The Supreme Secretary shall keep a permanent record of all such suspensions or expulsions and shall submit to subsequent meetings of the Supreme Executive Board for its approval all interim suspensions or expulsions.

History of Phi Alpha Delta

Late in the nineties of the last century there was formed at Chicago College of Law, now Chicago-Kent College of Law, an informal organization of law students whose right to admission to the bar of Illinois was jeopardized by drastic changes in certain rules of the Supreme Court of the state. This body of students soon joined similar groups from the other law schools of the city and formed the Law Students League to obtain consideration for those who had actually begun the study of law before the adoption of the new rules.

The Law Students League was an aggressive organization and did secure such changes in the rule that no student was deprived of an opportunity to take the state bar examinations, and it was but natural that among many from the different schools, who for a long time had come into almost daily contact while working toward a common end, there were formed friendships that could not be severed.

The Law Students' League failed in its undertaking, but between many from different institutions, who for a long time had come into almost daily contact, there were formed friendships that could not be severed, and it seems natural that the organization of a fraternity should have been suggested; and even before it could be predicted whether the league would succeed or fail, Lambda Epsilon was founded.

Lambda Epsilon was born twins, there being two chapters, neither of which can properly pretend to be the elder, Blackstone Chapter of Chicago College of Law, and Kent Chapter of Kent College of Law, both evening schools. Kent College of Law later consolidated with, or was absorbed by,

Chicago College of Law, the new school taking the name Chicago-Kent College of Law, and Kent Chapter losing its identity in Blackstone Chapter. These two chapters organized a Grand Chapter which was a peculiarly organized body, whose membership was not to be altered until there should be twelve subordinate chapters.

Shortly after the new fraternity was formed, it began to grow, and soon Story Chapter was organized at Illinois College of Law. So quietly was this work done and so truly secret was the society that the very existence of Story Chapter was unknown to the authorities and students at Illinois College of Law for many years.

The founders of Lambda Epsilon undoubtedly meant to establish a fraternity, but unfortunately their fears that the organization might pass into the control of those who might not have the same lofty ideals, or their ambition to be known as the fathers of what they hoped would be, and what has since come to be, the greatest law fraternity in the world, led them into errors which it was not possible to correct, and which finally led to rebellion by the new Chapter Story, whose members would not submit to being without a voice in the government of the fraternity, and in October, 1899, Bros. John A. Brown, Shelly B. Neltor and Harry Otto Rhodes were appointed a committee to call upon the Grand Chapter and "find out what was being done about a convention." Although the Constitution expressly forbade the holding of any convention at that time, Brothers Brown, Neltor and Rhodes seem to have impressed the Grand Chapter, for we find that within the next month a call was issued for the "First Biennial Convention" to be held in Chicago, December

4 to 9 inclusive. The purpose of the convention as stated in the call, was to adopt a new constitution, elect officers of the Grand Chapter, and transact such other business as might come before the convention. The officers of the Grand Chapter and six delegates from each chapter composed the convention.

Attached to the call for the convention are signatures of the following members of Phi Alpha Delta:

Arthur C. Fort, Right Honorable Chief Justice.

H. J. Flusch, Right Honorable Custodian of the Rolls.

Charles R. Powell, Right Honorable High Sheriff.

Asahel W. Gage, Right Honorable High Bailiff.

Bro. Chester W. Church was elected chairman, and Bro. E. N. Sherburne, secretary, of this convention, and although by comparison with our present constitution the one then proposed seems quite simple and explicit, and in spite of the earnest endeavors of all the delegates and officers of the Grand Chapter, the convention after the five stormy days of its existence, accomplished nothing except to antagonize those who ought to have been united. After the convention the Grand Chapter succeeded in restoring harmony, chiefly by promises of a new convention, the calling of which, however, was delayed for a year and a half, when the "Second Biennial Convention" was called to meet at Round Lake, Grays Lake Station, Wisconsin, in the latter part of June, 1901.

During the interim between the first and second conventions the officers of the Grand Chapter had not been idle, but had established a new chapter, Fuller at Northwestern University Law School, the organization of which, the first chapter in a university, was considered by the Grand Officers something to be proud of, all the chapters before that time having been at law schools commonly referred to as independent, that is, not affiliated with any university. Chicago-Kent later became the law department of Lake Forest University.

The officers of the second convention were Joseph P. McGoorty, Chairman, and Paul C. Meier, Secretary, and little, if anything, was accomplished, due perhaps to the fine fishing, boating, and bathing, no less than to the attractions of nearby country dances. The delegates were accommodated in several tents from which they were frequently driven by the intense heat and ravenous mosquitos, resulting in many "wild night rides through the forest." A suggestion to publish a fraternity paper was defeated.

At the adjourned meeting of the convention, held in Chicago, absolutely no action was taken on proposed amendments to the constitution, those present feeling that there was something wrong with Lambda Epsilon, though none seemed to know the real trouble, and consequently no one could suggest a remedy, though there was some talk of reorganizing and "going about it differently," a number of the Grand Officers themselves feeling that the organization was not a "real" fraternity.

During the winter following the second convention the Right Honorable High Bailiff published a directory, the first attempted, containing the names and addresses of one hundred fifteen members, which was considered quite a number.

The Grand Chapter, being the third of Lambda Epsilon, although somewhat discouraged with the condition of the fraternity, did not fail to exert itself to the utmost in an endeavor to revive and stimulate the growth of the society. A new chapter was organized, Daniel Webster at Chicago Law School, and the Grand Officers frequently visited the subordinate chapters to encourage and advise, while trying to discover what was the matter with the organization, without, however, either encouraging or learning. Something surely was wrong, and it would require a good doctor and heroic treatment to keep Lambda Epsilon alive, so that it was without hope the call for another convention was issued to meet at the City of South Haven, Michigan, July 26, 1902, and from day to day until it should adjourn. Convention headquarters were at the "Colonial Tavern" and meetings held in the cupola of a small tower above the building, the hottest place in all creation, and admirably suited to the work in hand. The delegates and others present were: Alfred Thompkins, Sidney B. Meyer, Shelley B. Neltnor, George B. Watson, A. F. Holste, Mark H. Bell, M. B. Schuster, Fred L. Nees, Simon T. Sutton, Asahel W. Gage, Elias Mayer, E. G. Henkel, E. N. Sherburne, Roland M. Hollock, Paul C. Meier, H. W. Bloomington, J. M. Prentiss, Charles L. Daly, James R. Garrett.

It was Sunday morning, July 27, 1902 before the convention organized by electing Roland M. Hollock, Chairman and Simon T. Sutton, Secretary.

The spirit of dissatisfaction had spread since the last convention; every delegate was prepared for something radical, and no one hesitated to express himself without reserve. After many speeches had been made a resolution dissolving Lambda Epsilon was unanimously adopted. The result, of course, was that those present immediately ceased to be delegates, no longer belonged to any law fraternity and were simply attending a meeting of lawyers and students.

What to do now was a question, to abandon any attempt to have a fraternity was not to be considered, but the next step to take was a serious matter. A committee was appointed to suggest a method of procedure and in passing it may be stated that this committee held its sessions in the bridal chamber of the hotel. After some discussion, the committee prepared and submitted what were called "Articles of Organization" for an association to be composed of the men who subscribed thereto, and such other white men as might be invited by name by the directors. The officers were to be a President, a Secretary, and a Treasurer, and there was to be elected a Board of Directors composed of the officers and three others. The Board of Directors were required to submit a constitution and recommend a name and a plan of organization providing for the establishment of branches in the law schools of America. It was provided that only graduates or students at law should be eligible to membership.

Thus did Lambda Epsilon, with all its troubles, finally cease to struggle and passed out of existence. But it had not lived in vain, for it is only reasonable to say that but for the organization of Lambda Epsilon, Phi Alpha Delta would not have been born.

A new fraternity had been born, but it was truly an infant, unable to stand, being without even a name, and it required the tenderest care to insure its growth and strength. All that had been done was to be done again, but those who were entrusted with the labor of developing the temporary organization, and making of it a true fraternity, were willing to devote themselves to the task. They worked night and day for more than three months, when finally the signers of the South Haven Articles of organization, and a number of other former members of Lambda Epsilon, were called to attend a meeting in the gold room of De Jonghe's on Monroe Street, Chicago, on November 8, 1902, when there was submitted a comprehensive plan for governing the new fraternity. There was organized a "National Council," composed of two representatives from each chapter, and having full authority to act for the fraternity during the interim between conventions, which were thereafter to be held annually. The National Officers were elected by the National Council from among its members. The name of Phi Alpha Delta was chosen and the first national officers were elected:

Roland M. Hollock, Chief Justice.

John P. Floan, Vice Chief Justice.

Simon T. Sutton, Recorder.

Herbert W. Bloomington, National Treasurer.

The officers of the new fraternity were industrious, for scarcely had the organization been completed, when John Marshall Chapter was formed at the University of Chicago, which institution had just opened its law school; in fact, the colors and emblems of the fraternity had not yet been adopted when, on November 20, 1902, the charter was issued to the first new chapter in Phi Alpha Delta, the Bros. John C. Witt and William G. Bopp from Marshall were required to assume a part of the work still to be done. The charter members were: William Rudolph Kearcher, William George Bopp, Charles N. Caldwell, William Haines Fielding, John C. Witt, Verne Adrian McGeorge, Leon Kline, Alden Rhodes Hicks.

At the end of the first year Phi Alpha Delta was established as Lambda Epsilon could never have hoped to be. Many of the former members were not invited to join the new fraternity. Everything was harmony and enthusiasm, and there was present only a desire to do that which would be for the best interests of the organization, for already it was felt that, rightly managed and properly organized, here was the beginning of a professional fraternity that would in time take its place as first.

The first National Council realized that after it had established chapters in the law schools of Chicago, its most important work was to give the fraternity a good constitution, one which would give every chapter a voice in the government of Phi Alpha Delta, so after John Marshall Chapter was admitted the National Council applied to drafting a constitution that would have some chance of being adopted at the next convention.

The fourth convention was held at Pistakee Bay, Fox Lake Station, Illinois, and to it was referred the task of providing the fraternity with a form of government that would permit a natural and healthy extension as contemplated by the articles of organization. The convention, unable to finish the work in the time at its disposal, appointed Bros. John A. Brown, Robert E. O'Brien, Charles L. Daly, Lewis C. Garver and Paul C. Meier a committee to revise the constitution and report at an adjourned meeting of the convention to be held in Chicago.

Pending the report of the Constitution Revision Committee, the National Council deferred election of National Officers, and organized by electing John C. Witt, Acting Chief Justice, and Paul C. Meier, acting Recorder.

The Constitutional Revision Committee held many meetings during the fall of 1903, and it was late in the year when the fourth convention was again called to order, this time in the Northwestern University Building, Clark and Lake Streets, Chicago, where the recommendations of the committee were gone over section by section, and a constitution finally adopted.

After this Constitution had been adopted the National Council permanently organized by electing the following National Officers: William C. Healion, Chief Justice; Paul C. Meier, Vice Chief Justice; Hugo L. Pitte, Recorder; Robert E. O'Brien, National Financial Secretary; and August H. Schroth, National Treasurer. The other members of the National Council were John C. Witt, Charles L. Daly, Julius R. Klein, Thomas P. Octigan, and Lewis C. Garver.

It was during this administration that the first chapters not in Chicago were organized, Ryan Chapter at the University of Wisconsin, March 11, 1904, with charter members as follows: Julius Paul Frank, James Blain Graham, William John Hagenah, Charles Harry Stone, William Wallace Storms, Clifford Ellsworth Randall, Arthur Charles Taylor, James E. Thomas, Waldemar Carl Wehe, Morris Evans Yager and Magruder Chapter at the University of Illinois, also on March 11, 1904, with the following petitioners: Andrew E. Tracey, LeRoy Kershaw, Bartlett S. Gray, Cloyd E. Keith, Richard P. Vickrage, Glen J. Cameron, George M. Clendenin.

These chapters were installed in Chicago, the occasion being made a gala one, concluding with a banquet at Kinsley's where Bro. G. G. Schmitt of Marshall Chapter was presented with a jeweled Phi Alpha Delta watch fob, the first made, in recognition of his work in organizing Ryan Chapter. Brother Schmitt later did excellent work in interesting students at the University of Michigan, and also had no small share in the organization of William Chapter. An effort was made to secure a chapter at the University of Michigan, but without success. It was during this administration also that much work was done in the way of securing information that might lead to the installing of chapters at the greater universities, and at the next convention, being the fifth, seven chapters were represented.

At the fifth convention the constitution was again changed, and the National Council was abolished, the National officers being elected by the annual convention. The National Officers were elected, being Waldemar C. Wehe, Chief Justice; George M. Clendenin, Vice Chief Justice; Lewis C. Garver, Recorder; Charles L. Daly, National Financial Secretary; August H. Schroth, National Treasurer. Brother Schroth resigned the office of National Treasurer in December, 1904, and Paul C. Meier was appointed by the Chief Justice to act as National Treasurer until the next convention.

With the assistance of Bro. G. G. Schmitt of Marshall Chapter, another effort was made to establish a chapter at the University of Michigan, this time with success, and James V. Campbell Chapter was installed on November 11, 1905, with seven charter members; Paul W. Boehm, Clark B. Montgomery, Harry F. Hamlin, Clark A. McMillen, Homer G. White, Henry Miltner, E. M. Halliday, making eight chapters represented at the next convention.

The sixth convention was held in Chicago, at the Northwestern University Building, on July 21, 1905, and for the first time in the history of the Fraternity there was no revision of the constitution, there being only a few unimportant amendments. The officers elected by this convention were: Paul C. Meier, Chief Justice; Paul W. Boehm, Vice Chief Justice; Thomas P. Octigan, Recorder; Edward L. McConaughty, National Financial Secretary, and Charles E. Varley, National Treasurer, who held office for eight months only, the constitution having been so changed that thereafter the terms of the National Officers should begin on June 1. August H. Garland Chapter at the University of Arkansas was organized at Little Rock, Arkansas, on April 28, 1906, with eight charter members: Fred Clark Jacobs, Thomas O. Summers, James Kirby Riffel, William Russell Rose, Harry C. Hale, Horace Earle Rouse, Ashbel Webster Dobyns, John Bruce Cox. And on June 16, 1906, the same officers with the assistance of Bro. Eugene Lippincott of Marshall Chapter, who rendered valuable assistance in the work of organizing, installed John Hay Chapter at Western Reserve University at Cleveland, Ohio, with five charter members: Paul DeShaw Knight, Walter H. Cook, Joseph I. Eagleson, Willis R. Godfrey, Cleaveland R. Cross.

The organization of Hay and Garland Chapters was far from the home of the Fraternity, and the expense of organizing and installing the chapters necessitated the greatest expenditure of money the Fraternity had known up to that time, so that it was greatly in need of funds, and it became necessary for the National Officers to use influence in order to secure half rate tickets when installing new chapters thereby saving the Fraternity Treasury.

At the seventh convention held at the Sherman House in Chicago on May 5, 1906, the subject of a Fraternity magazine was again brought forward, and the Chief Justice, as ex-officio chairman of the convention, appointed Bros. Charles H. Wilber, Richard J. Finnegan and W. Crown Smith, a Board of Editors to establish a Phi Alpha Delta Quarterly magazine. This was the first determined effort to publish a Phi Alpha Delta paper, and was the beginning of the present magazine. At this convention, Thomas P. Octigan was elected Chief Justice; Story J. Maxwell, Vice Chief Justice; Clark A. McMillen, Recorder; David M. Taylor, National Financial Secretary, and Lawrence W. Ledvina, National Treasurer.

During this administration not much extension work was undertaken, it being considered advisable to strengthen and conserve the finances, preliminary to missionary work which was planned.

On July 6, 1907, Thomas H. Benton Chapter of the Kansas City Law School was installed at Kansas City, Missouri, with six charter members: Loving T. Crutcher, Aytch P. Woodson, Norman Lombard, Guy Ream Davis, William P. Borland, John Brooks Pew.

The eighth convention of the Fraternity was held in Madison, Wisconsin, on May 11, 1907, when the following National Officers were elected: Lawrence W. Ledvina, Chief Justice; Charles H. Wilber, Vice Chief Justice; Richard J. Finnegan, Recorder; Douglas Heard, National Financial Secretary; and George E. Fink, National Treasurer and during the administration of these National Officers, three chapters were installed, Charles L. Capen Chapter, at Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Illinois, March 21, 1908, with the following charter members: Martin L. Callahan, Maurey D. Powell, James D. Veatch, F. M. Grady, Herbert C. Bender, Philip A. Gibbons, Fred W. Pitney, Thomas S. Weldon, Michael D. Conaghan, W. Lee Duncan.

Salmon P. Chase Chapter of Cincinnati Law School at Cincinnati, Ohio, on April 11, 1908, with the following charter members: William H. Shepard, Frank H. Cox, Charles Tatgenhorst, Jr., Charles E. Weber, Harry L. Risingero, Frank A. Ralston, Howard L. Bevis, Orin C. Clement, Michael J. Dosch and

George H. Williams Chapter of the University of Oregon at Portland, Oregon, on May 16, 1908, with the following charter members: Henry R. Saltmarsh, John Wilkinson, R. Frank Peters, Norman R. Landis, John M. Joyce, Malcolm H. Clark, James A. Bennett, Edward A. Snodgrass, Robert H. Dunn, Cusic J. Mahoney, James W. Briscoe.

At the ninth convention held in Chicago, on May 15, and 16, 1908, some radical changes were made in the constitution, the titles of the National Officers were changed, and there were added the offices of Supreme Historian, Supreme Marshal and Board of Tribunes. The Board of Tribunes being created to hear all appeals from decision of chapters.

For the first time in the history of the Fraternity, a Chief Justice accepted reelection, Bro. Lawrence W. Ledvina being again chosen Supreme Justice; William Prentiss, Jr., Supreme Vice Justice; Samuel H. Roberts, Supreme Recorder; Harry P. Dolan, Supreme Treasurer; Edward J. Thelin, Supreme Financial Secretary; Paul C. Meier, Supreme Historian; and Harry C. Moran, Supreme Marshal.

During this administration the Fraternity grew at a rapid pace, six chapters being installed, William G. Hammond of the University of Iowa, at Iowa City, Ia., December 4, 1908, with the following members: Remley J. Glass, Michael L. Donovan, Francis P. Keane, Thorwaldsen S. Risser, Frank F. Messer, Ray H. Wise, Lake M. Bechtell, Paul M. Payne, Oliver H. DeGroot, Sidney C. Kerber, Daniel C. McCully, Forrest B. Olsen, John C. Higgins.

John D. Lawson Chapter of the University of Missouri, at Columbia, Mo., January 9, 1909, with the following charter members: Gustavus H. Boehm, R. S. Cole, Charles W. Dickey, Patrick J. Doyle, Don M. Hunt, Harold T.

Lincoln, James A. McCollum, Osmund Halsler, Charles J. Sloop, Orville Zimmerman, Fred P. Lieuallen.

Charles A. Rapallo of New York University at New York City, February 20, 1909, with the following charter members: Frederick I. Stokes, Edward L. Gillespie, Henry G. Molina, Edward E. Fay, Harry A. Back, James W. Farrell, Fioravante Caraglia, Frank A. Saporitto, Charles J. Kennedy, George A. Washington.

William Howard Taft of Georgetown University, at Washington, D. C., March 27, 1909, with the following charter members: John Doyle Carmody, Carolyn Edward Crump, James Percy Campbell, John Edward Thomas, John R. Long, Clarkson R. Sherwood, Jr., J. Fillmore Warder, Hugo S. Pettis, Webster H. Wilkinson, Albert B. Ridgeway, W. Griffin Mudd, J. Julien Southerland, Sidney E. Mudd, John P. Smith, Allen D. Sprowls, Martin C. Cornell, Frank L. Earnshaw, Reginald M. Hodgson.

John C. Calhoun of Yale University at New Haven, Conn., on March 30, 1909, with the following charter members: Leonard Henry Alkire, Murray Mansfield Ashbaugh, Ralph Culver Bennett, James Edward Connor, Jr., John Henry Crippen, Joseph Earl Daily, Charles Wesley Darling, George Robert Dexter, Leroy Emerson Eastman, Edward Earl Garlick, Alexander Hamilton, Jr., Stephen Goodloe Jackson, David Arthur Wilson, Harry Faber White, Frederic A. Shaffer, Gerald Freeman Sibley, John Randall Powelson, Jas. Francis T. O'Connor, Arthur Eugene Morton, Arthur Lauren Maltby, Wesley Cornell Martin, Arthur Burke Moontz, Frank Roy Hurlbutt.

James Woods Green Chapter of the University of Kansas, at Lawrence, Kansas, April 17, 1909, with the following charter members: Maurice Allendorfer, Arla Rey Baum, Edwin Elder Brookens, Foster Cline, Homer J. Conley, John Connelly, Merle C. Groene, Edward E. Haney, Frank S. Kenny, Benj. H. Matkins, Vale L. Nance, John J. Riling, John W. Robertson, Jr., Arthur H. Seeton, F. Keith Clevenger, Gordon A. Badger.

The Tenth Convention was also held at Chicago, and like all its predecessors, was the greatest in the history, for at no time since Phi Alpha Delta was established has there been a convention at which the National Officers were not able to report the addition of at least one Chapter, but the Tenth Convention showed the Fraternity in an unusually flourishing condition. The following Supreme Officers were elected: Samuel J. Roberts, Supreme Justice; Edward J. Fleming, Supreme Vice Justice; William Prentiss, Jr., Supreme Recorder; Thomas Lindskog, Supreme Financial Secretary; John Doyle Carmody, Supreme Treasurer; Paul C. Meier, Supreme Historian, and Noah Gullett, Supreme Marshal. Because of Brother Prentiss' inability to act, he requested the Supreme Executive Board to appoint an assistant Recorder, and Bro. Edward J. Hess was named acting Supreme Recorder, Louis A. Cambridge, chairman of the Board of Tribunes, and John A. Brown and Malcolm H. Clark, members of the Board of Tribunes. During their administration, more chapters were organized, being as follows:

Thomas Jefferson of the University of Virginia, at University, Va., on March 26, 1910, with the following charter members: Chauncy D. Ferguson, William E. French, George R. Greis, Isaac R. McQueen, Charles K. Seaman, Jr., Gaston A. Shumater, Jr., William M. Storm, Lloyd M. Robinette, Alphonso C. Philpotts.

Julius C. Gunter of the University of Colorado, at Boulder, Colo, April 29, 1910, with the following charter members: B. Malcolm Erickson, A. W. Fitzgerald, Carl T. Lichty, John B.

O'Rourke, John F. Parrish, A. A. Parkhurst, Merritt H. Perkins, Raymond J. Venables.

Hannibal Hamlin Chapter of the University of Maine, at Bangor, Maine, May 27, 1910, with the following charter members: Frederick P. Adams, James P. Adams, James W. Booth, Wilfred G. Conary, Charles W. Dow, Oscar H. Emery, Carl F. Getchell, Daniel I. Gould, Arthur A. Greene, Brad D. Harvey, Leigh I. Harvey, Charles B. Hosmer, Ralph M. Ingalls, Frederick B. Littlefield, John B. Madore, William D. Owens, Elisha S. Powers, Howard B. Rand, Thomas E. Sullivan, William H. Sweeney, Bertrand T. Spencer, George R. Sweetser.

The Eleventh Convention, after tinkering with the Constitution, as seems to have been the custom, and making some changes, among them being the increase of the number of National Officers, by addition of a second Supreme Vice Justice and an Editor-in-Chief, elected the following officers.

John Doyle Carmody, Supreme Justice; Edward J. Fleming, 1st Supreme Vice Justice; J. F. T. O'Connor, 2nd Supreme Vice Justice; Edward J. Hess, Supreme Recorder; James McKeag, Supreme Financial Secretary; Frank G. Adams, Supreme Treasurer; Paul C. Meier, Supreme Historian; Oscar W. Hoberg, Editor-in-chief; Paul D. Highbee, Supreme Marshal, Board of Tribunes; Frank E. Rutledge, chairman; Henry R. Saltmarsh and Harry L. Risinger.

The twelfth annual convention may well be termed the "Insurgent" convention. A great many amendments to the Constitution were presented at this time. With one or two exceptions, practically every one was rejected. The most important ones passed were those allowing Alumni Chapters the right to one vote on the floor of the convention, and providing also that only one Alumni Chapter could be placed in each city. Another provision was that providing that members who dropped out of school and afterwards returned, did not lose their active standing in the Fraternity by reason of dropping out, but could, upon re-entering school, assume their old duties.

At this time a committee was appointed for the incorporation of Phi Alpha Delta, to act and report back at the next annual convention.

Supreme Justice Carmody reported that four active Chapters had been installed during the previous year, namely Corliss, North Dakota; Ross, Los Angeles; Holmes at Leland Stanford; Temple at University of California.

Alumni Chapters were organized in Chicago, New York, Portland, and Washington. Chapters represented were: Blackstone, Story, Fuller, Webster, Marshall, Ryan, Magruder, Campbell, Garland, Hay, Benton, Capen, Chase, Williams, Hammond, Lawson, Rapallo, Taft, Calhoun, Green, Jefferson, Gunter, Hamlin, Corliss, Ross, Holmes, Temple.

The following officers were chosen for the succeeding year: John Doyle Carmody, Supreme Justice; James F. T. O'Connor, First Vice Supreme Justice; Henry R. Saltmarsh, Second Vice Supreme Justice; Edward J. Hess, Supreme Recorder; James McKeag, Supreme Financial Secretary; James P. Aylward, Supreme Treasurer; Paul C. Meier, Supreme Historian; Oscar W. Hoberg, Editor-in-chief; Conger G. Roads, Supreme Marshal; Board of Tribunes. Floyd M. Stahl, Chairman, James J. Cherry, Elbert C. Middleton.

The convention in 1912, which was the Thirteenth Annual Convention of the Fraternity, seemed to be overcome by the heat of the Chicago summer, and spent a great deal of the convention time outside the convention hall.

The Supreme Justice reported that Staples Chapter at Washington and Lee University has been added to the roll, as had also the Alumni Chapter in Kansas City, Missouri.

The committee on incorporation reported back that they had incorporated Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity under the laws of the State of Illinois and the District of Columbia and recommended that each chapter incorporate as ——— Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, under the laws of the state in which it is situated.

It was at this Convention that the work was formally started for the 1915 convention to be held at San Francisco.

The old question of the ritual arose at this convention and a committee was appointed to draft a new one.

The chapters represented were: Blackstone, Story, Fuller, Webster, Marshall, Ryan, Magruder, Campbell, Garland, Hay, Benton, Capen, Chase, Williams, Hammond, Lawson, Rapallo, Taft, Calhoun, Green, Jefferson, Gunter, Hamlin, Corliss, Ross, Temple, Holmes, Staples, Chicago Alumna, Portland Alumna, New York Alumna, Washington Alumna, Kansas City Alumna.

The Fourteenth Convention of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity was called to order at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, Illinois, on the twenty-seventh day of June, 1913, at ten-thirty o'clock A. M., by Edward J. Hess, Supreme Justice. A great deal of legislation was introduced at this convention. One new chapter appeared on the roll call, namely, the Hughes of Denver University. The credential committee reported the following chapters as represented at the convention. Blackstone, Story, Fuller, Webster, Marshall, Ryan, Margruder, Campbell, Garland, Hay, Benton, Capen, Hammond, Chase, Williams, Taft, Calhoun, Green, Jefferson, Rapallo, Lawson, Temple, Staples, Hughes.

Alumna: Chicago, Portland, New York City, Washington, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Cincinnati, Cleveland. Grand Forks.

As had been the custom at previous conventions, and as will undoubtedly be the custom of conventions to come, a great deal of time was spent in discussing the publication known as the QUARTERLY. Petition of Oklahoma University for membership in Phi Alpha Delta was taken up and thoroughly discussed. The convention deferred action on the matter, preferring to allow the petition to go before the various chapters and be accepted in the regular order. Several minor colleges throughout the country applied for admission, but all were turned down because the scholarship requirements were not up to the standard.

An attempt was made at this convention to bar any one belonging to a high school fraternity from the ranks of Phi Alpha Delta. This drastic action, however, was defeated, but a resolution condemning high school fraternities was passed.

Perhaps the most important piece of legislation adopted was the rule changing the power of the chapter to black ball the petition of a fraternity for membership in Phi Alpha Delta. Under the new rule, it requires three black balls instead of one.

The first step toward a ritual embodying the views of lawyers and literary students was taken at this convention. Nothing definite, however, was done, except the general discussion of merits and demerits of the ritual, but not until a later convention was definite action taken along this line.

After receiving reports of the officers showing the fraternity to be in the very best condition that could possibly be hoped for, the following officers were elected: Supreme Justice, James Aylward; First Supreme Vice Justice, Edgar A. Jonas; Second Supreme Vice Justice, John J. Wilson; Supreme Recorder, C. G. Roads; Supreme Financial Secretary, C. B. Adams; Supreme Treasurer, G. C. Peacock; Historian, Paul C. Meier; Editor-in-chief, Oscar W. Hoberg; Board of Tribunes, James McKeag, John Doyle Carmody, and Edward J. Hess.

The all important work of the convention held in Chicago in 1914, was the decision to divide the country into sections and have each section turned to districts. Each district was to have its own officers and to hold conventions. The national convention was to be a biannual instead of an annual affair, the last annual convention to be held in San Francisco in 1915.

The Fifteenth Convention elected the following officers:

Edgar A. Jonas, Supreme Justice, Webster.

George L. Stewart, 1st Supreme Vice Justice, Story.

Frank A. Saporito, 2nd Supreme Vice Justice, Rapallo.

Conger G. Roads, Supreme Recorder, Hay.

A. J. Hart, Supreme Treasurer, Campbell.

Charles B. Adams, Supreme Financial Secretary, Hamlin.

L. Nelson Tillotson, Supreme Historian, Calhoun.

Oscar W. Hoberg, Editor in Chief, Magruder.

Lester B. Fish, Supreme Marshal, Capen.

Board of Tribunes—James McKeag, Chairman, Marshall; John Doyle Carmody, two-year term, Taft; James P. Aylward, three-year term, Benton.

This convention was held at the La Salle Hotel, in Chicago, Ill., June 27th and 28th, 1913, Supreme Justice James P. Aylward presiding.

The most important action of the convention was to provide for bi-annual conventions and for the division of the chapters into districts to be governed by district officers with district assemblies to be held during the years when no convention was held. This change to be effective in 1916. The convention did much to facilitate the business of future conventions, and afforded financial relief for the Supreme Board to some extent in the passage of the bi-annual convention and province amendment, but much of its action was uncertain and it was difficult for the newly elected board to apply the newly made regulations.

The reports of all of the officers in some manner or other expressed the inadequacy of the existing financial system.

Delegates from three new Chapters were present, Clay, Kent and Dunbar. The fraternity was composed of twenty-nine active and nine alumni chapters.

The Sixteenth National Convention was held in San Francisco, during the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The dates were August 5th, 6th and 7th. This was by far the largest convention which had been held. Several new chapters had been added to the roll and the Fraternity had assumed a more National aspect than previously.

The San Francisco Convention needs a history to itself. The boys on the Pacific Coast had set themselves to make a record, which they did. Nothing was left undone and the wonder of it was that so much work was accomplished.

Much time was spent in this as in previous conventions in discussing ways and means of improving the official magazine. With so many diverting influences the attendance and attention to the business affairs was remarkable. For San Francisco in 1915 was at its height, probably never again will it possess the lure, the charm and the fascination it presented during the days of the Exposition. And the members of Phi Alpha Delta made history "Down by the Sad Sea Waves."

This Convention elected the following officers:

George L. Stewart, Supreme Justice, Story.

James V. Barnitt, 1st Supreme Vice-Justice, Rapallo.

August A. Rendigs, 2nd Supreme Vice-Justice, Chase.

C. G. Roads, Supreme Recorder, Hay.

Glenn E. Miller, Supreme Financial Secretary, Williams.

A. J. Hart, Supreme Treasurer, Campbell.

Joseph P. O'Connell, Supreme Historian, Hughes.

Oscar W. Hoberg, Editor in Chief, Magruder.

Frank S. Ginocchio, Supreme Marshal, Clay.

John Doyle Carmody, Chairman Board Tribunes, Taft.

James P. Aylward, Board Tribunes, Benton.

Lester B. Fish, Board Tribunes, Capen.

After the din of the outing had subsided on Mt. Tamalpais, and in Muir Woods, and after Tate's, Pisco John's, The Pup, The Bucket of Blood, The Manger and the Barbary Coast had settled down to their normal existence, the new officers took up their duties, little dreaming how long some of them would be required to serve and the critical times confronting the Fraternity.

The treasury was worse than empty as a deficit existed in spite of the fact that only a part of the delegates' expenses had been paid, so that one of the first of their problems was financial, and this continued throughout the administration. The Fraternity at that time was composed of thirty-four active chapters and eleven alumni chapters.

The 1914 convention had provided for the division of the Fraternity into districts, with a complete set of district officers. District assemblies were to be held every two years between conventions. The following district officers were appointed by the Supreme Justice for the purpose of effecting a permanent district organization:

Central, John E. Timm (Chicago Alumni); Eastern, John H. Rainsberger (Hay); Western, Frank M. Ludwick (Kansas City Alumni); Atlantic, William S. Culbertson (Washington Alumni); Pacific, Rex Hardy (Los Angeles Alumni).

In February, 1916, Williams Chapter was ordered transferred from the University of Oregon to the Northwestern College of Law, due to the fact that the law school of the University of Oregon had been moved to Eugene, the faculty and student body remaining at Portland as the Northwestern College of Law.

Jackson Temple Chapter, installed at the Hastings Law School, University of California, on February 16th initiated a group of twenty-four men from Boalt Hall, University of California, at Berkeley. (Note: From that date until 1923 Temple Chapter functioned in two divisions. This being found impracticable, a new charter was granted to the Berkeley division, which has since been known as Field Chapter.)

On May 20th, 1916, the John Marshall Harlan Chapter was installed at the University of Oklahoma, at Norman, Oklahoma. The charter members of the chapter were John Roy Orr, Lowrey H. Harrell, Walter N. Chitwood, Elmer Capshaw, Louis A. Rielly, C. W. Van Eaton, Theodore Adriance, Charles G. Thornton, John L. Fuller, Samuel J. Montgomery, Johnson T. Crawford, William J. Monahan, G. F. McCain, Charles L. Roff, Jr., Louis D. Abney, Bourke H. Bayless, K. Bury Peterson, Leonard W. Thomason and Victor Wade.

On May 25th, 1916, the James Clark McReynolds Chapter was installed at the University of Tennessee, at Knoxville, Tenn. The charter members of the chapter were Raymond H. Seagle, John F. Bibb, Eubert H. Malone, John R. Eagle, John L. Davis, Jr., William Van Dyke Ochs, Thomas H. Weatherford, Rupert F. Davis, Niles N. Warlick, Michael C. Shea, Clifton B. Cates, Leo I. Fanz and Alexander D. Cameron.

On May 31st, 1916, the Robert W. Livingston Chapter was installed at Columbia University, at New York City, N. Y. The charter members were Sylvanus M. Thomas, Duane R. Dills, Kimball C. Atwood, Jr., Douglas R. Gray, Theodore S. Jewett, Adrian L. Foley, James F. Gilkinson, Eugene J. Noyes, Frederick W. C. Girdner, Eugene A. Scherpich, Jake O. Rhyne, Charles P. Buckley, David A. Embury, Ransford C. Marscher, Hugo Swan, Herman N. Harcourt, Edward C. Lake and Herman E. Nichols.

In December, 1916, George S. Myers, Cleveland, Ohio, was appointed by the Supreme Justice, George L. Stewart, as Acting Recorder in absence of Recorder C. G. Roads, who was serving with the United States Army on border duty.

The Supreme Executive Board at its meeting in Chicago fixed the date and place for the holding of the seventeenth convention at Chicago, July 12th, 13th and 14th, 1917. The Supreme Board also approved, with some amendments, a proposed draft of a new Constitution and By-Laws submitted by Supreme Justice Stewart and ordered the draft submitted to the Chapters for consideration and discussion prior to the seventeenth convention.

Early in 1917 Supreme Historian Joseph P. O'Connell printed the first Phi Alpha Delta Directory that had been issued in several years and by far the most complete that had ever before been prepared.

During the fall of 1916 and the winter of 1917 District Assemblies were held in all districts. The results of these meetings were anxiously watched by the entire Fraternity, and while they accomplished much by way of fraternal contact and associations, many defects in the system immediately became apparent. Two of the outstanding ones were that the districts were powerless to do anything but recommend, and were without funds to finance their organizations. Attempts were made to provide for district dues, but this proved to be unsatisfactory as it conflicted with the dues to the Supreme Chapter and the districts were without power to enforce payment.

The Fraternity at this time was in a splendid condition. It was composed of some thirty-seven strong collegiate chapters and fifteen alumni chapters. It was well officered, its finances were somewhat improved, its expansion program was being very successfully pushed forward and the future looked bright.

In the March issue of the Quarterly came the first indication of the trying times ahead in the nature of an article by Supreme Justice Stewart entitled "Phi Alpha Delta and the Nation." In this article the Supreme Justice forecast the entrance of the United States into the World War, pointed out the duty of the Fraternity to the country and suggested some practical ways whereby our membership might best prepare to serve the country and to their own advantage.

Soon thereafter war was declared and in a few short weeks Phi Alpha Delta was in chaos. Our entire membership responded to the country's needs in one way or another. In many instances entire chapters to the last man entered the military service. National officers responded as well and it was fortunate indeed that there was at its head an old head, possessed of loyalty untold and experience and hard sense. Convention plans were not to be thought of and the seventeenth convention was indefinitely postponed.

George S. Myers, serving as acting recorder in the absence of Recorder Conger G. Roads, resigned, as did Glenn E. Miler, Supreme Financial Secretary. Supreme Justice Stewart thereupon appointed Frank E. Rutledge (Webster) as temporary Recorder and Supreme Financial Secretary, and when he resigned shortly thereafter, appointed George K. Brasher (Benton), who carried on the work under great difficulty until after the war.

Practically no funds were available, but somehow or other the work was carried on. The Quarterly was reduced to pamphlet size, but continued to appear, and while collegiate chapter activities were largely suspended in some cases, chapters maintained a skeleton organization, and in most cases preserved most of the fraternity files.

The war record of Phi Alpha Delta is a proud one, but cannot be told here. In the early part of 1919 those who had entered the military service who had not made the supreme sacrifice began to return to their homes from camps and from overseas. Many returned to finish their legal education and, one by one, under terrific handicaps, chapters began to reorganize and the remaining national officers began to consider plans for holding the much delayed seventeenth national convention.

Chicago was the location and the date selected was December 29th, 30th and 31st. The convention was largely financed through contributions solicited from the alumni membership at large.

This convention will probably go down as one of the most momentous in our history. Held under difficult conditions, a tremendous amount of constructive work was accomplished.

The Seventeenth National Convention of the Fraternity was called to order by Supreme Justice George I. Stewart, at the Morrison Hotel, Chicago, Illinois, on December 29, 1919. The report of this Convention is somewhat meager, due to the fact that practically all of the work of the Convention was done in sub-committee and in the Convention organized as a committee of the whole for the purpose of considering the adoption of the new constitution prepared and submitted by the Supreme Executive Board.

Upon the recommendation of the Credentials Committee, twenty-four delegates from Collegiate Chapters and seven delegates from Alumni Chapters were seated.

National Officers reported upon conditions already covered in this history. The resolution from Hamlin Chapter requesting that it be declared inactive, due to the fact that the law school of the University of Maine was being discontinued, was presented; a Memorial Committee was appointed for the purpose of compiling a list of brothers who had been killed or died while in military service of the United States. The Supreme Historian was instructed to furnish copies of the directory, free of charge, to members who had contributed to the reconstruction fund, and to distribute the remaining copies of the directory. The Supreme Executive Board was instructed to take the necessary steps to file amended articles of incorporation at Springfield, Ill. An amended ritual was presented by Frank Messer, Chairman of the Ritual Committee, which was read, approved and adopted, after which the Convention resolved itself into a committee of the whole, and after going over the proposed draft of the Constitution, section by section, recommended its adoption, with some amendments, to the Convention, which was subsequently done.

This new Constitution contained many radical changes in the organization. It not only substantially reduced the number of National Officers, but reduced also the size of the Supreme Executive Board. In this connection it is interesting to note that in the early days of the Fraternity as new chapters were added, new officers would be created, so that a member from each Chapter might hold a National Office, and before this practice was abandoned the Fraternity found itself with a surprisingly large number of officers. The new Constitution eliminated the extra Vice-Justices and combined the offices of Supreme Financial Secretary, Supreme Recorder and Supreme Treasurer in one office to be held by General Secretary, which title was subsequently changed to Supreme Secretary to make it conform to the title of the other officers. The separate magazine tax was eliminated and the per capita tax increased to $7.00 per year. The duties of the various officers were clarified and many ambiguities eliminated. This Convention unanimously elected August A. Rendigs, Jr. (Cincinnati Alumni), Supreme Justice; Milton T. Miller (Chicago Alumni), Supreme Vice-Justice; George K. Brasher (Kansas City Alumni), General Secretary; Harry W. Humble (Green), Editor-in-Chief; Frank S. Ginocchio (Clay), Supreme Marshal; H. M. Welch (Taft), Supreme Historian; George L. Stewart (San Francisco Alumni), Chairman Board of Tribunes; H. C. Moran (Chicago Alumni), and Conger G. Roads (Cleveland Alumni), Associate Members of Board of Tribunes.

Kansas City, Mo., was selected as the next Convention city, the Convention adjourning at the close of the second day.

Most of the delegates remained over until the following day, at which time an informal meeting for the benefit of Phi Alpha Delta was held, at which it was suggested that the Supreme Board provide for a standardized Fraternity pin. The need for Fraternity songs was discussed and a prize fund subscribed for the purpose of encouraging members of the Fraternity and their friends to write songs for Phi Alpha Delta. It was also suggested that by-laws of Collegiate Chapters be amended so that alumni who were financially delinquent might be subject to expulsion, and that Alumni Chapters should provide in their by-laws that no graduate member should be permitted to join Alumni Chapters unless he was in good standing with his Collegiate Chapter. It seemed to be the concensus of opinion that the National Conventions be held on Christmas holidays and that District Assemblies be held at the Thanksgiving holidays recess on the alternate years.

Following the Seventeenth National Convention began a period of prosperity and expansion. The new Editor, Harry W. Humble, was a member of the Faculty of the University of Kansas, and having the facilities of the University press at his disposal, was able to put out by far the best magazine which had been published by the Fraternity. He began an agitation for the change of the name "Quarterly," but apparently no suitable names were suggested, as no change was made.

At the opening of the year 1920, there were actually but eighteen Collegiate Chapters of the Fraternity in good standing. There was a balance in the treasury of about $132.00, and a few days thereafter unpaid bills aggregating $440.00 were presented. This deficit, however, was soon remedied.

In December, 1920, District Conventions were held in all of the districts and the weaknesses of the new system began to be apparent, the most outstanding ones being:

1. That National Chapter had provided no means of financing the district organizations, for the reason that all of the income and revenue was needed by the Supreme Chapter and the district organizations were unable to raise sufficient additional funds to support a district organization, and

2. The District Organization had no powers other than recommendation, and while the Assemblies did serve to bring some of the members of different Chapters in contact with each other and develop some interesting ideas, the time and expense of holding the District Conclaves seemed hardly justified.

The attention of the National Officers was centered upon Chapters needing rehabilitation. The Supreme Board adopted a policy of effecting what were considered fair adjustments on outstanding financial obligations on Chapters that were in arrears. McReynolds was the first to come back, then followed in quick succession Brewer, Magruder, Clay, Green, Gunter, Hughes, Hay, Jefferson, Kent, Fuller, Calhoun, Livingston and Rapallo.

On June 5, 1920, John Jay Chapter was installed at George Washington University, with the following charter members: Brantly C. Harris, Francis M. Blehr, John D. Watkins, Ralph S. McKinney, Poe Webster Maddox, Ronald Voss.

When the Eighteenth National Convention was called to order by Supreme Justice Rendigs at the Baltimore Hotel, Kansas City, Mo., on the 29th day of December, 1921, the Fraternity was composed of forty-one Collegiate Chapters and sixteen Alumni Chapters. Thirty-three Collegiate Chapters were represented at the Convention by delegates and nine Alumni Chapters. This Convention was an extremely interesting one, both from a business and a political standpoint. The National Officers were able to report tremendous progress and expansion, and a sound financial condition.

Official jewelry was designated and a new pledge pin adopted. It was provided that Fraternity jewelry should be purchased only upon the approval of the General Secretary and that pins should be numbered. The wearing of the Alumni Key was restricted to seniors during the last month of the last school year immediately preceding graduation, and a uniform method of wearing the badge was adopted. The General Secretary was instructed to enter into a two year contract with some Fraternity jeweler.

A standing committee on Ritual was provided for and instructed to prepare a Pledge Ceremony.

It was provided that the General Secretary should furnish and countersign all delegates' credentials to District Assemblies, and provided that they could not be seated if the Chapter had failed to pay any of its obligations, either to the Supreme Chapter or to the District. A new form of Delegate's Credentials to the National Convention was adopted. The Convention rejected an amendment providing a salary for the Supreme Justice and rejected amendments prohibiting and limiting honorary memberships. Representatives from petitioning groups located at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis., University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Alabama, Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., appeared to urge favorable consideration of their petitions.

The General Secretary was instructed to immediately prepare a uniform system of reports, as well as a National uniform system of accounting. The Convention referred the question of the establishment of a National Building Fund to the Supreme Executive Board for study. Prizes for songs were awarded as follows:

1. Bruce W. McDaniels, Holmes Chapter, "Banquet Song."
2. Harry W. Humble, Green Chapter, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp."
3. Mrs. Helen Rendigs, "Phi Alpha Delta Marching Song."

The Convention teemed with politics and in a close election the following officers were elected:

Frank L. Fawcett, Milwaukee Alumni Chapter, Supreme Justice.

Rex Hardy, Los Angeles Alumni Chapter, Supreme Vice-Justice.

Frank M. Ludwick, Kansas City Alumni Chapter, General Secretary.

Harry W. Humble, Green Chapter, Editor-in-Chief.

Dwight H. Green, Chicago Alumni Chapter, Supreme Historian.

August A. Rendigs, Cincinnati Alumni Chapter, Chairman of Board of Tribunes.

George K. Brasher, Kansas City Alumni, and George E. Fink, Associate Members of Board of Tribunes.

Immediately following the Eighteenth Convention, which had directed the preparation and printing of a new directory, the Supreme Secretary's office undertook the work of preparing a membership card file. General Secretary George K. Brasher had started a membership roster and had begun posting it back with the aid of Convention credentials in the files. This was completed back to the 1914 Convention and this roster, together with earlier editions of directories, were used as a nucleus for building up a card file. Every available Fraternity record was checked, as well as the old Quarterly files, and a complete new card file made, wherein the members were listed alphabetically, geographically and by chapters. This was forwarded to the Supreme Historian, Dwight H. Green, and used by him in preparing the directory which was printed in 1923, immediately preceding the Nineteenth National Convention. The expansion program during this administration period, although conservative, was quite active.

On February 4, 1922, a charter was granted to the Topeka Alumni Chapter, at Topeka, Kansas, with the following charter members: Richard E. McIntosh, Frank L. Loveless, J. M. Hamilton, W. R. Between the Eighteenth and Nineteenth National Conventions, much constructive work was done. A uniform system of reports and accounts was established and installed. Chapters were urged to adopt a budget system and business policy in the management of their Chapter affairs, and to require from their membership the prompt payment of their obligations. Efficiency and cooperation between the Chapters and the Supreme Chapter, and the preservation of chapter rolls and records was urged. The purchase of jewelry was regulated, thereby assuring the uniformity of official badges, procuring the protection of new members and assuring them of full value in merchandise, and establishing a jewelry record so that all jewelry could be identified, with the assurance that official badges would go only into the proper hands. A complete and accurate directory was published; systematic and energetic chapter pledging was arranged with particular attention to scholastic standing. Twenty-six chapters were inspected during this administration and much needed improvement in some effected. The practice of issuing monthly bulletins out of the Supreme Secretary's office did much to bring about a closer cooperation between Collegiate Chapters and the Supreme Chapter, and substantially assisted in establishing a more business-like administration.

Seven issues of the Quarterly were published, and Alumni subscriptions thereto solicited. An effort was made to increase the quality of the magazine and stimulate the interest of the brothers in school and substantial prizes were offered for contributions.

Phi Alpha Delta assisted substantially in the defeat of anti-fraternity legislation in several states.

The proper exemplification of the ritual was emphasized and an amendment for additional ritual submitted to the Convention for approval. The compilation of written chapter history was continued and the history published.

The Nineteenth Biennial Convention of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, held on December 29, 30 and 31, 1923, at the Wardman Park Hotel, Washington, D. C., was one of the greatest conventions in the history of the fraternity.

This is true not only of the constructive work in organization that was done, but also true of the caliber of men present and the spirit of fraternity that existed at all times, whether in the midst of labor or refreshment. One of the outstanding social features was the Convention Banquet at which our esteemed Brothers Hon. William Howard Taft, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, Major General Hanson E. Ely, and Hon. Arthur J. Tuttle, Judge of the United States District Court at Detroit, made splendid addresses.

There were in addition to seven alumni chapters forty-two out of forty-five active chapters represented in the Convention. The committee on constitutional amendments under the chairmanship of Past Supreme Justice August A. Rendigs, performed meritorious service. There were several constructive amendments considered by this committee, among them an entirely new provision of the constitution creating a Board of Trustees to administer a National Endowment Fund to be used for the purpose of assisting chapters in purchasing homes or building chapter houses. By resolution adopted by the convention some $8,500 was turned over to the Trustees as a starter, with a further provision in the amendment for the sum of $2.00 out of each per capita tax collected thereafter being paid to the said Trustees.

Among many other amendments of importance was one providing for the abolishment of the District Conventions giving the power to appoint District Justices into the hands of the Supreme Justice. This was done because it was felt that the District Assemblies with their widely separated chapters placed needless additional expense and duties upon the active chapters.

A revised ritual was presented to the Convention by Allan T. Gilbert, chairman of the ritual committee, and a new committee under the chairmanship of Philip E. Barnard was appointed to revise the old one using parts of the new ritual presented, said committee to report to the next convention. Two thousand directories compiled by Dwight H. Green, Supreme Historian, were turned over to his successor for sale and distribution.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing two years: George E. Fink, Supreme Justice; Joseph A. Carey, Supreme Vice Justice; Frank M. Ludwick, Supreme Secretary; Allan T. Gilbert, Supreme Historian; Professor Harry W. Humble, Editor-in-Chief; Howard B. Henshey, Supreme Marshal; Frank L. Fawcett, Rex G. Hardy and Dwight H. Green, Board of Tribunes; and August A. Rendigs, Jr., Harvey D. Taylor and Arthur L. Limbach, Board of Trustees for the National Endowment Fund.

In the early part of 1925 our Editor-in-Chief resigned because of press of work and John Bradfield, an alumnus of Campbell Chapter, Ann Arbor, Michigan, was appointed by the Supreme Board to fill the vacancy. Brother Bradfield immediately assumed his duties and published the April issue of the Quarterly.

During the past two years the following five chapters were installed and added to the official rolls of the fraternity:

Duncan U. Fletcher Chapter was installed on January 12, 1924, by Supreme Vice Justice Joseph A. Carey of Washington, D. C., at the University of Florida, at Gainesville, Florida. Many distinguished guests were present. The following are charter members:

Conroy, Daniel Francis Flanagan, Fred Goodelle, Clarence Kugler Gundaker, Edward William Ickes, Arthur John Keeffe, Sherman Moreland, Jr., Arthur Rose Moore, John Winchester MacDonald, George Byron Rice.

The Twentieth Biennial Convention was called to order by Supreme Justice, George E. Fink, on December 29, 1925, at the Chase Hotel, St. Louis, Mo. The Fraternity now numbered forty-eight Collegiate Chapters and Eighteen Alumni Chapters. The reports of the various National officers demonstrated that the Fraternity was in a splendidly sound condition financially and otherwise. A model initiation was presented at the Convention for the first time, a new ritual being used in the initiation. This ritual was approved and the Supreme Executive Board instructed to have it printed. The Convention rejected a proposal providing for the reduction in the amounts to be appropriated for the National Endowment Fund. A proposal that compulsory life subscriptions to the Quarterly of $10.00 be required and collected in installments from each initiate was rejected. An amendment to the constitution changing the order in which Supreme Officers should be elected and succeed in case of vacancy was adopted. The Convention rejected a proposal to increase the number of members of the Supreme Executive Board but authorized the Supreme Executive Board at its discretion to call in other Supreme Officers to attend Board Meetings. A proposal to change the method of selecting District Justices was rejected. A proposal prohibiting the installation of Chapters in schools not members of the Association of American Law Schools or rated as Class AA schools of American Bar Association was rejected. The constitution was amended and new district boundaries established. The Supreme Executive Board was instructed to carefully scrutinize all applications for permission to initiate honorary members and definite requirements established.

The Charter of the John Lawson Chapter at the University of Mo., was revoked. The Supreme Board was instructed to withdraw the Charter of Capen Chapter and to hold the same until it was finally determined whether or not the Law School of Illinois Wesleyan would be continued, and the Supreme Board authorized to revoke the Charter if it should become necessary.

The Supreme Executive Board was instructed to approve a distinctive pin as an emblem to be worn by Past Supreme Justices and to present the first one to retiring Supreme Justice George E. Fink.

The Supreme Executive Board was instructed to publish during the next administration, a new edition of the directory. The duty of organizing, supervising and rehabilitating Alumni Chapters was delegated to the Supreme Vice-Justice and the supervision of the ritual work of the Fraternity delegated to the Supreme Marshal.

Garland Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, Ark., thus reviving this Chapter which had been inactive for a number of years.

The Convention now was composed of fifty Collegiate Chapters and Eighteen Alumni Chapters.

The Twenty-first biennial Convention of the Fraternity was called to order on December 29, 1927, by Supreme Justice Rex Hardy at the Gibson Hotel in Cincinnati, Ohio. The Supreme Justice in his report to the Convention pointed out the substantial increase to the endowment fund, reviewed alumni chapters activities, suggested the registration of the Fraternity's name, discussed the question of Summer Conventions and recommended for the serious consideration of the Convention the proposed new constitution and by-laws. In preparing certain proposed amendments to the constitution, the Supreme Justice and the Supreme Secretary were impressed with the need of a general revision of the fundamental law of the Fraternity, for the reason that it was ambiguous, lacking continuity and was an attempt to combine the constitution and the by-laws. They thereupon undertook to rewrite the constitution and by-laws of the Fraternity. A considerable portion of the time of the Twenty-first Convention was devoted to the consideration and adoption of this constitution.

The Convention recommended that the Supreme Board issue a directory every two years, beginning with the year 1929.

One of the most hotly contested questions at this Convention was that having to do with the adoption of the policy requiring all initiates to pay at the time of their initiation to the Chapter, in addition to the regular initiation fees, the sum of $10.00 as a life subscription to the Quarterly. Upon roll call the proposal lost by one vote, and the Supreme Executive Board was instructed to submit the proposal to the Chapters by way of an initiative amendment to the by-laws.

The Convention instructed the Supreme Executive Board to proceed to affiliate with the conference of law fraternities.

The following officers were elected:

Supreme Justice, John J. Nangle; Supreme Vice Justice, Frank E. Rutledge; Supreme Secretary, Frank M. Ludwick; Supreme Historian, Allan T. Gilbert; Supreme Editor, Phillip E. Barnard; Supreme Marshal, Lawrence R. Lytle; Chairman Board of Tribunes, Rex Hardy; Associate Members Board of Tribunes, Frank L. Fawcett and Thomas P. Octigan; Board of Trustees, August A. Rendigs, Jr., Chairman, Harvey D. Taylor, and William C. Riley.

On June 1, 1929, Supreme Marshal Lawrence R. Lytle installed the L. Q. C. Lamar Chapter at the University of Mississippi, Oxford, Miss., with the following charter members:

ard Micajah Simmons, Claude Feemster Clayton, Jesse Harold Graham, Cary Stovall, Story Lowery Fortenberry, Charles Bramlett Roberts, Henry Adrian Coleman, Henry Hilbrun, Jr., Geo. Payne Cossar, Ralph Criss, Jr., Willis McIlwain, Jos. Pleasant McCain, Kenneth Douglass Horton, Roberson Horton, Ernest Lafayette Shelton, Jr.

On the 14th day of October, 1929, a charter was issued to the Madison Alumni Chapter, at Madison, Wis., and the following are charter members:

Ralph M. Immell, G. W. Stephens. Wm. J. P. Aberg, Lawrence Hall, L. E. Issacson, R. J. Sutherland, Myron Stevens, Frank W. Kuehl, Glenn H. Bell, A. E. Kilmer, Roman Heilman, L. W. Reader, Theodore G. Lewis, Robert C. Grelle, Earl N. Cannon, Perry A. Slette-land, Ernest H. Pett, Walter Choinski, John Cavanaugh, A. J. Thoman.

On March 3, 1928, Supreme Marshal, Lawrence R. Lytle, assisted by District Justice, Alex M. Hitz and an installation team from Keener Chapter, installed the William Hansel Fish Chapter at Mercer University, Macon, Ga., with the following charter members:

The new constitution which was adopted at the Twenty-first Convention provided that Conventions should be held on the even number of years instead of the odd number of years, for the purpose of allowing the Convention to go over until the Summer time, as it was decided there to again go back to the original plan of Summer conventions. The Supreme Executive Board, therefore, affixed the dates of August 27 to 29, 1930, and the Twenty-second biennial Convention was called to order at Milwaukee, Wis., on August 27, 1930.

by Supreme Justice John J. Nangle. The Supreme Justice reported sound financial condition and referred particularly to the necessity for the development of Alumni Chapters throughout the country. He discussed the Quarterly at some length; and recommended further effort to improve it. He commented upon the organization of local employment bureaus, and recommended the establishment of a National Employment Bureau. He announced the publication of the first Fraternity Song Book, under the editorship of Brother Frank E. Aschmeyer of St. Louis.

The Supreme Vice Justice, Frank E. Rutledge, reported the installation of Alumni Chapters at Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham, Ala., and Madison, Wis.

The Convention rejected a proposal to permit the payment of the per capita tax in two installments instead of one, and rejected the proposal for the pro-rata of the per capita tax. A plan for the establishment of a National Employment Bureau was proposed and adopted. The Supreme Executive Board was authorized to enter into a contract for the publication of a new directory. The Supreme Secretary was instructed to procure a blanket bond covering all members of the Fraternity who handled any of the Fraternity's funds, and to bill the Collegiate and Alumni Chapters their proportionate share of the cost of such bond.

A proposal to advocate the appointment rather than the election of judges developed an interesting discussion, but was ruled out of order by the chair and no action taken.

Considerable time was devoted at this Convention to the discussion of the official magazine. It was the consensus of opinion that the cost greatly exceeded the benefits and that the magazine was not a representative publication. Many suggestions toward its improvement were offered and recommendations made to the Supreme Executive Board. Probably the most important action of this Convention was the consideration of compulsory life subscriptions to the official magazine. The Convention adopted an amendment to the by-laws providing that each member of the Fraternity upon initiation into his local Collegiate Chapter should be required to subscribe for life to the official magazine of the Fraternity. The price of such life subscription was fixed at $9.00; $3.00 to be paid at the time of the initiation and the remaining $6.00 to be paid in two equal installments due on November 1 of each year thereafter, such funds to be transferred by the local chapter to the Supreme Secretary who was in turn required to deposit same in a separate fund to be known as the Magazine Trust Fund and such funds to be invested and reinvested by the Supreme Secretary, subject to the approval of the Supreme Executive Board, in income bearing securities and the net income only of such fund to be used for the purpose of the magazine. The amendment further provided that any surplus net income shall be added in accumulations to the principal of said fund, and that the fund might be added to by gifts, devises and bequests. The Executive Board was empowered to remove the Supreme Editor from office at any time for cause regarded as sufficient by the Supreme Executive Board.

The Convention provided for furniture loans to be made out of the endowment fund.

The following officers were elected:

Supreme Justice, Allan T. Gilbert; Supreme Vice Justice, Frank E. Rutledge; Supreme Secretary, Frank M. Ludwick; Supreme Marshal, Alex Hitz; Supreme Historian, Lawrence Lytle; Supreme Editor, Earl Hatcher; Chairman Board of Tribunes, John J. Nangle; Associate Members Board of Tribunes, Frank L. Fawcett and George E. Fink; Board of Trustees, August A. Rendigs, Jr., Chairman; Rex Hardy and Thomas P. Octigan.

On March 18, 1931, a charter was granted to the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter, Pittsburgh, P. A., with the following charter members:

On March 1, 1932, a charter was granted to the Twin City Alumni Chapter, Minneapolis and St. Paul, with the following charter members:

Thomas B. Mouer, Charles F. Noonan, Perry R. Moore, James L. Hetland, J. L. Krusemark, H. V. Harn, Leonard L. Langer, Donald A. Holmes, Edward J. Kotrich, John E. Palmer, Grant L. Martin, Alf L. Bergerud, Gerhard Sonnesyn, Clifford N. Carlson, Donald J. Kelley, William E. Dahl, A. V. Junkin, John F. Scott, Ulric C. Scott, Peter M. Scott, E. E. Dickson.

On May 28, 1932, Supreme Justice Allan T. Gilbert and Supreme Secretary Frank M. Ludwick, assisted by local Alumni installed the Roger Brooke Taney Chapter at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, with the following charter members:

V. Eugene Bailey, F. W. Bartlett, Jr., T. Allen Melton, Claud O. Boothman, Earl W. Green, Bonner R. Landman, Lewis O. Osborn, James L. Walsh, Jr.,

J. Calhoun Anderson, Henry Camp Harris, Jr., Warren J. Jenney, David B. Love, Morris C. Hodges, Eddie C. H. Kannenberg, Franklin E. Spafford, and on the same day, May 28, 1932, Supreme Justice Allan T. Gilbert and Supreme Secretary, Frank M. Ludwick, installed the Dallas Alumni Chapter at Dallas, Texas with these members:

At the beginning of the school year in September, 1932, the fraternity entered into a period which was probably a more difficult one than that existing in war time. Our Chapters were confronted with constantly increasing difficulties in maintaining their membership and managing their finances. There was a steadily decreasing National income and at the same time a more urgent necessity for the careful supervision in order to maintain the position and strength of the fraternity.

The Supreme Board was confronted with the necessity of deciding whether or not to dig in and let things slide or whether to struggle on in the face of all obstacles without the curtailment of any of our essential functions. The Supreme Board adopted the latter course.

In the spring of 1932 the matter of the convention which was scheduled to be held in the summer of that year in Los Angeles was up for discussion at a Supreme Executive Board meeting. To hold this convention on the Pacific Coast meant the imposing of heavy financial obligations, thus placing unwarranted hardships on the Chapters. The Supreme Executive Board decided to postpone the convention and to arrange for individual Chapter visitations, which was done in the fall of 1932. It was felt that during this distressing time greater efforts should be made to contact the entire membership. Chapters were visited that fall by a National or District Officer and at least ten of our Chapters were saved by these visitations.

One of the first steps taken to relieve the Chapters of some of their burdens was to reduce the per capita tax from $7.00 to $5.00 and the assumption on the part of the Supreme Chapter of the first installment of the life subscription to the REPORTER. This was an emergency measure and was made in order to assist in lightening the load.

Another step which the Supreme Executive Board took to assist the Chapters in collecting a portion of the indebtedness due them from their active and alumni members was to devise a plan whereby they could enforce the payment of these obligations and thus enable the Chapters to liquidate their accounts with the National Organization. An amendment to the By-Laws was submitted and passed permitting the certification of the names of any members who had been in arrears to the Chapter for a period of three months or who had left school owing the Chapter money. The authority was placed upon the Supreme Board to expel upon thirty days notice to the member notified. This action materially accelerated collections and greatly assisted some of our Chapters whose lists of accounts receivable had grown quite large. Upon the expulsion of members for failure to liquidate their individual accounts the amount due from the members expelled, on account of per capita taxes or initiation fees, was credited to the Chapter account with the National organization. This was believed to be the avenue through which the eventual rehabilitation of the Chapters could be brought about. However, this likewise meant considerable reduction in the revenue of the Supreme Chapter during that period. In order to meet this reduction a substantial decrease in expenditures was arranged, mainly through a decrease in the compensation of the Supreme Secretary, a saving in his office expense, together with a decrease in the Supreme Officers' expense and a very substantial reduction in the cost of the official magazine, the publication of which had been transferred to the office of the Supreme Secretary where the Supreme Board felt it could be published more efficiently and more economically as all information regarding the fraternity and its members accumulated at this point.

One of the major marks of progress during this period was the establishment of a trust fund, which was created for the deposit and investment of the endowment fund, the income of which was to be paid to the Supreme Secretary to be expended on the publication of the magazine, all of the initiates of the fraternity being required to become subscribers to the official magazine as designated heretofore. It was thought this would be the means of providing, in time, sufficient income to stand the cost of publishing the official magazine, thus removing that item of expense from the general funds of the fraternity.

During the year 1932-33 a system of scholastic awards was established for the first time in the history of the fraternity. Under the system arranged these awards consisted of law books which had been selected for their usefulness to practicing attorneys. These awards were given to the fraternity member making the highest rank in scholastic attainment during his period in his law school and then required to submit an article on some legal subject of their own selection. The awards were based upon the quality of the articles submitted.

In the fall of 1933 at the meeting of the Supreme Executive Board, it was proposed by William M. O'Shea, one of the active members of the Chicago Alumni Chapter that a National PAD Night with a nation wide radio hookup be inaugurated. This plan, under his leadership, rapidly took shape, and the work was started and the success of the measure can not be doubted. On January 20th, 1934, in all of the larger centers of the country radio programs were broadcast and our members listened in to some program broadcast from their particular sections of the country. The comments were thoroughly enthusiastic and indicated a splendid plan had been devised whereby once a year at least all of the members could get together in thorough appreciation and renewed fellowship in PAD. Again on February 16th, 1935, National PAD Night was repeated. The second anniversary of this occasion met with even more marked success than the first. It is now established as a definite event each year in the life of Phi Alpha Delta.

In March 1933 the fraternity published for the first time a complete Chapter Manual, which included the Constitution and By-Laws of the fraternity, Chapter activities outlining the duties of Chapter officers, a directory of active Chapters, a fraternity calendar showing dates when the various reports and fees are due to the National Organization, a history of Phi Alpha Delta, as well as a section including the names of various prominent alumni of the fraternity. This was distributed to each member of the active Chapters and filled a long felt want.

During this school year a very encouraging increase in the number of initiates in Chapters was noted, thus likewise increasing the income of the organization. This fact enabled the officers to go on with the plans for the 23rd biennial convention which was to be held at the Drake Hotel in Chicago, Illinois, August 23rd, 24th and 25th, 1934.

The convention was a marked success, both from attendance of delegates and from the interest of alumni from various parts of the country.

The convention was called to order by Supreme Justice Gilbert on Thursday morning, August 23rd, 1934. The fraternity was composed of forty-three active Chapters and 22 alumni Chapters, thirty-three active Chapters being represented and twelve Alumni Chapters. In attendance were also Past Supreme Justices Thomas P. Octigan, Paul C. Meier, John D. Carmody, George L. Stewart, August A. Rendigs, Frank L. Fawcett, George E. Fink and John J. Nangle.

The convention was an interesting one both from a business viewpoint and also in learning from the reports of the National Officers the tremendous progress that was being made and the sound condition of the fraternity financially, in spite of the effects of the depression period.

It was learned that the development of State Associations was well under way and had great possibilities for the strengthening of Phi Alpha Delta throughout the country. Six States were organized and activities in eleven others were under way to form such Associations. The idea was to give men living in small communities an opportunity to keep up their affiliation with the National body and have representation at National Conventions.

One of the matters of particular interest broached at this convention was the matter of alumni dues, and it was recommended that each alumnus donate or contribute the sum of $1.00 a year to the National Organization, which would provide ample funds to sustain the fraternity magazine and the other activities of the organization. The Supreme Secretary was instructed to make suitable announcements of this plan and to advise that this donation would be in lieu of all other chapter dues.

At this convention the system of scholarship awards was approved and the Supreme Board was instructed to provide for further awards and that they should be given to individuals in the Chapters selected under the plan theretofore followed.

The following officers were elected at this convention:

William S. Culbertson, Supreme Justice.

Dwight H. Green, Supreme Vice Justice.

Frank M. Ludwick, Supreme Secretary and Editor.

Frank E. Rutledge, Supreme Alumni Advisor.

Lyman P. Wilson, Supreme Faculty Advisor.

Albert L. Schweitzer, Supreme Historian.

William M. O'Shea, Supreme Marshal.

Allan T. Gilbert, Chief Tribune.

John D. Carmody and John J. Nangle, Associate Tribunes.

Thomas P. Octigan, Chairman Board of Trustees.

James D. Gray and August A. Rendigs, Jr., Associate Members of Board of Trustees.

On January 13th, 1935 upon the death of Past Supreme Justice Thomas

P. Octigan, the following changes were made in the list of National Officers: Judge Arthur J. Tuttle was appointed to succeed Allan T. Gilbert as Chief Tribune, and Allan T. Gilbert succeeded Thomas P. Octigan as Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

The beginning of the school year 1934-35 saw the fraternity starting out under more favorable conditions than it had experienced for a number of years prior and the affairs of the fraternity progressed normally. A decided increase was noted in the number of members returning to school as well as an increased number of pledges to our various Chapters. Without exception the reports were enthusiastic and indicated a steady tone of improvement.

On February 1st, 1935, Fish Chapter at Mercer University, was revived, with the following men becoming members of Phi Alpha Delta: G. Brainerd Currie, Harry Lichter, T. J. Espy, Aaron J. Land, Julius Gholson, Noble E. Bowlby, John L. Kochis, Woodrow Wilson Walker and Carl Altonen.

Lurton Chapter's charter is being removed from Vanderbilt University and transferred to the University of Louisville, Louisville, Kentucky. This transfer will be completed during the month of May, 1935.

Chapter Officers and their Duties

JUSTICE. Upon the Justice rests the burden and responsibility for the success of his Chapter. He should be a man of force and executive ability, of even disposition and sound judgment. If his Chapter maintains a house he should reside there. It is his responsibility and duty to see that all of the Chapter officers faithfully perform their duties and that the requirements of the National Constitution and By-Laws and local By-Laws are carefully enforced. He should see that Chapter meetings are conducted in conformity with established rules of parliamentary procedure and that they are opened and closed in conformity with the ritual provided therefor; that pledges are properly instructed before their initiation; that brothers participating in the ritualistic ceremony are familiar with their parts and capable of performing them. He should appoint proper committees for the carrying on of Chapter activities and require their prompt performance. He should watch the scholastic standing of the members in his Chapter, maintain a contact with the Dean and faculty members and apply such disciplinary measures as may be necessary, justly and firmly. The office of Justice is the highest honor which his Chapter has to confer. In accepting this honor he assumes a great responsibility, and for the faithful performance of his duties he receives a great satisfaction for service done as well as much valuable experience. In selecting the man to serve as Justice, the Chapter should carefully consider his qualifications and not be swayed by the personal charm or popularity of those under consideration for so important an office.

VICE-JUSTICE. The Vice-Justice should be thoroughly informed on all the duties of Justice in case he be called upon at any time to take the place of the Justice. He should have as nearly as possible the same qualifications outlined for the Justice and should stand ready to assist him at any time.

CLERK. The office of Clerk of a Chapter is a very important one, for to a large extent the standing and reputation of the Chapter is dependent upon the manner in which he discharges his duties. He is the principal point of contact between the Chapter and the Supreme Chapter, as most correspondence is directed to his attention to be transmitted by him to the proper officers or to the Chapter. It is his duty to keep the minute books and all records of the fraternity, other than financial records. Monthly Chapter Bulletins from the Supreme Secretary's office are forwarded to him and he should see that these Bulletins, as well as other important correspondence from National Headquarters are read to the Chapter at the first meeting following their receipt. He should maintain an accurate and up-to-date roster of all the members of his Chapter, and should at all times keep up to date on alumnus record cards (Form "I") a record of all alumni from his Chapter. He should see that the historical form blanks (Form "F") are prepared and signed by the initiate at the time of his initiation, and immediately forwarded to the Supreme Secretary's office. It is from this form that the initiate's records are prepared at National Headquarters, and his subscription to the REPORTER entered upon the general file of the fraternity, from which subsequent directories are printed, he should see to it that he has on hand in his Clerk's book a sufficient supply of the following forms, and should watch the fraternity calendar appearing in this hand-book and republished in each issue of the magazine and be prompt in the furnish-ment of the required forms and records. All forms can be procured from the office of the Supreme Secretary without cost to the Chapter. (Insert forms)

FORM "A" Should appear in the front of the book. On this appears the entire roll of Chapter members and pledges. Should be used for the purpose of keeping a permanent roll call sheet. This will enable officers to check up on local Chapter attendance, which is one of the things that inspecting officers are required to investigate and report to the Supreme Executive Board.

[illegible]

FORM "B" For use of the Clerk in keeping the minutes of Chapter meetings. The minutes should be written up in permanent form as soon as possible following the meeting, preferably in typewriting. At the end of each school year the minutes for that year should be removed from the Clerk's record book and placed in a strong mainlla envelope and permanently filed with the Chapter Records.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Chapters should use utmost discretion in making recommendations for Honorary Membership to the Supreme Executive Board.

2. The utmost secrecy should surround the consideration of any prospective honorary member until final action of the Supreme Executive Board is communicated to the chapter.

3. Only men who have so distinguished themselves by their achievements that they are of more than local prominence should be considered for Honorary Membership.

4. Chapters in making recommendations should be governed solely by the best interests of the fraternity as a whole, and not by the selfish interests of the chapter or any of its members.

5. Submit application in triplicate.

A Chapter is liable for a fine of $5.00 for each month's delinquency in furnishing reports and the required Chapter letters for the REPORTER.

TREASURER. Probably no officer can make or break a Chapter more effectively than the Treasurer. No Chapter can permanently prosper without a definite financial policy vigorously and constantly enforced. It is desirable, although not absolutely essential, that the Treasurer have some knowledge of bookkeeping. Immediately upon his election to office he should take charge of the uniform accounting system provided by the Supreme Executive Board. In the front of this account book he will find complete and detailed instructions as to the proper method of keeping the fraternity books, together with sample pages illustrating simply and exactly how this work should be done. In the event these instructions have been lost or destroyed he can procure additional copies without cost from the Supreme Secretary.

In addition to the uniform accounting system, which is contained in a loose-leaf leatherette binder with the name PHI ALPHA DELTA LAW FRATERNITY stamped in gold upon the cover, he should have a supply of forms "G" and "H" which are remittance sheets for initiation fees and annual dues, respectively, and copy of which follow:

For the amount of initiation fees and dues which the Chapter is obligated to pay to the Supreme Chapter, refer to National By-Laws on page 10 on Fees and Dues.

The Following is a requirement of the Supreme Executive Board which the Chapter must enforce under pain of the suspension of its charter. Strict and inflexible, it has been found to be the only practical method of maintaining the financial standing and continued prosperity of Chapters:

"Whereas, various chapters have in the past been severely penalized through failure of chapter members to meet their financial obligations to an extent in some cases of jeopardizing the chapter's very existence; and whereas, the Supreme Executive Board is convinced that the future progress of Phi Alpha Delta is dependent upon the adoption of a definite financial policy on the part of the chapters; now, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, That chapters be forbidden under a penalty of suspension to initiate pledges until the full initiation fee has been paid to the chapter treasurer; that chapter treasures be required to read at each regular meeting the names of all delinquent members and amounts owed by such delinquent, together with a list of all accounts payable which are thirty days or more delinquent;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That chapter officers be required to prefer charges for the suspension of any member more than three months in arrears with their financial obligations, and that chapters be required to expel from the Fraternity any member who shall leave school owing the chapter money."

The Chapter is liable for a fine of $5.00 for each month's delinquency on fees and dues.

MARSHAL. Other than duties specifically delegated to the Marshal by local Chapters, his duties are prescribed in the book of the ritual of the fraternity. He should see to it that all paraphernalia used in the exemplification of the ritual is provided and kept locked in a suitable box and at all times in good condition and repair. To him is delegated the duty of supervising pledges during their pledge period and to attending to their inspection prior to their initiation. He should supervise all of the ritual of the fraternity. He should be a man of dignity and talent, for the impression received by new members is largely dependent upon his work.

Chapter Activities

It is not desirable that chapter activities should be definitely prescribed. It is impossible to create a mold into which every chapter may be cast. The material in this section is, therefore, largely a suggestion of basic principles, which may serve to guide our thinking. Desirable activities must vary from time to time and from school to school, but it is a safe generalization that the chapter which has no worthwhile activities is either dead or dying.

Activity is not an end in itself. No activity is commendable if it has no beneficial purpose. A caged squirrel may revolve his cage at a tremendous rate without getting anywhere. Really good law students and really good lawyers have little time to waste. This does not mean that it is not desirable to take ample time for relaxation and amusement. The man who fails to get a reasonable amount of each is likely to go stale. Physical fitness is essential to mental effectiveness. Law is a social science. It thrives on human contacts, even on "bull sessions", but the habitual bull session produces only intellectual dilution.

I. FUNDAMENTAL PROPOSITIONS

(a) A chapter of a fraternity exists at an educational institution only under the license of the authorities of that school; it does not exist as a matter of right. It must therefore observe both the letter and the spirit of all rules and regulations of the school in which it functions. It is under an implied, if not an express, contract to do so. If the existing rules and regulations are unreasonable, proof of this fact can be made, and that executive who will not listen to reason in the matter of modification is practically unknown. No law fraternity can justify its own lawless conduct.

(b) By its very existence a law fraternity asserts a claim to leadership, and it must exercise that leadership and exercise it wisely. Every chapter attempts to bring within its ranks those men who will be leaders in the law school and leaders at the bar. It does not seek out the prospective failures, nor does it pride itself upon its bad judgment in the selection of pledges. There is no justification in collecting leaders who do not lead. Every chapter of Phi Alpha Delta owes to the fraternity and to the school in which it is located the duty of improving scholastic and professional standards, and of promoting the welfare of society by advancing the standards of professional conduct.

(c) Phi Alpha Delta is a professional fraternity. The chapters of this fraternity must therefore assume some of the dignity which is to be expected from the bar itself. It must without becoming unduly serious and ponderous realize that it is an effective adjunct to professional training, and that it will in later years form a bond of association among mature men who are engaged in a common profession.

(d) Every chapter owes to the fraternity at large the duty to keep its own house clean. A very few badly operated chapters may do great damage to the reputation of the fraternity at large. Phi Alpha Delta has reason to be proud of its reputation. Its members have been gentlemen, in the proper sense of that word, and upon this its reputation has been gained. A chapter which incurs suspension by college authorities hurts every PAD everywhere.

II. CHAPTER ACTIVITIES

(a) These should be differentiated from those of the undergraduate fra- ternities. Something more than social intercourse is to be expected from a professional fraternity. Much of the "horse-play" of the college fraternity is out of place in an organization like PAD. Fellowship and friendship are essential, but it is reasonably to be expected that the law fraternity will show a distinct definiteness of purpose.

(b) Social events are positively desirable, but should not be indulged to the exclusion of other forms of endeavor.

(c) The chapter should meet at stated times, and no meeting should be held without a definite purpose. There is great value in regularity. The purpose may and at times should be purely recreational. It is not necessary that there should be a ponderous speech at every chapter meeting. Attractive programs are always possible. Mock trials may be held. Speakers from fields related to law may be drawn from other departments of the university, or from outside the school. It is not necessary that speakers should present topics directly related to law. It is not necessary to have a banquet in order to have a speaker. In fact, it is desirable that the meetings be made inexpensive and that, if refreshments are served, these shall be inexpensive. Most law students have already faced the cost of college years and membership in Phi Alpha Delta should not be made a financial burden.

(d) Joint meetings with other law fraternities in the same school are desirable. Much value can come from such an interchange. The spirit and the morale of your school can be improved. This means a better school, and indirectly better legal training for you as individuals. Further than this, in promoting the welfare of all law fraternities you also promote the welfare of Phi Alpha Delta. If we fear these intimate contacts with our competitors, we by that fear confess our doubts in the worth of our own fraternity.

(e) The management of chapter affairs should, in the main, be delegated to the officers. That which is everybody's business is nobody's business. It should be the first duty of newly-elected officers to prepare and present to the chapter an orderly program of activities, and, when that is agreed upon, it should be their duty actively to carry it out.

(f) Scholastic standards are a prime concern. This fraternity is more than a mere honorary fraternity. Its badge is not an award for past accomplishments. Membership is conferred upon the definite understanding that the initiate will reasonably devote his best efforts to attaining success in the legal profession, and the first step in that direction is sound legal scholarship. Every member should be actively interested in the success of every other member and should at all times be alert for opportunities to aid his fellows. Every chapter should feel itself charged with the duty of raising the standard of scholarship in its school and should strive for scholastic leadership.

(g) An annual dinner which should be the climax of the year's activities is recommended. Nothing adds so much to the esprit de corps of the chapter as a well managed dinner. An eminent speaker should be obtained and care should be taken to assure him the major portion of the time allotted to the program. It is not essential that this dinner shall be at all expensive. Atmosphere is more important than food. Members of the faculty may well be asked to participate as guests if not otherwise. Such a meeting at the close of the school year should generate an enthusiasm that will ensure an active chapter spirit for the following year.

(h) Do not fail to keep in touch with the alumni of your chapter and of other chapters in your area. Locate them and invite them to your meetings. You will find great satisfaction in their loyalty and their interest.

(i) Nothing is more important than the maintenance of close contact and cooperation with the faculty and the officials of your school, whether members of this fraternity or not. Mutual acquaintance is the basic requirement of cooperation. Cooperation between you and your faculty members will be surprisingly advantageous, not in the way of gaining personal favors, but as an aid to effective law study. By cooperation you can make your chapter invaluable to the school and can render its position secure. Your aid in school administration has possibilities that you may not suspect, and you can do wonders in helping to make your school the sort of place you think it should be. Don't expect your faculty to do it all.

(j) You should be very careful to keep in touch with the members of this fraternity who may be on your faculty. They can be very helpful in framing your program of activities and in pointing out improvements. Their advice may often forestall some very real problems.

III. SELECTION OF MEMBERS

1. Choose men for character, ability and personality. Pick men whom you feel will make successful lawyers. Phi Alpha Delta is a lawyers' organization.

2. Initiate no man who has not demonstrated his ability to succeed in your law school. When he is pledged tell him that initiation will be dependent upon his success as a student. Do not cheapen your chapter by taking "lame ducks".

3. Wherever possible choose men who have the recommendation of the alumni of this fraternity, but do not make such recommendation a prerequisite. Enlist the active presence of alumni in your rushing.

4. If it is not too great a financial burden put on a smoker for all the incoming students. Make the new men feel at home. They will be interested in an organization that is interested in them and in their school.

5. Do not hesitate to express your belief in fraternity values, even though those values are found in another organization. There are so many "selling points" in Phi Alpha Delta that you need not knock any other fraternity. A knock is usually a boomerang at best. No man will join a law fraternity who is not convinced that such organizations are valuable.

6. Choose no man who is not congenial to your entire chapter, however brilliant he may be. Chapter unity must be preserved. You will never be able to get all the good men, although you should endeavor to get as many as you can. No measure of ability can compensate for uncongeniality.

A complete file of the fraternity magazines should be maintained by the Chapters either in the Chapter house or in the law school library. Magazines should be kept bound for this purpose. The rushee should be shown the fraternity directory and should know that it is widely used, not only by members of the fraternity, but by the Bar generally in the forwarding of business. His attention should be directed to the fact that innumerable connections have in the past and will in the future be made as a result of membership in the fraternity, and that many of the Alumni Chapters of the larger cities maintain Phi Alpha Delta employment bureaus and that this work is being developed nationally. An examination of the directory shows a surprising number of Phi Alpha Delta partnerships and connections. Do not overlook the fact that through membership in Phi Alpha Delta a lawyer is immediately at home in any locality in the United States and in many foreign countries, that his pleasure in the practice of the law in his own particular community is enhanced through membership; that membership in a legal fraternity has more to offer than any other fraternity, social or professional, due to the fact that during the remainder of his life, through the very nature of his profession he will be daily associated with his brothers in his practice, and that through his membership are available the advice and counsel of his older brothers practising at the Bar and occupying positions on the Bench. If he is politically ambitious the value of contacts made through his membership in the fraternity can hardly be overestimated.

In practically every community where a law school is located can be found local alumni Chapters, or interested alumni. Effective results can often be secured through the assistance which may be procured from these older men in rushing. Frequently joint dinners can be arranged, to which prospective members may be invited with exceedingly satisfactory results. Phi Alpha Delta scholastic awards should be widely discussed and it should be pointed out that these awards are available only to members of the fraternity.

Bear in mind that the day has passed when a man desires to join a fraternity merely for the purpose of wearing a fraternity pin or key. He is almost certain to ask himself "What have I to gain through membership in this organization?" Every member of the Chapter should be familiar with all the advantages which the fraternity has to offer and be able to explain them coherently and convincingly.

Above all, a systematic program is essential.

The following is a partial list of prominent alumni to whom reference may very properly be made. This can of course be amplified by referring to the directory.

Jewelry

In 1919 detailed specifications were prepared and adopted by the fraternity for the manufacture of official jewelry as described in the Constitution. The fraternity registered its Greek letters as a trade mark to protect the name as well as its insignia. In 1923 the fraternity entered into a contract with L. G. Balfour Company to act as the sole official jeweler, after securing bids from many competing firms and careful analysis of samples submitted. While there may be some disadvantages in the practice of requiring the purchase of all jewelry from the official jeweler, experience has proven that they are far outweighed by the advantages. This practice enables the fraternity to limit the sale of its jewelry to those entitled to its use, as every order requires the approval of the Supreme Secretary. It assures a uniform product of high standard at the best price possible to secure merchandise of the quality specified, as all official jewelry must conform to the adopted specifications. The fraternity receives from the official jeweler a commission on all jewelry sold, which goes into the general funds of the fraternity, without however increasing the cost due to mass buying.

The By-laws require all Chapters to purchase their jewelry from this source. It should be ordered on the official order blanks provided by the jeweler. Such order blanks can be procured promptly upon application to L. G. Balfour Company, Attleboro, Massachusetts. The order blank is in triplicate, one copy of which is forwarded direct to the official jeweler at the above address, the second copy to the Supreme Secretary's office and the third is retained by the Chapter Clerk or Treasurer for his records.

The following is a price list which is effective at the present time:

Scholastic Awards

The school year of 1932-33 marked the establishment of a system of scholastic awards. Arrangements have already been made for the sale of advertising in the REPORTER to various lawbook publishers, the advertising being paid for in valuable law books. These books have been selected for their suitability to the needs of practicing attorneys. Lists of those available for distribution may be had by reference to the issues of the REPORTER.

Three forms of awards will be made, with several prizes in each group.

1. Individual Awards. Deans of all law schools where we have Chapters have been requested to certify the name of the Phi Alpha Delta ranking highest in scholastic attainment during his period in the law school. Candidates will then be required to submit an article on some legal subject of his own selection, such article to contain not less than 1500 nor more than 2000 words. These articles will be submitted to a scholastic committee and awards will be made based upon the quality of the articles submitted.

2. Chapter Awards. The Deans of the various law schools where Chapters of Phi Alpha Delta are located will be requested to certify the rank which the Chapter, as a group, bears to the average law school grade. Thereupon awards will be made to the Chapter holding the highest group average.

3. In addition to the scholastic awards, the following awards will be made at the end of each current year.

a. To the Chapter which has been most prompt in the submission of reports.

b. To the Chapter which has been most prompt in paying its financial obligations.

c. To the Chapter which has submitted the best Chapter letters to the REPORTER.

d. To the Chapter which has been most prompt in furnishing Chapter letters for the REPORTER.

e. To the Chapter showing the greatest interest in National activities or which has contributed most thereto during the school year.

The individual scholastic award will of course go to the winning brother. The Chapter scholastic award may be used as the Chapter desires. It is suggested that the awards other than scholastic be given to the member responsible for the performance of the duties for which the award is made, unless the Chapter desires otherwise.

The Reporter

In December, 1906, Phi Alpha Delta commenced the publication of a magazine published under the name of THE QUARTERLY. This magazine has been published uninterruptedly since that time. In October, 1930, the name was changed to the REPORTER. At the present time this magazine is considered the best of the professional fraternity publications and compares very favorably with the best of those published by social fraternities.

The magazine is now being published by the Supreme Secretary's office and material should be forwarded to him. Four issues a year are published, in October, December, March and May. Material for each issue should be in the hands of the Supreme Secretary not later than the first day of the month in which the magazine is published. The twenty-second biennial convention of the fraternity amended the By-laws and provided for compulsory life subscriptions to the magazine, the subscription price being $9.00 payable in three annual installments of $3.00 each. The first installment is due at the time of initiation and the remaining two installments on November 1st of each succeeding year. Provision has been made for the deposit of these funds in a trust fund, the income only of which is to be used for the publication of the magazine. The experience of other fraternities has proved that through the use of this method a fund can be accumulated which eventually will bear the entire expense of the publication of the magazine, eliminating this expense from the general funds of the fraternity.

The annual subscription price to the magazine is $2.00. Professional cards can be inserted at a price of $2.00 for four issues. Certain classes of advertising are carried. Quotations on advertising may be secured upon application to the Supreme Secretary's office.
