Dear Brothers:

This will be my last opportunity to speak to you through this medium until next Fall. I have enjoyed these brief talks with you and hope that I have succeeded in leaving with you some helpful thoughts.

As I talk with others and read some of the material which is ground out daily I am convinced that one of the greatest needs of today is tolerance. In a world which is becoming increasingly intolerant of the rights of smaller and weaker people and in which subversive minorities are loudly preaching the doctrine of hate and spreading poisonous propaganda, it is fitting that the members of our Fraternity, in whom has been ingrained the love of one's brother, should take the lead in opposing this intolerance of the rights of others which aims to destroy democracy at home and abroad.

Intolerance, the refusal to permit opposing beliefs, is a form of bigotry that must be stamped out if our democratic form of government is to live. Refusal to forbear in the judging of the acts and opinions of others is prevalent in many groups and is generally more insidious and of greater danger in those groups which declare to the world that their object is to promote tolerance and protect civil liberties.

What can we do to eliminate or, at least, decrease this feeling of intolerance which is sweeping the country? We can preach tolerance! We can point out that toleration is merely the recognition of the rights of individuals to their own opinions and practices when they do not interfere with the rights of others or with decency and order. Our forefathers fought to establish tolerance in this country. We have this heritage now! Why should we not fight for it? Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty and unless you are willing to protect those hard-earned rights you may shortly find yourself without them. The unrest and dissatisfaction currently present among all kinds of people can be kindled into a real conflagration by some crackpot who, with little sense or respect for his inherited rights, is willing to sacrifice them in an effort to bring about a change, no matter how harmful.

As men about to become members of the legal profession it is your duty to protect the public from these rabble-rousers and the chaos which would follow if they were successful. Teach by your example.

Attorney General

Robert Houghwout Jackson

Six years ago a comparatively unknown lawyer from Jamestown, New York, left for Washington to become General Counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Promising himself and his upstate clients he would return in less than a year, he arrived in Washington, more than a little bewildered by the size and complexity of the government machine. Six years later, despite his original intention, that upstate lawyer was still in Washington, but no longer confused or bewildered, for in that relatively short space of time Robert H. Jackson had risen to the eminently high post of Attorney General of the United States.

When he was asked to come to Washington as General Counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue he was living with his wife and two children in a comfortable home in Jamestown, where horse-back riding and sailboating were his hobbies. He left this quiet, although not provincial existence to step into the New Deal whirlpool in March, 1934.

Soon after his arrival in Washington, he went to work preparing the income tax case against that most powerful of economic royalists, Andrew Mellon, and Bob Jackson contended in open court against some of the best legal brains in the country. One day when irked by the tactics of the defense, he said "It is Mr. Mellon's credo that $200,000,000 can do no wrong. Our offense consists in doubting it."

Bob Jackson's victory in this case, in which he recovered $750,000 from the ex-Secretary of the Treasury, and ex-Ambassador to the Court of St. James, was obscured by Mr. Mellon's gift of his art treasures to the Government.

Born at Spring Creek, Pennsylvania, in 1892, Bob Jackson moved to Jamestown, New York, when he was about ten years old, and his boyhood was divided between farm life and attending the public schools. While still very young, he decided he wanted to become a lawyer but was much too ambitious and impatient to spend the required four years in college when in only two years at the Albany Law School he could learn all he needed to pass the bar examinations. He entered, and passed the course in one year.

As a result of this, the school refused to give him his degree, so in order to take his first case he had to obtain special permission of the court. In this regard Bob Jackson has been a very unique figure among the New Deal lawyers, many of whom are college professors carrying imposing degrees, and practically all of whom are Harvard, Yale or Columbia graduates. However, he is regarded among the government's lawyers as a most experienced and resourceful strategist, and younger lawyers from all branches of the service take their practical problems to him for solution, for he has proven himself one of the best legalists in a lawyer-ridden New Deal.

After serving as General Counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue and Special Counsel for the Securities and Exchange Commission, Brother Jackson became head of the Tax Division of the Department of Justice, as Assistant Attorney General. The Unemployment Compensation Law and the Old Age Benefits Act, as well as other New Deal statutes were his responsibility, and these were attacked from all sides. Bob Jackson went into district courts and circuit courts of appeals and fought side by side with the trial lawyers of his division, eventually being rewarded with successful decisions from the Supreme Court.

As head of the Anti-Trust Division, he was in the field repeatedly, battling with his staff in the lower courts in anti-trust cases, and in defense of the milk marketing orders of the Secretary of Agriculture. This he carried through to a successful termination in the Supreme Court, but nearly two years after his appointment as Solicitor General.

Only once before, since the office of Solicitor General was created seventy years ago, has a holder of that office become Attorney General. This was in the case of William D. Mitchell, who was appointed Solicitor General in 1925, and Attorney General in 1929. But not in many years, if ever, has a man come to the head of the Department of Justice who has had such extensive experience in its work.

In the Supreme Court, where he has repeatedly challenged old precedents and urged the Court to overrule itself, his successes have been largely due to the careful preparation and lawyerlike presentation of his cases. Justice Justin Miller, of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, in introducing Mr. Jackson at the recent dinner of the Federal Bar Association of Washington, said of him:

"As an Advocate, Mr. Jackson is so admirably poised, so disarmingly frank, so unpretentiously democratic, that the cocksure and unwary adversary may be lulled into a false sense of security and then, suddenly, left gasping from a penetrating thrust, which strips the hokum from an argument and ruthlessly exposes its invalidity."

But more important than his many victories and his few defeats in the courts has been his concurrent development of a philosophy, deeply imbedded in the traditions of democracy. Because he has discovered no reason to disbelieve in the present system of political democracy, he has sought means for its survival. This, he believes, has been the purpose of the New Deal, and all his many attacks on Big Business have been directed to this purpose. In simple terms, he believes in the necessity of the profit system to keep our inherited system of private enterprise going, and the government's duty is to keep the system in working order.

But this must never be done at the expense of a political democracy, any more than Government should settle its policies in terms of economics alone. Economics and politics are inseparable, but when politics cease to function as a conditioner of economics, then the system fails, and the people may be expected to seek a substitute that will presumably work to their distinct advantage.

Bob Jackson once stated the essence of his philosophy when he said, "Any system, to survive, must feed its people."

Many feel that given the right support his extraordinary talents, his delightful personality, his flexible philosophy and his dependable integrity may yet be counted among the most valuable political assets in the New Deal's impending struggle for self-preservation. When the President, in one of his whimsical moods, suggested there must be a dozen charming young men quite willing to carry the New Deal banner after 1940, every Washington columnist at once placed Bob Jackson's name near the top of the list, and some political prophets have even gone so far as to say that he is the personal, if not the political choice of Mr. Roosevelt himself as his successor to the great white throne.

But whatever Bob Jackson's political future may be, his past is secure, and with little formal education he has gone far in a meticulous profession for he has used his native talents well. His family background perhaps has had much to do with this and there is little doubt but that Bob Jackson's life has been greatly colored by his great-grandfather, old Elijah Jackson, a crusty frontiersman, farmer and rural democrat. He was a stout follower of Andrew Jackson who, in Bob Jackson's words, was the first "American political leader to seek his political support among all the people." Old Elijah Jackson, in a hotbed of Federalists, was a member of one of those Democratic Clubs formed in his time to support the principles for which the French Revolution was fought. Elijah's son, Bob Jackson's grandfather, was so deeply dyed a Democrat that even the Civil War couldn't wean him from his county.

Jonathan Mitchell wrote in The New

Republic, "To have a family that glories in belonging to a hopeless political minority is something no child could ignore. One of the possible consequences would be to make the child contemptuous of what is elegantly called the climate of opinion."

Bob Jackson's family background made him a political Democrat in a predominantly Republic stronghold, thus teaching him the ways of independence and also instilling in him a deep sense of justice. He has no patience with stupidity. He has a gracious sense of humor; and a biting wit. He does his own thinking; but he knows how to get help. He does his own writing; but he takes the telling phrase where he finds it. He is independent; but not foolhardy. A trained lawyer, he knows the value of precedent and the need for preparedness. A self-made philosopher, he is continually seeking to temper his pragmatism. A politician by chance, he is primarily a democrat . . . and a Democrat well worth watching in the coming primaries.

Brewer Chapter Celebrates 25th Anniversary

Twenty-five years of success was the key note of the anniversary celebration of the David J. Brewer Chapter of PAD on April 6th, and festivities took place on that date at Stetson University in conjunction with the program for the second annual Law School Day.

On Saturday morning several prominent members of the Florida Bar were initiated into honorary membership, and outstanding among these was Justice Armstead Brown of the Florida Supreme Court. Also J. P. Simmons, one of the best known attorneys in the State, who was initiated as an active member.

The highlight and climax of the morning's celebration was the luncheon held at the University Commons. Speakers on the program included E. Harris Drew, West Palm Beach; Hon. Millard D. Smith, Titusville; John D. Harris, St. Petersburg; and Erskine W. Landis of Deland. All of these speakers are graduates of Stetson University.

There were a great number of charter members also in attendance at the celebration, these included Hon. David Scholtz, Lewis H. Tribble, Justice Elwyn H. Thomas, A. O. Kanner, Handen H. Baskin, William P. Dineen, Ray M. Griffin, Charles P. Phillips, William J. Steed and Howard P. Steward. Silver keys were presented to the charter members to express the appreciation of Brewer Chapter for their continued work and interest.

Following the luncheon, everyone attended the Senior Law Club Argument of the Stetson University Law School. This argument is given by the four seniors who have been successful during their three years in the Law School in winning over all competition. Those participating this year were all Phi Alpha Delta brothers, namely, Hal Dekle and Thomas Kirkland vs. Harry Newett and John Cherry. Hon. Armstead Brown, Hon. Elwyn Thomas and Attorney General George Couper Biggs acted as judges pro tempore in hearing the case which was entitled, "Coast to Gulf Construction Corp. v. Lon Murcock, et al. This was a case involving the right of a union to induce a contractor's employees to join the union in violation of a "Yellow Dog" contract, and then strike and picket against their employer because of his refusal to cease purchasing non-union building materials. After due deliberation the acting judges awarded the deviation to Brothers Dekle and Kirkland.

Another interesting event held in conjunction with Law School Day was a discussion of the Wage-Hour Law given by Hon. George A. McNulty, General Counsel of the Wage-Hour Division of the Department of Labor the title of his talk being "Administrative Process Under the Fair Labor Standard Act." Following his address a discussion of the subject took place between Hon. Counts Johnson, General Counsel of the Florida Citrus Exchange, and Hon. M. L. Fleishel, President of the Putnam Lumber Company.

At 6:30 on the University Commons a "Barrister's Banquet" was held. The menu was chosen with great care and was one of the most delectable dinners ever enjoyed at a celebration of this kind.

In the evening Law Club prizes were awarded, and this was followed by a number of very interesting discussions by members of the Five Minute Club of the Florida legal fraternity.

This Silver Anniversary of Brewer Chapter calls to mind another celebration that took place in 1915 when the chapter was founded. The festivities attendant upon the occasion occupied three days, and the faculty, student body and local townspeople contributed toward making the installation a red-letter day in university annals.

HONORARY

ARMSTEAD BROWN

Armstead Brown, newly initiated into honorary membership in Brewer Chapter, was born in Talbotton, Georgia, in 1875, and attended school only until the age of fourteen when he left to earn his living. In 1897 he was admitted to the bar in La Fayette, after studying law in the office of J. R. Dowdell, and in 1905 entered practice in that city.

Appointed Associate Judge of the City Court of Montgomery, Montgomery County's highest trial court, in 1909, he was elected the next year for a term extending to 1917. Before his term expired he was appointed General Solicitor of the Florida East Coast Railway Company and associated corporation, and in 1915 removed to Jacksonville, Florida.

Entering the general practice of law in Miami, Florida, in 1917, he practiced there until 1925, when he was appointed Justice of the Supreme Court of Florida, of which court he became Chief Justice in 1925, and served in that capacity until the end of his appointed term. Brother Brown was elected in 1926 to the full six-year term, and has been renominated and re-elected since that time without opposition. He was elected President of the Miami Bar Association in January, 1922, and a few months later was also elected President of the Florida State Bar Association.

This distinguished jurist is royally welcomed into Phi Alpha Delta, and the entire fraternity is honored to call him a brother.

Brewer Chapter was formally installed by Supreme Recorder Conger G. Roads on Saturday evening, April 3, 1915. The petitioning body numbered ten active men and four honorary members. The charter members of Brewer chapter were: Hamden H. Baskin, William P. Dineen, A. O. Kanner, Ray M. Griffin, Charles P. Phillips, David Sholtz, William J. Steed, Howard P. Stewart, Elwyn Thomas, Lewis H. Tribble and Judge J. W. Perkins, Judge Bert Fish, Ex-Governor W. S. Jennings and Honorable Cary D. Landis, Honorary members.

Tri Delta gave an informal tea on Friday afternoon to the members of the new chapter; Sigma Nu was at home to them on Saturday morning; Dr. Lincoln Hulley, then president of the university, held a reception in their honor on Saturday afternoon. The initiation proper took place Saturday evening, followed by a banquet at the Lexington later in the evening. Phi Beta Phi entertained at a breakfast on Sunday morning, and in the afternoon open house was held at the Scholtz home in Daytona Beach.

Early correspondence reveals that David Sholtz, transfer from Yale, Calhoun Chapter, was instrumental in the securing of David Brewer Chapter's charter. The same correspondence shows there was some objection to its granting based upon the future possibilities of the chapter, but with the exception of the years around 1933 when the depression descended, Brewer Chapter thrived and its influence has grown to encompass the whole state. The faith of the founders has been well justified.

Be tolerant of the opinions and practices of others, although, like Voltaire, you may disapprove of the opinion as expressed, defend to death the right to say it. Try to understand another's viewpoint and, if you are convinced it is wrong, attempt by discussion and argument to convince him of his error.

Be tolerant, preach tolerance, and use your powers of persuasion to stem the ugly tide of intolerance now sweeping over all nations. Above all, help stamp out resentment between races and creeds which, when allowed to grow, foment disorder and presages the end of liberty for all.

"Nothing on earth consumes a man more quickly than the passion of resentment."

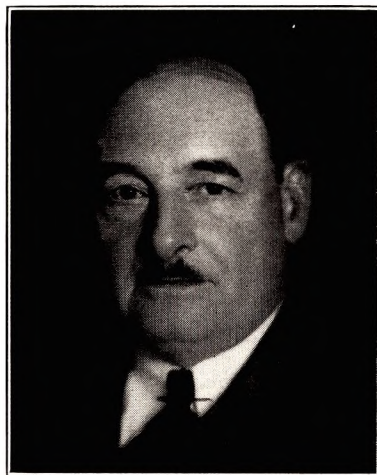

All success to you in your final examinations and to those of you taking the Bar Examinations—Good Luck!

J. HARRY LEBRUM,
Supreme Justice.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

By GEO. E. FINK, Supreme Justice 1924-25
Chicago, Illinois

In the preceding article (February, 1940), there was published a picture taken at the fourth convention of the Fraternity held in 1903 at Pistakee Bay, Fox Lake, Illinois, with the statement that the picture showed four members who became Supreme Justices of the Fraternity and that this article would give their names. For the convenience of the reader, the picture is shown again with this article, on the next page.

Garver (Blackstone); Roland M. Hollock (Fuller), (Deceased); Joseph O. Kostner (Fuller); Thomas P. Octigan (Blackstone), (Deceased); and Hugo L. Pitte (Fuller).

It would seem that "in the late 90's" and for a period of ten or fifteen years following, the "taking" of group and individual pictures was a practice more frequently indulged in than has since been the case. Such pictures have become more interesting, not to say valuable, with the march of time, and if those members of the Fraternity who have preserved such pictures would loan them to the Editor of the Reporter, many interesting events in the early history of the Fraternity would be brought to light. Such pictures would, however, be more interesting to those who were then actively participating than those who are carrying on today. The writer, however, laments the passing of the practice, and urges the more frequent use of the candid camera.

Twenty-five years ago this year, March 12, 1915, to be exact, two new chapters were added to the roll of the Fraternity. The first of these chapters was Manoch B. Reese at the Law Department of the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska. Supreme Justice Edgar A. Jonas was the installing officer. The Charter Members were fourteen in number and their names were as follows: Benjamin C. Hopewell, P. Tracy Kohl, Harvey W. Hess, Guy T. Tou Velle, Chas. H. Epperson, Arthur Balis, Hugh Agor, J. E. Jacobson, Marcus L. Poteet, Albert E. Bryson, Jr., E. E. May (Campbell), Ralph W. Harn, Ward B. Spatz, Harold Lee Temple.

The second of the two chapters above-mentioned was the David J. Brewer Chapter at the Law Department of John B. Stetson University at Deland, Florida. The installing officer was Supreme Recorder Conger G. Roads. The petitioning group was made up of fourteen men, ten of whom were students and four older men who were made Honorary Members of the chapter. Their names are as follows: Hamden H. Baskin, William P. Dineen,

A. O. Kanner, Ray M. Griffin, Charles P. Phillips, David Sholtz, William J. Steed, Howard P. Stewart, Elwyn Thomas, Lewis H. Tribble.

Honorary Members were Judge J. W. Perkins, Judge Bert Fish, Ex-Governor W. S. Jennings, and Honorable Cary D. Landis. One of the Charter Members, David Sholtz, later became Governor of Florida.

The five Chicago Chapters, Blackstone, Story, Fuller, Webster and Marshall, united in an initiation and banquet on Saturday, April 24, 1915, at the University Club of Chicago. Supreme Justice Edgar A. Jonas presided as Toastmaster. Judges John P. McGoorty, Kickham Scanlan, and Adelor J. Pettit responded to toasts which were enthusiastically received. Two judges of the Superior Court of Cook County were made Honorary Members of the Fraternity on this occasion: Charles M. Foell, who became an Honorary Member of Fuller Chapter, and John R. O'Connor, who became an Honorary Member of Blackstone Chapter.

The next major event to take place within the fraternity was the 16th Convention to be held at San Francisco, California, August 5, 6, and 7, 1915. It seemed to overshadow everything else; it was the topic of conversation in the active chapters, in the alumni chapters and wherever members gathered. The fraternity magazine, then known as the "Phi Alpha Delta Quarterly," was not only carrying interesting railroad advertisements, but was replete with pictures of San Francisco, the Exposition grounds, and places en route. Every effort possible was made to stir up interest and maintain interest in the coming convention and to get out a large attendance. It was stated editorially in the May 1915 issue of the quarterly that "present indications are that almost 40% of the total membership of the fraternity would attend the convention."

It was the first convention held at a considerable distance from Chicago, the birthplace of the fraternity,—Madison, Wisconsin, having been the farthest away from Chicago that a convention had ever been held. The 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th and 15th conventions had all been held in Chicago. To stage a convention of the Fraternity on the Pacific Coast seemed next to impossible. The idea of a convention at the time and place of the Exposition was first broached by Past Supreme Justice John Doyle Carmody at the 13th convention, held in Chicago, Illinois, in June, 1912. Each active chapter was assessed $100, payable in three installments. Had not most of the chapters kept their pledges in this regard, the convention could not have been held; but it was held and that convention will be the subject of the next of these articles.

Sir Walter Raleigh once said, "If thy friends be of better quality than thyself, thou mayest be sure of two things; the first, they will be more careful to keep thy counsel, because they have more to lose than thou hast; the second, they will esteem thee for thyself and not for that which thou dost possess."

What is the Supreme Chapter

By FRANK M. LUDWICK

We recently distributed a booklet containing an historical sketch and outline of the history and structure of Phi Alpha Delta. This has been sent to all subscribers to The Reporter, to national and district alumni and local officers, to chapter counselors and to all active members and pledges. While the booklet was being prepared for publication and after reviewing reports of chapter inspections by visiting officers, it occurred to me that a great many members of our fraternity have a misconception of what the Supreme Chapter actually is. It is not a separate organization to which the chapters and the members belong. The Supreme Chapter is the chapter officers and members who are represented by the national officers and delegates to the national convention.

You have been told in the historical sketch how the fraternity came to be organized, and of its objects and purposes. Our founders realized that the benefits of the fraternity should be made available to law students throughout the country; furthermore, that there is strength in numbers, and the greater number of chapters we could have, the greater the opportunity for fraternal contacts, interchange of business and good work in fact, the realization of the purpose of our fraternity which is so ably set forth in our Constitution. The founders realized the necessity of some focal point where organization and supervision could be accomplished; new chapters installed and weak ones assisted; magazines and directories published; records kept and information disseminated as a means of unifying and preserving our common interests. So the Supreme Chapter was formed.

As the clerk of the Benton Chapter it was my duty to collect and transmit initiation fees and dues to national headquarters. I must confess that in those days I had the same misconception which many of our members may now have. To me, the Supreme Chapter was a thing unknown an intangible organization to which we had to pay tribute and which was, to put it bluntly, more or less a pain in the neck.

It was not until I attended my first national convention in San Francisco in 1915 that I began to understand and appreciate the wide scope of the fraternity and to realize the thought which I hope to impart to all of you, that Phi Alpha Delta is a great, far-flung and splendid law fraternity, with tremendous power and opportunity.

It is our own fraternity . . . yours and mine. The national office is simply a clearing house which we maintain for the purpose of carrying forward the work necessary to fulfill our purposes. The initiation fees, which you collect and pay in, are merely your pro rata share of the maintenance of this wonderful fraternity of ours. These funds are carefully used for the support of our organization; the supervision and rehabilitation of chapters, if they are in need of it; the publication and distribution of The Reporter, directories and necessary information, and the accumulation of funds for the purpose of defraying the expenses of your representatives to national conventions.

The national officers are your officers, just as are your local chapter officers, and you elect them just as you elect your local chapter officers, the only difference being that your delegates to conventions cast your collective vote. We are your servants, elected to carry forward the affairs of your (our) organization. As such we need your suggestions and criticisms and, if earned, your commendations. Unless you tell us, we cannot know of your desires nor of your local problems.

It is my earnest hope to see a closer connection and a deeper understanding between our entire membership. There should be more contact between neighboring chapters; more joint meetings and joint initiations; a greater interchange of constructive ideas; more news of the chapters and members in The Reporter; and a keener interest on the part of all toward further conservative expansion. Above all, there should be a realization that we are one great group, working together for a common purpose.

Certificates of Attainment

A recent rule of the Supreme Executive Board announced that a certificate of attainment be issued by the Supreme Secretary to the highest senior Phi Alpha Delta member at the close of their next to last semester. All preceding law school grades are to be considered, the award being made to the senior who has maintained the highest average, on condition however, that the member must have been within the highest ranking one-fourth of the students in the senior class and further, that consideration be given both to the quality and quantity of the work, including work on the law reviews.

That this ruling of the Supreme Board has met with the wholehearted approval of the Deans of the law schools is here evident. Here are quotations from letters received from the deans of the law schools or from their offices:

STETSON UNIVERSITY.

Paul E. Raymond, Dean

Harry T. Newett is the senior in this law school holding the highest average among the Phi Alpha Delta graduates for his entire law course.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY.

M. R. Kirkwood, Dean

The member of Phi Alpha Delta who has made the best record for his entire law course (excepting the last quarter), is Harold H. Fulkerson. I cannot say positively just where Mr. Fulkerson stands in his class as a whole, but he is certainly in the first quarter, and will probably be among the first two or three in the class. In fact he is one of the best men in the school at the present time.

UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA.

Julien C. Monnet, Dean

Charles Hazen Kimball is the top ranking senior Phi Alpha Delta at the University of Kansas. He ranks third in his class of thirty students, and has a grade point average of 2.15. Brother Kimball has written no law review articles, but is now preparing one for publication.

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

Judson A. Crane, Secretary

The high standing member of Phi Alpha Delta in our senior class is Richard M. Nugent who, at this time, stands fourth in a class of forty-one, and is a member of the Board of Editors and Business Managers of the Law Review.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO.

Pendleton Howard, Dean

I am glad to advise that the member of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity in the senior class holding the highest average among Phi Alpha Delta graduates for his entire law course (excepting the last semester), is Louis Frank Racine, Jr., Sigma Nu House, Moscow. He also fulfills the requirement of being within the upper fourth of the graduating class. It gives me pleasure to learn that he will receive the Certificate of Attainment of the fraternity.

I should like to take this opportunity to record the fact that Phi Alpha Delta has had a long career of usefulness since its establishment on this campus. It has been a large contributing factor in the promotion of a professional attitude among students in the College of Law. It has in the past sponsored many worthy projects, and I trust that it will continue to serve the professional and social interests of our students for many years to come.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO.

Isabel Muir, Secretary to the Dean

Robert Janda, a member of the senior class, holds the highest average among Phi Alpha Delta graduates for his entire law course.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY.

Fred E. Nessell, Registrar

To reply to your recent inquiry concerning the member of our graduation class, a member of Phi Alpha Delta, who excels in scholarship, may I report that Richard A. Fitzgerald qualifies with an average of 86.9. This average is five points higher than the second man in the group.

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY.

T. P. Hardwood, Dean

This is to certify that Robert Booth Goodwin is the member of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity holding the highest average for his entire law course (excepting his last semester).

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA.

Henry H. Foster, Dean

William Allison Clineburg has made the best record in our senior class of any member of your fraternity. He ranks second in his class, has been elected a member of the Order of the Coif, will graduate in June cum laude, is at present student editor-in-chief of our law review, and has been a student assistant in our law library. He has had the unique distinction of having to choose between a graduate scholarship at the Harvard Law School and a Sterling scholarship at the Yale Law School. He has chosen the latter.

I am glad to note the steps your organization is taking to emphasize the matter of scholarships, and am particularly pleased that the first letter I am writing you is one concerning such a high type of student as William Allison Clineburg.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

Nellie B. Lawrence, Secretary

The two students with the highest grades who are members of Phi Alpha Delta in this year's graduating class are James Walter Ehipe, seventeenth in a class of seventy-four, and Paul Lee Porterfield, eighteenth in a class of seventy-four. Paul Porterfield, in addition to his good record in law school, has carried on his work for the California Law Review in a very satisfactory fashion, and has also entirely maintained himself by outside work all the time he has been in law school.

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO.

Edith Barnette, Secretary

I am happy to advise you that Laurence Burdette Flanders, a member of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, is the high man in his class of forty-one members, with an average of 2.82 for his entire law course, excepting the quarter now in progress. He is also the Editor of the Rocky Mountain Law Review.

DE PAUL UNIVERSITY,

Harry D. Taft, Assistant Dean

We have come to the conclusion that we can select only one man. His name is William P. Luby. His average to the end of the first semester of this year was 85.40%. This places him in position number thirteen of the entire graduating class for June of this year. This position is well up in the upper one-fourth of the entire class.

We would like to strongly commend one other member of your fraternity who is in this class. His name is William P. Ward. His average was 82.80% to the end of the first semester and he ranks, as of that date, number thirty-two in the class, which is not in the upper one-fourth. His extra curricular activities have been many and varied. He was head of the Student Activity Council, is a member of Blue Key National Honor Society, and he is the active head of Phi Beta Epsilon Fraternity, a local honor society. He is a real "live wire."

In passing, I might say that the faculty has elected Mr. Luby to the Pi Gamma Mu Fraternity, National Social Science Honor Society recently.

UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI,

M. L. Ferson, Dean

The Phi Alpha Delta student in the senior class making the highest average is undoubtedly A. Paul Ziegler. He now has an average of 77. He is fifth in a class of eighteen, which does not locate him in the highest one-fourth. I might add, however, that Mr. Ziegler's work has progressively improved since the first year, and my prediction is that when the grades are all in on the work of this year, he will be in the upper one-fourth.

Mr. Ziegler has done some creditable work on the Cincinnati Law Review, and I think this might well be taken into consideration. He is President of his class and is well respected by classmates and teachers.

WASHINGTON and LEE UNIVERSITY

W. H. Moreland, Dean

Leslie D. Price, a member of our third year class, who will graduate in June, is the outstanding member of Phi Alpha Delta in the graduating class. His grade on his law course, including the first semester of this year, is 79.4. This we consider high.

Leslie D. Price is a member of the Law Review Board and clearly stands within the upper fourth of the entire graduating class. He is a very excellent young man, who from his admission to the law school had done work of a high grade. His means are limited and he has had to supplement his income with outside work, which makes his record all the more creditable.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA,

Harry R. Trusler, Dean

I am pleased to report James Russell McCaughan as the Phi Alpha Delta member of this year's class holding the highest average among Phi Alpha Delta graduates for his entire law course (excepting the last semester). I have also considered the matters you suggested in addition to grades; he clearly is entitled to this honor. He stands fourth in a class of fifty-two.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS,

A. J. Harno, Dean

The student in the University of Illinois College of Law, member of Phi Alpha Delta, who has made the highest record for his entire law course is Gilbert H. Hennessey, Jr. His record for five semesters places him first in the whole class.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON,

Judson F. Falknor, Dean

Harry M. Cross is the member of Phi Alpha Delta at this Law School holding the highest grade average over his entire law course. Mr. Cross stands 5th in a class of sixty-four.

CHICAGO—KENT COLLEGE OF LAW.

Clara A. Scheiner, Registrar

I am very pleased to report to you the name of Robert William Bergstrom as the member of the senior class holding the highest average among Phi Alpha Delta candidates for June 1940 graduation. His average is 2.750. The average required for graduation is 1.000. Mr. Bergstrom is also worthy of high honor in connection with his work as a member of the Chicago-Kent Law Review staff. During the current year he holds the position of Editor-in Chief.

UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA.

J. Byron McCormick, Dean

I am pleased to inform you that Wayne H. Webb is entitled to the Phi Alpha Delta scholastic award of the Certificate of Attainment as a member of the graduating class from the College of Law of the University of Arizona for this year. He ranks highest scholastically of all the members of Phi Alpha Delta in our senior class for his entire law course (excepting the last semester). In addition he is in the upper one-fourth of the entire graduating class.

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS.

J. S. Waterman, Dean

James L. Byrd is not only the highest ranking Phi Alpha Delta, but is also the highest ranking member of the Class of 1940.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA.

F. D. G. Ribble, Dean

The two members of the Phi Alpha Delta Fraternity who have the highest standing in their class among the members of that fraternity, are Captain Albert Neil Hickey and John Mallinson Wilson, Jr. On the basis of two years work, these two men tied for the ninth place in a class of 128 students. John Mallinson Wilson, Jr., is serving on the Editorial Board of the Virginia Law Review. They are both excellent men.

NEWS OF ALUMNI

LUNCHEON

Supreme Justice J. Harry LeBrum has issued an invitation to all Phi Alpha Delta alumni to attend the PAD Luncheon Wednesday, September 11th, in Philadelphia, during the week of the American Bar Association convention.

A symposium of the various PADs attending the convention will be held on Wednesday afternoon or Thursday evening, the final date to be announced later.

These annual get-together gatherings have proved to be one of the most enjoyable events of the year for PADs.

APPOINTED DEAN

Dr. Eugene A. Gilmore (Ryan), President of the University of Iowa, was appointed dean of the University of Pittsburgh's School of Law, effective next September.

A graduate of Harvard University and a former member of the University of Wisconsin Law School faculty, Dr. Gilmore will succeed Judge Alexander Marshall Thompson, who has been acting dean since his election to the bench.

Dr. Gilmore has been head of the Iowa University since 1934, before which he served as dean of its law school for four years.

From 1922 to 1929, Dr. Gilmore was secretary of public instruction and later acting Governor-General of the Philippine Islands.

He is past president of the Association of American Law Schools, a fellow in the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

BAY CHAPTERS INITIATE

On Saturday, March 30, 1940, the Field, Temple and Capen Chapters joined in an initiation at San Francisco, California. In an impressive ceremony, held in a new superior court room, twenty brothers were inducted into the fraternity. The brothers from Field Chapter conducted the initiation, assisted by Brother Supreme Secretary Frank Ludwick. Following the initiation the brothers moved to the Alexander Hamilton Hotel for cocktails, after which they enjoyed a very delightful banquet. Brother Dave Snodgrass (Temple), Professor of Law at the Hastings Law School, presided as toastmaster and, with his usual sparkling wit, set a fast tempo for a very happy program after the dinner. Past Supreme Justice Doyle Carmody, Justice Douglas L. Edmonds of the California Supreme Court, I. M.

Peckham, formerly United States District Attorney, Assistant District Attorney Folger Emerson and Assistant Attorney General Henry Dietz lent dignity to the occasion and all joined in welcoming the new brothers into the fraternity. Supreme Secretary Frank Ludwick gave a very interesting talk on the subject of the Supreme Chapter.

CIRCUIT JUDGE

LAURIE O. TELFER

Laurie O. Telfer was a member of Campbell Chapter at the University of Michigan. He graduated in the class of 1920 after serving in the war and was commissioned as a First Lieutenant in the J.A.G. United States Reserves for some ten years after the war.

After serving as Circuit Court Commissioner of St. Clair County, Michigan, for eight years, and as Prosecuting Attorney for four years, having also served as President of the Prosecuting Attorney's Association of Michigan in 1934-35, Brother Telfer was, on February 16, 1939, appointed by the late Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald as Circuit Court Judge of St. Clair County, Michigan, in which position he is now.

PAGING ROY W. WRIGHT

Brother Achenbach (Webster), on March 21, 1940, was investigating an automobile accident in Chicago and, while taking the statement, the assured's sister noticed Brother Achenbach's PAD pin and stated that her aunt had one like it. The aunt confirmed the statement and said that she had found the pin about fifteen years ago in a gas station at the corner of Ingersol and Grand in Des Moines, Iowa. The initials and number on the pin identify it as having been issued to Brother Roy W. Wright, Cole Chapter, in 1923. Our last address on Brother Wright is Anten Mills, Canada, from where mail was returned in 1934. Information as to his whereabouts will be welcomed.

HAWAII

Brother Jack Heaney (Temple) reports two more active members of Temple Chapter who are now engaged in active practice in Honolulu, on the Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, whose names were not included in last month's report of those PADs who have "eaten of the lotus." Ray O'Brien (Temple) was Judge of the Court, and is now a Judge on the Board of Tax Appeals for the Territory, and Fred Patterson (Temple) has been in active practice there for many years.

CANDIDATE

George M. Hare (Benton) was a Republican candidate for Police Judge in the Kansas City elections on April 2. Born in Independence, he attended local schools and graduated from the University of Kansas City School of Law. He was admitted to the bar in 1936.

PITTSBURGH

On March 22, the monthly meeting of the Pittsburgh Alumni was held in the Century Room of the Pittsburgher Hotel. Justice Horace Stern of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania gave the brothers a very interesting and instructive discussion of the "Trail of Negligence Cases Without a Jury." Brother Judge James H. Gray introduced Justice Stern and Justice W. Kenneth Hamblin of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter presided at the meeting. It was altogether the most successful PAD meeting held in Pittsburgh in sometime.

NECROLOGY

Edward A. Prindiville (Webster), 55, assistant state's attorney from 1915 to 1920, died recently of a heart attack at his home at Chicago.

Following his retirement from public office, Brother Prindiville, member of a pioneer Chicago family, practised law. During his term of public office he prosecuted the famous "Black Sox" baseball scandal case.

ACTIVE CHAPTER NEWS

BENSON

Washburn College

The social calendar of Benson Chapter has been very full for the last three months. Several open houses have been held, and in February two particularly outstanding events took place. First, the annual Pioneer Party, at which everyone appeared in costumes remindful of the days of the early settlers. Many of the costumes were very original and amusing, and a good time was had by all. Then on February 26th, Benson held its 19th Founders Day Banquet. This was a great occasion for the alumni of the chapter, as well as the active members. New acquaintances were made and old ones re-established among the hundred members attending the banquet. Circuit Judge Walter Huxman was the speaker for this memorable occasion.

Plans are now under way for the big Spring formal dinner dance. This is the biggest party of the year and everyone is eagerly looking forward to it.

Brothers Jack Campbell, a senior, and James Sperling, a junior in Washburn Law School, gave talks at the meeting of the Topeka Bar Association. These boys are often called upon for such occasions, and are a great boost to the chapter in this respect.

Brothers Evert Fettis and Paul Robinson have just returned from Knoxville, Tennessee, where they attended the national convention of Pi Kappa Delta.

Along with its busy social season, Benson Chapter also reports the initiation of five new members, with four more scheduled to be initiated very soon.

CAMPBELL

University of Michigan

On February 17, five new brothers were initiated into Campbell Chapter. The ceremonies were followed by a banquet attended by a large number of alumni. Professors Tracy and Yntema of the law faculty were present. A large number of guests came from Ann Arbor, Detroit and Lansing.

Following the dinner there was a short program. Justice Kelley introduced Brothers Lively and Dahman, who spoke on behalf of the initiates. Brother Gram, delighting the assembly with his witticisms, welcomed the new brothers. Justice Boyer of the Detroit Alumni, encouraged and congratulated Campbell Chapter. Supreme Vice Justice Bill O'Shea spoke in behalf of the Supreme Chapter. The Campbell Chapter quartet then rendered a few selections, one of which was an original parody entitled: "We Ain't in the Law Club Anymore."

The Detroit Alumni gave a delightful dinner for the members of the Campbell Chapter on March 22nd. This affair was given at the University Club in Detroit, and was attended by about fifty alumni from in and around that city. Very real enthusiasm was shown by the alumni for the continued success of Campbell Chapter, and with their cooperation great things are in store for this chapter of PAD.

CLAY

University of Kentucky

Five PADs of Clay Chapter are on the Kentucky Law Journal staff. The president of the student bar association is a pledge of the chapter while the vice president and two of the three class representatives are already brothers. The third class representative is now a pledge.

Clay Chapter plans a joint meeting with Lurton Chapter next month. The entire group are eagerly awaiting this occasion.

CHASE

University of Cincinnati

On April 2nd a great celebration was held in honor of University of Cincinnati Day. The guest of honor was Howard Bevis, a charter member of Chase Chapter, who has recently been appointed President of Ohio State University. Chase Chapter had a special table at the banquet held in connection with the celebration.

FLETCHER

University of Florida

Brother Joseph Geiger has been elected to the office of "Chancellor" of the University of Florida Honor Court. His election to this position from among the 3500 students at the university does great honor to Fletcher Chapter as well as Phi Alpha Delta of which Brother Geiger is an outstanding and active member. His undergraduate record at the university contains such outstanding honors as Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Kappa Phi, and Phi Beta Kappa honorary fraternity membership.

PAD really made an outstanding record during the past semester. Following closely upon the report of the honors bestowed upon Brother Geiger came additional good news. Pledge Tom Lefevre led the Freshman law class of 60 in three out of four subjects.

Brother Frank Mahoney in the first semester Freshman law examinations received four A's, the only one in the Freshman class or in the entire law school to do so.

On March 15th, Fletcher Chapter made its annual visit to the Supreme Court of Florida. The courtroom was filled with members of the chapter when the Justices of the court, five out of seven of whom are brothers in Phi Alpha Delta, took their places on the bench to hear oral arguments on the docket that day.

The visit this year was a double occasion. First, it gave the members of the chapter an opportunity to get an insight into the working of the state's chief tribunal. Second, it gave opportunity to attend a banquet arranged by the alumni in honor of the members of the Supreme Court and the Governor of Florida, also a member of Phi Alpha Delta.

At the banquet the chapter had the honor of announcing the most distinguished event in the current school year, the forthcoming initiation of Chief Justice Terrell and Justice Rivers Buford of the Supreme Court into Fletcher Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta.

After the banquet the chapter made a tour of the State Capitol under the guidance of the Attorney General of Florida, seeing, among other things, the monumental program of Brother Tribble, former Dean of Stetson University, and a charter member of Brewer Chapter, and Brother Guy Race, both of whom are acting in the capacity of Assistant Attorney Generals in the revision of the Florida Statutes in accordance with the Wisconsin statutory system.

On March 30, the chapter held an initiation and banquet in honor of the aforementioned Justices Terrill and Buford. After solemn and impressive ceremonies the chapter adjourned to the banquet hall of the University of Florida, where they entertained the Justices and paid them honors.

All sections of the state were represented at this event. Prominent alumni were present from Miami, Jacksonville, Tallahassee, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Orlando and other cities.

Newly initiated Brothers Terrill and Buford responded to the welcoming address delivered by Brother Tigert, President of the University of Florida, and both left an indelible impression upon the minds of those present with pertinent comments of our times and the obligations assumed by the oath of Phi Alpha Delta. Also speaking as well-comers to the new honorary brothers were Brother Jenkins for the Gainesville Alumni and Brother James, Justice of Fletcher Chapter.

The records of the two newly initiated brothers make Phi Alpha Delta proud to be affiliated with them in fraternal brotherhood. Justice Glenn Terrill holds the highest judicial office in the State of Florida as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. He has served on the State Legislature, the State Senate, the General Council of the Internal Improvement Fund, the Board of Commissioners of the Everglades Drainage District and as a Justice of the Supreme Court of Florida since 1923.

Brother Buford was State's Attorney for nine years, Attorney General of Florida for four years, and since 1925 has been a Justice of the Supreme Court of the state.

FISH

Temple University

At the initiation held on February 24th, seven pledges were initiated into Fish Chapter with all the solemnity that accompanies the formal acceptance of a PAD pledge. Joseph J. Kelley, Jr.; Francis P. Valverde; William H. Turner; Irving N. Simmons; Charles B. Harding, Jr.; Joseph M. Leonard; and Joseph E. Crowley are the new members of Fish Chapter who were initiated at the ceremony. An elaborate banquet followed which was enjoyed by the great number of the active members, as well as the following Alumni Brothers; Paul W. Knox (Calhoun); Hap LaBrum; Geo. Beechwood (Taft); Elden S. Magaw, Faculty Advisor; Wm. E. Masterson, Faculty member; and Dean John G. Hervey.

FORD

Loyola University

Following the due process according to the requirements of Phi Alpha Delta's constitution and by-laws, the name of the Hannibal Chapter at Loyola University in Los Angeles has been changed to the William Joseph Ford Chapter.

The former name was issued to the chapter through a transfer of charter. It was considered desirable by active and alumni in the Los Angeles area that the change be made because it was felt that by honoring William Joseph Ford in this manner the interests of Phi Alpha Delta at Loyola University would be advanced to the highest possible degree.

William Joseph Ford, first Dean of the Law School at Loyola University, was a man well known, respected and revered. Born in Oakland, California, to an early settler father and a pioneer mother, he was reared in Los Angeles, attending public and high schools in that city, and continuing his education at the University of California until 1898, when he left to participate in the Spanish-American war.

It was in 1899 that he was admitted to the bar in California and immediately engaged in private practice in the city of Los Angeles. Soon, he became secretary of the judiciary committee of the state senate, later becoming deputy city prosecutor of Los Angeles and then Los Angeles county. He served as chief deputy for most of the period between 1908 and 1914.

For a period of eight years, from 1920 until 1928, Mr. Ford was dean and professor of evidence in St. Vincent's School of Law of Loyola University. In 1920 Loyola conferred upon him the honorary degree of Master of Arts and in 1925 the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. As first dean of the School of Law of that university, he was instrumental in its growth and advancement. The general practice of law claimed his attention to the time of his death, which occurred in 1932, when he was in his fifty-fifth year.

His military record included service in the Spanish-American war as a private in Company H of the Sixth California Infantry, and in 1913 he was made first lieutenant of the Sixth Company of Artillery in the California National Guard. He was director of the Los Angeles center of the American Academy of Political and Social Science and was a charter life member of the California State Historical Association.

GARLAND

University of Arkansas

Despite its recent reorganization, Garland Chapter has been very busy sponsoring various activities at the University of Arkansas. A most enjoyable dinner was held recently to celebrate the initiation into PAD of the two top-ranking men in the first year class, Newton Killough and Frank Headley. Dr. Robert A. Leflar, professor of law, served as principal speaker and his subject was "Legal Education in America." Also in attendance were Dean J. S. Waterman, who spoke on "The History of the University of Arkansas," and U. S. Lovell, the newest addition to the law school faculty. Plans are now being made to have another dinner meeting in the very near future.

Since Garland Chapter was reorganized only this year, there are many recent outstanding graduates who did not have the opportunity to affiliate themselves with PAD. It is the intention of Garland Chapter to initiate these, together with several judges and successful practicing attorneys, into honorary membership.

In cooperation with the recent plan submitted by the American Bar Association, Garland Chapter plans to have lawyers from the City of Fayetteville visit the University every week to address the whole law school on subjects of practical value. In this connection, plans are being made to establish a "Legal Clinic," a means by which all the phases of trial work might be actively illustrated by actual practice.

GREEN

University of Kansas

This Phi Alpha Delta chapter has hit upon a program that is attracting considerable attention and proving of real value. It is the holding of a series of review sessions particularly designed for seniors in the law school but also open to lower classmen. Members of the faculty give the general review of the course and the meeting is then thrown open for discussion.

Plans will be announced at a later date for the initiation into honorary membership of Green Chapter of one of Kansas' leading citizens who has shown great interest in the progress of Phi Alpha Delta and sincere sympathy with its efforts in behalf of the legal profession.

HAMMOND

University of Iowa

Hammond Chapter has just completed its spring initiations, ushering in twelve new members. They are Thomas Ainley, Phillip Bergfield, William Broz, Robert Burdettter, Fred Chalupsky, Peter Gaass, Robert Fousek, Melbourne Halsrud, Vette Kell, George Soumas, Walter Reitz and Harold De Kay.

Following the initiation and just before the dinner dance, officers for the coming year were elected. The new officers are Phillip Bergfield, justice; Harold G. De Kay, vice-justice; Lorance Lisle, clerk; Charles R. Warren, treasurer; John Vizintos, sergeant-at-arms. During the dinner dance these officers were installed by Supreme Vice-Justice Bill O'Shea of Chicago. Among the eighty guests present at the dinner dance was Brother Russell Hatter, the Hammond Chapter advisor.

Another interesting bit of news from Hammond Chapter is that an article by Brother Walter Reitz which appeared in the Iowa Law Review was reprinted in the March issue of "Current Legal Thought."

JEFFERSON

University of Virginia

Brother Harper is the most recently elected member of the staff of the Law Review, acting in the capacity of Virginia Section Editor. Other members of PAD on the Law Review are Brothers Fowler, Stratton, Wilson, Campbell and Mauze, while Brother Harris holds down the Business-Managership of the Review.

In the line of social activities, three beer parties were held at the homes of Brothers von Kalinowski and Culbertson in order that the brothers might become better acquainted with the first-year men.

Monthly social meetings have also been held, to which guest speakers have been invited. These speakers have been prominent attorneys from nearby communities who have enlightened the Brothers as to the rigors of active practice, and the multitude of "do's" and "don'ts" with which lawyers are faced.

KENT

University of Idaho

The late Senator William Borah was an honorary member of Kent Chapter, and as a memorial to this famous statesman a beautiful bronze plaque is to be erected in the Library of the College of Law. On it will be inscribed the words, "Borah Memorial," and below the name of the student making the highest grade average for the school year. This should be a wonderful incentive for all students of the University of Idaho to try for highest grades this year, but it is to be hoped a member of PAD will be the first to have his name inscribed in such a place of honor.

PADs are certainly well represented on the faculty of the University of Idaho. Out of a "four-man" faculty, three of the professors are members of PAD.

Kent Chapter usually holds luncheon meetings every Tuesday, and this year the members have had the pleasure of hearing a great many excellent speakers, one of which was Judge Ailshie of the Idaho Supreme Court, who is soon to become an honorary member of Kent Chapter.

The graduating class of PADs at the University of Idaho are planning this year to take both the Washington and the Idaho Bar Examinations.

STAPLES

Washington and Lee University

On April 11th, Staples Chapter initiated the six following members into PAD: Howard W. Wilson, Carlinville, Illinois; Jose Antonio Luina, Fajardo, Puerto Rico; Samuel B. Read, Catlett, Virginia; Billie B. Armstrong, Roswell, New Mexico; Charles F. Heiner, Huntington, West Virginia; and Elvin D. Palermo, Linden, New Jersey.

The initiation was followed by a banquet at the R. E. Lee Hotel and was enjoyed to the utmost by all present. The principal speaker of the evening was Brother Raymond T. Johnson, who gave a very interesting and beneficial talk on legal ethics. Following the address of Brother Johnson, Brother Charles R. McDowell made a few choice and very timely remarks.

Both the initiation and the banquet were very successful in strengthening the bond between the brothers of Staples Chapter, and were successful in installing in all the aim and ideals of PAD.

WEBSTER

Loyola University

It has been the aim of the present officers of the Chapter to work out some permanent plan for the organization of Chapter activities in an orderly fashion, so that the same will become customary in future years through constant repetition.

One of the first things to be done was to work out a calendar for the entire year and then attempt to follow the same experimentatively. This was done with some measure of success. However, the true result will not be felt or seen until next year when the trial and error method will have been eliminated.

It was found that business meetings did not have to be held as often as was originally thought necessary. This was so because each officer had in mind the nature of his duties at the outset of his term, and meetings were only scheduled at the times when it was necessary to attend to some event that would necessitate the ideas and suggestions of the members, such as pledging activity, initiation, dances, and the like. However these meetings were always conducted in the fashion prescribed by the ritual and parliamentary procedure was used to expedite the business before the Chapter.

It was also found that a plan formulated by the chapter would work more smoothly if the same was promulgated in conjunction with the other chapters, taking into consideration the dates of their activities. This was accomplished by a meeting of the various justices and all conflicts were straightened out. As a result monthly joint smokers are held, each chapter taking a turn in making all arrangements for the same.

At the present time the vice-justice has organized a softball team and has scheduled a series of games with other chapters and organizations in the city. Plans are also being made at this time for golf and beach parties during the summer months. These latter activities, however, are not made a part of the plan but are held whenever the preparation for them has been completed and at a time convenient for everyone.

WILLEY

University of West Virginia

At a recent dinner held in honor of new pledges 14 men about to be inducted into Phi Alpha Delta were introduced to the active members and visiting brothers from the local bar.

In cooperation with the local chapter of Phi Delta Phi, Willey Chapter and the student body of the College of Law succeeded in procuring new fixtures for the Club Room in the College of Law Building.

At initiation ceremonies held April 14th the guest speaker was Kay Thomas, Speaker of the House of Delegates of West Virginia. He is a brother in PAD of Staples Chapter, 1924.

by a visit from Supreme Justice Harry La Brum. Everyone is looking forward to this occasion with a great deal of anticipation, and the meeting that night should be one of the highlights of the year.

Another very interesting meeting scheduled for an early date will feature a demonstration of the modern Lie Detector equipment, given by one of the professors in the undergraduate college.

One of Wilson's pledges, John Reed of Kansas City, Missouri, enjoys the distinction of rating a straight "A" average for the first semester, which puts him right on top in the first-year class. He was also chosen to be in the Final Round of the Moot Court Competition, at which the judges are to be from the New York Court of Appeals and the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals.

HUMBLE on BILLS and NOTES

By HENRY W. HUMBLE

Sometime Professor of Law

University of Kansas

Author of "Cases on the Conflict of Laws" and Principles of the Law of Evidence"

Written to supply a simple, intelligible and thought-provoking study of the subject for theoretical and practical uses. Employing the simplest language consistent with the subject, the author has illuminated and made concrete the most abstract aspects of Bills and Notes.

INSTRUCTORS will find this book of great assistance as a commentary on the subject, and as additional material to the study of the authorities.

STUDENTS will find in the style and content of this work consistent relief from the "heavy presentation" of the law. Stated in understandable language, the original and often obscure meanings of the law are brought out with refreshing vividness.

ATTORNEYS will appreciate the clear definitions of some of the more intricate rules of Bills and Notes in connection with the due presentation of maturity of a promissory note to the maker, and the giving of timely notice to indorsers, etc.
