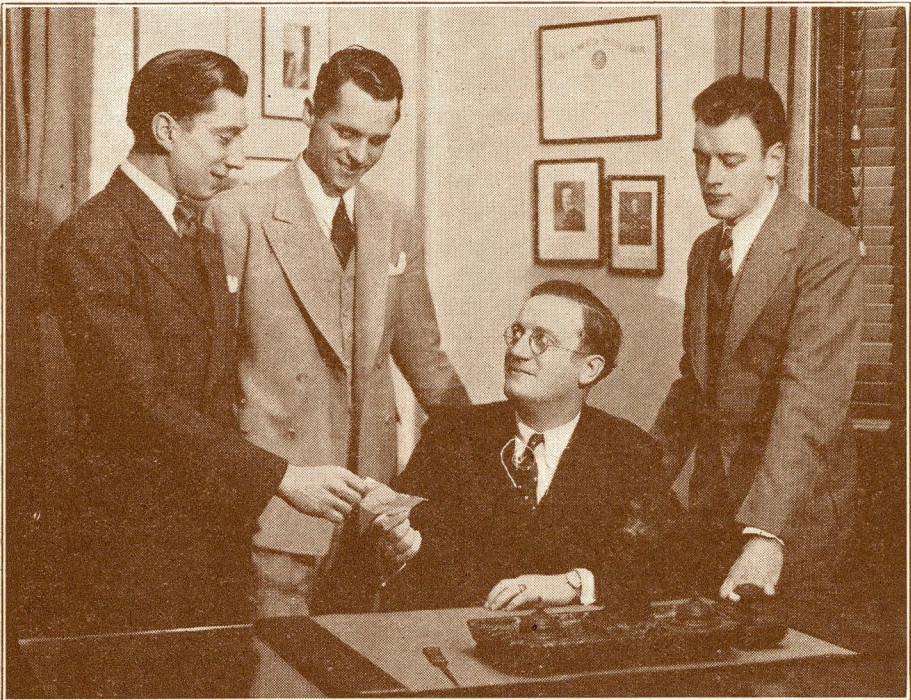

The ancient and burning rivalry between the PADs and the Phi Delta Phi law fraternity was revived once again this fall. Two well drilled touch football teams of these respective fraternities met upon the gridiron and there waged a furious and inspired battle. Only the greater precision, speed and finesse allowed the PADs to emerge the victor by the score of 8 to 0.

Delegates have already been selected for the nation PAD Convention. Ryan Chapter will be capably represented by Lawrence Birge. Leo Fox has been selected as alternate. It is the hope of the chapter that our delegate may return from the convention with such ideas and plans as will go to make 1937 a banner PAD year at Wisconsin.

STORY

De Paul University

■ Story Chapter looks forward to the ensuing year being one of the most successful since it was founded.

To advance the prestige of the Fraternity at the University the Chapter donated a PAD Scholarship Award open to all De Paul students. The picture with this article shows the actual presentation ceremony with Justice Albert Chiappe, Vice-Justice Jack King, Treasurer Phil Ryan and Dean Clarke officiating.

The pledging season opened with a Joint Smoker at the Hamilton Club under the direct sponsorship of the Alumni Chapter headed by Raymond Stern. The smoker served to accomplish one of the major objectives of this year's program that is, to familiarize its members with fields wherein the knowledge of Law is a requirement or a decided asset. Recent records indicate that a large percentage of students do not go into the actual practice of Law. One of the most interesting talks was that of D. M. Ladd, Chicago Department of Justice Head, who brought the audience to its feet by his exceptional presentation of the requirement of this branch of the government service and of dramatic experiences which occurred to the "G" men in their tracking down of public enemies.

A great deal of credit for the success of the rushing season was due to the efforts of the membership committee which included Brother Becker, Ward, Davis, Noeland and Mills. Story Chapter had the privilege of having Supreme Justice William Culbertson, Dean Taft and Judge Jonas as guests of honor for the formal initiation.

A unanimous resolution was passed to express the sincerest appreciation to the three PAD faculty members Messrs. Cherry, Pulaski and McCabe for the invaluable assistance they have rendered this semester.

TAFT

Georgetown University

■ The results of the District of Columbia Bar examination, held June 18, 19 and 20, demonstrated the caliber of men who are now members of Taft Chapter. The following brothers, having completed three of their four year course, were successful in passing the Bar, viz., Callinan, Cawley, Chadwick, McMillan, and O'Connor. Special mention should be made of Brother Al Monacelli who passed the Bar examination with but two years of study at Georgetown and one year's credit as clerk in a law office. Brother Bill O'Connor distinguished himself very nobly in winning a gold medal for his thesis on legal ethics in competition with every member of his own as well as the graduating class of 1936.

With the resumption of school, congratulations were extended to Brother Don Griffin upon his marriage September 1.

With reference to activities for the coming year, arrangements have been made to hold a smoker at the Hay-Adams House, Friday, October 16, at which time the brothers will introduce prospective pledgees. The brothers anticipate a most interesting and enjoyable evening in view of the fact that several prominent members of the Fraternity have accepted invitations to attend.

On Sunday, October 25, Brother Chadwick is giving an oyster roast for the Chapter at his summer home at Seneca Lake. Although at present there is some doubt as to the feasibility of holding a meeting combined with an oyster roast, the necessary details are being worked out so that all formality will be preserved.

Incidentally, at the first meeting of the Chapter on September 24, Brother Joe Carey was kind enough to appear and acquaint the members of Taft with the plans in view for the forthcoming National Convention. Assurance was given Brother Carey that each and every member of Taft can be expected and relied upon to co-operate in making this a memorable occasion. The brothers desire to convey a cordial invitation to their fellow members of Phi Alpha Delta to call upon them at any time that they may be in Washington.

TEMPLE

Hastings College of Law

■ Jackson Temple Chapter is filled with enthusiasm and looking forward to a successful semester. With the beginning of the season all activities were well and energetically attended. A busy rushing season marked the opening gun of fall. Seven or eight luncheons were held in rapid succession. Among the honored guests who attended the luncheons and materially aided the rushing program were Professor of Law Brother James Ballentine; Lionel Browne, the great portrayer of Japanese moments of discomposure; Brother Deeds, who told of his adventures as a Special Agent of the government; Justice Goodell, of the Superior Court; Dean Simmons, master of the law school; and Supreme Secretary Frank M. Ludwick. Brother Professor Dave Snodgrass was ever present offering aid and suggestions.

One of the most successful parties of the season was a combination beer-bust and luncheon held at a German Hall with entertainment and music. On November 6, impressive initiation ceremonies were held in the offices of the Railroad Commission at the State Building. This was followed by an evening of dancing at one of San Francisco's most popular cafes. The new men initiated were Neil Godfrey, Robert Litts, E. L. Smith, Louis Gripenstraw, William Boggs, Russell Cross, Wyman Knapp, Glenn Burbank, Frank Bottaro, Arthur Wahlberg and Milton Huber.

WATSON

University of Pittsburgh

■ Watson Chapter wishes to announce the initiation on Sept. 21 of brothers Lewis, Moore, Irwin, Marion, Fischer, Luce and Best. This list completes the revival of the Watson Chapter and places it again where it properly belongs as the strongest law fraternity in the University of Pittsburgh Law School. One year ago due to the heavy graduation losses, the chapter consisted of one senior and three second year men. It was a choice of either intense activity or ceasing to exist as a Phi Alpha Delta Chapter. A rushing program was begun and fortunately the visit of Supreme Secretary Ludwick coincided with the first event of the series. With the start he gave the chapter and the drive of Justice Dreher aided by the few actives, twelve men were pledged, and are now all active members.

The present school year began under much more auspicious circumstances. All actives and pledges returned to school. An elaborate rushing program was planned consisting of a smoker for a selected group of first year men held in the Cardinal room of the William Penn Hotel. The second event was a moot court trial which had been in process of preparation during the entire summer, and, as a result, the opposing counsel, Petrillo and Husband, conducted one of the smoothest trials in the history of the fraternity. The closing event was a banquet for a greatly narrowed group of first year men held at the Yale, Harvard, Princeton Club. As a result of this program every prospect bid was pledged, and Watson Chapter takes pleasure in announcing that its bids have been accepted by 15 first year men.

On October 24, the night of the Pitt-Notre Dame game the chapter held a formal dance at the Yale, Harvard Princeton Club, at which Stan Chester's orchestra played. The dance was attended by some 30 actives and pledges, and came to an end acknowledged to have been the most successful social affair conducted by the chapter in recent years. In accordance with the program announced at the end of last year, the chapter has revived the inter-fraternity moot courts. The first one to held in the last six years between University of Pittsburgh Law fraternities was brought about under the auspices of the chapter. Tau Epsilon Rho furnished the opposition and the case was well argued on both sides, but evidently the Watson chapters representatives, Brothers Page and Lewis, had a slight edge for the final decision was in their favor. Further inter-fraternity arguments are planned during the remainder of the year and in addition each active will take part in at least one moot court on an intra-fraternity schedule which is now being made up.

As an integral part of its program the chapter has arranged a three point program for the assistance of the first year men. Study groups have already been organized under the auspices of the fraternity, and at the sessions one upper classman will be present to supervise the review and settle its problems. Prior to examinations, review courses will be taught by the honor men of the fraternity and an intensive lecture on methods of examination writing will be given daily a few weeks before the mid-year examinations.

Brother Schreiner achieved an average sufficient to earn him a place on the University of Pittsburgh Law Review, where he will join the chapter's two other representatives, Brothers Irwin and Kenney.

WILLEY CHAPTER

University of West Virginia

■ The plans for renting a house for the ensuing year burst its bubble and once more activities are confined to semi-monthly banquet meetings. Judging from the full attendance at these functions, the boys are imbued with a fuller appreciation of the brotherhood found in fraternal organization. This group of seventeen, thirteen active and four pladges is by far the most cooperative in years.

Of the eleven members of the West Virginia Law Quarterly student staff, six are affiliated with Phi Alpha Delta. These are Brothers Lugar, Peairs, Carrigan, and McClure; and Pledges Ross and Walkup of whom the first two are Editor and Secretary, respectively. Brother Lugar is also President of the Law Student Body, and Brother Carrigan is Permanent Secretary-Treasurer of the present Senior Class. Pledge Bibbee is the president of his self-organized "Tall Tale Tellers' Tavern" where the boys are "Ale Right." He won recognition throughout the law school by relating "The Story My Grandfather Never Told Me."

Banquet speakers so far this year have been P. T. Hadman, Dean of West Virginia Law School; J. P. Shale, Justice of Peace at Morgantown, W. Va.; and E. C. Dickinson, sponsor of Willey Chapter and member of the Law School Faculty.

Brothers Carrigan and Lugar were chosen as delegate and first alternate to the National Convention. Both boys plan on attending the sessions.

On November 21, an initiation will be held for Pledges Ross, Baer, Bibbee, and Walkup, and from then on till the next semester a solid group of actives will concentrate on the selection of like-ly pledges from the first and second year class. The annual Christmas party is being arranged by these four pledges. Faculty members and their families will be invited.

CONVENTION INFORMATION

By FRANK M. LUDWICK

Supreme Secretary

The 24th Biennial Convention of our Fraternity will be called to order at Washington, D. C., at 10 a. m., December 29th, 1936, and will be in session for three days.

Our By-Laws provide that the delegates and alternates shall be elected at least thirty days prior to convention; that the first delegate from an active chapter shall be a junior in the law school (thus assuring at almost all times the presence in the chapter of a member who has had the benefit of National Convention experience) and the second delegate must have at least six months additional college work after convention; that the delegates elected to convention as members of the Supreme Chapter shall hold office for two years and until their successors are elected and qualified that their credentials duly certified by the Supreme Secretary shall be presented to the Convention; that the Supreme Secretary shall pay the necessary traveling and hotel expense of but one delegate from each active chapter; and that no chapter shall be entitled to have its delegates seated if it shall have failed to pay any part of its obligations to the Supreme Secretary, has failed to furnish any reports required or has failed to secure the Supreme Secretary's certification of Convention credentials.

You have heretofore been furnished the necessary credential blanks. These should be prepared and forwarded to the Supreme Secretary immediately accompanied by any reports or fees now due.

Attached hereto is a chart showing the actual amount the first accredited delegate from each chapter will receive. The table worked out will cover the expenses of delegates from the Western states to Chicago by rail, intermediate class, lower berth, to Chicago and for all delegates first class East of Chicago, upper berth where Pullman is required.

The amounts are figured to cover a meal allowance of $1.00 per day enroute, hotel in Washington, D. C. (The Mayflower Hotel, Washington's best) at a special rate of $3.00 per day, two delegates in a room, with twin beds and bath; meals in Washington $2.25 per day for two days and $1.25 per day for one day—the day on which the banquet is held.

This table will enable second and alternate delegates, as well as alumni chapter delegates, to determine what it will cost them to attend. While expenses will be paid to one delegate from each collegiate chapter, there is, of course, no objection to delegates pooling the expense money if desired. Delegates must be prepared to finance themselves until the second day of convention. No delegate will be entitled to expenses unless he is in his seat on time and during all business sessions unless excused by the Supreme Justice.

Arrangements have been made for the Mayflower Hotel to cash expense checks.

A special Pullman will leave Ogden, Utah, at 8 p.m. Saturday, December 26th on The Challenger. It is hoped that delegates from Ross, Temple, Field and Sutherland Chapters will make reservations thereon. Delegates from Williams, Dunbar, Kent, Hughes and Gunter should join at Cheyenne at 8:20 a.m. Sunday, December 27th. This train will arrive at Omaha at 8:05 p.m. Sunday, December 27th, at Ames, Iowa, at 12 midnight on Sunday, December 27th and in Chicago 8:42 a.m. Monday, December 28th. All delegates who can join this special should make reservations and advise this office. We should be advised immediately if delegates expect to avail themselves of this service. Pacific Coast delegates will leave Chicago on the Baltimore and Ohio at 2:50 p.m. Monday, December 28th. All Western and Midwestern delegates should converge at that point if possible and other delegates should arrange, if possible, to pick up that train on its way East. The train will arrive in Washington at 8:42 a.m. Tuesday, December 29th.

No provision is made for tips nor for the registration fee which all delegates, National officers and guests will be required to pay. This fee will be $10.00 each for delegates, alternate delegates and guests from collegiate chapters and $15.00 each for National and District officers and Alumni delegates and guests. It covers all of the social affairs at convention, including smoker, banquet and supper for guests and ladies at the New Year's Ball. With the splendid program planned this registration fee will leave a substantial deficit which is being assumed by our Washington hosts.

Delegates and guests who wish dates for the New Year's Ball should immediately notify the Convention Chairman Joseph A. Carey, Securities Building, Washington, D. C. Better not delay as the first requests will probably get Joe's best numbers. It will help if you indicate whether you want one tall, short, slim or fat, etc.

Chapters should immediately advise this office of any business they desire placed upon the agenda for discussion or action.

Write the office of the Supreme Secretary if additional information is needed.

Consensus on Reform of Sensational Reporting

Editor's Note: The following report, taken from the Journal of the American Judicature Society, will undoubtedly be of considerable interest to our members on account of the activity of the Fraternity in sponsoring a reform of sensational reporting.

The last session before dissolution, of the Conference of Bar Association Delegates, was one of the most impressive of those held in its twenty years' existence. Chairman E. Smythe Gambrell had arranged, as the major feature of the session, addresses on the subject of improper reporting of court trials, with (former) Judge Thomas D. Thacher, Mr. Frank Hogan, and Sir Willmott Lewis as speakers, and in the order named.

Notwithstanding the interest attaching to these three addresses, this Journal is obliged to forego a complete report for the usual reason. The choice is made of giving the substance of Judge Thacher's and Mr. Hogan's addresses. * * * This is the best that can be done within our space limits. * * *

Judge Thacher set forth a constructive program. He declared that action must be taken swiftly before the reaction to the Hauptman trial has waned. This action should take the course of developing understanding of needs and resources on the part of both lawyers and newspaper men, leading before long to a conference between the representatives of bar and press, where a consensus should be reached. There should be at the same time as much education of public opinion as the self-respecting newspapers may accomplish. But this is to be, not an end, but only a foundation for bar influence directed toward judges for the purpose of stimulating their courage and sense of public responsibility.

For the key to the situation resides in the judges, individually. The speaker related at sufficient length the temptations which embroil judges, prosecutors, court and police officers, and the owners and editors of newspapers. There was no suggestion that these temptations could be exercised, at least without first an exercise of the powers undoubtedly residing in the law. But the Judge spoke with some confidence of the prospects for cooperation on the part of a large share of important newspapers.

As to the power of judges to vindicate their courts, it was declared emphatically, that the law in this country is in every way sufficient, and equal to the English law. Having first recounted numerous instances of punishment for contempt, with references to the nature of the wrongful utterances, under English administration of justice, he almost matched these with like judgments in American courts. (Unfortunately, citations were not included).

There has been no more emphatic condemnation of the Hauptman trial than that given in this address. Whether true or not, certain papers led their readers to believe that lawyers for both state and respondent, had made freely, and for effect on the public mind, most outrageous statements. One paper presented a verdict of guilty rendered by a jury picked up on the streets by its reporters.

"I think, as you think, that the publicity attendant upon trials of sensational cases reached the point in this country long, long ago, where it became a menace to the administration of justice.

"But I have no faith in our ability to correct it."

Such a gambit naturally caught the attention of Mr. Hogan's large audience. His easy manner, fluent speech and apparent candor assisted in keeping that attention throughout. Readers who have not heard this celebrated forum orator should know that he has the charm of appearance and simplicity and directness of speech which makes him one of the leading jury pleaders of the nation.

A principal reason why he could see no chance for reform was the fact (assuming it to be a fact) that one New York paper "increased its daily circulation by more than 570,000 copies" during the Hauptman trial. "That is the chief reason," he stated, "for my saying we are not justified in expecting the newspapers to voluntarily discontinue that sort of sensational publicity. It increases circulation. The Saturday Evening Post editorially expressed the thought in one line: 'It sells newspapers.'"

But the speaker's reported text does not justify Sir Willmott Lewis' reference to Mr. Hogan as an "arch pessimist." He only said that the press could not be expected to surrender its pet "voluntarily." And, continuing, he made the usual analysis.

"Where, then, do I think the vice rests, and the remedy, if there is any remedy, must be found? First, with the government, whether it be state or national. Secondly, with the bar. Thirdly, and most important of all, with the courts.

"I not only assert that the remedy lies with the courts, but I submit to you that the vicious situation which exists today is due to the lack of courage of many trial judges."

And here the speaker received hearty applause.

From this point the address was devoted to "the art of propaganda as now practiced by government." The art did not start recently, but has been used by every administration since the War, and has reached a peak in the last three years. Every department in Washington has its expert publicity agents. This is not, of course, directly in point, but soon Mr. Hogan accused the department of justice of employing an expert publicist to put out openly official "publicity relating to cases in which the government appeared on one side and citizens—your client and mine—were on the other side."

The speaker identified himself as one who defended prosecutions in the "oil lease," or Teapot Dome scandal, and later told of his defense in the litigation over the Mellon income taxes. He directly charged that the "executive assistant to the attorney general" obtained publication in the press of articles which "played up officials who are handling the case." These articles, he said, "create an atmosphere into which you have to go with your clients . . . to battle with the government."

With considerable detail the charges were pressed, involving also a member of the United States Senate, who by a radio speech, demanded indictment in the Teapot Dome affair. In conclusion the speaker urged definite action by the bar.

"And so I repeat that the courts are at fault. To meet this problem more legislation is not required. The inherent power of courts of justice, if courageously, impartially and firmly exercised by the contempt process, which does not interfere with freedom of the press and which does not set up a censorship, but which deals only with wrongs after the wrongs have been committed, is all sufficient for the purpose. If we make the judges see that they have ample power and that power must be exercised, then, but only then, will present conditions improve."
