CORDELL HULL CHAPTER INSTALLED

Supreme Justice Douglas L. Edmonds on July 29, 1949 installed Cordell Hull Chapter at Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tennessee with the initiation of 16 members in attendance at the University.

The initiation and installation of the Chapter was held in the Practice Court at the Law School followed by an initiation banquet in a downtown restaurant.

Supreme Justice Edmonds was the principal speaker at the banquet and he praised Cordell Hull in whose honor the Cumberland Chapter was named. "He is a great Tennessean and a great American," the speaker said. "We of Phi Alpha Delta are proud to add his name to our roster of chapters and pay tribute to his record."

Brother Albert Weeks, Morgan Chapter (University of Alabama) Dean of the Cumberland Law School and Toastmaster at the banquet, praised the installation of the chapter as "another step in the progress of Cumberland University."

Edward Phillips was elected Justice of Hull Chapter, Rex Gordon Vice-Justice, Brantley Blue, Clerk, and Neil Osborne, Treasurer. Brother Phillips was a transfer from McReynolds Chapter (University of Tennessee) to the Cumberland University and he, with the cooperation of Dean Weeks, brought about the installation of Hull Chapter after an inspection was made of the petitioning group by Executive Secretary Frank E. Gray.

Cumberland University is one of the oldest colleges in the south. Alumni of its school include several members of the United States Supreme Court and Cordell Hull who served as Secretary of State during the Roosevelt Administration. Cumberland University was recently given the classification of an approved school by the American Bar Association.

James M. Carter Appointed Federal Judge

President Truman nominated and the Senate confirmed James M. Carter, Ross Chapter (U.S.C.) as a U.S. District Judge for Southern California.

Brother Carter attended Harvard Law School for one year and completed his law work at the University of Southern California where he was a member of Ross Chapter. He graduated from U.S.C. in 1927 with a degree of Juris Doctor. While he attended U.S.C. he was very active as a member of Ross Chapter. He was a member of the Order of the Coif and was on the Southern California Law Review. Prior to his elevation as a Federal District Judge he was U.S. Attorney for Southern California.

Brother Carter has been an active member of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta and on the very day that the Senate confirmed his nomination he took time out from his heavy business schedule to attend a luncheon honoring Past Supreme Justice John Doyle Carmody.

RAE APPOINTED NATIONAL FIELD REPRESENTATIVE

Matthew S. (Sandy) Rae, formerly District Justice of District 12 and a practicing attorney in Baltimore, Maryland, on August 22, 1949 became a full-time employee of Phi Alpha Delta, when he was hired as the National Field Representative. His duties, as outlined by the Supreme Executive Board, were that of a liaison man between the Active and Alumni Chapters, the Administrative Heads at Universities where Chapters are established and the Supreme Executive Board.

On the last of September Brother Rae left the Executive Offices on a trip that would take him across the southern part of the United States visiting the Active and Alumni Chapters of Phi Alpha Delta, conferring with the Administrative heads of universities so as to better establish the purposes and aims of Phi Alpha Delta and ascertain how Phi Alpha Delta can justify its existence on the campus and to further undertake expansion work and reactivation.

The Fraternity was extremely fortunate in securing the services of Brother Rae as its traveling representative. He took his undergraduate and law work at Duke University and, upon his graduation there in 1947, became assistant to the Dean of the Law School where he remained for one year at which time he joined a leading law firm in Baltimore, Maryland for the practice of law. He had served as District Justice of District 12 for two terms and was very active in fraternal affairs.

At the present writing Brother Rae has visited Knox Chapter (University of Arizona), Taney Chapter (Southern Methodist University), Baylor Chapter (Baylor University) and Tom C. Clark Chapter (University of Texas). He has also conferred with the Dean of the Law School at St. Mary's at San Antonio, the Dean of the Law School at Tulane University. Through his efforts and the efforts of Henry Foss, of New Orleans, they were able to reactivate Martin Chapter at the University of Tulane.

Chapters that he will visit will be notified well in advance of his probable time of arrival.

During the Spring Semester he will visit the Chapters in the northern part of the United States and will attend the 1950 National Convention.

Phi Alpha Delta is again a leader in law fraternities as this is the first law professional fraternity to have a full time traveling representative to assist the various chapters in the performance of their duties, and to ascertain how Phi Alpha Delta can most efficiently assist the law student, the alumni and the administrative heads of the fraternity.

BE SURE YOU ARE PROPERLY LISTED IN THE 1950 DIRECTORY READY STORY ON THIS PAGE!

DIRECTORY

The Executive Office is working diligently to get all of its information together for the purpose of the printing, in permanent bound edition, a directory of all members of Phi Alpha Delta throughout the world. The Directory will list each member alphabetically, geographically and by chapter.

By direct mail each member of the fraternity will be given an opportunity to see that he is correctly listed in the directory. This is being accomplished by sending to each member on the flap of his dues envelope a sticker which will show just exactly how the member will be listed in the directory. Under the geographical listing we hope to give the chapter and year that the member was admitted, and the type of business or practice in which he is engaged.

It is hoped that all members will verify their listing and return the same to the Executive Office not later than the first of January, 1950, so that the directory can then go to print. All members who verify their listings will have an asterisk placed in front of their name which will indicate that on January 1, 1950, the information on this man was correct.

As a means of supplementing the permanent directory a slip pocket will be included in the back of the directory and next year all corrections and additions will be made to the directory by a pocket supplement. It is the hope of the National Office that an up-to-date directory will be supplied to each and every member at intervals of two years.

MARTIN CHAPTER REACTIVATED

With the pledging of 9 men in attendance at Tulane University on October 7, 1949, Tulane Chapter again returns to the fold of Phi Alpha Delta. The work of this reactivation started some years back through the efforts of Brother Dean Bossman of the Tulane Law School who conferred with Supreme Justice Douglas Edmonds. Dean Bossman was very desirous of seeing Martin Chapter reactivated but felt that by reason of his official position with the Law School he could not actively assist in this program but he was willing to aid in seeing that the Alumni who undertook this job were afforded all cooperation.

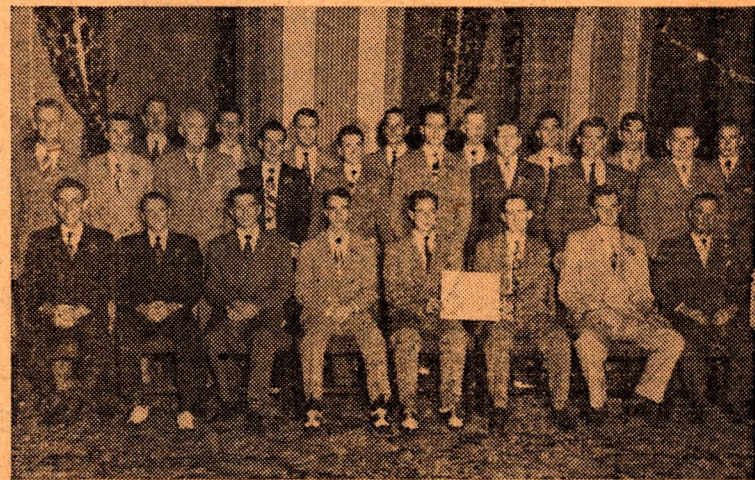

Henry Foss of New Orleans, an alumnus of Duke University and a member of Rutledge Chapter, together with National Field Representative Matthew Rae who visited Tulane University undertook the task of talking to interested students at Tulane and pledging them to the fraternity.

This reactivation is such a newly accomplished fact that full details are not available at this time. It is reported that additional men will be pledged before an initiating team composed of members of the Supreme Executive Board will go to Tulane University and conduct the initiation and present the reactivated charter to this group.

When this becomes an accomplished fact, Phi Alpha Delta will have 64 Active Chapters throughout the United States.

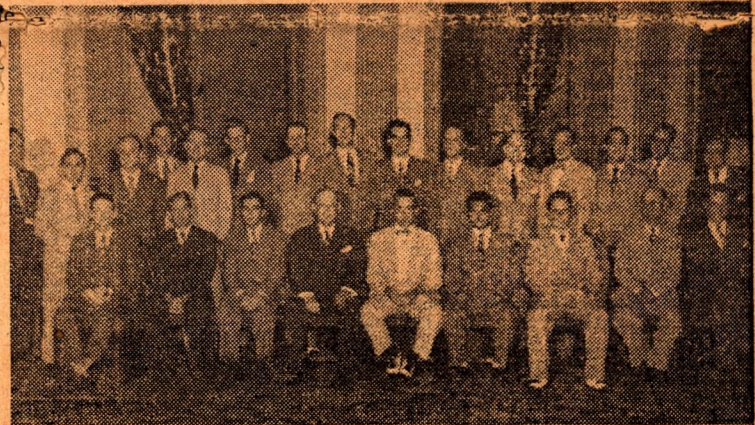

Baylor Chapter Installed

Installation ceremonies for the R. E. B. Baylor Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta fraternity were held Tuesday, August 2, in the McLennan County Courthouse, Waco, Texas, with Supreme Justice Douglas L. Edmonds officiating. The formation of this chapter at the Baylor University Law School brings to 63 the number of active chapters in the United States.

Baylor chapter of Phi Alpha Delta was installed August 2 at Baylor University. Alumni members from Fort Worth and Waco are also in this picture.

Members of Tom Clark chapter at the University of Texas and the Taney chapter at Southern Methodist University were present for the installation services. With the addition of the R.E.B. Baylor chapter to the ranks of the Clark chapter at the University of Texas and the Taney chapter at Southern Methodist University, there are three active chapters in Texas.

Following the installation ceremonies a banquet was held in the ballroom of Baylor University's new Student Union Building for initiates, members of the two other Texas chapters and Phi Alpha Delta alumni. Special guests for the banquet besides Justice Edmonds were Dean Abner McCall of the Baylor Law School, Brother Dee Brown Walker, district justice for the eighth district of Phi Alpha Delta, Judges Giles P. Lester, Jake Tiry of the Tenth Court of Civil Appeals in Texas, and Col. T. K. McElroy and Leon Lebowitz of the Baylor law school faculty.

Justice Edmonds was the principal speaker at the banquet and presented the new charter to Morris Cobb of Amarillo, Texas, justice of Baylor Chapter. Cobb served as toastmaster for the evening.

New initiates becoming charter members of Baylor chapter include Clyde A. Mote, William Harold Sheehan, Daniel Eugene McGlasson, Jr., James Wesley Hightower, Dan M. Brazil, Robert Lloyd Keller, William T. Cooper, Jr., Ernest Ardis Martin, Jim Bowmer, Billy Snow, Harold Dugboise, Eugene Johnson, Len G. McCormick, Curtis Cox, Glen Williams, Edward Dees, Zack Mason, Thomas Raymond Thornton, Dow Heard, Jr., Paul McCollum, Lacy W. Littlejohn, Jerry Bill Carson, Guy B. Hargrove, Sam Davis, Don Martin McReynolds and Brady Tunnell.

The old Senate law society, founded in 1924 for the purpose of professional fraternity through weekly contact with authorities in industrial and professional fields, formed the nucleus from which the R. E. B. Baylor chapter was formed. Throughout the years this organization maintained its position as the top legal group on the Baylor campus. With an affiliation with Phi Alpha Delta, members of R. E. B. Baylor chapter are looking forward to a period of continued leadership and new growth.

Message From the Supreme Justice

The opening of another scholastic year in law schools throughout the nation signals the return of full fraternal activity after the Summer lull. It also provides boundless opportunities for fraternal service on the part of Alumni and Active Brothers alike.

Phi Alpha Delta, as a national organization, is in the strongest position of its history. Unquestionably this will be a year of study and growth built upon a strong foundation. In the law schools our Active and our Alumni Chapters are becoming closely knit organizations, carrying on many interesting activities for greater professional usefulness. These are the direct results of our carefully planned program and, as we grow, there will be a broadening of fraternal service to more adequately accomplish the purposes of Phi Alpha Delta.

The tremendous number of veterans in approved law schools has not been reduced materially despite the predictions of many educators and veterans' advisors that enrollments would, by this time, return to the pre-war normal. Although the time of lower enrollments may soon be here it is not yet upon us, and the problems attendant upon large enrollments and equally large graduating classes are still with us. As a professional fraternity, we have an obligation to assist the profession and the educators in meeting these problems.

One way in which we can assist is through the continued expansion of our placement activities, which have expanded measurably over the past year. Placement in the legal profession is an intricate pattern woven of personalities, abilities, and economic necessities. It is a field which can be cultivated properly only by the continued attention and painstaking care of the practitioner in the profession. Alumni members of Phi Alpha Delta owe it to our profession and our fraternity to investigate the efforts we are making to enlarge the placement opportunities for our young brother graduates.

Wherever possible, every alumni member should cooperate with his local Phi Alpha Delta Alumni Chapter in sponsoring a placement committee which will enable us to find the right position for a brother in need of this service.

In our plans to assist the graduates of past years and coming years, we must not neglect the Active Chapter member. Those in the Active Chapters are primarily students, intent upon enlarging their knowledge and comprehension of the legal profession. Among the alumni are lawyers of long experience who can assist our student members most profitably and give them a training which will be quite different from that of the law school.

When you are asked to visit an Active Chapter and to tell the students something about the practical aspects of legal practice, accept the invitation as an opportunity for service to the profession as well as to your fraternity. The time spent in preparation for an hour or two of earnest discussion with students eager to learn will greatly benefit the lawyer by bringing him in contact with young men of high purpose who want to be well prepared for legal practice.

Also, let us not forget that our Fraternity is intended to promote social as well as intellectual intercourse among its members. Relaxation from the heavy routine of professional duties can be had in many ways, not the least of which is participation in the activities of Alumni and Active Chapters. Where possible Alumni and Active Brothers should schedule occasional joint functions. After such a meeting the lawyer will again feel the stimulus of youthful interest and enthusiasm. The closer social ties which can be developed through the activities of an Alumni Chapter will inevitably lead to a greater understanding of our fellow practitioners, and can help to smooth over many a rough problem which must be solved around the counsel table. When we, as Alumni, ask our Active Brothers to share our social circle with us, we are helping to build mutual goodwill and understanding for future years. When we participate in the functions of an Active Chapter, we are helping to shape the course of our Fraternity by getting acquainted with those who soon will be the younger members of the Bar.

As this season of renewed professional and educational activities opens, I extend to each and every Brother my best wishes for continuing success, be it in the profession or in the classroom. We are a great organization. Let us make it an even greater one in every way.

Brother and Justice Tom C. Clark

At the opening of the Fall session of the Supreme Court of the United States, Brother Tom Clark sat with his Brothers Burton, Douglas and Jackson and the other members of the court for the first time. Brother Clark not only has distinguished himself in the legal profession but has also distinguished himself in the activities of Phi Alpha Delta. The Chapter at the University of Texas, upon petitioning for a chapter, designated the name of its distinguished alumnus, Tom C. Clark, as its choice for a Chapter name. At this time Brother Clark was Attorney General of the United States but the eyes of Texas were upon him and the petitioning group knew that in the not too distant future he would be elevated to the exalted position that he now holds.

On August 8, 1947, when the Tom C. Clark Chapter was installed, the principal address was given by Brother Clark. He returned to the school from which he had graduated 25 years ago and was greeted by a delegation from the newly organized Chapter and Supreme Vice-Justice E. A. (Bert) Taylor, of Kansas City, who was the installing officer. Brother Clark's address was carried over a state-wide radio hook-up and was devoted almost exclusively to the fine doctrines, traditions and principles of Phi Alpha Delta and the influence which they bear upon a world-wide crusade in education for world citizenship.

Brother Clark, in his activities in Phi Alpha Delta, has exemplified that principle which is a part of our purpose "To Aid the Development of Fraternal Brotherhood Sentiments." During all of the time that Brother Clark has been in Washington, D. C., first in the Anti-Trust Division and then as Attorney-General, he has attended the functions of the Washington Alumni Chapter and has aided and assisted Taft and Jay Chapters in their rushing.

His father was a lawyer and he followed in his footsteps. He finished college and law school and then practiced in Texas. He worked for the Government for 12 years and had been Attorney-General since 1945. Tom Clark is an affable fellow with a big smile and a quick handshake and always tells visitors "Come back and see me any time. The door is always open."

PAD Writes New Manual For Nevada Divorces

A complete treatise on Nevada Law is contained in a new 168-page volume entitled "Nevada Divorce Manual," authored by Brother William G. Ruymann, Ross Chapter, (U.S.C.) a practicing attorney in Las Vegas, Nevada.

The book, now available through mail orders, is a comprehensive compilation of both the procedural and substantive law of Nevada pertaining to the subject of divorce and its kindred matters. The last chapter is entitled "Effect of Nevada Divorce Decree Out of State" and is an accurate and effective summary of the United States Supreme Court decisions on the various aspects of migratory divorce.

Although most Nevada divorce cases are uncontested, the conscientious lawyer will appreciate the Nevada pleadings, Affidavits, Depositions and most commonly used forms in the divorce practice that are included in the Appendix.

Brother Ruymann attended the University of Southern California and George Washington University and received his LLB from the latter school. His book is published by Nevada Publications Inc., and is priced at $5.00 plus a slight additional charge for mailing and handling. Any

Do You Want to Go to Yale?

A fund of $13,285.86 representing contributions by members of Calhoun Chapter (Yale University) and collected for the purpose of erecting a suitable fraternity house on the campus has been turned over to Yale University to be used for scholarships in the Yale Law School. The interest accumulating in this fund is to be used for scholarships to be awarded to either sons or daughters of Phi Alpha Delta or, if none should qualify, then to PAD undergraduates in any law school who are members of the local chapter in good standing and who can transfer to Yale Law School and in the event that neither of the foregoing make application for the scholarship, then to PAD graduates who desire to do postgraduate work in Yale Law School and can meet the standards fixed by Yale Law School, and if none of the three make application then to all applicants on a competitive basis.

The name of the fund is known as The Calhoun Scholarship Fund of Phi Alpha Delta and Book and Gavel. "Book and Gavel" was the Law Society existing at Yale previous to its petitioning Phi Alpha Delta and becoming Calhoun Chapter. The name of the beneficiary or beneficiaries who receive the scholarship shall be published in the Yale Alumni Weekly and also is sent to the trustees of the fund who turned it over to Yale Law School, the same being Brothers J. F. T. O'Connor, deceased, William S. Culbertson, Past Supreme Justice and Arthur B. Koontz.

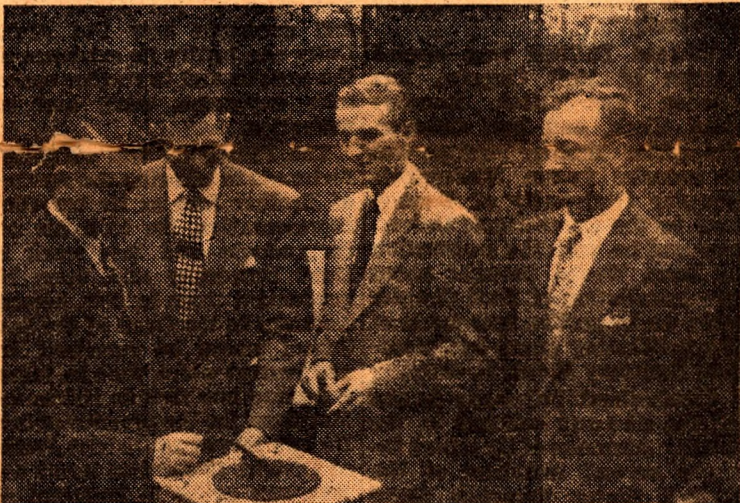

This fund had been accumulated over a period of the years but, due to the many changes at Law School, Calhoun Chapter became inactive and it was not then feasible to use the fund for the purpose for which the many contributors had pledged and paid their contributions. Accordingly, all of the contributors were solicited and the plan of establishing a scholarship fund was submitted to them for consideration. Only two members of the fund requested a return of their contribution and this was done and the balance was then turned over to the Yale Law School.

Besides stipulating the name of the fund and the publicity to be given of the recipient thereof, the trustees provided that any unexpended part of the income from principal in any one year should be accumulated and the unexpended balance to be available in subsequent years. The funds were to be available for either undergraduate or graduate law work at the Yale Law School. Full authority was given to the Yale Law School to invest or reinvest any and all of the money and to sell bonds or other securities and to make purchases of bonds in accordance with the policy of Yale.

Dean Wesley A. Sturges accepted this fund on behalf of Yale Law School by a letter addressed to Brother O'Connor, Chairman of the trustees and expressed in his letter the genuine gratitude for their action in making the PAD Building Fund available for scholarship purposes of the Law School.

Have We Lost a Brother?

Tom C. Clark Chapter (University of Texas) answers this question in the negative. The recent death of Brother Governor Beauford Jester (Tom C. Clark Chapter) was a shock to his many friends and to the Clark Chapter who had, on April 29, 1949, conferred Honorary Membership on him. A short two months later his physical presence, guidance and fellowship were lost to Clark Chapter, but his principles, ideals and the message that he gave the Chapter at the time he was initiated remain on and are fondly cherished by those who knew him.

A delegation of the Tom Clark Chapter was present at the funeral of Brother Jester to pay homage to one of their Brothers.

copy of this book should write to the Publisher at P. O. Box 2024, Las Vegas, Nevada, accompanied by a check in the sum of $5.00.

N.Y.U. to Build $3,000,000 Law Center

The first clearing of the controversial block at the southwest corner of Washington Square to make way for New York University's $3,000,000 Law Center started the first of August with the demolition of five unoccupied four- and five-story brick residences. The University hopes to have the Center ready for the Fall Term of 1950.

Plans are being completed for building a four and one-half story Georgian Colonial structure with a library 250 feet in length on the ground floor. Enrollment at the new building will be 550 law students at day sessions, 350 at evening sessions and 400 graduate lawyers taking special courses, mainly in the evening.

Rapallo Chapter at New York University is likewise growing and has increased their facilities at the chapter room maintained in the Hotel Holley.

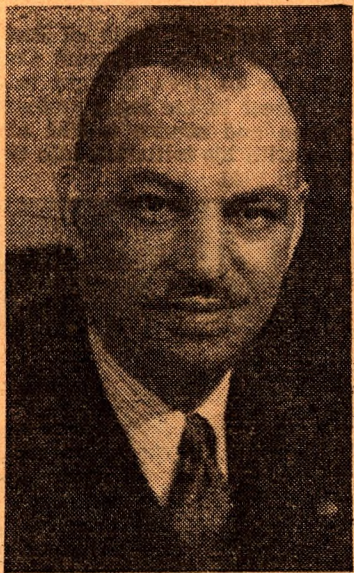

District Justices Appointed for 9 and 12

Board Names Freer Justice District 12

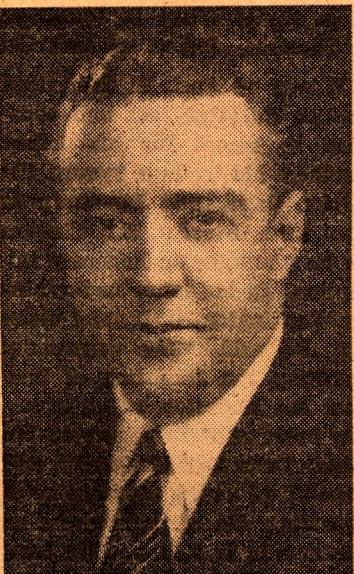

Robert Elliott Freer, Chase Chapter, (University of Cincinnati), Washington, D.C., attorney and formerly chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, has been appointed by Supreme Justice Douglas L. Edmonds, with the consent of the Supreme Executive Board, as Justice of District 12, which encompasses the state of North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and the District of Columbia.

Brother Freer has been extremely active in PAD activities in Ohio and the District of Columbia for many years. A past Justice of the Washington Alumni Chapter, he has worked closely with the Active Chapters in Washington, D.C., and Virginia and has assisted them on numerous occasions in securing speakers of national prominence for their programs. In October, 1948, the Charter initiates of Henry Chapter at the University of Richmond invited Brother Freer to deliver the principal address at their installation ceremonies as a mark of recognition for his long and faithful service to the fraternity.

Until Brother Freer retired as chairman of the Federal Trade Commission on January 1, 1949, to re-enter private legal practice, he served as a member of that commission since his appointment in 1935. A native of Ohio, Brother Freer received his A.B. degree from George Washington University, his LL.B. degree from the University of Cincinnati, and his LL.M. degree from the Washington College of Law. He was admitted to practice before the Ohio bar in 1917, and he is also admitted to practice before the bars of Virginia, the District of Columbia, and the U.S. Supreme Court.

WM. J. COPELAND
DISTRICT JUSTICE

Wm. Copeland Appointed No. 9 Justice

Supreme Justice Douglas L. Edmonds, with the consent of the Supreme Executive Board, has appointed William J. Copeland, Watson Chapter (University of Pittsburgh), as District Justice of District 9.

District Justice Copeland is an Assistant Trust Officer with the Peoples First National Bank & Trust Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., attached to the Estate Planning Department. He graduated from Penn State and then attended the University of Pittsburgh Law School. During the war he was with the United States Air Corps as Administrative Officer. While he was in attendance at the University of Pittsburgh he was active in fraternity affairs and was also a member of the Order of Coif. At the close of the war he assisted in the reactivation of Watson Chapter and also assisted in the reactivation of Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter. He became its first Alumni Justice after its reactivation.

Brother Copeland has devoted much of his time to the purposes and ideals of Phi Alpha Delta. As the Justice of the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter he planned and carried out social and educational projects. The Pittsburgh Chapter had closely cooperated with Watson Chapter in its reactivation. The Alumni Chapter, under his supervision, took up the immediate project of an active Placement Bureau directed primarily to helping the graduates from the University of Pittsburgh and Watson Chapter.

On May 27, 1949, under his supervision, the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter and Watson Chapter gave a dinner at the University Club at Pittsburgh, Pa., in honor of Supreme Justice Douglas Edmonds who was visiting Pittsburgh at that time.

Tom Constable Turns Heat On National Offices

Thomas W. Constable (Rapallo) brought with him a typical East Coast heatwave complete with stifling humidity so foreign to the balmy Southern California breezes when he visited the National Offices of the fraternity in Los Angeles on September 7 as an unofficial but most welcome delegate from the New York Alumni Chapter during his summer vacation trip to the West Coast. Arriving on the hottest day in six years, Brother Constable literally "turned the heat on" the executive officers. While the Executive Secretary is always anxious to welcome visiting Brothers from out of town, he requests that in the future they leave the weather to the local Chamber of Commerce.

Virginia Attorney Dies

Walter L. Hopkins, Staples Chapter (Washington & Lee University), a member of the Richmond Bar, a Past National Commander of the Sons of Confederate Regiment and long a member of the House of Delegates, Virginia, died unexpectedly on July 13, 1949, shortly after he had addressed a political rally held under the auspices of the Lee Ward Democratic Club. Brother Hopkins was the sixth speaker on the program and after he had finished his talk he took his seat and fell forward dead. He had been in ill health for some time.

He is survived by five brothers, one of whom is Judge J. H. Hopkins of Rocky Mount, who presides over the 30th Judicial Circuit of the State of Virginia. Judge A. A. Hopkins is also a brother of Walter L. Hopkins in Phi Alpha Delta, they both having been members of Staples Chapter.

Senator Morse to Address Dist. 7 Convention

Senator Wayne L. Morris of Oregon, will give the principal address at the banquet to be held on Saturday, October 22, 1949, in Fort Des Moines Hotel, Des Moines, Iowa, closing the Annual District 7 Convention. Supreme Justice Edmonds will also address the members at this banquet which will be presided over by District Justice Jay Kyle. The banquet will be held in the Grand Ballroom and special features are on the program including the special recognition of the new chapter in the District, the John L. Sullivan Chapter (University of St. Louis).

The Annual Convention of District 7 will be held at the Fort Des Moines Hotel with co-hosts Chapters Cole (Drake University) and Hammond Chapter (University of Iowa City) in charge.

The formation of the district organization was perfected prior to World War II when a group of members of the Fraternity concluded that a district organization could function with closer contact with the Active Chapters than any other district plan of organization that had been previously devised. The advent of the war brought a cessation of the district activities but after the war they again became reorganized. It is now a permanent organization with a Constitution and By-Laws which will be adopted at the Convention this year.

An executive group has handled the affairs of the District between conventions and has been known as the Steering Committee. This Steering Committee has met since the last District Convention in 1948 at Lincoln, Nebraska, on two different occasions.

The District is financed by an assessment of $1.00 per year on all actives and pledges. The result was that the District, for the first time, had funds because every Chapter in the District paid its full quota.

The Convention, this year, will commence on October 22 at 9:00 o'clock a.m., and during the day round-table discussions and reports of committees will be received. The round-table discussions will center around subjects of "Chapter Financing," "The Relationship of the National District Alumni and Active Organizations to the National Fraternity," "Law School Trends," "The Placement Program," "Rushing Techniques," and other subjects.

There will be a luncheon with two Active Chapters as hosts which will include, in attendance, Governor William S. Beardsley, of Iowa, members of the Supreme Court of Iowa, National Officers and Alumni and representatives of the active chapters. Martin Tollefson, Cole Chapter, Dean of the Drake University Law School, will preside at the luncheon.

In the afternoon round-table discussions and panels with national officers will be concluded. That afternoon a charter will be granted to the alumni organization for the entire State of Iowa which Chapter will be known as the "Tall Corn Alumni Chapter." Prior to the banquet there will be a reception at the Fort Des Moines Hotel for the guests given by the alumni of the State of Iowa, and Hammond and Cole Chapters.

Active chapters of the District include John L. Sullivan, Hammond, Cole, Reese, Garland, Lawson, Green, Benson and Benton.

Hammond Acquires New Chapter Club Rooms

Hammond Chapter at the State University of Iowa has just completed moving into new club rooms in Iowa City, Iowa, which were decorated by the Chapter's recently organized Wives Club.

The Chapter's club rooms consist of two large rooms used as a Chapter room and lounge, with an adjacent library room. Members' wives supplied slip covers, drapes, and interior decoration ideas for the new club rooms, which have now been completely furnished.

The Hammond Chapter Wives Club, having completed its first project of decorating the new club rooms, is currently engaged in assisting the Chapter members with their Fall rushing campaign, and it is believed that the continued activities of the club will be of inestimable benefit to Chapter activities.

News of the Seattle Alumni

The Prosecuting Attorney's Office for King County, Washington, which is the County in which Seattle is located, is well represented by members of Phi Alpha Delta. Seattle Alumni Chapter Justice Stuart G. Oles, Dunbar Chapter, is a Deputy Prosecuting Attorney and during the last month Jack Vertrees was appointed a Deputy Prosecuting Attorney. Brother Vertrees was a member of Dunbar Chapter and was admitted to the Bar this year.

Charles W. Elicker, Dunbar Chapter, was awarded the W. G. McLaren prize in legal draftsmanship in the sum of $50.00. The award is given annually for the best solution to legal problems submitted during the course of the year.

Justice A. Holleman, Dunbar Chapter, formerly associated with the firm of Padden & Moriarty has opened his own offices in 1130 Joseph Vance Building, Seattle, Washington.

Harry M. Cross, Dunbar Chapter, Faculty Advisor of Dunbar Chapter was promoted to the rank of full Professor of Law at the University of Washington. Brother Cross graduated from the University of Washington in 1940 and came back to teach there in 1943. He attained his full professorship when he was only 35 years of age.

Wayne C. Booth, Dunbar Chapter, has lately turned poet and has submitted his "Ode to the Presiding Judge" as follows: Delayed we wait upon the court Deprived of any other sport, Prepared we are with case complete

And yet we face a sure defeat. For though we win our client's cause, Enjoy the rapture of applause, The cost of time so idly spent Can scarcely cause us to relent, When at the close we send our dun, The client loses, though he's won.

Father and Son Brothers Now

Ross Chapter at the University of Southern California climaxed a highly success rushing season this Fall with the initiation of 12 men and the pledging of 25 first year men at ceremonies in the Los Angeles Hall of Records on September 23 which were highlighted with an address by California's Lieutenant Governor Goodwin J. Knight (Holmes Chapter, Stanford University) who paid tribute to Dell A. Schweitzer, distinguished Los Angeles attorney and father of a Ross Chapter alumnus, being initiated that evening.

Brother Lt. Gov. Knight of California awards key to Dell Schweitzer, Knight, Schweitzer, his son, look on. (Ross).

While Dell Schweitzer, a 1906 graduate of the USC Law School, was being initiated into the Chapter with the regular law students, his son, Judge Harold W. Schweitzer, Ross, participated along with a number of other Los Angeles alumni who were in attendance.

Ross Chapter rush functions had included a luncheon meeting which was addressed by the university's new backfield coach and a dinner meeting which was addressed by Judge Emmet H. Wilson (Ross), District Court of Appeal and Judge Clarke E. Stephens (Ross), Los Angeles Municipal Court. A. A. (Mickey) McDowell, Supreme Secretary, served as the toastmaster for the dinner meeting held on September 16 and introduced the members of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter who were present at the meeting, including Albert Lee Stephens, Jr. (Ross Chapter) who described the work of the local placement committee in helping PAD graduates find a place in the profession.

Honored guest at the initiation banquet on September 23 was Dell Schweitzer, who addressed the Chapter on behalf of the new members and expressed his appreciation of having bestowed upon him membership in an organization which had meant so much to his son and to so many of his associates in the profession during his 47 years of practice.

CONVENTIONS

DISTRICT 12 CONVENTION—To be held December 3, 1949 at Richmond, Va. Henry Chapter (University of Richmond) host Chapter. To be attended by Chapters in the States of Virginia, North Carolina, and District of Columbia.

Memorial Award Made

Stephens Chapter (University of Georgia) annually makes an award in the memory of the late Brother Doctor Henry A. Shinn, a former member of the University of Georgia Law School Faculty. The award, a $50.00 United States Savings Bond and

DR. HENRY A. SHINN

Honor Certificate, is presented annually to the law student in recognition of the best contribution to the Georgia Bar Journal during the year. The award is presented during the month of May of each year and invitations are extended to the members of the Bench and Bar to be present at the time of this award.

Brother Henry Arthur Shinn is held in high regard by the members of Stephens Chapter who was always a guiding light to this Chapter.

After graduating from Stanford University Law School he attended Yale Law School for postgraduate work. He then returned to California and served as attorney for the Bank of Italy, now the Bank of America. In 1929 he went to Macon, Ga., to become Professor of Law at Mercer University where he remained until 1934 when he became Professor of Law at the University of Georgia. He continued to serve as a Professor of Law at the University of Georgia until his death on February 20, 1948. As a teacher and as a man he was esteemed and beloved by the students. He served in many capacities at the University and was also Associate Editor of the Georgia Law Review. During the 14 years that Brother Shinn lived in the State of Georgia he made a mark that long will be remembered. Not only was he admired and respected for his accomplishments but he also received the affection of all who knew him. He was inherently kind, friendly and sympathetic. As one considers the richness of his personality one cannot help but regret that so useful a life came to an untimely end at the age of 58.

Interfraternity Research And Advisory Council Reports

The Interfraternity Research and Advisory Council headed by Chairman L. G. Balfour recently sent out a comment on Collier's magazine and its two anti-fraternity articles written by one Howard Whitman.

The Council reports that in their investigation of the author, Howard Whitman, they had come to the conclusion that he is an individualist. During his college days he is reported to have followed the rules of a prize oratorical contest, presenting a copy of his prepared speech, but when the actual contest occurred he delivered an entirely different speech orally, which was a tirade against the inefficiency and incapability of the Dean. Since that time Mr. Whitman seems to have been constantly engaged in controversial subjects. The Council reported that they have every reason to believe that he is not anti-fraternity; in fact, he is reported to be a member of Phi Sigma Delta. He seems quite willing to exploit any particular subject requested by the editors. He is available as a speaker, if you are interested. His honorarium is $250.00. His featured topic is "Let's Tell The Truth About Sex."

At least Mr. Howard Whitman is reported by the Council to be a fabulous character and unquestionably exemplified a type. His services appear to be available on any subject at a price. This seems to be true of most anti-fraternity authors, the Council further reports.

IF YOUR HONOR PLEASE

Once again the well used phrase "If Your Honor Please" was heard at the Chicago Alumni Chapter Meeting honoring the 29 PAD judges of the Chicago area who are members of Phi Alpha Delta.

This meeting, presided over by Alumni Justice Rupert Bippus, was held on October 13, 1949, at the Union League Club, Chicago, Illinois. More than a hundred members of the Chicago Alumni Chapter were in attendance at the Annual Judges' Night Meeting.

With Brothers and Federal Judges F. Ryan Duffy, Philip J. Finnegan and Michael L. Igoe in attendance, it was once again a matter of determining state's rights against federal intervention.

The Chicago Alumni Chapter sent a post card to all of its Active Members notifying them of the meeting and advising the Brothers to make their reservation so as to present their case before the Honorable Judges of Phi Alpha Delta.

NEW YORK ALUMNI CHAPTER PLANS EXPANDED ACTIVITY

Under the leadership of Justice Horace A. Teass (Jefferson), the New York Alumni Chapter is planning a program of expanded activities during the coming Winter, with emphasis to be placed upon the enlargement of the active membership rolls of the Chapter.

Efforts will be made by the Chapter during the early Fall to contact as many PAD alumni in New York City commuting area as possible, and a program is being developed by the Chapter which will offer every interested member an opportunity to participate actively in the projects of the Chapter.

Every effort will be made this Fall by the New York Alumni Chapter to contact, in person or by mail, each of the alumni known to be located in the New York area, so as to inform the alumni of Chapter projects. Included in Chapter plans for this year, which look toward an increased participation of individual alumni in Chapter projects through extensive committee work, are a speakers' program of at least four prominent members of the New York bench and bar during the year, and a judges' night. In addition, work is going forward to expand the possibilities of PAD placement work in the New York area.

The New York Alumni Chapter, which has been supporting the New York City PAD Chapter Room in the Holley Hotel on Washington Square since the beginning of the war, is returning the control of the room to Rapallo Chapter at New York University with the opening of the Fall semester at the University. The Chapter Room, which has been maintained at the Holley Hotel for more than a decade without interruption, was originally a Rapallo Chapter project and the Chapter has expressed to the alumni its desire again to support the room now that the Chapter's return to pre-war strength makes a resumption of this project possible.

New York City and area alumni who may have lost touch with the Alumni Chapter during the war are requested to contact Justice Teass at 52 William, phone HANover 2-4750, in regard to Chapter activities this Winter.

Your Editor in Error

In the June, 1949, edition of the "Reporter" an article was carried relative to Brother T. Frank Hobson, Brewer Chapter (Stetson University), stating that at the age of 27 years he was the youngest judge in the United States to sit on a court of unlimited trial jurisdiction and limited appellate powers.

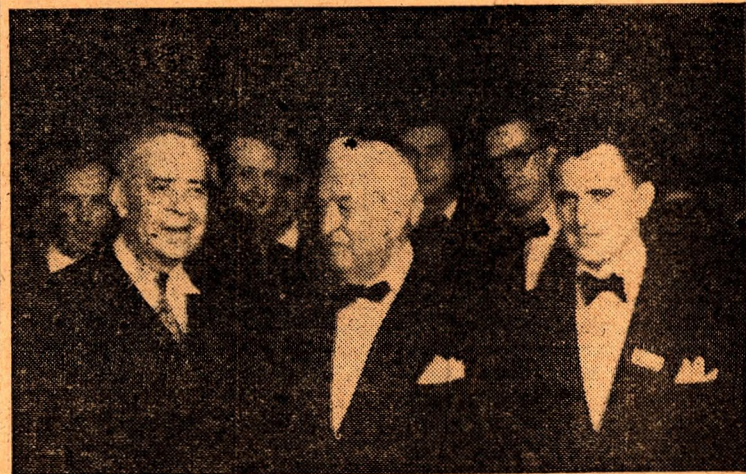

Brother Yelverton Cowherd, General Counsel for the United Mine Workers of America, brought to your editor's attention the fact that in 1926, at the age of 26, J. Russell McElroy, Morgan Chapter (University of Alabama), initiated in 1924, became a Judge of a court of unlimited trial jurisdiction and limited appellate powers in the Tenth Judicial District of Alabama. Brother Cowherd claims that makes Brother McElroy the champ instead of Judge Hobson. He closes by stating, in his letter, that at any rate we are all glad to know that they are brothers of PAD.

Cecil B. Smeeton Dies

Brother Cecil B. Smeeton, Webster Chapter (Loyola University, Chicago), died on March 14, 1949, in Evanston, Illinois. Brother Smeeton was 71 years of age at the time of his death. He had been an educator, former public official and certified public accountant. He had previously taught at DePaul University and had served on the Rockford Board of Education.

Death Closes Rutledge's Career of PAD Service

The untimely death of Brother Justice Wiley B. Rutledge of the United States Supreme Court on the evening of Saturday, September 10, 1949, brought to a close an outstanding and brilliant career in the legal profession and also terminated a life of devotion and service to Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity which began with his initiation into Gunter Chapter (University of Colorado) in 1920.

It was on April 15, 1949, that Justice Rutledge last had occasion to record for his fellow Brothers his feelings toward Phi Alpha Delta, and he wrote at that time to assist Taft Chapter in its plans for an honorary initiation. In his letter to Brothers in Washington, D. C., and vicinity, he said, "The ceremonies marking the initiation of Senator Pat McCarran as an honorary member of Taft Chapter, Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, will give all of us the opportunity of renewing old acquaintances as brothers in P. A. D. . . . We have few enough opportunities to renew old ties with our brothers and with fraternity affairs. It should be a happy experience taking part in an active chapter ceremony again, and in meeting new and old friends in P.A.D. . . ."

On April 30, 1949, Justice Rutledge attended the initiation of which he had written, and it was indeed a happy affair. The quiet, friendly warmth of the man, who was never quite so happy in public as when he was associating with young law students, was communicated to all Brothers present, and he was surrounded for the last time by his younger fraternal Brothers.

Always a humble man, despite the wealth of honors which he so greatly deserved, Justice Rutledge consented to the use of his name for a new Chapter at Duke University with a handwritten letter to then Supreme Secretary Frank M. Ludwick so typical of his innate friendly informality which reads: "Merely a line to say how very greatly honored I feel by the action taken by those boys. A decent sense of humility would force me to decline. I simply don't have it! . . . This is no proper reply to your letter, but my paucity of expression must serve the purpose of a full heart for the time being. . . . And now to bed, with all feelings of gratefulness mingled with not overwhelming senses of immodesty and want of worthiness."

In the early Spring of this year, Justice Rutledge undertook to assist the Active Chapters in Washington, D. C., in their rushing activities, a task which he always enjoyed and which he had undertaken annually since his first arrival in Washington. This year, he had promised to address an informal rush party held by Taft Chapter on a Friday evening. On Wednesday evening of the same week he was attending a formal banquet at a Washington hotel when an urgent note was handed to him, informing him that Jay Chapter's speaker for that evening had been unable to attend its rush activities. Without hesitation, he excused himself from the banquet, rushed by taxicab to the Jay Chapter meeting room, and spent the remainder of the evening greeting first year students whom the Chapter was rushing. On Friday evening he made his scheduled appearance with Taft Chapter, spoke briefly on the human element in the Supreme Court, and spent another busy evening of "rushing."

Other instances of Fraternal devotion, too numerous to mention could be told, stories of one of the greatest Brothers in the history of PAD which will be told by other Chapters and other Brothers so long as there are men to tell them. Wiley Rutledge was a noble man, a great and true Brother in Phi Alpha Delta, who labored so long as life lasted "to foster, under the influence of intimate friendships, those principles that tend to form a higher type of manhood."

J. L. Sullivan Chapter Plans C. Clark Chapter Re-Activation

John L. Sullivan Chapter at St. Louis University is planning its Fall rushing campaign for the dual purpose of securing its own additional members and also accomplishing the long-desired re-activation of Champ Clark Chapter at Washington University, according to William Bret, Justice of Sullivan Chapter.

The novel re-activation project being undertaken by Sullivan Chapter is based on the excellent student contact between the two universities, especially among the student veterans in the two schools who, in many instances, served together in military duty. Sullivan Chapter plans to issue invitations for its Fall rush functions to promising independent students at Washington University in an effort to cement even more closely these existing student contacts. It is hoped that these rush functions, which are being assisted by the active cooperation and support of the St. Louis Alumni Chapter, many members of which are alumni of Clark Chapter and highly interested in seeing their old Chapter re-activated, will result in the re-activation of Champ Clark Chapter through the personal student contacts and friendships developed thereby.

Sullivan Chapter's hopes for the success of this project are high, and the Chapter is planning to form the initiation team for the re-activation of Clark Chapter upon the successful conclusion of this project, with the St. Louis Alumni planning to act as the sponsoring group for the re-activation.

Prizes for All When Chicago Tees Off

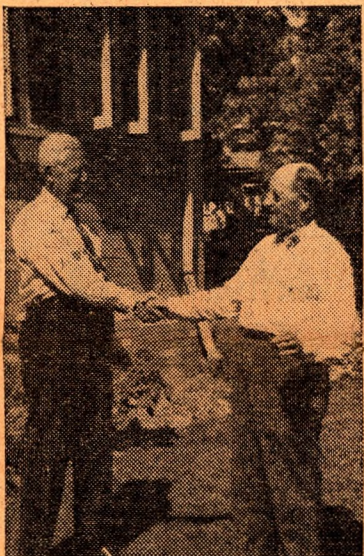

It didn't take a low scorer, or even a golfer, to cop a prize at the annual Chicago Alumni Chapter golf tournament held at the St. Andrew's Country Club in West Chicago, Ill., on Friday, August 12, because the golf committee, in the usual enthusiastic manner of these inimitable PAD's had thoughtfully provided prizes for all PAD'S in attendance, including one very charming lady gate-crasher.

Briefs, clients, and Chicago city heat were ignored for one day as approximately fifty local PAD's roamed the green or kibitzed from the side-lines for a day of fraternal fellowship and recreation. Climaxing a day of exercise and lost golf balls, the brothers adjourned to the clubhouse for a sumptuous banquet dinner presided over by Justice Rupert Bippus and offering as the entertainment climax of the evening an unscheduled appearance by one of Chicago's better-known burlesque queens. The appearance of the "queen" was enthusiastically received by the theatre-loving brothers, whose vociferous demands for encores to "her" act finally succeeded in reducing "her" raiment to only slightly more than the usual essentials of "her" trade, and in the process also disclosed that Chapter Clerk Tony DiGrazia had just succeeded in perpetrating a gigantic fraud upon his gullible brethren, much to the extreme merriment of the assembled brothers and a few stray pop-eyed waiters.

The golf committee, headed by Chairman Phil Brennan assisted by F. Patrick Conlon, Joseph Gross, Ed Hale, and Glen Paxton, outdid itself in the way of prizes for all comers, topping the list with a permanent miniature gold cup for the low gross scorer, who also received the Chapter golf cup for one year. Many Chicago firms donated valuable and useful prizes for the occasion, and no one present was omitted when it came to handing out the loot. Even the lady-friend of one brother, who hadn't realized that the party was stag, received her choice of a gift. (She chose a lovely stiletto in a leather case, which of course was only coincidental with the fact that Past Supreme Justice George E. Fink happened to be sitting across the table from her.)

The annual golf tournament is

PAST SUPREME OFFICERS EXCHANGE GRIPS

Frank E. Rutledge, Webster Chapter (Loyola University, Chicago) Supreme Vice-Justice 1928, and George E. Fink, Story and Campbell Chapters, Supreme Treasurer in 1907 and Supreme Justice 1924, are shown exchanging the grip of Phi Alpha Delta. Both of these men came into the Fraternity shortly after the turn of the century and yet with the passing of the years they were still able to remember the grip of Phi Alpha Delta.

FORBES ELECTED INSURANCE OFFICIAL

David A. Forbes, Campbell Chapter (University of Michigan) who is a Michigan Insurance Commissioner, was recently elected President of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. Brother Forbes graduated from the University of Michigan and then entered private practice before becoming a member of the Michigan Insurance Commission. Contact between Brother Forbes and the National Office of the Fraternity had been lost due to the fact that his present address was unknown, but now since his election to this office he is once again in touch with the Fraternity.

but another in the constant round of Chicago Alumni Chapter activities, which include, among other events, a daily PAD luncheon table at the Chicago Bar Association, a winter program of prominent speakers from bench and bar, and an annual judges' night.

PAD Represented At ABA Convention

Phi Alpha Delta was actively and prominently represented in the doings of the American Bar Association Convention held in St. Louis, Mo., during the first week of September as a result of the yeoman work of the St. Louis Alumni Chapter under the capable direction of its Justice, Fernand J. Cook (Marshall).

The climax of PAD activities at the ABA Convention was the fraternity luncheon held in the Missouri Room of the Statler Hotel in St. Louis on Thursday noon, September 8, which was attended by approximately fifty visiting Brothers from throughout the nation. Principal speaker of the occasion was Supreme Justice Douglas L. Edmonds, who reported to the Brothers from all states on the rapid nationwide growth of the fraternity. Justice Edmonds was introduced to the gathering by R. Forder Buckley (C. Clark Chapter), President of the St. Louis Bar Association, who served as toastmaster for the luncheon. Brother Buckley also introduced a number of prominent brothers present at the speakers' table and in the audience, including several members of the bench and several legal educators.

Another PAD highlight of the convention was the cocktail party held for the visiting brothers by the St. Louis Alumni Chapter in the PAD headquarters and registration suite in the Statler Hotel on Thursday afternoon, September 8. The headquarters and registration room at the hotel had served as a central meeting place for visiting PAD's throughout the period of the convention, and was manned at all times by a hospitality committee composed of Brothers of John L. Sullivan Chapter (St. Louis University) and the St. Louis Alumni Chapter who welcomed all visiting Brothers and assisted the visitors in every way to make their stay in the city an enjoyable one.

Plans for Phi Alpha Delta representation at the American Bar Association Convention were developed during the Summer by Chapter committees which received the enthusiastic and wholehearted support of the newly-installed members of John L. Sullivan Chapter in the handling of most of the routine and time-consuming details of organization and arrangements. Final details of the PAD program during the convention were crystallized at an alumni-actives luncheon meeting in St. Louis on August 17.

PAD participation in this year's American Bar Association Convention was in accordance with the fraternity tradition and policy of participating as an organization in the professional affairs of both state and nation. The annual PAD functions at the American Bar Association convention climax a year of active participation in State bar activities throughout the nation, and the excellent organization and co-operation of the St. Louis active and alumni chapter made this year's bar convention a memorable one in fraternity annals.

Kimpton Ellis Chairman of California Delegates

A veteran and popular member of the Los Angeles Bar was recently elected Chairman of the Conference Estate by delegates from the State of California. Named to the post was Kimpton Ellis, Calhoun, (Yale University). Brother Ellis, widely known to California's legal profession and active in Bar Association affairs for many years will guard the destinies of the Conference in 1949-50 in what promises to be a busy year, fraught with many problems of importance to lawyers in government.

Brother Ellis was elected by the Executive Committee of the Conference. He practices in Los Angeles, California, where he is also very active in the local Bar.

L. A. ALUMNI HONORS JACK CARMODY

On October 14, 1949, at the University Club, Los Angeles, California, the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter paid tribute to one of the beloved members of the Fraternity, Past Supreme Justice John Doyle Carmody. Brother Carmody was on the West Coast to attend a World War I Veterans' Convention in San Francisco and he came down to Los Angeles to visit some of his fraternity brothers. Kimpton Ellis was one of the brothers he contacted and immediately Kim started to arrange a small luncheon for Brother Carmody. A few telephone calls were made and before long the plans for a luncheon of 10 or 12 members grew to a luncheon of 32.

Attending and paying tribute to Brother Carmody were the following: Federal District Judge James Carter, California Appellate Judges Emmett Wilson and Paul Vallee, Los Angeles Superior Court Judges Harry Archbald and Joe Vickers, and L.A. Municipal Court Judges Dan Stevens, Joseph Marchetti and Clark E. Stephens.

When Brother Carmody was introduced to the group he said that his love and affection for Phi Alpha Delta was the same now as it was when he was initiated in 1908. He could remember 40 years ago when Brothers Robert Dexter and Kimpton Ellis were running around the Yale campus with their head more full of girls than law.

In his reminiscing he recalled the time when he was over in France as a Colonel of the U.S. Army Air Force and a young Captain was there to check upon some of the supplies of his company. This Captain met Colonel Carmody face to face and they found they were brothers in the bonds of Phi Alpha Delta. That young Captain was another Past Supreme Justice of our Fraternity, Rex Hardy.

Brother Carmody stated that

Kyle Visits Cole Chapter

On August 3, 1949, District Justice Jay Kyle, of District 7, attended a Dinner Meeting of Cole Chapter, (Drake University) at the East Des Moines Club. The meeting was well attended with about 40 members and rushees in attendance. General discussion centered around fraternity activity and the coming District Convention.

Later there was a conference of the officers of Cole Chapter at the Fort Des Moines Hotel which dealt, primarily, on ironing out the details for the 1949 District Convention which is scheduled to be held in Des Moines on October 22. At this meeting an announcement was made that Senator Morris, of Oregon, would be the principal speaker at the banquet. Senator Morris, in 1947, received an honorary degree from Drake University.

District Justice Kyle also visited with Dean Tollefson, Drake University, who is a member of the fraternity and the Faculty Advisor for Cole Chapter. Brother Tollefson reported that the Chapter was extremely active, was well conducted on the campus and that the faculty had nothing but high praise for the in the years that he has been in the Fraternity he has seen it grow and grow and grow. He has watched the members give of their time and efforts to build Phi Alpha Delta.

He was one of the Charter members of the William Howard Taft Chapter at Georgetown University. He recalled that at the time this Chapter was installed the entire floral pieces at the initiation banquet were supplied by President William Howard Taft. He remembers when William Howard Taft was on the U.S. Supreme Court and the National Convention was held in Washington, D.C., that Brother Taft took care of all of the arrangements for the holding of this Convention and was tireless in his efforts to make it one of the great conventions of Phi Alpha Delta. Brother Carmody is also a Charter Member of the Kansas City and Washington, D.C. Alumni Chapters.

Colonel Carmody now resides in Coral Gables, Florida, where he is Chapter Advisor to Rasco Chapter, University of Miami.

FRATERNITY MOURNS DEATH OF BROTHER ABERLE

Brother Fred Aberle, Ross Chapter (U.S.C.), died of a heart attack on July 13, 1949, in Los Angeles, California. Brother Aberle was a very active and loyal PAD and always one of the first who would come forth to help in any project that the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter, Ross Chapter or Ford Chapter (Loyola University) launched. At the time of the 1948 Convention in Los Angeles, California, Brother Aberle besides being in attendance at most of the sessions worked very diligently prior to the Convention on the Finance Committee to raise sufficient funds for the entertainment of the delegates and guests in attendance.

He received his Law Degree from U.S.C. in 1921 and since that time practiced continuously in Los Angeles. His former law partners included Past Supreme Justice Rex Hardy, Lieutenant Governor and Brother Goodwin Knight and Brother Dell Schweitzer.

At his funeral the Honorary pallbearers included 11 judges and 3 attorneys. Of all of these there was only one who was not a Brother of his in Phi Alpha Delta.

Miami Law School Grows

The University of Miami Law School is probably the fastest growing school in the country today. Rather than experiencing a decrease in enrollment in the Law School which has been the case of other law schools in the country, Miami experienced an increase in enrollment which shows every sign of continuing indefinitely in future years. Its Law School today is composed of 1100 men. The rapid growth of this school has caused a mushroom growth not only in its building program but in its activities. There exists an aggressive spirit in both the faculty and the student body, a spirit of being the largest and best which would be hard to equal anywhere.

This spirit has carried over into fraternity life and Rasco Chapter members and officers are self-assured. This self-assurance is not causing complacency but, on the contrary, is sweeping along on the aggressive theory of expansion which marks the entire school. With approximately 500 men in the first year class, rushing presents a great problem. To meet this problem Rasco Chapter rushes on an individual basis. Another problem facing this chapter is an increase in its professional activities for the betterment of the school and faculty. With its rapid growth and increasing enrollment, the Chapter's time is greatly taken up meeting the problems of rushing. This, together with the Law School being located in a resort city, which is primarily social, presents greater difficulties securing professional rather than social outlets for Chapter functions. Brother Dean Rasco pointed out, though, that the Chapter was very active and always came to the assistance of the school. One example of such assistance was the members of Rasco Chapter moving 7,000 volumes from one library location to another in one afternoon.

A Law Professor's Version Of the Story of the Three Bears

ONCE Upon a time (the exact date is not known, but it is not likely to be put in issue, since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary), a little girl (about whose parentage there is no issue and who will be presumed, therefore, to be legitimate) named Goldilocks, wanted to visit her grandmother (whether paternal or maternal is immaterial), who lived on the other side of the forest (the exact location of which may be determined by metes and bounds by consulting the records of the Registry of Deeds in the county in which the said premises are located). Little Goldilocks was given permission by her parents. Throughout this narrative the parents will be presumed to be reasonable and prudent parents because they warned little Goldilocks of all known and foreseeable dangers and instructed her to be guided accordingly.

WHEN little Goldilocks was perambulating the perimeter of the forest, she was attracted by a single dwelling of unusual construction set back from the highway in a manner which conformed exactly to the zoning regulations lawfully enacted and promulgated. This was not, as you will note, an attractive nuisance since the object was one with which all children are familiar and the dangers of which, if any, are obvious.

DISREGARDING the instructions of her prudent parents, she entered the land by crossing over the imaginary white fence which Blackstone says surrounds each parcel of realty. For this she became guilty of trespass quare clausum fregit pedibus ambulando. Knocking at the door and receiving no reply, she turned the knob, gave a good push and entered. This, as you know, was trespass quare clausum fregit vi et armis.

SHE saw on the table three bowls of porridge. The first was too hot and the second was too cold. The third was just right so she ate it all up. This was trespass de bonis asportatis.

INSIDE the house she spied three chairs. She sat in the big chair, which belonged, quite obviously, to the Daddy Bear, but it was too hard. (Since she did no harm this could be no trespass.) The medium-sized chair was too soft, so she sat in the little chair, which, she assumed, belonged to the Baby Bear. Since her weight exceeded the capacity of the chair, she broke it all down. Harm being done, she committed an ordinary trespass to personal property.

BY that time little Goldilocks was tired. She found a bedroom with three beds. She tried the first and found it too hard, the second was too soft, but the third was just right. So she lay down in the third, or Baby Bear's bed, and soon was fast asleep. It is not so easy to tell what kind of a wrong this happens to be, and it may well be that on this point there are two schools of thought. It is not, however, trespass quare clausum fregit vi et armis ab initio since this misfeasance did not follow an entry under license of law.

WHILE she was fast asleep, the proprietors of the premises returned. Angered and aroused at the torts and trespasses they wrought out the tortfeasor. Baby

PAD'S Elected to Seattle Bar Association

J. Orrin Vining, Dunbar Chapter (University of Washington) on July 29, 1949, was elected President of the Seattle Bar Association. Vining was the candidate of the Nominating Committee and defeated a candidate of a rump group of the association. The rump group emphasizes their opposition was not a personal attack on Brother Vining but was simply an attempt to change a system that they claimed controlled the association and remained in the hands of a small clique.

Also elected as Trustees were Brothers Wayne C. Booth and District Justice George T. Nickell.

During the Washington State Bar Meeting, the Seattle Alumni Chapter held a party for the members of the Alumni who were in attendance at the Convention.

Bear found her in his own little bed and raised a hue and cry. Just then little Goldilocks woke up, realized her predicament and ran home as fast as she could with the Three Bears in fresh and hot pursuit.

SHE got home just in time to slam the door in the faces of three angry bears. It is a good thing she did too, because now we do not have to decide if a bear can be guilty of assault and battery.

AND now, I think it would be a good idea for you to go to sleep before you make the discovery, made by judges in the courts before which I practiced, once upon a time, that most of what I have to say is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

By EDWARD A. HOGAN, JR., M. Sullivan Chapter, Dean, School of Law, University of San Francisco.

HIT IT AGAIN

How many hits did it take you? That and many more hilarious questions resulted from the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter's annual Summer Outing held on September 17 at the Chevy Chase Country Club in Glendale as Brothers and their wives joined in a real old-fashioned picnic, complete with a spike-driving contest, horseshoes pitching, dart throwing, and onion and balloon races.

Consensus of opinion around the spike driving table was that a bunch of lawyers would never get the flooring laid in a house, as mighty blows landed wildly and heavily on everything but the head of the spike, which never seemed to want to go into the well-seasoned six-by-six timber provided. The PAD girls, too, tried their hand at the contests, proving themselves definitely the experts in balancing onions on soup-ladels while galloping across the golf course green at top speed.

Horseshoe pitching proved that lawyers can throw the bull with somewhat more facility than they can equine pedal habiliment, and when one of the ladies nonchalantly tossed one of the few ringers of the afternoon, there was a rapid retreat of brethren for the dart board. Big question of the afternoon was the whereabouts of the usual ample supply of hot air as puffing attorneys tried with varying degrees of anemic results to inflate the ample supply of balloons for races and decorations.

Climax of the day was a sumptuous buffet supper in the clubhouse, highlighted by the awarding of prizes for the days contests. Dinner music was provided by an accordionist, who accompanied the group singing of old favorites from college days, which was led by Brother Burton A. Van Tassel. Harvey J. Lindstrom, Chapter Justice, was toastmaster for the occasion and also turned out to be quite a soloist in his own right with his rendition, by popular demand, of the Swedish National Anthem.

The Chapter members and their guests paused during the course of the evening for a moment of silent tribute to Fred Aberle, a beloved Brother who died recently. Judge Paul Vallee of the District Court of Appeal who had been a lifelong friend of Brother Aberle commemorated the departed Brother with a recollection of his many past services and contributions to the good of PAD.

DISTRICT 12 COMMITTEE SETS DECEMBER 3 CONCLAVE DATE

Members of the District 12 Steering Committee set December 3, 1949, as the date for the first annual District 12 Conclave. The Committee held a meeting at the Richmond Hotel in Richmond, Va., on June 25, and announced that Patrick Henry Chapter at the University of Richmond School of Law would be the host Chapter for the Conclave scheduled to be held in Richmond.

Delegates from five of the eight Chapters in District 12 attended the Richmond meeting of the Committee which had been called by the District Justice at a District business meeting held in Washington, D. C., on April 30. The Steering Committee members in attendance were the guests of Henry Chapter at a luncheon held in the Richmond Hotel, following which the Committee meeting was organized. Principal feature of the luncheon was the presentation by Justice Marcus H. Long on behalf of Henry Chapter of the Past-Justice Key to Brother James D. McMullan, the Charter Justice of Henry Chapter.

The Committee discussed all aspects of the proposed District Conclave and laid full plans therefor during the four-hour meeting, voting unanimously to accept the invitation of Henry Chapter and the other two Virginia Chapters, Staples and Jefferson, to hold the Conclave in Richmond, Va., next fall. The invitation had been extended by the Virginia Chapters at the April 30 business meeting in Washington, D. C. It was further determined that the first Conclave to be held in District 12 would be held on December 3, 1949, commencing at approximately 9:30 a.m. The planned Conclave, according to the Committee, will include round table discussions of matters of interest to all Chapters within the District, a luncheon, important District 12 business matters, a cocktail party and dinner with a nationally prominent speaker. It will be held in one of Richmond's fine hotels, and commitments made by Committee members indicated that as many as 150 Active Chapter members and Alumni might be expected to be in attendance.

Another meeting of the Steering Committee was scheduled for late October, at which time each Chapter in the District is to be pledged to a definite number of Active members who will be present at the Conclave and final details are to be formulated. This October meeting of the Committee will be held in Lexington, Va., with Staples Chapter acting as the host therefor at their invitation which was extended to the Committee by Brother Gates.

Brother Shuping, Jr., Opposes Communism

At the 31st Annual Convention of the North Carolina Legionnaires, Brother C. Leroy Shuping, Jr., Ruffin Chapter (University of North Carolina) introduced a resolution directing the State Department of the Legion to actively oppose the presence of any and all Communist groups, organizations or front organizations on the campus of the University of North Carolina.

However, the resolution was amended by a sub-committee and then adopted by the Full Committee on Resolutions. The final version which was acceptable to Brother Shuping applied to all institutions of learning in the state. In substance, the resolution states that the North Carolina Department of the Legion opposes the presence of Communist Party members and groups at any institution of learning as well as the advocacy of Communism by or in any and all policies which either actively or passively permit the presence of any such teaching or activities.

DEATH COMES TO "JEFTY" O'CONNOR

U. S. District Judge and Brother J. F. T. O'Connor died in Los Angeles on September 28, 1949. Death came to the well loved Federal Judge in his sleep and was caused by congestive heart failure. He had been ill for 18 months from heart causes and had been absent from the bench most of the time. He was 63 years old. Jefty O'Connor, prior to being appointed to the bench, was U. S. Comptroller of the Currency during the Roosevelt Administration. Brother O'Connor was a native of Grand Forks, North Dakota, and a graduate of North Dakota and Yale Universities. He was a member of Corliss Chapter and Calhoun Chapter at Yale University. He was one of the founders of Calhoun Chapter and was very active in this Chapter during his law school days and when he served as instructor on the Law School Faculty. Even after leaving the University his interest in Phi Alpha Delta and Calhoun Chapter continued. At the time his Chapter went inactive a fund had been raised for the building of a fraternity house. Brother O'Connor served as the trustee of these funds and disposed of them in accordance with the wishes of the contributors.

He was a member of the Supreme Executive Board, having served the Fraternity as Second Supreme Vice-Justice in the year 1910 and in 1911 served as First Supreme Vice-Justice. Upon Brother O'Connor's leaving Washington and coming to Southern California as a member of the Federal District Court here, he immediately took up his activities in Phi Alpha Delta and became an active member of the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter.

BAYLOR CHAPTER

Baylor Chapter recently installed at Baylor University, Waco, Texas, has swung into full gear in its Fall activities holding a Rush Party on September 29th and October 5th. At the October 5 Rush Party Watson Arnold, Assistant Attorney General of the State of Texas and an Alumnus of the old Senate Law Society, which is now Baylor Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, presented an address aimed primarily at the first year law students.

In the recent student bar elections, two members of its Chapter, Brothers Keller and Sheehan, were elected to the Vice-Presidency and Secretaryship respectively. This Chapter has a project of mimeographing old State Bar exams with answers and makes them available to graduating students. Another project is to have prominent practicing attorneys address the group on current legal problems.

Chapter headquarters are located in the Law School Annex on the campus which serve as an office for the Chapter Officers and a place to maintain Chapter files. Baylor University provides the Chapter with classroom space for business meetings and the Chapter is currently hunting for a room near the campus which it can rent at a reasonable figure as a permanent Chapter room and meeting place.

Delta Theta's Send Thanks

At the recent Convention of Delta Theta Phi held in August, 1949, at Detroit, Michigan, Phi Alpha Delta sent a telegram of best wishes on the holding of their Convention.

Recently your Supreme Secretary received a letter from Master of their Rolls thanking Phi Alpha Delta for the fine telegram which was received. Alden Doud, Master of Rolls, first stated that the expression of good will from our fraternity was greatly appreciated and Delta Phi wished to express their sincere thanks for this greeting.

Wilson Chapter Activities

Wilson Chapter (Cornell) has started the term with a flurry of activity. After initiating twenty-eight members at the end of the spring semester, the chapter expects to have one of its most successful terms ever.

On October 22nd, which is homecoming weekend in Cornell, the Chapter will give a reception for the visiting brothers and guests. In addition, the Chapter will hold at least one luncheon meeting per month. It is customary to have a guest speaker at these luncheons, which in the past has proven an entertaining as well as an educational practice.

At the beginning of the term, the Chapter awarded the annual cup for highest honors in the first year moot court competition to Gifford S. Cappellini of Wilkesbarre, Pa. The cup has been awarded by the Chapter to the successful first-year moot court competitor for the last ten years. As the Law School has an upper-class moot court competition as well, the Chapter decided at its first meeting this year to donate to the Law School a cup to be awarded the winner of that competition as its annual gift to the school.

Wilson Chapter's fame by no means rests on social activities alone. Its scholastic achievements are also noteworthy; five of its brothers are on the Cornell Law Quarterly. But the most gratifying news was received last week when it was announced that Professor Rudolf B. Schlesinger had been appointed a member of the consultative committee of the new International Comparative Law Association which is being organized under the auspices of UNESCO. Professor Schlesinger holds degrees from both German and American Law Schools. He was initiated by Wilson Chapter at the end of last semester.

NIXON BEING URGED FOR SENATE

Richard Nixon, Rutledge Chapter, (Duke University), who is now a Congressman from California, with law offices in Whittier, California, is being urged by the Young Republicans of California to seek the Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate in 1950.

The Executive Committee of the Young Republicans organization has adopted a resolution which puts the group on record as favoring the candidacy of Nixon, who is himself a young Republican.

WILLIAM J. LAWLER OPENS OFFICE

William J. Lawler, Roberts Chapter (Temple University), after ten years with the United States Department of Justice in its Immigration and Naturalization Division, has resigned his position and opened his own office in San Francisco restricting his practice to Immigration and Naturalization cases. His office is at 835 Clay Street, San Francisco 8, California.

Brother Ayer Dies

Dr. Leslie James Ayer, Dunbar Chapter, (University of Washington) retired University of Washington Law Professor, died on May 31, 1949 in Seattle, Washington. He had been a member of the University's law faculty since 1916 and retired last year because of illness. He had served as Acting Dean of the University of Washington Law School in 1930 and 1931. He also had been an exchange law professor at the University of California, the University of Chicago and Stanford University.

His teaching and principles made an indelible impression upon his brothers in Phi Alpha Delta, not only to the students at the Law School but the alumni students that he taught.

CHASE CHAPTER HAS BUSY PROGRAM

Chase Chapter (University of Cincinnati) has had a busy summer program and is now looking forward to the many activities scheduled for this Fall.

On June 20, 1949, at the Veranda Club in suburban Cincinnati, a business meeting of the Chapter was had and election of officers for the current scholastic year was conducted. The following were elected to office: Justice—James Albers, Vice-Justice—Philip Ritchie, Clerk—Frederick C. Smith, Treasurer—Richard Packard, and Marshal—William Keating.

On July 25, 1949, at a meeting held at the Veranda Club, a Past Justice Key was presented to Brother Professor Robert Toepfer of the University of Cincinnati School of Law Faculty. The principal speaker at this banquet was Brother Augustus Beall, Jr., a prominent Cincinnati attorney and alumnus of Chase Chapter who chose "Workmen's Compensation Laws" as the subject of the address. Chase Chapter has inaugurated a program which has been functioning for several years, which program calls for prominent Cincinnati attorneys to attend a dinner meeting of the Chapter and address the members on an important phase of law.

On August 8, 1949, Dean Frank S. Rowley of the University of Cincinnati Law School addressed the members of Chase Chapter on the subject of "Punishment by Military Tribunal." This subject has been one of national interest to Phi Alpha Delta since the passage by the Kansas City National Convention, in 1946, of a resolution favoring revision of the court martial proceedings. Dean Rowley's talk embraced such phases of the subject as the changes in the Articles of War since the close of World War II, an explanation of the various court martials under the present revisions as compared to the old system, and the work and recommendations of the Vanderbilt Committee as it affected the revisions effected.

Present at this meeting was National Field Representative Matthew S. Rae who had stopped at Cincinnati en route to Los Angeles. Brother Rae addressed the Chapter briefly in regards to the nature of his new position and the desirability of a closer contact between the various Active and Alumni Chapters and the National Chapter.

On August 9, at a luncheon meeting honoring National Field Representative Matthew S. Rae and Supreme Historian Giles E. Miller, who was in Cincinnati, a discussion was had with the Cincinnati Alumni Independents relative to cooperation between the Chapter, its Alumni and the National Offices.

The reactivation of the Cincinnati Alumni Chapter with a program of projects designed to assist Chase Chapter and also designed to facilitate the reactivation of Hay Chapter (Western Reserve University) and McKinley Chapter (Ohio State University) was also one of the subjects discussed.

JOHN C. POWELL APPOINTED TO BENCH

John C. Powell, Harlan Chapter (University of Oklahoma) on August 4, 1949, was appointed as a Judge of the Criminal Court of Appeals of the State of Oklahoma.

Brother Powell was Chapter Justice of Harlan Chapter during the time he attended the University of Oklahoma Law School and was a delegate to the National Convention of Phi Alpha Delta at Kansas City in 1921. Brother Powell had been the personal attorney of Governor Turner, of Oklahoma, in matters involving the Governor and his ranch near Sulphur, Oklahoma, which led the Governor to appoint him to the Bench on the basis of the qualifications and ability of Brother Powell.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

The March, 1934 issue of the "Reporter" was dedicated to Past Supreme Justice George E. Fink. The article carried in that issue of the "Reporter" about Brother Fink titled him "The Grand Old Man of the Fraternity."

History records that Brother Fink secured his preliminary education in Illinois and completed a 3-year law course in the Illinois College of Law and attended the University of Michigan Law School in 1899 and 1900, and was admitted to the Illinois Bar in 1900. He is a member of Story Chapter at DePaul University in Chicago and Campbell Chapter at the University of Michigan. He was a delegate to the Conventions held in 1907, 1908, 1912 and 1921, and had missed only one National Convention between 1907 and 1934. He was Supreme Treasurer in 1907 and 1908 and a member of the Board of Tribunes in 1921. He was Supreme Justice in 1923, Chief Tribune in 1926, and member of the Board of Tribunes in 1930 and he is now a very active member of the Supreme Advisory Board of the Fraternity.

He secured the charter for the Chicago Alumni Chapter of which he was president in 1911 and 1912. He did preliminary work for the establishment of the Chapters at Illinois Western University, University of Maine, Yale University and the University of Colorado. He installed Martin Chapter at Tulane University, Wiley Chapter at the University of West Virginia, Watson Chapter at Pittsburgh University and Wilson Chapter at Cornell University.

The editor in the 1934 issue stated that "while it is comparatively easy to list the offices he has held, it is impossible to recite the good deeds he has done in his constant, loyal and tireless service. As he has sown, he now reaps the wealth of admiration, love and affection from the entire Fraternity."

At the George E. Fink night of the Chicago Alumni Chapter held on February 20, 1934, over a hundred members gathered to honor Brother Fink. In addition to those present, telegrams and letters were received from his Brothers throughout the country.

Today, as of 15 years ago, Past Supreme Justice Fink is held high in the esteem of his Fraternity Brothers, accentuated by the additional years of service in the fraternity. More appropriate words are not available than those used in the 1934 article to describe Brother Fink.

PAD Heads Wisconsin Bar

Gerald P. Hayes, Taft Chapter (Georgetown University), has been elected president of the Wisconsin Bar Association for 1949-1950.

Brother Hayes took his undergraduate work at Marquette University. He transferred to Georgetown University for his law studies where he was initiated into Taft Chapter in 1914. He was admitted to practice in Wisconsin in 1917 and maintains offices at 905 First Wisconsin Bank Building, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He is a member of the firm of Bendinger, Hayes and Kluwis. His son, Gerald Hayes, Jr., is affiliated with this firm.

GOVERNOR CARLSON INITIATED

Governor Frank Carlson of the State of Kansas was initiated as an Honorary Member of Phi Alpha Delta on October 7, 1949, at Lawrence, Kansas. Green Chapter, (University of Kansas), had petitioned the Supreme Executive Board for authority to initiate Governor Carlson as an Honorary Member. The initiation of Governor Carlson was attended by Supreme Vice-Justice E. A. (Bert) Taylor, District Justice Kyle of District 7, District Justice Robert Freer of District 12 and by members of the fraternity on the faculty of the University of Kansas.

PAD Luncheon Climaxes California Bar Meet

One hundred forty-six members of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity attended a gala luncheon in the Colonial Room of the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, California, held on Wednesday noon, August 31, as the climax of the fraternity's organized participation in the program of the California State Bar Convention.

Phi Alpha Delta was the only legal fraternity which was represented by organized functions at the California State Bar Convention, and its registration desks in the lobby of the Curran Theatre and on the mezzanine of the St. Francis Hotel served not only as the information center for visiting PADs from throughout the state, but also as a general information bureau, message center, and check room for innumerable attorneys seeking assistance and information who were not members of the fraternity. The Phi Alpha Delta headquarters suite in the St. Francis Hotel was the focal point for fraternity brothers from throughout the state, and a local hospitality committee was on hand in the suite at all times to welcome visitors. A Phi Alpha Delta innovation at this year's convention also proved to be highly successful as the fraternity reserved a breakfast table every morning in the hotel which served a total turnover of about 25 brothers each morning.

Plans for the PAD participation in the convention were under the direction of a committee composed jointly of members of the San Francisco Alumni Chapter and the East Bay Alumni Chapter with Walter E. Hettman, Justice of the San Francisco Chapter, serving as committee chairman. The two alumni chapters received the enthusiastic and whole-hearted co-operation of the Active Chapter members of Field Chapter at the University of California. Matt Sullivan Chapter at the University of San Francisco, and Temple Chapter at Hastings College of Law. Under the capable supervision of John Griffin, Past Justice of Temple Chapter, the active brothers provided teams to man the two registration desks and the headquarters suite at all time.

Brother Hettman, who acted as toastmaster for the luncheon, introduced a number of outstanding fraternity brothers present at the speakers' table and in the audience, including several judges, prominent members of the Bar and legal educators.

Brother Harned Pettus Hoose, then introduced Miss Julie Wilson, beautiful and talented co-star of "Kiss Me Kate," who provided the afternoon's entertainment with her rendition of three aptly-chosen songs. In his introduction of Miss Wilson, Brother Hoose announced that the committee had unanimously acclaimed her "The Girl We Would Most Like to Be Lost With in Our Law Library." In explaining this title, he observed that she really belongs in a law library, because her eyes speak volumes: her Corpus is Juris (she really has the corpus), and she is Miss California (2) to none. Therefore, he explained, Phi Alpha Delta plans to Shepardize Miss Wilson, since the fraternity has a case on her.

Holmes Chapter Member On Law Review

George Burns, Holmes Chapter, (Stanford University) has been elected to the editorial staff of the quarterly Stanford Law Review during the 1949-1950 school year.

The Stanford Law Review made its first publication in the Fall of 1948. The first editor of the Stanford Law Review was Warren M. Christopher, Holmes Chapter (Stanford University) who is now the Law Secretary to U. S. Supreme Court Justice Douglas.

The Esoteric Chapter

Without the usual clamor for publicity and exemplifying the adage that one shall be known by his works, Morgan Chapter, University of Alabama, works for the betterment of the Law School at the University of Alabama. This Chapter, composed of 59 members, sponsors projects intended to benefit the entire student body or the school and then supervises these projects within the frame work of the student body without calling special attention to the Fraternity's part in the program. While this system deprives the Chapter of a certain amount of favorable publicity which it might otherwise receive it has gained the admiration and respect of the Dean and faculty of the University of Alabama Law School. Of course, during rushing period the program in which their members participated during the past year are pointed out to the rushee.

Dean Hepburn, of the Law School, stated that the fraternities on his campus had exemplified their ideals and had served the University as a true professional organization. He stated that it would be impossible to enumerate the many services that Phi Alpha Delta and the other fraternity on the campus had rendered to the school during the last years.

Morgan Chapter sponsors a Speakers Program but for all purposes it appears as though it was a Student Bar Association function. Its current project is to secure funds from the alumni who have attended the Law School since 1931 for the painting of a portrait of retiring Dean Hepburn to be presented to the school. The letter soliciting these funds is signed by Pat Burham, Chairman of the William A. Hepburn Portrait Committee. Pat Burham is an officer in the Morgan Chapter but nowhere in the letter does Phi Alpha Delta appear. Other projects of this chapter are to secure legal motion picture films for the use of the school's moot court system, and participation in the Law School's Lending Library program.

Morgan Chapter is an exceptionally strong chapter. Its student leadership is aggressive and imaginative. The chapter has always cooperated in district and national activities and has been well represented in all national meetings.

THE BLUE BLOODED PLEDGES

Hughes Chapter (University of Denver) was faced with the cost of a rush party in August, 1949 and with a depleted Treasury. To raise sufficient money to cover the cost of entertaining 30 rushees at the Rush Party which was scheduled to be held in the American Legion Hall in Denver, Colorado, 7 of the members of the Chapter donated a pint of blood to the General Hospital Blood Bank for which they received the sum of $10.00 a pint. The funds received for this blood was turned over to the chapter and $5.00 was credited against the members' dues of 50c a month and $5.00 was designated a donation.

When the Rush Party came around in August, 1949 and Coach Jess Mortensen showed football pictures of the games between Denver University, Georgetown University and Detroit University, ample funds were in the Chapter Treasury to pay for the cost. At the conclusion of this Rush Party bids were extended to some of the guests in attendance and 15 of them were pledged. As one of the members of the Chapter stated, we got these pledges through sweat and blood.
