Donald R. Moore New District XII Justice

A newspaperman turned lawyer is the new District Justice of District XII.

He is Donald R. Moore, of Washington, D.C., a trial attorney for the Federal Trade Commission. He was appointed by Supreme Justice Jackson to succeed William B. Robertson, who recently resigned after an outstandingly successful term. (See story elsewhere in this issue.)

A law graduate of Georgetown University (1950), Moore served as Clerk and Justice of Taft Chapter there. He has been active in the Washington Alumni Chapter, serving as a member of its executive Committee and currently as Vice Justice.

Moore took his undergraduate work at Washington and Lee University (A.B. 1937), where he majored in journalism. After graduation, he worked successively on the Altavista (Va.) Journal, where he says he did everything from sweeping the floors to writing editorials; the Roanoke (Va.) World-News; and the Cumberland (Md.) News. On the Cumberland paper, he wound up as state editor after working as a reporter and assistant city editor.

As a courthouse reporter he developed an interest in the law which was given further impetus by court martial experience in the Army Air Force during World War II. He entered on active duty as a second lieutenant in May 1942 and saw service as an Intelligence Officer and in other administrative positions, including more than a year in the South Pacific with the Thirtieth Air Force.

After a brief period as Regional Public Relations Officer for the Veterans Administration in North Carolina, he joined the FTC staff in July 1946 as Assistant Director of Information, later becoming Assistant to the Chairman and Director of Information. Meanwhile, he was attending night classes at Georgetown Law School, and later transferred to FTC's legal staff.

Moore left the FTC temporarily during the Korean War to serve on the public information staff of the Office of Price Stabilization. On the dissolution of OPS, he returned to FTC as a trial attorney.

Other organizations to which he belongs besides PAD include the Federal Bar Association, Sigma Delta Chi Journalism Fraternity and the National Press Club. He has been a Bible class teacher and recently completed a term as Pack Committee Chairman in the District Boy Scout organization.

Moore is married and has two children.

Past Supreme Justice Frank Fawcett Dies

Past Supreme Justice Frank L. Fawcett passed on to the Divinum Judicium on January 9, while watching a boxing match on television.

Brother Fawcett served as Supreme Justice of the fraternity from 1921-23, and subsequently, from 1923-25 as chairman of the Board of Tribunes. He was a member of Ryan Chapter at the University of Wisconsin, where he graduated in 1908.

An ardent fight fan, Brother Fawcett was appointed to the Wisconsin State Athletic Commission in 1942, and reappointed in 1947, serving as the Commission Chairman the last two years of his term. He was the first man to introduce outdoor boxing bouts to Wisconsin, working to have the law changed to permit them.

A member of the Elks, Brother Fawcett served as Exalted Ruler of the Milwaukee Lodge in 1944, and State President in 1942. He has spoken at every Elks Lodge throughout the State of Wisconsin.

He opened his office in Milwaukee 45 years ago, and had practiced ever since, specializing in criminal law.

Last Christmas, he wrote his own message for his Christmas cards, a message full of his enjoyment of life and a message which seems to indicate that he had some knowledge that his remaining days in this life were but few. This inspirational message follows:

CHRISTMAS 1955—"LIFE'S CLOSING CHAPTER"

The height of any building is dependent upon one thing—the amount of concrete which is put in the foundation. This architectural maxim is also true of the structure we call life. It was forcibly impressed upon me during my recent illness when I was looking up through the daisies and almost came to "LIFE'S CLOSING CHAPTER."

During this solemn, sacrosanct, and serious minded journey, the old flood gate of memory was literally torn from its moorings. Myriads of pleasant recollection clamored for recollection. It became a rendezvous where clustered some of the sweetest joys, the strongest friendships and the most sacred memories of my life.

Its youthful trend left no doubt that the philosophers were right when they said—"Old men's eyes are like old men's memories; they are strongest for things a long way off." "An old man with the snow of time upon his head reminds us that those points of earth are whitest that are nearest to heaven." "The evening of a well spent life brings its

PADS Again Score Heavily in National Moot Court Competition

FOUR OF TOP SIX ARE MEMBERS OF PAD

Once again, PADS took home more than their share of the top honors when the results of the recent sixth annual Moot Court Competition were announced. Four of the six men competing in the final round were PADS. Readers may recall that at the last competition, two men on the three-man national championship team were PADS.

This year, PAD was represented on the winning team from Georgetown University School of Law by Brother James F. Hogan, of Taft Chapter. Brother Hogan was not only a member of the winning team but also won the award for the best individual oral presentation of the entire competition. Close behind the national championship team was an all-PAD team from Mercer University, composed of Eugene L. Heinrich, L. Ray Patterson, and Stanley R. Segal, all of Fish Chapter.

lamps with it." No wise man ever wished to be younger because he now realizes that childhood is scarcely more lovely than is a contented, cheerful and charitable old age, and that the crowning triumph of life is to grow old gracefully. More cordial today, will sound the sweet celestial chimes of our Christmas Carols if we sing with the poet—

"Youth longs, manhood strives, but age remembers,
Sits by the raked up ashes of the past,
Spreads his thin white hands o'er the cooling embers,
That warm his creeping life blood to the last."
Beneath the beckoning blaze of the beacon light, the pleasure producing Yuletide will join all of life's most joyous jewels if we but scan again the precious pearls in the radiant rosary of memory. Then—then can we cheerfully chant—

"Long, long be my mind with such memories filled,
Life a vase in which flowers have once been distilled;
You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will,
But the scent of the roses remains round it still."

So, on this happy and hallowed day commemorating the blessed birth of "The Child of Charity," let each of us, with a world of winsome welcome, appreciatingly inhale the aromatic fragrance of a pleasant past, and penitently kneel at the holiest of shrines—our mother's knee, and prayerfully ask "The King of Kings" to grant to all mankind, irrespective of race or religion, class or creed, His greatest benefaction and his most gracious benediction—"On Earth Peace, Good Will Toward Men."

FRANK L. FAWCETT

Other PADS competing in the final rounds in New York were William G. Tucker (Loyola-Los Angeles), George Kosta (St. Louis U.), William A. Forrest, Jr. (U. of Va.), Russell B. Pace, Jr. (U. of Va.), Gilbert H. Burnett (Wake Forest) and Arlen Spector (Yale).

Awards

Each member of the national championship team received a set of U.S. Supreme Court Digests and the Georgetown Law Library received a set of Encyclopedia Americana. Members of the honorable mention team received American Law Reports Annotated (2nd Series), American Jurisprudence, Legal Forms Annotated, and Corbin on Contracts. Brother James E. Hogan, who won the award for the best individual argument, also received a set of American Jurisprudence.

In 1950, when the National Moot Court Competition was inaugurated, teams from 40 law schools participated. This year found 90 law schools represented in the nationwide competition.

Contestants Are Outstanding

Hogan, a graduate of Loyola University in Chicago, has argued Moot Court cases before Supreme Court Justices William O. Douglas (Columbia), Tom C. Clark (Southern Methodist) and John M. Harlan.

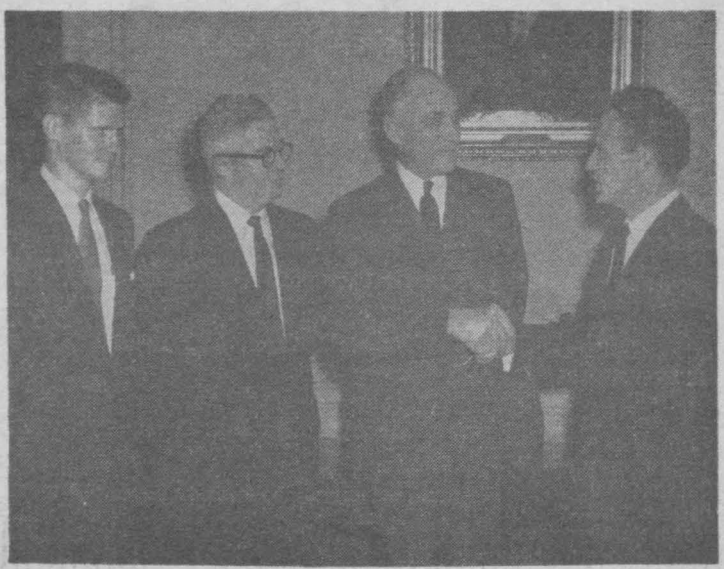

Stanley Segal, of Mercer University, is a resident of Puerto Rico. Presently a junior in the School of Law, he expects to be graduated in June, 1957. He is presently Assistant Editor of the Mercer Law Review and Vice Justice of Fish Chapter.

Eugene Heinrich is a senior and will graduate in March of this year. His undergraduate work was taken at Bradley University. He has compiled an enviable record while at Mercer Law School. He has twice been Editor-in-Chief of the Mercer Law Review, winner of the Outstanding Freshman Award, recipient of the Henry Lee Barfield Scholarship, co-chairman of the 1954 Law Day and a former Clerk and Vice Justice of Fish Chapter. He is now a member of the Georgia State Bar Association and the American Bar Association.

Brother L. Ray Patterson, a junior, will graduate in March of 1957. He holds an AB from Mercer University and an MA from Northwestern University. He is presently Editor-in-Chief of the Mercer Law Review and is a Past Clerk and present Treasurer of Fish Chapter.

The Moot Supreme Court was presided over by U.S. Supreme Court Justice John M. Harlan, and other outstanding members of the bench and bar.

This year the case which the participating law students were given to brief and argue on appeal involved a suit by a gasoline company against another gasoline company, based on the anti-merger provisions of the Clayton Anti-Trust Law, seeking damages and equitable relief. The defendant had acquired and merged into itself a company which owned and operated a string of gasoline stations to which the plaintiff had formerly sold petroleum products. The record raised a number of interesting questions concerning this much discussed section of the anti-trust laws.

MESSAGE FROM THE SUPREME JUSTICE

The opportunity to establish lasting friendships is one of the greatest benefits coming to us as members of the fraternity. A lawyer is indeed fortunate who can include other lawyers among his closer friends and no greater opportunity exists to form such friendships than through Phi Alpha Delta.

ROBERT D. JACKSON

Friendships created during your days in law school will be lasting ones and the comradeship existing in our active chapters provides the basis for this vital relationship. It has been said that lawyers are our best clients and this truth has been demonstrated thousands of times throughout the fraternity.

Those of you who have not yet entered the profession should take advantage of every opportunity offered by the fraternity to meet and become acquainted with others in the fraternity. The fraternity constantly provides such opportunities for you and during the year you will be privileged to attend the national convention and one or more district conclaves. These activities are provided for you at considerable expense and you should attend.

The 31st Biennial Convention of Phi Alpha Delta will celebrate the 54th year of existence of the fraternity. The convention will be held at Cleveland on June 21, 22, and 23 and members from all sections of the country will attend. Good fellowship will characterize the convention and you should make plans to attend. Here will exist the opportunity for you to meet hundreds of your brothers in the fraternity and new and lasting friendships will be created. Compared with the benefits which will be yours, the cost of attending the convention will be small. Coming at the close of the school year it will provide an excellent vacation and the wives of our members should always remember that they are welcome guests of the convention. Our Cleveland alumni are loyal supporters of the fraternity. The program they are providing for your entertainment will be long remembered and while I would like to give you the full particulars, my time will not permit. After all, I have reservations to make for the Jacksons. Fraternally yours,

ROBERT D. JACKSON

JUDGE ALVIN REIS DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Circuit Judge Alvin C. Reis, 63, collapsed and died of a heart attack on a street corner in Madison, Wisconsin, Tuesday, January 24, after recessing the first trial at the January Jury Term.

Close friends advise that the Judge had been troubled with a heart condition in the past but lately had appeared in good health.

Judge Reis became an honorary member of Ryan Chapter April 11, 1954, and since his initiation has been quite active in the Chapter activities.

Reis, a graduate of Harvard Law School, received his B.A. at the University of Wisconsin in 1913, and his LL.B. in 1917. In addition to his membership in Phi Alpha Delta, he belonged to Phi Beta Kappa, Order of the Coif, Sigma Delta Chi, and the Iron Cross.

He had presided over Branch 1 of Wisconsin's busiest judicial circuit, the 9th, continuously since 1936. Judge Reis had planned to seek a new term beginning January 1, 1957.

Robertson Resigns As District Justice

It is with deep regret that the fraternity announces the recent resignation of District XII Justice William B. Robertson. Robertson, who took office in the Fall of 1953, was forced to submit his resignation due to the pressure of increased work with the U.S. Air Force, with which he is affiliated as a statistician.

PADs throughout District XII, and in fact, throughout the country, are well acquainted with the excellent work which Robertson did during his two year tenure. Few will realize the devotion to his office and the amount of time which he so unhesitatingly gave.

WILLIAM B. ROBERTSON

Bill is a member of Taft Chapter at Georgetown University, having served that Chapter as its Justice. He is a former Marshal, Vice Justice and Justice of the Washington, D.C. Alumni Chapter.

A. M. Felix on Hawaii Circuit Court

Brother Albert M. Felix is presently serving on the Circuit Court of the First Circuit of the Territory of Hawaii. His present term will expire August 20, 1958.

The First Circuit comprises the City and County of Honolulu on the Island of Oahu, with a population of 400,000 people, excluding service personnel. The Circuit Court is the highest trial court in the Territory and has jurisdiction over all controversies and suits.

It is interesting to note that although the court's jurisdiction is limited to matters under territorial statutes only, with no jurisdiction to federal cases under federal statutes, nevertheless the judiciary is appointed by the President of the United States and confirmation by the U. S. Senate is required. The people of the Islands have no voice in the matter. Salaries for the Judges are paid 60% by the federal government and 40% by the Territory of Hawaii.

Judge Felix is a member of Ford Chapter of Loyola University in Los Angeles and is a former County Attorney for the County of Honolulu.

M. T. Van Hecke Elected New AALS President

SOME OF THE PADs in attendance pose for The Reporter at the 1955 PAD reception during the American Association of Law Schools Convention.

PAD Honored

Brother Maurice T. Van Hecke, Professor of Law at the University of North Carolina, named President of the American Association of Law Schools at its annual meeting held in the latter part of December, 1955, at the Hilton Hotel, Chicago. Professor Van Hecke, member of Ruffin Chapter at North Carolina University, is former Dean of the Law School having served from 1931 to 1939.

He is admitted to practice in the States of Illinois and North Carolina. He was a co-reporter on the Restatement of Torts, and an editor for Cook's Cases in Equity (4th Ed.). Extremely active in legal education circles he is a former President of the Order of the Coif.

M. T. VAN HECKE

During the meeting of law educators, PAD staged its annual reception for members and guests in charge of arrangements for the Supreme Treasurer Anthony DiGrazia. In attendance was a large number of law school deans, professors and instructors. Many brought as guests members of other legal fraternities and several were overheard to say: "Why doesn't our fraternity do something similar?"

stag beer party in a local downtown hall, the invitations which were in the form of a petition and Summons sent to a member of the freshman class ordering his appearance at the party. The novel invitation proved its worth, with most of the freshman class attending. The following week a luncheon was held for the freshman and each member received a personalized typed letter. The letters stressed that the first was one of the Chapter's functions and that the members would like to invite them to of the professional type meetings, with a luncheon special. The letter further reminded freshmen that PAD is a professional fraternity whose party was more than social.

The speaker at this luncheon was the Hon. James F. Bell, Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court who gave a captivating talk on the mechanics of the Ohio Supreme Court, sprinkling his talk with amusing sidelights.

The Chapter's rushing program is continuing with special planned events for the Spring quarter.

Judge Brosman Succumbs

Judge Paul W. Brosman, former Dean of the Tulane University School of Law, and a member of the Court of Military Appeals, died Wednesday, December 21, 1955.

Judge Brosman, a member of Magruder Chapter at the University of Illinois, was stricken with a heart attack as he worked at his desk.

He began his career as an instructor in business law at Indiana University and served as Professor of Law at Mercer University from 1926 to 1928. He held an active membership in such legal associations as the American Bar Association, American Judicature Association, American Association of Law Schools, International Academy of Comparative Law, Judge Advocates' Association, and the Academy of Political and Social Science. He has been with the Court of Military Appeals since 1951.

Those attending the 1952 convention at Chicago will recall Brother Brosman's excellent address on the Uniform Code of Military Justice, which was delivered as the principal convention speech.

PADs Head Ohio State Activities

PADS of McKinley Chapter at Ohio State University are presently filling the directive offices of all three leading law school activities. Richard Hamilton, Justice of McKinley Chapter, is editor-in-chief of the Ohio State Law Journal, while the Chapter Marshal, Stephen Booher, is President of the Student Bar Association and Chief Justice of the Ohio State Moot Court program. Booher has completely revitalized both the Student Bar and Moot Court programs and turned two passive organizations into highly geared forward looking organizations with exciting new ideas and purposes.

All in all, the Chapter members fill 18 out of 38 possible student offices.

Setting the pace for the present school year was a semi-formal dinner dance held at Ilonka's, one of Columbus' most exclusive catering establishments. The cuisine was excellent, the music superb and all attending agreed that it was the most enjoyable affair ever experienced by PADs in the law school.

Having thus set the pace, the Chapter has followed through with a dynamic program of monthly luncheon speakers. Highlighting the speakers was Mr. Chalmers P. Wylie, candidate for Attorney General of Ohio, who spoke on "Politics and the Lawyer." The entire series of luncheon talks was aimed at augmenting the formal law school courses.

The biggest sustained drive of the social year has been McKinley's rushing program, headed by Chairman Stephen Booher. The rushing program began with a

Cleveland Alumni Prepare For 1956 Convention

The Cleveland Alumni Chapter, official host for the 1956 convention of PAD, is presently hard at work on plans for this event which will see members gather from all parts of the country. The convention will take place June 21-23 with headquarters at the beautiful Hotel Statler in Cleveland, Ohio.

Tentative entertainment arrangements already made include a reception, a major league baseball game pitting the Washington Senators against the Cleveland Indians, and a dinner-dance climaxing the three-day meeting. For the wives, some very interesting events have been arranged, including a visit to General Electric's Nela Park, a luncheon, and a fashion and style show.

The convention program proper will be highlighted by discussions on general fraternity matters, a Chapter Workshop, and the principal address which will be delivered by U. S. Supreme Court Justice Harold H. Burton (Western Reserve). Cleveland's General Chairman, James L. Broz, Jr. (Western Reserve), and Honorary Chairman Cleveland Cross (Western Reserve), advise that summer clothing will be in order, inasmuch as the maximum temperature to be expected will be approximately 90 degrees, and the nights will be somewhat cool.

Hay Chapter at Western Reserve University, which will be celebrating its Golden Anniversary, will provide dates for all those who so desire for the convention dinner-dance.

Each active Chapter is entitled to have two delegates and two alternate delegates at the convention, while each Alumni Chapter is entitled to one delegate and one alternate. The Constitution provides that each active Chapter and each Alumni Chapter shall have two votes.

Each active Chapter will receive an allowance for one delegate, based on the actual cost of first-class railroad fare, upper berth rates round trip, $4 subsistence for each day of travel to and from the convention and each day of the convention, and an allowance for hotel accommodations for each day of the convention.

Alumni and active chapter members should start planning now for what promises to be the finest convention PAD has ever seen.

L. Y. Smith Nat'l Bar Examiners Chm.

Brother Len Young Smith, a Chicago, Illinois, attorney, has recently been named Chairman of the National Conference of Bar Examiners for the current year. Smith has been a member of the Illinois State Board of Law Examiners since 1947 and its president since 1951.

He became a member of Fuller Chapter while attending Northwestern University Law School, where he obtained his J.D. in 1927. He was admitted to the Illinois Bar the same year, and has been Secretary of the Chicago Bar Association since 1954.

His many affiliations include Phi Beta Kappa, Order of the Coif, Kappa Alpha, American, Illinois and Chicago Bar Associations.

He is a co-author and co-editor of Teaven and Smith's 4-Volume Series on Business Law, and was consultant and advisor to West Publishing Co., publishers of Illinois Law and Practice.

When Smith commenced his second term as Secretary of the Chicago Bar Association, the Chicago Bar Record said of him: "Born in Kentucky, he has inherited many qualities characteristic of those that hail from the Blue Grass State. Charm, combined with rugged individualism and a seemingly endless capacity for work have won the admiration and respect of his associates in the official family who felt they just could not get along without him."

It is interesting to note that 110 members are residing in foreign countries. The complete compilation follows:

N. Y. Alumni Hold Christmas Party

On Thursday, December 15th, 1955, the New York University Faculty Club, on Washington Square, North, at the lower end of Fifth Avenue, was the scene of a brilliant affair of the New York Alumni Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta. Lower Fifth Avenue and the "Square" at this time of year present the appearance of fairyland, with beautiful lighted Christmas trees everywhere.

The delightful Christmas party began with cocktails and a delicious dinner and ended with a merry Christmas tree, presided over by Santa Claus, in the person of Charley Digangi.

Justice Brand Addresses Williams Chapter

James T. Brand, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Oregon, was the featured speaker at the annual Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity meeting held in Springfield, Oregon on January 21. Justice Brand, a member of the Supreme Court since 1941, addressed first year law students members and alumni of the Phi Alpha Delta Fraternity. Drawing from his extensive experience on the bench, the speaker referred to the Law as a "living thing," and discussed important issues which now confront the legal profession.

The meeting was presided over by E. J. Peterson, Justice of Williams Chapter. Graduates of the University of Oregon and members of the State Bar present included J. Kelly Farris, Tolbert McCarroll, and Tom Brand of the Multnomah County Bar; Wendell Gronso from Linn County; Leo Nuttman of the Coos County Bar; and Dan Givan, Judge Kenneth A. Poole, Herm Hendershott, and Ralph Hillier of the Lane County Bar. Professors Charles M. Howard and Allen Singer of the University of Oregon Law School faculty were also present.

Oregon U. Chapter Rises

Williams Chapter at the University of Oregon has come through an almost phenomenal period of growth.

In the Fall of 1954, the Chapter was very low in membership as the University of Oregon at that time had an enrollment of 60 students. Phi Delta Phi and Delta Theta Phi in addition to PAD. Chapter members, under the capable leadership of Justice Tolbert H. McCarroll, and with the time, effort and financial assistance of the Portland Alumni Chapter, rolled up their sleeves and went to work. Of 23 students eligible for pledging, 15 were pledged to PAD in the Spring of 1955. Recently, the PAD Chapter obtained another topflight pledge class when they pledged 25 out of the 35 eligible.

Brother McCarroll received the Bender-Hall book prize last year for the senior with the highest grades in Common Law Procedure, Code Pleading and Trial Practice. He also received an award by the Bureau of National Affairs as the senior who made the most satisfactory scholastic progress in his senior year. Herman L. Lind, Ralph E. Hillier and Edward N. Fadely, also received awards from The Lawyers Cooperative Publishing Co.

Williams Chapter also made a clean sweep of the Lane County Bar Association Case Analysis Contest, with the first prize of $50 going to McCarroll and the second prize of $25 going to Leo V. Nuttman.

Chicago Alumni Greet St. Nick

On December 16, 1955, the Chicago Alumni Chapter held their annual Christmas Party at the Morrison Hotel in Chicago. More than sixty of the brothers answered the summons and presented themselves to partake of the Christmas cheer. A successful raffle of two cases of whisky again provided funds for the cocktail party the Alumni group gives twice a year at Springfield when the new members of the bar are admitted.

The Christmas party is fast becoming one of the most popular programs of the Chicago group and attendance keeps increasing each year.

NORMAN G. TENNESON

PAD New Prexy of North Dakota Bar

Brother Norman G. Tenneson was recently appointed acting President of the North Dakota State Bar Association. Tenneson, a graduate of Yale University School of Law, was a member of Calhoun Chapter at that University. He is currently a partner in the firm of Cupler, Tenneson, Serkland and Leahy. He is a Past President of the Cass County Bar Association and a Past Vice President of the State Bar Association. His activities are many and varied, including Fargo Board of Education, St. Luke's Hospital, Masons, and Methodist Church.

Columbia Chapter Undertakes Varied Program

Livingston Chapter, at Columbia University, is having continued success in achieving a varied intellectual, social and athletic program.

Last December 5, the Hon. R. Venkatarmen, alternate delegate from India to the United Nations presented to the Chapter his government's views on the cold war, Communist China, and the conflict over Goa. This frank and informative talk and direct answers to questions propounded gave the members a more complete understanding of these perplexing problems.

Later, on December 14, the Very Rev. James A. Pike, Dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and Adjunct Professor of Law at Columbia, joined the Chapter for luncheon and discussed growing problems in church-state relations. 55 Brothers attended the meeting, which was held at the Men's Faculty Club. The Chapter's graduate law student guests from France, Thailand, Mexico, and the Philippines have also contributed to the success of these luncheons.

In a lighter vein, the Brothers joined together for an enjoyable cocktail party at the Women's Faculty Club just prior to Christmas vacation and Livingston Chapter's basketball team, some twenty strong, overwhelmed younger-shorter opponents in the intermural league.

Iowa U. Chapter to Host District VII Conclave

William G. Hammond Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta will be host to District VII PAD Chapters at its annual district conclave to be held at the State University of Iowa on March 23rd and 24th.

The conclave will officially open Friday afternoon with registration, activation of pledges, and a social hour. A banquet will be held in the evening, after which a dance will take place.

The Saturday morning session will provide an opportunity for an interchange of ideas among the chapter delegates. Group leaders will lead small group discussions on various phases of fraternity activities. It is hoped that with this break-down each delegate will be able to take back to his chapter new ideas that will be of benefit to the chapter program. Following these sessions a noon luncheon will be held in the Iowa Memorial Union. During the afternoon session a general meeting will provide opportunity for the various group leaders to present to

American Bar Association Section

(PAD is pleased to dedicate this space to news of the activities of the American Bar Association. All material is written especially for The Reporter by the ABA's Director of Public Relations, and this section will be a regular feature in subsequent issues.)

The month—February of 1956—is likely to be one of the most significant in the entire 78-year history of the American Bar Association.

It was the climactic period for the Association's big "50,000 New Members" campaign, which not only is the largest membership expansion project ever undertaken by the American Bar Association but also perhaps the biggest ever attempted by a national professional group.

In the week of Feb. 10 to 17, an estimated 10,000 members of ABA throughout the country will call upon about 80,000 non-member lawyers and personally request them to join the Association.

Four months of organization work have preceded this synchronized, personal interview program. The entire country has been organized on a federal court circuit-state-country-metropolitan basis. The organization has been so created that each member of an interview "team" will be expected to call on only about five prospective members, chosen in advance and in most cases known to him personally.

Cecil E. Burney of Corpus Christi, Tex., president of the National Conference of Bar Presidents and former president of the State Bar of Texas, is national chairman of the campaign.

The aim of the campaign is to almost double the present membership of the national organization of the legal profession. At the outset of the big campaign that membership stood at approximately 60,000.

By doubling its membership, the American Bar Association obviously will be able to do more effective work in its numerous fields of activity, including continuing legal education, publications, public relations, ethics and judicial administration.

E. Smythe Gambrell, of Atlanta, Ga., president of the Association, pointed out that the legal profession has lagged far behind other professional groups in its national organization strength.

"In today's rapidly changing social and economic order," he said, "our profession is in danger of losing its identity as a group of men and women exclusively recognized by the public as being qualified to render legal services. We must face up to increasingly vigorous competition from non-lawyers. We must demonstrate that we are entitled to continued recognition as a profession. We have been complacent too long."

Mr. Gambrell also pointed out that the current campaign represents a fundamental change in membership policy within the American Bar Association. In effect, the ABA is saying to every lawyer in good standing: "We want you in the American Bar Association; we want your interest, your brains, your moral influence and your support of its great objectives in the service of the public and the profession."

Procedures for admission of new members have been simplified, and its service to members have been enlarged with the establishment of the new American Bar Center in Chicago. A newly authorized certificate of membership, suitable for wall display, will go to each new member.

the group the ideas presented and the conclusions reached during the morning session. A business meeting, followed in the evening with a banquet and social hour, will officially adjourn the conclave.

Carl B. Zimmerman, District Student Justice, is in charge of arrangements for the conclave. Leo Baker (U. of Iowa) is District Justice.

A letter containing all the particulars of the conclave will be sent to each PAD chapter in the district in February.

Pollock Chosen as Outstanding Young Man

For the first time in several years, a lawyer has been honored by selection by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of the "Ten Outstanding Young Men" of 1955 in its annual award competition.

He is Howard W. Pollock, 33, of Anchorage, Alaska, graduate of the University of Houston law school in 1955 and president last year of the American Law Student Association, student organization sponsored by the American Bar Association.

Pollock was chosen for his record as ALSA president, and for his initiative in going to Alaska as a homesteader following World War II service in which he lost his right forearm in a grenade explosion. He was elected to the Alaska legislature and headed its committee on Alaska statehood.

The Jaycee awards were presented by Vice-President Richard M. Nixon (Duke U.) at a banquet January 14 in Springfield, Ill.

Aba House of Delegates

Three major issues will be considered by the American Bar Association House of Delegates at its mid-year meeting in Chicago February 20 and 21. They are a proposed new model disciplinary code for the legal profession, compulsory vs. voluntary coverage of lawyers under the Social Security Act, and proposals of the Hoover Commission relating to legal services and procedures of the federal government.

The House of Delegates composed of 230 persons representing more than 200,000 members of the legal profession. Chairman of the House is John D. Randall (U. of Iowa). In the House are delegates representing all state bar associations, many of the large local bar associations, and various other legal organizations. The Association's American Law Schools is one of the groups represented.

To be considered by the House is a proposed disciplinary code drafted after three years of study by a special ABA committee under the chairmanship of U. S. Judge Orin L. Phillips, of Denver, Colo. If approved by the House it will be transmitted to the courts of last resort in the various states for consideration of adoption as rules of court.

Last February, the House of Delegates approved voluntary social security coverage for lawyers. The U. S. House of Representatives subsequently approved legislation providing for lawyer inclusion on a compulsory basis. The ABA then asked state bar associations to poll their members as to sentiment on compulsory coverage, if the voluntary plan is unobtainable, and the results will be reported to the House at this February session.

Recommendations of the Hoover Commission in the area of legal services and procedure have been analyzed by another special ABA committee under the chairmanship of Ashley Sellers, Washington, D. C. Its findings will be reported to the House of Delegates with proposals for specific action.
